[illegible] YEAR.

[illegible] Paid in Advance.

Sir Hugo's Choice.

BY [illegible]

[illegible] die, since death comes surely,
[illegible] of an honored name,
[illegible] at the end of years obscurity,
[illegible] of dust in a shroud of shame.

Sir Hugo lived in the ages golden,
[illegible] of Alsace and Picardy;
[illegible] died, and his deeds are told in [illegible] immortal of Chivalrie;

How he won the love of a prince's daughter—
A poor knight he with a stainless sword—
[illegible] Count Rolf, who had vainly sought her,
[illegible] should sit at the bridal board.

[illegible] threat for a brave man's scorning!"
And Hugo laughed at his rival's ire,
[illegible] twain, on the bridal morning,
[illegible] came with tidings dire.

[illegible] and with armor riven;
[illegible] I left thy bride—
[illegible] us. For love and Heaven!
[illegible] to the rescue ride!"

Stout Hugo muttered a word unholy;
He sprang to horse and he flashed his brand,
But a hand was laid on his bridle slowly,
And a herald spoke: "By the king's command

"This to Picardy's trusty warder:
France calls first for his loyal sword.
The Flemish spears are across the border,
And all is lost if they win the ford."

Sir Hugo paused, and his face was ashen,
His white lips trembled in silent prayer—
God's pity soften the spirit's passion
When the crucifixion of Love is there!

What need to tell of the message spoken?
Of the hand that shook as he poised the lance?
And the look that told of the brave heart broken
As he bade them follow: "For God and France."

On Cambray's field next morn they found him,
'Mid a mighty swath of foemen dead;
Her snow-white scarf he had bound around him,
With his loyal blood was baptized red

It is all writ down in the book of glory,
On crimson pages of blood and strife.
With scanty thought for the simple story
Of duty dearer than love or life.

Only a note obscure, appended
By warrior scribe, or monk, perchance,
Saith: "The good knight's ladye was sore offended
That he would not die for her, but France."

Did the ladye live to lament her lover?
Or did roystering Rolf prove a better mate?
I have searched the records over and over,
But nought discovered to tell her fate.

And I read the moral—A brave endeavor
To do thy duty, whate'er its worth,
Is better than life with love forever—
And love is the sweetest thing on earth.
—Scribner's Magazine.

THE PROPER THING.

Fringe is fast coming into favor as trimming for cloth dresses, jackets, etc.

Flowers are worn this year later in the winter than they have been at any previous season.

Veils gathered at the lower end and drawn under the chin are worn only with round hats that have projecting fronts.

Among useful house waists for morning wear are full belted blouses of cashmere, that may be worn with various skirts.

Very small gold chains are worn around the neck, to which is suspended as large a pendant of jewels as the wearer possesses.

Many dressy bonnets have short, round ears with the strings attached only at the end of the crown, then brought forward loosely and tied below the throat.

Empire veils of black net with lace edge, or of real lace with a deep border wrought in scallops are in great favor. The border should drop below the chin.

Corduroy enters into some of the most fashionable gowns of the winter and is especially liked in its familiar gray shades combined with dark brown cloth and trimmed with black.

Warm worsted bonnets, like soft felt, are made of white stripes braided in basket fashion and trimmed with a brown velvet Alsacian bow, brown velvet puffed brim and strings of brown velvet.

The average American kitchen and Laxador both know dyspepsia, the one creates it, the other destroys it. Laxador costs only 25 cents.

The "baby's best friend" is Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup since it maintains the baby's health by keeping it free from colic, diarrhœa, etc. Price 25 cents.

A Baker's Dozen.

A violent sea—Lunacy.

Cremation day—Friday.

A fleeting memory—A debtor's.

A tenacious memory—A creditor's.

Cultivate charity. She'll sit down on covetousness every time.

When a man learns how ignorant he is in possession of a valuable piece of knowledge.

If we did but half we are able to do we would be surprised at the sum of our diligence.

He who reforms himself has done something toward the reformation of the crowd.

The existence of life is sometimes measured by the memory of its burdens.

It is easier to vanquish a man in an argument than it is to convince him.

Life is so short to crowd it with regrets.

[illegible] a man he'll be likely [illegible] you for cheating him afterward.

[illegible] it is the man who carries [illegible] for others that falls into [illegible]

THE CALICO [illegible]

"Have you seen the [illegible]" asked Mary Lark, a girl of [illegible] or fourteen years, as she ran to meet a group of schoolmates who were coming toward the school-house, "she cuts the most comical figure you ever saw. Her cloak is made out of calico and her shoes are brogans, such as men and boys wear."

"O yes, I've seen her," replied Daisy Brooks; "is a new washerwoman's daughter. I shouldn't have thought Mr. Brown would have taken her into the academy; but I suppose that he likes the money that comes through the suds as well as any. It is cleaner of course."

And the air rang with the loud laugh of the girls.

"Come, let us go in and [illegible] her," continued Mary, as they ascended the steps of the school house, "I'm thinking she will make some fun for us."

The girls went into the dressing-room where they found the new scholar. She was a mild, intelligent looking child, but very poorly though tidily clad. The girls went around her whispering and laughing with each other, while she stood trembling and blushing in one corner of the room, without venturing to raise her eyes from the floor.

When they entered the school they found the little girl was far in advance of those of her age in her studies, and was placed in classes with those two or three years her senior. This seemed on the whole, to make those girls who were disposed to treat her unkindly, dislike her the more; and she, being of a retiring disposition, through their influences had no friends, but went and returned from school alone.

"And so you really think," said Mary Lark, as she went up to the little girl a few weeks after she entered the school, "that you are going to get the medal? It will correspond nicely with your cloak."

And she caught hold of the cape, and held it out from her, while the girls around joined in her loud laugh.

"Calico cloak get the medal! I guess she will! I should like to see Mr. Brown giving it to her!" said another girl, as she caught hold of her arm, and peeped under the child's bonnet.

The little girl struggled to release herself, and when she was free, ran home as fast as she could go.

"O, mother," she said, as she entered her mother's humble kitchen, "do answer Uncle William's letter, and tell him we will come to New York to live in Bridgeville. The girls call me 'Calico Cloak' and 'Brogands,' and you don't know, mother, how unkindly they treat me."

"Lizzie, my dear," said her mother, "you must expect to meet with some who will treat you unkindly on account of your poverty; but you must not be discouraged. Do right, my child, and you will eventually come off conqueror.

Although Mrs. Lee tried to encourage her child, yet she knew that she had to meet with severe trials for one so young.

"But, mother, they are all unkind to me," replied Lizzie; "there isn't one who loves me."

And the child buried her face in her hands and sobbed aloud.

In Bridgeville Academy there were a few selfish, unprincipled girls, and the others joined them in teasing the little "Calico Cloak," as they called her, from thoughtlessness and a love of sport. But they knew not how deeply each sportive word pierced the heart of the little stranger, and how many bitter tears she shed in secret over their unkindness.

Mrs. L. learning that the scholars still continued their unjust treatment toward her child, resolved to accept her brother's invitation, although he was a poor man, and become a member of his family, hoping that while there her child could continue her studies and perhaps through his influence, lead a happier life among her school-mates. Accordingly, at the end of the term, she left Bridgeville and removed to New York. Although Lizzie had been a member of the school but one year, yet she gained the medal, and it was worn from the academy beneath the despised garment.

Weeks, months and years glided away to the students of Bridgeville Academy, and the little "Calico Cloak" was forgotten. Those who were at school with her had left to enter upon the business of life.

Twelve years after Mrs. Lee and her daughter left town, a Mr. Maynard, a young clergyman, came into Bridgeville and was settled as the pastor of the village church. It was reported at the sewing circle, the week following his ordination, that it was expected he would bring his bride into town in a few weeks. There was a great curiosity to see her, and especially after it was reported that she was a talented young authoress.

A few weeks after Mr. Maynard gratified their curiosity by walking into church with his [illegible] on his arm, [illegible] body (as they [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] present [illegible]

"How [illegible] asked [illegible] [illegible]

"I [illegible] is certainly [illegible] ly within the last [illegible]"

Were you ever in Bridgeville before?" asked another lady, as those around looked somewhat surprised.

"I was here some months when a child," replied Mrs. Maynard.

Their curiosity was excited.

"Have you friends here?" asked a third, after a moment's pause.

"I have not. I resided here with my mother, the widow Lee. We lived in a little cottage which stood upon the spot now occupied by a large store, on the corner of Pine street."

"The widow Lee!" [illegible] Britton, "I well remember the cottage, but I do not recollect the name."

"I think I attended school with you at the academy," replied Mrs. Maynard; "You were Miss Mary Lark, were you not?"

"That was my name," replied the lady, as a smile passed over her features at being recognized; "but I am really quite ashamed that my memory has proven so recreant."

"I was known in the academy as little 'Calico Cloak.' Perhaps you can remember me by that name."

The smile faded from Mrs. Britton's face, and a deep blush overspread her features, which in a few moments was seen deepening upon the faces of others present.

There was a silence for some minutes when Mrs. Maynard looked up, she found she had caused considerable disturbance among the ladies of her own age, by making herself known.

"Oh! I remember very well when the little 'Calico Cloak' went to the academy;" said an old lady, as she looked up over her glasses, "and I think, if my memory serves me right, some of the ladies present will owe Mrs. Maynard an apology."

'I had no intention whatever, ladies," replied Mrs. Maynard, "to reprove any one present by making myself known; but, as it may seem to some that it was my intention, I will add a few words. Most of the young ladies present will remember the little 'Calico Cloak;' but no one but the wearer knows how deeply each unkind word pierced the little heart that beat beneath it. And as I again hear the old academy bell ring, it brings back fresh to my mind the sorrows of childhood. But let no lady mistake me by supposing I cherish any unkind feeling toward any one. I know that whatever the past may have been you are now my friends."

"But ladies, let me add, if you have children, teach them a lesson from my experience, and tell them to treat kindly the poor and despised. A calico cloak may cover a heart as warm with affection, and as sensitive to sorrow, as one that beats beneath a velvet covering. Whenever you meet a child who shows a disposition to despise the poor, tell it the story of the calico cloak; it will carry its own moral with it."

"That is the shortest, but best sermon I ever heard, said the old lady, as she put her handkerchief under her glasses; "I do not believe its moral effect will be lost upon any of us."

The old lady was right. The story went from one to another, until it found its way into the old academy. At the very time a little boy was attending school there whose mother was struggling with her needle to give him an education. The boys often made sport of his patched knees and elbows, and he would run sobbing home to his mother. But when the story of the 'calico cloak' reached the school, the little boy (for he was naturally a noble hearted child) became very popular in school; and the children from that time very kind to "Little Patchey," as he had always been called.

When Mrs. Maynard had heard the story of "Little Patchey" she felt tha she was well repaid for all she had suffered in childhood.—Kind Words.

Pleasant to the taste, surprising quick in effect and economical in price, no wonder that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the leading preparation of its kind.

"Girl woman, in thy hours of ease, uncertain, coy and hard to please." With children hurt, long hours she's spent. Do try Salvation Oil, the liniment.

Brought Him to Time.

It was getting pretty near the end of leap year and Amarantha was becoming agitated.

"Charlie," she said with a sigh, as she raised her stone [illegible] from the shoulder of his Tewksbury mills all wool cassimere four button, sack way, "I've thought of a conundrum. Why are you like green corn?"

"I don't know, Pinenah, Amarantha —O, it's because I'm so [illegible]"

"No," replied Amarantha, whose education [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] made it [illegible]

[illegible] differences [illegible] ditions, is [illegible]

Whistling doesn't help the locomotive go, it is the [illegible]

The ups and downs of life are better than being down all the time.

To be really yourself you must be different from those around you.

[illegible]

[illegible] labor is [illegible] but [illegible] cious labor is the safety valve of life.

Man may growl, grumble and fight, but it has no effect upon natural right.

Falsehood can make the best spurt, but truth can do the best trotting.

Fashion is only gold front jewelry, it may appear well, but the value is not there.

Slander is a slime which envious people throw on others better than themselves.

Knowledge, like money increases our responsibility in proportion to the amount obtained.

The lightning is vivid against a dark cloud, so the bravest lives sometimes are amid trials.

We build barriers against the flood tide—we should place some restraints to all prosperity.

True friends visit us in prosperity only when invited, but in adversity they come without invitation.

Buying Historical Chairs.

An incident of Gen. Sheridan's visit to Europe during the Franco-Prussian war is omitted from his article in the November Scribner's, perhaps, through ignorance of the facts. When the general reached Berlin he asked the American minister to recommend to him some young American, who could speak German fluently, to act as an interpreter. The minister recommended Mr. Charles F. MacLean, better known to New Yorkers as a police commissioner than as an interpreter, and he followed Gen. Sheridan through the campaign. The general relates in Scribner's how Bismarck the great and Napoleon the little sat on rude wooden chairs in front of a cottage near Sedan, discussing the situation, and there is a picture showing the two men, one triumphant, the downcast, in the peasant's garden. A few days after Gen. Sheridan dined with Bismarck, who began to talk of the surrender. "That meeting," said the Prussian chancellor, "will be historical. I sent over yesterday and bought those two chairs from the peasant for ten francs apiece; now I have them as mementoes; and I suppose," he added, with a laugh, "the English will go on buying those chairs for years to come." There was a general laugh at this remark, but one officer had more to laugh at than the others, and gave his reasons to Mr. MacLean afterward. "You see," he said, "I knew as well as Bismarck that the meeting would be historical, so the very next day I rode over myself and got the chairs for five francs for the pair."—San Francisco Argonaut.

"It requires no great intelligence to pick out the boy that threw that spit ball," exclaimed the teacher. "William Slasher come forth!"

Not a boy moves.

"William Slasher, do you hear me?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then why don't you come forth as I tell you?"

"'Cause I'm waiting for the other three fellows to go first. How can I come fourth 'less they go first."
—Yonkers Statesman.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the the whole system when entering it through the mucus surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do are ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. CHENEY & CO.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. 23t4

Somebody [illegible] have taken a load off [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] is correct [illegible] You must keep [illegible]

And [illegible] Theory. Circumstances [illegible] have established the [illegible]

"[illegible] but what I meant, was that [illegible] do anything to please [illegible] you know the [illegible]

[illegible] such thing as a void. [illegible] Abhors a void [illegible] speak of a void if there was an ache in it?"

"I mean to say that my life will be lonely without you, that you are my daily thoughts and nightly dreams. I would go anywhere to be with you. If you were in Australia, or at the north pole I would fly to you. I"—

"Fly! It will be another century before men can fly. Even when the laws of gravitation are successfully overcome there will still remain, says a late scientific authority, the difficulty of maintaining a balance"—

"Well, at all events," exclaimed the youth, "I've got a fair balance in the bank and I want you to be my wife. There!"

"Well, James, since you put it in that light, I—"

Let the curtain fall.

Chronic nasal catarrh positively cured by Dr. Sage's Remedy.

What "Peculiar" Means.

Applied to Hood's Sarsaparilla, the word Peculiar is of great importance. It means that Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from other preparations in many vital points, which make it a thoroughly hon[illegible] reliable medicine. It is Pe[illegible] in a strictly medicinal sense[illegible] in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are prepared: third, in the process by which the active curative properties of the medicine are secured. Study these points well. They mean volumes. They make Hood's Sarsaparilla Peculiar in its curative powers, as it accomplishes wonderful cures hitherto unknown and which give to Hood's Sarsaparilla a clear right to the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economic than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of lowest, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Co., 106 Wall St. New York.

TOLEDO WEEKLY BLADE

1889.

ONLY ONE DOLLAR.

The leading Weekly Newspaper of the country, and is the only paper edited with reference to circulation in every state and territory in the Union. [illegible]

ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

[illegible]

HAS NOT AN EQUAL.

[illegible]

[illegible] Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers Everywhere.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

[illegible] Chichester Chemical Co., [illegible] Phila., Pa.

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
ELY BROS.
OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH

Cleanses the Nasal Passages Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores Restores the Senses of Taste & Smell. HAY-FEVER

TRY THE CURE.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS. 56 Warren New York

Aching sides and back, hip, Kidney and Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing, strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

KASKINE

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Gives Good Appetite, New Strength, Quiet Nerves, Happy Days, Sweet Sleep.

A POWERFUL TONIC

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION

THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

Mine was about as bad a case of malaria as could be, and yet Kaskine cured me after I had been dosed with almost every drug in the Pharmacopœia.—J. D. Hird, B. A., Chemist, Maryland Agricultural College.

"For eight years I had dumb ague intolerably. Wished myself dead a score of times. I never found a medicine worth the bottle that held it, until I took Kaskine. That was a happy day for me. It gave me appetite and strength. I can sleep like a top. I stand by every word of this."—Thos. Toole. Schuylerville, N. Y.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice, $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

KASKINE CO., 186 Duane St., New York.

WANTED.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES, POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS, SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 200 TONS POULTRY & WILD GAME FOR HOLIDAYS WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day.
R. M. SALLARD & CO.
769 Myrtle Av. Brooklyn N. Y.

[illegible] CONSUMPTIVE [illegible]

[illegible] Jeweler,

WATCHES CLOCKS

A Fine Line of Spectacles Always on Hand.

No. [illegible] First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 33m

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

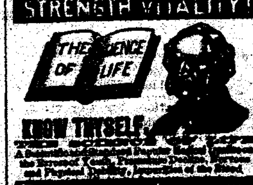
Bread, Cakes. Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER, Proprietor. 37tf



THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.

[illegible] PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. [illegible] THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass. [illegible]

Thos. [illegible]

Deputy Sheriff [illegible]

[illegible]

C. S. EGGLESTON.

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY, WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES, CURTAIN FIXTURES, PICTURE FRAMES, MOULDINGS, [illegible] Fulton, N. Y.

INSURANCE.

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N.Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER, Insurance and Real Estate Agt., FULTON, N. Y.

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

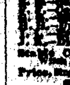
and Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC VETERINARY SPECIFICS



For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, Poultry. 500 PAGE BOOK on Treatment of Animals [illegible]

[illegible]

Sold by Druggists; or Sent Prepaid on Receipt of Price. Humphreys' Med. Co., 109 Fulton St., N. Y.

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON. Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT. We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

WANTED [illegible]

[illegible] OF THE NEW WEST." [illegible]

[illegible]

Entered at the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications on business or publication, to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

SULLIVAN and Kilrain the heavy weight pugilists are to fight on July 7, near New Orleans, for $20,000.

THERE are now seven candidates in the field for the speakership of the next House of Representatives.

IT is stated that Assemblyman Ainsworth of the second district Oswego county will again be made chairman of the appropriation committee by Speaker Cole.

THE city of Troy celebrated its hundredth anniversary last week and The Times of that city with its customary enterprise issues a centennial number, which describes the career and growth of this prosperous city from its early days to the present time.

WHILE the West Shore railroad tunnel at West Point, which caved in, is being repaired, it costs the company about $1,000 a day to run its trains over the Erie road between Newburgh and Weehawken, or fifty dollars a train. It is estimated that the cave-in, directly and indirectly, will cost the West Shore company about $300,000.

THE enterprising Syracuse Herald sends out this year a unique souvenir "The story of the year 1888." It is filled with illustrations of city and county officers, well known Syracusans, the city dead, illustrious dead and other attractive engravings of important events. For thrift and skillful management the Herald is unsurpassed by any of its city contempories.

THE Oswego Palladium of Saturday publishes a retraction and apology for the charges made against Henry V. Spencer, Supt. of the Poor during the political canvass in Oct. 1887. It will be remembered that the Pallidium accused Mr. Spencer of paying $1.00 per bushel for potatoes when the market price was about 60cts. for political aggrandizement and also that he bought quantities of cigars and had them charged to the county. The matter has been in the courts and the Pallidium is unable to find evidence to sustain their accusations. Hence the retraction.

IN the past few years Hood's Sarsaparilla Calendar has became such a favorite that the people anticipate its annual appearance with pleasure. The Calendar for '89, which is now before us, will fully satisfy every expectation as to beauty and utility. It is a little larger than ever before, retaining the cut-out feature of last year, and a handsome child's face looks over a pad of clear, plain figures, all printed in harmonious and pleasing colors. To be appreciated it must be seen. Get a copy of your druggist or send 6 cents in stamps to C. I. HOOD & Co., Lowell, Mass.

WE casually remarked last week that our neighbor, Editor Bennett of the Patriot, was, figuratively speaking, slaughtering the editor of the Oswego Times, through the columns of his paper. Instead of taking this as a compliment our bombastic friend hurls a couplet or two at us and announces that our true sphere is gentleness, meekness and poetry. The first two are inherent qualities, the third—well spare us—we must deny the allegation. We are not gifted in that direction. As the inference that we possess this quality is drawn from a New Year's address, we must state that the editor of THE TIMES is not the author of the effusion and therefore cannot take credit that is not due him. Friend Bennett may have all the logic imaginable but he can't draw correct conclusions from false premises as he usually tries to do.

Finances of the Nation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Treasury department's monthly statement for December shows a net increase in the circulation during the month of $303,486. There was an increase in round numbers of $1,500 in gold coin, $8,250,000 in gold certificates, and $3,500,000 in national bank notes; an increase of $250,000 of standard silver, $900,000 in sub-Treasury silver dollars $6,750,000 in silver certificates, and about $4,600,000 in United States notes. The total circulation of the country, on January 1st, is placed at $1,[illegible]3,943, and $530,946,750 in the Treasury.

Educational.

The following is the program for the meeting of the Oswego county [illegible] Saturday, Jan. [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] disease may be communicated to our village at any moment, therefore,

RESOLVED, That this Board earnestly requests every resident to take all the precautions possible to prevent the occurrence and spread of such disease in our village.

RESOLVED, That all parents are hereby directed to procure the immediate vaccination of all their children, attending the public schools of this village, not thoroughly protected by vaccination heretofore.

RESOLVED, That this Board procure to be vaccinated all children, who apply, whose parents are unable to pay for the same. That this Board issue a direction to the Health Officer to vaccinate, without charge, all children who apply therefor, when this Board is satisfied that the parents of such children are unable to pay for the same.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be published in the village papers, and a copy thereof be served Chairman of the Board of Education.

G. H. FASSELL, Pres't.
J. C. DRESSER, Sec'y.
O. O. HANNIS.

The Ratios.

Below we give the ratio of taxation in the several towns and the city of Oswego as found by the committee to apportion taxes and make ratios, by the Board of Supervisors.

The following is the ratio of taxes upon each $100 of valuation for the years 1888 and 1887:

	1888.	1887.
Albion	1.35	1.00
Amboy	1.09	1.10
Boylston	.95	1.18
Constantia	2.82	3.05
Granby	.780	.735
Hannibal	2.38	2.405
Hastings	1.555	1.975
Mexico	.8534	.8216
New Haven	.9546	.9273
Orwell	1.35	.956
Oswego Town	1.40	1.34
Oswego City	.89	1.37
Palermo	.96	.87
Parish	2.10	2.12
Redfield	1.00	1.04
Richland	1.72	1.37
Sandy Creek	1.66	1.74
Schrœppel	.99	1.066
Scriba	1.34	1.107
Volney	1.16	1.30
West Monroe	.80	1.02
Williamstown	1.00	1.18

The New South.

The South is on the up-grade, not because the most of her people believe in progress and are willing to get behind and push, but because the world is moving, and no matter how much it hangs back in the breeching the South must move too. The progress of the South morally, intellectually and materially is largely the result of mere friction with Northern enterprise, aspiration and sympathy. Northern capital, Northern brain and very often Northern brawn, have fought their way through the crust of Southern life and made unaccustomed stir among its particles which seems phenomenal to its people. Some have felt the twirl of the new impulse and been swept on towards prosperity and common sense. These do a deal of boasting of their own achievements. Like the apples that float down the river, they are in love with their own natatorial powers. They boast of their Birminghams, Atlantas and Chattanoogas as if hey were natural products of Southern life and inclination, instead of being the result of a quarter of a century of Yankee doggedness and persistence. The South has moved because Yankee impulse, Yankee energy and Yankee activity have been moving it. The progress of its laws, its institutions, its charities and its material development is mainly due to the never ceasing pressure of Yaekee ideas and Northern helpfullness, and willingness to forget.

A daughter was born to Prof. and Mrs. G. B. Deuel, on Saturday last.

F. M. Cole has bought the Conklin place near Dexterville and moved into it.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fulton Savings Bank will be held next Monday afternoon.

Specifications for the system of sewerage which is to be introduced in this village has been prepared by Engineer Fitzgerald of Schenectady.

Eben Simons died at his home on Sixth street on Thursday Jan. 3 1889 at the age of 84 years. Funeral services conducted by Revs. W. D. Chase and Chas Olmstead were held at the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon as 2 o'clock. The deceased leaves a wife and one child.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Jan. 31, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees Johnson, More, Rice and Kellogg.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Trustee Pardee came in.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the amounts:

J. More & Co., coal, court room	$5.75
Charles Scouten, board of health	1.00
George J. Emeny, sand	2.50
J. C. Lang, mattresses for jail	3.00

Street Commissioner Hyde presented his report showing that he had expended on streets $15.81.

Clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of Trustee Kellogg for the amount.

The President reported that he had rented a [illegible] per year, from December [illegible]

The Fulton Water Works Company presented a bill of [illegible] which was disallowed by the following vote. The ayes and noes being called by Trustee Johnson, Trustees More, Rice and Kellogg, voting aye and Trustees Johnson and Pardee voting nay.

Mr. J. L. Fitzgerald of Schenectady [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] of Howard be a [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] that the same advisable so [illegible] that an equitable assessment of such stock may be accomplished and that he [illegible] at the next annual session of the Board.

The following are some of the remarks of Mr. Howard, in connection with that matter:

"The resolution designates only one of the many inequalities in connection with Assessment. Let some one more valorous than myself, make an attack along the whole line if he choose.

I prefer to deal at this time with this single item and ask your candid consideration of a few plain but alarming facts.

The City of Oswego has more than $800,000, of National bank stock, the town of Richland about $100,000 and the town of Volney not far from $250,000.

A dollar of such stock in this county is worth more than a dollar of Currency.

This stock is personal property and as it appears on the assessment roll, enters into and becomes a part of the equalized valuation without any manipulation.

We equalize Real Estate but there is no power delegated to us to equalize personal property. Thus it matters little to the county how the town of Hannibal assesses her real estate, when she brings it to us on the Assessment Roll. We equalize it. That is we make it pay a fixed part of the County and State Levy but not so with the personal, that is added without any charge. Thus if the equalized valuation of the real estate of Hannibal is $1,000,000 and the personal property appearing upon the Roll is $50,000 then her total equalized valuation will be $1,050,000. The City of Oswego assesses $100 of National bank stock at $50. the town of Richland, at $37.50 and the town of Volney with some exception at $100.

Thus the City of Oswego for the past ten years, more or less, has practically and absolutely reduced each year her equalized valuation more than $150,000 and the town of Richland $62,500, while the town of Volney with singular courage has proffered justice to the rest of the County, by assessing at or near the par value. Thus have the City and the town of Richland annually increased the equalized valuation of the rest of the County more than $200,000. Do you say there is no redress? All right. Then let these three sections including Volney suppress entirely the assessment of this stock. That would take about $250,000, from the equalized valuation of Volney, $300,000 from the City and $100,000 from Richland. That might be a fine thing for these sections but how would the remaining nineteen towns relish the addition of $700,000 annually? Are we quietly to rest under this injustice and console ourselves with the retort. "There is no redress?" I deny the charge. There is redress.

And now gentlemen permit me to say, if this were the only inequality in assessment, then we might thank fortune that we were born and have been permitted to live in this part of the Empire State but we have only practically advanced one foot into the sea of inequalities and I say to you that all the spasmodic confusion produced by turning the equalization wheel by the craziest combination of Supervisors that ever assembled, compared with the terrible and unseen forces that are surely sapping the very foundation of government, is like the bubble upon the Ocean.

The resolution was adopted Friday, the committee having been changed to Clerk Nutting and Supervisor Howard.

COST OF A UNIVERSITY.

A Great Educational Institution Needs Plenty of Money.

In those good old times of thirty years ago two or three hundred thousand dollars was thought a great endowment for a university, and twenty thousand dollars a sufficient endowment for a professorship. To found an institution and call it a university in these days, with an income of less than a quarter of a million of dollars a year, is a broad farce. Even with that sum many of the most important spheres of university activity must be neglected. Twice the amount is not more than adequate, and Harvard university, which has an income of more than twice that amount, is at this moment showing cogent reasons for demanding more. And the tendency is ever toward a greater expenditure. This is neither to be scolded at nor whined over. Just as the material demands of this wonderful time have created vast hotels, steamships and railway systems, so the moral and intellectual demands are creating great universities. A leading professor has become a personage; various institutions compete for him, often raising his salary to a figure which once would have filled boards of trustees with dismay. It does not yet equal the [illegible] among distinguished lawyers, [illegible] presidents of banks or railroads, [illegible] of New York [illegible] but it is rapidly [illegible] and it is certain to do so.—[illegible] Forum.

[illegible]

[illegible] to the City [illegible] [illegible] directed to make an inspection of the building and report to the Board. If there is in it anything dangerous or detrimental to the city's health, the Board will no doubt order its abatement.

Cora Stevens and Miles McEwen continue to improve and William Smith is well and will probably be returned to the Penitentiary to-day. William Ball is still very sick. The disease is being vigorously fought inside the Penitentiary walls, and the Health Officer is hopeful that it will be entirely stamped out in a short time. Mrs. J. S. Colburn of No. 1 Elizabeth street was reported last night to be very much better. The Board of Health determined that should any other case be brought into the city it will be very vigorously treated.

Joseph Kinney who lives at No. 63 Burt street, called at the Standard office yesterday to contradict a young man's story to Chief Wright that there was a case of small-pox at Mr. Corp's, who lived there, he said. About a year ago Mr. Corp lived at that number, but moved away since then. There is no small-pox or the slightest symptom of the disease in Mr. Kinney's family, and Mr. Corp, who lives in Mulberry street, also called, and said he has a child sick with a cold but that is all. He brands the young man who called on Chief Wright as a malicious impostor. The family are acquainted with Mrs. Colburn, but have been nowhere near her house since the family's exposure by the escape of Lawrence Burke from the Pest House. Both men say the young man has done them a great injustice as the persons by whom they are employed thinking there was truth in it refused to allow them to go to work yesterday.

There are no new cases at the Penitentiary. Anthony Dean is doing well.

At 3 o'clock this morning the following was the state of small-pox in Syracuse:

Total number of cases to date	9
Under treatment at the Pest House	3
Recovered, but still at the Pest House	2
Under treatment in Penitentiary Pest House	1
Suspected cases at the Penitentiary	4
Cases in the Colburn family	1
Deaths to date	2

Parish.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

During the season of 1888, there were 26 deaths in this town, one less than in 1887. Ten of them were males and sixteen were females. In each of the months of January, February and November, three died. March four; April and September five each; May, June, July and August one each There was no deaths in the remaining months. Out of the 26 deaths eleven of them were over 70 years of age. The agerage duration of life was a fraction less than 52 years. That of males a little over 50 and of females a little less than 53. There were two accidental deaths, both of them killed on a railroad.

There is to be a dairy convention held in this town on January 22d, and it promisies to be a large meeting.

The factory in this place makes full cream cheese, and it is no more than right that such factories should not be obliged to compete with skim-milk factories. Such factories should take measures to protect themselves. We suggest this for consideration for other full cream cheese factories. Skim milk patrons publish their statements with great gusto, but people do not consider that these skim milk factories are lowering the standard of full cream factories in the markets, and our American cheese is being supplanted by Canada cheese because they are full cheese.

We have no sleighing. For three months past the prevailing weather has been rainy and the going bad.

Hannibal Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

There was a watch meeting held at the church New Year's eve.

Ed. Anthony fell from the church steps Monday night, breaking his ankle and bruising him otherwise quite severely. Dr. Cooley was called and set the broken limb.

Orville Reed has sold his place to Mr. George Pellett. Consideration $1,100.

John Ames is quite low with cancer. Dr. Acker attends him.

Virgil Rowlee and wife spent New Years with his brother, S. E. Rowlee.

Mrs. Joel Johnson of Vermont, is visiting at her father's, Mr. John Ames'.

Jay Brackett is attending school at Ilion.

Mr. Rev. Knowlton and son Willie, have been visiting friends in Moravia the past week.

South Granby.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

At the meeting of Lycoming Lodge I. O. O. F., the following officers were installed by D. D. G., C. A. Beadle; N. G., Monroe Hubbard; R. S., [illegible] Guyott; P. S., A. E. Coe; Treas., C. [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] attendants were dressed at the end of the first half hour, and people were almost shoved past the President, succeeding only in touching Mr. Cleveland's finger tips. All sorts and conditions of people were in the mob. A gold colored man, filled with a weighty New Year greeting, paused abruptly and could not be moved until he had delivered it, to the infinite disgust of a plaid dude just behind him, who was accompanied in his wrath by Dr. Mary Walker, in a frightfully fitting Prince Albert suit.

The President was seven minutes late, and the cabinet and diplomatic corps were waiting when he appeared with Miss Bayard, in the blue room, and the red coated Marine band began its program. Among the select assemblage of invited witnesses was the historian Bancroft, merry as a school boy, showing his eighty nine years in no line of his cheerful face and alert figure.

Needless to say, Mrs. Cleveland was the centre of attraction. The hard work of the day had no terrors for her. She has always been a distinguished looking woman; on New Year she was a very beautiful woman, a picture of youth, health, form, intelligence, magnetism. What more can woman wish? A splendid gown. Well, she wore a Directoire costume of French pray and pale pink faille, the pack being forced by the full court train of pink, falling in folds from the shoulder. The skirt sides were set in very wide gray panels, opening over a petticoat of rose colored silk, bordered on both sides with Russian sable. Her throat was encircled with diamonds, and like jewels gleamed in her hair. Further details escaped me.

The diplomats were not so numerous as on former occasions. The corps included the new German minister, Chief Justice Fuller and the Associate Justices were next in official order, followed in succession by the army and navy officers, the minor departmental officers, the veterans of the Grand Army, and finally the public. As usual, during the intermissions, there were constantly passing more or less distinguished people who were not obliged to wait in the throng of the unknown.

Congress assembled after the holiday adjourned on Wednesday. The usual quota of Senators was present, and the galleries were well filled. Promptly at the close of the morning hour, the tariff debate dragged its slow length into view. And the visitors scattered to the four winds and left the Senators alone with their sorrowful duty. The House recovered from the holiday season more slowly, and not over eighty members were present when it reconvened. When the call for committee reports was made, not a committee responded.

The friends of the international copyright bill seem again doomed to disappotmnent. They have almost despaired of even securing a day for its consideration during the present session. The opposition they believe is only negative. The committee on rules still refuses to meet. The several chairmen of the House committee that have important bills on the calendar are calling unsuccessfully for a meeting of the Rules committee to arrange an order of business. Messrs. Carlisle and Mills appear afraid of possible legislation, and seem to doubt their ability to control the House if the order is arranged. If they stand out, none but privileged measures will be in order. In the meantime the friends of international copyright will not be the only disappointed people. The authors are poor politicians, and worse lobbyists. They have had the bill within sight of passage in four sessions, and have been defeated.

The sensational reports from Hayti had the effect of crowding the reception rooms of the State Department with visitors yesterday. The Department, however, kept its news to itself. Minister Preston gives no credence to the story that Legitime has threatened to kill all foreigners who oppose him, and that the American consulate is filled with refugees. As it is, the New York Mail and Express story might carry stronger credence if Lieut. Deering were a less lurid and perchance a more modest writer.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury

as Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the the whole system when entering it through the mucus surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do are ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine, it is taken internally and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. CHENEY & CO.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. 33d4

[illegible]

George B. Winn of the firm of Truxton & Winn, Bangor, Me., was afflicted with a scrofulous humor which caused troublesome sores upon both his legs. Many remedies were tried and several physicians consulted, without result. After taking Brown's Sarsaparilla a short time he was better, and soon the eruption disappeared and he is now all right. This is only one of a thousand victories gained by

Brown's Sarsaparilla.

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co. Bangor, Me. 3114

A GREAT MAGAZINE.

The Century for 1889.

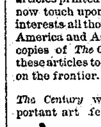
THE question has often been asked, "to what does The Century owe its great circulation?" The Christian Union once answered this by the statement that "it has been fairly won, not by advertising schemes, but by the excellence which characterizes it in every department." In their announcements for the coming year the publishers state that it has always been their desire to make The Century the one indispensable periodical of its class, so that whatever other publication might be desirable in the family, The Century could not be neglected by those who wish to keep abreast of the times in all matters pertaining to culture. And the unprecedented circulation of the magazine would seem to be the response of the public to this intention.

With the November number The Century begins its thirty-seventh volume. Two great features of the magazine which are to continue throughout the new volume are already well known to the public, the Lincoln history and the papers on "Siberia and the Exile System." The first of these, written by Messrs. Nicolay and Hay, President Lincoln's private secretaries, contains the inside history of the dark days of the war, as seen from the White House.

THE SIBERIAN PAPERS,

by George Kennan, are attracting the attention of the civilized world. The Chicago Tribune says that "no other magazine articles printed in the English language just now touch upon a subject which so vitally interests all thoughtful people in Europe and America and Asia." As is already known, copies of The Century entering Russia have these articles torn out by the customs officials on the frontier.

DURING 1889



The Century will publish the most important art feature that has yet found place in its pages. It is the result of four years' work of Mr. Timothy Cole, the leading magazine engraver of the world, in the galleries of Europe, engraving from the originals the greatest pictures by the old masters. A series of papers on Ireland, its customs, landscapes, etc., will appear, and there are to be illustrated articles on Bible scenes, treating especially the subjects of the International Sunday-School Lessons. George W. Cable will write "Strange, True Stories of Louisiana." There will be novelettes and short stories by leading writers, occasional articles on war subjects (supplemental to the famous "War Papers" by General Grant and others, which have been appearing in The Century), etc., etc.

The Century costs four dollars a year, and it is published by The Century Co., of New York, who will send a copy of the full prospectus to any one on request.

FOR CHILDREN OF ALL AGES.

St. Nicholas for 1889.

PEOPLE who have the idea that St. Nicholas Magazine is only for little children should look over the prospectus of that magazine for 1889, and they will discover that it is for children of all ages, "from five to eighty-five," as some one recently said of it. Indeed, while St. Nicholas is designed for girls and boys, it might almost be called a "family magazine," for the grown-up members of a household will find much to interest them in every number.

The editor, Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge, calls the next volume an "all-round-the-world year," because it is to contain so many illustrated papers about the world in general—not dry geographical papers, but stories and sketches and tales of travel and adventure by land and sea—and all illustrated by the best artists. The features will include a serial story, "How We Made the Farthest North," by Gen. A. W. Greely, the well-known commander of the Greely Expedition; a serial about Canada, by Mrs. Catherwood, who is writing a serial story for The Century this year; "Indians of the Amazon," by Mrs. Frank R. Stockton. There are many papers about Europe, including a Christmas story of life in Norway, by H. H. Boyesen; articles on Holland and the Dutch, by Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge; "The Queen's Navy," by Lieut. F. Harrison Smith, R. N., with illustrations of many of England's finest war ships; "The Winchester School," illustrated by Joseph Pennell; "English Railway Trains," by Wm. H. Rideing, etc., etc. The French papers include "Ferdinand de Lesseps and his two Ship Canals," and there are several interesting contributions on German, Italian and Russian subjects.

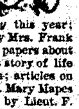
Under "Asia," comes "Boys and Girls in China," by Yan Phou Lee (a recent graduate of Yale); "Home Life in the East," by Mrs. Holman Hunt, and a number of papers about Japan. Under "Africa" there is a sketch of Henry M. Stanley, by Noah Brooks, and several stories about Egypt. Australia is not forgotten, nor the islands of the sea, and there are even to be stories of under the sea.



Of course the bulk of the contents will relate to American subjects, as usual. Mrs. Burnett, the author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," contributes a story of New York called "Little Saint Elizabeth." [illegible]

[illegible]	Centreville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hurleyville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]
[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liv'g'n Manor	[illegible]
[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]
[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]
[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney	[illegible]
[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford Centr	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]
[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Utica	[illegible]
[illegible]	Rome	[illegible]
[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Community	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sylvan	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]
[illegible]	B'rnhard's Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]
[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]
[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]
a m p m p m a m	Arrive Depart	p m p m a m a m

Train 6 stops at Mountain Dale, Centreville, Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, Parksville, Cook's Falls, Fish's Eddy for New York passengers only.

Train 5 stops at Earlville and Cleveland on signal and at Eaton, Morrisville, Sylvan and Bernhards Bay for New York passengers only.

Train 2 stops at North Norwich on signal and at Guilford Centre for New York passengers.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 3:50 and 9:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m., 3:45 and 9:40 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 1:10 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 3:00, Norwich 5:45 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:45 a. m. and 9:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at 1:25 and 9:10 p. m. Sunday leave Sidney 10:30 a. m. arriving at New Berlin 11:59 a. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 6:45, 10:40 a. m., 2:00, 5:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 8:55, 11:59 a. m., 3:40 and 6:40 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 a. m. and 6:20 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:25 and 7:30 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 44—Leaves Oneida 10:25 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 1:20 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 7:15 a. m., 8:25, 4:38 and 11:15 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9:50 a. m., 12:10 and 5:54 p. m. and 1:30 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 7:00 a. m. 4:05 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28—Leaves Norwich 6:15 a. m., Oxford 7:00, Sidney 9:00, Franklin 9:55, arriving at Walton 11:00 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. stopping at all stations, arriving at 8:45 a. m. and 6:40 p. m. Sunday leave New Berlin 8:00 a. m., arriving at Sidney 9:30 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 7:00 a. m., 10:40 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:45 and 11:45 a. m., 6:40 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 2—Connects at Campbell Hall for all stations on the Wallkill Valley R R. at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Newburgh, Kingston and Albany.

Train 1—Connects at Earlville for Syracuse, Randallsville for Utica and Rome, all stations on the Utica Division, at Oneida Castle with West Shore Express, arriving at Syracuse 7:10, Rochester 9:40, Buffalo 11:30, Detroit 8:30 a. m., Chicago 6:25 p. m St. Louis 7:30 a. m., and all points West.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points North; through sleeping cars to Oswego, at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. R for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:00 a. m.

Train 41—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connects both ways at Sidney, with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and Intermediate Stations. At Earlville with S. O. and N. Y., for Syracuse and intermediate stations. Train 13 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West via. West Shore.

Agents of the N. Y., O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections.

Secure Rates via. Ontario and Western before purchasing tickets. Day and Night Express to the West.

Train 5, 6, 9 and 10 run daily; all others daily except Sundays.

*Stop on signal. †stop to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York depots at foot of Jay street and West 42d streets.

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pass'r Ag't.
No. 18 Exchange Place, N. Y.

Job Printing

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, RANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

Scribner's Magazine FOR 1889

The publishers of SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE aim to make it the most popular and enterprising of periodicals, while at all times preserving its high literary character. 25,000 new readers have been drawn to it during the past six months by the increased excellence of its contents (notably the railroad articles), and it closes its second year with a new impetus and an assured success. The illustrations will show some new effects, and nothing to make SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE attractive and interesting will be neglected.

THE RAILROAD ARTICLES will be continued by several very striking papers; one especially interesting by Ex-Postmaster-General Thomas L. James on "The Railway Postal Service." Illustrated.

Mr. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON'S serial novel "The Master of Ballantrae," will run through the greater part of the year. Begun in November.

A CORRESPONDENCE and collection of manuscript memoirs relating to J. F. Millet and a famous group of modern FRENCH PAINTERS will furnish the substance of several articles. Illustrated.

The brief end papers written last year by Robert Louis Stevenson, will be replaced by equally interesting contributions by different famous authors. Mr. Thomas Bailey Aldrich will write the first of them for the January number.

Many valuable LITERARY ARTICLES will appear; a paper on Walter Scott's Methods of Work, illustrated from original MSS., a second "Shelf of Old Books," by Mrs. James T. Fields, and many otherof articles equally noteworthy. Illustrated.

Articles on ART SUBJECTS will be a feature. Papers are arranged to appear by Clarence Cook, E. H. Blashfield, Austin Dobson, and many others. Illustrated.

FISHING ARTICLES describing sport in the best fishing grounds will appear. Salmon, Winninish, Bass, and Trapon are the subjects now arranged. The authors are well-known sportsmen. Illustrated.

ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES of great variety, touching upon all manner of subjects, travel, biography, description, etc., will appear, but not of the conventional common-place sort. Illustrated.

Among the most interesting in the list of scientific papers for the year will be a remarkable article by Professor John Trowbridge, upon the most recent developments and uses of PHOTOGRAPHY. Illustrated.

A class of articles which has proved of special interest will be continued by a group of papers upon ELECTRICITY in its most recent applications, by eminent authorities; a remarkable paper on DEEP MINING, and other interesting papers. Unique Illustrations.

A SPECIAL OFFER to cover last year's numbers, which include all the RAILROAD ARTICLES, as follows:

A year's subscription (1889) and the numbers for 1888 $4.50

A year's subscription (1889) and the numbers for 1888, bound in cloth, 6.00

$3 a year; 25 cents a number.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS,
743-745 Broadway, N. Y.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with

PEERLESS DYE,

they will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. 40 colors. They have no equal for Strength, Brightness, Amount in Packages or for Fastness of Color, or non-fading qualities. They do not crock or smut. For sale by H. C. GIESLER 41y

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, Reed and Rattan ROCKERS,

In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tables

Of All Descriptions.

Foot Rests, Blacking Cases Writing Desks, Easels Book Cases, Children's Chairs

Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts. All at Rock Bottom Prices.

Brown's Furniture Store,

Times Block.

[illegible]

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' [illegible]

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS

[illegible]

[illegible] TIMES.

[illegible] & WESTERN R. R.

[illegible]

[illegible] Express ....11:19 a. m

[illegible] Express ....3:07 p. m

[illegible] ....6:20 p. m.

[illegible] Night Express ....6:15 p. m

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] and Philadelphia Express ....9:08 a. m

[illegible] ....11:28 p. m

[illegible] Philadelphia Express ....6:37 p. m

[illegible] ....9:48 p. m

[illegible] a. m., and 9:20 p. m., trains will [illegible] to night express for [illegible] and Philadelphia.

[illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N Y ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:22 a. m
N. Y. Freight and Accommodation	8:07 a. m
Norwich Express	3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Oswego Night Express	6:38 a. m
Oswego Express	11:26 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	8:01 p.m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:28	11:22	3:38	6:23	7:47
For Oswego,	8:38	10:37	2:43	6:28	9:08

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

SCHENCK & FOSTER

DEALERS IN Scranton Coal.

PERSONAL.

C. C. Fowler and family started on Monday for Westfield, Mass.

George E. True is away on a business trip to Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. B. C. Brown and daughter visited friends in Baldwinsville last week,

Miss Bertha Sawyer of Syracuse visited her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Sabin last week.

Mrs. George Wachters and twin daughters of Wilkes Barre, Pa., are visiting at her mother's, Mrs. P. Carpenter's.

F. D. VanWagenen starts this evening for Tacoma, W. T. He is accompanied by Mrs. C. E. Sackett, who goes there to join her husband.

H. C. Burdick of New York, formerly manager of the Howe Ventilating Stove Works, has been in town for the past two days. He returned this forenoon.

Holmes Fragrant Frostilla cures Chapped Hands, &c. Beware of base counterfeits and worthless imitations. The genuine is sold by R. E. Phillips Druggist. Call and get a sample bottle. 35w4

There was a small audience at the Swedish concert last Wednesday evening. We are informed that the music was good and that the impersonator gave excellent satisfaction.

The Episcopal Church.

Right Rev. Bishop Huntington announces diocesan conferences in this vicinity as follows: March 2, Oswego, Fulton, Mexico, Pulaski, Cleveland, Oneida, Cortland, McClean, Whitney's Point, East Syracuse.

Concerning a Former Fultonian.

Rev. Mr. Ottman, rector of All Saints, has special reasons for considering his first Christmas in Pasadena in a pleasant light, for he was the recipient of a fine horse, buggy, harness, robe and whip, the gift of his parishioners. The horse was presented by Dr. Radelaugh individually, while the rest of the outfit was the gift of the vestry on behalf of the congregation. It was a graceful and generous act all around.—Pasadena Daily Star.

Daniel Boone.

Peck & Fursman's new melodrama, "On the Trail; or, Daniel Boone, the Pioneer," was presented at Music Hall last night to a crowded house. Standing room was at a premium, and was not to be had at 8 p. m. The house was the largest for 1887. The audience was appreciative and seemed more than satisfied. The applause was loud and continuous. The play is out of the usual order of border dramas, as there is an absence of "blood and thunder" business, and it is a vast improvement indeed. The play is, therefore, one that can not help but become popular, and it is fit to be presented to the most cultured and fastidious audience. It is one of the best plays that has been here this year and is elegantly mounted.—Wilkesbarre (Pa.) Leader.

This play will be given at opera house, Saturday evening and a matinee at 2:30, Saturday.

A fine line of Slippers at Hill's New Shoe Store, on Oneida Street.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

D. Q. Draper sells Groceries Crockery and Jewelry at the lowest living rates. It will do you no harm to price them before buying.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

NO. 4 COAL

—AT—

Schenck & Foster's.

SUPER[illegible]

or Oswego Falls can be [illegible] Goods store of J. R. Sullivan.

[illegible]

The Institute.

The following is a continuation of the report published in THE TIMES last week:

The exercises on Wednesday forenoon were opened by reading from the bible and prayer by Rev. Dr. Rankin. The conductor finished what he had to say on "Taxes" by making out an imaginary assessment roll. Commissioner Baldwin made a few excellent remarks on the subject of "Advanced Reading."

In the afternoon the Conductor began his very instructive lecture on "Commercial Paper" which continued through both sessions of Thursday. By commercial paper is meant the following forms: promissory notes, drafts, checks, receipts and bills of exchange. The professor does not claim that the pupils should have a complete knowledge of book-keeping but he does maintain that they should know enough of book-keeping to be able to understand the book-keeping of others. For instance it is unfortunate when a business man dies if his wife and children understand nothing of his books. The bereaved ones are left to the mercy of the book-keeper who may be honest and who may be dishonest. The professor then gave a general type form from which 108 different forms of notes may be made. He divided the type form into the nine headings:

I. Date, (a) place and (b) time; II. When payable, whether (a) on demand or (b) at a certain time; III. Maker or makers; IV. The promise; V. Payee; VI. Sum payable (a) Interest bearing or (b) non-interest bearing; VII. Place payable—(a) specified (b) not specified [And right here be it noted that it is advisable always to have the place specified. Moral—When you give a note know where you are to pay it]. VIII. Consideration, i. e., "value received"; IX. Signature.

Considerable time was then spent upon the important subject of endorsements.

Prof. Clapp occupied one hour Wednesday afternoon with an informal talk on geography. He impressed on his hearers the importance of being accurate in explaining geographical phenomena to children.

A lesson on "Dry Bones" by Dr. M. V. Lee closed Wednesday's session.

Thursday morning, Rev. Chas. Olmstead conducted the devotional exercises. The day was taken up with the lecture on "Commercial Paper' by the conductor and with the beginning of a series of lectures on drawing by Miss A. L. Balch.

The two sessions of the day were exceedingly interesting and profitable.

The Institute closed Friday at 4 o'clock. The conductor took charge of the Query Box and Miss Balch concluded her lectures on Drawing.

The last hour of the day Prof. Stout lecturad on "Professional Courtesy," in which he exhorted the teachers to make theirs one of the learned professions.

Y. M. C. A. Course.

The third entertainment in this course will be a lecture by Rev. W. Dempster Chase who announces as his subject "Brought Out as Well as Up." It will be held in the Methodist church on Friday evening Jan. 18. Everyone knows Mr. Chase's ability as a lecturer and as he has written something especially for this occasion there is every reason to expect something excellent and we feel safe in stating that everyone who does not attend will have cause for regret. The next in the course, the date of which has not been definitely decided, will be Rev. J. C. Breaker's lecture, "How Real the Other Life."

The last in the course, the Syracuse University Glee Club assisted by Rev. A. S. Durston in recitals and Mr. Conrad Becker, violinist, will be held on Feb. 10.

Bank Officers.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank yesterday afternoon, the following directors were elected: D. W. Gardner, A. Emerick, L. C. Seymour, H. C. Gardner, M. J. Gere, A. L. Lee, Arvin Rice. The directors then elected D. W. Gardner, president; A. Emerick, vice-president; Amos Yeomans, cashier and teller L. C. Foster was appointed book-keeper and Arvin Rice attorney.

The stockholders of the Citizens National bank at a meeting yesterday afternoon elected the following directors; George M. Case, Samuel Hart, George Kellogg, H. E. Nichols, John H. Case, Charles M. Lee, F. S. Chesbro, H. C. Howe,. The directors elected these officers: George M. Case, president; John H. Case, cashier; George Kellogg, teller. William Royce was appointed book-keeper and H. E. Nichols, attorney.

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant tf.

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. Hill, Oneida street.

Over Niagara Falls.

The spectators at Niagara Falls were horrified yesterday to see a green object start down the rapids and plunge over the falls. Being picked up it was found to be a bottle of Kemp's Balsam, the [illegible] which had been dropped by a child returning from a drug store. The mother's grief at the loss of her child was not lasting, as she went and bought another bottle.

[illegible] fire.

The Board of Supervisors [illegible] their work on [illegible] session of thirty-six days and adjourned sine die.

S. F. Hill has rented the house on Oneida near Fifth street which has just been vacated by Mrs. C. E. Sackett.

F. C. Ives has sold his house and lot on Cayuga street—the Phillips' place—to L. T. Seymour. Consideration $1,800.

Rev. Joseph Bloom of the Free Baptist church Oswego Falls gave an interesting talk at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Sunday afternoon.

Children in the public schools were notified that it would be necessary for them to be vaccinated this week if they had not already been.

Mrs Cockran who lives on Seneca near Fourth street was 91 years old yesterday. She carries her age well and is a smart, active old lady.

Mrs. John Robinson has taken a lease of the store in THE TIMES block formerly occupied by E. A. Cook & Co., and will move her grocery into it next week.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. William B. Fuller of Syracuse, to Miss Gertrude Dada, daughter of Attorney S. N. Dada, at the Presbyterian church, on Wednesday, Jan. 16.

The marriage of Rev. J. Hollister Lynch rector of Zion church in this village and Miss Mary E. Harbach of Bangor, Maine, is announced for January 16th. at St. John's church, Bangor, Maine.

Grace Mission was organized a year ago yesterday. On Sunday next exercises will be held celebrating the event. The mission now has a regular attendance of about thirty adults and fifty children.

The Merchants Protective Association of Fulton and Oswego Falls have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: A, Hanna, President; G. G. Whitaker, Vice-President; Frank P. Connell, Secretary; E. E. Hart, Treasurer.

Mrs. Ella, wife of Charles Harris, died at her home in the northern part of the village, last evening, of consumption, at the age of 32 years. Funeral services conducted by Rev. W. Dempster Chase will be held at her late home on Friday, at 2:30 p. m.

Prof. Morton's lecture on "Ethics" at the opera house Thursday evening was marred by late comers constantly streaming into the hall. Com. Baldwin introduced the speaker. Music was furnished for the occasion by the Fulton quartet with piano accompaniment by Miss Bertha Elder.

Revival services will be held next Sunday at the Free Baptist Hall Oswego Falls, in the morning at 10:30, Rev. John Vance; afternoon at 3:30, addresses by S. J. Parmiter, Rev. J. Vance and Rev. Joseph Bloom; evening preaching and communion by the pastor. Services every evening in the week at 7:30 excepting Wednesday evening.

This is the week of prayer and meetings are being held every evening at the churches. In addition to the evening meetings a union meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. Another will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist church and on Saturday afternoon at the Baptist church.

Two boys were arrested and brought before Police Justice Sharp on Friday last for making a disturbance at the Methodist church on Sunday of last week and turning off the electric lights on Wednesday evening. It was only through the lenity of the church trustees that they escaped from recieving the full penality of the law. Justice Sharp suspended punishment during good behavior.

SCRANTON COAL

Schenck & Foster

THE BEST.

[illegible] spot Hydrant hose No. 1 [illegible] to secure water [illegible] stream from the hydrant [illegible] dall's grocery at the [illegible] and Cayuga streets. [illegible] No. 2 had two streams, one from the same hydrant as No. 1 and another from the hydrant in front of the "Bee Hive." Sharp Hose No. 3 got their stream from the hydrant in front of Morrow's grocery on First street.

This was the first practical test of the water works under the new contract and certainly most excellent results were accomplished by their use.

One of the streams thrown by No. 3 was at first poor, but a new nozzle being attached the defect was remedied and good results secured. For an hour or more it seemed to be about an equal thing as to whether the flames or firemen would get the mastery of the situation. Second and third alarms were sounded, and at about 6:45 steamer No. 1 was taken to Wilson's coal dock and a stream obtained from that source. Osgood Hose Co. from the Upper Landing and Cronyn Hose Co. from Lower Oswego Falls were on hand with hose and carts. Protection Hook and Ladder Ladder Co., was also there and did good service.

The fire was so controlled that damage to the surrounding buildings, except from water, was slight. The occupants in the adjoining buildings moved out their furniture and other articles and Cayuga street presented a sorry sight this morning.

The building in which the fire originated is owned by J. J. Stephens and occupied as a bakery and confectionery store by H. P. Wilson, is a complete wreck. Mr. Stephens, who has had extremely hard luck from fires had an insurance of $1,000 on this building, and Mr. Wilson $800 on the stock which he carried.

We are closing out our Cloaks very cheap. J. C. O'BRIEN.

THE GOODYEAR-WATERMAN NUPTIALS.

Bishop Huntington Officiates at the Wedding.

At Zion church on Thursday afternoon Jan. 3., 1889, occurred the marriage of Rev. Horace B. Goodyear formerly rector of that church, now of Springfield, Ill., to Miss Alice E. Waterman, daughter of D. A. Waterman of this village. The ceremony was performed at 4 p. m. by Bishop Huntington of Syracuse assisted by Rev. J. H. Lynch, the present rector.

Charles A. Cockroft of Buffalo and F. A. Waterman, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen and Miss Dollie Byxbee of South Norwalk, Conn. and Miss Eva Newman of North Hannibal as bridesmaids. The ushers were W. P. Kennard, Superintendent of the R. & O. mills, Dr. N. F. Hall, F. V. Nash and John Morton.

The occasion was one of universal interest as both bride and groom are held in the highest estimation by a large circle of friends in this village. Mr. Goodyear with his bride started the same evening for Springfield, Mass. his former home. They are expected to return to Fulton Friday whence they will proceed to Springfield Ill. stopping over Sunday in this village.

Over 100 elegant presents were received. Among which we take the liberty of mentioning a handsome silver tea set from friends in Zion church and six silver spoons, each engraved on one side with the bride's monogram and on the other the name of the donor, a member of her class in the Presbyterian Sunday school.

Why use common soaps when you can get the Master for 5cts a cake. 35 4 mos.

A piece of burning carbon fell from an electric light in Peebles & Co's clothing store Sunday evening and started a fire which was discovered and put out before any serious loss occured, further than damaging several overcoats.

ANOTHER BARGAIN.

I will open to-morrow morning 300 Gents' Laundred White Shirts at 69cts. each worth $1, all sizes, these are great Bargains. Close buyers should see them. J. C. O'BRIEN.

[illegible] I. A. [illegible]

Joseph O'Connor has moved his barber shop from Cayuga street to the room under the Citizens bank recently vacated by C. C. Howe.

J. B. Bansfield who some six months ago left Fulton to fill a position as travelling salesman has returned and is again book-keeper for George Johnston.

A man who had registered as J. K. O'Neil of Poughkeepsie, dropped dead from heart disease in the Ringland house at Oswego, on Thursday last.

The upper half of the tall flag pole across from the foot of Cayuga street was taken down yesterday. The lower half will be used for an electric light pole.

Mails from Phœnix now come to Fulton over the R. W. & O. railroad. The large mails from the east and west still come over the D. L. & W. railroad.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. held their annual meeting Monday afternoon and elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Dr. Rankin; Vice-President, Miss J. M. Porter; Secretary, Mrs. E. R. Redhead; Treasurer, Mrs. F. A. Emerick.

Some of the denizens of Oswego Falls have been considerably agitated over the thought that the name "Oswego Falls" would not be placed on the sign which is to adorn the new D. L. & W. station. It seems that an old sign was put up with only "Fulton" on it while the new sign bearing the names of both places was being finished.

The Hart pottery which is one of the landmarks at the upper landing is practically closed, there being no longer money in that business in this locality. The business was established fifty-six years ago by S. Hart. It then passed into the hands of his sons, the Hart Bros., and finally became the property of E. E. Hart who is now extensively engaged in the coal business.

The local stockholders of the old Howe Ventilating Stove Works Co. held a final meeting in the law offices of G. S. Piper yesterday and settled up matters with that defunct company. They come out much better financially than many had hoped or expected and we have heard regrets that the business was ever allowed to pass into other hands.

Company "A," of Minetto will hold their thiry reception at White's hall, on Friday evening, Feb. 22. Music by Whitford's full orchestra. The following gentlemen have the matter in charge: Committee of arrangements, Asa Bohannan, Walter Parsons, Will Baker. Floor Managers, A. Youngs; aids, Geo. Hamilton, Geo. Thomson, Will Dumas, Arthur Bohannan, James O'Brien.

Universalist Entertainment.

We would like to call the attention of the public to a play in preperation, to be given by the Universalist Society.

It will be put upon the boards at the opera house, Friday Jan. 18 and will be something entirely different from anything previously given.

Below is the program of the three act drama, entitled, "Rebecca's Triumph."

Mrs. Rokeman, a wealthy widow, Miss Fannie Van Buren.
Mrs. Delaine, a widow, Miss Cora Van Buren.
Rebecca, a foundling, Mrs. W. J. Boomer.
Claressa Codman, Miss Mary Johnson.
Katie Connor, an Irish girl. Miss Blanche Boomer.
Gyp, a colored girl, Mrs. Eugene V. Lathrop.
Meg, a vagrant, Miss Carrie Nichols

Lora Gaines, Sadie Morrell, Jennie Woodman, Mollie Dunbar, Gussie Green, Maria Gr[illegible]y, Emma Stephens, Cooking Club.
Miss Emma Coates.
Miss Hattie Loomis.
Miss Ada Thayer
Miss Helen Barnes
Miss Georgie Foster.
Miss Mabel Osborn
Miss Leila Church.

Between acts, will be introduced vocal and instrumental music.

General Admission 25cts. Reserved seats 35cts.

Chocolate creams at 25c per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

---

[illegible] Riley and [illegible] The [illegible] meeting was called by Chaplain J. N. Fulford after which the following officers were installed by Past Commander, H. H. Gilbert: Com., J. R. Palmer; S. V. C., R. R. McCully; J. V. C., Chas. Hewitt; Surgeon, G. V. Emens; Quartermaster, J. R. Lounsb[illegible]; Chaplain, J. N. Fulford; O. D., F. C. Mosher; O. G., German Hill; Adjutant, Grove Dutton; Q. M. Sergeant, J. F. Cooper; S. M., C. S. Murphy.

Vocal music was given during the evening by the post quartet, consisting of Messrs. Gilbert, Cooper, Wise and Highriter and a solo by Mr. Gilbert. Addresses were given by Messrs Bennett, Redhead and Cimes. Instrumental music by Mr. and Miss Bogue. An appropriate recitation was excellently rendered by Miss Roxie Snow and Mrs. G. V. Emens read a selection which referred to the G. A. R. and W. R. C., which was well received. Several fine tableaux were given. One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the artistic drilling and marching of the "Daughters of the Union," ten young girls who have become proficient in these accomplishments under the instruction of Dr. Emens. They also sang a song which was written for this occasion by Mr. N. Lester.

A New Firm.

An important change has occurred in the best known business house in Fulton. C. E. Chappell, of the firm of Chappell & Tuttle, Baldwinsville, has purchased of F. E. Bacon, a two-thirds interest in his dry goods establishment, at the corner of First and Oneida streets, and will take possession on the 16th, when the store will be conducted under the firm name of C. E. Chappell & Co. Mr. Chappell will also retain his interest in the store at Baldwinsville but will give his time exclusively to the Fulton establishment and expects soon to move his family here.

Mr. Bacon who for 16 years has conducted the store, bringing it from comparatively nothing to its present condition, which is unsurpassed by any concern of a similar kind in this county, retires from active management for the benefit of his health but still retains a third interest. He will retain Fulton as his residence and informs us that for the year 1889 half of his time at least will be spent here. The balance will be spent in Denver, Colo., and a possible trip to Europe.

We are glad to know that for the present at least we are not to wholly lose this active citizen and enterprising merchant. To the new firm we wish the same success that has attended Mr. Bacon in his business relations, financially and otherwise.

County Clerk's Office.

The Palladium of Wednesday evening says:—A decidedly Republican atmosphere surrounds the county clerk's office to-day, the new officials being comfortably installed in their respective positions, busily transacting their numerous duties with a proficiency acquired in former services. The present incumbents are T. M. Costello, county clerk; W. J. Pentelow, deputy; Brainard Nelson, special deputy and court clerk; H. A. Dygert, search clerk and Emerson Stowell, index clerk; Mrs. Catharine Baker and Mrs. Florence Baker are recording clerks. The only Democratic attache in the institution being Miss Clara Keller, who temporarily retains her position.

Use Master Soap. 35 4 mos.

You make a mistake if you don't buy your underwear now at J. C. O'BRIEN'S.

Installation.

Fulton Division No. 17, S. of T. at a regular meeting held at their hall, Jan. 4, 1889, the following officers were installed by D. G. W. P., Jas. L. Parker assisted by P. G. W. P., Frank Dilts: W. P., Mrs. A. E. Cooper; W. A., R. H. Buck; R. S., G. C. Bartley; A. R. S., Mrs. A. E. Worden; F. S., Jas. L. Parker; Treas., Mrs. Wm. Hill; Chap., Wm. Waugh; Con., John C. Buck; A. C., Miss Carrie Lucas; I. S., Mrs. L. L. Dilts; O. S., Mrs. S. A. Darrow. G. C. Bartley, R. S.

Save 25 Master wrappers and get the "Snow Girl." 35 4 mos.

That 25c. Tea at Cary's is the best in town for the money. 29m3

But we don't like to keep old stock. We keep old friends by keeping new stock, and the old goods must go.

The New Year Means New Goods

and in order to properly take care of them we must make room for them. We don't expect you to buy the goods as a matter of accommodation to us, only we know it is worth something to be accommodated and are willing to pay.

This Means Bargains.

We are going to make it worth your while to buy. The goods we most want to get rid of are goods that have to be packed and stored for another season. These will be our main feature. But to make variety we shall add from every line we carry whatever surplus there may be and thus make a complete assortment for sale.

We offer extraordinary inducements for a few days to every buyer in Fulton.

PEEBLES & CO.

Stephens Opera House.

Saturday Evening, Jan. 12.

MATINEE at 2:30.

-SEE-

ON THE TRAIL;

OR,

DANIEL BOONE,

The Pioneer.

BY MR. CHARLES GAYLER.

The piece is elegantly mounted, and a remarkable strong cast of characters has been secured from the most prominent lights in the profession

36 PEOPLE 36

To increase the force of this STRONG CAST and to add realism to the production, a band of

8 Genuine Shawnee Indians 8

Including Bucks, Squaws and Pappooses, have been engaged.

6 BEAUTIFUL TRAINED HORSES 6

☞Magnificent New Scenery.☜

Startling Stage Effects,

Fierce Hand to Hand Knife Duel on Horseback, Burning of Boone's Log Cabin &c.

Our own Magnificent Special Car is used to carry Scenery, Horses, Animals, &c.

Popular Prices. Seats may now be secured at Watson's Drug Store.

Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75 Cents.

Matinee 25, 35 and 50.

IANE BROADWELL,

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,

OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,

Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.

Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p.m.

WANTED. Agents for Life of SHERIDAN. $2.50. This book is carefully prepared, beautifully illustrated, and interestingly written. Agents are doing nicely.
PARK PUB. CO., Hartford Ct.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 29tf

Men's pure gum boots for $3 00 at Hill's new shoe store, in the Patterson block.

TO RENT—House and barn on Academy street between 6th. and 7th Large garden and plenty of fruit. For further particulars inquire of MORGAN ROBERTS.

IT IS NOT BEST

to always believe everything that a person tells you, but when you hear that the best blood purifier is Sulphur Bitters, you can believe it, for they cured me of a severe case of blood poisoning. REV. A. FAIRCHILD, 34w2 New York City.

New goods and new prices at the new shoe store in the Patterson.

We have for sale a large number of Tobacco Cases.
BOOMER & JOHNSON,
Lumber Yard Cor. of Broadway and First Streets. 29tf

Get a sample of that 25c. Tea wort 50cts. per pound, at CARY'S. 29m3

Music Books and Music Folios at Bristol's.

Wort's famous bread at Bersee's.

IT IS THE BEST.

When buying Flour be sure and get the Electric Light brand. The only place to buy it is at J. E. CARY'S.

Bristol Has Them.

An elegant line of Cutters of every description; two seated sleighs that it will do your eyes good to look on; light pleasure bobs that will be a pride to anyone that possesses one of them; robes, blankets and everything in the line of horse furnishing goods. Don't think of going anywhere else to purchase articles in his line, for you can do better at Bristol's.

A fresh supply of Canned Fruit just received at J. E. Cary's, Cayuga St.

Go to the New Shoe Store, in the Patterson block, for "Waverly Shoes." Every pair warranted.

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

The place to get your Bell Hanging, Locksmithing, Key Fitting. Carpet Sweepers and Clothes Wringers Repaired; Lawn Mowers Sharpened, and repairing of all kinds is at the Model Shop, over Morrow's Grocery Store.
S. J. PARMITER, Fulton, N. Y
☞Special Attention to Stencil Cutting and Electric Work

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

Holiday

Announcement.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Will sell during the Holidays.

SKATES

At Specially Low Prices.

☞Boys will please take notice.

WHEN!!

Wednesday, January 16th, 1889,

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.,

(Successors to Francis E. Bacon,) Will take possession of the

DRY GOODS, CARPET AND MILLINERY BUSINESS,

CORNER OF FIRST AND ONEIDA STREETS.

We shall offer every article in this fine stock at a REDUCTION. Sale continuing thirty-five days. Our utmost endeavor will be used to please every customer—furthermore will be very grateful to all who call.

Mr. F. E. Bacon, who is the company of the firm will be with us some time yet and more or less during the entire year. He expects to see all his customers as heretofore at this store with [illegible] of new ones.

Buying for Two Stores, we are enabled to [illegible] Dry Goods [illegible] at less than regular prices and we shall so sell them.

Hoping to merit a [illegible] of the [illegible] of Fulton and Oswego Falls and surrounding country we are

Very Respectfully,

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

[illegible] is often [illegible].

Corn fodder, if [illegible] and well [illegible], is excellent food for cattle. [illegible] any great amount of it to feed, it will pay to buy a cutter and crusher.

Sheep need a good shelter to keep them dry. A close unventilated stable is not as good for them as a more open one, provided it protects them from rain and snow.

Grooming should be thoroughly performed on each horse at least once daily. Never groom a horse in its stall while the horse is eating, but take it out for the purpose. Otherwise the dirt and dust which fills the air becomes mixed with the horse's food, making it unpalatable and unwholesome.

Horses should be kept well shod and sharp while they are worked on roads slippery with ice and snow. Inattention to this point often costs lameness and suffering to the horse and loss to its owner. Rub the legs and particularly the heels dry with wisps of straw when the horses come in from work in rain or snow.

"In my experience a calf born in the fall or winter is worth two born in the spring for profit," says Professor Henry, of Wisconsin.

Waldo F. Brown tells that he has experimented with salt as a fertilizer and has seen no effect whatever from its use.

Small potatoes, pumpkins, sugar beets, mangles and turnips thorougly cooked and mixed with a mixture of equal parts ground oats, corn and mill feed form a food recommended for fattening fall pigs.

"If you want a cow to do her best give her just as good quarters and as good care as you do your favorite horse," advises a Pensyvania farmer.

B. Irby, of Mississippi, says: Our experience is that cotton seed increases the flow of milk very much, and where other feed stuffs, less concentrated, are given, makes a very nice quality of butter. If fed alone the animals will not thrive on any more than they will on other concentrated feed stuff fed alone.

Cork dust, in which Malaga grapes are shipped to dealers all over the country, and which can often be had from local merchants for the asking, is suggested by Orchard and Garden as excellent material in which the consumer may keep grapes.

Scattering poisoned sliced potatoes over the potato ground before the sprouts appear, as many farm papers advocate, does not pay at all. The beetles prefer to rest in the soil until the sprouts do appear above it. Weather that is too cold for potato sprouts, is to cold for potato beetles.

"A humane way of despatching an animal is to send a good-sized bullet into the centre of the brain, paralyzing feeling at once. A handful of feed placed on the ground or floor before the animal is an aid in keeping it quiet so as to present a good mark. If the shot is properly placed the animal will drop as if struck by lightning and die in a few seconds without a struggle.

Points in Butter Making.

There are only a few points to be observed in the whole process of butter making, but if one fails the end fails. These points are as follows:

1. The entire absence of all foreign and injurious matter in the milk from whatever causes they may come.
2. The observance of the exact temperature in the various parts of the process.
3. The proper degree of acidity in the cream when it is put in the churn.
4. The stoppage of the churning when the butter is in the form of small grains no larger than grains of buckwheat.
5. The complete freedom of the butter from any trace, even of the buttermilk.
6. The mixture of the right proportion of perfectly pure salt in butter.
7. The perfect working of the butter to make it compact, and the even mixture of the salt in it.

If these points are perfectly secured the butter will be good; if one fails the butter will be faulty but if all fail, as is the case in the majority of cases, the butter will be bad o worse—Henry Stewart, in Rural Home.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her feel like a different person," so they all say and their husbands say so two!

Wheat from Seed 5,000 Years Old.

A most interesting experiment culminated last fall in the raising of some wheat grown from wheat as old as the exodus. The experimenter is David Drew, who last year received from a friend in Alexandria, Egypt, some grains of wheat taken from a mummy exhumed near the ruins of Memphis and belonging, [illegible] to the period of the ninth dynasty, which would make it [illegible] B. C., or nearly 5,000 years old. He planted the seed [illegible] [illegible] carefully [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] but [illegible] you see [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

In a few days Farmer Crowder met his friend Stokes.

"Well, how's caper?" queried Stokes.

"My corn's bodaciously ruint," replied Crowder, dolefully. "I tried that 'are scheme o' yourn, and it's a humbug. I soaked the corn and scattered it one day, and next mornin' I went down to the new groun' to see how it'd worked."

"Found 'em drunk, eh?"

"Found nothin'. I hearn a devil of a fuss down nigh the branch, and went to see what it was; thar was a dad-blasted old crow what had gathered up all the whisky corn an' had it on a stump, an' he was retailin' it out to the others, givin' 'em one grain o' that sort for three grains o' my planted corn; and dinged ef they hadn't clawed up that field by sections."—Atlanta Journal.

What the Cows Like.

The old adage says the is no disputing about tastes. This is more true of the brute creation than it is of man, whose appetite has been depraved by unwholesome viands and questionable modes of living. The instinct of a cow has not been thus perverted, and it may reasonably be assumed that she knows what is best for her. We have heretofore commended the practice of slighlty warming both food and drink given to cows in cold weather; but as some scientific authorities question the propriety of this advice, we are entirely willing to leave the decision to the cow herself.

Our experience has been that she will eat more heartily and greedily in cold weather of food slightly warmed, as compared with that given at the cold temperature of the outside atmosphere. Now the question is, does not the cow presumably know better what is good for here than do the scientists, most of whom eat a great deal of stuff that they would be far better without?

Man's reason can find full employment in controlling his own actions, without stepping aside to regulate undepraved instincts of animals subject to his care. As regards these his proper position is as a learner, studying instincts that are presumably better for their purposes than his reason can be.—Exchange.

For constipation "liver complaint," or billious, sick headache, and all diseases arising from a disordered condition of the liver and stomach. take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets—gentle laxative or active cathartic, according to size of the dose.

A Glade river, W. Va., special says: About four miles from this hamlet on Glade Mountain resides a family of coincidences. The father and mother were married on the 14th. of October; they have nine children, all of whom were born on the 14th. of October; five of the children are dead, and all five of them ceased to breathe on the 14th day of October. The name of the head of the family is Joshua Franklin. He says he was a Confederate soldier, that he was captured twice by the Yankees, that he lost two brothers in the war, and that all four of the mishaps or misfortunes of war occurred on the memorable 14th. of October. In the neighborhood the Franklin family is regarded with superstition, and not a human being can be prevailed upon to go in the house or stay on the premises on the 14th. of Oct.

Over Niagara Falls.

The spectators at Niagara Falls were horrified yesterday to see a green object start down the rapids and plunge over the falls. Being picked up it was found to be a bottle of Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure, which had been dropped by a child returning from a drug store. The mother's grief at the loss of her child was not lasting, as she went and bought another bottle. 33w4

Dry Leaves are Valuable.

America is the land of plenty and it is as well the land of waste. Many Europeans would become wealthy on what our people throw away or neglect entirely. In many European countries, as soon as the forest and tree leaves turn and the high winds begin to scatter them over the ground, the poor people turn out and gather them up as carefully as they would a crop of fruit or vegetables. The small farmers purchase those leaves, at prices unproportionately high and use them for fertilizing purposes. Leaves in those countries are regarded as valuable property and those who gather them without permission and take them off are prosecuted, fined or imprisoned—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

Blinks, after inviting his friend Jinks, who has just returned from abroad, to dinner, is telling him what a fine memory his little son Bobby has. "And do you suppose he will remember me?" said Jinks. "Remember you! Why, he remembers every face that he ever saw." An hour later they [illegible] the house, and after [illegible] has shaken hands with [illegible] [illegible] Bobby over to [illegible] "And do you remember, my little [illegible]" [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible]

Many more might be given had we room. On the recommendation of people of Lowell, who know us, we ask you to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

[illegible] BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

[illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

RHEUMATISM

For More than Twenty-five Years.—A Complete Recovery.—The Means Used.

I had Inflammatory Rheumatism. For nearly a year I had to be fed and turned in bed. I could find no relief. My stomach was ruined and cut to pieces with powerful medicines taken to effect a cure so that I was compelled to live on bread and water. I suffered for twenty-five years in this way. I was induced to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y., and thanks to this medicine. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is my best friend. With it I am enabled to enjoy a good night's rest. Also food, such as meat and pastry, which I have been deprived of for years, showing that the Favorite Remedy has no equal for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia as well. If any should doubt this statement I will send the ready proof at once.—Garrett Lansing, Troy, N. Y.

I Am Now Well,

It is my pleasure and absolute duty toward those who are struggling for very life against the deadly to add my testimony to the already weighty evidence of the wonderful efficacy of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. My wife was a hopeless case, abandoned by the physicians. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was resorted to; not because any hope was placed in it, but because nothing else remained. All means and medicines had been tested without avail. The effect was little short of a miracle. At the second bottle she had regained strength, and continuing the treatment has fully recovered.—Jay Sweet, Albany, N. Y.

Diseases of the Kidneys

FAVORITE REMEDY.

Price One dollar. Prepared at Rondout, N. Y.

A fellow in Indiana put one end of a gun barrel in the fire and looked down the muzzle to see if it was loaded. A coroner's jury decided that his suspicions are correct.

For over a quarter of a century, Physicians have prescribed NICHOLS BARK AND IRON as a reliable and valuable remedy for dyspepsia and general debility. 33w4

Housekeeper, negotiating for a pair of ducks: "But you don't weigh the head and feet, do you?" Butcher: "Oh yes, mum; we weigh everything but the quack."

A great many people disregard Dyspeptic Symptoms and assume that they will soon disappear of themselves; but this is not the fact and the only safe remedy for them is NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON. 33w4

Leader of the Boggsville Male Quintette to editor of the Boggsville Herald; "What can we do to interest the public in our organization?" Editor—"Disband."

LADIES WHO BLOAT.

What a great number there are; how uncomfortable it makes them; it is almost impossible for these afflicted to enjoy life. In my private practice I have always found Sulphur Bitters to be the best remedy. All who are thus troubled should use it.

34w3 MRS. DR. CHILDS, Boston.

Variety is charming. Landlord, to tenant: What wine do you drink, Mr. Chawbishin? Mr. C.; "Well, thankye, sir I'm havin' a little of all as comes round."

[illegible]

At the time when [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

PLASTER

[illegible]

NICHOLS' BARK & IRON

For Thirty Years this [illegible] [illegible] AGUE and MALARIAL [illegible] INDIGESTION, and in NERVOUS DISEASES, such as NEURALGIA, SLEEPLESSNESS and PROSTRATION. It is restoring tone to the debilitated System. For overworked men and women, invalids and children it is recommended by Physicians. Where other Tonics have failed this has made a conspicuous success.

AN UNRIVALLED TONIC,

NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON can be obtained at all Druggists.

BILLINGS, CLAPP & CO., Proprietors, Boston; Mass.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. TRADE MARK. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk.

INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING.

A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS.

A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES.

REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES.

Our book, "The Care and Feeding of Infants," [illegible] [illegible] to INVALIDS, mailed free to any address.

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

An undertaker having apartments to let, placed his bills upon the coffins in his windows, announcing, "Lodgings for single gentlemen."

MAKE NO MISTAE.—If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion and preparation, curative power superior to any other article of the kind before the people. For all affections arising from impure blood or a low state of the system it is unequaled. Be sure to get Hood's.

The saying that "there is more pleasure in giving than in receiving" is supposed to apply to kicks medicine and advice.

If you are tired taking the large old fashioned griping pills, and are satisfied that purging yourself till you are weak and sick is not good commonsense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from Billiousness, Headache, Constipation, and all Liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any pill in use. One a dose, Price 25 cts.

Next to having a new bonnet herself a woman likes to have a chance to make fun of some other woman's headgear.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

More than 60 per cent of adult English women, married and unmarried, are working for daily subsistance.

WORTH KNOWING.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe Cold attended with a distressing Cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Gurrenteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

To cure deafness in a man, begin to whisper to him about a chance to make his fortune.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to Brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of the Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

He is rich whose income is more than his expenses exceed his income.

7 Per Cent. Guaranteed!

MORTGAGES

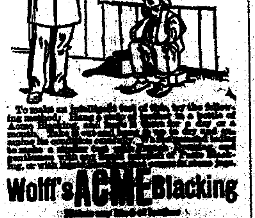
On Improved Real Estate,

—FOR SALE BY—

MEAD & STRANAHAN.

DR. HOXSIE'S CERTAIN CROUP CURE

for all dangerous inflammatory colds and tight barking cough. 50 cents



[illegible]

Wolff's ACME Blacking

WATERPROOF, SOFT, AND DURABLE.

[illegible]

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

Sold by Shoe Stores, Grocers, and dealers generally.

9 Cords in 10 HOURS
Runs Easy
NO BACKACHE

BY ONE MAN. [illegible]

Job Printing.

—o.—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
[illegible] PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
[illegible] OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
[illegible]

[illegible] a member of the [illegible] Band and played the cymbals.—[illegible]

The reason why the dove of peace still hovers over Europe [illegible] is because [illegible] steadily clear of bayonets to give her a footing.—Puck.

It is reported of a Knight of St. Crispin in Lynn that he became so completely filled with the ardent [illegible] in order to save his life they had to tap his boots.—Boston Post.

Shoveling snow is a very healthful, bracing, invigorating operation, but to enjoy the exercise thoroughly you need to sit at the parlor window with a book and watch some other fellow doing it.—Somerville Journal.

"Dad can tell the time without looking at his watch," said little Johnnie. "When I ask him in the morning, he says it is time to get up, and when I ask him at night he says it is time to go to bed."—Washington Post.

First Oyster (at a Church Fair): "There were three of us at first. What has become of the other one?" Second Oyster (inclined to be slangy): "He's 'in the soup.'"—Philadelphia Record.

"I wouldn't cry, little boy," said a kind old gentleman, consolingly: "you may be unhappy for the moment, but it will soon pass away. You wouldn't expect me to cry, would you, every time I'm a little unhappy?"

"No, sir," responded the tearful little lad, "you'd prob'ly go an' get a drink."

Jenkins. writing to thank his aunt for a large goose she had sent him for his Xmas dinner, says: "You could not have sent me a more acceptable present, or one that would have reminded me of you more pleasantly."—Courrier der Etats Unis.

Sunday school teacher (to little Flossie, whose parents recently achieved wealth)—"Flossie, can you tell me what day it is?" Flossie—"Yeth'm, ith' Thunday." Teacher—"And what day will to-morrow be?" Flossie—"Wath day."—New York Sun.

Churchly—"Seen 'La Tosca?'" Rounder—"Yes; immense, isn't it?" Churchly (severely)—"No, sir; I don't think it is a play you would care to let yovr wife and daughters see." Rounder—"I agree with you there; tickets come to high."—Lowell Citizen.

"Why, 'Lijah," said the farmer, discovering the old man in his hen house, "I never expected this of you. I always thought you were as honest as the day is loug." "Deed I is, sah," replied the old reprobate. "Yo' mus' recommember dat de days am gettin' short."—Evening Sun.

"Well, my boy," he asked cheerfully at the breakfast table the morning after Cholly had taken the important leap, "how did things go last evening? Did she smile on your proposal?" "No," said Cholly faintly, pushing away a breakfast roll. "She smiled at it."—Somerville Journal.

Brown had invited his brother, an old sea captain, to dinner on Christmas, and little Johnny seemed tickled to death over the old fellow's red nose. "Say, Uncle Jack," remarked the enfant terrible, "did Santa Claus give you that red nose when you were a little boy?" "No, my young shaver," replied the captain, good-naturedly; "it wasn't Santa Claus but a mate of his named Santa Cruz."—Judge.

"I wonder what has become of Mrs. DeBrown? She married my divorced husband, you know." "She went to a revival meeting the other evening, and she says she's 'wrestling with Satan.'" "She has no chance to win, then; her husband is as strong as a horse."—Nebraska State Journal.

Husband (coming home from church)—"You seemed unusually thoughtful during the sermon, my dear. I was impessed, too. There seemed to be something genuine about it." Wife—"Well, there isn't. I'm perfectly sure it's only seal plush, for all Mrs. Veneer gives herself such airs over it."—Harper's Bazar.

"I tell you, there is something in this superstition about Friday being an unlucky day," said Joughnes with much earnestness. "Why, I proposed to Miss Mamie Higgins on Friday." "Aha, I see," said Smythe. "And she rejected you, of course?" "Great Cupid, no! She accepted me, and we've been married nearly a year."—Drake's Magazine.

HARD UP GENT:—"Say, Boss, can't yer give a feller a few cents to help him along?" MR. DELAWEEY:—"Why don't you do something faw yaw own living? You had bettah ask for brains instead of money." HARD UP GENT:—"Well, Boss, I asked yer for what I thought yer had the most of."

MRS. JONES: [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Condition Powders [illegible]

[illegible]

I believe Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life.—[illegible] E. Bowens, [illegible] Edenton, N. C., April 23, 1887.

PISO

The best Cough Medicine is Piso's Cure for Consumption. Children take it without objection. By all druggists. 25c.

[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

[illegible] Only 25 c.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. [illegible]

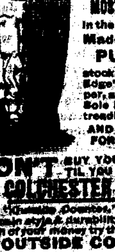
G. M. D.

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, and bodily health and vigor will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Eating Sores or Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties, if taken in time. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Catarrh in the Head, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.



"This is the Boot for ME!"

DON'T BUY YOUR Rubber Boots until you have seen the "COLCHESTER" with "Extension Edge" & Napoleon Top. This is the best fitting and MOST DURABLE BOOT in the market. Made of the Best PURE GUM stock. The "Extension Edge" protects the upper, adds to wear of the Sole by giving broader treading surface, AND SAVES MONEY FOR THE WEARER.

DON'T BUY YOUR ARCTICS UNTIL YOU HAVE SEEN THE COLCHESTER ARCTIC with "Outside Counter." Ahead of ALL others in style & durability. If you want the worth of your money try the Colchester with "OUTSIDE COUNTER."

Sold Exclusively in Fulton by

S. F. HILL, Oneida Street.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

[illegible]

[illegible] CO.

[illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

SURROGATE'S COURT:—During the [illegible] terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At Surrogate's office in Phoenix, [illegible] Monday of each week except in the month of August.

OSWEGO.—At the court house in Oswego, [illegible] first and Third Thursday of each month [illegible] August.

PULASKI.—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] in Pulaski on the Friday succeeding the [illegible] Thursday in January, March, May, June, [illegible]tember, November and December.

FULTON.—At office of C. H. David, Esq., in [illegible]ton, on the Second Thursday in January, [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At office of Hon. T. W. [illegible] Mexico on the Friday succeeding the third Tuesday in April, July and October

CENTRAL SQUARE.—At the Johnson House, Central Square on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—J. S. Luddington's law office in Parish on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court, except at Phoenix, will be held on the day previous thereto.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the eleventh day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS E. R[illegible],
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, [illegible] given to all persons having claims against [illegible] A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or the [illegible] lose the benefit of the statute in such case [illegible] and provid-d.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors.
C. H. DAVID }

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the moneys secured to be paid by a mortgage executed by Catherine [illegible], delivered to the Fulton Savings Bank, bearing date the 20th day of March, 1886, recorded with the power of sale therein contained, in the clerk's office of the County of Oswego, on the [illegible] day of March, 1886, in liber 1[illegible], of mortgages, on page 5, given to secure the payment of the sum of eight hundred dollars and interest; and whereas the sum of $686.96 is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice, being the whole amount unpaid thereon, and an action has not been brought to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, and said power of sale has become operative, Therefore, notice is hereby given, that by reason of the facts aforesaid, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgaged premises described in said mortgage as follows, to wit: "All that Tract or Parcel of Land, situate in the Town of Volney, county of Oswego and State of New York, being a part of Charles Newkirk's location, and the south [illegible] corner lot of said tract and known as lot number eleven (11) of the subdivision of said tract according to a survey and map made by Elisha Carrier, in 1808, and more particularly described in a survey made by Peter Schenck, in October, 18[illegible], as follows: beginning at the south-east corner of said location, at a stake 41° E. eight [illegible] from a hamlock tree cornered, and running thence westerly along the south line of said [illegible] sixty one (61) chains and sixty-eight (68) links to a stake in the center of the highway [illegible] at the south west corner of said lot number eleven; thence north along the center of said highway seventeen (17) chains and seven [illegible] a stake at the north-west corner of said lot; thence east sixty one (61) chains and sixty eight (68) links to a stake in the east line of said location; thence south along the east line of said location seventeen (17) chains and fifteen (15) links to the place of beginning, containing one hundred five and one half (105½) acres of land be the same more or less," will be sold at public auction at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, County of Oswego, New York, on the 12th day of January, 1889, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, and said mortgage thereby foreclosed.

Dated October 17th, 1888.

The Fulton Savings Bank, Mortgagee.

GILES S. PIPER,
Attorney, Fulton, N. Y.

51797

AUSTEN'S 51797

The Ladies' Prescription,

is a combined Tonic, Blood Purifier, and Female Regulator, possessing curative principals excelled by no other remedy now in use. Its superiority over "Beef, Wine and Iron," "Calisaya and Iron," Malt Preparations and other compounds, so generally in use, is demonstrated by the remarkable cures resulting from its judicious use; therefore, in all cases of weakness, Vitiated Blood, Scrofula, Malaria, Pulmonary diseases, Dyspepsia, &c., it is a most Satisfactory medicine For sale by Druggists.

50c Per Bottle.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.

EPPS'S

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

COCOA

MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with

PEERLESS DYES.

they will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. 40 colors. They have no equal for Strength, Brightness, Amount in Packages or for Fastness of Color, or non-fading qualities. They do not crock or smut. For sale by H. C. GIESLER

Livery Stab[illegible]

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on [illegible] Street, is prepared to fur[illegible] his old customers and tran[illegible]sients with

Livery [illegible]

Of Every D[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]
I ain't fer [illegible] in [illegible]
[illegible] a city folk;
[illegible] the hot brick pavement
[illegible] of dust an' smoke
An' [illegible] a-spendin' [illegible]
[illegible] th' day my birth
[illegible] it's jes a sister
O' th' devil's home on earth.

I [illegible] take a quiet walk
An' watch th' bumble-bee
Go [illegible] in a [illegible] hock,
An' tumble 'roun' fer he
[illegible] yaller with th' golden dust
[illegible] may be falls down,
[illegible] wings a-flyin' jes
[illegible] th' groun.'

I like t' set down on th' grass,
My back agin a tree,
An' watch th' lazy water pass
(It seemed that way to me)—
Pass down an' through th' medder
In th' crookedest o' ways,
Tel it run into th' river
An' there I guess it stays.

When work is finished for th' day,
An' eatin' finished, too,
I like t' smell th' clover hay
'At 's moistened with th' dew,
An' watch th' leaves a-movin'
In a sort o' sleepy way
That's most comfortable i soothin';
An' then I seem t' say:

'I'm sorry fer you city chaps,
Like birds kept in a cage
That [illegible] to fly but only flaps
Their wings agin th' edge;
But so long's you city gentry
Like city things th' best,
[illegible] hev th' kountry,
Why you kin hev the rest.
—Century Magagzine.

THE PROPER THING.

Sheer muslin cravats, lace edged are worn with the Directoire style of dress.

The newest ostrich feather boas are flat instead of round, and are shaped to fit the neck.

Wool dresses remain in great favor, and the slender Directoire redingotes are especially appropriate for them.

Olive and French gray carmelite is used for stylish Connemara cloaks that envelop the wearer from head to foot.

Among trimmings for cloth gowns are applications of cloth in flower designs on fur to be used as vests, cuffs, revers, etc.

Perfumed muffs of silk, lace or cloth are made, with many rows of shirring passing around the middle and a ruffle at each end.

Knife-pleated silk muslin in white, cream and colors, is sold by the yard to add as a turned-over frill to the neck and sleeves of dress waists.

The new cuffs, styled "Cromwellian" are very becoming to slender-armed women. They are fashioned after the manner affected by the Puritans.

To give a slender effect is the object of designers of most of the new wool gowns, and to add this slenderness short fur capes are added to complete walking toilettes.

Shirred ribbon passed around the neck outside the collar of the dress gives a pretty finish to a plain gown, and is a good plan for renewing or concealing a partly worn collar. Use gros grain ribbon two and a half inches wide, put seven rows of gathers very near together along the middle, leaving a little ruffle at top and bottom. Lap at one side and fasten with a small bow.

A Popular Delusion.

For farmers and those who live in localities where people can retire at eight or nine o'clock in the evening, the old notion of early rising is still appropriate. But he who is kept up till ten or eleven or twelve o'clock, and then rises at five or six, because of the teaching of some old ditty about "early to rise," is committing a sin against God and his own soul. There is not one man in ten thousand who can afford to do without seven or eight hours' sleep. All the stuff written about great men who slept only three or four hours a night is apocryphal and a lie. They have been put upon such small allowance occasionally and prospered; but no man ever kept healthy in body and mind for a number of years with less than seven hours' sleep. Americans need more sleep than they are getting. This lack makes them so nervous and the insane asylum so populous. If you can get to bed early, then rise early. If you [illegible] to bed until late then rise late. It may be as christian for one [illegible] as it is for another [illegible] at eight. We counsel our [illegible] to [illegible] when they are rested, [illegible] the rising bell be rung at [illegible] minutes before your pub[illegible]. Physicians say that [illegible] out of bed gives [illegible] the pulse. It takes [illegible] a too sudden rising. [illegible] expect children [illegible] the center of the [illegible] of their nurses, the [illegible] care. Give [illegible]

[illegible]

BY [illegible]

Why should I not [illegible] letter to the boys [illegible] one from Harry Osborn, of [illegible], N. J., from which I give an extract:

Dear Witness:—I write to thank Mr. Scott for his advice to boys. I am going to try and do just as that piece tells me to. I think I have tried, but what a sad failure I have made. I have caused by mother heartaches which no money can pay for; heartaches upon which no price can be set, hearts aches which no one but a mother can feel, and yet she keeps on doing for me in every way, and loving me only as a mother can.

A letter, breathing the above extract, pays a man for all he has or can do to make boys better.

Some people wonder why boys are so bad; but the mystery to me is that they are half as good as they are.

Take my own city, with its over three thousand saloons and a little over three hundred churches, and is it surprising that a race of young hoodlums are being brought up to curse the present and future?

Why send boys to church and school? "That they may be educated," is the answer. That is the work of these institutions. And so it is with all other institutions that are permitted to exist. They educate!

The difference between the Church and the saloon is: The former lays down a track from its doors to Heaven for those who attend to walk on; while the latter starts a double railed track from its doors to the bottomless pit. Go to one, and up you go in the scale of manhood; go to the other and down you go.

How to handle a boy is a science not very well understood. While under the parental roof he may be one of the best boys in town; but no sooner does he come in contact with the outside world than he is dazzled with the splendor of sin; gets wickedness into his head, and only a short time elapses before his heart is the seat of rebellion against Christ, and his father and mother.

Why boys who have had a respectable training should often go to the bad is indeed a mystery. But nevertheless such is the fact. Many a wicked boy had a good father and a fond mother.

I stood talking with a sailor boy on the deck of a man-of-war. He had run away from home to escape the displeasure of his parents. They loved him; but in return he had only caused the hot tears to trickle down their cheeks on account of his waywardness. He had traveled the world over, but could find no happiness. Nobody's kiss like mother's; no heart so tender, none so ready with a forgiving smile.

That night I talked with him his heart was soft; his lips quivered when speaking of home; he had a longing for that sympathy that only mother could give. How his mind wandered to other days when with the freedom of a bird, he played around the old homestead. But how changed was his position—He could only leave the decks of the vessel without the permission of the officers. His liberty was to be governed by one hundred rules, only one of which was in his favor, and that was the privilege to obey his superiors. They had the benefit of the other ninety-nine rules.

"Mother's boy" afloat in the cold world is a sad sight. He generally receives many cuffs and few kind words.

The poetry of life is suddenly taken out of this young mind. He retires to rest at night with no "Good-night, my boy," kiss on the brow; he arises in the morning with a "Get up, quick!" from harsh lips, instead of those that stole so softly upon him with "My dear, it is time to rise." It makes no difference now if the cup of coffee is hot or cold. There it is; he can take it or let it alone, only he he must make up his mind quickly. No fooling now-a-days. His clothes are torn, but no kind mother or sister to mend them. He turns tailor and tries his best, but after all the patch is a botch. Sickness takes hold of him, a fever burns until his head aches to split. All he can do is to stand it like a hero, for he left the best doctor on earth—mother.

"Mother's boy" should be careful how he leaves home. He's a tender plant; the scorching rays of summer's sun and the blighting winds of winter will tell on him.

Some boys can stand anything, and pass through almost anything unharmed; but they are few. They walk the streets of New York city more as [illegible] than any thing else.

Every boy in starting out in life, should lay down certain rules and stick to them [illegible] this. He can, as a [illegible] by asking father or mother. The [illegible] simple they are the better.

For instance, we will suppose that he wants a rule to govern him as to where he should [illegible] his leisure time [illegible]

[illegible] all [illegible] to be [illegible] even [illegible] into.

Life is [illegible] somewhat different. [illegible] standing on the hilltop, looking forward on both sides of life. Hitherto I have been protected. The future of life I know nothing of, nor do I desire to know.

Be gentle, kind, brave and sweet. Courage will carry you through many dark places. When it grows so black that you cannot see or feel your way place yourself in keeping of Him who looks carefully even after the little sparrows.—N. Y. Witness.

NOTABLE PEOPLE.

Gossip About Men and Women of Some Fame.

John L. Waller of Kansas is the only colored man in the electoral college this year.

Joseph Jefferson, the actor, is practically blind in the left eye from glaucoma or hardening of the aqueous humor.

Bret Hart is in his fiftieth year. He has been writing since early in the sixties, when he printed a number of poems and war lyrics in the San Francisco papers. Previous to that time he had been a compositor.

T. C. Eastman the largest shipper of American dressed beef in the country, is about to hand over his share in a business of $6,000,000 a year to his son and retire. Mr. Eastman began life as a 'longshoreman in New York. Now at sixty years he is worth fully $5,000,000.

Rev. Philips Brooks, at Trinity church Boston, recently delivered a discourse about 3,000 words long in fifteen minutes, an average of 200 words per minute, or more than three per second. This would make most stenographers weary.

Gen. Boulanger's one idol in life is said to be his mother. She was with him in 1859 during the the ten months in which he was in danger from a wound received at Solferino, and which has never entirely healed. He spends every Sunday afternoon and evening with her, and if away always sends her a telegram.

Gen. Lew. Wallace and his wife are two busy people. Both are gifted with the pen and four books have gone from the Wallace home during the past year, equally divided between husband and wife. For the Harrison biography Gen. Wallace received a handsome sum, and his "Boyhood of Christ" has already gone into its fifteenth thousand. Mrs. Wallace's two books, "The Repose in Egypt" and "The Land of Pueblos," both sold well. Out of "Ben Hur" the author has made easily $60,000, based on an estimate of a twenty per cent. royalty on 300,000 copies. His "Fair God" has also netted handsomely, and the revenue from this book is helped along materially by the success of "Ben Hur."

A letter was received in New York last week from Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe. The handwriting was firm, only approaching a tremble as it reached its ending. In clear outlines was the signature "H. B. Stowe," so familiar to thousands of readers throughout the world. Few things are more surprising than the recovery of this remarkable woman. Last summer when she was removed from the Long Island retreat to which she had gone, it was only because her family wished that her last hours might be spent in their own home at Hartford. Yet to-day the pen is again in the fingers of the hand that is still to lose its cunning. Each day when the weather is favorable, "I breathe God's pure air," writes the authoress. Her walks are mostly confined to her own grounds. It is not possible that Mrs. Stowe will ever again take up the pen for other than writing a casual letter, but that she has been spared to do this will be gratifying news to the thousands whom she has bettered by her work and life.

For burns and wounds we would recommend Salvation Oil. All druggists sell it at 25 cents.

Many cases have come under our notice [illegible] Dr. [illegible] sufferer from [illegible] had been treated for [illegible] physicians. [illegible]

[illegible]

It was the night before the wedding, and he was bidding her good night, and softly whispered:

"To-morrow eve, my darling, we begin our journey as bride and bridegroom, pilgrims of life together; hand in hand will we journey down life's rugged road. [illegible] to set out with a [illegible] of faith and hope [illegible] ended; will we not, darling?"

"I—I—oh, yes, [illegible] only I really am so [illegible]

[illegible] D. D., [illegible] announced that he [illegible] doctrine is upheld [illegible] series of three sermons. [illegible] these was delivered last Sunday before a congregation swelled to unwonted proportions by [illegible] from the evangelical churches of the city. Dr. Calthrop, who is an English-born and Oxford bred man, studied originally for the ministry of the church of England, but, unable to accept its teachings, renounced it and became a Unitarian. His experience was wonderfully like that of Robert Elsmere, and from that point of view the real clergyman discussed his brother in fiction. The commotion these sermons were creating in orthodox circles aroused Right Rev. T. D. Huntington, bishop of Central New York, who a week ago entered the pulpit of St. Paul's cathedral here, and without speaking Dr. Calthrop's name, probed his theory and that of Mrs. Ward's story and defended the tenets of the church.

The conflict of Bishop Huntington and Dr. Calthrop is a battle of giants. The bishop, it will be recalled, was a convert from the Unitarian church to the Episcopal church, while Dr. Calthrop turned a doctrinal somersault in exactly the opposite direction. It is an open secret that Dr. Calthrop has won over two or three notable converts on the basis of "Robert Elsmere," and that several local orthodox clergymen are being pushed to the extent of their learning by communicants who prefer personal consultation to pulpit eloquence in the unsettled state of their minds. One clergyman said to the Sun correspondent to-day:

"This book is the most vexatious thing the church has encountered in a century. The blasphemies of Robert Ingersoll pale before the sophistries of "Robert Elsmere."

Dr. Calthrop is the successor of the late Samuel J. May, the abolitionist, in the pulpit he fills. He is a profound scholar.—Cor. N. Y. Sun.

Knowledge For Housewives.

That milk which is turned or changed may be sweetened and rendered fit for use again by stirring in a little soda.

That salt will curdle new milk; hence, in preparing milk porridge, gravies, etc., the salt should not be added until the dish is prepared.

That fresh meat, after beginning to sour, will sweeten if placed out of doors in the cool of night.

That clear boiling water will remove tea strains and many fruit strains. Pour the water through the strain and thus prevent it spreading over the fabric.

That ripe tomatoes will remove ink and other stains from white cloth; also from the hands.

That a tablespoonful of turpentine boiled with white clothes will aid in the whitening process.

That boiled starch is much improved by the addition of a little sperm salt, or gum arabic dissolved.

That beeswax and salt will make rusty flatirons as clean and smooth as glass. Tie a lump of wax in a rag and keep it for that purpose. When the irons are hot, rub them first with the wax rag, then scour with a paper or cloth sprinkled with salt.

That blue ointment and kerosene mixed in equal proportions and applied to the bedsteads is an unfailing bed-bug remedy, as a coat of whitewash is for the walls of a log house.

That kerosene will soften boots or shoes that have been hardened by water, and render them as pliable as new.

That kerosene will make tin tea kettles as bright as new. Saturate a woolen rag and rub with it. It will also remove stains from varnished furniture.

That cool rain-water and soda will remove machine grease from washable fabrics.

Triumphs of Half a Century.

The unification of Italy.
The annexation of Texas.
The discovery of photography.
The French revolution of 1848.
The laying of the ocean cables.
The discovery of the telephone.
The emancipation of Russian serfs.
The discovery of the electric telegraph.
The establishment of ocean steam navigation.
The extension of Russian power into Central Asia.
The great Franco-German war and the unification of Germany.
The great civil war and abolition of slavery in the United States.
The rise and fall of Napoleon III. and [illegible] of the French republic.
The discovery of the [illegible] of the [illegible] and the [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] shot [illegible] Some men especially those new to the work go into a charge firmly convinced that they are going to be shot. Of course they are frightened. In some cases it makes them actually sick.

Other men look at it differently, and do not expect to be hit. These are men who have seen service. They consider their chance of being killed so slight in ordinary engagements that they act as though they were indifferent to fire. It makes all the difference in the world in their behavior, and it is the duty of the officers to convince the men that they will not be hit. I have seen officers expose themselves to severe fire if necessary to reassure the men.

When I was in the sixth cavalry down in North Carolina we had a lot of new men. A charge was ordered and the first company advanced. They were in an open road close by a piece of woods. At the first volley from the enemy they took to the woods. Then I ordered up the second company. The men were white as ghosts, but they rode through the fire. The cavalry charge is with revolvers pointed in the air, and at the word "fire" the barrel is dropped and the volley fired. In this charge the men were so excited that most of their shots went straight up in the air or over the heads of the enemy. A couple of months later the same men would ride and fire as steadily and drop their bullets close to the object aimed at.

It requires more nerve for men to stand and receive fire than to ride forward and return it. The excitement of firing helps to keep up men's courage. Only veterans will go steadily forward when men are dropping on all sides. I remember one charge when I expected to get hit. I had to lead a cavalry charge right in the face of the enemy's fire. It seemed like sure death to attempt it. I destroyed all of my papers and we went out with a rush. The enemy were so astonished that they dropped their guns and ran, leaving us to gather in some prisoners and leave the ground clear for the infantry.

I remember an incident at Chapultepec that tried the nerves of the men. A forlorn hope was ordered and every tenth man told off. One of the men who were detailed was so badly frightened that he threw up his breakfast like a seasick passenger. He was convinced that he would be shot, but he went through the charge, received a ball on his belt-plate and came out all right. He was afterward a captain and stood fire without flinching.—Colonel Floyd Clarkson.

Aphorisms From the Study.

Some one should preach a sermon on the bad taste of pursuing good taste too exclusively.

The philosopher's trouble is that while he can give fifty years to evaluating life impartially, life has spent several thousand years in shaping his prejudices.

In moments of decision there is danger of mistaking the exhaustion of long spiritual struggle for resignation to fate.

We talk of immortality, but we even do not know yet what time is. Perhaps time has possibilities that dwarf immortality, and we are fooling ourselves with the poorer choice. Let us have the very best.

If heaven should grant one more gift to this country, the mistake would not be great were it a more sacred observance of parentage.

Faith, like any virtue, must have its test, and probably the reason for inexplicable evil.

An optimist is an unreflective individual with nerves at concert pitch.—Xenos Clark, in Century Bric-a-Brac.

Emin Pasha is said to be a Hebrew.

Gladstone's private secretary is his daughter.

It pays to encourage the boys on a farm.

It is economy to secure all the wood ashes for a fertilizer.

There are 5,000 Indians in the State of New York.

[illegible]

At Druggists and Dealers.
THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
[illegible]
Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
Cleanses the Nasal Passages Allays Pain and Inflammation, Heals the Sores Restores the Senses of Taste & Smell.
CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD
HAY-FEVER
ELY BRO'S. OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A.
TRY THE CURE.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts.
ELY BROTHERS,
56 Warren New York

Aching Sides and Back, Hip, Kidney and Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing, strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by Cuticura Soap.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)
Gives Good Appetite,
New Strength,
Quiet Nerves,
Happy Days,
Sweet Sleep.
Science emerging from Darkness.
A POWERFUL TONIC
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.
Mine was about as bad a case of malaria as could be, and yet Kaskine cured me after I had been dosed with almost every drug in the Pharmacopœia.—J. D. Hird, B. A., Chemist, Maryland Agricultural College.
"For eight years I had dumb ague intolerably. Wished myself dead a score of times. I never found a medicine worth the bottle that held it until I took Kaskine. That was a happy day for me. It gave me appetite and strength. I can sleep like a top. I stand by every word of this." —Thos. Toole, Schuylerville, N. Y.
Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.
KASKINE CO., 168 Duane St., New York.

Scribner's Magazine.
FOR 1889
The publishers of SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE aim to make it the most popular and enterprising of periodicals, while at all times preserving its high literary character. 25,000 new readers have been drawn to it during the past six months by the increased excellence of its contents (notably the railroad articles), and it closes its second year with a new impetus and an assured success. The illustrations will show some new effects, and nothing to make SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE attractive and interesting will be neglected.
THE RAILROAD ARTICLES will be continued by several very striking papers; one especially interesting by Ex-Postmaster-General Thomas L. James on "The Railway Postal Service." Illustrated.
Mr. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON'S serial novel "The Master of Ballantrae," will run through the greater part of the year. Begun in November.
A CORRESPONDENCE and collection of manuscript memoirs relating to J. F. Millet and a famous group of modern FRENCH PAINTERS will furnish the substance of several articles. Illustrated.
The brief end papers written last year by Robert Louis Stevenson, will be replaced by equally [illegible] contributions by different famous authors. [illegible] Aldrich will write the first of them for the January number.
Many valuable LITERARY ARTICLES will appear; a paper on Walter Scott's Methods of Work, illustrated from original MSS., a second "Shelf of Old Books," by Mrs. James T. Fields, and [illegible] Illustrated.
Articles on ART SUBJECTS will be a feature. Papers are arranged to appear by Clarence Cook, E. H. Blashfield, Austin Dobson, and many others. Illustrated.
FISHING ARTICLES describing sport in the best fishing grounds will appear, [illegible] Illustrated.
ILLUSTRATED ARTICLES of great variety, [illegible]
[illegible]

W. P. [illegible],
Jeweler,
WATCHES
CLOCKS
W. P. Osborne
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!
COAL!
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation. Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE
FITS!
When I say Cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or
FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I warrant my remedy to Cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M. C., [illegible]

[illegible]
"MARVELS OF THE NEW WEST."
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible] FULTON, N. Y.
Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil Cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

INSURANCE
—WRITTEN IN—
The Following Well-Known Companies:
ÆTNA, Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL, Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION, London, Eng
CONNECTICUT, Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION, Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS, Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN, Germany
IMPERIAL, London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE, " "
MERCHANTS', Providence, R. I
NIAGARA, N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX, Hartford, Conn
LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.
C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

JAMES COLE,
The old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

HUMPHREYS'
HOMEOPATHIC VETERINARY SPECIFICS
For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, Poultry.
500 PAGE BOOK [illegible]
[illegible]
Humphreys' Med. Co., [illegible] N. Y.

PATENTS
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and all other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington D. C.

WANTED MAN [illegible]
[illegible]
ALPINE SAFE CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

TOLEDO WEEKLY BLADE
1889.
ONLY ONE DOLLAR.
The leading Weekly Newspaper of the [illegible] and is the only paper which [illegible]
[illegible]
ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.
[illegible]

[illegible] Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second-class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

PERSONS convicted of murder in this state will hereafter be sentenced to death by electricity. This new law went into effect January 1st.

MRS. JAY GOULD died at her home on Fifth avenue in New York city, Sunday evening. She had been suffering from paralysis for the past four months.

THE small pox scare at Syracuse is at an end. The last small pox patient from the penitentiary William Bond, a tramp from Madison county, died at the pest house on Saturday.

THE trans-Atlantic steamship record is again beaten. Last week the Canarder Umbria completed the passage eastward in six days, two hours and forty-five minutes, beating the next best record by nearly two hours.

ON Monday the electors chosen on November 6, met and elected Benjamin Harrison and Levi P. Morton respectively president and vice president of the United States, thus confirming the choice of the people.

THE firm of Weed & Knickerbocker, publishers of the Syracuse Sunday Times has made an asignment for the benefit of their creditors. It will appear as usual each Sunday morning notwithstanding its financial difficulties.

A BILL is pending in Congress to create a Department of Agriculture. There seems to be but little doubt but that the bill will be adopted and President-elect Harrison will have another Cabinet officer to appoint, making eight in all.

JOSIAH V. WILLIAMSON, a wealthy old bachelor of 85 years, has just given the princely sum of $5,000,000 for the establishment, in Philadelphia, of a free school of mechanical trades. He is of Quaker parents, and lives in the city of Brotherly Love.

A TERRIBLE railroad accident occurred Monday on the New York. Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad near Tallmadge, O. when a passenger train collided with one section of a frieght train. Eight persons were killed and over a dozen severely injured.

A TERRIFIC cylone did great damage in Pennsylvania last week. In Reading and Pittsburgh it was especially destructive. At the former city twenty-three lives were lost and at Pittsburgh fifteen. Many others were seriously injured and a vast amount of property destroyed.

THE New York World has made arrangements for an exploring expedition into Central Africa to obtain authentic news of Stanley and Emin Pasha. It will be led by Thomas A. Stevens, who made himself famous by his tour around the globe on a bicycle, who is now on his way to Zanzibar, whence the expedition will start. In case the two explorers shall have returned to civilized regions before Mr. Stevens reaches Wadelai, he will devote himself to the investigation of the African slave trade, against which Cardinal Lavigerie, primate of Africa, is conducting a crusade.

It is reported that George A. Glynn and Alderman Parsons of Oswego, have purchased an interest in the Palladium and will devote their time to the interests of the paper, Mr. Glynn in the editorial and Mr. Parsons in the business departments. This change involves the retirement of the present editor, George C. Bragdon of Rochester.

Why use common soaps when you can get the Master for 5cts a cake.
35 4 mos.

The Fulton Sewerage.

Specifications for the construction of the system of sewers are in the hands of M. C. Highriter, clerk of the Village Board.

Sealed bids for the construction of the same will be received and opened on the 26th. The extent of the system will be about 20,000 feet with the two main sewers on Second and Fifth streets beginning in the upper part of [illegible]

[illegible] of the wealth of pretty girls as well. The out-of-town young men have not been slow to grasp this fact and more than one of our girls have been called to cheer the firesides of our bucolic neighbors. The last to leave the town is Carrie Hutchinson, who was married last Wednesday to H. C. Geisler, a Fulton druggist. The story of the marriage as told by Mr. George W. Hutchinson, the father of the bride, is as follows:

"I have but one child, Carrie, who is seventeen years old. A short time before Christmas Carrie left home with the intention of visiting friends in Fulton. While there she met H. C. Geisler, who keeps a drug store in that place. He paid his attentions to my daughter who was very pretty and attractive and so far succeeded in gaining her affections that she wrote home asking to be allowed to remain there over Christmas. I wrote her a letter saying that she might remain there if she wished but she failed to receive the letter in time and came home. After her return she told me that Fulton was to be her home in the future, as she was engaged to be married to a gentleman there. Myself and my wife persuaded her not to get married so soon but she went back to Fulton. In the meantime I went to Fulton and made inquiries about Geisler. My daughter had a young lady friend named Kittie Welch, residing on Burnet street in whom she confided and this lady knew all about the engagement and when the marriage was to occur. Last Monday Geisler and my daughter came to this city and went right by the place where I was at work and never even inquired for me. They were on their way to the home of Miss Welch on Burnet street, at which place I subsequently learned when the marriage was to take place. On Wednesday afternoon I was at the depot when Geisler and Carrie arrived at 4:30 o'clock. I told them that they could not get married but they felt so bad about it that I finally consented to the marriage on one condition, that they should not go to Welch's to eat the wedding supper, which had been prepared for them there. They consented and promised me faithfully that they would do as I desired in the matter. I followed them to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Ford, on University avenue, where the ceremony was to be performed. I had received no invitation to be present. The driver of the hack informed me that he had received instructions to take them to Welch's on Burnet street after the ceremony. I stated the case to him and he agreed to drive slow in order that I might get there before the bride and groom. When they arrived I was there and ordered my daughter not to go into the house. I was invited to come in by Mrs. Welch but I informed her that she had caused this marriage and had ruined my life. Finally Geisler and Carrie drove off without eating their supper and took the 6:05 train for Fulton. My wife is prostrated with grief and I fear that she will never get well again. I have heard nothing from them whatever since their marriage."

An eye witness of the whole affair said that Mr. Hutchinson was on hand when the train conveying the happy couple rolled into the depot. Frank M. Whelan and Kittie Welch also met the expected bride and groom. Mr. Hutchinson was rather loud in his protest against the wedding, when the two couples hastily entered a hack leaving the angry parent on the platform. They were driven to the Rev. Mr. Ford's residence on University avenue, where the ceremony which made Herman C. Geisler and Carrie E. Hutchinson man and wife was performed. As the party were leaving the house and about to get into the hack, the bride's father again appeared. There was another angry scene, which was of brief duration, as the hack was driven rapidly away to the home of Miss Welch on Burnet street, where a few former companions and close friends of the bride had gathered to shower congratulations and to partake of a wedding supper. Mr. Hutchinson followed the carriage. It is said that his actions at the scene of the festivities caused a change in the program previously laid out. The married couple had arranged to leave on the 8:30 train for their home in Fulton. They took the 6:30 train instead, leaving their friends to enjoy the wedding feast in their absence. The groom is a popular young druggist of Fulton and is thirty-one years of age. The bride has just passed her eighteenth birthday.

Mr. Hutchinson succeeded in drawing quite a crowd as he banged around the home of the Welch's and ventilated his ideas on the way the marriage had taken place. His remarks concerning the Welch family are said to have been decidedly uncomplimentry."—Syracuse Sunday Times.

The foregoing article appeared in the Syracuse Sunday Times of Jan. 13 and being of a somewhat sensational character we reproduce it. We called on the active druggist and [illegible]

[illegible] the Fulton [illegible] of [illegible] their own young [illegible]

"The [illegible] schools could go right on just where they are located now. And all under one [illegible] control, with permanent, [illegible] teachers, the people of the "Upper and Lower Falls" would, as have been their 'Upper Landing' neighbors, be surprised at the improvement in their schools and the reduction in the expense of maintaining them. And they would have the benefit of a free academy for their young men and young ladies.

Such an organization should and would be independent. The principal of the academy should be superintendent of the schools and look after the success of the primary and intermediate departments. The board of education, through the superintend should judge of the qualifications and license their own teachers, just as the city of Oswego and other cities do now. There is no apparent reason why a well organized school system in the village of Fulton, and especially when the schools of the two villages are consolidated, should depend upon the commissioner of the district to "licence" its teachers any more than the city of Oswego should do so.

And further: Here is a point we wish to call the attention of our Fulton and Oswego Falls friends to particularly. By organizing a good, strong, consolidated Union school system they could be made independent, as we have suggested, and we have no doubt would be recognized by the department of Public Instruction and an appointment of $800 or $1,000 secured as a part of the salary of the superintendent, who, as we have pointed out above, should be the principal of the academic department of the organization."

Auction Sale.

J. N. Green will sell at public auction at the home of his son, S. A. Green on Oneida street, on Saturday, Jan. 19, commencing at 1 p. m., all his household goods one second hand buggy and other articles. He also has a lot on Fifth near Academy street which he will dispose of at a bargain.

Practical Joking.

Tuesday a joke was played upon Geo. Wood, Wall Hannibal and Reuben Parks of Lower Falls which proved to be very serious one and which came very near costing Mr. Wood his life. They were at work in a lined car, which makes it nearly air tight, loading apples, Lem Austen thought he would have some fun by shutting the door and fastening them in. He did so and went to the freight house to await developments.

They had been in the car but a short time when they began to be oppressed by suffocation and in a little while longer Mr. Wood was prostrated and became unconscious. Parks and Hannibal made all the noise possible, calling for help and to be let out, but Mr. Austen heard them not and their condition can better be imagined than described when they knew that Mr. Wood was in a dying condition and they might soon become so.

When the door was finally opened Mr. Wood was gasping for breath and the others were half dead with suffocation and fright. Mr. Austin will be more careful how he plays his jokes upon his friends hereafter.—Oswego Falls Observer.

Summer Homes on the N. Y. O. & W. Railway.

This Company are now getting together the material for their Summer Homes for 1889, and parties desiring to keep summers boarders should send to J. C. Anderson, General Passenger Agent, 18 Exchange Place, New York City, for the necessary blanks.

Last year twenty-five thousand copies of this beautiful book were distributed in New York, Brooklyn, and the adjacent cities, and the large influx of summer boarders to the counties through which the Ontario & Western runs can be directly traced to this book.

No charge will be made this year for inserting a short advertisement.

A great many of the residents of Orange, Ulster, Sullivan and Delaware counties have gone regularly into the business of accommodating summer boarders, and their success has tempted their neighbors to emulate their example, and these counties in the summer time accommodate a vast and increasing multitude of city people, who leave an enormous amount of money behind them.

Stephen Russell and his son of Sandy Creek broke through the ice while skating on the North Sandy pond last Friday and were drowned. They had started out to fish. The ice was very thin and rotten from recent rains and the men had been warned that it was not safe. Their bodies were recovered the next day.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

[illegible]

[illegible] vigor and loss to his [illegible] companions and victims.

As there are men in this world who care neither for God nor devil; who exhibit in their lives more of the animal than of the intelligent being; so there are dens so wicked, so dangerous, so vile as to become a living disgrace to the most of villages or the most iniquitous of cities; dens where vice in every form is encouraged, where Satan presides, where one enters a man and exits a brute. Our village possesses such places, not many perhaps, but one is one too many.

The papers give an account of a "bloody affray" which occurred last Saturday night in Fulton. The names of places and parties are published. I will not dishonor my pen by rewriting them.

On Christmas day blood was shed at the same place and the peace and quiet of a christian festival was troubled by a curious crowd of spectators and a motley crew of drunken hoodlums. This case should be investigated and if the village authorities refuse to act, the people should take it in their hands and oblige the proper tribunal to mete out justice to interested parties.

Some time ago the village papers stated that a certain man who kept a saloon on Second street applied for a license; his place, it was reported, had a questionable reputation; a protest is entered against him; the license is refused for good reasons. A short time afterward the gent appeals to the Excise Board, he expects to start business on another street, the license is granted and undoubtedly the Excise Commissioners were proud of their, work; "consistency thou art a jewel."

Dame Rumor reported (and she often tells the truth) that a certain influential politician wedged in a word of encouragement and the board bowed in humble submission to the political boss. This may not be true, but a moment's reflection would have taught the Board that if a man is not worthy of a license on one street, he cannot wipe out his spotted reputation simply by moving to another street even at the water's edge. Since that time, the same saloon has kept up its record and the papers have often informed us of the brawls and oaths and music and blood that kept company under that roof. Now, what is to be done? my answer is this.

1. All a clergyman can do is to protest; to suggest a remedy, to use his influence with the people in order to induce them to remain away from such a dangerous place, to preach against these abuses and urge civil authority to punish the offenders.

2. If our excise commissioners are so far "beyond redemption" that their conscience can no longer influence their acts; we have at least a right to treat them to public censure and give them the solemn grand bounce as soon as possible. They wait for us to complain and protest; we are not obliged to do so but they are obliged to keep an account of the "character and fitness" of the saloon keeper and not grant licenses to those whose reputation is as spotted as a coach dog.

We have saloon keepers who respect the laws and those who violated them should not be on the same standing.

One vicious den in a village gives the whole village a bad name. Sacrifice the den and save our reputation.

3. Where are our policemen? The dear creatures! We have many by name. We know but one true officer. Just one, and because he fulfils his duty he is called a traitor, a detective, a spy, a hypocrite. These epithets injure no man and aside from this one policemen we have no other, the rest are decorated jumping jacks who show their badge in the light of day, and at night whistle to drive fear from their hearts.

4. Our village president and other officials, our local papers, our good citizens should not allow "bloody affrays" to take place without making an effort to prevent the recurrence of the same.

5. In order to make saloons a failure why not start a movement which has been a grand success elsewhere, it is very simple: circulate a petition asking all young and old to sign the following pledge which does not bind them to total abstinence. "I promise for the good of religion and the edification of others, never to indulge in the custom of treating or being treated and never to enter a saloon except when strictly necessary. How soon our saloons would be closed if our citizens would be active and earnest.

Let us discourage [illegible] intemperance.

Let [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] and the [illegible] of cases only [illegible] East, west, north, south, [illegible] hundred and fifty special [illegible] investigating the more complicated of these claims. In the offices of the Adjutant-General and Surgeon General twelve hundred clerks fill in the years searching official records of service. In the Second Auditor's office over a hundred clerks are employed in pension matters. At the agencies another hundred make payments.

Nearly three thousand people are thus exclusively employed by the Government, at an expense, say of $40,000 per year, in salaries alone. Enormous buildings are devoted to the business, hundreds of tons of paper are consumed and thousands of gallons of ink shed in the cause. In the Pension office proper work accumulates faster than it can be disposed of and Congress refuses the necessary number of clerks to adjudicate the claims within a reasonable time. And yet the last war closed a quarter of a century ago.

The uninitiated reader must remember, however, that our pension system has been of slow growth, for although a general pension law was enacted in 1792, it was not until after the civil war that anything like a practice was established, and even then the practice had to undergo a thousand changes of detail. To-day the laws and practice of the Bureau, the decision of the Secretary and the rulings of the Commissioner, make quite a respectable volume. There are a hundred grave decisions on "line of duty," as many more as to rights of attorneys, an avalanche of decisions on minor points, and a wilderness of rulings under these decisions. And lastly there is an amazing list of rates allowed, from the $2 per month allowed for the loss of a portion of a little finger to the $72 per month given for the loss of both eyes, both legs or both arms. There are fixed rates for everything but diseases. The rates for diseases are fixed by guessing.

And here enters the first objectionable feature of the system. All over this country are resident examining surgeons, who devote a part of one day of each week to the physical examination of claimants. There are about a thousand of these people, and this branch of the service costs about $800,000. In disease cases their decision generally fixes the rate allowed. Of course the doctors are not all unprejudiced, and those who are not all capable. A very large minority may be found either at one extreme or the other, the extreme of generosity or the extreme of distrust toward claimants. Very often a particularly grasping board of surgeons will rate every claimant high in order to swell the amount of their own fees, as the claimants soon learn in any district where the "easiest" board lies and ask to be sent there.

Politics sometimes bears a band in fixing the rate allowed. I once saw going out of an examining surgeon's office a hearty, bluff, county commissioner and local politician, followed slowly by a ragged, painfully crippled, prematurely old man. I was not much surprised to learn a few months afterward that the commissioner had been allowed $18 per month for some mysterious facial neuralgia, and the cripple had been increased to $4 per month for his open and discharging wound of hip. And my surprise was no greater when the surgeon was nominated for the State Senate, on a close vote by the efforts of the aforesaid neuralgiac politician.

The office of a capable examining surgeon is a good place to diagnose moral as well as physical natures. There comes the alleged nearly deaf man. The doctor examines him. He begins by yelling at him, and the claimant can hardly hear him. Gradually he gets him excited and finally is talking to him in a whisper, and the claimant hears perfectly. Then the physician suddenly renews his former yelling, and the discomfited countenance of the claimant shows that he has been shamming.

Palermo.

(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

Eugene Babcock formerly of Palermo, now of Cortland county has been in town for the past week with his bride. He was married on New Year's. The happy couple have the best wishes of your correspondent for a long and happy life.

D. L. Brown, H. F. Parsons and John Knowlton are after the nomination for Supervisor of Palermo.

D. H. Trimble bought the farm of Mrs. Lydia Getman, sold on a mortgage foreclosure at Fulton on Saturday.

J. W. Rigley and Miss Frankie Wood of Oswego Falls were in Palermo on Sunday.

A. G. Morse of Volney Centre is said to have been appointed general agent for the Bohemian Seed Company of Pennsylvania.

Dr. A. W. Green of Palermo Centre, is very busy these days attending the sick.

Israel Rigley of Palermo is to move to Fulton in the month of March.

South Granby.

(Special correspondence to The Times.)

Mr. Elkanah Baker of Hannibal is spending a week or so with friends here.

The high wind last Thursday made sad havoc in some of our timber lots, uprooting and blowing over a good many trees.

A tobacco shed belonging to Fred Shultz was moved about four feet from its foundation and some of the timber broken during the storm of Thursday.

The wheelieg in the country is very good, the roads being as hard as pavements and quite smooth.

The Body of Rector Parker Found.

The body of Rev. W. L. Parker, rector of Christ's Episcopal church of Oswego, who mysteriously disappeared on November 30, immediately after holding services at his church, was found on the lake shore, near Oswego, Saturday morning. The violent gale of Wednesday had brought the body to the surface and washed it to the shore. The mystery concerning this disappearance is now solved and it is now certain that the unfortunate man, who constantly gave more to the needy than he could afford, committed suicide to escape creditors.

Annual Report of the Fulton Water-Works Company.

We, the undersigned, President and a majority of the Trustees of the Fulton Water Works Company, do hereby certify and declare:

First: That the amount of capital of said corporation is fifty thousand dollars and the whole thereof has been actually paid in as follows: Nine hundred dollars cash and forty-nine thousand one hundred dollars in property purchased.

Second: That the amount of the existing debts of said corporation is the sum of ninety-four thousand one hundred eighteen and 13-100 dollars, viz: Bonded indebtedness seventy-four thousand dollars, All other indebtedness twenty thousand one hundred eighteen and 13-100 dollars. Dated Jan. 1st 1889.

H. E. NICHOLS, President.
J. W. PRATT, Vice-President

H. E. NICHOLS,
A. G. GILBERT,
F. A. EMERICK,
J. W. PRATT,
GILES S. PIPER,
GEO. G. CHAUNCEY,
GEO. M. CASE.
} Trustees.

OSWEGO COUNTY, s. s.

Giles S. Piper being duly sworn says: That he is the Secretary of the Fulton Water Works Company corporation above named. That the names signed to the foregoing certificate comprise the majority of the Trustees of the said corporation and that the statements contained in said certificate are in all respects correct and true, to the best of his knowledge and belief.

Sworn to before me Jan. 15, 1889. } GILES S. PIPER.
W. J. LOVEJOY, Notary Public.

COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, be held, until further order, at the times and places below stated:

Third Monday, of Feb'y, Court House, Pulaski.
Second " " April " " Oswego.
First Tuesday " Sept. " " Oswego.
Second Monday " Dec. " " Oswego.

Trial jurors are required to attend each term on the second day thereof, but no Grand Jury will be summoned or required to attend.

Dated at Mexico, Oswego County, N. Y., Dec. 24, 1888. M. L. WRIGHT, Oswego County Judge.

BIRD MANNA [illegible]

People Pay Heavy Bills

[illegible]

SPECIAL

Announcement

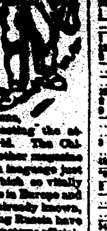
SNOW & LOOMIS

Will sell during this Month

SKATES

At [illegible]

[illegible] the Lincoln history, and the papers on "Siberia and the Exile System." The first of these, written by Messrs. Nicolay and Hay, President Lincoln's private secretaries, contain the inside history of the dark days of the war, as seen from the White House.



THE SIBERIAN PAPERS,

by George Kennan, are attracting the attention of the civilized world. The Chicago Tribune says that "no other magazine articles printed in the English language just now touch upon a subject which so vitally interests all thoughtful people in Europe and America and Asia." As is already known, copies of The Century entering Russia have these articles torn out by the censor officials on the frontier.

DURING 1889

The Century will publish the most important art feature that has yet found place in its pages. It is the result of four years' work of Mr. Timothy Cole, the leading magazine engraver of the world, in the galleries of Europe, engraving from the originals the greatest pictures by the old masters. A series of papers on Ireland, its customs, landscape, etc., will appear, and there are to be illustrated articles on Bible scenes, treating especially the subjects of the International Sunday-School Lessons. George W. Cable will write "Strange, True Stories of Louisiana." There will be novelettes and short stories by leading writers, occasional articles on war subjects (supplemental to the famous "War Papers" by General Grant and others, which have been appearing in The Century), etc., etc.

The Century costs four dollars a year, and it is published by The Century Co., of New York, who will send a copy of the full prospectus to any one on request.

VIENNA BAKERY

--AND--

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
87tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with

PEERLESS DYE,

they will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. 40 colors. They have no equal for Strength, Brightness, Amount in Packages or for Fastness of Color, or non-fading qualities. They do not crock or smut. For sale by H. C. GEISLER 4ly

[illegible]

Train 1 stops at Mountain Dale, [illegible] Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, [illegible] Falls, Fish's Eddy for New York passengers.

Train 4 stops at Earlville and [illegible] signal and at Eaton, Morrisville, [illegible] Bernhards Bay for New York passengers only.

Train 2 stops at North Norwich on signal and at Guilford Centre for New York passengers.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 4.00 and 9:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:06 a. m., 4.45 and 9:40 p. m. [illegible] leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 1:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 3:05, Norwich 5:45 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:35 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. stopping all stations, arriving at 1:35 and 8:10 p. m. Sunday leave Sidney 10:00 a. m. arriving at New Berlin 11:50 a. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica [illegible] a. m., 9:00, 5:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 8:53, 11:50 a. m., 5:00 and [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 a. m. and 8:20 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:25 and 7:00 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 44—Leaves Oneida 10:21 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 1:30 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 7:15 a. m., 6:25, 4:30 and 11:35 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9.50 a. m., 12:10 and [illegible] p. m. and 1:30 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 7:00 a. m. 4:00 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 36 Leaves Norwich 6:15 a. m., Oxford 7:00, Sidney 9:20, Franklin 9:55, arriving at Walton 11:00 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. stopping at all stations, arriving at 8:45 a. m. and 8:40 p.m. Sunday leave New Berlin 8:00 a. m., arriving at Sidney 9:20 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 7:00 a. m., 10:00 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:45 and 11:45 a. m., 6:40 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 2—Connects at Campbell Hall for all stations on the Wallkill Valley R. R. at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Newburgh, Kingston and Albany.

Train 1—Connects at Earlville for Syracuse, Randallsville for Utica and Rome, all stations on the Utica Division, at Oneida Castle with West Shore Express, arriving at Syracuse [illegible], Rochester 6:40, Buffalo 11:20, Detroit 8:00 a. m., Chicago 6:35 p. m St. Louis 7:30 a. m., and all points West.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points [illegible] at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. [illegible] all points North; through sleeping car [illegible] Oswego, at Oswego with R. W. and O. R. [illegible] Suspension Bridge, Detroit Chicago [illegible]

Train 41—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connect both ways at Sidney, with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and intermediate stations. At Earlville with S. O. and N. Y. for Syracuse and intermediate stations. Train 15 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West via. West Shore.

Agents of the N. Y. O. and W. sell tickets and check baggage to all points east, west, north and south via all lines with good connections. Secure Rates via Ontario and Western before purchasing tickets, Day and Night Express to the West.

Trains 1, 2, 5, 9 and 10 run daily; all others daily except Sundays.

*Stop on signal. †stop to leave and take on New York passengers only.

New York depots at foot of Jay street and West 42d streets.

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pas'g'r Ag't.
No. 18 Exchange Place, N. Y.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had prized them in time.

The place to get your Bell Hanging, Locksmithing, Key Fitting, Carpet Sweepers and Clothes Wringers Repaired; Lawn Mowers Sharpened, and repairing of all kinds is at the Model Shop, over Morrow's Grocery Store.
S. J. PARMITER, Fulton, N. Y.
☞Special Attention to Stencil Cutting and Electric Work.

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, Reed and Rattan

ROCKERS,

In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tables

Of All Descriptions.

[illegible]

[illegible] A. E. Stevens, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Express	7:32 a. m
[illegible] Accommodation	8:07 a. m
[illegible]	3:08 p. m
[illegible] Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] Express	6:23 a. m
[illegible]	11:26 a. m
[illegible] Accommodation	5:50 p. m.
[illegible] Express	8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
Syracuse	[illegible]	11:26	[illegible]	5:28	7:47
Oswego	9:25	10:37	3:46	6:36	9:00

[illegible] going north leave the Broadway [illegible] earlier. All trains will stop at [illegible]

SCHENCK & FOSTER

DEALERS IN Scranton Coal.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook of Cortland were in town this week.

Mrs. Charles Kellogg and daughter of Chittenango, N. Y., are in town.

Thos. Hart of St. Catherine, Ont. was in town during the past week.

Miss Cora Frost of Mexico, has been in town during the past week, visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Pauline Jennings returned yesterday to continue her studies in Syracuse University.

Mrs. C. S. Murphy is spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Joseph Ringland, at Oswego.

Mrs. A. G. Hull of New York is in town called here by the death of her brother, Henry Case.

H. L. Taylor is out again having recovered from a severe sickness of three week's duration.

Mrs. L. E. Collins of Lansingburgh, N. Y. is here visiting her parants, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Parker.

G. W. Moody of New Castle, Pa., has been in Fulton during the week. He returned Monday evening.

J. J. Stephens of Washington, D. C. is in town again called here to witness the ruins of another of his buildings.

Rev. Warren C. Hubbard of Brooklyn is in town on a visit to friends. He is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. David.

E. R. Redhead, as a trustee of Syracuse University, is in Syracuse to-day attending the semi-annual meeting of the trustees.

The Misses Minnie and Alice Schermerhorn of Schenectady have been guests of Mrs. Mary J. Gilmour during the past week.

Dr. Walter Crombie, wife and daughter of Schaghticoke, N. Y., have been the guests of Mr. Crombie's parents during the past week.

John D. Forbes, formerly of this village, and author of the Wandering Jew articles, has sold out his drug store in New York city and is now located in Sioux City, Iowa, where he has secured a lucrative position.

CLEARING OUT SALE.

To make room for Spring Goods we offer our last year's stock of Ladies' and Men's Shoes at manufacturer's prices. Also Ladies, Men's, Boy's and Misses' Alaskas and Buckle Overshoes, and Mens' Wool Boots.

3w3 SALMON SHOE STORE.

Men's pure gum boots for $3 00 at Hill's new shoe store, in the Patterson block.

Holmes Fragrant Frostilla cures Chapped Hands, &c. Beware of base counterfeits and worthless imitations. The genuine is sold by R. E. Phillips Druggist. Call and get a sample bottle. 35w4

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant tf.

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. Hill, Oneida street.

The largest stock of new jewelry, [illegible] and plated ware (now on sale at [illegible] No. 6 First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent [illegible] ever before.

[illegible] line of Slippers at Hill's [illegible] Shoe Store, on Oneida Street.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug [illegible] 29tf

[illegible] sample of that 50c. Tea worth [illegible] Cary's. 30m3

[illegible]

[illegible] COAL

SUPPLEMENT

[illegible]

H. O. Vicory was brought before Police Justice Sharp on Monday having been arrested by Officer Jones on a warrant sworn out by [illegible]. It seems that Coggin who [illegible] the road to Minetto on Saturday night attempted to provoke a quarrel between William Hayes of Oswego and John Althouse of this village in Vicory's saloon on [illegible] street. Vicory claims that he ordered Coggin to leave and forcibly ejected him several times. Coggin persisted in returning and being in a quarrelsome mood, Vicory stepped from behind the bar with a beer faucet and struck Coggin a terrific blow on the head, stunning him for several minutes. After Coggin fell Vicory struck him several more blows, and but for the timely interference of bystanders Coggin would have fared badly. Coggin who was considerably weakened by the loss of blood was taken to Justice Cronyn's office near the lower bridge, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Hall. The floor of Vicory's saloon where the trouble occurred presented a bloody appearance. Blood was also visible on the sidewalks, where it had formed in pools. Coggin's friends say that he started to leave the saloon when struck by Vicory. The trial was adjourned from Monday to yesterday when N. N. Stranahan appeared for Vicory on whose motion the case was adjourned to Jan. 21, that defendent might get a certificate from the County Judge allowing the case to go before the grand jury. Justice Sharp with Coggin went to Oswego yesterday and after consulting, Ass't. District Attorney Clark stated that the case would be brought up before the grand jury at this session if possible. Vicory is under $500 bail, H. S. Gardner is his bondsman.

James Dunagan was arrested by officer More for petit larceny, charged by Thomas VanBuren at whose place he boarded near the upper landing, of stealing tobacco on Sunday night. He was fined $4 or 30 days. He paid.

Dan'l Dwyer who lives on First street above the foundry was arrested by officer Jones on the charge of stealing an overcoat and hat from the cloak room on the evening of the Father Mathew band ball. On being brought before "His Honor" he pleaded not guilty His trial was set down for to-morrow. The last we heard of him he was lingering in jail owing to inability to secure $200 bail.

Benjamin Emory among the very oldest inhabitants of this town now residing upon the old homestead with his grandchildren, took a ride in the family carriage last week to Oswego to visit his grandson, Eugene Emory, and returned the same day. This was quite a ride for a man 92 years of age. Mr. Rappole, husband of his grandchild, took the family down to spend the day. Mr. Emory recognized the old site in Oswego where many years ago he drew flour barrels to Penfield & Lyon and other persons. He cut the timber and made the barrels himself. His present home was once a pine forest and it is only a few years since a grove of tall majestic pines were felled and converted into lumber. There is one old pine tree still standing and is a landmark to all the towns around and can be seen from Schrœppel, Granby and with a small field glass from Onondaga county. Mr. Emory is among the few sturdy pioneers who remain to see with their own eyes the marvellous changes within sixty years. The electric light can now be seen from his door and extend out on the Emory road within half a mile of his farm.—Cor. Oswego Times.

Use Master Soap. 35 4 mos.

At Bristol Hill.

There will be a prize contest for the Demorest medals at the Bristol Hill church, Friday evening. The contestents are to be John Snell, Millie Piper, Will McDonald, Lena Babcock, Jennie Owen, Belle Simons Sadie Lambert, Grace Howser, May Rugg and Bessie Russ. There will also be an oyster supper. Admission 10 cents, children free. Supper 15 cents.

Last Sunday evening as Frank McDonald of Volney was driving up Oneida street his horse became frightened. The occupant was thrown out and the carriage upset. Mr. McDonald received slight injuries; Dr. Green is attending him.

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

A fresh supply of Oatmeal Fruit just received at J. E. Cary's, Cayuga St.

[illegible]

The concert of the [illegible] Club [illegible] Y. M. C. A. [illegible] will be given [illegible] evening, Feb. 5.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase is announced to deliver his lecture "Wants, Wealth, Worth," at Gilberts Mills on Monday evening, Jan. 21st.

The marriage of Rev. J. [illegible] Lynch, rector of Zion church in this village to Miss Mary E. [illegible] occurs at Bangor, Maine, to-day.

On this afternoon at the Presbyterian church occurs the marriage of Miss Gertrude Dada to Mr. William B. Fuller, a lawyer of Syracuse.

A number of members of Hiram Lodge F. & A. M. went to Phœnix yesterday to attend the funeral of the late Will Smith of that village.

The officials of the Oswego Agricultural Fair Association announce a dividend of 2½ per cent. on all shares fully paid in, of their capital stock.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase's lecture "Brought Out as Well as Up." at the Methodist church next Friday evening. This is the third in the Y. M. C. A. lecture course.

"Peanut Joe" is out with a challenge to walk H. B. Carter of Oswego, a 50 hour heal-and-toe race for $50 a side—he to have a ten mile handicap. He announces that his money is in the hands of Henry Kendall.

District Deputy Anthony Culkin of Oswego Falls installed the officers of Branch 115 C. M. B. A. at Oswego, on Tuesday evening of last week and those of Branch 76 at Oswego, on Wednesday evening.

The Temple Quartet Concert Company at the opera house, Tuesday evening Jan. 22, at a price within the means of every person of taste in the community. Admission 25, 35, 50 and 75cts. Reserved seats now on sale.

The marriage of Mr. Victor J. Loomis to Miss May L. King the well-known teacher in Fulton Union School is announced to take place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. King on Utica Street Wednesday, Jan. 23d at 3 p. m.

The Young Men's Democratic Reform Club, with rooms over A. Bristol's store, hold monthly meetings. The object of this organization is to work for tariff reform, the suppression of corrupt elections and the furtherance of their party both local and general. Their officers are G. S. Piper, Prest.; E. C. Rogers, 1st Vice Prest.; Dan Roach, 2d Vice Prest.; H. S. Coats, Secy.; N. Goman, Treas.

Action has been brought by John P. Howe against members of the village board who voted against his nomination for street commissioner recently. Morris Highriter, clerk of the board, has been served with a writ of subpœna to appear in Oswego to-morrow with the official minutes of the board's action on the night when action on the matter was taken. Howe is a G. A. R. man and evidently thinks he can have the earth for the asking.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bacon entertained the employes of Mr Bacon's store at their residence on Third street last Friday evening. After a sumptuous repast had been partaken of and music enjoyed, W. H. Buck stepped forward and in behalf of the clerks, with a few appropriate remarks, in which he stated that all fully appreciated the many kindnesses and favors that had been bestowed upon them by their late employer, presented him with a fine umbrella as a token of esteem in which he was held by them.

Save 25 Master wrappers and get the "Snow Girl." 35 4 mos.

That 29c. Tea at Cary's is the best in town for the money. 29m3

SCRANTON
COAL
Schenck & Foster
THE BEST.

[illegible]

Mr. [illegible] [illegible] in Wappingers [illegible] Conn. and is at present [illegible] factories. The field in which [illegible] is expected to be used includes not only this country but Canada and various European countries where pianos are manufactured. This [illegible] saves about seven hours labor on each piano by skilled and expensive workmen and those interested confidently expect that every piano forte manufactor will adopt it. The demand at present is said to be for 1,800 sets per day. Fulton is one of the places where the company think of locating and it is expected that about one hundred men will be employed when it gets in running order. A meeting of the incorporators will be held this week and officers elected.

Secret Society Officers.

Fulton Chapter, No. 167, R. A. M. elected and installed the following named officers for the ensuing year on Tuesday evening Jan. 8, 1889.

Daniel Pardee, most Excellent High Priest; S. Parmelee, King; John Merton, Scribe; W. J. Watson, Capt. Host; T. Ferris, Prin. Sojourner; John Campbell, R. A. C.; Geo. Berzee, M. 1st Veil; R. H. McKay, M. 2d veil; Geo. Webb, M. 3d Veil; K. E. Phillips, Treas.; A. J. Snow, Sec'y.; C. Branch, Tyler.

Chingachgook council No. 1,118 Royal Arcanum officers installed by D. D. G. R., Robert Dias, Thursday evening, Jan 10, 1889, in the council rooms, Dexter Block. L. T. Miller, Regent; [illegible] C. Benedict, vice; F. E. Sutherland, Past; Wm. Young, Orator; G. C. Webb, Secretary; F. E. Sutherland, Collector; S. F. Case, Treasurer; C. M. Sabin, Chaplain; J. B. Phillips, Guide; F. H. French, Warden; S. C. North, Sentry.

Annual Meeting of the Oswego Falls Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of the Oswego Falls Agricultural Society was held on Wednesday, January 10th., 1889 and the following named persons were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, H. H. Merriam, Oswego Falls; Vice-Presidents, W. B. Phelps, Oswego and Willard Johnson, Fulton; Secretary, Arvin Rice, Fulton; Treasurer, Charles R. Nichols, Fulton; Trustees and Executive Committee, O. Henderson, Fulton, A. Gregg, Pennelville, J. Gardenier, Oswego, T. G. Somers, Oswego Falls, Isaac R. Osborne, Oswego Falls, Fred Vant, Volney.

The Universalist Entertainment.

Owing to the fact that Rev. Mr. Chase's lecture is to be delivered on Friday evening, it has been decided by the Universalist society to hold their entertainment in the opera house, on Thursday evening, Jan. 17, instead of Friday evening as previously announced.

The three act droma "Rebecca's Triumph" will be produced by local talent. Vocal and instrumental music will be introduced between the acts.

General admission 25 cents, reserved seats 35cts. On sale at Watson's.

The Hannibal Centre Teachers' Association will hold meetings on Friday and Saturday January 25 and 26.

There has been no snow on the ground in this vicinity since Christmas. Rather strange for this section.

Miss Ida daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bradford of East Palermo was married on Wednesday, Jan. 9 to H. J. Patrick at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wright entertained last evening the members of the M. E. church Christian Endeavor Society at their home in lower Oswego Falls.

TO RENT—House and barn on Academy street between 6th. and 7th Large garden and plenty of fruit. For further particulars inquire of

MORGAN ROBERTS.

New goods and new prices at the new shoe store in the Patterson.

[illegible]

Collins & [illegible] of Oswego Falls have [illegible] J. L. [illegible] & Co. of the same place.

A new electric light by order of the village board has been placed at the corner of Third and Oneida streets.

The Temple Quartet Concert Co. of Boston, the best musical organization in the country at opera house next Tuesday evening.

The members of the Fire Council after their meeting last evening enjoyed an oyster supper at Kendall's at the expense of the chiefs.

Collector Bradley continues to receive town taxes for 30 days from Saturday January 12, at one per cent. at F. M. Wilson's coal office.

A concert will be held in the Congregational church, Oswego Falls on Wednesday evening Jan. 23. Admission, adults 20cts. children 10cts.

F. E. Goodjon has opened the shoe store at Oswego Falls formerly occupied by Dwyer Bros., and will sell out the large stock of goods which he has there.

Amos Youmans has given the use of fourteen bound volumes of the Scientific American to the Y. M. C. A. It comprises a complete file from 1878.

Since Rosenbloom has reduced the prices on cloaks and winter goods, a very large number are taking advantage of the great bargains that can be secured in their stores.

The grocers of this village have entered into an agreement whereby they they will close their stores at 8 o'clock p. m., every evening except Saturdays and Mondays.

At H. & A. Rosenbloom's great overcoat sale is a splendid opportunity to get a find overcoat. The balance of their immense stock will be sold at cost of material to say nothing of cost of making.

P. H. King of Oswego has taken charge of the shoe repair shop of Henry Goodjon on Cayuga street. Illness of Mr. Goodjon compelled him to secure some one conpitent to attend to the business.

No matter what price is placed on goods at other places, we shall sell lower than the lowest. It will cost you nothing to call and see the bargains we are offering. We are bound to close out our winter goods, so do not fail to call.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

The Sensational play "On the Trail or Daniel Boone, the Pioneer" was given at the opera house, Saturday evening. There is an abundance of blood and thunder in the play and the mass that filled the house from pit to gallery declared that the show was immense throughout.

Never since we opened our merchant tailor department in 1888 have we been so busy at this time of the year as at present. This is because people appreciate our superior work and low prices. Who would not have a pair of pants made after seeing the samples in our show window at prices from $4.25 up. H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

A cloak that was formerly sold at Rosenblooms' for $5.00 now sells for $2.75; their $8.00 cloaks for $4.25; their $10.00 cloaks for $5.50; their $14.00 cloaks for $8; their $28 plushes for $15.50. All the rest reduced in like proportion. Don't let these bargains in cloaks at Rosenblooms' escape you.

An interesting meeting of the "Farmers club of Mexico" was held Saturday. Some 300 attended. An interesting and instructive paper was read by John Gardenier of Oswego and W. H. Gilbert gave valuable instructions on how to make the best butter. A meeting of a similar nature will probably soon be held in Fulton.

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

IT IS THE BEST.

When buying Flour be sure and get the Electric Light brand. The only place to buy it is at J. E. CARY'S.

[illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. A. G. Hull of New York [illegible] Mr. Case leaves a widow [illegible] Funeral services conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilson of Syracuse, were held at the house Monday, at 2:30 p. m. The pall bearers were Arvin Rice, Alanson Bristol, C. H. David, S. B. Whitaker, R. H. French and O. J. Jennings.

William H. Gray, under sheriff of this county in charge of the Pulaski jail and one of the oldest and best known citizens of that village, died Thursday, Jan. 10, at the age of seventy-five years.

Mrs. Chloe Fitch, widow of the late Nelson Fitch died of paralysis at Volney on Wednesday Jan. 9, at the age of 85 years. She had been a resident of Volney Centre for many years.

Mary J. Elliott died at her home in Oswego Falls, on Sunday, Jan. 13, at the age of 28 years. Funeral was held yesterday.

John Martin died at his home on Cayuga street, yesterday morning, at the age of 80 years. He has lived in Fulton and vicinity for the past twenty-six years. He leaves eleven children, six sons and five daughters to mourn his loss. Funeral services will be held in the Catholic church, to-morrow at 10 o'clock, a. m.

"Will" Smith, a well-known citizen of Phœnix and Master of Callimachus lodge No. 879, F. & A. M. died Saturday of blood poison at the age of 36 years. About ten days ago while butchering, Mr. Smith cut his thumb slightly, and evidently he absorbed some poison into the cut thumb. His hand began to swell and he summoned the physician. He grew worse and this in connection with inflammatory rheumatism, brought him to his death.

A Mis-Statement Corrected.

It has been stated that all traveling doctors are quacks. This is not true; nor do all quack travel. You will find quacks located in nearly every town. A physician, who is well versed and successful in treating diseases, is not a quick, whether he travels or is located permanently. "If we have to go to traveling doctors whom you call quacks, to be cured, let us have more quacks," said a man to his brother, who is a physician. This man had been a suffer from piles and a fistula for thirty years, and was readily cured by Dr. P. W. Emens. His brother could not cure him. Who was the quack in this case? Neither. The doctor who called Dr. Emens a quack, was not gentlemanly, for he was in local practice and had not the facilities, nor did he understand how to treat his brother, while Dr. Emens made these diseases a specialty, he had both the means and the ability, therefore the cure. "Give honor to whom honor is dues." No one has been more successful than Dr. Emens in treating chronic diseases, especially rectal maladies. This is his fifteenth year on the road as a specialist, and the fifth year he has been stopping at the Lewis House regularly every four weeks. He will be at the Lewis House on Friday, Jan. 25th. Consultation free. 36t2

For Thirty Days

We shall sell Overcoats, Winter Suits, Underwear, Fur Caps and that class of goods at extreme low prices some of them at less than Wholesale Cost, as we intend to reduce our stock as much as possible to make room for Spring Goods. This offer is genuine and not a ruse to mislead customers. Yours Truly, D. C. MORE & Co., the reliable one-price Clothiers, Oneida street.

Fulton Savings Bank Officers.

On Monday, Jan. 14, the following were elected officers of the Fulton Savings Bank for the ensuing year:

President and Treasurer, Abram Howe; 1st Vice-President, Arvin Rice; 2d Vice President, J. C. Wells; 3d Vice President, W. D. Patterson; Secretary, W. J. Lovejoy; Attorney, G. S. Piper.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 29tf

[illegible]

The New Year Means New Goods

and in order to properly take care of them we must make room for them. We don't expect you to buy the goods as a matter of accommodation to us, only we know it is worth something to be accommodated and are willing to pay.

This Means Bargains.

We are going to make it worth your while to buy. The goods we most want to get rid of are goods that have to be packed and stored for another season. These will be our main feature. But to make variety we shall add from every line we carry whatever surplus there may be and thus make a complete assortment for sale.

We offer extraordinary inducements for a few days to every buyer in Fulton.

PEEBLES & CO.

---

14 DAYS FROM NOW!

Until Inventory, at the

"BEE HIVE,"

Our Annual Clearance Sale Commences TO-DAY
Goods Must be Sold in the next two weeks.
We Guarantee all goods sold during this sale to be way below Actual Market Price and real value.

NOTE GOODS AND PRICES.

Ladies' Misses' and Childrens'

Newmarkets, Plush Garments and Braided Wraps.

To be Closed Out at 50 Cents on the Dollar.

OLD PRICE $40	NOW $25.00	DRESS GOODS,
OLD PRICE $30	NOW $20.00	BLANKETS,
OLD PRICE $25	NOW $17.00	UNDERWEAR,
OLD PRICE $20	NOW $14.50	ALL AT THE
OLD PRICE $17	NOW $12.00	SAME REDUCTION
OLD PRICE $15	NOW $10.00	IN PRICES.
OLD PRICE $12	NOW $ 7.00
OLD PRICE $ 9	NOW $ 5.00
OLD PRICE $ 7	NOW $ 4.00
OLD PRICE $ 5	NOW $ 2.50
OLD PRICE $ 4	NOW $ 2.00

☞Remember these Prices hold good for two weeks Only, at the

"BEE HIVE!"

Bennett & Stewart.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y

OPENING DAY!

Wednesday January 16th, 1889,

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.,

(Successors to Frank B. [illegible]) Will take possession of the

DRY GOODS, CARPET AND MILLINERY BUSINESS,

[illegible] AND ONEIDA STREETS.

[illegible] Our utmost endeavor will be used to please every customer—furthermore will be [illegible] He expects to see all his customers as heretofore at this store with [illegible]

[illegible] C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

[illegible]

There has been a great increase in the production of oats of late years in the United States.

The wool product of the world is placed at 1,600,000,000 pounds, and the number of sheep at 500,000,000.

It has been estimated that the tobacco crop of the United States averages about 500,000,000 pounds per year.

The shipments of California canned fruit from San Francisco to England during the present season have reached the full quantity of 95,583 cases.

English farmers are beginning to cultivate sweet corn, for use as ensilage, as more likely than field corn to do well in that cool, damp climate.

Not far from a million tons of wheat-straw are annually burned in Missouri "to get rid of it." Soon we shall hear, remarked the Michigan Farmer, that the soil of that State is becoming exhausted.

Horses fed largely on other food demand less hay, but hay is useful in distending the stomach, thus assisting digestion. An English veterinarian recommends as seductive to a horse that is too delicate a feeder a little linseed boiled to a jelly and mixed with the corn. Hay dampened and salted will tempt many animals.

So far as possible winter feed should be diversified. If the fodder has a variety, then stock of every kind will thrive better with a little of each kind every day, than if first one and then another kind is given exclusively, until all is gone. Give the coarser food at night.

It is cheaper in almost all cases to grow corn than to buy it. The low price of this grain in proportion to its bulk makes it certain that much the greater part of it will be consumed on the farm where it is grown. To take it from the West to the East involves greater expense than the difference in cost of production between the two sections.

Clover in a green state is always of importance in feeding swine. Squash, pumpkin, rutabagas and mangels aid growth at a minimum cost. To develop bone and muscle, give equal parts of bran, ground oats and midlings, steamed and fed warm. If buttermilk is fed largely, add one pound of oil meal to every one hundred pounds of the milk. Place salt where they can have free access to it.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

A Good Milker.

There is no person more valuable upon the farm than a good milker, and there is no rarer individual. The first requisite is an even temper and perfect control of self. The essentials are a complete knowledge of the cows, condition, so that any disease of the udder may be prevented, or, if occurring, be promptly and properly treated; a quiet, calm manner, the use of the whole hand, and an even pressure, so that the animal is not compelled to endure torture. The skill requisite for a good milker is only acquired by long practice, but there are certain people naturally better constituted than others to excel in this particular. It is absolutely essential that the milker should be habitually neat in his own person, and careful to be scrupulously so when milking. The bag should be carefully washed with clean, tepid water, and wiped with a soft cloth before milking begins, and the milk should be removed from the barn as soon as the pail is filled, and the receptacle containing it be set in a tub or trough that is perfectly clean and which contains cool water. Only a person who can be throughly trusted in the care of himself, of the cows and of the milk, can be regarded as a good milker, and such a person must ever command good wages.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

Small Farms Pay.

If the owner of a small farm brings to his work the business capacity and good judgment which the large landowner does, it is evident that, proportioned to the acres cultivated, he will have the most money at the end of a year. Hired help is not only expensive, but at times very uncertain and unreliable, but a man's own hands, with a heart in his work, which seldom accompanies hired help are always available for every little detail on which success depends. Many men will do more with ten acres and get more out of and from them than others will with a hundred. It requires as much labor, however, for the ten as the hundred. It [illegible]

[illegible]

Reduce on genuine rural reform.

Farm better in 1889 than ever before.

Note where you "missed it" last year.

Arrange for good seeds and sires.

Secure your share of the ice crop.

Protect fruit trees from "nibblers."

Feed and water stock regularly.

Take extra care of young animals.

Abolish the torturing check-rein.

Prohibit cruelty to domestic animals.

Repair and paint implements, etc.

Clean and oil your harness.

Consider well about crop rotation.

Decide about growing more fruit.

Think well before taking action.

Ignore the use of green fuel.

Have the wood-house well filled.

Send for seed and other catalogues.

—N. Y. Witness.

Town and Country.

The steady drift of population from the country to the cities is one of the most striking features of our National development. The tendency is most clearly shown in Massachusetts, where as the Springfield Republican shows in an interesting study of the subject, under this head the proportion of all the people gathered in cities and towns of more than 8,000 inhabitants has risen from less than one-twentieth of a hundred years ago, and but little over a third in 1850, to quite two-thirds when the last State census was taken in 1885. Our form of government was framed for an agricultural population which, as in New York State, is massed to the extent of two-thirds of the whole in places with over 8,000 inhabitants. Here are problems to be solved which were undreamed of by the "fathers."—Evening Post.

Fur in Siberia.

The number of animals killed in Siberia every year for their fur is enormous. At the last summer fair of Irbit, which is a market for only a part of the furs exported from Siberia, no less than 3,180,000 furs of squirrels were offered for sale. Of these, 1,018,000 were killed in forests of Yeneseisk, 455,000 in the Altai Mountains, 200,000 in Yakutsk, and 300,000 in Transbaikalia. A considerable number of the furs of squirrels killed in the last two provinces are exported directly both to China and to Russia, without passing through Irbit. It is worthy of note that this year there was a considerable decrease in the furs of the black squirrel. Only half a million of these furs were brought to the fair, as against more than a million in 1887. Of other furs there were 11,000 blue fox, from Obdorsk and Berezoff; 140,000 marmot, chiefly from the Altai; 30,000 polecat, 10,000 badger, 1,300,000 hare, 2,000 fox and a number of bear and fox skins.

A Business-like Offer.

For many years the manufactures of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have offered, in good faith, $500 reward for a case of Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure. The Remedy is sold by druggist at only 50 cents. This wonderful remedy has fairly attained a world-wide reputation. If you have dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; if the eyes are weak, watery and inflamed; if there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice being changed and has a nasal twang; the breath offensive; smell and taste impaired; sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility, you are suffering from nasal catarrh. The more complicated your disease, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood, or more unsuccessfully treated by physicians.

A Terrible Tale.

One of the most terrible, as well as most thrilling tales that history has to tell is recalled by the announcement in the Scottish papers of Miss Edith Brydon's marriage in Inverness cathedral. This lady's father was the famous Dr. Brydon, of the Afghan massacre of 1849—the one survivor who, wounded and faint and weary, after a most perilous ride, reached Jellalabad to tell Gen. Sale the piteous story of what had taken place in the Khyber Pass. They were 16,000—or counting women and children, 26,000 who setout from Cabul on that ill-starred journey, and he was the only man that had escaped. Between the dark crags of Jugdullak the murderous Afghans had their fill of blood.—Philadelphia Times.

In Russia last year 80,000 dramshops were done away with by law.

Bright's Disease,

[illegible]

[illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

[illegible] BLUE PILLS [illegible] SULPHUR BITTERS. [illegible] Sulphur Bitters! [illegible] The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published?

BEST IN THE WORLD

ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS.

WORCESTER, MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

The American Rothschilds.

The World publishes the following figures as the result of a careful calculation of the wealth of the individual members of the Vanderbilt family: Cornelius Vanderbilt, $110,000,000; William K. Vanderbilt, $65,000,000; Frederick W. Vanderbilt, $16,000,000; George W. Vanderbilt, $15,000,000; Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, $12,000,000; Mrs. William D. Sloan, $12,000,000; Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly, $12,000,000; and Mrs. W. Seward Webb, $12,000,000. Total, $274,000,000.

It is claimed that this immense capital is so wisely invested as to yield an average annual revenue of about five per cent. At that rate Cornelius Vanderbilt would have an income of $15,000 a day, while his married sisters, whose capital looks small when compared with his, would each have over $1,600 a day for spending money.

An ordinary elephant produces 120 pounds of ivory, worth £60. England consumes 650 ton (of which Sheffield takes one third), for which it is necessary to kill 12,000 elephants yearly.

JUST MARRIED.

How loving they are; this is always a sure sign. After the first year sometimes it don't hold good. When Charles comes home to you gouty and snarling, unable to relish the nice dinner you have cooked, and feels as if there was a ton of pig iron in his stomach, he is troubled with dyspepsia, and Sulphur Bitters is the only medicine that will cure him. 36t2

The cheapest Christmas present sold by one jeweler in New York city cost eight cents; the most expensive cost $50,000.

CURE YOURSELF

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2-cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. 36t3

An aged turtle was picked up near Kingston, R. I., recently that had the following inscription on its back: "W. D. Whitaker, August 18, 1771."

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered liver in the world are Carter's Little Liver Pills. [illegible]

[illegible]

HOP PLASTER

[illegible] It soothes every time. TRY ONE NOW. 25 Cts. 5 for $1.00. [illegible]

Look for signature of the proprietors, Hop Plaster Co., Boston, on the genuine goods.

NICHOLS' BARK & IRON

For Thirty Years this valuable combination has been used successfully for AGUE and MALARIAL FEVERS, DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, and all NERVOUS DISEASES, such as NEURALGIA, SLEEPLESSNESS and PROSTRATION. It is AN UNRIVALLED TONIC, restoring tone to the debilitated System. [illegible] and children it is recommended by Physicians. Where other Tonics have failed this has made a conspicuous success.

NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON can be obtained at all Druggists.

BILLINGS, CLAPP & CO., Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. FOOD

TRADE MARK.

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. [illegible]

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

London jail birds numbered 5,877 last year, fewer than the year before. Compulsory education is said to be lessening crime.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

The output of American copper mines for 1888 was 54,275 tons of mineral, against 47,533 in 1887.

WORTH KNOWING.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe Cold attended with a distressing Cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Gurranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

During the year 1887 £1,228,759 were contributed by British Christians to foreign missions.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to Brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of the Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Fans with handles made of fragrant wood are becoming popular.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 8iy1

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

D. C. [illegible] a [illegible] buying.

SPECIAL

[illegible]

7 Per Cent.

Guaranteed!

MORTGAGES

On Improved Real Estate,

—FOR SALE BY—

MEAD & STRANAHAN.

DR. HOXSIE'S CERTAIN CROUP CURE

for all dangerous inflammatory colds and tight barking cough. 50 cents

A BOON to Housewives.

[illegible]

Wolff's ACME Blacking

[illegible] WATERPROOF. [illegible]

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

9 Cords in 10 HOURS

[illegible]

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and despatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,

LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,

DODGERS, HANGERS,

CASES, COMPLAINTS,

[illegible]

[illegible] PROGRAMS,

[illegible] INVITATIONS,

[illegible] CARDS,

[illegible]

[illegible]

There is one thing to be said in favor of [illegible] [illegible] year or two.—[illegible]

"The trouble with pa," said Mrs. Beatly, "is that he lets little things worry him. He was mad this morning because the baby kept him awake all night."—Harper's Bazar.

"I am glad to see your husband keeping so steady, Mrs. Brandon. I notice he is perfectly sober every Saturday night of late."

"Yes," was the reply. He has recently had his pay day changed."—Evening Sun.

Mr. Newed—Good gracious, dear, what on earth have you been doing with my meerschaum pipe?

Mrs. Newed—Why, darling, I saw it was all stained brown, so I gave it a good scouring with Bristol brick, but it doesn't seem to have done much good.—Puck.

Wife—I hope you are pleased with those slippers, darling?

Husband (hesitatingly)—Yes, dear. I'm so glad I learned to walk on snow shoes when I was a boy.—Evening World.

St. Peter—For some reason I do not recognize your face. What is that bundle under your arm? Mortal—Only the earth. I—— St. Peter—Step right in this way, Mr. Gould.—Drake's Magazine.

Son—Well, father, how do you like that pipe I gave you?

Father—I always did like it; but, my boy, the next time you try to palm off on me one of my old meerschaums, please be thoughtful enough to erase my initials from the bowl.

Little passenger (on incoming ocean steamship)—"Mrs. McGinnis, what do folks mean by saying there is a wake behind the vessel?" Mrs. McGinnis—"Sure, now isn't it a wake since we started."—Philadelphia Record.

Editor—"That little item of yours yesterday reminded me strongly of some of Shakespeare's work. "Funny man (blushing) "Ah, thank you. It's kind of you to say so. In what respect, may I inquire? "Editor (coldly): In age, principally."—Washington Post.

Proud Father (showing off his boy before company)—"My son, which would you rather be, Shakspeake or Edison?"

Little Son (after meditation)—"I'd rather be Edison."

"Yes. Why?"

"'Cause he ain't dead."—New York Weekly.

It's about as hard to find a girl whose marriage is announced in the newspapers who isn't "beautiful and accomplished" as it is to find a man who has lately died who wasn't "honored and respected by all who knew him."—Langhorne (Pa.) Standard.

Editor (to long-haired stranger)—This is no barber shop, my friend.

Stranger—I know it, sir, but I have a poem here which, from one point of view, is likely to be a trifle rapid. The public will go wild over it. I want to know if you can give me enough on it to get a hair cut.—Epoch.

"Swackhammer, why don't you give up that abominable habit of cigarette-smoking?"

"Jrobinson, I'll do it if you will quit writing poetry for the newspaper."

It was a sever struggle, but Jrobinson yielded, and the guardian angels of two young men wept tears of joy.—Chicago Tribune.

Editors, as a rule, are kind-hearted and liberal. An exchange tells of a subscriber to a certain paper who died and left fourteen years' subscription unpaid. The editor appeared at the grave as the lid was being screwed down for the last time, and put in a linen duster, a thermometer, a palm leaf fan and a recipe for making ice.—Yankee Gazette.

Facetious Visitor in Newspaper Office (to editor)—May I see your brains a moment?

Editor—My brains?

Visitor (smilingly picking up scissors)—Yes, sir. Only a moment. I want to—

Editor (with great cordiality)—Certainly you may. Use them as long as you please. Always glad to furnish brains to a man who hasn't any.—Chicago Tribune.

"Papa," said a little urchin to his father, the other day, "I saw a printer go down the street just now."

"Did you, sonny? How did you know the person was a printer?"

"Because I do, pa."

"But he might have been a carpenter, blacksmith or a shoemaker."

"Oh, no, papa, he was a printer—[illegible]

[illegible]

PISO

[illegible]

The Best Cough Medicine is Piso's Cure for Consumption. Children take it without objection. By all druggists. 25c.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. [illegible]

$500 OFFERED

for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless.

Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

"This is the Boot for ME!"

DON'T BUY YOUR Rubber Boots until you have seen the "COLCHESTER" with "Extension Edge" & Napoleon Top. This is the best fitting and MOST DURABLE BOOT in the market. Made of the Best PURE GUM stock. The "Extension Edge" protects the upper, adds to wear of the Sole by giving broader treading surface, AND SAVES MONEY FOR THE WEARER.

DON'T BUY YOUR ARCTICS UNTIL YOU HAVE SEEN THE COLCHESTER ARCTIC with "Outside Counter." Ahead of ALL others in style & durability. If you want the worth of your money try the Colchester with "OUTSIDE COUNTER."

Sold Exclusively in Fulton by S. F. HILL, Oneida Street.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, [illegible]

SICK

[illegible]

HEAD

[illegible]

ACHE

[illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

SURROGATE'S COURT.—During the year [illegible] terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego County will be held as follows:

PHOENIX.—At Surrogate's office in Phoenix [illegible] Monday of each week except in the month of August.

OSWEGO.—At the court house in Oswego on the first and third Thursday of each month, except August.

PULASKI.—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] in Pulaski on the Friday succeeding the [illegible] Thursday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON.—At office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the Second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At office of Hon. T. W. [illegible] Mexico on the Friday succeeding the said Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE.—At the Johnson House, Central Square on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—J. S. Laddington's law office in Parish on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court, except at Phoenix, will be held on the day previous thereto.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. [illegible],
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or the will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors
C. H. DAVID

COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, to be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, until further order, at the times and places below stated:

Second Monday, of March		Court House,	[illegible]
First	"	" May	" [illegible]
First	"	" Sept.	" [illegible]
First	"	" Dec.	" [illegible]

Trial jurors are required to attend each term but no Grand Jury is required to attend.

M. L. WRIGHT,
Oswego County Judge.

WANTED.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES, POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS, SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 200 TONS POULTRY & WILD GAME FOR HOLIDAYS

WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON

Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day,

E. M. BALLARD & CO.
743 Myrtle Av, Brooklyn N. Y.

51797

AUSTEN'S 51797

The Ladies' Prescription,

is a combined Tonic, Blood Purifier, and Female Regulator, possessing curative principals excelled by no other remedy now in use. Its superiority over "Beef, Wine and Iron," "Calisaya and Iron," Malt Preparations and other compounds, so generally in use, is demonstrated by the remarkable cures resulting from its judicious use; therefore, in all cases of weakness, Vitiated Blood, Scrofula, Malaria, Pulmonary diseases, Dyspepsia, &c., it is a most Satisfactory medicine. For sale by Druggists.

50c Per Bottle.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with

PEERLESS DYES.

They will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. [illegible] in Packages or for [illegible] They do not crock or smut. [illegible] by H. C. [illegible]

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.

EPPS'S

GRATEFUL–COMFORTING.

COCOA

MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

Livery [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

I asked my Bible, and methinks it said,
"Thou is the present hour; the past is fled.
Live, live to-day! To-morrow never yet
[illegible] being seen or set."

[illegible] Time himself at last,
[illegible] quickly pass;
His [illegible] was a cloud, the viewless wind
His [illegible] which left no trace behind.
[illegible] who shall stand,
One foot on sea and one on solid land;
"By Heaven's great King I swear the mystery's o'er!
Time was," he cried, "but time shall be no more."
JOSHUA MARSDEN.

[illegible] epigram is a fit accompaniment to Mr. Marsden's admirable poem:

"Time was, is past—thou canst not it recall;
Time is, thou hast—improve thy portion small;
Time future is not and may never be;
Time present is the only time for thee."

What's the Matter With Winter.

Oh, what's the matter with winter?
Oh, where is the slush and the snow?
December was just like November,
Last fall lingers with us, and so
We can't use toboggans and ulsters,
And no use for hot scotch or rums;
We escape rheumatics, what a blessing it is
To go out without ear tabs and gums,
Oh, what is the matter with winter?
Where are our chapped hands and chilblains?
Why don't we have blizzards and cold waves?
It only snows now when it rains.
Why can't we have slush in our gutters?
Why can't we fall down on the ice?
Why can't we catch cold as in winter of old?
Why doesn't coal fetch a high price?
Is fall going to linger till springtide?
Why can't we give autumn a shake?
Why can't we go skating and sliding
And break through the ice on the lake?
Oh, what is the matter with winter?
What's wrong with our weather bureau?
Brace up, General Greely, for you, sir, are really Neglecting your business, you know.
—Chicago Times.

Go where you will, you will find people using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and unanimous in its praise.

I suffered most severely from rheumatism during winter. After using Salvation Oil two days the pain entirely subsided, and now I am a well man. W. K. KURTZ, Baltimore, Md.

THE PROPER THING.

The long veil grows in favor.

Jerseys are now manufactuerd in every color.

Double sleeves have become the feature of long mantles.

Marasque is the favorite shade of bright golden terrra cotta.

Velvet and tulle are fashionable combinations for evening dresses.

Large silver belt buckles are worn with wide ribbon and velvet belts.

The empire sash is the prominent feature of the styles of the moment.

Long gloves for evening wear are worn less wrinkled on the arm than formerly.

Thickly pleated ruches of pinked silk trim the bottom of the skirts of ball dresses.

Slippers and stockings worn with evening dress now most often match the gown in color.

[illegible] exquisitely fine India camel's hair [illegible] and Henrietta cloths are [illegible] woolen fabrics.

[illegible] of the prettiest novelties for the ball room are white kid shoes with [illegible] metal heels of silver or [illegible]

[illegible] many shapes of toques [illegible] made wholly of feathers [illegible] or crests set up very high [illegible]

[illegible] remedies are fast [illegible] the gentle action and [illegible] of Carter's Little Liver [illegible] try them, they certain[illegible]

[illegible] the President.

[illegible] stories about President [illegible] so strict a party [illegible] the Philadelphia [illegible] "The life which the [illegible] in the White House [illegible] under the [illegible] of the most [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Harry's [illegible] a fine new [illegible] under his name [illegible] was traced, [illegible] words:

[illegible]

"What is worthy [illegible]" asked his father.

"Well," replied Mr. Kimball, "I think that the [illegible] refers to [illegible] action [illegible] somebody or something [illegible] Now, I should call it a [illegible] it. To please me, you [illegible] your arithmetic lesson [illegible] well, because you didn't [illegible] but no especial good deed to study your history, as this would be a pleasure to you. This book is for you to keep your worthy action account in. You will no doubt grow tired in writing the items down, but it may be a pleasure for you when you are an old man to recall the good you did others when you were a little fellow ten years old. "And I think" he went on with a quiet smile, that I shall want just such a good boy for a traveling companion when I go to New York next winter."

Mr. Kimball was called a peculiar man by those who did not understand him, but Harry knew that his wisdom was to be trusted, and was eager to try the new plan at once.

"I'll take my old skates to Tom Smith," he said, "they are too small for me and dreadfully in the way."

Mr. Kimball shook his head. "That will not do for a worthy action. Your object is only to have more room in your closet."

Harry pondered. "Well, I'll go and and show Pete Snow my new picture-book. If a worthy action has to be a disagreeable one, this will be the worthiest one ever heard of; for Peter is the meanest, hatefulest—"

"Stop!" said Mr. Kimball. "In Peter's place you might be far worse than he."

So Harry started for Peter's poor house, with his gray new book under his arm,

"I hope his hands will be clean; but they won't be! They don't know what it is to be clean, and Harry was driven to stratagem.

"I've brought a new book to show you;" he said to the astonished boy; and I guess we'd better wash our hands a little before looking at it."

Peter brightened up as he brought a cracked bowl for the ablutions. It had been many a day since he had such a treat as a sight of those fine pictures of which Harry read the description. And the visitor himself was happy as he saw the other's delight.

"I'm afraid it was so pleasant it won't count," he confessed to his father that night. But Mr. Kimball thought that it would, and in a big schoolboy hand Harry wrote these words on the first page of his diary;

"Showed Peter Snow my new book."

This list from that time on was interesting. Such acts as these were recorded, with comments:

"Read to blind Mr. Cook for an hour. He was deaf and I had to holler."

"Bound up a lame dog's leg. He bit me."

"Did not lick Tom Brown when he pushed me over. Wanted to."

"Took my pudding to Peter. It had raisins in it."

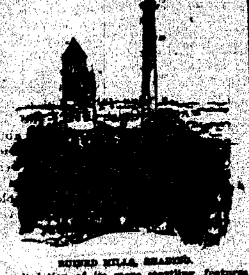
When there seemed no possible way to assist others by actions, Harry would pray for them. After a while what seemed so hard a task became an easy one. Not that he was unlike other boys, or without grave faults; but anything persevered in became a habit and he was really unhappy when there seemed no chance to do his daily good deed.

The spring bloomed into summer and then the autumn came, with its glory of red and gold. After that the winter set in early and the lake was frozen over, to the delight of every boy in town. So far Harry had kept his worthy action [illegible] but everything seemed to go wrong on the first day of the skating. He and Peter had become firm friends and he confided his [illegible] to him.

"I can't do anything good today, Peter. I saw the boys [illegible] Sam's peanut stand and did not help him one bit. And [illegible] because he barked, [illegible] all the way of making a dog [illegible] to be a big [illegible] capitulation of its more startling features may not be out of place here. At Pittsburg it threw down a new building, causing a score of deaths and many injuries; at Reading, Pa., an immense silk mill was crushed like an egg shell, causing a loss of at least [illegible] lives, and at Brooklyn a streak of electric fire, or a meteoric ball, struck and exploded a large gas tank, scattering destruction far and wide. From very many other places there were fearful reports of furious winds, houses unroofed, trees torn up by the roots and all the concomitants of wild war of the elements, but fortunately with very little loss of life.

[illegible]

[illegible] at Reading, [illegible] Pennsylvania [illegible] [illegible] reports of [illegible]



RUINED MILLS, READING.

The scenes at Reading and Pittsburg were such as [illegible] being [illegible] and bleeding bodies, weeping people crushed by falling walls, [illegible] over their slaughtered children, shocking scenes as the ruins are removed, and all possible sights and sounds of woe. But at Reading, as at Brooklyn, some unusual phenomena were noted, the most remarkable perhaps being the destruction of one end of the Pennsylvania railroad car shops while the other end was untouched. As near as can be determined, the two fierce currents, one bearing east, the other northeast, met exactly at that end of the large and solid building containing the shops; the result was a sudden swirl and outward "suck" of wind, which snatched out a large but clearly marked section of the wall as suddenly and as evenly as if it had been struck with a cyclopean hammer. Yet the walls were so firm that all the rest of the building stood without being swayed a perceivable fraction of an inch. It was as clearly defined a fracture as if a man should knock a hole in the side of a cast iron vessel with a sharp-pointed hammer. And this, too, by an outward "suck" of the forceful wind.

The silk mill at Reading was sixty feet high; the storm left only the tower and smoke stack standing. It is surprising that so many esc[illegible]d. Some of the workers had already gone home for the evening; the others had a few seconds' warning and many escaped. Curious to relate, nearly all who got into the tower, and many who only got near it, were saved, as the great timbers fell at an incline to the tower and kept the debris from crushing those beneath. In many a working man's home the supper was smoking on the table and the careful mother expecting the arrival of her loved one, only to be roused from her fond waiting by the news of the catastrophe, or, as happened in many cases, by the arrival of men bringing the mangled body of husband or daughter. The rush of frenzied relatives to the scene was so great that the authorities were obliged to call on the local militia, [illegible] formed a strong guard [illegible]

THE RUINED CAR SHOPS.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] for two years chairman of the Republican state committee.

Mr. Lodge's literary efforts have been principally in the biographical line. He has also edited two series of popular tales. He was elected to the Fiftieth congress as a Republican.

David B. Henderson, of Dubuque, Ia., whose name has also been mentioned for the speakership of the national house of representatives, is a Scotchman, [illegible] Old Deer, Scotland, in 1840. When [illegible] years of age he was brought to Illinois, and a little later to Iowa. His education was derived from the common schools and at the Upper Iowa university.

The civil war broke out as Henderson came of age. He enlisted in the fall of 1861 in the Twelfth Iowa infantry, was elected first lieutenant of the company, and served with it till he retired from the service in 1863 on account of disability, having lost a leg. He was soon after appointed commissioner of the board of enrollment of the Third Iowa district, and served as such till June, 1864, when he reentered the service as colonel of the Forty-sixth Iowa infantry, where he remained to the close his term of service.

D. B. HENDERSON.

In the fall of 1865 he was admitted to the bar and at the same time was appointed collector of internal revenue for the Third Iowa district. In June, 1869, he resigned this office and began the practice of the law. He was elected to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth congresses as a Republican. He is very popular with Grand Army men.

A HANDSOME INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Fine Structure Presented to the Children by Morris K. Jesup.

Morris K. Jesup, the New York banker and philanthropist, recently presented to the Children's Aid society a handsome new building to be used as an industrial school for boys and girls and a lodging house for boys. The building is on the corner of Second avenue and Forty-fourth street. It is built of ordinary brick, terra cotta, pressed brick and light brown [illegible]

JESUP INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] National Republican committee in 1888. He was elected to the senate to succeed William Windom. He is a rich man, having made his pile out of railroads, lumbering and the manufacture of agricultural implements.

A CORN PALACE IN EUROPE.

Americans Think of Introducing the Novelty Into the Paris Exposition.

It is probable that there will be added to the regular American exhibit at the Paris exposition this year a corn palace, such as have at various times been constructed in western cities. If the project is successfully carried out and every effort is being made to further the scheme it will afford a striking and beautiful exhibit—perhaps the most unique thing of the exposition. It will also serve the purpose of demonstrating to the European nations (which are singularly ignorant on the subject) the value of corn as a food product, and thus develop a new market for America's most abundant crop. The idea is to erect the palace within the exposition grounds, and the cut herewith presented is a reproduction of the most successful design that has yet been submitted to the committee having the matter in charge. It will be an airy, graceful structure. The roof, columns and chimneys will be constructed of the corn fodder, and the interior and exterior will be entirely covered with corn stalk and ear. The beautiful hues of the corn (the deep red, yellow and rich white) will produce a beautiful effect.

PROPOSED CORN PALACE.

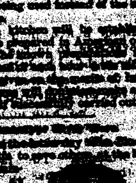
The [illegible] work and columns are to be formed of the leaves and ears of corn. The frieze over the columns and the two [illegible] in the towers are to be formed of [illegible] colored corn being used instead of the usual [illegible] of mortar.

An American kitchen will be established in which will be prepared [illegible]

[illegible]



[illegible]

[illegible] N.Y.

Winter nearly half gone and only a week of sleighing.

If all so-called remedies have failed, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cure.

The king of the Belgians has just about as much as he can do to keep himself supplied with pie and confectionery on the $600,000 a year that his grateful subjects turn over to him.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisements elsewhere.

Nitro-Glycerine in the Oil Region.

With the discovery of oil nitro-glycerine was put to a new use. It was found that when the drill had penetrated the oil-bearing sand 1,000 or more feet beneath the surface of the earth in a locality where the presence of oil was assured, the oil would not flow forth readily. The shrewd oil producer, looking about for a means of shaking up the sand and loosening the rock, used nitro-glycerine with such success that its use was and is continued. In the early days three quarts were considered a large shot, but now 800 quarts are often used. The glycerine is poured into two large tin shells shaped like a cigar. These are lowered into the well by means of a line; the well is "tamped," i. e., filled with oil or water, and the glycerine exploded by dropping a weight which strikes a cap upon the top of the shell, or by dropping a "squib" containing a lighted fuse. This "squib" explodes and the concussion sets off the shell. The explosion loosens the sand rock and the oil gushes forth. In time the sides of a well get so gummed with paraffine that the flow of oil is seriously arrested. Nitro-glycerine is again used to clear the well of the paraffine.

Railways vs. Canals.

French railways are reported to be suffering from competition with canals. So acute has the situation become that the railways are demanding the reimposition of the tolls taken off the canal traffic in 1880. In that year the French government abolished all taxation upon canal and river transport, with the result that the total carriage increased from 1,875,000,000 tons carried a kilometer in 1880 to 3,073,000,000 tons carried a similar distance in 1887. In the same period transport by the main lines of the French railway system fell off from 10,064,000,000 tons carried a kilometer in 1880 to 6,987,000,000 tons in 1887.—Public Opinion.

Clergymen, Lawyers and all those of sedentary habits who suffer from nervous prostration and loss of appetite should try NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON. For sale by all druggists. 87w4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

[illegible] ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
[illegible]

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)

The Hopes of People who use Kaskine are always Realized in a Cure.

A [illegible] TONIC
[illegible]

—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND
No. 4, First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
[illegible] Tobaccos and Cigars.
[illegible] Congress Beer,
[illegible] Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton [illegible] Falls with no extra charge. 18m

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH [illegible]
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
[illegible] PHYSICAL DEBILITY [illegible] THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!
[illegible]

[illegible]

Thos. G. Potts

Deputy Sheriff and Detective.

[illegible]

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS, &c.
Fulton, N. Y.

INSURANCE
—WRITTEN IN—
The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn.
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y.
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng.
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn.
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa.
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y.
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng.
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,
MECHANICS',	Providence, R. I.
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y.
PHENIX,	Hartford, Conn.

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

JAMES COLE
[illegible]
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
and Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

[illegible]

PATENTS
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
[illegible]
C. A. SNOW & CO.
[illegible]

TOLEDO WEEKLY BLADE
1889.
ONLY ONE DOLLAR.
[illegible]

[illegible]

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. E. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

LIEUT. GOVERNOR MCDONALD of Michigan and two others were killed in a railroad accident near Elmwood, Michigan, Saturday. Seven others were injured.

THE second trial of Thomas Clary one of the ex-Alderman charged with accepted a bribe from Jacob Sharp, commenced before Judge Daniels in New York, Monday.

GEN. Randall S. Mackensie, who served with great distinction in the late civil war; Isaac Ball, jr. ex-Minister to the Netherlands and Mrs. John M. Francis of Troy, well-known for her social and literary attainments and wife of the founder of the Troy Times are among the noted persons that have deid during the week.

VIRGIL JACKSON, convicted of the murder of Norman Metcalf in Augusta Centre, January 29th, last, was Monday afternoon sentenced by Judge Williams at the term of court which opened in Utica Monday, to be hanged Thursday, March 14. Jackson, upon conviction. was sentenced to be executed in June last. The case was taken to the Court of Appeals and the decision of the lower court there affirmed.

FROM the fifth annual report of the New York State Dairy Commissioner, Josiah K. Brown, we find that he visited Oswego county and inspected 37 factories and creameries; the number of cows contributing milk to the same was 17,230; the total number of pounds of milk delivered to the factories was 69,751,280; the average number of cows to each factory or creamery 466; the average number of pounds of milk to each cow for the season, 4,047 and the average number of pounds of milk required to produce one pound of cheese 10.

FORECLOSURE proceedings against the Syracuse & Baldwinsville Railroad company have been begun by the Central Trust company of New York city, and notice of the pendency of the action has just been filed at the County Clerk's office. The suit is for the purpose of foreclosing a mortgage for $160,000 that the plaintiff holds as trustee for holders of the bonds, the proceeds of which were used in the construction of the road. The road was built in 1886 and runs from Baldwinsville across the towns of Lysander and VanBuren to Amboy where it connects with the West Shore road.

HON. A. S. DRAPER, superintendent of public instruction, has decided to give school districts until February 1, 1889, to comply with the law in reference to outbuildings. All districts which have not at that time complied with the law, will receive no public money in the apportionment to be made in March next.

It is a plain duty and a matter of health and decency that the requirements should be complied with. Yet it is said that there are several districts in Oswego county that are in danger of losing their shares of the public money at the coming apportionment.

The immense sale that Scranton Coal has had is due to its superior quantity, leading all other grades and for the fact that those who buy one ton always come again. Sold only by SCHENCK & FOSTER.

Denounced from the Pulpit.

Considerable excitement was caused among the congregation of St. Joseph's Catholic church in Camillus, Sunday, when Father William A. Ryan denounced the Rev. Dr. J. E. O'Sullivan, formerly in charge of the parish, as a villain and advised the parishoners to beware of him. Doctor O'Sullivan sat in a pew in the rear of the church with his aged mother at the 11:30 o'clock mass, as has been his custom. Near the end of the mass, Father Ryan descended to the railing and is quoted as saying, "We have been scandalized by an immoral man—a wolf in sheep's clothing." After a brief pause he continued [illegible]

[illegible] III. 5. You will find the writer of these articles denominating Prohibition a vicious principle.

Then, he says that Holy Scripture does not condemn the moderate use of liquors, only to those who are likely to be injured thereby. "Look not thou upon the Wine, &c." Prov. XXIII. 31. If that is not absolute prohibition I confess I don't know what is. He tells us that high license is practical prohibition. Strange reasoning that, e. g. 10 saloons sell to 100 drinkers; 10 drinkers to each saloon.

High license means 5 saloons sell to 100 drinkers; 20 drinkers to each saloon. What a difference. Do you see it? I can't.

But I will tell you what I see, that high license means more blood money in the treasury—poorer whiskey—greater suffering in the drunkard's home, because of the advance in the price of drink to keep pace with the price paid for license. See?

Does anyone suppose that St. Paul counseled Timothy to take a little of the wine for his weak stomach, that wisdom condemns, and warns us not to look at? Absurd.

I quote, "High license advocates have organized a crusade against the immoderate use or regulated sale thereof."

This is different from what I supposed. I had accepted the doctrines of high license advocates as intending to regulate—restrict—to allow a few to sell.

But, the idea that the use and sale of alcoholic beverages is not an evil in itself is a new doctrine.

Oh! not an evil if used moderately.

Will this learned authority tell us how much one must use before it becomes immoderation. By parity of reasoning it would not be an evil to use a rattlesnake in moderation. Deliver us from the moderation.

But the writer comes to a fair proposition. He does admit that Prohibition, as explained, might be a necessity in one case, as when the safety of a community was endangered and there was no power to afford protection.

According to his article there must be a need of something more than we now possess to stop these "drunken brawls and bloody affrays" a power to throttle the "Infernal Beast that emerges into sight and deals treacherous blows right and left. to unfortunates." O! yes, we want something to close up that wicked den, "Where Satan presides." Stop up that place "where one enters a man and exits a brute."

He is getting to be a real, absolute, perpetual Prohibitionist, pen and all, for, speaking of the published "bloody affray" with the places and parties, he says, "I will not dishonor my pen by re-writing them." There, if that is not prohibition with the vim in it. Then he proceeds to pay his respects to the Excise Board and Policemen and does them up so their ears must tingle.

1st. He tells us that the use and sale of alcohol is not an evil.

2d. He lifts his voice against it and tires himself with calling those who use it names and then intimates that those who legalize or license the sale ought to have "the solemn grand bounce." "O, consistency thou art a jewel."

I return to the first article.

The highest court in the land must be interviewed.

The constitutionality of prohibition must be ventilated.

The Supreme Court of the United States has fallen off the bench of justice in declaring the principles of prohibition constitutional. Alas me!

L. S. KING.

ROBINSON'S GROCERY

Removed to TIMES Block, one door above the Clark House. Give us a call. 37tf

Better Than Ever.

It did seem as though the seedsmen outdid themselves last year in the line of elaborate catalogues, but here comes Vick's Floral Guide for 1889, from Rochester, N. Y., better than all previous issues. "Better" hardly expresses it—rather, we should say, far superior. It has been changed in every respect, new cuts, new type, enlarged in size (opening like and old-fashioned singing book); contains three elegant lithographs (8x10½ inches) of Roses, Geraniums and Jacks and Tomatoes, besides a very fine plate of the late James Vick and his three sons who now give and manage his large business. These features alone make the Floral Guide, valuable to [illegible]

[illegible]

The so-called "White Caps" of this vicinity are getting altogether too numerous. They have been engaged in several outrages lately. Among them that of rapping at painter Ward's door Tuesday night, and when he appeared, slipping a rope around his neck and leading him out of doors. He managed to get loose, and drawing a wicked looking knife went for the desperados, who, in turn, made for the fence and disappeared in the darkness. Sooner or later, one or more bullets are likely to perforate the hides of these rascals, and then this "hilarity will cease.—Lakeside Press, Cleveland, N. Y.

For such a "peaceful little hamlet" as William Hosea Ballou has called it in one of his immortal efforts, Mexico manages to keep quite a reputation from day to day for just such things as happen in cities and towns that do no bear the above mild epithet. The latest thing on the program is the appearance of the White Caps, maybe a branch of that organization that has been terrorizing the country. Appearance number one was made at Kingley's meat market last Thursday evening. A notice to loafers was posted by the "Secretary of the the White Caps," and those in the market answering to this name nearly fainted away from fright. Since Thursday evening these White Cap visits have been made at various places each evening and notices posted advising reformation immediately. Some look upon these performances as practical jokes and others regard them more seriously. It may be needless to say that those who take them jokingly are the ones yet unvisited. The White Cap who has posted notices seems to be well acquainted with this vicinity but will make very few friends as no one seems in the least anxious to meet him or any of his kind.—Mexican.

For several weeks past a number of persons in this city have received threatening letters signed "White Caps," warning the recipients to mend their ways or they would receive a flogging at the hand of members of the order. These "warnings" were usually written in red ink, and the upper right hand corner of the envelopes were unusually decorated with skull and crossbones. The letters are treated as jokes by those receiving them, but a circumstance occurred last night which leads to the belief that there really is a band of the order in our midst or else the jokers are carrying their fun a little too far. About 9 o'clock last night thirteen men, wearing long white masks stopped a middle aged man named Wallace who lives near the city limits on the boulevard, near the "forks of the roads" and conducted him to an old unoccupied barn in the neighborhood where they made him stand in the middle of the floor while they discussed what punishment it was best to inflict upon him for alleged misconduct. It is said that they threatened the old man with a flogging and frightened him into making some kind of a confession, after which they allowed him to depart. It is also said that the masked men all lived in the neighborhood and were out for a "lark." Should they find themselves in a court of law they will come the conclusion that such "larks" may be turned into very serious affairs and the culprits made to pay dearly for thier fun.—Palladium.

The "White Caps" foolishness has struck this county and will doubtless continue until the fellows who are playing the parts run up against a shot gun or revolver in the hands of a determined man, who objects to being assaulted in his own house by a band of ruffians. The whole thing springs from reading the "White Cap" stories published through the columns of daily papers. The "White Caps" doubtless had their origin for a good though illegal purpose, that of ridding the localities of obnoxious persons, but it soon degenerated into [illegible]

[illegible] of Tammany, and the large delegations of representative men of both parties sent here by the [illegible] meetings to urge division, may turn the tide of battle.

The contest in the House this week may seriously affect the fight for the Speakership of the next House. In the debate over the report of the Committee on rules two candidates, Reed and Cannon, were skilfully placed on the defensive by the friends of McKinley and Burrows, and they succeeded in leaving Reed and Cannon to vote with the Democrats. The defeat, if it may be called such, was of course more a defeat of Reed, whose leadership is avowed, than of Cannon. Reed's anger was plain to be seen. General Henderson is another mad candidate for the Speakership. He says that the published report that his candidacy is only a subterfuge in Cannon's interests is a black lie.

The President has ordered General Swain, now suspended from the office of Judge Advocate General, before a retiring board. The order involves the remission of the sentence of the former court martial and a cleaning of Swain's record. His sentence of suspension for twelve years would expire July, 1896. Retirement, in his case would not, however, involve a vindication of his honor. General Swain was regularly convicted, though his punishment was mild. General Black's friends are vigorously pushing his claims to succeed Swain. The only objection urged against him is that his physical disability, as established when his large pension was granted, would necessitate his retirement in two or three years at most. But General Black's friends claim that three Republican Senators will vote for his confirmation. There is an element of danger in the case. There are not lacking Republican Senators who long to investigate the Pension office and score Commissioner Black. His nomination would afford the opportunity.

The election of Anthony Higgins as a Senator from Delaware is welcomed with enthusiasm by the Republicans and with personal satisfaction by such Democrats as know him best. In the midst of the shouting, full praise is given to Senator Quay, whose letter to the Delaware Republican, who seemed but a week ago involved in a destructive fight, brought about a speedy settlement of all difficulties. Blessed is the peacemaker. Lucky is Mr. Higgins. Two years ago the leader of a Congressional forlorn hope, a politician hopelessly in the minority in a vest pocket owned by the Bayards and their kin, he is suddenly thrown on the crested wave of victory.

On Thursday the 183d anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin found the monument erected to his memory by Mr. Stilson Hutchins in front of the Post Newspaper office, still awaiting unveiling. It appears that Mr. Hutchins has been for some time involved in a joint debate with the sculptor, a warfare that became aggressive when the sculptor placed his name as artist upon the base in letters five inches high. Mr. Hutchins as an old newspaper man didn't intend to give Mr. Sculptor a five inch advertisement forever free, so in the dark watches of the night he had the name cut off. It is to be regretted that like time and tide the anniversary of B. Franklin's birth waits for no man.

Three large excursions went to Baltimore this week to Edwin Booth's performance. The fact that Mr. Booth never comes to Washington is so decided a "chestnut" that I must apologise for mentioning it. I am led to recall it by the fact that Tuesday night was the anniversary of the night he left Washington, several years after the assassination, with the bones of his misguided brother who killed President Lincoln. What memories might have come to him, even through the lines of Shylock, as he looked upon the Washington contingent that his vow of that fearful night had compelled to come to him, open a vista of speculation. The ploughman in wheat fields of peace turns up the grinning skulls of war.

[illegible]

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh [illegible]

[illegible]

At [illegible] in the town of Lysander, [illegible] Onondaga county [illegible] A. W. Van Alstine [illegible] affray on Wednesday which resulted in the death of a German named Grieb on the following Friday. Before his death he made the following statement to a friend, one George Newport:

"While the music and dancing was going on 'Norm' stepped on my foot. I told him not to do it again, but he did and I pushed him away. Then a little scuffle started and Van Alstine put the Stoughtengers and some of the rest outside. When I went out afterward I was just going down the steps when 'Norm' clinched me and before I knew it he had stabbed me."

Grieb was about thirty years old and bore the name of having been a sober, industrious German, and has only been in this country four years.

The Syracuse Herald gives the following account of the affray:

"The affray occured just outside the hotel in the presence of Richard Stoughtenger, who is a brother of the murderer and James Gurnsey. Gurnsey is the village fiddler, and he had met the two brothers early in the evening at Richard's house. At about eight o'clock the three men made their appearance at the hotel, all of them, according to the proprietor, A. W. Van Alstine, somewhat the worse off for liquor. Several other persons were in the bar room, among them Grieb, Fred Dickey, Charles Miller, John Ellison, Henry Bogardus, a young man named Lowry and William Mosher, a tobacco buyer from Hannibal Centre, Oswego county. Gurnsey had his violin with him and he rattled off music for a couple of hours or so, the two Stoughtenger brothers contributing to the entertainment by a series of dances. A good deal of hard cider was drunk during the evening, and most of the people present got more or less frisky, though it is claimed that none of them became really intoxicated.

After tiring of the music, "the boys" Mr. Van Alstine said in a statement made to Criminal Deputy Sheriff Ryan last night, sat around talking, the proprietor of the hotel not paying much attention to them, as he was engaged with the tobacco buyer, who was a guest at the hotel. A little after 11 o'clock Dickey Miller, Bogardus and Lowry left the place and went home, the two brothers, with Grieb, Ellison, Gurnsey, the proprietor and the stranger remaining in the bar-room. The talk went on for some little time. Van Alstine still continuing his conversation with the tobacco buyer alone. About 11:30 o'clock, according to the proprietor's story, the other five men got to scuffling, and after separating them he told the Stoughtengers and Gurnsey to get out and go home. One of them, he could not remember which, said that he guessed "they'd leave when they got good and ready." Then Van Alstine opened the door and shoved the three men out, telling them again to get along home as he didn't want them hanging around at that late hour. He turned the key in the lock and resumed his conversation with the tobacco buyer. A little while afterwards there was a rap at the door, and Gurnsey called out that he wanted his violin which had been left inside. The hotelkeeper passed the instrument out to him and locked the door again. A few minutes later Grieb and Ellison left the place. Van Alstine says that he told them not to go, as the others were still close by and there might be trouble. Grieb laughed and answered that he guessed he'd go on home. They had been gone but a little while when loud words were heard from the outside, and Grieb cried out:

"Boys, he's got a knife!"

"I immediately ran out," Van Alstine said in the statement [illegible]

[illegible] They did not try to molest him further, he says, since their time was taken up by attending to the German.

[illegible]

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Mrs. G. G. Ives is in Syracuse, being treated for a tumor. Her husband is with her.

While Mr. Ives' people were away their home was entered by a burglar and a quantity of goods taken. A young man named Bellenger was suspected as he had on a suit of clothes that was in the house and showed some watches that belonged to Mr. Ives. Mr. Ives was informed of the affair and came home and Bellinger was arrested and taken to Fulton to answer for his crime.

Mr. Kellogg of Oswego, is giving Lycoming Lodge I. O. O. F. instructions in degree work. Mr. Kellogg is a good instructor.

Gilbert's Mills.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Rev. Mr. Denny received a donation visit last Thursday night. The proceeds amounted to $82.

Mrs. Eunice Langdon of Hastings Centre has been home for a few days.

Miss Stella Shepherd has gone to Prospect to visit Elder Whittemore's people.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Blodgett has returned from a week's visit at Sterling and Red Creek.

Mrs. Walter Chappell is teaching the winter term of school.

The Misses Maude and Madge Mason and Satie Tyler will attend the Albany Normal this spring.

The Baptist Aid met at Mrs. Hollenbeck's Friday evening. The Society is in a flourishing condition. Over eighty were present.

Jay Chaffee has been quite sick for the past week but is much better.

There are two or three cases of whooping cough in the neighborhood.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Jan. 18th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Trustees Johnson, Mere, Nichols and Kellogg.

In the absence of the President, Trustee Johnson was chosen President, pro tem.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A petition signed by J. M. Stafford and others asking for the erection of an electric light on Second street, between Rochester street, and the angle of the road was read.

On motion the petition was referred to the Committee on Lights.

The Finance Committee reported the following bills correct and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the amounts:

John White, gas for jail............$7.75
John Harvey, labor on streets............1.50
P. W. Hyde, Street Commissioner............3.00
[illegible], Board of Health............3.50
D. [illegible]............4.00

[illegible]

On motion the Board adjourned to Friday, January 25th, 1889, at 8 o'clock, p. m.

E. C. [illegible], Clerk.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Jan. 23, 1889: George Connell, Mrs. E. Kelley, Miss [illegible], Whiting & Co., James L. Quigg, Mrs. [illegible] Wicher, Thos. Howard, Mrs. & [illegible], [illegible] Smith, John [illegible].

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. H. [illegible], P. M.

The place to get your Bell Hanging, Locksmithing, Key Fitting, Carpet Sweepers and [illegible] Wringers Repaired, [illegible]

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, [illegible]

ROCKERS,

In [illegible] Oak and Cherry. A [illegible]

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tab

Of All Descriptions.

Foot Rests, Blacking C

Writing Desks, Easels Boo

Cases, Children's Chairs

Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts.

All at Rock Bottom Prices.

Brown's Furniture Store.

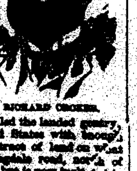
Times Block.

THE TAMMANY CHIEF.

Mr. Richard Croker, the Political Boss in New York.

The triumph of Tammany Hall in the recent New York election makes that society once more the dominant power in the city, and its sachem, Hon. Richard Croker, practically the political head of the city, who has all the power ever possessed by Tweed or Kelly, and with it all of Kelly's directness and thoroughness. Like so many of the successful politicians of New York, Mr. Croker is from the "rale ould stock." Though not a New Yorker by birth, he might as well be, as he was brought to the city at 3 years of age and has lived there ever since. He is of a long line of noble and fairly well to do ancestors in the South of Ireland.

His grandfather was Maj. Henry Croker, of Queenstown, Ireland, who was inspector general in the British army, and his grandfather's brother, John Croker, was a general in the British army and afterwards governor of Bermuda. A third brother was Edward Croker, the owner of a considerable estate, known in Irish poetry as "Sweet Ballinagar." Other distinguished members of the family were Baron Pennifer, the great Irish jurist, and Crofton Croker, a literary man. Mr. Richard Croker was himself born at Roscarberry, Ireland, November 24, 1843, and was 3 years old when his father, Eyre Coote Croker, who belonged to what was called the landed gentry, removed to the United States with enough money to buy a small tract of land on what was then the Bloomingdale road, north of the city of New York, but is now included in the city, part of Mr. Croker's land being in the upper part of Central park. The house in which the older gentleman lived for awhile is still standing in the upper part of the city. Richard was educated in the schools of New York until 1859 when he entered the machine shops of the New York Central railroad and learned the trade of machinist. His father entered the army at the beginning of the civil war and advanced to the grade of a captaincy in the engineer corps, serving most of the time under Gen. Sickles.



RICHARD CROKER.

The son entered politics very young. In 1867, at the age of 24, he was elected alderman to succeed James O'Brien, who had just been elected sheriff. He was re-elected by an enormous majority, and continued in office until 1870, when he was legislated out by Tweed and his associates, whom Mr. Croker opposed. He was soon after appointed marshal to collect the arrears of taxes, and performed that work with such ability that he increased the receipts [illegible] During all this time he was a consistent and ardent member of Tammany Hall, a great admirer and firm supporter of John Kelly; and when the Tweed ring was overthrown and the city government reformed he assisted Mr. Kelly in the great work of reorganization. [illegible] Kelly [illegible] Mr. Croker: "Dick is the [illegible]" In [illegible], when Mr. Croker was in his 30th year, [illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect June 24, 1888.

5	3	1	9	STATIONS.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Leave Arrive
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Jay St., N. Y.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	42d St., N. Y.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cornwall
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Campbell Hall
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Middletown
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Winterton
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bloomingburgh
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Summitville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Ellenville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hurleyville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty Falls
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Parksville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rockland
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cooks Falls
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	New Berlin
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford Centre
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oxford
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Norwich
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sherburne
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Earlville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Utica
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rome
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Community
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida Castle
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sylvan
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Bay
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cleveland
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bernhard's Bay
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Constantia
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Central Square
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Caughdenoy
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Pennellville
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fulton
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oswego
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Arrive Depart

Train 5 stops at [illegible] Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, [illegible] Falls, Fish's Eddy for New [illegible]

Train 4 stops at Earlville [illegible] signal and at Eaton, [illegible] Bernhards Bay for New York [illegible]

Train 3 stops at North Norwich [illegible] at Guilford Centre for New York [illegible]

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR,

Or Social and Moral Culture.

Introduced by Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, having the largest sale of any [illegible] book published.

Terms and circulars free. If you [illegible] and want to [illegible] for cash, Exclusive Territory [illegible]. Hoping to secure your [illegible] for 1889, we are, Yours truly,

LYMAN W. DICKERSON & CO.

919 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

(Mention this paper)

WEAK KIDNEYS, BACKACHE [illegible]

SPECIAL

Announcement [illegible]

[illegible]

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING NORTH.

[illegible]	7:28 a. m
[illegible]	9:07 a. m
[illegible]	5:05 p. m
[illegible]	10:17 p. m

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible]	6:23 a. m
[illegible]	11:20 a. m
[illegible]	5:20 p. m.
[illegible]	8:21 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse	[illegible]	11:25	[illegible]	5:26	7:37
For Oswego	[illegible]	10:37	[illegible]	5:26	9:33

[illegible] trains going north leave the Broadway [illegible] minutes earlier. All trains will stop at [illegible].

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

for Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. H. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. James Nutt of Troy, N. Y. is visiting her daughter Mrs. J. R. Fairgrieve.

Mrs. Simons, wife of Dr. F. E. Simons of Canajoharie, with her son is the guest of Mrs. Lawrence Van Buren.

C. S. Carver of Syracuse has been the guest of Harry Baker during the past week. Mr. Carver is now bookkeeper in the Journal office, Syracuse.

Mr. A. Howe, wife and daughter accompanied by Mrs. Theodore Hoff expect to start Feb. 8. on a pleasure trip of a few months duration to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Emerick are in New York with their daughter, Bertha. They go to secure the best medical treatment of specialists for their daughter who is seriously afflicted with spinal trouble.

Jedediah N. Green, wife and daughter Lida started Monday for Alameda Cal., eight miles distant from San Francisco, where they will make their future home. Mr. Green has been a well known resident of Fulton for 34 years and his many friends will wish him success in his new home.

Miss Nellie Bradford, of Montclair, N. J., who is to deliver a series of five lectures on "Italian Journeys," in the Presbyterian church, is the guest of her uncle, Hon. H. C. Howe during her stay here. Miss Bradford is a sister of Rev. Amory Bradford the well known preacher who is now in Bermuda for his health.

Scranton Coal, SCHENCK & FOSTER.

Use Master Soap. 35 4 mos.

CLEARING OUT SALE.

To make room for Spring Goods we offer our last year's stock of Ladies' and Men's Shoes at manufacturer's prices. Also Ladies, Men's, Boy's and Misses' Alaskas and Buckle Overshoes, and Mens' Wool Boots.

35w4 SALMON SHOE STORE.

Holmes Fragrant Frostilla cures Chapped Hands, &c. Beware of base counterfeits and worthless imitations. The genuine is sold by R. E. Phillips Druggist. Call and get a sample bottle. 35w4

Men's pure gum boots for $3 00 at Hill's new shoe store, in the Patterson block.

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant tf.

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

IT IS THE BEST.

When buying Flour be sure and get the Electric Light brand. The only place to buy it is at J. E. CARY'S.

Take Notice.

All persons indebted to me are requested to call at the market and settle as I have sold out and desire to straighten up accounts.

P. CULLEN. 37tf

A fresh supply of Canned Fruit just received at J. E. Cary's, Cayuga St.

The largest stock of new jewelry, [illegible] plated ware (now on sale [illegible] 6, First St.) ever offered [illegible] at prices 25 per cent [illegible]

[illegible] slippers at Hill's [illegible] Oneida

[illegible]

[illegible] auxiliary to [illegible] work, as all selections were [illegible] that would work for the good of temperance. The speakers on this evening referred to did excellently. The prize was awarded by the judges to Miss Jennie Owen of Palermo.

That organizations in this village may understand how these contests are carried on we print the subjoined circular.

"The National Prohibition Bureau, No. 32 East 14th street, New York, are pleased to announce that through W. Jennings Demorest, who furnishes the medals, free of expense, suitably inscribed, arrangements have been made for a series of Elocutionary Contests in which young persons of either sex, under twenty-one years of age, are invited to recite before an audience in some school-room, church, church parlors, lecture-room, or hall.

The arrangments for these Contests are as follows:

A competing class to consist of eight or ten but in no case less than six. The selections to be taken exclusively from the book of recitations, which can be procured for ten cents per copy.

A public meeting to be arranged, for which these recitations will form the program, which may be interpersed with music. Three disinterested persons, of mature age, are to be chosen to act as judges, for whom suitable blanks will be furnished free. At the close of the program, the competitor who has, by the dicision of the judges, been awarded the prize, will be presented with a handsome silver medal in a satin-lined morocco case. Other classes can be formed but all Contests arranged must be for different dates. No new medal will be sent until a certificate signed by judges and chairman has been received, proving that the preceding Contest has been properly conducted.

When eight or more have obtained silver medals, these may form another class to compete for a gold medal under the same conditions. And again, eight or more having received gold medals, may, in the sanme manner, enter into a Contest for a larger gold medal. And in like manner, eight or more holding this larger gold medal may compete for a "diamond medal," which is a handsome gold medal set with diamonds. At each Contest the speakers are to learn new pieces.

No one holding a medal shall compete the second time for the same kind of medal. Those who win silver medals may compete twice for the first gold medal but only one trial will be allowed contestants for the large gold and the diamond medals.

To give all young people an opportunity to compete for these honorable trophies, boys or girls in any School, public or private, Sunday or Secular, Band of Hope, Loyal Temperance Legion, Juvenile Temple, Section of Cadets or other institution for the young, either singly or in connection with others, can arrange for one or more Contests.

As soon as a class has been formed and the date fixed, notice should be sent to the office and the medal will be forwarded so as to be presented at the time of the Contest. Do not send for medals by postal card.

Pastors, parents, teachers, officers and members of the W. C. T. U., leaders of temperance and religious organizations and all others interested in the young, are kindly invited to get up these Contests, co-operate in this movement and encourage the children under their direction or control to learn the pieces and participate in the competitions.

Medals, Recitations and all information can be obtained on application to

MRS. CHARLOTTE F. WOODBURY,
General Superintendent,
32 East 14th. Street, New York City.

A Successful Entertainment.

The drama "Rebecca's Tryumph" presented under the auspices and for the benefit of the Universalist church at the opera house last Thursday evening was a success financially and otherwise. Everyone was surprised and more than pleased at the able manner in which the play was presented and the parts sustained. It should be repeated. Music was rendered between the acts by a quartet and Mr. N. H. Gilbert [illegible] favored the audience with a solo.

One dollar will buy a [illegible] gallon can, full of [illegible], at [illegible] Grocery, one door above the Clark House. 37tf

[illegible]

[illegible] two weeks [illegible] ago.

Large stones are being drawn through our streets to Lock No. 11 which is being lengthened by Wm. Patrick.

A force of men were busy Sunday and Monday, night and day, keeping the raceway clear of floating snow and ice at the Oswego Falls Mills.

The bids of contractors for building the system of sewerage will be opened next Friday evening. We are informed that half a dozen or more bids will be made.

Union services were held in the M. E. church Sunday evening. Short talks were made by Dr. D. M. Rankin, Rev. W. D. Chase and Rev. J. C. Breaker. These addresses were interspersed with music.

The annual report of the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Co. published in last week's Patriot shows a capital stock of $25,000, capital stock actually paid in $7,260.00 and amount of existing debts, $6,975.84.

Friday evening of this week there will be a pound party at the residence of A. P. Bradt and Clarance Wetherby, at Lower Oswego Falls, for the benefit of James Wiltse and wife. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

There will be a Little Folks Concert at the Congregational church, Oswego Falls, this evening. The proceeds go to the liquidation of the church debts. Everyone is invited to attend. Admission 20cts. Children 10cts.

Miss Bradford will give the first of her five lectures on "Italian Journeys" at the parlors in the Presbyterian church this evening. The second lecture will be on Saturday evening. We are informed that these lectures are very instuctive and entertaining. Tickets for the course of five lectures $1.00 and can be secured at the door. Lecture at 8 o'clock.

The rear of the Broadway House was discovered to be on fire about 10 o'clock last Friday evening. Baker Hose was soon on the spot and with a stream from a hydrant quenched the flames without a general alarm being given. Most of the damage done was from water that flooded the back part of the house.

The eleven recently discharged passenger conductors on the R. W. & O. railroad, who had two months pay due when discharged have sent out circular letters to all conductors in the state of New York asking financial assistance in carrying on their suit in the supreme court to recover from the railroad company, the wagus due them.

The duration in office of the postmaster at Pennellville, Mr. Ambrose Gregg, is something remarkable. He was appointed by President Pierce who went into office on the 4th of March, '53, and has continued to discharge the duties of that position through all the varying changes of peace and war down to the present time. Nine administrations have transpired during that period, presided over by seven presidents, all but two of whom have passed over to the majority. Mr. Gregg anticipates that he will be succeeded by the incoming administration.—Phœnix Register.

Scranton Coal, SCHENCK & FOSTER.

$1,500 00 worth of job lots to be closed out at once at prices never before dreamed of at Goodjon's.

Save 25 Master wrappers and get the "Snow Girl." 35 4 mos.

That 28c. Tea at Cary's is the best in town for the money. 20m9

SCRANTON COAL

Schenck & Foster

THE BEST.

[illegible] upon the ground that the case was out of his jurisdiction and that he had no business to try it in his court. The fines collected were both returned to the young men and upon the statement of Smith that he had no jurisdiction in the matter, young Babcock brought suit for false imprisonment in the Supreme Court. The attitude of the defense, upon cross-questioning, soon made it apparent that Smith intended, by showing that they had pleaded guilty and had been fined for assault in the third degree, to show that he had a perfect right to try and decide the case. This was seemingly doubling in his tracks and Mr. Mead seeing nothing ahead but defeat or non-suit, was literally forced to withdraw the action.—Palladium.

Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Van Buren celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their married life at their home on Seneca street Monday evening. About sixty were present in response to invitations previously sent out, including a number from Oswego and Canajoharie.

The evening was pleasantly spent by all present and excellent refreshments were served. Many beautiful china presents were received, among which were, a tea set from Cora Van Buren, Libbie Howard, Mrs H. Emory, Mrs. G. E. Church, Mrs. F. Keeler, Mrs. E. Church, Mrs. F. Wilson, Mrs. C. Church and Mrs. W. J. Watson; a library lamp, Dr. and Mrs. Simons, of Canajoharie; cream pitcher and sugar bowl, Mr. Willis Simons of Canajoharie; cup, saucer and finger bowl, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Carey; bone dishes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crandall of Oswego; bone dishes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rector of Fulton; tea set, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Van Buren, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Van Buren of Oswego, Mrs. James Van Buren and Mr. Fred Van Buren of Fulton; butter dish, Mr. and Mrs. P. Moran; cream pitcher, Mr. and Mrs Geo. Berzee; water set, Mrs. Nelson of Canajoharie; water jug and glass Mr. and Mrs. Perry Simons of Granby.

The Temple Quartet.

A good sized and appreciative audience were at the opera house last evening and with a degree of enthusiasm that responses to encores scarcely satisfied, listened to the famous Temple Quartet of Boston, Mr. Alvan G. Talmon's executions on the piano, Miss Alice May Esty's vocal accomplishments and Miss Lilian Chandler's wonderful power with the violin.

The ability of all these artists are too well known to need commendation at our hands we therefore transfer all praise to the manager of the opera house in securing this attraction for Fultonians. In musical accomplishments this company surpasses anything that ever visits Fulton and last evening the efforts of the manager seems to have been appreciated. The printed program was about doubled as nearly every effort called out an encore which was responded to.

Go to the New Shoe Store, in the Patterson block, for "Waverly Shoes." Every pair warranted.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hardware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

Come and see us in our new store, one door above the Clark House. Everything clean and new. Prices to suit everybody at Robinson's Grocery. 37tf

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by F. F. Hill, Oneida street.

TO RENT—House and barn on Academy street between 6th. and 7th Large garden and plenty of fruit. For further particulars inquire of MORGAN ROBERTS.

[illegible] lodge in Oswego on Thursday evening.

"Glimpses of Northern Italy," is the title of Miss Bradford's lecture at the Presbyterian church, this evening. "Florence" on Saturday evening.

The Farmers' Institute under the supervision of the Oswego County Farmers' Club will be held at the Court House in Pulaski to-day and to-morrow.

A reception was given Rev. J. Hollister Lynch and his bride at their home on Erie street Saturday evening. It was largely attended by members of Zion church and friends.

The snow long looked for came. As the clerk of the weather favors Volney with no homeopathic doses it came with a vengeance. Things fairly howled as the snow fell Sunday and Monday.

Several departments in the R. & O. Mills are now running over time or until 9 o'clock. Supt. Kennard informs us that he expects that he will soon have to run the mills night and day soon to fill orders.

An audience that filled about two-thirds of the M. E. church attentively listened to Rev. W. Dempster Chase's able lecture, "Brought Out as Well Up" last Friday evening. It was a good practical lecture. The next and fourth in the Y. M. C. A. course will be Rev. John C. Breaker's lecture "How Real the Other Life" at the Baptist church next Friday evening.

Neahtawanta Lodge No. 245, I. O. O. F. conferred the initiatory and first degrees on one candidate last Wednesday evening. Mr. Bangs from the state of Maine, who has visited lodges in nearly every state in the union was present and pronounced the degree work of Neatahwanta lodge superior to any that he had ever witnessed. The second and third degrees will be conferred this evening.

Lightning Did Not Strike Here.

There was considerable excitement here last week over the report that James Clark, the genial proprietor of the Clark house held two one-twentieth tickets of the number which drew the capital prize in the January drawing of the Louisiana State lottery amounting to $600,000. This would make Mr. Clark the winner of $30,000. The official circulars which have since been received show however that the numbers reported did not win and consequently a part of the capital prize does not come to Fulton

POLICE COURT NEWS.

During the recent fire on Cayuga street, some goods were moved from Lalonde's shoe shop and when Mr. Lalonde came to carry them back, he missed a pair of $7.00 shoes which he had just made for George Perkins. He related the facts to our efficient night officer Poole, who quietly worked on it until he got the suspected party to believe that it was all forgotten, where he arrested him in a saloon on Second street with the shoes on his feet. The offender proved to be John McGinty of Oswego Falls. He was taken before Police Justice Sharp and pleaded not guilty. Mr. Lalonde came forward and identified the shoes, whereupon McGinty was tried convicted and sentenced to 4 months in the County jail.

Ask the opinion of any one who has used Scranton Coal and they will say it is the best, the freest burning, less slate and ashes than any coal in the market. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

Scranton Coal, Schenck & Foster.

Great bargains in canned goods at Robinson's Grocery. Four cans of good corn for 25cts., just try it. 37tf

Goodjon has brought out his bargain counter and that means business.

[illegible] The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ingham of Syracuse, and Miss Margaret Caldwell of Bradford, Pa. Miss Ingham was arrayed in pink cashmere and white moire, with white roses; Miss Caldwell, in canary cashmere, and white moire silk with pink roses.

Horace White of Syracuse, was best man. The ushers were Charles Andrews and Frank Oliver of Syracuse, C. M. Allen, L. C. Foster, Will N. Dada, brother of the bride, of Fulton, and Dr. G. A. Andrews of Lyons, a cousin of the bride.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Mrs. F. A. Emerick presided at the organ and played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party entered and Mendelsohn's wedding march as they passed out. A reception to relatives and a few friends at the house of the bride's parents followed the ceremony at the church.

The newly married couple were the recipients of many valuable presents.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Kathryn Gray, who is quite well known as an elocutionist, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Dennison in Phœnix.

James Melligan a farmer of North Scriba dropped dead on Monday. A coroner's inquests was held yesterday which returned a verdict of death from heart disease.

James R. the son of Morris and Bridget Scanlon, died at Granby today, age one year and ten months.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

Scranton Coal, Schenck & Foster.

For three days we will sell ladies' hand turned French Kid Button at $3.00 worth $4 00 at GOODJON'S.

A Mis-Statement Corrected.

It has been stated that all traveling doctors are quacks. This is not true; nor do all quack travel. You will find quacks located in nearly every town. A physician, who is well versed and successful in treating diseases, is not a quick, whether he travels or is located permanently. "If we have to go to traveling doctors whom you call quacks, to be cured, let us have more quacks," said a man to his brother, who is a physician. This man had been a suffer from piles and a fistula for thirty years, and was readily cured by Dr. P. W. Emens. His brother could not cure him. Who was the quack in this case? Neither. The doctor who called Dr. Emens a quack, was not gentlemanly, for he was in legal practice and had not the facilities, nor did he underst and how to treat his brother, while Dr. Emens made these diseases a specialty, he had both the means and the ability, therefore the cure. "Give honor to whom honor is dues." No one has been more successful than Dr. Emens in treating chronic diseases, especially rectal maladies. This is his fifteenth year on the road as a specialist, and the fifth year he has been stopping at the Lewis House regularly every four weeks. He will be at the Lewis House on Friday Jan. 28th. Consultation free. 36t3

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 29tf

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Music Books and Music Folios at Bristol's.

[illegible]

If there is any more to win we don't want it.

WHAT DO WE WANT?

RECRUITS TO { Share Our Fight and Share Our Fun.

You'll Find Us Laughing,

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

-Did You Know It ?-

—That HART is selling the best COAL in this Section!

—If you doubt it —Try it—and you will be convinced of the Superiority of the Lehigh Valley Coal.

Hundreds of People are using the Lehigh Coal and are well pleased with the Quality, and many claim that there is more heat in the Lehigh than any coal they have ever used.

☞ Office Opposite the Bee Hive ☜

Respectfully Yours,

E. E. HART.

Sold by E. E. HART.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞ Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N.Y

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, [illegible] [illegible] Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, [illegible] Fulton Street, N.Y.

◁ SHAWL SALE. ▷

Special Prices on these goods for this week and next. We have about 50 Shawls (mostly Beavers) which we shall offer at prices that must close them in a few days. Please note prices below.

[illegible]

[illegible] Shawls Reduced to $6.50
" " " $5.50
[illegible] Law.

All Elegant Styles.

[illegible] be warm with plenty of [illegible] provided for.

[illegible] and his boys [illegible] variety of simple tools and conveniences for farm use in these comparatively leisure days.

According to Prof. Henry, of the Wisconsin Experiment Station, milk made from ensilage is much more churnable than milk made from dry fodder. Less butter fat goes out in the buttermilk.

One of the newest ideas of the day is that of an American Agriculturist correspondent to the effect that a regular system of rotation with live stock on the farm may prove as judicious and commendable as crop rotation.

The United States contains an enormous wealth of the best grading-up material in the world. She had at one time or another taken away much of the richest of British blood—in horses, cattle, sheep and pigs."

"There is nothing like heat for milk making in winter, and with ensilage for food there is no reason why the supply of milk should be any less in cold than in warm weather," says American Dairyman.

Connecticut tobacco growers say that the tobacco crop of 1888, although small, is a good one. Much of this crop was badly damaged by the early frosts of September, but all that was housed early enough to save it is of especially good quality.

The exports of apples from American ports for the season, as reported by Lombard & Sons, have been 1,046,746 barrels, including 305,548 barrels from Boston, 340,590 barrels from New York, 291,632 barrels from Montreal, 51,703 barrels from Portland and 57,305 barrels from Halifax.

"I would state as a result of my experience," says L. T. Hazen, "that a silo should not be opened until the contents have gone through the heating process and cooled down. If it is opened prematurely the contents will sour very rapidly."

Farm work for the Season.

If there is any period in the farmer's busy routine of duties when he may take a brief vacation from hard labor January and February would seem to be the off months that might be devoted to rest and recreation. To a limited extent this is true. The harvest is long since over, and the crops that have not been sold are safely stored away for use or awaiting a market for the surplus in the Spring. The thrifty ones have ere this provided their Winter fuel, whether of wood or coal, and have it properly housed for protection from the elements, and to people in other callings who are not practically acquainted with the constant requirements of farm life it might seem that the average farmer has but little to do in midwinter other than to attend farmers' institutes or clubs and discuss the best methods of agriculture, read the papers in the long evenings, and give himself up to such enjoyments of the Winter season as are afforded by the latitude of his home.

In point of fact, however, a shopkeeper without an assistant is hardly more confined to his business than are such farmers as must do the most of their own work through the Winter months. The care and feeding of stock must be attended to morning and evening with punctual regularity, for neglect at this particular season would be cruel even if it were not attended with actual loss. In the Northern and Eastern States every dumb animal the farmer owns is wholly dependent on him for shelter and food. A watchful eye and busy hands are required to keep things [illegible] rights generally, otherwise the effects of the Winter will show quite plainly in the Spring.

It is not advised that such Winter recreations as can be consistently enjoyed shall be foregone for continuous hard work; on the contrary, no people have a better right to a brief respite from ordinary labor, or have better earned the opportunities for mental improvement and social enjoyments with their neighbors than farmers and their families, who through the busier seasons of the year have been constantly employed. By proper management such opportunities can always be gained for [illegible] periods without loss from the neglect of any interest, and still much work out of doors may be done from time to time as the opportunity offers or need requires.

The farm implements that need repairs should be put in order now, and [illegible] until they are wanted [illegible] sections where a [illegible] the rule [illegible]

[illegible] and not more than 1 in 500 lives to 80 years of age.

There are on earth 1,000,000,000 inhabitants. Of these [illegible] die every year; 91,[illegible] every day, 3,730 every hour and 60 every minute, or one every second.

The married are longer lived than the single, and above all, those who observe a sober industrious conduct. Tall men live longer than short ones. Women have more chance of life in their favor previous to 50 years of age than men have, but fewer afterwards.

The number of marriages is in the proportion of 76 to every 1,000 individuals. Marriages are more frequent after equinoxes—that is during the months of June and December.

Those born in the spring are generally of more robust constitution than others. Births are more frequent by night than by day, also

The number of men capable of bearing arms is calculated at one-fourth of the population.

The most inexcusable folly is to endure dyspepsia with all its miseries, when a 25 cent package of Laxador will cure the malady.

When the disorders of babyhood attack your baby use at once Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and notice its rapid and beneficial effect. Price 25 cents.

The Story of "Annie Laurie."

The famous song that is sung by all singers of the present day, I am informed, says a writer of the Chicago Herald, is a mystery to the author. I was raised on the next farm to Annie Laurie's father and was personally acquainted with her and her father and also with the author of the song. Knowing these facts I have been requested by my friends to give the public the benefit of my knowledge, which I have consented to do. Annie Laurie was born in 1827 and was about seventeen years old when the incident occurred which gave rise to the song bearing her name. James Laurie, Annie Laurie's father, was a farmer, who lived and owned a very large farm called Traglestown, in Dumfriesshire, Scotland. He hired a great deal of help and among those that he employed was a man by the name of Wallace to act as foreman and while in his employ Mr. Wallace fell in love with Annie Laurie, which fact her father soon learned and forthwith discharged him. He went to his home, which was in Maxwelton and was taken sick the very night he reached there and the next morning, when Annie Laurie heard of it, she came to his bedside and waited on him until he died and on his death bed he composed the song entitled "Annie Laurie."

A petition is being circulated among the business men of New York, who patronize the elevated road, requesting the guards not to kill more than one member in a family who patronize the elevated road, except in cases of absolute necessity. —Life.

A Woman's Confession.

"Do you know, Mary, I once actually contemplated suicide?" "You horrify me, Mrs. B. Tell me about it." "I was suffering from chronic weakness. I believed myself the most unhappy woman in the world. I looked ten years older than I really was, and I felt twenty. Life seemed to have nothing in it worth living for." "I have experienced all these symptoms myself. Well?" "Well, I was saved at the eleventh hour from the commission of a deed which I shudder to think of. A friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did so. In an incredibly short time I felt like a new being. The 'Prescription' cured me, and I owe Dr. Pierce a debt of gratitude, which I can never pay."

The sovereign of the dusky sons of [illegible] takes $3,070,000 out of the pockets of his impoverished subjects for the sole behoof of himself and kin.

Arrested and Set Free.

Dr. J. H. Hanaford says in the Western Plowman: "If the first cough is properly treated, the first step in the direction of consumption arrested, the lungs developed, the breath set free, we need not fear consumption." [illegible] for the Throat and Lungs is the proper treatment for the first cough. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c. and $1. Sample bottle free.

The ruler of Bavaria is allowed only [illegible] a year, and [illegible] of this [illegible] clothing and [illegible] to keep them in pocket money.

[illegible]

[illegible] the blood [illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] 100 Doses One Dollar

THE GREAT German Remedy. TRUTHS FOR THE SICK. [illegible] Sulphur Bitters. [illegible] The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using Sulphur Bitters. [illegible] $1,000 will be paid for a case where Sulphur Bitters will not assist or cure. It never fails. [illegible] Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

BEST IN THE WORLD ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS. WORCESTER, MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

The Wine Produce of Europe.

The following estimate has been made of the average yearly produce of wine in the various wine-producing countries of Europe. The figures represent hectolitres of 22 gallons each; France, 45,000,000; Italy, 27,538,000; Spain, 25,000,000; Austria-Hungary, 14,000,000; Portugal, 4,000,000; Greece, 2,500,000; Germany, 2,130,000; Southern Russia, 2,000,000; Switzerland, 1,280,000; Servia, 700,000; European Turkey, 600,000; Roumania, 336,355.

Salt Rheum

With its intense itching, dry, hot skin, often broken into painful cracks, and the little watery pimples, often cause indescribable suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful power over this disease. It purifies the blood and expels the humor, and the skin heals without a scar. Send for book containing many statements of cures, to C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

The population of Japan, at the end of last year, according to the Official Gazette, was 39,069,007, of whom 19,731,854 were males and 19,337,653 females.

JUST MARRIED.

How loving they are; this is always a sure sign. After the first year sometimes it don't hold good. When Charles comes home to you gouty and snarling, unable to relish the nice dinner you have cooked, and feels as if there was a ton of pig iron in his stomach, he is troubled with dyspepsia, and Sulphur Bitters is the only medicine that will cure him. 36t2

The king of Prussia (Emperor of Germany) is not badly "fixed." The kingdom of Prussia pays him $1,335,000, and besides this he has great private domains.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

The Czar of Russia is credited with receiving $12,[illegible] and upward from his domains, but upward is an unlimited term.

CURE YOURSELF

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2-cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. 36t3

The [illegible]

NICHOLS' BARK & IRON [illegible] AN UNEQUALLED TONIC, [illegible] and children it is recommended by Physicians. Where other Tonics have failed this has made a conspicuous success. NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON can be obtained at all Druggists. BILLINGS, CLAPP & CO., Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. TRADE MARK. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. [illegible] IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR [illegible] A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. [illegible] Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Milan, king of Servia, has had a pretty tough time in governing his petty kingdom of less than 2,000,000. He and his king cost the little limited monarchy $300,000.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To the Editor—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy free to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

Switzerland gets along pleasantly with a president who is satisfied with the modest salary of $3,000 a year.

Oscar II, of Sweden and Norway rubs along comfortably on $575,525 that his subjects gracefully pay him.

WORTH KNOWING.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe Cold attended with a distressing Cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

The late Emperor William is credited with having saved 12,000,000 out of his public allowance.

BRACE UP.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to Brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of the Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Albany promises to have a "Winter carnival," and the Common Council has voted aid to the amount of $1,000.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. [illegible] Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." [illegible]

Sydney, Australia, will soon have the largest organ in the world. It will cost $75,000.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, [illegible]

7 Per Cent.

Guaranteed!

MORTGAGES

On Improved Real Estate,

—FOR SALE BY—

MEAD & STRANAHAN.

SAVE THE BABIES

by using Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure. Absolutely safe 50 cents.

Wolff's ACME Blacking

BEATS the World. It is the Best HARNESS DRESSING

The BEST for [illegible]

ABSOLUTELY WATERPROOF. SOFTENS and PRESERVES the Leather [illegible]

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

9 Cords in 10 Hours [illegible]

[illegible] and get a bottle of [illegible] Cough Killer. [illegible]

[illegible] became so interested that he forgot to breathe, and died.—Life.

Even an editor can now go from Chicago to Philadelphia for a dollar. But where to get the dollar is what gets us.—Chicago Telegram.

Jinks—"How is your new book, 'The Way to Wealth,' coming on?" Minks—"It's finished but I can't find a publisher." "Why don't you publish it yourself?" "Can't afford it."—Philadelphia Record.

In shallow Waters.—She: "I must show you my new clock before you go." He (facetiously): "Some of my friends tell me I am homely enough to stop a clock. She: "Oh, that won't matter! It can be started again."—Life.

Monsieur X.—"I have an invitation to Mme. Y.'s ball next week." Monsieur Z.—"So have I." Monsieur X. (astonished)—"Is it possible! She must intend to give a very large party."—America.

The Power of Song: "I don't understand this at all. Ever since our Lina has been taking singing lessons the door-bell is always ringing and people coming to ask if a dentist lives here.—Fliegende Blatter.

It is enough to draw tears from a wooden Indian to see a sleigh manufacturer and an ice packer meet on a street corner these days and swap sympathy.—Chicago Tribune.

It is said that the attendance at the Wagner operas in New York shows a steady falling off in numbers. It is cheaper to spend an hour and a half in a boiler foundry, and quite as refreshing.—Norristown Herald.

A Hebrew scholar, last week, in Boston, picked up a copy of one of Howell's novels. He began at the back end, recognized the style, and became so interested that he forgot to breathe, and died.—Life.

An enterprising man who had just embarked in the milk business distributed a lot of circulars announcing that he was prepared to serve patrons with "milk of the first water," As a failure he was a success.—New York Morning Journal.

First stage robber—"What did you git yesterday, Jerry?" Second robber—"Nothin'. There wasn't nobody in the stage 'ceptin' a lawyer, two plumbers and a prima donna, an' professional courtesy wouldn't allow me to touch 'em, of course."—Terre Haute Express.

Missionary (in a prison)—"My poor friend, I suppose you regard these walls with hatred, but——" Prisoner—"Regard them with hatred! No, indeed, I regard them with gratitude. They are my protection. I am in for bigamy, and both wives are furious."—Philadelphia Record.

Their brand of breath.—Representative Martin, of Texas, recently walloped a reporter because the latter said that he blew out the gas in his room. He should have gloried in the assertion. It isn't every politician who dares to monkey with the gas with his breath.—Drake's Magazine.

A countryman is being tried for the murder of an imbecile. Judge—"Can you give any explanation of the motive prompting you to do this crime?" Prisoner—"You don't know, judge, how cunning and malicious these idiots can be." Judge—"Tut, tut! Idiots are men like you and me."—America.

Seedy individual—"I have a great invention for making coal oil out of common clay; if I could interest a few wealthy men—" Capitalist—"Why don't you take a trip to the seashore?" "For what reason?" "You'd have great facilities there for telling the story of your invention to the marines."—Nebraska State Journal.

Little Boy: "I say, mister, do you know why you are like water?" Fat Man: "No, my little boy, I do not." "Neither of you can run up hill." Fat man chases boy twice around block, and whacks him with his cane.—Texas Siftings.

Teacher: "Tommy may tell us what shape the world is." Tommy: "It is round." Teacher: "How do you know it is round?" Tommy: "'Cause you told me, [illegible]" Teacher: "Yes, but [illegible]

[illegible] Scalds and Burns. [illegible]

PISO [illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM [illegible] Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. [illegible]

$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY. Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave. By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless. Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

"This is the Boot for ME!"

DON'T BUY YOUR Rubber Boots until you have seen the "COLCHESTER" with "Extension Edge" & Reinforced Top. This is the best fitting and MOST DURABLE BOOT in the market. Made of the Best PURE GUM [illegible] AND SAVES MONEY FOR THE WEARER.

DON'T BUY YOUR ARCTICS UNTIL YOU HAVE SEEN THE COLCHESTER ARCTIC with "Outside Counter." [illegible] "OUTSIDE COUNTER."

Sold Exclusively in Fulton by

S. F. HILL, Oneida Street.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. [illegible]

SICK

[illegible]

HEAD

[illegible]

COURT A[illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO C[illegible]

[illegible] Dated, Fulton, [illegible] Administrator, [illegible]

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y., Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] A. Harris, late of the village of [illegible] county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof to [illegible] office of C. M. Davis, [illegible] in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 12th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS,
C. M. DAVIS } Executors.

WANTED.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES, POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS, SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 500 TONS POULTRY & WILD GAME FOR HOLIDAYS WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON

Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day.

E. M. BALLARD & CO.
743 Myrtle Av, Brooklyn N. Y.

51797

AUSTEN'S 51797

The Ladies' Prescription,

is a combined Tonic, Blood Purifier, and Female Regulator, possessing curative principals excelled by no other remedy now in use. Its superiority over "Beef, Wine and Iron," "Calisaya and Iron," Malt Preparations and other compounds, so generally in use, is demonstrated by the remarkable cures resulting from its judicious use; therefore, in all cases of weakness, Vitiated Blood, Scrofula, Malaria, Pulmonary diseases, Dyspepsia, &c., it is a most Satisfactory medicine For sale by Druggists.

50c Per Bottle.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
87tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

—o—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.

EPPS'S

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING

COCOA

MADE WITH BOILING [illegible]

Livery St[illegible]

Nathan Row[illegible]

At his old stand [illegible] Street, [illegible] his old [illegible]

C.

[illegible] "for this
I'll cost all you [illegible] have fixed."

D.

[illegible] away,
[illegible] well and sick.
[illegible] said she, "I say,
[illegible] what is quick!"

E.

[illegible] wishing;
"[illegible] you, on the sky,
[illegible] you were drinking!"

F.

"O Lord!" [illegible] with deep-drawn sigh,
[illegible] of lobster;
[illegible] for me, O my!
[illegible] my lady sister!"
—New York World.

Worse Than Marriage.

A [illegible] old [illegible]
Was sitting alone in his room;
His toes with the gout were aching,
And his face was o'erspread with gloom.

No little ones' disturb him,
From noise the house was free;
In fact, from the attic to the cellar
'Twas quiet as quiet could be.

No medical aid was lacking;
The servants answered his ring,
Respectfully heard his orders
And supplied him with everything.

But still there was something wanting,
Something he didn't command;
The kindly words of compassion,
The touch of a gentle hand.

And he said as his brow grew darker
And he rang for the hireling nurse:
"Well, marriage may be a failure,
But this is a blamed sight worse."
—Boston Courier.

Hit or Miss.

1. What miss is that whose company no one wants? Mis-fortune.
2. What misses are those whose days are all unlucky? Mis-chance and mis-hap.
3. What miss is always making blunders? Mis-take.
4. What misses are of very jealous temperament? Mis-give and Mis-trust.
5. What miss occasions a great many quarrels? Mis-understanding.
6. What miss is a very bad mantua-maker? Mis-shape.
7. What miss is very disobedient and disorderly? Mis-rule.
8. What misses can never find a thing when they want it? Mis-lay and Mis-place.
9. What three misses are great liars? Mis-represent, Mis-inform and Mis-report.
10. What miss is awkard and rude Mis-behave.
11. What miss plays more tricks than a monkey? Mis-chief.
12. What two misses should travelers avoid? Mis-guide and Mis-lead.
13. What miss never studied an arithmetic? Mis-reckon.
14. What miss is very extravagant. Mis-spent.
15. What miss will ruin a man? Mis-management.
16. What miss should never attempt to translate? Mis-interpet.
17. What miss should never repeat anything she reads or hears? Mis-quote.—N. Y. World.

Never promise more than can be done. [illegible] has been successfully [illegible] this principle. For sale by all druggists. Price only 25 cents.

Mothers will grow weary and sigh over their baby's troubles when Dr. [illegible] Baby Syrup would relieve the child and thereby give the mother rest.

Don'ts For Good Girls

Don't allow yourself to be under obligations to any man.

Don't discuss your family affairs in [illegible]

Don't give your photographs to [illegible] and don't ask them for theirs. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] history of the life of John Howard Payne, author of "Home Sweet Home." Payne was a warm personal friend of John Ross, who will be remembered as a celebrated chief of the Cherokees. At the time the Cherokees were removed from their homes in Georgia to their present possessions west of the Mississippi river, Payne was spending a few weeks in Georgia with Ross, who was occupying a miserable cabin, having been forcibly ejected from his [illegible] home. A number of [illegible] Cherokees were in prison, and that portion of Georgia in which the tribe was located was scoured by armed squads of the Georgia militia, who had orders to arrest all who refused to leave the country.

While Ross and Payne were seated before the fire in the hut, the door was suddenly burst open and six or eight militia men sprang into the room. Rose's wife was seated on a trunk containing many valuable papers and a small amount of money, and at the unexpected intrusion she sprang up and screamed wildly. Ross spoke to her in the Cherokee language telling her to be seated, as she would thus save the contents of the trunk, and, as she sat down again, the intruders told Ross that both he and Payne were under arrest and must prepare to accompany the squad to Milledgeville, where they would be imprisoned. The soldiers lost no time in taking their prisoners away. Ross was permitted to ride his own horse, while Payne was mounted on one led by a soldier. As the little party left the hovel rain began falling and continued until every man was drenched thoroughly. The journey lasted all night. Toward midnight Payne's escort, in order to keep himself awake, began humming: "Home—home—sweet—sweet—home," when Payne remarked: "Little did I expect to hear that song under such circumstances and at such a time. Do you know the author?"

"No," said the soldier, "do you?"

"Yes," Payne answered, "I composed it."

"The devil you did! You can tell that to some fellows, but not to me. Look here, you made that song you say; if you did—and I know you didn't—you can say it all without stopping. It has something in it about pleasure and palaces. Now pitch in and reel it off; and if you can't I'll bounce you from your horse and lead you instead of it."

This threat was answered by Payne, who repeated the song in a slow, subdued tone, and then sang it, making the old woods ring with the tender melody and pathos of the words. It touched the heart of the rough soldier, who was not only captivated but convinced, and who said that the composer of such a song should never go to prison if he could help it. And when the party reached Milledgeville they were, after a preliminary examination, discharged, much to their surprise. Payne insisted it was because the leader of the squad had been under the magnetic influence of Ross's conversation, and Ross insisted that they had been saved from insult and imprisonment by the power of "Home, Sweet Home," sung as only those who feel can sing it. The friendship existing between Ross and Payne endured until the grave closed over the mortal remains of the latter.—Chicago Times.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

Auburn's Oldest Prisoner.

William Pierce, who was transferred from the state asylum for insane criminals in Auburn to the Willard asylum for the chronic insane, last week, is probably the oldest convict in point of continuous penal service in the state. He was sentenced to Auburn prison for life August [illegible], for the murder of his [illegible] Co. farmer and came to Auburn overland, there being no railroads to Auburn at that time. He served twenty years in the prison proper and was one of the first transferred to the state asylum on its completion in [illegible]. At the time he committed the crime he was but [illegible] years old and up to the day he was moved had never seen a railroad train [illegible]

[illegible]

Friday, [illegible] river [illegible]

Friday, [illegible] Bunker Hill [illegible]

Friday, [illegible] the stamp act was [illegible]

Friday, [illegible] Columbus discovered [illegible]

[illegible] Plymouth Rock.

Friday, June 13, 1786, General Winfield Scott was born in Dinwiddie county, Virginia.

Friday, June 19 1834, Spurgeon, the celebrated English preacher, was born.

Friday, November 25, 1731, the first Masonic lodge was organized in North America.

Friday, September 22, 1780, Arnold's treason was laid bare, which saved the United States.

Thomas Sutton, who saved England from the Spanish Armada, was born on Friday.

Friday, January 15, 1448 Charles the Bold, of Burgundy, was born, the richest sovereign of Europe.

Friday, November 25, 1814, the first newspaper ever printed by steam, the London Times, was printed.

Friday, October 19, 1781, the surrender of Yorktown, the crowning glory of the American army occurred.

Friday, June 12, 1802, Alexander Von Humbolt, in climbing Chimborazo, reached an altitude of 19,300 feet.

Friday, September 7, 1565, Melendez founded St. Augustine, the oldest town in the United States by more than 40 years.

Friday, April 8, 1646, the first known newspaper advertisement was published in the Imperial Intelligencer, in England.

Friday, May 14, 1686, Gabriel Fahrenheit, usually regarded as the inventor of the common mercurial thermometer, was born.

Friday, October 7, 1777, the surrender of Saratoga was made, which had such power and influence in inducing France to declare for our cause.

Friday, March 5, 1496, Henry VIII. of England, gave to John Cabot his commission which led to the discovery of North America. This is the first American state paper in England.

Friday, November 10, 1620, the Mayflower, with the Pilgrims, made the harbor of Provincetown, and on the same day they signed that august compact, the forerunner of our present constitution.

Friday, July 7, 1776, the motion was made in Congress by John Adams, and seconded by Richard Henry Lee, that the United States colonies were and of right ought to be free and independent.

Friday, March 20, 1738, Pope Clement XII. promulgated his bull of excommunication against the Free Masons. Ever since the allocution excommunicating indiscriminately all Free Masons the Order has received an immense forward impetus in Italy, France and Spain.

Friday, July 1, 1825, General Lafayette was welcomed to Boston and feasted by the Free Masons, and citizens and attended at the laying of the corner stone of Bunker Hill Monument, erected to perpetute the remembrance of the defenders of the rights and liberties of America.

[illegible]

Never cry over spilt milk when beer is only a nickel a glass.

Nine tailors make a man, and one tailor can make nine dudes.

A rolling stone gathers no moss, and it is none the worse for it.

Look not a gift horse in the mouth, but keep your eye on his [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] them critics; and now I am perfectly positive that you cannot.

As a saddle animal simply, the bronco has no superior. The lope is a term which should never be applied to that motion in any other breed of horses. I have watched a herd of cow-ponies being driven over the prairie where the undulations of the backs in the moving throng were as regular and easy as the rise and fall of the watery waves. The fox-trot which is the habitual gait of all plainsmen, cow-boys and Indians is easily cultivated to him and his light, supple frame accommodates itself naturally to the motion.

This particular American horse lays claim to another quality, which in my estimation is not the least, and that is his wonderful picturesqueness. He graces the western landscape, not because he reminds us of the equine ideal, but because he comes of the soil, and has borne the heat and burden and vicissitudes of all that pa e of romance which will cling about the western frontier. As we see him hitched to the plow or the wagon he seems a living protest against utilitarianism; but, unlike his red master, he will not go. He has borne the Moor, the Spanish conqueror, the red Indian, the mountain man, and the vaquero through all the glories of their careers; but they will soon be gone, with all their heritage of gallant deeds. The pony must meekly enter the new regime. He must wear the collar of the new civilization and earn his oats by the sweat of his flank. There are no more worlds for him to conquer; now he must till the ground."

The Woes of a President.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," says the old proverb. We do not crown our Chief magistrate in this country, but people generally take care that he shall not have too easy a time of it. Very few of our Presidents have lived long after the expiration of their term of office. Mr. Cleveland does not appear to have suffered physically, but if he has not, it is due to his unusual powers of endurance and to his philosophic disposition. Whether or not he has passed the ordeal without physical injury cannot be certainly known until after he has retired. He would probably do well to follow the example of Mr. Hayes, and devote himself to farming, for a time at least. General Harrison is likely to have a harder time of it than ever President had unless he should save himself by taking a firm stand on Civil Service Reform principles and refusing from the first to recognize any claims for services rendered in the campaign. That would give him a free and happy administration, but any attempt to constitute himself a judge of conflicting claims put forward by party workers will land him in such a sea of troubles that his position, with all its honors, will scarcely be an enviable one. Yet if he should follow the course which would be most advantageous both to the country and to himself, he will be called all sorts of hard names and will soon find himself antagonized by the very men to whom, more than any others, he owes his advancement. It [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]—A fiercely fallen enemy may rise again, but the reconciled one is truly vanquished.

Feltes—Comparison, more than reality makes men happy and can make them wretched.

Froude—You cannot dream yourself into character. You must hammer and forge yourself one.

Matthew Henry—No great characters are formed in this world without suffering and self-denial.

Colton—Men will wrangle for religion, write for it, die for it; anything but live for it.

Yes, he loves you now, 'tis true,
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
Will he love you as to-day,
When your bloom has fled away,
[illegible]
Will he love still?

Yes, if it is the true kind it will survive all the inevitable wastes and changes of life. But, it is every woman's desire and duty to retain, as long as she can, the attractions that made her charming and beloved in youth. No one can keep her youthful bloom or equable temper if weighed down and suffering from female weakness and disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a remedy for these troubles. Sold by druggists.

After the Holidays.

Young Man—This ring was bought here during the holidays for $75. I am in need of a little money, and I'll let you have it for $50.

Jeweler—The price of that ring was only $15.

"But, my dear sir, the price mark, $75 is still on the box."

"I know it is. I changed it from $15 to $75 at the request of the young lady who bought it. I'll give you $9 for it if you wish to sell."

Young man (after recovering from his astonishment)—Hand out the money.—Texas Siftings.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

Nickel-in-the-Postage Stamps.

The very latest wrinkle I have seen in the "drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot" machine is in the waiting room of the Astor House. It is a narrow, rather high, nickel-plated contrivance set on a pedestal of cherry wood. A placard reads: "Stamps. Put a nickel in the slot, wait until the bell stops ringing, and then press down the knob quickly and let go." The result is, you get two two-cent postage stamps. It works, too, for I tried it. —New York Star.

Improving Greatly.

First boy—"Have you put medicine in the the teacher's lunch?" Second boy—"Yes." First boy—"And a nail in his chair?"—"Yes." First boy—"What else?" Second boy—"Nothing; ma made me promise to be real good to-day."—Drake's Magazine.

Clergymen, Lawyers and all those of sedentary habits who suffer from [illegible]

[illegible] N.Y.

[illegible]

Mrs. Hayseed: "Did ye see any o' them sharpers in the city?" Mr. Hayseed: "Not a one, Miranda, not a one. But I met some old friends I never expected to see again. Do ye remember old Mr. Bigcrop? Well, I met a son of his. Thought both those boys was dead an' lyin' out there in the cemetery; but this one said he was snatched by grave-robbers and just as they was sellin' his body to a medical college he came to. Good enough for a book, Miranda, good enough for a book and I told him he ought to write it and he said he guessed he would and he'd dictate the book to me as his father's old friend. There's one queer thing, Miranda, this man's hair is black, while the Bigcrop boys had red hair but he said it turned black from fright. He's way up in society, Miranda and introduced me to young men named Vanderbilt and Astor and Gould and Drexel and ever so many more. I tell you, Miranda, these young fellers spent money! Some bills for cigars and things came in while we was talking, hundreds of dollars worth an' they whipped out the cash like a breeze. One of 'em happened to run short and so I lent him all I had but he said he'd send it by express to-morrow. I tell you what, Miranda, a smart like me is just as safe in the city as in the country."—New York Weekly.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part, pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "saucy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them, you, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austin's 51797, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
[illegible]
Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)

The Hopes of People who use Kaskine are always Realized in a Cure.

A POWERFUL TONIC
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM
NERVOUS PROSTRATION
THE MOST RELIABLE AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD REMEDY. Superior to quinine.
[illegible]
THE KASKINE CO., [illegible] New York.

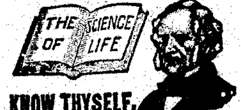
W. P. OSBORNE,
Jeweler.

WATCHES
CLOCKS
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND
No. 4, First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!
COAL!
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
—FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager."
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.
13m

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH. VITALITY!



KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation. Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!
When I say Cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to Cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.

[illegible] WANTED [illegible]
MARVELS OF THE NEW WEST.
[illegible]

[illegible]
JAMES [illegible]
[illegible]
Thos. G. Pool,
Deputy Sheriff and [illegible]
All kinds of Criminal and Civil Business thoroughly investigated [illegible]
[illegible]

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS, &c.
Fulton, N. Y.

INSURANCE
—WRITTEN IN—
The Following Well-Known Companies:
ÆTNA [illegible]
AGRICULTURAL, Watertown, N. Y.
COMMERCIAL UNION, [illegible]
CONNECTICUT, [illegible]
FIRE ASSOCIATION, [illegible]
GLENS FALLS, [illegible]
HAMBURG BREMEN, [illegible]
IMPERIAL, London, [illegible]
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE, [illegible]
MERCHANTS', Providence, R. I.
NIAGARA, N. Y. City, N. Y.
PHOENIX, Hartford, Conn.
LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.
C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
Time Table Taking Effect June 24, 1888.

[illegible]

STATIONS
Leave. Arrive.
Jay st., N. Y.
42nd St., N. Y.
Cornwall
Campbell Hall
M't'n Main St.
Middletown
Winterton
Bloom'burgh
Wurtsboro
Summitville
Ellenville
Mountain Dale
Centerville
Fallsburgh
Hurleyville
Liberty Falls
Liberty
Parksville
L'ygst'n Manor
Rockland
Cook's Falls
East Branch
Fish's Eddy
Hancock
Walton
Delhi
Franklin
Sidney Centre
Sidney
New Berlin
Guilford Centre
Guilford
Oxford
Norwich
Norwich
North Norwich
Smyrna
Earlville
Randallsville
Utica
Rome
Eaton
Morrisville
Munnsville
[illegible]
Oneida
[illegible]
[illegible]
Arrive Leave

[illegible]

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
[illegible]
Caskets and Coffins
[illegible]
EMBALMING [illegible]
[illegible]
Hearse and [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] F. D. VanWagenen, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not, is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

TO INCREASE INSURANCE RATES.

Defective Electric Light Wiring Claimed to be The Reason.

The state Underwriters Association have ordered an increase in insurance rates of 50 cents per $100 per year on all buildings where electric lights are used. The following are the circulars sent out to local agents by this association.

UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION OF NEW YORK STATE.

To all Agents Writing in Fulton:—In July last the Electric Light Company of your village had its attention called by our Inspector to the very dangerous condition of its work and was asked to make the same conform to the rules and regulations of our Electric Light Committee, which it promised to do. But re-examinations recently made have shown that these promises have not been fulfilled. Therefore this Association at its January meeting ordered that a charge of fifty cents a hundred per annum be made on all policies covering buildings (not excepting dwellings) in which electric lights are used and on all the contents thereof, per the inclosed form of permit. You are requested to take simultaneous action on the 1st prox. in making this charge and to use these forms of permit in every case.

Respectfully,
W. J. Fredrick,
Secretary.

Syracuse, Jan. 21, 1889.

The following is the permit.

FULTON, N. Y.

ELECTRIC LIGHT PERMIT.

The work of the Electric Light Company in Fulton, N. Y., having been examined by the Inspector of the Underwriters' Association of New York State and pronounced unsafe and the company having neglected to correct the same to conform to the rules and requirements of the Association, an additional rate of fifty cents per hundred per annum is ordered on all policies written after January 31st, 1889 and a pro rata charge on the same basis on policies in force at that time, covering buildings in which electric lights are used and on the contents thereof.

Additional premiums under this policy, $.............

A pro rata rebate will be made when the work of the Electric Light Company shall have been corrected and the same approved by the Inspector of the Underwriters' Association of New York State.

We interviewed yesterday, the representatives of the two electric light companies, Mr. G. C. Webb, secretary of the Fulton-Schuyler Co., said that when the inspector was here last summer he told him to see that the company followed the rules adopted by the Edison system of wiring and it would be satisfactory to the Board of Underwriters. This, Mr. Webb said had been done and further said that if any point was found where they had not complied with the requirements his company would attend to the matter at once and make the necessary change.

Mr. G. G. Chauncey, manager of the Thomson-Houston electric light company stated that their company had complied with all the requirements as far as inside wiring is concerned. That at an expense of over $300 they had erected high poles on which to complete outside wiring that would more then satisfy the requirements, when trouble arose concerning the erection of the pole at the corner of First and Oneida streets with Mr. Johnson. Fhe matter was carried into the courts and awaiting its settlement, the company had delayed doing anything in this matter. A dicision is expected daily and if in favor of the company the wires will be stretched on the high poles at once; if adverse some other arrangement will be made to protect their patrons against this enormous increase in insurance rates. The proximity of wires of the incandescent and arc system of both electric companies, the crossings of the same and also of telegraph and telephone wires seem to have caused this action on the part of the Underwriters Association. As both electric companies are desirous of remedying any defect and as the permit states that "a pro rata rebate will be made when the work of electric light wiring is corrected," it is probable that the matter will soon be satisfactorily adjusted.

[illegible]

[illegible] has an appetite for drink, he must overcome that appetite and his only cure is Religion. When meets occasions of sin, temptations, etc., he must resist them, his strength is religion; not a phantom of religion, but the true spirit of religion; we must have recourse to our Savior and request his his grace. This is done by prayer; we must not think it sufficient to be 'honest men' "we must be religious men; we must believe and practice what we believe. Those "honest citizens" who never injure others but who profess no religion are negative Christians and little better than polished heathens.

We must not serve God as an abstract being, so far away from us that he takes no interest in our welfare, we must adore Him and serve Him as one present everywhere, without whom we could not live. One who keeps a strict account of every thought, word and deed, of man, one from who each must expect reward or punishment according to his works.

In a word, all other means suggested for the restriction or suppression of intemperance are of no avail without religion. Therefore we should all adopt this means. Take the pledge in the name of God, pray and avoid the occasion. Then saloons will be a failure, and not till then.

Let young ladies read the following terrible story and never keep company with tipplers or wine-bibbers but with men who who are sober and religious. REV. WM. EARLEY.

She arose suddenly in the meeting and spoke as follows:—"Married to a drunkard! Yes, I was married to a drunkard. Look at me! I am talking to the girls."

We all turned and looked at her. She was a wan woman, with dark, sad eyes, and white hair, placed smoothly over a brow that denoted intellect.

"When I married a drunkard I I reached the acme of misery," I was young, and oh, so happy! I married the man I loved and who professed to love me. He was a drunkard, and I knew it—knew it, but did not understand it. There is not a young girl in this building that does understand it, unless she has a drunkard in her family; then, perhaps, she knows how deeply the iron enters the soul of women when she loves and is allied to a drunkard, whether father, husband, brother or son. Girls, believe me when I tell you that to marry a drunkard, to love a drunkard is the crown of all misery. I have gone through the deep waters, and know. I have gained that fearful knowledge at the expense of happiness, sanity, almost life itself. Do you wonder my hair is white? It turned white in a night—'bleached by sorrow,' as Marie Antoinette said of her hair. I am not 40 years old, yet the snows of 70 rest upon my head; and upon my heart—ah! I cannot begin to count the winters resting there," she said, with unutterable pathos in her voice.

My husband was a professional man. His calling took him from home frequently at night, and when he returned he returned drunk. Gradually he gave away to temptation in the day, until he was rarely sober. I had two lovely little girls and a boy." Here her voice faltered, and we sat in deep silence listening to her story. "My husband had been drinking deeply. I had not seen him for two days. He had kept away from home. One night I was seated beside my sick boy; the two little girls were in bed in the next room, while beyond was another room into which I heard my husband go, as he entered the house. That room communicated with the one in which my little girls was sleeping. I do not know why, but a feeling of terror took possession of me, and I felt that my little girls were in danger. I arose and went to the room. The door was locked. I knocked on it frantically, but no answer came. I seemed to be endowed with superhuman strength, and, throwing myself with all my force against the door, the lock gave away and the door flew open. Oh, the sight! the terrible sight!" she wailed out in a voice that haunts me now; and she covered her face with her hands, and when she removed them it was whiter and sadder than ever.

"Delirium-tremens! You have never seen it, girls; God grant that you never may. My husband stood beside the bed, his eyes glaring with insanity, and in his hand a large knife. 'Take them away,' he screamed. 'The horrible things, they are crawling all over me. Take them away, I say!' and he flourished the knife in [illegible]

[illegible] takes to do this. You are no match for the giant Demon Drink when he possesses a man body and soul. You are no match for him, I say. What is your puny strength beside his gigantic force? He will crush you, too. It is to save you, girls, from the sorrows that wrecked my happiness that I have unfolded my history to you. I am a stranger in this great city. I am merely passing through it, and I have a message to bear to every girl in America—never marry a drunkard!"

I can see her now as she stood there amid the hushed audience, her dark eyes glowing and her frame quivering with emotion as she uttered her impassioned appeal. Then she hurried out and we never saw her again. Her words, "fitly spoken," were not without effect, however, and because of them there is one girl single now.

Excursion to Montreal.

The Montreal Winter Carnival, February 4th to February 9th, 1889, will be the grandest winter event ever witnessed on the American Continent. The novelties and attractions will surpass those at any preceding carnival. The toboggan slide will be open day and evening to all visitors free of charge, and illuminated every evening with fireworks, electric lights and bonfires. The skating rink will be open day and evening with Montreal bands in attendance, and among the special features will be five o'clock tea at Victoria skating Ring. Fancy dress balls and fancy dress carnivals on the ice. The various snow shoe and athletic clubs will give races, tramps and bounces for the amusement of visitors. The trotting races on the ice will be exciting and interesting. On Wednesday evening, Feb. 6th, at 9 o'clock, the storming, defence and capitulation of the ice palace by the "Snow-shoe Clubs" advancing from the Montreal field battery; the attack to commence simultaneously from all sides of the palace; the defence by the garrison, and onslaught of the invaders, with the dissolving illumination of the palace, previous to the capitulation forms the grandest spectacular ever to be witnessed in any part of the world.

All public buildings will be illuminated on Wednesday evening. The grand Winter Mardi-Gras will consist of a procession of ancient and modern equipages, platform cars filled by representative clubs presenting fantastic scenes. Grand ice structures will be erected in various parts of the city. The R. W. & O. R. R. will run a special excursion on Tuesday, February 5th, returning on Thursday, February 7th, at the extremely low rate of Five dollars ($5.00) for the round trip from any station on its Line East of Rochester, and arrangements have been made to run Wagner sleeping cars through to Montreal, which will be side-tracked in convenient places, near the Grand Trunk station at Montreal, to be occupied by passengers during their stay in Montreal. The Wagner Hotel Cars can also be chartered at very low rates. The route of the excursion, will be over the all-rail through line via Massena Springs, which will be formally opened for this event. Trains will run through solid to Montreal without transfer, entering the city over the famous Victoria Bridge across the St. Lawrence River.

Why use common soaps when you can get the Master for 5cts a cake.
$5 4 mos.

We have for sale a large number of Tobacco Cases.
Bogardus & Johnson,
Lumber Yard Cor. of Broadway and First Streets. 20tf

Dexterville.

(Special correspondence to The Times.)

William Stork is in poor health. He is troubled with asthma.

Erastus Cole has moved onto Norman Knight's farm in Volney. He is to work it this season.

For some time past there has been a steady increase of members in the reformed Methodist church at South Dexterville and the society is now in a flourishing condition under the direction of [illegible]

[illegible]

And all of the wealth, and the riches of earth,
Can't bring me back to myself again.
Wm. H. Harper.

Pittsburgh, Pa.

OBITUARY.

Died of typhoid fever—Mrs. Lena B. Collins of Lansingburgh, N. Y., at the age of eighteen years, nine months and three days.

Mrs. Collins had very recently the care of her husband through this same disease and came to the house of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parker of this village to rest, recuperate and visit among her relatives and friends. She was stricken down with this dread disease within four days, and died, after an illness of ten days, on Friday the 25th inst. at 4 o'clock, a. m.

Mrs. Collins was married only nine months ago.

The bereaved husband and parents are well nigh distracted in this grief, at the loss of one who seemed destined to cheer and comfort them for many years.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence of her father, on Seventh street, at three o'clock Monday afternoon, by Rev. O.H. Denney, of Gilberts Mills, who so lately solemnized the marriage ceremony for this family.

Thus Mt. Adnah gathers the light and life of another stricken and desolated home.

The following gentlemen served as bearers: D. Spencer, J. Albee, L. Goman, E. Waugh, F. Porter and G. Mace.

Died in Volney on Jan. 28, 1889, M. Rosalie Morehouse, only daughter of George W. Thomas, aged 36 years, funeral services will be held from her late residence on Thursday at 1:30 p. m. Rev. O. H. Denney will officiate.

Died of cancer on Sunday Jan. 27 at her home in Granby, Hariett, wife of Peter Kitts at the age of 53 years. Funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial at Mt. Adnah.

HOW'S THIS!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

E. H. VANHOESEN, Cashier, Toledo National Bank, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. ☞Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle. 87t4

Parish.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The dairy convention held in this place last Tuesday by Messrs Gardinier and Gilbert under the auspices of the late dairy commission was largely attended and was a great success. In the discussing of the ensilege and silo questions, the farmers were so convinced of their utility that many farmers have resolved to build silos the coming season. These conventions are doing much good and farmers should make it a point to attend them.

Last Saturday a farmers' club was formed in our town. Supervisor Berry is elected president and Edward Palmer, Secretary. Two vice-presidents were elected. During the formation of the club the idea was expressed by many farmers present that our townsmen had been guilty of a great wrong in allowing it to be reported about that our soil is of a poor quality. Our soil is good generally. It is well adapted to raising different kinds of cereals, vegetables and grasses. It is also excellent for dairying. Since the farmers have become farmers in earnest they are raising large and excellent crops.

The Norfolk colored jubilee singers had a large audience here last Saturday evening. [illegible]

[illegible] the Senate bill is by no means satisfactory to all Republicans, [illegible] that tariff legislation will not be apt to be passed by the present body, although it is known that the President would sign the bill.

The bill passed the Senate at eight o'clock on Tuesday night. A great many rumors of party desertions had occurred and it was with relief that the Republicans saw Senators Stanford and Plumb fall into line. The Pennsylvania iron men had brought their Senators into line two days before. Senator Riddleberger, as in duty bound to preserve his erratic record; stated to the Senate after the vote that if he had not been paired with Mr. Blodgett he would have voted against the bill, as he objected to the Plumb amendment creating a customs commission to prepare tariff statistics, as being another official junketing party. If Senator Riddleberger had voted, the vote would have been a tie and the Republicans would havs been defeated. Senator Riddleberger is a very important man—on a vote.

By four o'clock in the afternoon the galleries of the Senate Chamber were filled to a great extent with that immense minority of Washington people who patronize every free show no matter of what character. The people who go to public receptions, Marine Band concerts, big funerals and fires with equal gusto, were on hand promptly, filled with a hearty tariff ignorance and a thirst for a sight of a fight that did not materialize. Before 7 o'clock the Senate floor was crowded with members from the House wing of the Capitol, with whom the Senators were chatting. The long and dreary roll calls had commenced and no Senator dared leave his place.

Still the scene was very tame compared with that in the House last June when the Mills' bill was passed. Apart from Mr. Plumb's blind efforts to reduce the duty on cotton ties one half, there was even harmony. When the Mills' bill passed a surging heated mass of humanity struggled for every available inch of room from which a view of the House could be obtained, and every desertion of party met with mingled cheers and derision. This excitement, however, was due to no interest in the tariff itself. It was regarded merely as an element of the campaign, for political purposes only and no one was foolish enough to expect that the bill would ever become a law.

Now that Mr. Bayard has washed his hands of the Samoan difficulty, Congress appears equally slow in taking action. The Republican members of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee are indisposed to make rapid progress, as they do not yet know what policy the next administration will follow. Probable it is that Mr. Harrison will receive the question as a legacy from this administration. By that time it is to be supposed the affair may have been settled by the prompt action of England. Neither Germany nor the United States could afford to give battle. Germany has her hands full with her watchful European enemies, and this country has no Navy with which to make war.

Whether for not, as Mr. Bayard's friends allege, Mr. Cleveland has treated him "merely as a clerk," he is held responsible for his own political death. From the Kelley imbroglio to the Sackville folly Mr. Bayard's administration has been singularly unfortunate. From the fisheries treaty to the Morocco trouble the State Department has exhibited very little but its weakness. In avoiding vital issues it has become the rival of Dickens' "circumlocution office." Nor can the blame for this condition of affairs be shifted to the President's shoulders.

[illegible]

(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

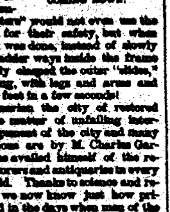
Jay Piper has been to Richfield Springs, the past week.

There will be another Prize Concert in Hubbel Hill church, February [illegible]

[illegible] of Fulton has been spending the past two weeks at Volney [illegible]

[illegible]

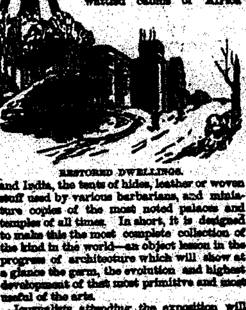
[illegible] the way, only having to climb the last few rounds. When at the level of 600 feet the "mounters" complained of vertigo, charged that the arrangements for their safety were not sufficient and demanded 20 centimes more per hour. The demand was refused, and it was shown that, so far from being uneasy, the "mounters" would not even use the means employed for their safety, but when their day's work was done, instead of slowly descending the ladder ways inside the frame work, they boldly clasped the outer "slides," placed for hoisting, with legs and arms and glided down 200 feet in a few seconds!



COMING DOWN.

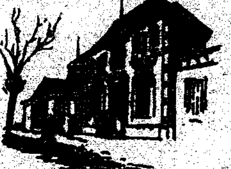
To the antiquarian the city of restored dwellings will be matter of unfailing interest. The arrangement of the city and many of the restorations are by M. Charles Garnier; but he has availed himself of the researches of explorers and antiquarians in every part of the world. Thanks to science and recent discoveries we now know just how primeval man lived in the days when men of the Eskimo type fought the cave bear and gigantic elk in Great Britain, and eaters of raw fish built in the Swiss lakes, down through all the changes and improvements of cave, hut and cabin to the modern palace. All these will be represented in the queer "city of restorations" stretching along the Seine on both sides of the bridge of Iena.

In the "city" will be exact reproductions of the lake dwellings of primitive man, houses of the stone age and the age of bronze, specimens of the tree dwellings of various savages, of the improved cave and the house that was a rare imitation of a cave. There will also be representations of all the peculiar dwellings of today: the mud huts of Egyptian fellaheen and Syrian peasants, the wattled cabins of Africa and India, the tents of hides, leather or woven stuff used by various barbarians, and miniature copies of the most noted palaces and temples of all times. In short, it is designed to make this the most complete collection of the kind in the world—an object lesson in the progress of architecture which will show at a glance the germ, the evolution and highest development of that most primitive and most useful of the arts.



RESTORED DWELLINGS.

Journalists attending the exposition will find extraordinary preparations made for their convenience, the "pavilion of the press" being one of the most conspicuous buildings on the ground. It is a frame, of two high stories and an upper hall, situated in an open space on the handsomest part of the grounds, that is, facing the flower parterres and terraces which extend in front of the palace of the fine arts. The press building contains a reception hall, hall of conference, rooms for work, reading rooms well supplied with books of reference, and the most ample arrangements for telephoning and telegraphing.



THE PRESS PAVILION.

It is not unreasonable that an American paper should devote so much space as this to a French enterprise, for this is no common anniversary. It is, indeed, not so much French as it is international. [illegible]

Farmers' Institute.

The Farmers' Agricultural Club of Oswego County, will hold a

Two Days Meeting, at

Stephens Opera House,

FULTON, N. Y.,

Tuesday and Wednesday,

February 5th and 6th, '89.

Morning Meetings at 10:30; Afternoon Meetings at 2 o'clock. Evening Meetings, 7:30.

The State Agricultural Society will send to these meetings COL. CURTIS of Carlton, N. Y., MR. CONVERSE of Woodville, Jeff. Co., N. Y., MR. POWELL of Sullivan Co., and many others.

There will be no lack of able teachers to instruct and interest all. Agriculture and its subjects are of great importance and fully appreciated. A great crowd is sure to be present. Everyone is Cordially Invited.

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, Reed and Rattan

ROCKERS,

In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tables

Of All Descriptions.

Foot Rests, Blacking Cases

Writing Desks, Easels Book Cases, Children's Chairs

Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts.
All at Rock Bottom Prices.

Brown's Furniture Store.

Times Block.

The amount expended on intoxicating liquors in Ireland for the year 1887-88 was £11,041,568.

HONEST.

In these days of adulteration and fraud, in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters in curing scrofula; you can depend on them everytime. W. B. EVERTS, A. M., Charleston, S.C. 29w4

It is estimated that 32,000 families are homeless in London through intemperance.

The place to get your Bell Hanging, Locksmithing, Key Fitting. Carpet Sweepers and Clothes Wringers Repaired; Lawn Mowers Sharpened, and repairing of all kinds is at the Model Shop, over Morrow's Grocery Store.

S. J. PARMITER, Fulton, N. Y.

☞Special Attention to Stencil Cutting and Electric Work.

Parties Supplied at wholesale prices with Fruits, Candies, Nuts, &c., &c., at short notice. Also dishes loaned a D. G. Draper's No. 6, First street.

$5 1889. $5

ROME, WATERTOWN, & OGDENSBURG R. R.

MONTREAL WINTER CARNIVAL.

GRAND EXCURSION,

Tuesday, Feb'y 5th, 1889.

$5

From all Stations on the line of R. W. & O. R. R. East of Rochester.

Opening of the new Massena Springs all-Rail Through Line to Montreal.

Trains run solid from all stations on the R. W. & O. R. R., east of Rochester, to Montreal without transfer, entering the city of Montreal over the world famous Victoria Bridge across the St. Lawrence River. The tickets are good going only on trains from Utica, Rome, Syracuse and Rochester, on the morning of Tuesday, February 5th, 1889.

WAGNER PALACE CARS

will run through to Montreal and will be side-tracked at the Grand Trunk station in Montreal in convenient and central places, and will be occupied by passengers during the stay [illegible]

RETURNING, excursion train will leave Montreal, Thursday, February 7th.

This excursion is run at the request of a great many people who desire to [illegible] and [illegible] that the R. W. & O. R. R. run a popular excursion at a low rate.

[illegible]

Change of Own[illegible]

Having purchased [illegible]

[illegible] WESTERN R. R.

[illegible]

"PHOENIX LINE,"

[illegible] leave Fulton station as follows:

[illegible]

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Delos Durfy, Commissioner of Highways is reported as quite sick.

Mrs. W. J. Pentelow is steadily recovering from her severe illness.

Arthur Gilbert has been quite ill for the past two week. He is now out again.

Michael Sullivan, contractor and Edward Lansing, civil engineer, both of Little Falls, are in town.

W. J. Frederick of Syracuse, secretary of the state Underwriters' Association, was in town Monday.

Barney Chubb, a former Fulton boy, now of Witchta, Kan., is here visiting relatives and friends.

P. F. Conger who has been at Minneapolis, Minn. since last spring is again in Fulton for a short time.

Mrs. E. E. Earl of New York city and her three children are in town the guests of the lady's brother, G. W. Morton.

Dr. E. F. Marsh, N. G., of Neatahwanta lodge, Fulton, was a visitor at Oswegatchie lodge on Thursday evening.—Palladium.

Dr. W. H. Loomis has gone to New York city, where he will take a post graduate course in the N. Y. Polyclinic college. He will be absent about three months. It is the doctor's intention to make a specialty in eye, ear and nasal diseases and he goes to one of the best institutes in the country to perfect himself in these branches.

A BIG, LONG, "HELLO!"

You Can Talk to a Man in New York, Buffalo, or Boston.

Mr. Henry Osborne, the special representative of the American Telegraph and Telephone company, showed a Times reporter yesterday the workings of the long distance telephone. Connections were made with Buffalo and the reporter enjoyed a a very pleasant chat with Miss —— beg pardon——"No. 25." The ticking of a watch at either end of the line could be heard as plainly as if it was laying on the desk in front of the instrument. Albany and Poughkeepsie were next rung up and their answers came back as clear and distinct as from our own central office. Connections were made with New York and a pleasant conversation was held with the executive officers of the company. The service between this city and New York was excellent; a conversation could be carried on with greater ease and more distinctness than in any two telephones in this city. The Boston line was in use and connections could not be made with that city. The service covers about 1,000 miles of territory and extends from Buffalo to New York, Boston to Philadelphia. There are fifty offices along the line. Owing to the rapid increase of business a new line of twelve wires is being put up between New York and Boston and in the near future the service will be extended to Cleveland and Chicago. In this telephone the circuit loop consists entirely of wire, whereas in the other lines the circuit is made in ground wires. Mr. Osborne will soon issue invitations to all the prominent business firms to visit the office in the Granger block and test the service. A toll station has been located there and Syracusans may transact their business with New York and Boston firms as easily as if they were in this city.—Syracuse Sunday Times.

The [illegible] Tea at Cary's is the best in town for the money. 32m3

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

A [illegible] at Hill's new shoe store, on Oneida [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

After the opening of the bids an adjournment was made until 7 p. m., while the the civil engineers, Messrs. Landreth and Fitzgerald of Schenectady ascertained the result. The figures up to that hour not being completed, a further adjournment was made until 7 p. m., when Mr. Landreth read the amounts of each bidder as given above. As will be seen the lowest bidder was M. Sullivan of Little Falls. Owing to some misunderstanding concerning sureties on the bond which Mr. Sullivan furnished but which have since been rectified and owing to the fact that no extra charge was to be made by Captain Jennings for rock excavations, it was decided to adjourn, to still further consider the matter, until this evening, when the contract will probably be awarded. The only unknown factor in the specifications for this work was the amount of rock that would be encountered. The estimate of the engineers was 2,000 yards. This is considered by some more and by others less than what will be met.

This system of sewerage which now looks as though it would be completed before the year is ended, is to be constructed under the plans of James T. Gardiner, a drainage engineer of Albany, N. Y. They were drawn by him in July 1886, received by the board and filed in June 1887, and extend over the following territory:

The main sewers on Second street begins at State street with a lateral sewer extending up State street to Sixth, this having branches between Broadway and State on Third, Park, Fourth and Fifth; on Fourth and Fifth between Pratt and State and on Pratt between Fourth and Fifth, The lateral sewer on Broadway has branches on Third, Park and Fourth, between Broadway and Highland. The Highland sewer has branches on Third, Park and Fourth, between Academy and Highland. The Academy sewer has one branch on Third extending to Buffalo. The Buffalo sewer has one branch on Fourth between Academy and Buffalo; the Rochester sewer has branches on Third and Fourth between Buffalo and Rochester, also a branch on Rochester between First and Second. The Utica street sewer has no branches. The Cayuga street sewer extends from First to Third and has no branches. The Oneida street sewer extends from First to Third and has one branch on Third between Oneida and Cayuga; the Seneca sewer, one branch on Third between Seneca and Oneida. The Erie sewer no branches. The other main sewer is on Fifth beginning at Broadway and has the following branches. It has lateral branches on Broadway, Highland, Academy, Buffalo and Rochester between Fourth and Fifth; on Utica between Third and Fifth; on Cayuga beginning a short distance east of Third and extending halfway between Fifth and Sixth; on Oneida beginning at Third and extending nearly to Sixth; on Seneca between Third and Fifth; on Fourth between Second and Erie; Erie between Second and Fourth. At the foot of Erie the two main sewers meet and pass along Seneca to the foot of Ontario street where they turn to the west, pass under the canal and empty their contents into the river.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Jan. 30, 1889: Mrs. Emma Green, Hattie Doyle, Ebenezer Johnson, C. L. Lewis, S. E. Grant, John Butler, Willie June, Will Baldwin, Miss E. Osborne care of Rev. E Osborne, Dr. C. H. Nickloy, F. McCaine, M. L. McDade, Mrs. A. M. Goodness.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. Hill, Oneida street.

Music Books and Music Folios at Bristol's.

One dollar will buy a five gallon can, full of oil, at Robinson's Grocery, one door above the Clark House. 27tf

New goods and new prices at the new shoe store in the Patterson.

Halifax is the only place in Nova Scotia that is disgraced by a licensed bar-room.

Go to the New [illegible] [illegible] Patterson [illegible] by [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Mrs. F. A. [illegible] parties to her [illegible] home, corner of [illegible] streets, one on Wednesday and another on Friday evening.

In another column will be found a poem, "Poverty." It won the second prize offered recently by the Pittsburgh Press-Union and was written by Will E. Ralph, who has a large circle of friends in Fulton.

The Young Folks Concert recently given under the auspices of the Congregational church society will by request be repeated at the church on Wednesday evening of next week. An orchestra from Oswego will also be present and assist.

The little folks' concert at the Congregational church last Wednesday evening is reported to have been a complete success in every particular. A supper was given in the basement of the church after the concert. About $75 was cleared.

Small-pox has broken out at the Onondaga county house, four miles out of the city. This morning's Standard announces that there are now 15 cases. About a hundred persons have been exposed in the men's department of the poor house. Quarantine has been established.

Children's Festival will be held in Church's hall, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. Among the attractions is the Neal Flute band, with thirty pieces, of Oswego, which will be in attendance on one of the evenings. The proceeds to go to the new Catholic church fund. Admission 15 cents. Children 10 cents.

Mr. Sullivan, the lowest bidder for constructing the village sewers, called upon us yesterday and desired us to state that if the contract is awarded to him, Fultonians will have the preference in work on the same, that all available laborers here will be given employment and no foreign laborers employed unless it is ascertained that more are needed to complete the work within the specified time.

The Oswego Falls correspondent of the Palladium says: A few days ago the workmen engaged in digging for the foundation of the Orchard Lock, below Fulton in the Oswego canal, came across a petrified foot of a mastodon. Near it was also found one of the ankle bones in a state of perfect petrifaction. The curiosity has been labeled and given to Daniel Sullivan who has it at his saloon in Broadway.

J. N. Whitman has transferred the lease which he has held on the Gilbert house on Fourth street, to G. C. Webb who will occupy it soon. Mr Whitman had hoped to retain his residence here and after his business in Pennsylvania was thoroughly under way to return and put to some use his property at lower Oswego Falls. His venture in Pennsylvania has proved a success but as his personal supervision is required he finds it necessary to give up all thoughts of retaining Fulton as his permanent residence.

Bargains in Corsets for the next 30 days. Dr. Warner's Health Corset $1.00. Pivot, Balls, Duplex, Flexible, Hip and other well known corsets at less than cost. Also an odd lot of $1 corsets to close out at 50cts, at H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S.

Great bargains in canned goods at Robinson's Grocery. Four cans of good corn for 25cts., just try it. 27tf

Take Notice.

All persons indebted to me are requested to call at the market and settle as I have sold out and desire to straighten up accounts.

P. CULLEN. 27tf

A fresh supply of Canned Fruit just received at J. E. Cary's, Cayuga St.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6 First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 25 per cent less than ever before.

[illegible]

[illegible] The following program [illegible]

"[illegible]" ....Temple Quartette

"[illegible]" (with [illegible]) ....Miss [illegible]

A [illegible] "[illegible]" ....Temple Quartette

"Give with All Your Heart" ....Mr. [illegible]

"Cinderella in Arms." ....Temple Quartette

"I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" ....Miss [illegible]

"Remember Now Thy Creator," ....Temple Quartette

"God is Love," ....Temple Quartette

"Nearer My God to Thee." ....Temple Quartette

Waite's Comedy Company.

We commend to the theatre-going people of Fulton the above named theatrical troupe which appears at the opera house every evening this week. We consider it the finest that has every played here at popular prices. Unless we mistake the pulse of the people in this vicinity good houses will greet this excellent company every evening during the remainder of their stay here.

"Pique" was the play on the opening night followed on Tuesday evening by "The French Spy." This evening "Pug" will be presented. All of the actors and actresses are persons of ability and assume their parts with an ease and grace that is commendable, while their plays never drag but go on with a degree of symmetry that is fascinating and pleasing.

The orchestral program each evening is worth the price of admission. Waite's Premium band and orchestra nightly furnish new specialties and happy surprises and have made a most favorable impression.

Farmers' Institute.

The Farmers Agricultural club of Oswego county by a unanimous vote at their last meeting held in Pulaski on Wednesday and Thursday of last week decided to have its next meeting in this village on Tuesday and Wednesday Feb. 5 and 6. The opera house has been secured for this meeting. The state agricultural society are expected to send to this meeting several well known persons including Col. Curtis of Carlton, N. Y. prominent in state agricultural circles and Mr. Converse of Woodville, Del. Co. N. Y.

$9.99

Will buy a Complete Outfit:

Men's $8.00	Chinchilla Overcoats	$3.79
" 9.00	Corkscrew Coat & Vest	4.23
" 4.00	All Wool Pants	1.97
$21.00	Value For	$9.99

at

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

ROBINSON'S GROCERY

Removed to TIMES Block, one door above the Clark House. Give us a call. 27tf

Use Master Soap. 35 4 mos.

Holmes Fragrant Frostilla cures Chapped Hands, &c. Beware of base counterfeits and worthless imitations. The genuine is sold by R. E. Phillips Druggist. Call and get a sample bottle. 35w4

Men's pure gum boots for $3.00 at Hill's new shoe store, in the Patterson block.

TO RENT—House and barn on Academy street between 6th. and 7th Large garden and plenty of fruit. For further particulars inquire of

MORGAN ROBERTS.

IT IS THE BEST.

When buying Flour be sure and get the Electric Light brand. The only place to buy it is at J. E. CARY'S.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see those fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

[illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] is fine.

Jay VanBuren, employed as brakeman on the R. W. & O. Railroad recently severely crushed his hand while coupling cars. He is visiting at his home while the injured member is healing.

The Iron Molders Union No. 22, Fulton, N. Y. will hold a grand ball at Church's Hall on Feb. 14. The committee will spare no pains to make this the most enjoyable event of the season.

Mr. Lincoln E. Collins and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parker wish to tender their thanks to the neighbors and friends, who so kindly came to their assistance in the care of the sick and the burial of their dead.

It was stated in THE TIMES two weeks ago that Collector Bradley would collect town taxes at one per cent for "thirty days from Jan. 18th." This was a typographical error and should have read thirty days from Jan. 5th.

Fire broke out at 10:30 Monday night in the fire proof shaving bin structure connected with the Oswego Manufactureing Co's. big shop in Oswego. It took the firemen until 3 a. m. to put it out. The damage did not exceed $400.

Dry goods store in the village now close at 7 p. m. and shoe stores, grocery stores, hardware stores and clothing stores at 8 p. m. This applies to all evenings except Mondays and Saturdays. Can't saloon keepers unite in the closing movement and give bummers an opportunity to spend a few evenings at home with their families?

Esther Durfee of Oswego Falls has sued the Fulton and Oswego Falls Street Railway company for $5,000 damages. She received injuries from tipping over of a car on the road last spring. Miss Durfee, should she be awarded the full amount of the damages claimed, will probably be in the position of one who obtained a judgment for damages for injuries received from the bite of a dog. The owner of the animal wanted to settle the claim by giving her the dog.—Phoenix Chronicle.

The last entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course will be held on Friday evening Feb. 8, and will consist of vocal and instrumental music by the Syracuse University Glee club assisted by Rev. A. S. Durston of Syracuse in recitals. Mr. Conrad Becker who recently delighted a Fulton audience will render several selections on the violin. He is considered one of the best violinists in Central New York.

A large number of Fultonians have looked at the bright star which appears in the western sky and announced to their friends in a semi-dubious but thoroughly earnest manner that it was an electric light sent up every evening from the Warner observatory at Rochester. Don't waste your breath in advocating that this is true, because some one said it was so, or bet any of your loose change. It is the planet Venus which shines so brightly.

DRESS GOODS.

We will sell for the next 30 days Dress Goods at 85cts. on the $1.00.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Browning place on the Emery road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit; to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 24 Oneida St. tf [illegible] the Widows of [illegible] Chas. Taylor was [illegible] Cone, [illegible] Cole [illegible], E. G. [illegible] and E. [illegible] were appointed a committee on [illegible] and A. E. Powell, Chas. Taylor and E. L. Huntington [illegible] finance.

[illegible]

Recently a stranger, representing himself as the general agent of the Brooklyn White Lead Co. arrived in town giving his name as C. F. Benson. He induced Marcus Crahan to become local agent for the company that he pretended to represent and quoted him prices that would make it an object for him to accept.

A day or so later he made preparations to leave town and asked Mr. Crahan to go the bank and identify him as he wanted to get a draft on the company for $75 cashed. Mr. Crahan went to the 1st. National bank with him and indorsed the draft on which the money was secured. The sharper then left town and later the draft came back unhonored. A representative of the Brooklyn company was here last week investigating matters. He said that the man who represented himself as their general agent is a fraud and has been traveling about the country deceiving people.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Peter Pepper arrived in town Saturday last. He formerly lived here and considered that he knew how to get into jail for just three months and no longer. In company with a Chas. Price they invested what money they had in rich "tanglefoot." When their filthy lucre gave out they purloined from some market a ham which they endeavored to exchange for more drinks but were unsuccessful. They then thought to secure some article more salable, so Pepper tripped lightly over to Nettleton's and took a pair of rubber boots. Probably feeling that it was better to be doubly armed he went across the street and took some cloth from O'Brien's store. Soon the two cronies with their plunder were seized by Officers Warner and Clark and hustled into the "cooler" where they had an opportunity to rest from their labors over Sunday on the new mattrasses.

On Monday, before Police Justice Sharp, Price pleaded guilty of intoxication and was given 60 days. The illustrious Pepper announced that whenever he took liquor to warm his system, a desire to steal something stole over him. He stated how on many occasions he had pilfered coats, &c. His honor thought it best to place him where he would be safe from all temptation over the 4th of July, so he ordered him taken to the Oswego jail for six months.

William Sever, who keeps a poolroom in Cayuga street, was arrested on complaint of "Will" Cook, for keeping a gambling house, and in Police court was fined twenty-five dollars and ninety days in jail. The sentence was suspended during good behavior. It is said that Cook caused Sever's arrest through spite. He is a baggageman in the employ of the American Express company. He played poker in Sever's place and when the proprietor took sixty cents out of his chips for a debt Cook protested and finally caused the arrest.—Cor. Syracuse Herald.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hardware store, of JOHN WILSON. 27tf.

Come and see us in our new store, one door above the Clark House. Everything clean and new. Prices to suit everybody at Robinson's Grocery. 27tf

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

[illegible]

[illegible], Fame, Favor, Friends

[illegible]

[illegible]?

RECRUITS TO { Share Our Fight and Share Our Fun.

You'll Find Us Laughing,

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

SCRANTON COAL

Takes the Lead because it is the Best Coal in the Market!

Schenck & Foster

We have no old stock in our sheds, but receive it by rail, giving our customers the benefit of a fresh mined Coal.

OFFICE, TELEPHONES: { Yard, West end Lower Bridge, Bristol's Store, First Street, Dexter Bros., Oswego Falls.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

—That HART is selling the best COAL in this Section

—If you doubt it —Try it—and you will be convinced of the Superiority of the

Lehigh Valley Coal.

Hundreds of People are using the Lehigh Coal and are well pleased with the Quality, and many claim that there is more heat in the Lehigh than any coal they have ever used.

☞ Office Opposite the Bee Hive. ☜

Respectfully Yours,

E. E. HART.

Sold by E. E. HART.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞ Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

SHAWL SALE.

Special Prices on these goods for this week and next. We have about 50 Shawls (mostly Beavers) which we shall offer at prices that must close them in a few days. Please note prices below:

While we advertise this SPECIAL SALE, we wish our customers and friends to remember that our SPECIAL SALE [illegible]

Regular $10.00 Shawls Reduced to $6.50

" $ 9.00 " " " $5.50

[illegible] Proportionately Low.

All Elegant Styles.

[illegible] applied to fruit," according to Dr. Hoskins.

The period of cheapest growth of an animal is before the animal matures.

For a cabbage, both early and late, Vick speaks in great praise of the variety called All Seasons.

"A cow fed partly on ensilage will be healthier and make more butter than when fed on dry feed," affirms Col. Curtis.

After washing a horse's feet and legs they should be thoroughly dried, otherwise cracked heels, &c., are invited.

A wrench and one or two tools for making repairs are easly carried in the farm wagon and come very handy at times.

Small potatoes boiled and mixed into the warm mash given in the morning will help poultry along through the next two months.

Cream needs stirring frequently, to mix the different skimmings and to aerate and ripen it evenly, says A. L. Crosby.

"High grade sulphate of potash is valued by tobacco growers who wish a manure rich in potash," according to S. G. Hubbard, a New England tobacco grower.

Rural Home reminds the farmer that "when the blizzard howls and the farmer yearns for the warm fireside, then it is that stock require the most care."

At the late annual meeting of the the American Association of the Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations held at Knoxsville, Tenn., representatives from thirty states were present.

Professor A. J. Cook tells in the Country Gentleman that he was never so pleased with winter feeding of his stock as during last winter while feeding ensilage.

Apropos of strict business principles among the farmers, Massachusetts Ploughman asks:" How many of them can tell us what it costs to grow a bushel of corn, to make a pound of pork or of poultry or beef, and which pays best?"

Seedsmen's catalogues again claim attention. Many of these are veritable guides and novices sepecially will find them useful. Most of them are mailed free of charge on written application when a postage stamp is sent for return postage.

"A frequent change of diet is necessary to the health and growth of the pig," says D. L. Thomas, President of the National Swine-Breeders' Association. He claims that much loss from what is commonly known as cholera may be avoided by care and a mixed diet, or change of diet.

Sawdust is one of various substitutes for straw as bedding. As it does not make so warm a bed as straw, a correspondent of the Rural Home suggests using it as an underbed, with straw or leaves above. The straw or leaves so used last much longer, and the air of the stable is kept purer by the greater absorbent power of the sawdust underneath.

Good Points for Ensilage.

One of the discoveries made by Prof. Henry of the Wisconsin Agricultural College, in his experiments in feeding ensilage, says an exchange, is that the cream from ensilage milk is more churnable than that from the milk of cows fed on dry fodder. That is, more of the butter particles can be gathered in churning, and fewer remain in the buttermilk. The good points in favor of ensilage and corn fodder multiply every year. It will not be many years before the hardest head among us will be forced to admit its merits.

People who have been sneering at ensilage for years, without investigating or experimenting to ascertain as to its merits, are respectfully advised that the above facts and prophesies may be worthy of their consideration.

Feed on the Farm

There is much wisdom in the following comprehensive sentence, and though the facts it embodies have often been uttered in various forms, they are worthy of being read and regarded by every soil-tiller: "When grain and hay crops are sold off the land they carry away the fertility of the farm; but when such crops are fed to stock, not only is a portion of the crops left over as manure, but a higher price is received for such crops in the shape of beef, pork, mutton or milk, which enables the farmer to restore any loss of fertility by the increased receipts consequent upon the keeping of stock."

Girl Conductors in Valparaiso.

"It is amusing to watch a stranger on one of the street cars in Valparaiso," said Bishop H. C. Riley of Santiago, Chili, who recently arrived in this city, as he was speaking of the customs of his native country the other day. "The stranger first gazes all around for the conductor, and then a look of surprise steals over his face as he sees a pretty young woman coming down the aisle and collecting the fares. The fact is, that in the recent war in which Chili has been engaged, all of the able bodied men, including the car conductors, were pressed into service. The conductors had to be supplied by girls. They made themselves so [illegible] that although the men have long been mustered out of service, the girls have [illegible] [illegible] years.

If it costs [illegible] for ten years, it would be at the rate of [illegible] per year, and the interest on the whole outlay at 6 per cent. would be [illegible]. Add to this at least four tons of hay, which has averaged in the past two years $12 per ton, $48; one ton of straw for bedding, $7; ninety bushels of oats at 30 cents per bushel, [illegible]; shoeing, $5, and it would be a cheap job to care for a horse, wash wagons, etc., for $1 per week, which would bring the price to $52 per year, or the sum total of $197.42 for the year at moderate figures. And yet we find thousands who keep a horse and have no real business for it and do not keep a cow, when the cost of keeping a horse will keep two cows, and yet they do not see how they can keep a cow.

Read Newspapers and Study.

Our advice to young men is to study politics all the time. Begin now to keep the current run of events, not only at home but abroad.

Watch the struggle in France, which now present a scene of stiring interest, as the threatened revolution approaches, with Boulanger rising above the angry surges of the troubled waters.

Mark the progress of the home rule idea in the British Parliament, and especially the part the "grand old man" is taking in it.

Note the attempts that are being made to establish civilization in Africa.

In order to do this you must do more than read the newspapers carefully. You must delve into history. You should, also, read carefully the best works you can find about the science of government.

The political parties in our own day present a study well worth watching carefully. Above all, make it a point to analyze motives, and separate the good from the bad, carefully make up your mind as to what is right, but do not blind yourself to the faults in your own party; make it a rule of your life never to do in politics anything that you would account wrong in business or social life. Any young man who views the passing struggles of men and parties from the high plane of intelligence and virtue will not only be a credit to himself and his party, but will be a good to the nation.—New Haven Register.

Appropriations For Agriculture.

Congress made the following appropriations for the Department of Agricultnre for the current year: Experiment Stations, $595,000; Bureau of Animal Industry, $515,000; seed distribution, $104,200; sorghum sugarcane investigation, $100,000; collecting statistics, $65,000; Silk culture, $30,000; botonical investigations, $20,000; vegetable pathology, $15,000; entomological investigations, $20,000; food adulterations studies, $1,000; chemical laboratory, $6,000; bird and animal investigations, $4,000; forestry investigations, $8,000; gardens, museums, library, etc., $41,990; postage and contingencies $19,000; salaries, $167,620—making a total of $1,716,010.

An Unsuccessful Seance.

Superstitious young man (to clairvoyant) can you reveal the dark secrets of the future?

Clairvoyant—With the aid of my powerful horoscope I can, for fifty cents; but I must go into a trance first."

Young man—All right; here's your fifty cents, and you can get into your trance as soon as you like. I only want to ask you one question. (Clairvoyant in a trance.) Do Sullivan and Kilrain ever mean to fight?

Clairvoyant (arousing from the trance.)—Here's your fifty cents, young man; you must ask me something easier.—Hamilton Spectator.

A Crushing Blow.

"May I look through your wastebasket?" inquired the young man, entering timidly.

"Certainly," said the editor. "What do you want to find."

"A little poem on 'Mortality' that I sent in yesterday."

"My dear sir, that poem has been accepted and will appear to-morrow. I will draw you a check for $36 and I assure you——"

But he spoke to lifeless ears. The young man had fallen to the floor. The shock had killed him.—Chicago Tribune.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe is said to be in better health now than she has been for years and walks quite readily with the aid of a cane.

An Attack of Gravel!

[illegible]

[illegible] 100 Doses One Dollar

[illegible]

SULPHUR BITTERS [illegible] TO DESTROY. [illegible] Use SULPHUR BITTERS [illegible] all others fail.

The Dose is small—only a teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it, and you will be satisfied.

Get it of your Druggist.

DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE.

If you are suffering from Kidney Disease, and wish to live to old age, use SULPHUR BITTERS. They never fail to cure.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

A man can hire a house in Japan, keep two servants and live on the fat of the land, all for a little over $20 a month.

An Offensive Breath

is most distressing, not only to the person afflicted if he have any pride, but to those with whom he comes in contact. It is a delicate matter to speak of, but it has parted not only friends but lovers. Bad breath and catarrh are inseperable. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases as thousands can testify.

There are nine cables connecting Europe and America, which utilize 118,000 miles of cable.

Stop that Cough,

Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c and $1. Sample free. 37w4

Mrs. Wheeler, one of the London beauties of the Langtry type, has opened a bric-a-brac shop.

Arrested and Set Free.

Dr. J. H. Hanaford says in the Western Plowman: "If the first cough is properly treated, the first step in the direction of consumption arrested, the lungs developed, the breath set free, we need not fear consumption." Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is the proper treatment for the first cough. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c. and $1. Sample bottle free. 37w4

The Heartless Wretch.

Auctioneer (at close of church festival)—Here we have another fine cake. How much am I offered for it? Start it along lively. How much?

Mr. Grindstone—One dollar.

Mrs. Grindstone (whispering delightedly)—That's good of you, Jonas. I made that cake myself.

Auctioneer—One dollar—dollar—dollar going at a dollar—do I hear the—

Mr. Grindstone (loudly)—I didn't say a dollar. I said one dime.—Chicago Tribune.

Inventions of the 19th Century.

[illegible]

PLASTER [illegible]

NICHOLS' BARK & IRON

AN UNRIVALLED TONIC [illegible]

and children it is recommended by Physicians. Where other Tonics have failed this has made a conspicuous success.

NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON can be obtained of all Druggists.

BILLINGS, CLAPP & CO., Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. TRADE MARK. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. [illegible]

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Early in the new year a national convention of women will be held to consider the question of domestic labor.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To the Editor—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

In Italy there are eight American born princesses, seven marchionesses, twelve countesses and a baroness.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Dacatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at R. E. Phillips drug store.

Mrs. Vicey Chance of Polk county, Arkansas, is reported to be 122 years old. She has a son who is 88.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 51y1

Sarah Bernhardt has had a great success at Cairo. The Egyptians call her "Cleopatra's Needle."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

Mary Auderson has a sister younger and plumper than herself and who is said to be even more beautiful than the tragedienne.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. [illegible]

7 Per Cent.

Guaranteed!

MORTGAGES

On Improved Real Estate,

—FOR SALE BY—

MEAD & STRANAHAN.

SAVE THE BABIES

by using Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure. Absolutely safe 50 cents.

Wolff's ACME Blacking IS A GREAT LABOR SAVER. [illegible]

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

[illegible]

[illegible]

"No, I don't think he did.—He was bound to take to it naturally."—Traveler.

[illegible]—Boston Bulletin.

Smith—How are Quilpen's poems selling?

Robinson—Oh, [illegible]—Burlington Free Press.

The right hand man of a lunch waiter is most unfortunate. It is frequently in the soup.—New Orleans Picayune.

A glance at the stage as it is now conducted seems to indicate that Worth makes the [illegible] of him the ballet girl.—New York Press.

Passenger at Union depot: "Please give me a ticket to Philadelphia."

Station agent: "Yes; with or without Indianapolis stop over coupon."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Belle was asked where her little brothers, aged four and two, were. She replied: "They are sitting on the door-step talking about old times."—Boston Youth's Companion.

"I used to think," said Uncle Ezra, "that this thing of gals kissin' pug dogs was purty rough, but since I come to town an' see some of the dudes—well maybe the gals ain't so much to blame arter all."—Merchant Traveler.

Lady friend—"What is the hardest thing connected with your editoral duties, Mr. Lumpley?" Editor—"The hardest thing is to leave the impression that I am out of town on the first of the month."—Nebraska State Journal.

Stern father—It is useless, sir, to ask me for any more help. I have done all for you that I shall ever do. You can go hang yourself if you choose.

Scapegrace son (wildly)—Never! I'll marry first.—Chicago Tribune.

Daughter, aged 35 (facetiously): "Papa, I found a dozen gray hairs in my head this morning and pulled them out. Don't you give me away though." Father (sighing heavily): "Give you away, Emily? I've abandoned all hope of it."—Chicago Tribune.

"Have you ever tried our spring earmuffs?" asked the polite salesman of a customer who complained of cold ears. "No," said the other, "I don't need 'em in the spring."—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

It is not always the man who looks the wisest who knows the most, but most people don't know this, so that it will pay you to look just as wise as you possibly can.—Somerville Journal.

Minister (to Bobby). "So yesterday was your sixth birthday, was it, Bobby?" Bobby (with great pride): "Yes, sir." Minister: "You seem to be proud about it, Bobby." Bobby: "I am; pa's got to pay fare for me on the street cars now."—New York Sun.

The Present.—Scene: A Toronto household.—Mamma (to Edie, aged three and a half years, just home from her first morning at the kindergarten): "Well, Edie, how did you like it?" Edie: "I didn't like it a bit. The teacher put me on a chair and told me to sit there for the present and I sat and sat and she never gave me the present!—Detroit Free Press.

There may be need of reform in the ballet, but when you are sitting before a tragedy and a man climbs over you after a beer keg every time the curtain goes down, there is need of reform off the stage as well as on.—Detroit Free Press.

Teacher: "Tommy, what is half of eight?" Pupil: "Sideways or top?" Teacher: "What do you mean?" Pupil: "Why, half from the top of 8 is 0, and [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

PISO

[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

[illegible]

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM [illegible]

Women

"Run-down," debilitated and overworked women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is a potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to Women; [illegible] Favorite Prescription is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee [illegible] Large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women, [illegible] pages, with full directions for home-treatment, send ten cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

"This is the Boot for ME!"

DON'T BUY YOUR Rubber Boots until you have seen the "COLCHESTER" with "Outside Counter." [illegible] MOST DURABLE BOOT in the market. Made of the Best PURE GUM [illegible]

DON'T BUY YOUR ARCTICS UNTIL YOU HAVE SEEN THE COLCHESTER ARCTIC with "OUTSIDE COUNTER." [illegible]

Sold Exclusively in Fulton by S. F. HILL, Oneida Street.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. CURE SICK [illegible]

[illegible]

COURT APPOINTMENTS.

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

[illegible]

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego county, [illegible] A. Harris, late of the village of [illegible] county, deceased, to present [illegible] the vouchers thereof, [illegible] office of C. H. Davis, [illegible] before the 11th day of May, [illegible] and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY E. HARRIS, C. H. DAVIS } Executors.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons [illegible] Parley, late of the town of [illegible] county, deceased, to present [illegible] the vouchers thereof, [illegible] office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of [illegible] in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, [illegible] benefit of the statute in such cases made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th, 1889.

CATHARINE PARLEY, Administratrix.

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR;

Or Social and Moral Culture.

Introduced by Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, having the largest sale of any strictly subscription book published. Terms and circulars free; if you mean business and want to commence work at once send $1 for outfit. Exclusive Territory guaranteed. Hoping to secure your services for 1889, we are, Yours truly,

LYMAN W. DICKERSON & CO.

919 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

(Mention this paper)

WANTED.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES, POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS, SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 200 TONS POULTRY & WILD GAME FOR HOLIDAYS. WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day.

E. M. BALLARD & CO.

748 Myrtle Av. Brooklyn N. Y.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply, to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,

87tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,

LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,

DODGERS, HANGERS,

CASES, COMPLAINTS,

POINTS, OPINIONS,

TICKETS, PROGRAMS,

POSTERS, INVITATIONS,

WEDDING CARDS,

ORDER OF DANCES,

&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.

EPPS'S

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING

COCOA

[illegible]

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowley

[illegible]

[illegible] Single Copies [illegible]

[illegible]

Our [illegible] in the [illegible],
[illegible] to dare,
And [illegible] kissed the maid,
Though her father and mother were there.

But the sports of the Christmas time are o'er
And [illegible] remembered now;
The maiden [illegible] by the youth no more
Beneath the mistletoe bough.

The mistletoe's down and thrown away,
So the joy (?) of the maiden shy,
And the youth isn't quite so free to-day
When her father and mother are by.

When he kisses the beautiful damsel now
At the door before he goes,
It is not under the mistletoe bough—
He kisses her under the nose.

A Tale Without a Moral.

Three giddy, giddy, little flies,
Upon a summer's day,
Longing to see the outside world,
Resolved to run away.

Old Grandpa Fly sat on a bowl,
And overheard the scheme.
Quoth he, "Children, I'm old and wise,
Have had that self-same dream.

Though life so glittering seems to youth,
And everything looks grand,
The world is treacherous at the best—
Be careful where you stand."

Now, when the little flies heard this
Their spirits 'gan to droop,
When—Grandpa Fly slipped on the edge,
And fell into the soup.

THE PROPER THING.

Violet and rosy heliotrope are revived.

Black Chantilly laces will be used again for summer dresses.

Suede, new silver, fawn, pole olive and apricot are popular shades.

Directoire and empire designs and colors will be continued in the spring and summer.

High head gear is a thing of the past and the feature of hats and bonnets is extreme flatness.

Plaids of great size in the new arrangements of the popular colors will be worn by young misses.

The fashion of having removable trains is growing. They are fastened to the waist by handsome clasps and buckles.

Stripes will be worn again in the spring. The rough surfaced suitings have both wide and narrow stripes of a contrasting color.

Fur trimmings are used about the neck and waist of mantles and jackets, but in no case is the fur border carried around the lower edge of the garment.

Plain chambery or striped and plaid ginghams will be used for little girls' wash dresses. The full, round skirts have a deep hem and are gathered to a belted waist.

Among the new and handsome colored Henriettas are patterns with wide stripes and borderings, the designs woven thereon closely resembling Kensington embroideries.

Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is in good demand; everybody speaks well of it. The price is only 25 cents.

Persons of sedentary pursuits are predisposed to constipation; such should always use Laxador, which insures safety against constipation and all of its disastrous consequences. Price only 25 cents.

Aphorisms.

He who can take advice is sometimes superior to him who can give it.—Von Knobel.

A man who cannot mind his own business is not to be trusted with the king's.—Saville.

A good word is an easy obligation; but not to speak ill requires only our silence, which costs us nothing.—Tillotson.

It is good discretion not to make too much of any man at first, because one cannot hold out that proportion.—Bacon.

Instruction ends in the schoolroom, but education ends only in life. A child is given to the universe to educate.—Robertson.

The truly generous is the truly wise.
And he who loves not others lives unblest.
—Home.

No man can possibly improve in any company for which he has not respect enough to be under some degree of restraint.—Chesterfield.

I hardly know so melancholy a reflection, as that parents are necessarily the sole directors of the management of children, whether they have, or have not, judgment, penetration, or taste, to perform the task.—Greville.

Two Specimens.

Father—"Do you see that man with the satchel? How jolly he looks! How full of hope are his beaming smiles! How fresh his stride! Do you mark him?"

Son—"I do father."

"See you that other man? He hath a satchel, too. How sad he looks! How ghastly are his attempts to be cheerful! How like a pall-bearer he moves! Do you know those men?"

"Nay, father."

"They are both great Republican statesmen. They have carried the country on their shoulders. The jolly one is just going to Indianapolis to see Harrison. The other one has just come back."—Philadelphia Record.

[illegible]

A TALE [illegible]

BY [illegible]

A letter received to-day chides me for not writing something for the girls. In the past few years I have said so many things about them that I hardly know if I can write anything new; or, what is still more important, put in print that which will strike them so forcibly as to make them heed the advice.

Girls, you are worth all the time and thought I can give you. Girls are the nicest things on earth when they are nice; but, when otherwise, they are horrid.

I presume the most serious time in a girl's life is when she is about 16 years of age, and from that up to 22 to 23. After that she can do her own thinking, if she ever will.

All persons have their peculiar ideas about what kind of girls they like. Some admire grave-looking, sedate, timid girls. Others, those who are full of life and animation, without being boisterous or belonging to the class of girls called "Tom boys." The latter suits me.

That girls should kill off traits in their make-up in order to be recognized as polite and ladylike I take very little stock in. It is always best to be natural, provided it is not carried out to the extreme.

Girls are made different. Some have blue eyes, others black; some have curly hair and others have hair as straight as a fiddle-string. Some have dimples, others none. Some are blondes, while others are brunettes. Some have laughing eyes, while others have eyes that pierce you through. Some have voices sweet as the harmony of a flute; others when they talk cause the cold chills to run down your back, the same as when you hear a saw being sharpened. Some have bewitching ways (though they are otherwise very plain), while others, with every feature just right, are unattractive for want of the first spark of magnetism. Some win you by their educational acquirements, while others capture you by their every-day common-sense and pleasant words.

Girls are a peculiar institution. A great luxury to have, and at the same time a continual anxiety.

If I should be asked to picture with my pen the model girl, it would be something like the following:

In stature, neither too tall nor too short—say five feet six inches. Complexion—not too pale nor too dark. Features—not pronounced in any way so as to attract attention. Disposition—gentle, laughing, contented, and yet not without a certain shade of seriousness that gives dignity to all her actions. Conversation—animated, but not so as to preclude anybody else having a chance to get in a word. Mental attractions—well read, but not too profound; a knowledge of history, poetry, and the common branches of education taught in our public schools. Some people like to see girls walking encyclopedias; but my observation has been that such girls don't live long. A general knowledge of how to be good housekeepers in girls may not be held in such high estimation by young dudes as those little coquettish ways that some girls appear to be thoroughly acquainted with; but the opinion of dudes is not worth a cent a ton.

Girls, as a rule, should always take advice from their mothers. In a few cases, however, I have known girls who could give their mothers lessons in how to think, act, and go through life; but such instances are very rare.

Girls are a good deal better than boys naturally. I cannot explain why this is so: nevertheless, I believe it. They do not seem to carry such a load of the "Old Adam." They appear to be free from the bad vices of boys, such as fighting, swearing and raising mischief wherever they go.

They also seem to be almost naturally religious. If you doubt me, go to any of our churches and look over the membership rolls.

But girls have their defects; they cry easily—and if there is anything on earth that presents a distressed appearance it is a girl crying. Too horrible to contemplate. Now when a boy cries there is something to laugh at, for he goes to work at it so oddly. He first looks kind of foolish, then a few tears trickle down his cheeks, then he applies his coat-sleeve to his face, and finishes up with rubbing his eyes with his dirty hands. He looks comical, knows it, and bursts out laughing. But when girls cry they do not appear to know the exact time to stop, but keep it up until their good looks are spoiled, and then get mad and pout.

Girls are not so quick to forgive as boys; but when they do forgive they forgive all over. I like to see two girls "making up," as they always seal it with a kiss. Boys don't do it that way. They say, "Call it square," and that is the end of it till the next time.

It always [illegible]

[illegible]

Summer [illegible]

What is home without a [illegible]?

A California [illegible]—an eloping couple.

Black eyes are usually followed by the blues.

It is the late cat that catches the early bootjack.

Beef was high when the cow jumped over the moon.

Is one of the objects of soldiers' drill to make noise in the enemy?

When trains are telescoped the poor passengers see stars.

Even in dull times the cooper does a staving business.

Pictures of cats should always be drawn in purr-spective.

"Many men of many mines" are said to be plentiful in the mining states.

Necessity is the mother of invention, but patent rights is the father.

After man came woman, and she has been after him ever since.

A little unit[illegible] is more to be desired than a big gas bill.

A cow has died in Michigan from chewing tobacco. Did you heifer hear the like?

A Detroit restaurant-keeper advertises for "a boy to open oysters fifteen years old."

Liquor works much evil which accounts for the dealers wanting to rectify it.

It is a mistake to assume that a rose by any other name would smell as wheat.

There is one thing that every man puts off from day to day, and that is his necktie.

A lover's embrace may be likened unto a tree when it merges into a sigh-press.

Isn't it paradoxical that 1.20 o'clock is past 1, while 1.30 o'clock is only half-past?

Why should no fish caught in a net act wildly as long as they are in-seine.—N. Y. World.

Points For Pugilists.

"An upper cut"—A sirloin steak.

"Throws up the sponge"—A diver.

"Holds the watch"—A pawnbroker.

"A knocker out"—The man without his night-key.

"Toes the scratch"—A chicken.

"A knock-down blow"—The late tornado.

"Time!"—On the dial.

"Hugging their corners"—Grain speculators.

"A terrible 'left'"—Grover Cleveland.

"On the mark"—A drawing master.

"Sparring for wind"—Becalmed yachtsmen.

"Got it in the jaw"—An aching tooth.

"A cross counter"—The fellow who fails to make both ends meet.

"A black eye"—I.

"In the ring"—An engaged girl's finger.

"Out of time"—The man who has pawned his watch.

"Has bellows to mend"—A blacksmith.

"On the ribs"—An umbrella-cover.

"A drawn battle"—The artists.

"An old rounder"—The man at the wheel.

"Plays for the [illegible]"—A beggar.—N. Y. World.

Passages From [illegible] Stories.

A western paper recently offered a prize for the best story to be written by a pupil of a public school. Here are a few passages from the contributions:

"Cora Brown was fortunately the [illegible], for she was the daughter of [illegible]."

"But all this time a cloud was gathering over Mrs. Delaney, which as years went by, and that cloud was full of grasshoppers."

"My father [illegible] me to marry a bank President, a [illegible], [illegible] man, fond of naught save the gaming-table."

"'Vat I [illegible] I dell you!' shouted the [illegible]."

"As she [illegible] began a cold, [illegible]."

"The Jews celebrate Christmas in the [illegible]."

[illegible]

[illegible] It is now it [illegible] we begin to get five [illegible] of out of one [illegible] three or six per cent. [illegible] five per cent. [illegible] is not the [illegible] connection with [illegible]ery, although that would be a great thing in [illegible]. [illegible] many men are working on—and I have been doing a good deal at it—is to get a simple and inexpensive apparatus for applying the force that is in coal directly to the work that it is to do. That would revolutionize the world of machines, for it would do away largely with boilers and engines. No, it is nothing like what Keely is after, because he is trying to get something out of nothing. The thing I speak of is bound to be done."

THE ARIZONA KICKER.

A Pleasant Extract Culled by The Detroit Free Press.

We extract the following from the last issue of The Arizona Kicker:

POOR SHOOTING.—As we were returning to our office from the Widow Smith's the other evening (we have been sparking the widow for several weeks past) and just as we came opposite the old Indian fort, some person whose manners certainly need polishing up, fired four bullets at us from a revolver. The intent, no doubt, was to kill us. It took us about the millionth part of a second to realize this fact and then we opened out for a run and made good our escape.

We don't claim to be great shakes on shooting but if we can't hit the editor and proprietor of a great and growing weekly at a distance of twenty feet once in four shots, we will leave Arizona. We don't claim to be a Chesterfield but if our manners permitted us to hide away behind an old wall and begin popping at a gentleman without warning we'd expect to be mentioned in the same line with a hyena.

Alphabetic Conundrums.

When should we read the book of nature? When autumn turns the leaves.

Why is the letter e like death? It is at the end of life.

Why is the vowel o the only one sounded? Because all the others are inaudible.

Why is i the happiest of the vowels? Because it is in the centre of bliss, while e is in hell and the rest are in purgatory.

Why is the letter k like a pigs tail? It is at the end of pork.

Why is the letter s like thunder? It makes our cream sour cream.

What is the difference between a dog's tail and a rich man? One keeps a wagging and the other keeps a carriage.

What is the difference between an apple and a pretty girl? One you squeeze to get cider and the other you get 'side to squeeze her.—Chicago Mail.

[illegible]

but there is no other remedy for sick headache, dizziness, constipation, biliousness, or to restore a regular, healthy action to the liver, stomach and bowels, equal to those reliable little "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" prepared by Dr. Pierce. Of druggists.

[illegible] of Death.

The act of dying, it is now ascertained, is absolutely free from suffering; is really unconscious, insensibility always preceding it. Any anguish that may attend mortal illness ceases before the close, as [illegible] who have recovered, after hope had been surrendered, [illegible] witness. Sudden and violent death, shocking to the senses, may not be, probably is not, painful to the victim. Drowning, hanging, freezing, shooting, falling from a height, poisoning of many kinds, beget [illegible] of the nerves, which is incompatible with sensation. Persons who have met with such accidents and survived them, testify to this. Records to the effect are numberless.—Forum.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Wages have been low, and for the last two years he has received only $[illegible] per year, but for the whole time his wages have probably averaged $[illegible] per year. Of this amount he could have easily saved $[illegible] per year, or a total of $[illegible], the interest of which would have increased it to $[illegible]. Instead of this, when finally discharged on account of drunkenness, he had nothing ahead. He had drawn his wages and spent them as he went along.

Three years ago I had in my employ through the summer months a young man who graduated the following year at a village high school where the standard of scholarship was high. He was a capable farm laborer, but this was too slow and quiet a life for him so he went to Cleveland, where he works as driver on a street railroad. His associates are low and uneducated, and I doubt if he has saved a cent. Farm life may be slow and quiet, but it keeps young men occupied either working or resting, and it is not as expensive for clothes as those occupations which forbid the wearing of patched or ragged garments. The farm hand has neither the opportunity nor the temptation to spend money that lies in the path of a young man who works in town.—American Agriculturist.

It is sweet to live, but oh! how bitter—to be troubled with a cough, day and night. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, however, is a sure remedy. 25 cents.

"I cannot sing to-night! My throat is sore." "Of course you haven't tried Salvation Oil?" "No." "Then get it, and you'll sing like the birds."

Watch the Market.

An evidently shrewd observer says that considerable of success on the part of farmers depends upon keeping a close eye to the market. The first of any new crop will almost always command a high price, and soon after, when there is a rush for the market, prices rapidly decline. Unless one can be among the first, it is better to hold until the prices have passed the cost stage and comes back to a more normal condition. It is the forcing of the market that brings low prices, and for that reason a close watch should be kept of the reported supply and demand.

You [illegible] wide
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] sky.

Not unlike the thrifty oak in its germ, development and growth, is consumption. But even this mighty foe of mankind, positively yields to the wonderful curative properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery if taken early. Don't be blind to your own interests and think yours a hopeless case. This remarkable remedy has rescued thousands. Of druggists.

An [illegible] Teller.

The Siamese ape is said to be in great request among Siamese merchants as a cashier in their counting houses. Vast quantities of base coin [illegible] in Siam, and the difficulty of discrimination between good money and bad would appear to be [illegible] by these [illegible] monkeys in [illegible] degree of development that no human being, however carefully trained, can compete with them. The cashier ape [illegible] gets into his mouth [illegible] in business [illegible] with great [illegible]. The method of testing [illegible], and in a matter of [illegible], his decisions [illegible] by [illegible] interested in the transaction.

[illegible]

[illegible] N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, [illegible] young girls [illegible] for which we [illegible] womanhood—the rosy [illegible], the free movements, the rounded [illegible]? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part, pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sassy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's [illegible], the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS [illegible] Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

KASKINE

(THE NEW QUININE.)

The Hopes of People who use Kaskine are always Realized in a Cure.

A POWERFUL TONIC

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION

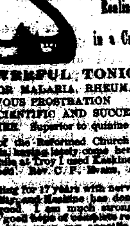
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

I am Pastor of the Reformed Church of the [illegible], having lately come here from Troy, N. Y. While at Troy I used Kaskine and it did me much good. Rev. C. P. Evans, Alexandria Bay, N. Y.

I have been ailing for 17 years with nervous dyspepsia and debility, and Kaskine has done me a great deal of good. I am much stronger and [illegible] have good hope of complete recovery. The effect of Kaskine upon my appetite is very marked, and it is only three months since I began [illegible]. [illegible], Newcastle, Del.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

KASKINE CO., [illegible] St., New York.



You will save Money, Time, Pain, Trouble, and will cure CATARRH by using Ely's Cream Balm.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

WEAK KIDNEYS BACKACHE [illegible] Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster [illegible] 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

SPECIAL Announcement.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Will sell during this Month

SKATES

At Specially Low Prices.

[illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE, Jeweler,

CLOCKS

—AND—

A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.

No. 4, First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m

THE GLORY OF MAN STRENGTH. VITALITY!

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY UNTOLD MISERIES

Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation. Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation.

Avoid unskilful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!

When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of

FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,

A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to Cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address

H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

[illegible] AGENTS WANTED. Active young [illegible], teachers and [illegible]

"MARVELS OF THE NEW WEST."

[illegible] 6 books in one volume. Over 350 [illegible] A new [illegible]

[illegible]

Business Cards.

[illegible]

JANE BROADWELL, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST, OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,

Cor. [illegible] and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.

Office Hours from [illegible] to [illegible] a. m. and [illegible] p. m.

Thos. G. Poole, Deputy Sheriff and Detective.

All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. [illegible] and Civil [illegible] in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

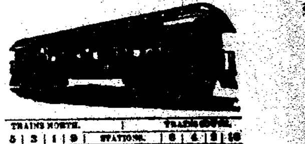
ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect June 24, 1888.



TRAINS NORTH. 5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	TRAINS SOUTH. 6	4	2	10
p m	[illegible]	[illegible]	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	[illegible]	[illegible]	p m
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Jay St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	42nd St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cornwall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Campbell Hall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	M'tn Main St.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Middletown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bloom'ngb'rgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Wurtsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Summitville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Ellenville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Mountain Dale	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Centerville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hurleyville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Utica	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rome	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Community	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sylvan	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	B'rn'ard's Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Leave	p m	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Train 5 stops at [illegible], Centerville, Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, Parksville, Cook's Falls, Fish's Eddy for New York passengers only. Train 6 stops at Earlville and Cleveland on signal and at Eaton, Morrisville, by [illegible] and Bernhards Bay for New York passengers only. Train 2 stops at North Norwich on signal and at Guilford Centre for New York passengers.

JAMES COLE,

The Old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the newest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

and Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

PATENTS.

[illegible] rates known on application.
[illegible] invariably and promptly [illegible]
[illegible] Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]
[illegible] communications, on business or [illegible] to The Times.
F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or another, or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

THE great street railroad strike in New York and Brooklyn in which about 6,000 employes participated has resulted in a flat failure to the strikers. It kept policeman busy for several days and numerous small riots occurred.

WE acknowledge the receipt of a fine crayon picture of P. M. Arthur, the conservative head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, from the office of Five Brothers', Tobacco Works, John Finzer & Bros. proprietors of Louisville, Ky.

BUFFALO suffered a severe conflagration on Saturday. It is estimated that $3,000,000 worth of property was destroyed including two hotels. About 1,000 people are turned out of employment in the different factories, stores and hotels burned.

CABINET makers have decided that President-elect Harrison has selected Blaine for Secretary of State, Alger for Secretary of War and Wanamaker for Postmaster-General, also that Alison had been selected for Secretary of the Treasury but he declined. If so there will be left small pickings for New York State.

AMONG the numerous candidates in the field for public printer under the administration of President-elect Harrison is D. A. Jackson of Oneida, who for the past twenty-three years has been proprietor and publisher of the Oneida Dispatch. Mr. Jackson during that time has done faithful service for the Republican party and is deserving and capable of filling the important office to which he aspires. We know of no one more acceptable.

INDICATIONS point to the fact that Skaneateles lake will probably be secured as a water supply for Syracuse. After eight months inquiries the water commissioners recommend this lake as the most desirable source and of the best quality for domestic purposes to any of the eleven sources that was under consideration.

The outlet to Skaneateles lake is a a feeder for the Erie canal and is a busy stream from the lake to Jordan where it empties into the canal. State legislation will be necessary to allow its use but if obtained and the water used for Syracuse it will prove a deathblow to many of the industries along its course. The proprietors will doubtless be well paid and those living along the stream and possessing homes will be the only real losers. This may result in an advantage to Fulton as on this stream Mr. F. G. Weeks owns two and has a large interest in two more large paper mills. If the stream is dried up it will necessitate a change of base and we know of no place where Mr. Weeks is more likely to settle than here in Fulton. In fact, among many, it is a foregone conclusion that his paper mills will come here if Syracuse gets Skaneateles lake.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

Scribner's for February has a notable list of contributors, among them Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter, bishop of New York; ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell; Austin Dobson, Robert Louis Stevenson, W. C. Brownell, George Hitchcock, and Richard Henry Stoddard. There are several richly illustrated articles, short stories by George H. Jessup and Brander Mathews, essays upon art subjects, one of Dr. Sargeant's papers upon physical training, this time about women and poems by C. P. Cranch, Maybury Fleming and others. The leading article is "Walter at Work," for which ex-President White of Cornell, furnishes an introduction. The "end paper" of the number is a brief essay by Bishop Potter, which will attract very wide attention by reason of the earnest manner in which it discusses a vital social question—"The competitive Element in Modern Life." Dr. D. A. Sargeant's paper on physical training treats of the "Physical Development of Women."

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.

Lippincott's has a novel by Edgar Saltus, "A Transaction in Hearts." R. H. Stoddard continues his literary reminiscences with a sketch of Nathaniel Hawthorne. John Habberton's "At Last: Six Days in the Life of an Ex-Teacher" concludes its fifth installment and will [illegible] lovers [illegible] The [illegible] story in [illegible] Gauge and Seal [illegible]

[illegible] five feet high and [illegible] from the well-boom. The roar of the gas was heard two miles away. The tools in the well, weighing tons, swayed so that the frame work suspending them shook visibly. The odor was so strong it was detected a mile away in an air line.

The news spread rapidly, and it is estimated that 600 people visited the well this afternoon. Fortunately there was no fire near the well except the fire in the engine, which was immediately extinguished.

The well is 579 feet deep. The company began work on July 12th. On August 23d they lost their tools and 200 feet of rope at a depth of 420 feet. They worked extricating the tools until December 1st, when they were secured. The well has cost, including the plant, $8,000. The stock is principally held in town, though O. G. Staples, proprietor of the Willard Hotel in Washington, D. C., on whose land the well is sunk, is the largest stockholder.

Intense excitement prevails here to-night. The company have sent for piping and tools for confining the gas, which will be conveyed to the adjoining towns and cities. No gas company stock can be bought at any price.—Syracuse Herald.

Gross Wastefulness at Panama.

"Gossip" in New York Tribune: De Lesseps would have been a marvel if he had persuaded the people of the government of France to see him through with the Panama canal. A contractor but recently returned from the isthmus says that more money has been sunk in the ditch than is required to complete it.

I inquired how the money has been wasted. "Well," he replied "I'll give you an instance. The best make of American locomotives, Baldwin's I think, are used for hauling away the earth as it is excavated. They pull the cars from the cuts out on to the dumps, where the unloading is done. The tracks are down grade and if a train gets loose, nine times out of a dozen it goes over the dump. I counted no less than twenty-nine new Baldwin engines lying at the base of these dumps. It was impossible to get them back on the rails without taking them to pieces or lifting them up with derricks. There were no derricks big enough to handle them and taking them apart was too much trouble, or they didn't know how to go about it; consequently they were left where they fell, to be covered up by the waste earth. These twenty locomotives must have cost, delivered at the isthmus, $8,000 apiece. So here is one item of $160,000 literally buried out of sight and nothing to show for it."

The Mid-Winter Century.

A remarkabe feature of the February Century is the opening illustrated article on Gerome, the famous French artist. Some of his most interesting pictures with a sketch of his own life are included in the article. Particularly interesting is the frontispiece, which is an engraving of this master's "Napoleon Before the Sphinx," a picture which is a special favorite with the artist himself, and which remains in his own possession, Supplementary to this article there are published "Open Letters" by several well known American artists who were pupils of Gerome. The "Old Italian Master" illustrated is Simone Memmi. In the "Lincoln Life" the authors give an account of the events leading up to the final removal of General McClellan. They fortify their account by citations from MSS. in their possession, and by "the President's own words taken down at the time they were uttered." The same instalment contains an interesting description of the financial measures in which the President supported Mr. Chase, and a chapter of unsurpassed interest on the relations between the President and Messers. Seward and Chase. "Slow Burning Construction," by Edward Atkinson, is an article of practical directions as to the construction of buildings, partly fireproof, on the cheapest plan. The Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden contributes an article on "Safeguards of the Suffrage." In an illustrated article on "The Portraits of Mary Queen of Scots," Laurence Hutton has told briefly what is known on this interesting subject.

These are but a few of the many good things to be found in this month's Century.

In the next number will begin a brief serial story by Mary Hallock Foote, author of "The Led Horse Claim," etc., entitled, "The Last Assembly Ball: a Pseudo-Romance of the Far West."

THE COSMOPOLITAN.

This magazine under its new management is deserving of all the success that it may attain. Its lively characteristics and bright and timely subjects are excellently illustrated. In spite of all the great competition which now prevails in that department of literature, it is bound to succeed as it improves with each issue. Edward Everett Hale begins in the February number his series of articles on social problems."

"Wu Chih Tien the Celestial Empress," a Chinese serial novel, commenced in this number, will run its pithy little chapters, quaint and stirring, through the greater part of the year. Each part will be illustrated by Dan Beard. [illegible]

[illegible] Senator Allison [illegible] great Republican [illegible] Latest calculations [illegible] Republicans such as [illegible] Evarts, Depew, [illegible] younger men, Quay and [illegible] save his Cabinet from the [illegible] of being [illegible] of one great [illegible] and an [illegible] Gen. Harrison [illegible] Senator Allison with considerable solicitude. In the meantime Senator Allison has his own interests to consider. A Cabinet position is dangerous for a presidential candidate to accept, and Senator Allison looks forward to 1892 with fondest hopes. It was stated last night that he was in consultation with Mr. Blaine. He answers the suggestion that unless he accepts Iowa will be unrepresented in the Cabinet, by proposing the name of Mr. Clarkson.

But General Harrison demands a really thoroughly known man, in whom the people, not the politicians, of his party, have implicit confidence. Without Senator Allison in the Treasury considerable delay may occur in securing a man. The other members of the Cabinet selected are Gen. Russell A. Alger, of Michigan, for Secretary of War and Thomas C. Platt, of New York and John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, who will divide the Postmaster-Generalship and the Navy portfolio between them, Mr. Platt probably getting the former, where the spoils are greater. This leaves the Warner Miller party out in the cold, although that eminent oleomargarine statesman may accept the office of Commissioner of Agriculture, and thus by the organization of that bureau as a department become a Cabinet officer. A Pacific coast man will probably be Secretary of the Interior, and General Harrison will follow Mr. Cleveland's example and select his Attorney General from the South, let us hope with better results than attended his predecessor's selection.

General Alger is only a name to most people and he represents merely the wealthy men of his state. Mr. Wanamaker is likewise unknown except as a wealthy Philadelphia advertiser, Mr. Platt represents the "boss" system as it flourishes in the great State of New York. These three men in an eminent degree, represent the politicians. Some one must represent the people of the country from Maine to Dakota, and it is no wonder that General Harrison looks with longing eyes towards Alli son and cries "Save me Cassius, or I perish."

Oblivious to the prayers of certain preachers the preparations for the inaugural ball go on right merrily. The souvenir program is the most beautiful ever issued and the most elaborate, The tickets are also out, together with the complimentary invitations. Eighty-five invitations were issued to the last inaugural ball, but it is supposed that even fewer will be issued this year. The pressure for places in the inaugural procession is simply astonishing. Of course the attendance of the general public from near by cities like New York and Philadelphia will be greatly regulated by the weather. If it gives prospect on March 3rd. of being fine the next day, even the concentrated railroad facilities will be unequal to the task of carrying all the people from central points in the East. On the 3rd. trains will leave New York for Washington every quarter hour. and it is probable that these trains if made into one solid stream would cover seventy-five miles of track. Thus a feeble idea of the immensity of the prospective crowd may be gained.

Mr. Bayard is making a desperate effort to lay the entire blame of the Samoan affair upon the shoulders of Consuls Sewall and Blacklock, but he is now so hopelessly involved in contradictory statements that whatever he might say on the subject could carry very little weight. Poor Mr. Bayard. The least clerk in thy office, annoyed by debt and in fear of discharge, having to face a host of angry creditors, is more happy and beloved than thou

HOW'S THIS!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

E. H. VANHOESEN, Cashier, Toledo National Bank, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. [illegible]

[illegible] which was brought about by [illegible] stroke. It was a splendid [illegible] delivery was of most perfection. His gestures were scant, and his pronunciation consisted not so much in the richness of his metaphor and his powerful illustrations as in the unmistakable earnestness he displayed in every word. His oratorical humor, unlike the sparkling jocosities of Sunset Cox (with whom he was on terms of close friendship), was of the sonorous, Johnsonian type. He was a man who, notwithstanding his strict adherence to the principles and interests of his own party, was respected and admired for his personal attributes by men whose views on political subjects were radically different.

CONGRESSMAN BURNES.

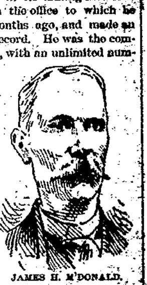
Congressman Burnes was born fifty-seven years ago in Indiana, but was removed to Platte county, Mo., when he was but 5 years of age. After receiving a common and high school education he was graduated from the Harvard Law school in the class of 1853. He practiced law actively for twenty years. He was a presidential elector in 1856, voting for Buchanan and Breckinridge. From 1868 until 1872 he was judge of the court of common pleas of Missouri. He was elected to the Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth congresses, and, had he lived, would have served in the Fifty-first congress.

THE LATE JAMES H. M'DONALD.

He Was Michigan's Lieutenant Governor and Had an Eventful Life.

Lieutenant Governor James H. MacDonald, of Michigan, who was recently killed in a railroad accident, was one of the most conspicuous men in the affairs of the state. He was the leading character in the upper peninsula and the pioneer in its mining interests. He served twice in the office to which he was elected a few months ago, and made an exceptionally fine record. He was the coming man of the state, with an unlimited number of friends and admirers. He was a Scotchman of the most sturdy type. In 1847 he ran away from severe parents in Pictou, Nova Scotia. He first went to Philadelphia, where, without friends, money or work, he led a reckless life. He was a stevedore, a roustabout; in fact, anything to earn a night's lodging or a meal. Then he worked on railroads in Ohio; next he turned up in Wisconsin; next in Cuba, and finally at Escanaba, Mich., which was his home at the time of his death. He came to Escanaba in 1863, just as the mineral resources of the great Michigan mines were being discov He was still a railroad laborer, but a Chicago firm saw his worth and made him a contractor. This was the start. He paid $750 for a little patch of ground. Shortly after a man came to him with an offer of $100,000 for that same patch of ground. The offer was raised to $400,000. Then MacDonald concluded it was worth as much to him as to any one. He operated the mine which was in it, and made himself rich therefrom. Two years and a half ago he was nominated and elected to the place which he held at the time of death. He was re-elected last November. He is survived by a daughter and son.



JAMES H. M'DONALD.

William F. Cochrane, of Escanaba, inventor of the Cochrane roller mills, was also killed at the same time. These two men, both Scotchmen, met casually in the Russell house, Detroit, just one year ago. They at once became stanch friends, and were investing money in partnership. That they should be killed together is passing strange. Mr. Cochrane was a revolutionist in the mechanical arts of the day. He has made inventions which completely changed the methods of handling ores.

The Washington Vulture.

During the present administration, and, I believe, during a part of the Arthur administration, there lived in the center of this city a large, handsome woman, who kept a fashionable boarding house. She came here apparently a poor woman, but found the means to furnish a large house, rent rooms and give board. She had several boarders, among whom were five or six members of congress. Those congressmen did as they pleased in her house and no questions were asked. They ran in debt for their board and the landlady did not press them for a settlement. It was not long before each of them was in debt to this accomplished woman, deeply in debt. Moreover, they were all candidates for renomination and re-election, and their landlady began to employ that very effective weapon known as blackmail. They were completely at her mercy and were forced not only to speak and vote for certain measures, but they were obliged to work like interested parties, urging their fellow members to permit the bills to pass. The woman referred to is an experienced lobbyist, and she never fails to get a grip of steel upon several members of each new congress, and when they are once in her power she uses them with rigorous, unflinching will. She is a sample of the kind of woman to be daily found in the ladies' reception room of the house, [illegible] are several like her, and their moral [illegible] are never too clean.—Washington Letter.

[illegible]

Brown's Sarsaparilla. Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co. Bangor, Me. [illegible]

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Jan. 25th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

All the Trustees present.

The President being absent Trustee Johnson was elected President pro tem.

The following bills were presented and allowed:

Bennett & Stewart, blankets for jail........$6.00
Arvin Rice, legal services........................2.50

Trustee Rice made a motion that the President be authorized to give a village note for $760.00 to pay bill of Fulton Water works company for hydrant rental. Upon which motion Trustee Johnson called for the ayes and nays.

The motion was carried by the following vote, Trustees More, Nichols, Rice and Kellogg voting aye, and Trustees Pardee and Johnson voting nay.

The ayes and nays were then called for by Trustee Johnson on the question of paying the bill of the Fulton Water Works company for hydrant rental, with the following result.

Trustees More, Nichols, Rice, Kellogg and Pardee voting aye and Trustee Johnson voting nay.

Bids for the construction of sewer were then opened by the Clerk and read by Mr. Landreth.

On motion the Board adjourned to 3 o'clock p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y. Jan. 25, 1889, 3 p. m.

Board met pursuant to adjournment

Present, Trustees Johnson, More and Rice.

On motion the Board adjourned to 7½ o'clock p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON. N. Y. Jan. 25th, 7½ o'clock p. m.

Present, all the Trustees, Trustee Johnson acting as President.

Messrs. Landreth and Fitzgerald presented the following report.

To the Trustees of the village of Fulton, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—We would respectfully report the following as the result of the calculation of the bids opened by your Board for the construction of sewers this day.

Bidder's Name.	Amount.
Wm. Patrick, Phoenix, N. Y.,	$38,966 85
Troy Public Works Co., Troy, N. Y.,	36,088.46
T. D. Lewis, Fulton, N. Y.,	35,855.29
John Marsden, Utica, N. Y.,	[illegible]
James J. Dwyer, Utica, N. Y.,	34,962.10
Everson & Liddle, Yonkers, N. Y.,	37,300.70
O. J. Jennings, Fulton, N. Y.,	38,912 51
Adam Miller, Saratoga, N. Y.,	[illegible]
Austin & Cadwell, New Britain, Conn.,	36,052.45
Stanton & Neary, Cohoes, N. Y.,	37,987.20
M. Sullivan, Little Falls, N. Y.,	30,340.04
P. J. Condon, Jersey City, N. Y.,	[illegible]
James Duell, Brooklyn, N. Y.,	30,867.85
Edward D. Broderick, Troy, N. Y.,	36,714.45

LANDRETH & FITZGERALD, Civil Engineers.

Dated, Jan. 25th, 1889.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening, January 30th, 1889, at 7½ o'clock, a. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk

FULTON, Jan. 30th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees Pardee, Kellogg, Nichols, More, and Johnson,

The minutes of the last three meetings were read and approved.

Trustee Rice came in.

The bill of W. D. Patterson of $4.48 for painting bridge and and setting glass in jail was presented and ordered paid.

Tru tee Rice offered the following resolution which was seconded by Trustee Johnson. Adopted.

WHEREAS.—The Board of Trustees of the village of Fulton have received proposals for the construction of sewers in said village, and have determined which of said proposals they desire to accept.

RESOLVED, That said Board hereby announces that the proposal of Michael Sullivan is the one said Board desires to accept and that the bonds of all other bidders be returned to them. This announcement shall in no wise bind the Board of Trustees to enter into contract with said Sullivan in case it may not be be deemed expedient to perform the work of construction during the present year.

On motion Board adjourned for one week,

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

South Granby.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Daniel Fuller and wife of Eau Claire Wisconsin, have been spending a week here with friends.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at Dorr Andrews' next Thursday evening.

John Blakeman is confied to the house with an injured ankle. His wife also is not able to leave her bed. She has been sick some time.

Farmers are busy now assorting their tobacco and getting it ready for market.

Geo. Gurnsey says it is a boy and weighs 10 pounds.

Chocolate creams at 25cts. per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible]

An elegant line of Cutters of every description; two seated sleighs that it will do your eyes good to look on; light pleasure bobs that will be a pride to anyone that possesses one of them; robes, blankets and everything in the line of horse furnishing goods. Don't think of going anywhere else to purchase articles in his line, for you can do better at Bristol's.

Why use common soaps when you can get the Master for 5cts a cake. 35 4 mos.

We have for sale a large number of Tobacco Cases. [illegible] Lumber Yard, Cor. of Broadway and [illegible]

[illegible]

A STREET BATTLE.

[From Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper.]

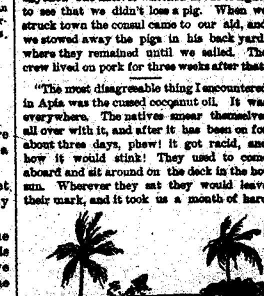
there is a general curiosity about the islands. The narrative annexed is, therefore, quite timely; but before reading what the officer says it is well to note a little history.

In 1878 the United States made a treaty with the king and ruling chiefs of Samoa, by which the former obtained the harbor of Pango-Pango as a coaling station, as the islands are on the direct line of mail ships in the Pacific. Of course similar privileges had to be granted to other nations, and about that time Bismarck began to introduce his colonial policy; so, on the 2d of September, 1879, a treaty was made between Samoa, Germany, Great Britain and the United States, by which the three powers guaranteed the independence of Samoa, but the city of Apia and near vicinity were practically put under control of the consuls of the three great powers. The proper construction of this treaty is really the matter in issue between Germany on one side and the United States on the other. The Germans have recognized and supported a chief who overthrew the former king, Malietoa, and claim the right to make a new treaty with the new king; the Americans in the islands object, and in a very quiet way are supporting the other side. Each party denounces the native supporters of the other side as "rebels," and finally, encouraged by an alleged American named Klein, the party of the old king have fought a German expedition, killing some twenty and wounding thirty-six. Hence the present row. With these facts the reader will appreciate the annexed talk of a naval officer, who visited Samoa in 1878, during the negotiation of the treaty signed by England, Germany, the United States and the Samoan government. He was stationed at Apia three months, and had, as he expresses it, a glorious time.

"Samoa is the most fruitful spot on the globe," said he. Oranges, bananas, cocoanuts, bread fruit and all other fruits common to the tropics grow there in great profusion. I have ridden along roads covered with two crops of oranges, which were lying there, rotting for want of some one to pick them up.

"King Malietoa is a mighty nice fellow, and treated us royally. In fact, the people there are all hospitable, and did all they could to make things pleasant for us. Sometimes they carried it too far. I remember on one occasion I was invited, with some of the officers of the ship, to go out into the country a short distance and be entertained by a chief. I forget his name. We took along a guard of twenty marines. After the rude ceremonies were over the chief made a signal, and about eighty pigs were brought from a short distance, where they had been corralled, and presented to us. The American consul, who was with our party, said we would have to take those pigs back to town or the chief would be highly insulted. The marines presented arms, got back of the porkers, and they were driven into town at the point of the bayonet. The natives watched us out of sight, to see that we didn't lose a pig. When we struck town the consul came to our aid, and we stowed away the pigs in his back yard, where they remained until we sailed. The crew lived on pork for three weeks after that.

"The most disagreeable thing I encountered in Apia was the cussed cocoanut oil. It was everywhere. The natives smear themselves all over with it, and after it has been on for about three days, phew! it got racid, and how it would stink! They used to come aboard and sit around on the deck in the hot sun. Wherever they sat they would leave their mark, and it took us a month of hard holy stoning to get the stains out of the deck.



AN AMERICAN RESIDENCE AT APIA.

"Once I was invited with a number of other officers to a dinner given by one of the chiefs. The girls, whose duty is to chew a certain root and spit it into a bowl until the concoction is of the right thickness, were in charge of an old hag, who made them stand around if they didn't obey orders. After awhile the bowl of chewed root and water was passed around the circle.

"'Have we got to drink that stuff?' I said to a brother officer who sat next to me. 'Can't get out of it,' said he. He had been there before. Just then the bowl came to him, and he took a gulp of the horrible stuff. He turned slightly pale, and my stomach began to churn.

"'Hanged if I swallow any of it!' I whispered, but the old chief had his eyes on me.

"'Drink—yum, yum,' he said to me, and I downed it.

"One thing I noticed in particular about the Samoans. They are very strict in their observance of the Sabbath. Why, a man couldn't hire a native to row him ashore on Sunday for love or money. [illegible]

[illegible] Condition Powder [illegible]

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, Reed and Rattan

ROCKERS,

In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tabes

Of All Descriptions.

Foot Rests, Blacking Cases

Writing Desks, Easels Book

Cases, Children's hairs

Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts.
All at Rock Bottom Prices.

Brown's Furniture Store.

Times Block.

At the Lewis House.

DR. A. MEYER,

The well-known practical and scientific opticain and specialist in lenses for the eye, from New York city, formerly from Ithaca, N. Y., for a short time.

For the purpose of making scientific examinations of all classes of defective vision free. Great opportunity to have your eyesight made perfect. People made to see who have not been able to read for years. The only opticain that visits this place who makes scientific tests of the eyes. In cases of Astigmatism, Presbyopia, Myopia, Hypermetropia and Diplopia, DR. MEYER has no superior. Let everybody try reading this article. Also to look at a distance with each eye separately. If they are not alike, lose no time before consulting an opticain as you have reason to be alarmed.

Astigmatism is a deformity that causes pain in and over the eyes throu h the head, sometimes extending to the small of the back. Sunlight also also causes pain in and over the eyes and gaslight is often unendurable when in church or theatre. This trouble if not corrected in time will cause serious trouble.

Presbyopia is the common failure of sight, which nine persons out of ten experience between the age of 35 and 55. So common is this failure of sight that few are alarmed at its coming, but go to some place where spectacles are sold and purchase the first pair which seems to improve the sight, regardless of the consequences. This practice is dangerously wrong. In adjusting spectacles for the failure of sight the utmost care should be taken to ascertain if other difficulties exist. It is necessary to test each eye separately, as the eyes are frequently found to be unlike and if fitted with glasses of the same focus will do irrepairable injury.

Myopia or near sight. People with this difficulty see perfectly when objects are held near the eyes, but distant objects are dim and often invisible; for instance the person may be able to read perfectly and yet be unable to see the time on a large dial, or distinguish features a few feet distant. Near-sighted children often injure their eyes trying to see during black-board exercises. It is the duty of teachers to report all such cases to parents, and their duty to see that the child is fitted with proper spectacles as it is very dangerous to let this trouble go uncorrected.

Hypermetrophia is a malformation of the eyeball and is always congenital. All such cases should use spectacles as early as the child is capable of taking care of them and should not be allowed to read, write or sew until the spectacles are adjusted.

Symptoms of this trouble. A patient presents himself complaining that the eyes ache when looking at a near object; that when reading lines and words—which were at first distinct enough—when looked at for a few minutes run into one another and become misty. He states that if he closes his eyes for a short time, or rubs them the print again becomes distinct but soon fade as before. Such symptoms are sure indications of Hypermetropia, and is dangerous to go uncorrected.

Hereditary Defects. If a mother in early life is troubled with Hypermetropia or Astigmatism her children are more than likely to inherit the same, and for this reason thousands of children to-day are born with defective eyes, and at an early age becomes apparent through the vision. Such children cannot use spectacles too soon. All are invited to call. Consultation and tests free. Remember the time and place.

The undersigned take pleasure in stating that we have examined most of the lenses of Dr. A. Meyer, an give it as our belief that he is entire master of his art as an optician. He was able to demonstrate the adaptability of his lenses to almost if not all disorders of the vision. It is furthermore our belief that he is a candid, honest gentleman, and no one need feel afraid of being humbugged who may trust to his opinion. The credentials in his possession are from persons of character and respectability; quite a number are known to us, and we can vouch for their standing in the optical profession.

References, Fulton, N. Y. Dr. C. M. Lee, Dr. D. Pardee, Dr. B. F. Hall, Dr. E. Frank Marsh, Dr. D. E. Loth, Dr. O. G. Reese. T. D. Lewis.

[illegible]

Stephens Opera House.

Thursday Evening, Feb 7.

ONE NIGHT ONLY.

Grander and stronger than ever.

The People's Favorite,

Mr. Jos. J. SULLIVAN

—IN THE—

Black Thorn.

A carload of New Scenery. New Music and New Songs.

GREAT MILL EXPLOSION.

"Every Irishman in the land should see the Black Thorn."—N. Y. Herald.

Price 15c. 25c. 35c. Reserved Seats 50c.

On Sale at Watson's.

Friday Evn'g, Feb. 8th.

Stephens Opera House,

Hettie Bernard Chase,

In the Refined Musical Comedy,

THE LITTLE COQUETTE

New and Catchy Music from the Latest Operas. Two and a half hours of laughter.

—POPULAR PRICES.—

Reserved Seats on Sale at Watson's.

SPECIAL

Announcement.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Will sell during this Month.

SKATES

At Specially Low Prices.

☞Boys will please take notice

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,

37tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

[illegible]

[illegible]

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express.....[illegible]

[illegible]

A. F. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express.....7:38 a. m

Freight and Accommodation.....8:10 a. m

Norwich Express.....3:21 p. m

N. Y. Night Express.....10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.....6:38 a. m

Oswego Express.....11:28 a. m

Freight and Accommodation.....5:2? p. m

Oswego Day Express.....8:01 p. m

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:47	11:22	3:42	5:37	7:12
For Oswego,	8:45	11:58	2.31	6:18	8:45

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Rev. W. F. Markham of Utica is in town to-day.

William Taylor is very low. His life is despared of.

Mrs. Mollie Woodin is visiting friends in New York.

John A. Place of Oswego is in town attending the Farmers' meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willard spent a few days in New York last week.

Mrs. Anderson of Oswego, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Morrow.

Ernest George of Mexico, has been at his home here for the past few days.

Dr. J. T. Barker of Wallingford, Conn. has been in town during the week. He returns to-day.

John H. Case returned last week from Minneapolis, Minn., where he has been for the past eight months.

Mrs. M. A. Clook of Syracuse formerly of Fulton is at the bed side of her sister, Mrs. S. Marsh on Erie street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook passed Sunday and Monday in Fulton on their return to Cortland after a week's pleasure trip in New York city.

Charles Easton expects to go to Mechanicsville this week where he has been called to look over some work on which he expects to be employed.

F. E. Bacon, C. W. Streeter and J. J. Coit started on Friday evening for Denver, Col. Messrs. Streeter and Coit expect to be gone about six weeks and Mr. Bacon about two months.

A. Howe and family start to-day for their three month's trip to California. Although they will go to several points in that state, most of theirt ime will be spent in Santa Barbara, where Mrs. E. H Giddings, a sister of Mr. Howe lives.

A Safe Investment

Is one which is guaranteed to bring you satisfactory results, or in case of failure a return of purchase price. On this safe plan you can buy from our advertised Druggist a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It is guaranteed to bring relief in every case, when used for any affection of Throat, Lungs or Chest, such as Consumption Inflammation of Lungs, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Croup, etc. It is pleasant and agreeable to taste, perfectly safe and can always be depended upon. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' Drug store.

FOR SALE—One Parlor Stove, two Extension Tables, one fall leaf Table, two Stands and a number of other articles at S. A. GREEN'S,
30w4 Oneida Street

Men's pure gum boots for $3 00 at Hill's new shoe store, in the Patterson block.

A fresh supply of Canned Fruit just received at J. E. Cary's, Cayuga St.

That 28c. Tea at Cary's is the bes in town for the money. 29m3

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

A fine line of Slippers at Hill's New Shoe Store, on Oneida Street.

Save 25 Master wrappers and ge the "Snow Girl." 35 4 mos.

Get a sample of that 35c. Tea worth 50cts. per pound, at CARY'S. 29 m3

D. C. Draper sells Groceries Crockery and Jewelry at the lowest living rates. It will do you no harm to price them before buying.

SEE THE WEEKLY GLOBE.

It costs only a postal card to receive a sample copy.

SEE THE WEEKLY GLOBE.

[illegible]

SEE THE WEEKLY GLOBE.

[illegible]

[illegible] ment. Gen. O. O. Howard is to make the opening address this year and many prominent speakers in this and other states will take part, among whom are Cleveland Dodge of New York, Prof. A. G. Hopkins of Hamilton college, Prof. B. J. Wheeler of Cornell University, J. W. Dean, Evangelist, David McConaughy of Philadelphia, Harold Patterson of Rochester University.

Half fare has been been secured for delegates and friends on all principal railroads to Watertown. Full information in regard to these rates, etc. can be secured from the secretaries of the various associations of this state. The tenth annual conference of the general secretaries will be held at Ogdensburg, Feb. 19-20. F. A. Strough of Amsterdam, will speak on "The best method of organizing and supporting educational classes in small associations," G. K. Shurtleff of Utica will discuss "What supervision should the secretary give to the finances of the association."

POLICE COURT NEWS.

The great and only George Greenleaf is again in trouble and has been sent by Justice Sharp to the Oswego jail for seven months. George went into Miller's saloon, on Cayuga street last Thursday and a farmer named Frank Flet, who lives about two miles south of Fulton, was there. Greenleaf asked Flet to buy the drinks. This brought on a quarrel and the active George was speedily ejected from the saloon by the proprietor.

Flet seems to be possessed of no small amount of verdancy and shortly afterwards proceeded to "Hi" Cook's saloon on First street. Here George was under the sheltering wing of his mother and Cook who is his stepfather, so on Flets appearance he proceeded to thump and pound him to such a degree that when the case was brought up for trial the day after Flet was confined to his bed with a head nearly as large as a bushel basket. He was doctored up however and put in an appearance at two p. m. Monday, when the jury declared Greenleaf guilty of assault in the third degree and George was sent down to the rotary.

Charles Cluff and Matthew Patterson, two seedy looking tramps, decided that they wanted to spend part of the winter at least in jail, so they got gloriously drunk last Wednesday. They were accommodated by "His Honor" to the extent of twenty-five days.

FULTON, N. Y. Feb. 6, 1889.

DR. MEYER,

Dear Sir—It gives me pleasure to add my name to the weight of hundreds of others, to your well earned and deserved reputation, Since wearing the glasses furnished by you I find my sight very much improved. I can read much better and my eyes never get tired and have no more headache I can also see at a distance with the same glasses which I never could do before with any glasses. You have greatly improved my eyes in every respect and I heartly recomend all who suffer from impaired sight to call on you and obtain your excellent glasses and your help.

Very Respectfully Yours,
MISS HELEN MILLS.

"Black Thorn" Co.

Concerning this company which is to appear at Stephens opera house, to-morrow, Thursday evening. The Brooklyn Times of Dec. 11, has the following:

A large audience greeted the opening performance of the picturesque drama, "The Black Thorn." at the Grand Theatre last evening. The play was presented by an excellent company, headed by the popular Irish comedian. Joseph J. Sullivan. The scenery was a notable feature of the performance. A number of specialties introduced during the play also contributed to its effectiveness. Joseph J. Sullivan as Denny Dolan, is an Irish comedian whose style differs greatly from that which characterizes most representatives of "Ould Ireland." He is original in dialect and actions and has many peculiar facial expressions which cause uproars of laughter. A. V. Anderson, played the part of Walter Levison, the misguided husband, well. Spencer Pritchard as the false friend and villain invested a disagreeable character with strength and ability. The falsely accused wife was admirably portrayed by Miss Lulu Jordan. Little Daisy Thompson as Rena, was cute and cunning, and Jenny Leland as Kitty Farrell, and Tony Farrell as Oscar Sinythington, were very clever.

GILBERTS MILLS.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Miss Loa Bidwell of Sterling, visited relatives here last week.

The Misses Mason entertained about twenty of their friends last week on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Dr. Wright of Syracuse is visiting her parents.

In the absence of our pastor O. H. Denney, Mr. Palmiter of Fulton occupied the pulpit Sunday.

Miss Effie Alger of Oswego Falls visited friends here last week.

John Hines is the happy father of a boy.

Miss Nell Franklin of Constantia is visiting her sister Miss Emma Franklin.

Music Books and Music Folios at Bristol's.

Waverly shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. [illegible], Oneida street.

Just received a [illegible] confectionery at the [illegible] Drug Store.

[illegible]

C. E. [illegible] py it after April 1st.

A repetition of the Little Folks' concert will be given at the Congregational church, Oswego Falls this evening.

At the opera house on to-morrow (Thursday) evening "The Black Thorn" and on Friday evening "Little Coquette."

The Syracuse University Glee club, Rev. A. S. Durston and Conrad Becker at the Presbyterian church on Friday evening.

Wm. Briggs while at work at Orchard lock last Saturday jumped from a pile of stone that was falling and broke one of his ankles.

The Ladies Aid Society of Mt. Pleasant will hold an oyster supper and exhibition at the M. E. church on Friday evening of this week.

Preparatory work for running the wires of the Thomson-Houston electric light Co. on the long sixty foot poles was commenced Monday.

There will be quarterly meeting at the M. E. church next Sunday. Rev. H. M. Danforth, presiding elder, will be present in the morning.

A Farmers' Club was organized in Scriba and officers elected on Thursday last. Their first regular meeting will be held on Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Simmons of Oswego will address the young men in the Y. M. C. A. rooms next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Monday, mercury nearly froze in the thermometer, Tuesday, it thawed and rained, to-day, we are having zero weather with chilling cold winds. Variable weather this.

Enterprising farmers of South Scriba are discussing the advisability of starting in their locality a co-operative creamery and butter factory. They met for further action on Feb. 13th.

Mr. John Bernhard, book-keeker for George Johnston and Miss Gertie Bisnett are to be married at the home of the bride's parents on Sixth street at eight o'clock this evening.

The concert given by The Waite Comedy Co's. band in Church's hall Sunday evening was very slimly attended. This concert was something that ministers or citizens would be thoroughly justified in opposing.

Waite's Comedy Co. played to good houses every evening last week at the opera house with a matinee on Saturday. The company is a good one. They have secured the opera house for another week sometime in November.

The members of the graduating class of Fulton academy were entertained at the home of Fred Draper on Rochester street last Wednesday evening and on Friday evening they enjoyed a sleigh ride to the home of another classmate in Lysander.

Hattie Bernhard Chase who gave such good satisfaction in her presentation of "Rags" last season will appear again on Friday evening of this week at the opera house in Chas. W. Chase's Merry Musical comedy, "Little Coquette." Reserved seats on sale at Watson's.

The Good Templars of Oswego Falls elected the following officers Wednesday evening: C. T., I. A. Markland; V. T., Mattie McGann; R. S., C. R Fisher; F. S., Aummie Burdick; T., Minnie Hodges; C., Thomas Gill; M., C. C. Davis; I. S. G., Hosea Fisher; S. J. T., Aummie Burdick.

As will be seen by the Trustees' proceedings in another column, the board announces that the bid of Michael Sullivan of Little Falls for constructing the system of sewerage is the one which they desire to accept. They have returned the bonds of all other bidders. The trustees have three months to decide whether to give a contract or not.

LOST—A pocket book containing quite a little sum of money, finder will please leave at J. R. Sullivan's, postmaster, Oswego Falls.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6. First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

[illegible] query box. [illegible] entered into the discussion on the questions from the query box.

Mr. F. O. Ives of Washington quarter read an article which was particularly interesting and instructive to young farmers.

Mr. John Gardenier of Oswego next read a paper on "Farmers' Work and Stock Raising." He compared the work as done fifty years ago with to-day and then started in with energy on his favorite subject ensilage and the silo. An address by Hon. S. M. Coon of Oswego on "The Elements of New York State Farming" ended the afternoon session.

The evening session opened with the reading of questions found in the query box and discussion of the same. This was conducted by Mr. Converse of Jefferson County. Col. Fenner of Erie County gave an instructive address on fruit, especially apples and pears, showing in an able manner the best methods of cultivating the same from the time trees are planted.

At this morning's session the questions from the query box gave rise to considerable discussion and many ideas were advanced that were profitable to the farmers present. A paper on Ayrshire cattle was read by Mr. A. S. Tuobe of Mexico. Interesting work is going on this afternoon. The last meeting will be held this evening commencing at 7:30.

GRACE MISSION.

Money is being subscribed for a new chapel to be built on lower First street, as soon as the weather will permit work on the foundation. The lot for the same was purchased yesterday, and is nearly opposite James Pearman's machine shop. The lot cost $150. The building when erected will be known as Grace Chapel. $260 has already been subscribed in sums ranging from $5 to $25 by the charitable people of the village. The good work of S. Green, Evangalist, the Jerry McAuley of Fulton, continues and this chapel when completed will stand as a monument to a work begun and carried on by him with the help of God and the assistance of the benevolent people in this vicinity.

OSWEGO FALLS SUED.

Mrs. Melvina Youngs, wife of Peter Youngs, has sued the village to recover damages which she claims she has sustained by falling upon a bad sidewalk in front of Mrs. O'Keefe's lot facing Broadway, last November. The village board will contest the case. She asks for $5,000.—Observer.

CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL.

The festival held by the children of the Catholic church, in Church's hall was a success so much so that after it had been held three nights last week it was decided to hold it again on Monday evening, which was done. Neal's flute band of Oswego was present on Saturday evening.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

New goods and new prices at the new shoe store in the Patterson.

Special School Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that at a Special School Meeting of Union Free School District No. 1 in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, State of New York, to be held at the Fourth street school house, in said district, on the 4th day of March, 1889, at 7 o'clock, p. m., a tax will be proposed, not exceeding the sum of Eight thousand dollars, ($8,000), for the purpose of erecting an additional school building upon the Fourth street site, in said district.

Dated at Fulton, N. Y., this 30th day of January, 1889.

F. E. BACON,
H. C. HOWE,
W. G. GAGE,
W. McCULLY,
G. J. EMENY,
GILBERT PIPER,
C. H. DAVIS,
N. S. GARDNER,
S B WHITAKER

Board of Education.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hardware store, of JOHN WILSON. 29tf

Come and see us in our new store one door above the Clark House. Everything clean and new. Prices to suit everybody at Robinson's Grocery. 29tf

[illegible]

The [illegible] building on Cayuga street is being converted into a larger two story building by J. J. Stephens.

R. V. Babcock, who was brought home sick with typhoid pneumonia on Jan. 16th, is reported as improving.

Married—Nellie E. Rice of Fulton and Mr. Chris Tomlinson of Utica at Hamilton Jan. 26, by the Rev. F. E. Arthur.

Smith Woodruff has leased the Woodruff house to David Davis and Fred Ware who will take possession the 1st of May.

The laying of the walls and placing of backing is in progress at Orchard lock under the supervision of Wm. Patrick the contractor.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase will deliver his lecture, "Want, Wealth, Worth" at the Methodist church in Gilberts Mills, on Monday evening, Feb. 11th.

Dr. Meyer, the celebrated optician, can now be seen at the Lewis house. He returns to Fulton by special request before going on a professional trip to Europe.

During the year 1888 there was an unprecedented rainfall. Of the 366 days of the year 169 were stormy, with a total rain fall of 50 inches.—Pulaski Democrat.

D. J. Freese, jeweler at D. C. Draper's moves with his family to Kansas City Kan. in about two weeks. His position in Draper's will be filled by a man from Casenovia.

Gilbert Jennings the popular propreitor of the Palermo Centre house gives a St. Valentine party on the evening of February 13th. G. D. Trimble will be floor manager.

Rev. C. D. Burrows, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Oswego, preached two able sermons in the Presbyterian church in this village, Sunday. He exchanged pulpits with Dr. Rankin on that day.

Dr. Meyer, the celebrated optician, who had remarkable success while here last December returns by request and can be consulted for a few days at the Lewis house. Read his advertisement in another column.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will hold their regular monthly meeting in the association rooms tomorrow at 3 p. m. The time of holding these meetings has been changed from the first Monday to the first Thursday in each month.

The last entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. course will be held in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, Syracuse University Glee Club, Rev. A. S. Durston, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Syracuse and Mr. Conrad Becker will entertain those that attend.

N. W. Ottman brought into our sanctum a few days since samples of oranges called the Washington navel seedlings, a box of which had been sent him by his son who is now rector of an Episcopal church in Pasadena, Cal. The fruit is a new variety, sweet and luscious and has no seeds.

A. E. Werden, the artist, has just completed several oil paintings of Neatahwanta lodge, I. O. O. F. and they hang in their new rooms in THE TIMES block. Four of these paintings represent the four initiation degrees and are works of art that must be seen to be appreciated.

A surprise party numbering nearly a hundred invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrow on Monday evening. The invaders collected at the homes of Mrs. D. C. Draper and Mrs. H. N. Sabin before making the assault. They started out armed with provisions and loaded to the muzzle with pent up fun. Neither the provisions nor fun was exhausted when they departed for their homes shortly before midnight.

TO RENT—House and barn on Academy street between 6th. and 7th. Large garden and plenty of fruit. For further particulars inquire of MORGAN ROBBINS.

Use Master Soap. 35 4 mos.

[illegible] the table of tax. It is true that [illegible] large taxes [illegible] to pay the same [illegible] tax may be [illegible] one-twentieth [illegible] nevertheless [illegible] following are the [illegible]

NAME.	[illegible]
N. Y. O. & W. R. R. Co.,	[illegible]
G. M. Case,	[illegible]
W. S. Nelson & Co.,	[illegible]
R. W. & O. R. R. Co.,	[illegible]
J. W. Pratt,	444.64
D. W. Gardner,	363.65
O. F. Pulp & Paper Co.,	361.48
J. J. Stephens,	[illegible]
Gardner & Seymour,	300.69
T. D. Lewis,	293.76
Willard Johnson,	269.65
W. G. Gage & Co.,	261.19
Mrs. O. Church,	243.77
F. D. VanWagenen,	236.85
Fulton Water Works Co.,	219.69
W. Dexter,	206.69
A. Howe,	204.16
F. Ditts,	199.18
W. S. Nelson,	188.95
Gilbert & Nichols,	175.74
W. G. Gage,	157.66
R. Bradshaw,	156.91
S. N. Kenyon (estate),	156.12
Solon F. Case,	154.78
A. Emerick,	151.96
Victoria Paper Mill Co.,	140.60
Mrs. S. F. Case,	136.85
E. J. Kline (Syracuse),	133.27
W. D. Patterson,	130.05
Mrs. C. P. Tucker & Son,	126.88
A. Bristol,	123.98
Tyler estate,	117.16
True Bros.,	117.16
E. Breeds,	116.00
C. G. Bacon,	108.96
Q. Rust,	105.45
L. C. Seymour,	114.28

OBITUARY.

As was mentioned in THE TIMES last week, Mrs. Rosalie Morehouse, daughter of George W. Thomas of Volney died on Monday Jan. 23, 1889. The deceased was an only child and was married on the first day of March 1888 to Alfred Morehouse. She died after giving birth to twin boys one of which survives. Her death awakened great sorrow among all who knew her. Mrs. Morehouse was born on the farm in what is known as the 16th. district of Volney and was at the time of her death 26 years of age. Eleven years ago she was baptized and united with the Free Baptist church of Gilberts Mills and became an active member in church and Sunday school work and in all benevolent enterprises connected with the same.

In every respect she is a loss to her stricken husband, her bereaved parents, the church and the community to which she belonged.

Her funeral services occured Thursday the Rev. O. H. Denney, who less than a year ago performed the marriage ceremony, officiating and her remains were interred in the 16th. cemetery.

Florence—Widow of the late Rev. B. R. Dow and youngest daughter of William Morton died at mid-night last night at the home of her father just east of this village. Mrs. Dow was 27 years of age and leaves one child, a boy about two years of age. Her husband who was formerly pastor of the Baptist church in this village died on the 28 of July last.

Funeral services will be held in the Baptist church on Friday at 2:30 p. m.

Go to the New Shoe store, in he Patterson block, for "Waverly Shoes." Every pair warranted.

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

IT IS THE BEST.

When buying Flour be sure and get the Electric Light brand. The only place to buy it is at J. E. CARY'S.

[illegible] Never Will

[illegible] opportunity like that offered by [illegible] & Co. to purchase goods at retail quantities at practically wholesale rates.

You Never Can

Do any better if you wait until doomsday, because better prices can not be made on goods that are bought as ours are in honest trade.

You Never Did

Have such an offer made you in the whole of your experience as a buyer, as that which we are now making and awaits your acceptance.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Only 15cts. per Pound!

The Celebrated

Tally Ho Baking Powder.

For which we have the exclusive sale in this town. Every can warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded.

Good Dust Tea 10c. per lb. or 3lb for 25c.

These bargains to be found only at Robinson's Grocery. One door above the Clark House.

E. J. ROBINSON.

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

—That HART is selling the best COAL in this Section

—If you doubt it —Try it —and you will be convinced of the Superiority of the

Lehigh Valley Coal.

Hundreds of People are using the Lehigh Coal and are well pleased with the Quality, and many claim that there is more heat in the Lehigh than any coal they have ever used.

☞ Office Opposite the Bee Hive ☜

Respectfully Yours,

E. E. HART.

Sold by E. E. HART.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON.

Oneida Street, [illegible] Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

WE ARE

Still selling that heavy, yard wide, DRESS FLANNEL, (all wool) at 25cts. Fine Serges, 46 inches wide, at 59cts.

These goods must be seen to be appreciated.

Hamburgs! Hamburgs! Hamburgs!

We now have our Hamburgs [illegible] The quality is unsurpassed while the prices are lower than heretofore. Also 5 doz. KID GLOVES in Black and Colors at 17cts. per Pair.

—COME IN AND—

[illegible]! Compare Our Prices!

We will [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] it is a filthy [illegible] if necessary to [illegible]

Light barley boiled is claimed to be excellent feed for horses, putting a fine coat on them, though not so good for horses at hard work.

Ensilage has been almost universally successful wherever fair trials have been made, especially in localities where the winters are long.

The worst objection to the elm as a shade tree is its slow growth, otherwise it is one of the best and handsomest that can be set out.

No sugar is put in first-class butter in these days. The effort is to get everything out, but an allowable amount of pure brine, saline enough to suit the palate of the buyer.

A cleanly kept cow will yield sweet milk with an agreeable, sweet odor, and quite free from any taint or injurious quality whatever. True such milk is very rare, and this is the reason why the very best purely flavored butter is rare too.

Succulent roots, such as turnips, parsnips, beets, etc., require for keeping not only a cool temperature but moisture enough in the atmosphere to prevent shriveling.

It is quite an item in securing trees in the spring to have the roots ample and uninjured so that by taking care in filling in the soil around the roots and packing finely the trees can be held firmly.

Sheep and lambs taken together show this year in Great Britain a decrease of 701,619 as compared with 1887, distributed in a reduction of 419,302 sheep and of 282,310 lambs, the total number being now 25,257,149, and the decrease being respectively 2.6 and 2.9 per cent.

"I look back over fifty years," says John Gould, in Ohio Farmer, "and make a note of the fact that the farms of this locality on which clover has been grown with the greatest regularity are to-day the furthest from exhaustion."

The advantage in well tilled land is that the surface water drains off rapidly without washing. It warms up quicker and seeding can be done earlier.

There is no doubt that many are deterred from planting out small fruit from a mistaken idea that some special training is required, when the fact is, it is almost as easy to grow the majority of small fruits as it is potatoes, and with anything like a fair crop the cost is no greater.

A dairywoman of experience says; "You can get more milk from the same cow by having her fresh in Fall. She will milk through the Winter with but a small decrease in milk. Then, when put out in spring on good pasture, she will increase almost, if not quite, to her full flow of milk. When dry, hot weather and flies come you are ready to have her dried off."

Posts and Rails.

The weakest board or rail determines the strength of the fence.

Land in a square can be inclosed with less fence than an equal area in any other for bounded by straight lines.

The animals will certainly find the weak spots; but it is bad policy to have them show you where those spots are.

The width of the fence row is a large item in the cost of fencing; even more important is what the fence row grows.

Crops would suffer less from many a noxious insect or animal and its progeny, were it not for the shelter of the hedge, or of the rubbish in the fence row.

As the posts are the foundation of the fence, unless they are deeply and solidly set, good material and fine workmanship in the superstructure count for little.

Where the law is founded on the good sense to require a man to restrain only his own animals, instead of all the world's from his fields, much less fencing is required.

As fencing is one of the most considerable items of the farm expense, it is fruitful economy to make the fields of that size and shape which will require least fencing.

As the length of the field is increased at the expense of its breadth, more fence is required; but for this there may be compensation in the greater ease of cultivation.—American Agriculturist.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness' constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills they will please you.

Americans and Money.

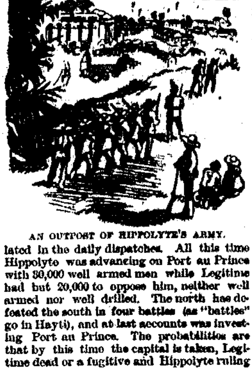
The American is constantly accused by Europeans of worshiping the "almighty dollar," and great was my curiosity to judge for myself of the justice of this charge. After calm observation of the ways of men in America, I came to the conclusion that the dollar was certainly not only the unit of the monetary system, but that it is also the unit of the metrical system. However, I soon saw that, if the dollar was coveted and held in high respect, it was not so much for itself as for the luxury it was the key to; in other words that avarice was a vice almost unknown in the land. There is a lavishness in the American's way of expending [illegible] that redeems his trick of taking all [illegible] to it whenever he [illegible].—Max O'Rell.

[illegible]

[illegible] maintained what he called "order."

But they proved too much for the old man at last and he fled to France, where he died. Nearly all the generals in the republic (and Hayti is full of them) wanted to succeed him, but the contest finally narrowed down to Gen. Legitime, of the south, and Gen. Thelemaque, of the north. Now, the Haytians of the north are far more civilized than those of the south, and somewhat more honest and moral; but the latter are more numerous. The usual riot followed, and Thelemaque was shot while in Port au Prince, the capital. Then the members from the south in the national assembly declared all the seats of the northern members vacant, on the ground that no fair elections could be held there while the disturbances were in progress, and declared Gen. Legitime president. But as he had but thirty votes, while a full assembly consists of eighty members, the north at once revolted and declared Gen. Hippolyte president.

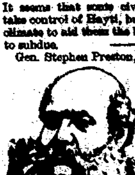
Legitime proclaimed a blockade of all the northern ports, and here is where the American steamer Haytian Republic got into trouble; she was seized while trading to the northern ports, condemned and confiscated by Legitime's government, and released on demand of the American navy, as fully related in the daily dispatches. All this time Hippolyte was advancing on Port au Prince with 30,000 well armed men while Legitime had but 20,000 to oppose him, neither well armed nor well drilled. The north has defeated the south in four battles (as "battles" go in Hayti), and at last accounts was investing Port au Prince. The probabilities are that by this time the capital is taken, Legitime dead or a fugitive and Hippolyte ruling in peace—as "peace" goes in Hayti.



AN OUTPOST OF HIPPOLYTE'S ARMY.

The western or French end of the island of San Domingo is the part distinctively known as Hayti, and by an intruding bay and line of mountains it is divided into two sections, more completely separated, as far as ease of communication goes, than New York and Virginia. The total population of the republic is little short of 800,000, and the country is so rich that the exports formerly ran up to many millions. Even quite recently the coffee crop has reached $3,000,000. But since the expulsion of the French the people have degenerated so rapidly that their present condition is horrible. If it were not proved by overwhelming testimony, no one could believe that children were murdered for the purpose of making lard from their bodies, that snake worship and general voudouism have superseded Christianity in the interior, and that human beings are sacrificed, roasted and eaten at these horrible orgies of superstition. Yet so it is.

Foreign residents in various towns testify that they have bought flesh in the open market for veal, and discovered it to be that of children, and several shipmasters make oath that it is not safe to buy lard there, as they have found in it the finger and toe nails of children and other horrible evidences of its origin. And yet these Haytians were once about as highly civilized as were the freedmen of South Carolina and Georgia in 1865. Under French rule the exports of Hayti once reached $60,000,000 per year; now they seldom reach $15,000,000. The climate is extremely warm, and unless precautions are taken it is fatal to white men. Hence the soldiers from France could make no headway against the negroes, and after the acclimated planters were expelled the blacks had it all their own way. At the same time and way the Spaniards were rooted out of their part of the island. It seems that some civilized power should take control of Hayti, but with their terrible climate to aid them the blacks would be hard to subdue.



GEN. STEPHEN PRESTON.

Gen. Stephen Preston, Haytian minister to the United States, just now enjoys the rare distinction of being the only minister resident there who has anything to do. And he is kept extremely busy explaining and protesting. He is a native of Port au Prince, born in 1825, educated there and in France—a man of fine presence and finished education. He served as judge of the supreme court, senator and general in the Haytian army, and was two years in France on a special mission. As he was appointed minister to the United States April 22, 1869, he is by the rule [illegible] the minister of longest standing.

An agent of the Rothschilds has purchased for a nominal sum a newly discovered gold mine in the Batopolis district in Mexico. Advance rumors say that there is $25,000,000 worth of gold waiting to be uncovered.

An Attack of Gravel!

[illegible]

[illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

[illegible] of Lowell, says that [illegible] with stomach [illegible] which nothing [illegible] on every fort[illegible] to take her bed, [illegible] endure any noise. She [illegible] Sarsaparilla, and after a time [illegible] perfectly.

[illegible] given had we room. [illegible] of people of Lowell, [illegible] you to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or mercury, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Don't Wait. Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters!

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or [illegible]

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow.

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

In 1287 the sea retired from the shores of Peru and returned in mountainous waves, which destroyed everything on the coast. In 1746 the same phenomenon took place and only 200 out of 4000 inhabitants of Callao saved themselves.

Clergymen, Lawyers and all those of sedentary habits who suffer from nervous prostration and loss of appetite should try NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON. For sale by all druggists. 37w4

The Pacific roads are using a rotary snow plough this winter which will eat its way through a drift 15 feet thick and half a mile long in 20 minutes.

Stop that Cough,

Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam best cough cure. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c and $1. Sample free. 37w4

Fresh water always freezes at the surface first. Sea water during calm weather begins to freeze at some point beneath the surface.

Arrested and Set Free.

Dr. J. H. Hansford says in the Western Plowman: "If the first cough is properly treated, the first step in the direction of consumption arrested, the lungs developed, the breath set free, we need not fear consumption." Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is the proper treatment for the first cough. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c. and $1. Sample bottle free. 37w4

Giddings—"That young Smithy that got married the other day is a mighty nice fellow." Peyton—"Don't know. Saw him treating his wife the other day as I wouldn't treat my dog." Giddings (excitedly)—"Is it possible? And she so lovely. What was he doing to her?" Peyton (calmly)—"Kissing her. I wouldn't kiss my dog."—San Francisco Examiner.

In Loves Harness.

Most women naturally look forward to matrimony as their proper sphere in life, but they should constantly bear in mind that a fair, rosy face, bright eyes and a well-developed form, are the best passports to a happy marriage. All those wasting disorders, weaknesses, "dragging-down" sensations, and functional irregularities peculiar to the sex, have an unfailing specific in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the only medicine [illegible] sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money [illegible]. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

The rubber tip at the end of lead pencils has yielded the inventor $25,000.

[illegible]

[illegible]

DIAMOND DYES [illegible]

HOP PLASTER

[illegible] SOOTHING, [illegible] CURATIVE [illegible]

It satisfies every time. TRY ONE NOW. 25 Cts. 5 for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or mailed for price.

Look for signature of the proprietors, HOP PLASTER CO., BOSTON, on the genuine goods.

NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON

For Thirty Years this reliable combination has been used for AGUE and MALARIAL FEVERS, DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, and [illegible] DISEASES, such as NEURALGIA, SLEEPLESSNESS and PROSTRATION. It is AN UNRIVALLED TONIC, restoring tone to the debilitated System. For overworked men and women, invalids and children it is recommended by Physicians. Where other Tonics have failed this has made a conspicuous success.

NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON can be obtained at all Druggists.

BILLINGS, CLAPP & CO., Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. TRADE MARK. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. Our book, "The Care and Feeding of Infants," mailed free to any address.

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Miss Clara Huntington, daughter of Collis P. Huntington, the railroad man, is only 22 and possesses $10,000,000.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

With the proceeds of "Lady Audley's Secret" Miss M. E. Braddon bought Litchfield House, her beautiful estate at Richmond.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

Miss Nellie Gould, the older of Jay Gould's daughters, has something more than $15,000,000. She is just 20 and rather pretty.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Drink-shops in California increased in eight years from 14,000 to 31,000.

Florence as it Is.

Gail Hamilton knocks out a great deal of poetry from "beautiful Florence," the center of Italian art. It may be æsthetically charming, but it is physically uncomfortable. She says "masterpieces don't warm you," and therefore you are cold. The deadly rigor of these stone floors, unsunned corridors, those unwarmed halls, no blood can brave. It comes up from the tiles and down from the ceilings and in from the walls, through furs and flannels and the warmest will, piercing to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit and and joint and marrow. A little umbrella stand of a brass cylinder, three-quarters full of warm ashes, in the middle of an acre of enclosed space, is all the concession Florence will make to art and humanity. The uniformed policeman, janitor, keeper, stands over it shivering, but politely withdraws when, altogether benumbed, the despairing American would press the profile of an instep against the faint warmth of its polished circumference to restore a stagnant circulation. The churches have not even so much as this. There is not even the ashes of unwonted fires. Only the eternal stone-cold death-damp. You resolve, resist, you fight against it but you succumb. You [illegible] up and down awhile but presently you stamp out.

[illegible]

SAVE THE BABIES

by using Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure. Absolutely safe 50 cents.

I AM HAPPY!

The secret of my happiness is, I have thrown away my old Blacking Brush and have

WATERPROOF BOOTS BEAUTIFULLY POLISHED WITHOUT LABOR.

Wolff's ACME Blacking

Produces a polish without the aid of brush, and the shine will last a week on men's and three on women's shoes. Why stick to old ways in these days of progress? Sold by Shoe Stores, Grocers, Druggists, etc.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

COUGH KILLER

I had a very Bad Cold, and got a bottle of Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer, and it helped me at once. It was all it is recommended to do.

Wm. [illegible], Ulster County, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

HINDERCORNS.

[illegible]

PARKER'S CONSUMPTIVE [illegible]

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with

PEERLESS DYE,

they will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. [illegible] by H. C. [illegible] 41y

MORTGAGES ON LAND!

We place [illegible] Mortgages on lands in all the Western and Southern States and Territories, and have constantly on hand for Sale very desirable High Rate Interest [illegible]

The Corbin Banking Co.,

115 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BIRD MANNA

[illegible]

[illegible]

The world is full of the things by means of which we gets the baby on [illegible].—Binghamton Republican.

[illegible]—"James, do you think there is money in beans?" James—"There ought to be. I've put $25 into mine so far this winter."—Burlington Free Press.

The average weight of a skeleton is about 14 pounds, though Sarah Bernhardt runs something over that after partaking of a hearty meal.—Texas Siftings.

Sixteen young ladies in Lowell have formed a whist club, and meet weekly for practice. It is said that the neighbors can hear them play whist three blocks away.—Somerville Journal.

Distinguished Foreigner (at his first meal in an American hotel)—"I cawn't understand why you Americans all look so glum at table." American Guest—"When you learn the rates you'll look glum, too."—Philadelphia Record.

Theatrical Manager (to applicant for position)—Do you think you would make a good walking gentleman?

Actor (suspiciously)—Um—er—how far West are you going?—New York Weekly.

Mrs. Muggins (reading)—"Every man gets the wife that heaven intended for him."

Mr. Muggins (musingly)—"It must be true, then, that men are punished in this world for their sins."—New York Weekly.

Involuntary Honesty—Taype—"Well, I see Skinem has settled all his debts at last." Tyker—"You don't tell me! What possessed him to do it, I wonder?" Taype—"Necessity. He died."—Lies.

Doctor—"What your husband needs, Madam, is a change of scene."

Mrs. DeTemper—"Do you think he should go off for his health?"

"Well, it doesn't matter which goes—you or he."—Philadelphia Record.

"If I had $50,000 a year I could gratify my ambition" said Bijones. "What is your ambition?" "To live within my income."—New York Sun.

"Pa, I have about concluded to wed for a title and become the Countess de Assinine. What will you settle on the count?" "I will settle on him with both feet and an ox-gad, backed by 217 pounds avoirdupois."—Yonkers Gazette.

Jack—Well, Clara made her debut on the professional stage as Cleopatra last night.

Jack's sister—Did she come out with honor?

Jack (doubtfully)—N-no; she didn't come out with much on her.—Time.

Cause for thanksgiving: Sunday school teacher—"Willie, have you had anything during the week to be especially thankful for?" Willie—"Yes'm. Johnny Rodgers sprained his wrist, and I licked him for the first time yesterday.—Burlington Free Press.

One of the Patriarchs—How do you enjoy society as far as you have gone?

One of the rosebuds—From the time I came in until I met you I've had a perfectly glorious time. (And he don't know yet how to take the remark)—Judge.

Two advertisements appeared in a daily newspaper. One read: "Wanted—A female servant in a medium sized family." The other: "Wanted—A young lady to do housework." The latter brought sixty replies, the former only two. Wonder why?—Drake's Magazine.

Wink—"So you married a divorced woman whose husband is still living. Don't you hate him?"

Jinks—Well, I felt that way at first, but now I'm beginning to sort of sympathize with him.—Philadelphia Record.

Paterfamilias (interrupting). You should fix your minds on something higher than dress

Mary Ann—That's what we have, pa. We have got our minds fixed on a couple of lovely high hats at Mrs. Feathery's millinery rooms.—Yankee Blade.

Miss Richandugly (with a sigh)—Then you love me, Count? Count Gastagno (fervently)—Love you? My Gods, yes! Bobby (under sofa)—Chestnuts! Count (his old commercial instincts overcoming him)—Five cents a pint; how mucha you wanta?—Town Topics.

Mrs. Morbid—I have called, sir, to offer some words of sympathy to the unfortunate wife murderer in cell 1001.

Prison Official—Take a chair, madam. As soon as a new block of six is made up, we will dismiss the ladies who are calling on him now. Our corridors are very narrow, you know.—Puck.

An Augusta store—genial and jocose proprietor. Enter lady. "Is Mr. A. in?" He is not, madam." "Do you know when he will be in?" "I do not." "Will I find him at his house if I call there?" "Do you take this for an intelligence office, madam?" [illegible]

[illegible]

AT DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

I believe Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life.—A. H. DOWELL, Editor Enquirer, Edenton, N. C., April 23, 1887.

PISO

The BEST Cough Medicine is PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. Children take it without objection. By all druggists. 25c.

[illegible]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

Salvation Oil "Kills all Pain." Try it! Only 25 c.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

OVERWORKED Women

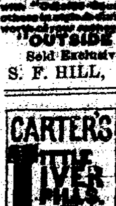
For "run-down," debilitated and overworked women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is a potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to Women; a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, it imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, nausea, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. It is carefully compounded by an experienced physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee of satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

WARRANTED.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, with full directions for home-treatment), send ten cents in stamps.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.



"This is the Boot for ME!"

DON'T BUY YOUR Rubber Boots until you have seen the "COLCHESTER" with "Extension Edge" & Napoleon Top. This is the best fitting and MOST DURABLE BOOT in the market. Made of the Best PURE GUM stock. The "Extension Edge" protects the upper, adds to wear of the sole by giving broader tread, and SAVES MONEY FOR THE WEARER.

DON'T BUY YOUR ARCTICS UNTIL YOU HAVE SEEN THE COLCHESTER ARCTIC with "Outside Counter." Ahead of ALL others in style and durability. If you want the worth of your money remember with "OUTSIDE COUNTER."

Sold Exclusively in Fulton by S. F. HILL, Oneida Street.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. [illegible]

SICK

[illegible]

HEAD

[illegible]

ACHE

[illegible]

[illegible]

Canastota Schools.—At the Johnson House, [illegible] the last Thursday of April, [illegible] and September.

Parish.—J. S. Luddington's law office in Parish, on the Friday preceding the last Tuesday of April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court, except at Pulaski, will be held on the day previous thereto.

COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, until further order, at the times and places below stated:

Third Monday, of Feb'y, Court House, Pulaski.
Second " " April " " Oswego.
First Tuesday " Sept. " " Pulaski.
Second Monday " Dec. " " Oswego.

Trial jurors are required to attend each term on the second day thereof, but no Grand Jury will be summoned or required to attend.

Dated at Mexico, Oswego County, N. Y., Dec. 31, 1888. M. L. WRIGHT,
Oswego County Judge.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the seventh day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. REYNOLDS,
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors.
C. H. DAVID }

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix.

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR;

Or Social and Moral Culture.

Introduced by ROSE ELIZABETH CLEVELAND. is having the largest sale of any strictly subscription book published.

Terms and circulars free; if you mean business and want to commence work at once, send $1 for outfit. Exclusive Territory Guaranteed. Hoping to secure your services for 1889, we are, Yours truly,

LYMAN W. DICKERSON & CO.

919 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

(Mention this paper) 37w4

WANTED.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES, POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS, SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 900 TONS POULTRY & WILD GAME FOR HOLIDAYS

WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day.

E M BALLARD & CO.

743 Myrtle Av. Brooklyn N. Y.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.

EPPS'S

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

COCOA

MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on [illegible] Street, is prepared to [illegible] his old customers and transient trade.

[illegible]

[illegible]
And a [illegible] of gowns and lace;
And many a laugh rang loudly out,
For it was a merry place.

For whole a year he'd made the world
Around him laugh with glee;
As jester king of the sawdust ring,
No rival e'er had he.
And hundreds going from the show
Laughed still at his latest jest,
And said that he in the ring to-night
Was seen at his merriest;
But still the old clown sat alone,
With his head upon his breast.

The world knew not the grief that filled
The heart of the good old clown—
That while he cracked his many jokes
A sorrow weighed him down;
Nor had it seen the brief dispatch
Which he in tears had read
Ere into the ring his songs to sing,
He came with a merry tread;
And all the people shouted, while
His baby after lay dead!

He sat alone till a little child
A sweet and winsome thing,
With deep blue eyes and golden hair,
The fairy of the ring,
Ran to him like a young gazelle—
Oh, 'twas a sight to see!—
And raised his with roguish hands,
And climbed upon his knee;
Then threw her arms around his neck,
Laughing "Now, gay are we."

The old clown kissed a rosy cheek
And smoothed a golden curl,
Then to his bosom closely pressed,
With a sigh the little girl,
"O Tiny Tess the world to-night
Knelt at the jester's shrine,
The manager has told me that
Myself I did outshine,
Yet all the while I seemed to feel
A baby's hand in mine.

"I knew that in a little crib
A thousand miles away,
By a mother watched with tearful eyes,
A lifeless b by lay.
Methough I heard a feeble voice,
And then I seemed to see
Two tiny hands I've often kissed
Go out in search of me;
And here ten thousand people, Tess
Laughed at the old clown's glee!

"They say the clown is but a fool,
Whose kingdom is the ring;
They come to hear his studied jests,
They flock to hear him sing.
O God! they think not that behind
The showman's pleasing art,
Or 'neath the powder and the cap,
Can beat a father's heart!
I played one role for them to-night,
To you another part!

The voice grew still, the powdered face
Bent over Tiny Tess,
The little child was clasped anew
In the spangled fool's caress.
The moments waned, but neither stirred
"They're sleeping some one said,
They dimmed the light in the dressing room,
And walked with noiseless tread;
And no one laughed, and no one sang,
For the good old clown was dead!
—Selected.

THE PROPER THING.

Black marten fur is very fashionable for shoulder capes.

Mink is fully restored to favor for collars, capes and muffs.

Ribbons, flowers and feathers are the trimmings for the next season's bonnets.

The Scotch flannels, half wool and half cotton, will be used again next season.

Challis for summer wool dresses are in many of the large designs seen in the India silks.

Soft, low-crowned toques are the most popular hats of the season for young ladies.

Small bonnets of fancy straw, toques and large low-crowned round hats will be worn the coming spring.

India silks for spring and summer come in new large designs of flower branches, leaves, vine stripes and Persian patterns.

Black surah and black alpaca dresses are made with an accordion-pleated skirt, a round waist and wide sash of moire ribbon.

Draping the fronts of dress waists straight across from one under arm seam to another, is a permanent fashion and gives the favorite empire effect.

Pretty waists of ladies' cloth are made with long velvet revers opening over a bright, cloth vests that has short revers of the same cloth and a high collar.

"Alas! Alas!" the dude exclaims, "in my slender ankle I've got pains." "Don't fret," said me, for whom he had sent, "I have some Salvation Oil."

"My time is up," said the Doctor to the patient whom he found using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and he was correct, for his cough had been cured.

Words of Wisdom.

It is good to begin well but better to end well.

Happiness is not to be prescribed, but enjoyed.

Good words are good but good deeds are better.

There is a woman at the beginning of all great things.

No man can either live piously or righteously without a wife.

The sweetest thing in life is the unclouded welcoming of a wife.

[illegible]

[illegible]

"Dinah," said [illegible] may light the gas [illegible] who is at the door; I hear the bell again."

"Deed, Missus, it's only another of them miserable boys with their valentines, I 'spect! My legs is about broke now, and I've got a dreadful misery in my back a-running to the door, with nothing there but them no 'count picters and chalk-marks on the steps!"

Muttering thus she sailed from the room with an air of an offended princess, opened the door cautiously a few inches, and peered out into the snow storm that was raging, but seeing no one, proceeded to shut it, muttering invectives against all "miserable white trash," when a small boy, ten or twelve years of age, black as ebony, scantily clothed in a cotton shirt and ragged pants a world too large for him, which were drawn nearly to his shoulders, and held in place by suspenders of twine, and turned up at the ankle, showing a pair of bare feet, rose from a corner beside the door. Surveying her for a moment, quite as coolly as she surveyed him, he at last deliberately stepped into the lighted hall, dragging by the hand a shivering little girl almost hidden in the folds of a ragged coat, which he dexterously jerked from her shoulders, saying:

"Here's a wallentine for the lady wot lives here."

Then turning, he ran rapidly down the steps, and disappeared around the first corner in the snowy darkness while the bewildered Dinah stood staring stupidly after him.

The little smutty-faced, blue-eyed "valentine" so unceremoniously delivered, stood motionless under the gas-light, awaiting further developments. Dinah, speedily recovering speech and action closed the door with a bang.

"Missus, missus, for de Lo'd's sake, look a-here!"

As the lady obeyed the imperative summons, and stepped into the hall, the bundle of tatters and rags moved to her side and peered up into the placid face, surrounded by the prim folds of a Quaker cap. Seeming to recognize a friendly heart shining in the serious eyes, she thrust into her hand a scrap of crumpled paper, saying:

"Dick writ it."

Aunt Ruth took the document, and with a puzzled look at the bearer, proceeded to decipher the queer hieroglyphics.

It had evidently been a laborious task for the grimy fingers that had traced them; but she at last picked out the message, embodied in letters of all sizes and shapes. The writer had evidently made it his sole aim to give the facts in the case, proudly regardless of the minor considerations of the orthography and punctuation:

"This littul gurl Haint got no folks, nor no wares to sta only a woman that betes her orful and me a Box to sleap in nights. I've brung her to be your wallentine. Shees hungree.
Dick.

While the lady was laboring over the odd missive, the little waif stood looking soberly up into her face, and when she raised her eyes, full of pity and compassion, the child said:

"He told me he writ in it that I was nobody's girl only his'n, and that I'd be your wallentine. I don't like 'em, but I'll be it. I'd like to. It's jolly warm here, only my feet's cold," and she looked down at the heavy boots she had on, ragged and run down at the heel. "They's Dick's. He made me wear 'em when I cried."

"Thee may take the child to the kitchen, Dinah, and give her something to eat. I will come presently, and perhaps I can find out where she belongs."

Dinah led her down the hall, the wet boots shuffling heavily over the carpet, and the bright blue eyes, shining out of the smutty face like stars from a mud-hole, lifted apprehensively to the dark face.

"I do declar for it," muttered the old woman, white trash and black trash is mostly alike in their o 'count pranks, that's a fact! Bless if this ain't the queerest piece of business I'se ever seen at this house yet! A wallentine! Missus Ruth's ways is so onexpected! Here you little white beggar!"

Dinah's crusty manner softened a little as she watched the greedy manner with which the child devoured the big slice of bread and butter, but she melted outright when, as the finished her feast, the little white beggar" slid from her chair and caught and kissed the big, black hand, saying:

"I likes you, 'cause You look like Dick. I likes good black folks!"

When Aunt Ruth came down, she found her [illegible] Dinah's own [illegible]

[illegible]

He [illegible] steps [illegible] which was somewhat disturbed by its journey in the box, and restored it to its mistress.

Aunt Ruth laughed again.

"Give her something warm, Dinah, and then thee may make her a bed on the lounge in my room; I will give thee something that will serve her as a night-dress."

The poor little wandering child was soon wrapped in a warm shawl, and curled down on the lounge in Aunt Ruth's pleasant room, too much excited by the novelty of her position to sleep, too comfortable to do anything but hug her wooden treasure and stare, first at the pretty surroundings, then at the kind face at the fireside. Suddenly she raised herself on her elbow.

"Dick said he hearn there was angels that lived somewheres, an' took care of folks. Be you one?"

"No, no, child," said Aunt Ruth, gently; "I am only Aunt Ruth. Go to sleep."

"Yes'm. But I do wish Dick was a wallentine. It's werry cold into his box."

Aunt Ruth and Dinah sat late into the night, hastily fashioning warm garments for the little one, and considering themselves well repaid by the delight with which they were donned in the morning.

While happy little "Drat-you-Bab" was taking her breakfast by the side of the kitchen stove, a shadow darkened the window, and the little girl, looking up, exclaimed joyfully:

"Oh, there's my Dick!"

Dinah opened the door, and bade him "come 'long in," giving him a jerk to facilitate his movements. He shambled bashfully in, and in a moment the child's arms were around his neck, and her face, pretty in its unwonted cleanliness, nestled against his black cheek, while she poured out a torrent of eager exclamations of being a "wallentine."

When she at last released him, Dinah took him by his shoulders, and seated him firmly in a chair.

"Now," said she, "you jes' a-goin' to set there till you 'splain this whole arrangement to me and Missus. An' you jest lay out to tell the trufe, the whole trufe, and noffin' but the trufe, all the way through—that is, if ye kin. Niggers is mostly mighty onsartin."

When Aunt Ruth came down she found her "wallentine" bringer sitting by the fire, with little Bab at his side, her two little hands tightly held in one of his own, and supreme satisfaction at the success of his odd scheme shining in every feature of his honest face. Her eyes filled as she stood in the door a moment, unnoticed by the children, but she was not given to demonstration, and made no comment.

And then Dick rose in his place, still holding both the little hands.

"I hain't got much to tell, ma'am. I'm only Dick, the bootblack, an' this yer little girl I found one night last week. Me and Joe Rafferty had been to a place where they had some picters and things the men called a pandorammer, an' when we come out 'twas late an' we was cold, an' we run all the way to the box. The box is a big box down by Bigby's warehouse, an' we sleep in it. An' we found this little girl curled up into it asleep. Joe he was goin' to bounce her, but when he see how little she was, he didn't. He jest yanked his coat off, an' put it over her and some old carpet [illegible] up [illegible] [illegible] care of her our own selves after that. Joe and me [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible] when we found her in the box, looking so little and so lone, I thought it meant for us to take care of her; and poor Joe he [illegible] so, too."

"I think I'll keep my valentine, Dick," Aunt Ruth said, [illegible] "I never heard of sending back a valentine, I believe. And I think I will send one myself, too. Thee may carry it for me too, to Friend Bradley's office, on Harlem street, Dick."

The note was written in a fair, upright hand, in a few concise words:

"Friend Bradley: I send thee a valentine. Thee will find the lines belonging to the picture in the twenty-fifth chapter of Matthew, fortieth verse.
Ruth Hanson.

It is a year since Aunt Ruth received and sent a valentine, and the 14th of February, 1890, found no happier child than little "Drat-you-Bab," no prouder boy than "Valentine Dick," who occupies the post of errand boy in Friend Bradley's office; no more peaceful heart than Aunt Ruth's; and certainly he would fail to spy out with his strongest beams, a more dignified, undismayed, constitutional grumbler than poor old Dinah, who pets or scolds the two children as inclination or opportunity dictate, and who sums up the whole matter in these words:

"Sometimes children is a comfort, but mostly they is an aggravation. Them two—them two valentines is a wearin' the life out of my bones, the poor orphanless things! But Missus Ruth is so sot in her ways, that I've got to have 'em under foot to the end of time, if the Lord spares us!"—Selected.

Nickel Mining.

The nickel industry of the world is a most peculiar one. It has only been about sixty years since it first came in to use as a mineral, though it has been known to Japan and the eastern nations for centuries. There are nickel mines in France, Germany and Wales, in Pennsylvania, Nevada and Oregon. Nickel is not, as is generally supposed, a mineral that is mined like silver and then smelted and reduced from an ore. It is a chemical element which is extracted from arsenides cobalt and sulphides. The yield from these substances as found in France and Wales is only about 2 per cent. nickel, but the yield of some mines in Nevada, not yet developed, is fully 20 per cent. of pure nickel.

About thirty years ago there was discovered in New Caledonia, a French penal colony, a wonderful rich deposit of nickel. A French company was immediately formed, and this company to-day almost controls the nickel trade of the world and it has frequently declared its intention to ruin every other nickel manufacturer and run them perpetually out of the business.—Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

It is a fact well known that there is no better family medicine sold than Laxador. Price 25c.

The healthy growth of the baby is dependent upon its freedom from the pernicious effects of opium. Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is the best remedy known for the diseases of early childhood.

[illegible]

Wife (11:30 p. m.)—What's that horrible odor? Smells like alcohol.

Husband—Y-e-s, my dear, we use alcohol at the lodge for initiations. Take some alcohol, light it, put salt in the flame, and it gives a ghastly yellow light; makes folks look like ghosts, you know.

"But that odor comes from your breath."

"Y-e-s, my dear; in the thirty-second degree, I personate the chief demon with flames coming from his mouth. I take a mouthful of alcohol and a swallow of salt, and then set fire to it. But, my dear, you mustn't tell these things. Secret society secrets very sacred, you know."—Philadelphia [illegible]

Capt. John Miller, who recently died in Indian territory, age 79 years, had taken 69 scalps during his eventful life.

[illegible]

[illegible] sternness, to an otherwise jovial [illegible]

[illegible]

SENATOR-ELECT W. D. WASHBURN.

He Is One of Minnesota's Pioneers, and Has Served in Congress. [illegible]

W. D. Washburn, lately elected senator from Minnesota, is a New England man, having been born in [illegible] [illegible] Bowdoin college in 185[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should! Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part, pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sonsy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening [illegible] of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's [illegible], the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
[illegible]
Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)
The Hopes of People who use Kaskine are always Realized in a Cure.
A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM
NERVOUS PROSTRATION
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.
I am [illegible] the Reformed Church of the [illegible] Islands, having lately come here from Troy, N. Y. While in Troy I used Kaskine and it [illegible] Rev. C. P. Evans, Alexandria Bay, N. Y.
[illegible] with nervous disease [illegible] Kaskine has done me a great deal of good. I am much stronger and [illegible] complete recovery. The effect of Kaskine upon my appetite is very [illegible] three months since I began [illegible] Newcastle, Del.
Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.
KASKINE CO., 180 Chambers St., New York.

You will save Money,
Time,
Pain,
Trouble,
AND WILL CURE
CATARRH
BY USING ELY'S
CREAM BALM
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price [illegible] Druggists; by mail, registered [illegible] ELY BROTHERS,
[illegible] New York

WEAK KIDNEYS
BACKACHE
[illegible]

Mr. George W. Childs, of The Public Ledger, Philadelphia, walks daily to his office from his home in Walnut street, a distance of over a mile. His [illegible] Philadelphia's chief [illegible] Chestnut street [illegible] [illegible] the greetings [illegible] which the [illegible] "Quaker city" is [illegible] His [illegible] companion [illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE.
Jeweler,
WATCHES
CLOCKS
W. P. Osborne
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!
COAL!
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH. VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation.
Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. [illegible] and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE
FITS!
When I say Cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or
FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to Cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York

LIVE AGENTS WANTED. Active young men, ladies, teachers and ministers can make money rapidly selling our great work
"MARVELS OF THE NEW WEST."
[illegible]

VOLUME XI—NUMBER 40

Single Copies Three Cents

Business Cards.

[illegible]

JANE BROADWELL,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

INSURANCE
—WRITTEN IN—
The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N.Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.
C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
Time Table Taking Effect June 24, 1888.

TRAINS NORTH.					TRAINS SOUTH.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	[illegible]	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
6 10	4 35	7 35	3 30	Jay St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
6 25	4 50	7 50	3 45	42nd St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
8 15	[illegible]	9 45	5 10	Cornwall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
8 58	[illegible]	[illegible]	7 11	Campbell Hall	7 30	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 13	7 41	[illegible]	7 48	M'd'n Main St.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 25	[illegible]	105	[illegible]	Middletown	7 10	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bloom'ngb'rgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Wurtsboro	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Summitville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Ellenville	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	p m	....	[illegible]	Mount'n Dale	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	....	[illegible]	Centerville	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	....	[illegible]	Hurleyville	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	....	1 45	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	....	....	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Delhi	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	....	[illegible]	....	New Berlin	....	....	[illegible]	....
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Guilford Centre	....	....	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Guilford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Utica	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	Rome	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	p m	[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Community	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	....	[illegible]	Sylvan	[illegible]	[illegible]	....	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	B'rnhard's Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Caughdenoy	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	[illegible]	[illegible]

Train 5 stops at Mountain Dale, Centerville, Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, Parksville, Cook's Falls, Fish's Eddy for New York passengers only.
Train 6 stops at Earlville and Cleveland on signal and at Eaton, Morrisville, Sylvan and Bernhards Bay for New York passengers only.
Train 2 stops at North Norwich on signal and at Guilford Centre for New York passengers.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First S the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

PATENTS
[illegible] Trade Marks and [illegible]

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me, would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

THE New York State Grangers held their annual meeting in Syracuse last week. Their meeting next year will be held in Watertown.

DELESSEPS seems to have become completely shattered by the collapse of his great Panama canal scheme. He is ill and old age has suddenly fallen upon him. His family will not allow visitors to refer to the canal.

THE sprightly and enterprising Buffalo Evening News is a marvel and is monthly increasing its already phenomenally large circulation. At the invitation of Mr. Butler, representative business men of Buffalo made a thorough examination of its circulation during the year 1888 and January 1889 and ascertained that average paid circulation of the Daily News was 41,131 copies. May the popularity of this lively little paper continue to increase.

THE trial of Mrs. Georgianna Myers for the murder of the her six-weeks-old child is in progress at Morrisville, Madison county. Both Myers and his wife were residents of Oswego county. The body of the murdered infant was found in a well near Mexico. It is being tried in Madison county on the supposition that the child was killed there and brought to Oswego county after death. Peculiar and interesting features are being developed and may give rise to some technical points that will be hard to decide.

WE know it to be a fact that several farmers in Volney during the past season entered into a deal with agents of a company that supplied Bohemian oats or cereals of a similar nature. We are informed that money has been made on this transaction by several farmers. This may be true but we desire to state that if this thing is kept up some of our rural friends will get caught and caught badly. The Rural New Yorker, the most reliable agricultural paper published, pronounces the transactions of these organizations, swindles. The question concerning Bohemian oats was brought up through the query box in the Farmers' Institute meeting held in this village last week and without any hesitancy the instructors pronounced the transactions of such concerns as fraudulent. We advice our farmer friends not to attempt to get rich by speculation of this kind. They will get left surely. Consider well before you bite at the gilt edged inducements held out by glib tongued agents.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S PLANS.

He is to Become a Member of a New York Law Firm.

The official announcement from the White House puts a stop to all speculation about Mr. Cleveland's immediate future. He is not going to become a simple, isolated Jersey farmer; he will not live in Washington in the shadow of his great doings and career; he will not idle about Europe.

He is going to work, and he will work hard.

Anything short of that would endanger his life He must labor or go to pieces.

Lawyers regard him as fortunate in making connection with the firm of Bangs, Stetson, Tracey & MacVeigh of New York city. It is a very prosperous association of eminent legal men. There is some idea that Mr. Cleveland's relations with this concern will not alter the name of the firm, and that his name will not be joined to that of the other partners,

He will have his private rooms, with his name on the ground glass door, and be regarded as the leading counsellor of the establishment.

He will not go into court and become an advocate.

The people will no doubt approve of this step that the retiring President has taken, and will be glad to know that he does not purpose to drag his name among the skin corporations of Wall street, to be auctioned to the highest bidder among them for purposes of decoying and deceiving investors. In the summer the ex-president will fish more than ever, since his time will then be his own.

Friends of Mrs. Cleveland are pleased to know that she will be so situated as to continue to enjoy and adorn social affairs. She will no doubt become at once an eagerly-welcomed recruit in the choice drawing-rooms of the metropolis. [illegible] friendship already established [illegible] her and some of the finest [illegible] New York will not be [illegible]

[illegible] are to be.

The party that rang the fire bell Monday night struck the alarm for the second instead of the third ward. Those that strike fire alarms should be better posted as mistakes of this kind cause no small amount of confusion.

The salesman of the Parish cheese factory has contracted next season's make of cheese to a firm in Cleveland, O., at three-eights of a cent a pound above the Utica rulings. The cheese company in Parish puts the cheese on the cars and the Cleveland firm pays the freight.

The Ontario & Western have arranged a cheap and pleasant excursion to Washington, for our Republican friends, who wish to witness the inauguration of President elect Harrison March 4th. Tickets will be sold from all stations on Feb. 28th. Trains 2 and 6 connect via Weehawken direct to the Penna. R. R. Depot, thus avoiding transfer by horse cars.

The G. A. R. Encampment (and Woman's Relief Corps) convention will meet at Binghamton on February 20th. The O. & W. will sell round trip tickets to delegates to Sidney at one fare for the round trip. Tickets sold Feb. 18th, to 20th, good for return Feb. 20th. The D. & H. will issue tickets from Sidney to Binghamton at same rases.

A monument was recently erected in Mt. Adnah by the alumni and teachers of old Falley Seminary, to mark the resting place of Mrs. Lantry who was for many years laundress in that institution. The monument was made by George Fassell and money raised for the same by Prof. Albert S. Roe of Worcester, Mass. It bears the following inscription: "Mary Moran Lantry, Baugher, Ireland, June 1, 1815, Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 17, 1865. Erected by her friends, teachers and pupils of Falley Seminary, 1888.

Seymour Van Buren, who lives about two miles below Fulton, is seriously ill with emphysema. The decease consists of an accumulation of pus in the plewta cavity and is the outcome of an attack of pleurisy three years ago. He was aspirated ten days ago by Dr. E. F. March, assisted by Doctors C. M. Lee and I. C. Curtis. A second operation was performed yesterday, another quart of pus being extracted. The opening was enlarged, a drainage tube introduced and the cavity cleansed. It is thought that the patient will at once improve.—Cor. Palladium.

Educational.

The first topic considered in State Superintendent Draper's report is Compulsory Education. He has, during the past year, written to England, France and Germany to learn what their governments were doing and has received full replys which he gives in his report. All these countries compel attendance in rural schools as well as cities and villages. The Superintendent recommends the the Legislature to pass the bill recently prepared by the city superintendents at Utica. This bill if passed will create more than a ripple in the school interests of the state. It proposes the attendance of children between the ages of seven and eleven during the whole of the school year and between eleven and sixteen for fourteen weeks of each year. Ample provisions are made for the enforcement of this law.

The next topic treated is the length of time for which one teacher is employed in the same school. He finds that in more than half of the rural schools of the state, teachers have not taught in the same school more than a single term. This he believes to be contrary to the best interests of the schools and he asks the legislature to consider the advisibility of making the shortest term for which a teacher may be employed, one year, removal during that time to occur only for good and sufficient reasons. This change would lead to greater care in the selections of teachers and would give teachers a much better opportunity for good thorough work.

A Large Estate.

A broad land is this in which we live, dotted so thickly with thrifty cities, towns and villages! Amid them all, with ever-increasing popularity and healthfulness, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, giving hope and cheer where there is disease and despair. Wherever there is humanity there is suffering; wherever there is suffering there is the best field for this greatest American Remedy. Consumption, which is lung-scrofula, yields to it; kidney and liver diseases yield to it, if employed in the early stages of the disease; Chronic Nasal Catarrh yields to it; Kidney and Liver diseases, yield to it. If you want the best known remedy for all diseases of the blood, ask for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and take no other Max O'Rell, author of "John Bull and His Island," was among those who lost heavily by the Panama Canal fiasco.

Clergymen, Lawyers and all those of sedentary habits who suffer from nervous prostration and loss of appetite should try NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON. For sale by all druggists. 2t4

A County Bible Society.

At the request of the Rev. Dr. Boyd, Division Superintendent of the American Bible Society, the ministers' association concerning, it has been decided to hold a "Bible Anniversary" for the purpose of reorganizing the Oswego Bible Society. An [illegible] ing program has been [illegible]

[illegible] the funeral in a body and the impressive Masonic services were carried out at the cemetery. The pall bearers were A. J. Snow, J. H. Manton, D. A. Waterman, Morgan VanBuren, G. J. Emeny and S. R. Whitaker members of the above Masonic order.

The following Resolutions were adopted by Hiram Lodge No. 144, F. & A. M.

WHEREAS, The Supreme Architect of the universe has in His All-Wise Providence, taken from the light of our present abode our esteemed brother William R. Taylor.

RESOLVED, That we bow reverently before the Supreme Master's summons; that we beseech Him to sanctify unto us this evidence of his visitation; and that we seek that wisdom from on high, that shall enable us to glorify Him while prosecuting our journey here, that we may secure that necessary qualification and complete preparation for His presence hereafter.

RESOLVED, That we extend to the bereaved widow and fatherless children our tenderest sympathy.

W. B. HOWARD,
J. C. BREAKER,
C. R. NICHOLS,
Committee.

Resolutions.

At a meeting of Fulton Divison Sons of Temperance Friday evening Feb. 8, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. L. Parker have been by death bereaved of their daughter, Lena Parker Collins and

Whereas, Brother and Sister Parker have been and still are active and worthy members of this Division and the deceased daughter Lena was until her departure from the village also a member highly esteemed and universaly endeared to the Division be it

Resolved, That we the members of this Division extend to Brother and Sister Parker and family our sympathy in this their great sorrow and bereavement and do mourn the early decease of one eminently fitted to adorn the home circle and an earnest worker in the cause of temperance.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Brother and Sister Parker, that they be published in the village papers and entered upon the minutes of this Division.

A. E. WORDEN,
G. C. BARTLEY, } Com.
FRANK DILTS.

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. Sold by W. J. Watson.

Babyhood.

"SLEEPLESSNESS in Infancy" is the subject of a highly valuable article by Dr. M. Allen Starr, Professor at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, in the February number of Babyhood. How much should baby sleep? What is a natural sleep? What prevents sleep? These questions, as well as the domestic and medical treatment of sleeplessness, are most instructively discussed by the writer. The causes, prevention and cure of common colds form the subject of an equally interesting article by Dr. William H. Flint. "A Mother's Frights" are graphically described by Mrs. E. W. Babcock, and "A Reformed Primer," by Mr. Louis Heilprin, suggests several striking and original improvements in the customary methods of teaching children how to read. In addition, many practical nursery helps and novelties are described, there are letters on the convalescent baby, on wet nurses, etc. and the "Nursery Problems" include questions and answers concerning intermittent fever, deranged digestion, colored stockings, knock-knee, colic, etc., etc., etc. 15 cents a number; $1.50 per year. Babyhood Publishing Co., 5 Beekman St., New York.

"Con" Tobin Thumped.

The big iron moulder that was employed in the Stove Works and is well known to the sporting fraternity of Fulton had a bout in Syracuse Saturday night. The Sunday Herald gave the following account of it.

"The big event of the night was the three-round sparring match between "Con" Tobin of Troy, who is matched to fight "Chris" Watson to a finish with light gloves within two weeks, and "Ed" Conners, a member of the company. Tobin stood a full head taller than Conners and weighed 230 pounds to the little man's 155 pounds.

The first round showed Tobin to be altogether too heavy to step around in the ring. Conners could hit him and get out of the way before he was ready to strike. He made several heavy plunges but they were all neatly dodged by Conners. Conners met Tobin and the two then closed in for a few seconds. Tobin got the worst drubbing and grunted with rage. He was about winded and perspired very freely. At this point a disturbance occurred in the audience that caused [illegible] of policemen to appear on the stage. Two boys were quarrelling, but they [illegible]

[illegible] be objectionable to the [illegible] of Minnesota and the [illegible] represented in Wisconsin a big opposition may be expected from that quarter. The minority will, in short, hint that the present naturalization laws are all right if only properly enforced.

Having accepted the Secretaryship of State, James Gillespie Blaine has leased the old Seward house for a term of ten years. The House is convenient to the State Department and one of the nearest private residences to the White House, being No. 17 Lafayette Square. The mansion is very old fashioned and the rooms unusually large. It has recently been used for offices by the War Department and has been badly treated. Still it can be greatly improved and as it is close to the White House will enable Mr. Blaine to keep a great many things in view.

Ex Senators Platt and Miller have both been here this week, though an attempt was made to conceal the presence of the former. Senator Palmer gave an elaborate dinner on Saturday to the Washington correspondents for the purpose of reviving the Miller boom but it somehow failed to revive. The talk is now all of Platt and the impresson is that Miller will have to be contented with the Agricultural Department, which will be accepted with ill grace.

Senator Evarts, who celebrated his 72nd birth-day on Thursday, says that he has no idea of accepting the Attorney-Generalship in the new cabinet. He says he will give way for younger men. The truth is that an ex-Secretary of State could ill afford to take such a drop but Senator Evarts dislikes to say so.

Governor David B. Hill's visit this week wass regarded with considerable interest, as he has not been in Washington before for eighteen years. He had a long consultation with Secretary Whitney and the Democratic Congressmen vied with each other in doing him homage. I saw the Governor riding by the White House on Thursday and Mr. Cleveland just coming out and it filled my heart with woe to hear an asthmatic hand organ across the street actually playing, "We never speak as we pass by." And this despite the fact that Governor Hill and President Cleveland met so warmly at Wednesday's Whitney dinner.

Tom Reed is kept on the ragged edge of his speakership contest. No sooner has he nailed one of his opponents then another takes its place. Just now the wise ones are solemnly reasoning that so long as Mr. Blaine is going into the Cabinet, it would not be advisable to over favor Maine by giving Mr. Reed his coveted honor. Do you wonder that his rotund figure is wasting?

I saw a bet of $50 made at Welcker's last fall that Col. Fred Grant would be avowedly after an office before Gen. Harrison's inauguration. The bet is settled by Col. Fred's modest announcement that he is willing to be Minister to China. "I shall not," he said last week, "ask for the position except in a manly way." People who know Col. Grant best know that this means that Gen. Harrison had better give it to him or receive his left-handed blessing and be annoyed to death. Great boy, that same Fred.

Commissioner of Pensions Black is having a hard time of it. After his recent failure to secure the position as legal adviser to the army, he concluded to accept appointment as Pension Agent at Washington and urged his claims upon President Cleveland. But he failed, for the President renominated the present incumbent. Three weeks only remain in which Gen. Black can continue his search for a sinecure and that is a short time at best.

There are 34 certificates of Congressmen-elect that have not been filed with the clerk of the House. The delay is unusual and is, of course, mostly on the Republican side. The last Congressional Directory, just issued, gives the next House as composed of 153 Democrats and 167 Republicans. The present House contains 166 Democats, 152 Republicans and 4 Independent and Labor members.

HOW'S THIS!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props.,

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

E. H. VANHOESEN, Cashier, Toledo National Bank, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, [illegible]

[illegible] Sarsaparilla.

[illegible] Bangor, Me. 1ot4

Palermo.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Gilbert Preston of East Palermo is very sick with inflammation of the bowels. It is feared that he will not recover.

Mrs. A. Sutton of the south part of the town, fell on Saturday last and broke her leg. Dr. A. W. Green reduced the fracture.

G. D. Trimble has gone on a business trip to Elkhart, Ind., and expects to be gone a week.

A 50 cent hop will be held at the Palermo Center house on the 22d of February. Everyone is invited to attend. Each one should remember the party the 14th at this place.

D. H. Trimble has made a trade with F. Farmer to let him have the Mrs. Lydia Getman farm and take Mr. Farmer's small place east of Palermo Centre in exchange.

The Republican Caucus in Palermo this spring will be a hot one and it now looks as though a few dollars will be used to carry points.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by W. J. Watson.

South Scriba.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The recent snow storm blocked the roads last week so that we had no mail from Monday until Friday.

W. H. Enos and J. K. Prosser are candidates for Supervisor. J. E. Vincent thinks he would like to serve the town as Highway Commissioner. Ed. Bateman who has served the town nine years as Assessor thinks he is qualified to serve it another term.

The farmers of this place hold a meeting at the stone school house on the evening of February 18th to consider the possibility of starting a butter factory.

Isaac Hale has bought the Mount Pleasant cheese factory and is looking for milk from this vicinity.

Our school is progressing finely with Max Vincent as teacher.

The Greenman school has closed after a successful term of sixteen weeks, with Miss Nellie Porter as teacher.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Hannibal Centre.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

A company of young people from Ira gave Miss Carrie Rowlee a pleasant surprise at her home last Friday evening.

Mrs. Katy Gifford fell from the cellar stairs last Saturday breaking her ankle, Dr. Cooley was called and set the broken limb.

Wm. Gifford and wife of Fulton were in town Monday.

George Johnson and wife and Fred Lewis and wife of Jacksonville spent Sunday at Capt. Jones'.

Miss Frank Kelley of Lowville is visiting at her father's, Mr. E. Kelley's.

Miss Laura Whittier is visiting at Dr. Cooley's.

Miss Franc Brackett has returned from Brooklyn.

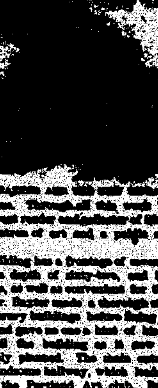
John Ames died at his home last Saturday of cancer aged 65 years. Funeral was held from the late residence Monday at 2 p. m., Elder McFarlane of Hannibal officiating. L. Ketchum, Walter Sanders, Wm. Dickinson and S. R. Rowlee acted as bearers.

John Burgess died of consumption in Oswego Falls, on Saturday, Feb. 9, at the age of 19 years and 11 months. Services conducted by Father Kearney were held in the church of the Immaculate Conception, yesterday at 10 a. m.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for the Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at [illegible] drug store.

[illegible] Dan Roach's blacksmith shop [illegible]



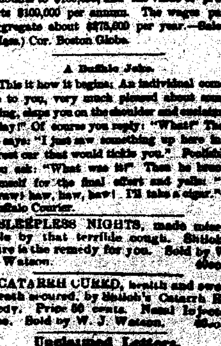
J. P. BAXTER [illegible] benefactor. Throughout all this work he has been a great reader [illegible] date, a patron of art and a public spirited citizen.

The building has a frontage of seventy-five feet and a depth of sixty-two, and is very handsome, as well as convenient for the purpose. Mr. Baxter made a thorough study of public library buildings before fixing upon a design, and gave no one a hint of his intention until the building as it now is was thoroughly planned. The main entrance is into a handsome hallway, which leads to the room of the Portland Art club. Beside it are the boys' reading room and the general reading room. Up stairs are the hall where the Maine Historical society will hold its meetings, the library rooms and other divisions usual in such buildings. Around the rooms are busts and portraits of Maine's distinguished citizens. The library now contains a little over 22,000 volumes, including some very valuable historical papers; and the data of some of these were collected and reduced to readable form by Mr. Baxter himself.

The gem of the art collection, as Portland people think, is the work of Maine's own artist, Paul Akers. This is the statue known as the "Dead Pearl Diver," Mr. Akers' finest work. It combines simplicity, purity and beauty in a rare degree. Stretched on a smooth rock at the bottom of the sea lies the drowned pearl diver, a youth of perfect manly proportions, impressive in repose, graceful even in death. The statue was valued at $10,000, but the widow of the artist reduced the price one-half, that the Portland Public Library association might secure it. The Portland Society of Art has its building in the rear of the new library building.

A Ladies' Literary Club.

A picture of the club house of the Ladies' Literary club of Grand Rapids, Mich., is here given. The house is built of Ohio bluestone and white brick. There are about 450 members, and club meetings are held every Saturday afternoon. The club originated in a history class in the winter of 1869-70. In 1873 a hundred members got together and organized the club, which was incorporated ten years later for "literary and scientific purposes." Several years afterwards a lot was bought, and the present building was put up for the club's exclusive use. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 400 and a stage. There is a large library, dressing rooms, parlors and assembly rooms. Mrs. J. Morgan Smith is president and Mrs. Henry S. Smith vice president. The committees are apportioned to history, art, music, literature and science.



THE CLUB BUILDING.

A Shoe Town.

Shoe manufacturing in Salem previous to the late civil war was conducted on a small scale, the principal industry then, as now, being the tanning and currying of leather. Among the first manufacturers were Joseph Dalton, Timothy and Ebenezer Stevens and Aaron Low. Within the past fifteen years the business has assumed considerable proportions, and at the present time there are seventeen manufacturers who give employment to upward of 900 men and women. The capital invested, as near as can be learned, amounts to $150,000, and the value of products $100,000 per annum. The wages paid aggregate about $275,000 per year.—Salem (Mass.) Cor. Boston Globe.

A Buffalo Joke.

This is how it begins: An individual comes up to you, very much pleased about something, slaps you on the shoulder and exclaims: "Say!" Of course you reply: "What?" Then he says: "I just saw something up here in a street car that would tickle you." Foolishly you ask: "What was it?" Then he braces himself for the final effort and yells: "A straw! haw, haw, haw! I'll take a cigar."—Buffalo Courier.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

CATARRH CURED, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Feb. 13, 1889:

Sam Bulors, Geo. Church, Clay Yates, G. F. Lanes, Colone Hale.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Six inches more of snow fell last night.

[illegible]

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF
Plush, Reed and Rattan
ROCKERS,
In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of Willow Work Stands,
—ALSO—
Plush and Fancy Tables
Of All Descriptions.
Foot Rests, Blacking Cases
Writing Desks, Easels Book
Cases, Children's Chairs
Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts.
All at Rock Bottom Prices.
Brown's Furniture Store,
Times Block.

At the Lewis House.
DR. A. MEYER.

The well-known practical and scientific opticain and specialist in lenses for the eye, from New York city, formerly from Ithaca, N. Y., for a short time.

For the purpose of making scientific examinations of all classes of defective vision free. Great opportunity to have your eyesight made perfect. People made to see who have not been able to read for years. The only opticain that visits this place who makes scientific tests of the eyes. In cases of Astigmatism, Presbyopia, Myopia, Hypermetropia and Diplopia, DR. MEYER has no superior. Let everybody try reading this article. Also to look at a distance with each eye separately. If they are not alike, lose no time before consulting an opticain as you have reason to be alarmed.

Astigmatism is a deformity that causes pain in and over the eyes through the head, sometimes extending to the small of the back. Sunlight also also causes pain in and over the eyes and gaslight is often unendurable when in church or theatre. This trouble if not corrected in time will cause serious trouble.

Presbyopia is the common failure of sight, which nine persons out of ten experience between the age of 38 and 55. So common is this failure of sight that few are alarmed at its coming, but go to some place where spectacles are sold and purchase the first pair which seems to improve the sight, regardless of the consequences. This practice is dangerously wrong. In adjusting spectacles for the failure of sight the utmost care should be taken to ascertain if other difficulties exist. It is necessary to test each eye separately, as the eyes are frequently found to be unlike and if fitted with glasses of the same focus will do irreparable injury.

Myopia or near sight. People with this difficulty see perfectly when objects are held near the eyes, but distant objects are dim and often invisible; for instance the person may be able to read perfectly and yet be unable to see the time on a large dial, or distinguish features a few feet distant. Near-sighted children often injure their eyes trying to see during black-board exercises. It is the duty of teachers to report all such cases to parents, and their duty to see that the child is fitted with proper spectacles as it is very dangerous to let this trouble go uncorrected.

Hypermetrophia is a malformation of the eye-ball and is always congenital. All such cases should use spectacles as early as the child is capable of taking care of them and should not be allowed to read, write or sew until the spectacles are adjusted.

Symptoms of this trouble. A patient presents himself complaining that the eyes ache when looking at a near object; that when reading lines and words—which were at first distinct enough—when looked at for a few minutes run into one another and become misty. He states that if he closes his eyes for a short time, or rubs them the print again becomes distinct but soon fade as before. Such symptoms are sure indications of Hypermetropia, and is dangerous to go uncorrected.

Hereditary Defects. If a mother in early life is troubled with Hypermetropia or Astigmatism her children are more than likely to inherit the same, and for this reason thousands of children to-day are born with defective eyes, and at an early age becomes apparent through the vision. Such children cannot use spectacles too soon. All are invited to call. Consultation and tests free. Remember the time and place.

REFERENCES.

[illegible]

SPECIAL
Announcement.
SNOW & LOOMIS
Will sell during this Month
SKATES
At Specially Low Prices.
Boys will please take notice.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
Time Table Taking Effect Jan. 28, 1889.

Bristol Has Them.

An elegant line of Cutters of every description; two seated sleighs that will do your eye good to look at; light pleasure bobs that will be a pleasure to [illegible] line of horse furnishing [illegible] Don't think of getting anything [illegible] establishment of Bristol's.

The place to get [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:10 a. m
Norwich Express	3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:20 a. m
Oswego Express	11:25 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	5:30 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:37	11:24	2:42	5:37	7:12
For Oswego,	8:48	11:35	2:34	6:13	8:48

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—
Q. RUST'S
SUPERIOR COAL
or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Miss Mary Johnson is visiting in Brooklyn.

Mrs. W. L. Foster of Canandagua is visiting Fulton friends.

Mrs. David Case, who is visiting in Europe, is expected home soon.

John Cullivan, the comedian, is visiting in Fulton, his former home.

Miss Bertha Baker of Oswego has been the guest of Mrs. F. E. Rice this week.

Joe Appelt, who is now traveling for a large clothing house in New York, was in town over Sunday.

Dr. H. L. Lake is in New York taking a three months special course on the eye and ear at the Post Graduate Medical school.

F. Taylor of Reigelsville N. J., has been in town during the past week called here by the death of his brother, William E. Taylor.

Mrs. George G. Chauncey and Miss Lillian Rankin started last evening for a two week's visit in New York. They will be the guests of Mrs. J. B. Overton.

Miss Anna Gilmour of Smith's college was home over Sunday and Monday started with her mother for Cincinnati, Ohio to attend the wedding of a friend.

P. F. Conger, who was called here by the illness of his daughter Inex, will shortly return to Minneapolis where he is now engaged in real estate business.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Pratt of Rochester and Mr. and Mrs. George Pratt of Buffalo were in town this week. They came to attend the funeral of Harvey Slawson a brother of Mrs. John W. Pratt. The funeral services were in Syracuse and burial at Baldwinsville.

Dr. Hamilton, Supt. of the Oswego city schools and Prof. Richards, principal of the high school in Oswego were in town over Monday. They visited the Fulton schools and announced that they were much pleased with the able manner and systematic methods in which work was done under the supervision of Prof. Clapp, but considered the room much too small for the large attendance.

Arvin Rice and W. J. Lovejoy have formed a co-partnership in the insurance business and have purchased H. E. Nichols' agencies. They take possession of his interest March 1st.

Dr. Meyer can still be seen at the Lewis House for a few days. He has the highest recommendations and has given excellent satisfaction to a large number in this vicinity that are afflicted with poor eyesight.

A freight train became stalled, on on the Phœnix road last night and a blockade resulted. To-day's snow and wind still further increased the trouble and up to two o'clock to-day no train had passed between Oswego and Syracuse over the "Phœnix" road.

For several days during the past week it looked as though there was going to be another flood on the "flats." Anchor ice collected in large quantities, holding the water back, overflowing the road below Pearman's machine shop. It has now receded and it is not probable that the inhabitants of the low land will have to move out.

ANDREW S. DRAPER was unanimously nominated to succeed himself as Superintendent of Public Instruction at the Republican Legislative caucus held in Albany last evening. Andrew McLean of Brooklyn was nominated at the Democratic caucus. Mr. Draper has made the best Superintendent the state ever had.

Men's [illegible] boots for $3 00 at [illegible] shoe store, in the [illegible] block.

A [illegible] of Canned Fruit just received at J. R. Cary's, Cayuga St.

The [illegible] Tea at Cary's is the best [illegible].

[illegible]

Monday [illegible] Algebra [illegible], Higher Algebra [illegible]

1:30 p. m.—American [illegible], English Literature, Solid Geometry, Xenophon's Anabasis, French.

Tuesday—9:30 a. m.—Arithmetic, Plane Geometry, Mental Philosophy, Sallust's Catiline.

1:30 p. m.—Geography, Physical Geography, Political Economy, Advanced Physics, Virgil's Æneid.

Wednesday—9:30 a. m.—English Grammar, Botany, Homer's Iliad, Cæsar's Commentaries.

1:30 p. m.—Spelling, Physiology, Astronomy, Greek Prose Composition, Zoology.

Thursday—9:30 a. m.—Rhetoric and English Composition, History of Greece, Plane Trigonometry, German.

1:30 p. m.—Civil Government, Elementary Physics, Chemistry, Latin Prose Composition.

Friday—9:30 a. m.—History of Rome, Moral Pilosophy, History of England, Book-keeping.

1:30 p. m.—Geology, Cicero's Orations.

To all who are students or ever have been students of Fulton Academy no charges are made for attending these examinations and no charge is made for persons who have previously paid $1 for the privilege of trying. To others $1 is charged which gives anyone the privilege of trying any or all of the subjects.

Falley Seminary Re-Union and History.

Were you at the Re-Union and stirred by it? Do you desire a book with the account of the re-union, including the historical address, and as far as possible the name, address, occupation, year or years at school, of every old student from 1834, to 1884? Would you prefer a pamphlet at fifty cents, or a book at a dollar?

Please send your name as you desire it printed, and let the married ladies give their maiden name. By your response to the re-union invitation, or by your presence at Fulton, are you entitled to have your name in the chapel list?

Send us the name and address of any old student whom you may know. Have you any suggestions as to the book, or any incident saved out of the school years? Have you any sentence, as a tribute to a departed teacher or student? May we use, modify, or refuse anything sent? Please send your response at once to Miss Elizabeth I. Coates, Secretary of Committee of Correspondence.

COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

Mrs. Helen Byington Emens,
Miss Elizabeth I. Coates,
Mrs. Martha Harroun Howe,
Mrs. DeEtte Bassett Cole,
Mrs. Mary Warren Emerick,
Mrs. Helen Tucker Gage,
Mrs. May Northrop Howe,
Miss Franc H. French.

A HIGH TESTIMONIAL.

FULTON, Feb. 12, 1889.

My Dear Dr. Meyers, Optician Lewis House,

DEAR SIR—The long and tedious voyages I made in Mongolia encountering frequent sand storms and simoons—almost blinding me at the time—so impaired my sight that the most skilled opticians in various large cities that I have tried failed to give me any comfort in the way of fitting glasses to my almost blinded sight. Upon your arrival in Fulton I was by some influence pursuaded to try you. I did so, and your first attempt has been a perfect success. I can see as well with the glasses you made for me as ever in my life and not fatigue my eyes by using them constantly. Were you to pay me a thousand dollars I could not be pursuaded to part with them and again undergo the tortures of so many years of distressing blindness. My wife also joins me in deepest gratitude for the glasses you fitted to her eyes and my sister who is visiting at my house is more than pleased with hers. Altogether we feel it our duty to gratuitously hand you this testimonial as a small part of our appreciation of your real value and work to any one suffering from this distressing misfortune of loosing their eyesight. Faithfully Your Friend,

HARRY COMSTOCK.

Cole's Carbolisalve

Is a truly wonderful remedy, suited alike to the skin of the child and the adult, and its soothing, cleansing and healing properties render its application universal. It has no equal as a cure for Piles, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poisons, Bites of Insects, Chilblains, Chaps and all Itching and Irritating diseases of the Skin and Scalp. It immediately relieves the pain of Scald and Burns and cures the worst case with out a scar. Get only the genuine which has a black wrapper with green letters. Small boxes 25 cents; Large boxes 50cts. Sold by H. C. Giesler. 40tf

Music Books and Music Folios at Bristol's.

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. Hill, Oneida street.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 30tf

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches [illegible] at Draper's [illegible]

Best [illegible]

The S. C. C. [illegible] home of Mrs. H. H. [illegible] evening.

John Burkhard whose [illegible] carved last week, [illegible] part of W. T. Church's house on Utica street.

An adjourned meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the association rooms to-morrow at 3 p. m.

We understand that there is a movement on foot to consolidate the two electric light companies of this village.

Bill Nye the humorist and James Whitcomb Riley, the poet, will appear at Shakespeare hall, Syracuse, on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The Hattie Bernhard Chase Comedy Co. played to a fair house on Friday evening. The play and company did not come up to the expectation of the audience.

The Observer announces that Rev. Joseph Bloom will soon sever his connection with the Free Baptist Society at Oswego Falls and go elsewhere to preach.

The funeral services of Mrs. Florence Dow daughter of William Morton were largely attended at the Baptist church Friday afternoon. The pastor Rev. J. C. Breaker preached the sermon.

The marriage of Dr. Graham A. Andrews of Lyons, N. Y., formerly of this village, to Miss Lulu Conover of Philadelphia, Pa., occurred at the Fifth Baptist church in Philadelphia, yesterday.

WE are in receipt of a copy of "The Middle Man" published at Moberly, Missouri, sent us by Mrs. C. D. Bushnell. The paper contains a descriptive article on the enterprising city of Moberly in which an account of Mrs. Bushnell's Ladies' Furnishing establishment is given.

G. G. Ives returned with his wife from Syracuse, Monday, where Mrs. Ives was taken about five weeks ago for medical treatment. On Jan. 14th, a tumor was removed which reduced her weight seventy-two pounds. The surgical operation was successfully performed and if her home north of Volney is reached without drawbacks her recovery is assured.

To-morrow is St. Valentine's day. We expect to receive our customary 8 by 10 inch lithograph representing the editor with toes protruding from well worn shoes, a quill over the ear, no coat, half a pair of suspenders, a borrowed shirt and a wild haunted look in the face, as the quill driver manipulates a huge pair of scissors with one hand and holds an exchange in the other. This running on facts is too serious a joke but as the valentine comes annually addressed in an unknown hand we have thus far been unable to catch the miscreant.

A couple of burglars broke into John Merton's grocery store, in the north part of the village last Wednesday night and made way with the money drawer containing about seven dollars. An entrance was made through a window. The burglars were seen by a woman living on a canal boat near by who gave the alarm. The two men were pursued and narrowly escaped being captured. The money drawer was found the next day on Seventh street where it had been thrown after the money had been taken from it. The officers hope to run the thieves down.

Jedediah Green writes from California, where he and his family arrived about a week ago, that the change of climate and scenery is simply marvellous. Wheat is up six inches and flowers in bloom. He says it is the most beautiful farming country he ever saw, land sells at from 3 to 500 dollars per acre near Alameda where he is located. A young man there expects to put in 150 acres of tomatoes this season. He said, riding through 40 miles of snow sheds was a new experience and much like going through a tunnel. As they neared Sacramento they passed orange orchards and the trees hanging full of ripe ones and everything looked as pleasant as May in New York state. He sends regards to his friends here and says, after a week's continuous ride on the cars they were glad to sleep on a still quiet bed again, but were all now well, and hearty.—Cor. Oswego Times.

Henry Eadley has a 10 pound baby boy.

[illegible] any in this [illegible] and of [illegible] work of the lodge is said, by many who are capable of judging, to be equal to any in the state.

The following are the present officers:

N. G., Dr. B. F. Marsh; V. G., B. A. Waugh; R. S., Harvey Bush; Per. S., Walter Bradley; Treas., John C. Dresser; W., Fred Miller; C., A. E. Worden; O. G., T. C. Wilson; I. G., E. H. Morgan; R. S. N. G., L. T. Miller; L. S. N. G., W. H. Ross; R. S. V. G., F. M. Darrow; L. S. V. G., A. J. Tooley; R. S. S., G. C. Webb; L. S. S., W. J. Watson; Chap., Jas. F. Cooper.

Some of the most noted officials in the order from out of town will be present at the dedicatory ceremonies which will be conducted by the following officers:

Grand Master, John H. White, P. G. S.; G. War., George W. Chapman, D. G. M.; G. Chap., James Terwilliger, G. S.; Herald of the North, T. D. Richards; Herald of the South, W. J. Watson; Herald of the East, G. C. Webb; Herald of the West, Fred Miller; Gr. Mar., Chas. A. Bentley, D. D. G. M.

Concerning a Former Fultonian

At an election of officers of the Denver Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year Mr. H. B. Chamberlin, one of the most widely known real estate men in the city, was selected as president and the choice will meet with universal approval.

Mr. Chamberlin has long been identified with the material interests of Denver and has as great an interest in the city as any other one man. In times past he has been foremost in any measure which would advance the welfare of the city and he has at all time assisted in financial as well as by moral support all propositions of value to both the city and county and state as well. The mantle of President of the Chamber of Commerce has once more fallen on worthy shoulders.—Denver Republican.

A New Enterprise.

A company consisting, we understand, of the Hunter Brothers of Syracuse, and Mr. Harry Comstock of this village, have purchased all that part of what is known as the old tannery lot situated on the east side of lower First street, of Gilbert & Nichols and propose to erect at once a factory building for the manufacture of sportsmen's guns. Mr. Comstock and his Syracuse partners expect to complete arrangements to-day with a contractor for the erection of their building. There is also a probability that the Kendrick feed cutter will be manufactured in this part of the village the coming season.

The Industrial Fair.

The Fulton Union School Industrial Fair will be held in the school building at the corner of Fourth and Rochester streets on Thursday and Friday, March 7 and 8. The scholars of the village schools have been busily engaged for some time in preparing things for this exhibit and many unique and skillfully executed articles will be seen, the work of the scholars. This is an innovation in our schools and a commendable movement as it incites a mild form of emulation among scholars to make something with their own hands that will be superior to their friends.

Teacher's Association.

Teachers from other towns who can readily reach Oswego Falls by rail or other conveyance are cordially invited to participate with Granby teachers in the association at the school house Upper Oswego Falls, Saturday, Feb. 23. Let us all hope for a pleasant day, but if the pleasant day does not come let us come just the same.

W. A. BALDWIN, Com.

A Dairy Thermometer Free.

Any farmer sending 10cts. in stamps for postage, etc. to the Gifford M'f'g Co., Watertown, N. Y. will receive by return mail their new catalogue containing valuable information for butter makers and a good dairy thermometer.

If you want a pure Soap use Master. 40tf.

A fine line of Slippers at Hill's New Shoe Store, on Oneida Street.

[illegible]

[illegible] friends of Mrs. F. B. [illegible] will be pleased to learn that [illegible] improved in health by her sojourn in [illegible].

The Young Ladies Guild of Zion church will hold a social at Mrs. Chas. Whitcher's, Tuesday evening, Feb. 19. The parish and friends are invited.

The R. & O. factory is now running night and day. An indication of good times to the many employes in the largest establishment in this vicinity.

Those wishing to take a half term of dancing lessons, can join Miss Tucker's class, Friday evening, February 15th. Children's class Thursday afternoon, Feb. 21st.

Large quantities of counterfeit small coin are in circulation in this city. Some of them are of very poor workmanship. Is it possible that there is another "mint" in our midst.—Oswego Palladium.

Field's Minstrels are to appear at the opera house next Wednesday evening. They come most highly recommended and we predict a first class entertainment. See advertisement in another column.

A district meeting of Good Templars will be held in the lodge rooms in this village next Monday evening. The County Chief Templar will be present. Members of the Phœnix and Pennellville lodges are expected to attend.

Mr. Beals has opened his new photograph gallery over Morrow's grocery store and has the finest facilities for doing first class work with a young man from Boston as operator and who will give all sittings personal attention. Entire satisfaction guaranteed.

Cyrus Hall, who for many years lived at Granby Centre but recently moved onto the Cheney farm about a mile north of Hannibal attempted suicide last week by taking arsenic. Financial troubles are said to be the reason of the rash act. He will probably recover.

The Black Thorn Co. billed to appear at the opera-house Thursday evening failed to connect. The train in which they came was stalled in a snow bank near Phœnix and they did not arrive until after eight o'clock. No entertainment was therefore given.

The Minetto Fire company will hold a reception and ball at White's hall, on Friday evening. Music by Whitford's orchestra. The following have the matter in charge. Committee of arrangements, M. M. Sweet, W. B. Brook, P. Hudnins. Floor managers, C. Tompkin, S. Perry, W. Tied.

The blizzard and large fall of snow made railroad travel an uncertain quantity for several days last week and the country roads impassable. The open winter talk was knocked higher that "Gilderoy's kite." We now have a large quantity of snow but trains run with their usual regularity and the country roads are passable.

The last entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Course at the Presbyterian church, Friday evening was well attended, about 400 being present. The Syracuse University Glee Club did finely, their grasshopper song being especially well received. Conrad Becker increased the favorable impression that he had already made here as a superior violinist.

What's the matter with comparing Fulton with any of the most enterprising western cities. Gilbert & Nichols recently purchased of Messrs. Bradshaw and Burdick the old tannery lot on lower First street for $1,200 they sold one half of the same last week for $2,500. Messrs. Gilbert & Nichols however guarantee a certain amount of power in the sale which may make the profit an uncertain quantity.

The February meeting of the Oswego County Educational Council will be held Saturday the 23 inst., instead of the 16 inst. There will be a continuation of the discussion of Miss Walter's paper on Number and other exercises of interest and profit to all who attend.

ROBT. SIMPSON, JR.
Sec'y.

[illegible] The following [illegible] held lucky numbers and won prizes:

Five dollar gold piece, Master [illegible]; [illegible] Two boxes of cigars, Mr. Watson A. Bunce.

Door Prizes—Plush [illegible], Mrs. P. O'Hare; Silver dollar, Miss K. Graham; Magic lantern, Earl Sheppard; Bride of the fair, John R. Sullivan; Wedding cake and ship "Fortuna," Miss Maggie Conley.

The Infants' cloak contested for by Miss Alice Cullen and Miss Beatrice Sullivan was won by the latter by 170 majority.

A rich plush covered prayer book was won by Father Barley. The reverend gentleman donated it back to the children. Tickets were distributed and Master Richard Cavanaugh held the lucky number.

The festival was well conducted, the exercises interesting and the faithful work of the children was crowned with success.

The youthful managers of the festival return sincere thanks to all those who encouraged them and whose donations are appreciated, special mention is due Mr. Wilson who generously donated a ton of coal, Miss Grace Tucker and the Women's Relief Corps whose kindness will be remembered.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

After George Greenleaf was sent to jail for assault on Frank Flet, the persistent effort of Mrs. Cook, the mother of Greenleaf, to secure the arrest of Flet for assault in the third degree, was accomplished.

Her story was that Flet, after his encounter in the bar-room with Greenleaf, attempted to enter the dining room and that when she opposed his way he struck and knocked her to the floor. In proof of this she showed a discolored eye and a swollen cheek. Flet denied the allegation.

W. C. Stephens appeared for Flet and S. M. Mead for Mrs. Cook. This case was before Police Justice Sharp Friday and after a couple of adjournments was closed Monday and Flet discharged. Mrs. Cook is not satisand will probably endeavor to secure satisfaction in some other way.

Oswego County G. A. R. Association.

The annual meeting of the G. A. R. Reunion association of Oswego county was held in the rooms of Post O'Brian, Arcade block, Monday. Eleven G. A. R. Posts were represented. Delegates from several Eastern posts were unable to be present on account of the snow. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $758.86 in the treasury. C. A. Taylor of Oswego, was elected President; A. N. Beadle of Pulaski, Amos Alport of Scriba, E. Waugh of Fulton and A. J. Potter of Orwell, Vice-Presidents; A. S. Coey, Redfield, T. C. Taggert, Phoenix, G. P. Mattison and B. C. Barnes of Oswego, Trustees. The executive committee will select the place for holding the next reunion. Sandy Creek is bidding for it. It belongs to Oswego.—Oswego Palladium.

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. have granted the Postal and Western Union Telegraph Companies and the Telephone Co. the right to stretch wires on their large poles for their own use gratis.

A CARD.

FULTON, N. Y., Feb. 9th, 1889.

Although it seems superfluous to add my word of testimony to the many communications in the hands of Dr. Meyer I take pleasure in expressing my gratification with the beautiful artistic exhibition with which he has favored me. I cannot doubt what so many competent witnesses emphatically declare, and so long time victims of disordered and feeble eyesight certify from their experience with reference to Dr. Meyer's glasses and methods of adjustment. I hope he may give eyes to multitudes.

CHAS. M. LEE, M. D.

Master is the most economical 5c. Cake in the Market. 40tf.

Go to the New Shoe Store, in the Patterson block, for "Waverly Shoes." Every pair warranted.

Wert's famous bread at Berzee's.

[illegible] by Peebles & Co. [illegible] goods at [illegible] at practically wholesale rates.

You Never Can

Do any better if you wait until doomsday, because better prices can not be made on goods that are bought as ours are in honest trade.

You Never Did

Have such an offer made you in the whole of your experience as a buyer, as that which we are now making and awaits your acceptance.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Only 15cts. per Pound!

The Celebrated

Tally Ho Baking Powder.

For which we have the exclusive sale in this town. Every can warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded

Good Dust Tea 10c. per lb. or 3lb for 25c.

These bargains to be found only at Robinson's Grocery. One door above the Clark House.

E. J. ROBINSON.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE
ALSO
FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS.
OF ALL KINDS
Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware
Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,
Oneida Street, Fulton and [illegible], Oswego Falls, N. Y.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—On Second Street, House in good repair, large lot, fruit, barn, good cistern, city water. Enquire of Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co., Crockery Store. 43tf

FOR SALE—House on Seneca street, known as the Palmiter place, on very reasonable terms or will exchange for Syracuse property. Inquire of

W. J. LOVEJOY,
Fulton Savings Bank.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S Fuller. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot corner of Fourth and Utica streets Fulton, or will exchange for a smaller house. Inquire of GILES S. PIPER, or

40t3 MRS. S. M. BABCOCK.

FOR SALE—One Parlor Stove, two Extension Tables, one fall leaf Table, two Stands and a number of other articles at S. A. GREEN'S, 39w4 Oneida Street.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hard ware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

Stephens Opera House,

Wednesday Even'g, Feb 20.

AL. G. FIELD & CO.'S

OPERATIC MINSTRELS.

BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER.

Fashion's Favorites!

An Entire New Company,
New Acts, Original Ideas,
Novel Features, Catchy Music,
Handsome Costumes,
Superb Singing,
A Dancing Tournament.

The Mammoth

Military Encampment First Part
(Copyrighted.)

THE TWO DRUMMERS;
or THE HOTEL AT THE JUNCTION.
The Burlesque Japanese Students,
The Policeman's Parade,
And One Hundred Other New Ideas.

The Greatest, Grandest Combination
Of Musical Celebrities, Comedians
Dancers and Specialists Extant.
LOUIS KERR'S
$5,000 Challenge Military Band.
Musical Concert and Grand Parade
Daily at 11 a. m.

SPECIAL SALE OF

BLACK SILKS AND HENRIETTAS.

We have concluded to give the people of Fulton and vicinity a GRAND TREAT in the way of bargains in Fine Dress Fabrics, this week and next, so those who anticipate buying anything in the line we invite you to inspect these goods, and compare our prices on SAME QUALITIES anywhere you please, and we are sure that you will be convinced that we "Always Lead Never Follow."

Please note the following, and at the same time keep in mind the fact that our goods always prove to be as represented:

Our $1.30 Silk Warp Henriettas we offer at $1.19.
" [illegible] " " " .75.
" [illegible] " " " .73.
" [illegible] " " " 1.4[illegible]

Our 60c. all wool Cashmere Henriettas we offer at 49c.
" 80c. " " Black Cord " " " " 73c.
" 85c. Lustre Twill, 40 inch " " " " 73c.

[illegible] During this sale we shall offer our $1.00 Plush at 78c. and a good one at 47c.

[illegible] "[illegible] on the farm," is part of [illegible] New Yorker's creed.

There has been a great increase in the production of oats of late years in the United States.

A New England man thinks "the bottom has not dropped out of farming altogether. All business is done on a smaller margin of profit than formerly."

"High grade sulphate of potash is valued by tobacco growers who wish a manure rich in potash," according to S. G. Hubbard, a New England tobacco grower.

Professor A. J. Cook tells in Country Gentleman that he was never so pleased with winter feeding of all his stock as during last winter while feeding ensilage.

Cream needs stirring frequently, to mix the different skimmings and to aerate and ripen it evenly, says A. L. Crosby.

Ground bone should occasionally be given to growing chicks. The bones, however, should be fresh. They will greatly assist the growth of chicks.

Professor Henry, of the Wisconsin Experiment station, has discovered that milk made from ensilage is much more churnable than milk made from dry fodder. Less butter fat goes out in the buttermilk.

At the late annual meeting of the State Agricultural Society at Albany it was reported that since the last annual meeting thirty-seven farmers' institutes have been held. The society expressed satisfaction with the results of these institutes.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society reports that the cereal crops of New York of last year compare favorably with those of the previous year, except in the case of wheat. Rye and oats yielded more per acre than in 1887.

According to a recent estimate the corn exports from the United States for the past six months were $11,400,000 in value, compared with $6,300,000 last year; wheat, $25,900,000, compared with $38,300,000, and wheat flour $23,260,000, compared with $28,400,000.

The fact that "variety in food is essential for cows in milk" does not seem to be generally acted upon. "A mixture of corn and oats ground, and bran in equal quantities, makes one of the very best grain rations for the cows that can be used. Corn by itself should never be employed."

Cream not sufficiently ripened does not produce a good keeping or good flavored butter. Cream too much ripened yields a bad flavored butter. We caution the farmers not to put sweet cream in with ripened cream just before churning. No cream should be churned until it has been ripened at least twelve hours.

Cutting Hay.

I am convinced that cutting fodder or cutting hay does not pay. I know of no experiments that show in a manner at all satisfactory that cut hay is of any increased value over uncut hay. I shall be, therefore, thrown back upon the speculation or the logic of the question. As it neither increases the amount of the food nor its probable digestability, it would seem to follow that any advantage from cutting must be derived from the labor saved in mastication.

This saving will be of very doubtful value. Cut hay has very sharp edges and soon gets the mouth sore and induces a greater disposition to swallow it half masticated. In such an event the saliva of the mouth is not so perfectly mixed with it.

Indeed if cutting saves the labor of mastication as it is intended to do, it must increase the rapidity of eating. Again, if it could be cut so short as to be possible to virtually swallow it whole, when the glazed stem of hay would resist the juices of the stomach more fully than when masticated well. Long, or whole hay, we know is chewed considerably, and in the process the stem gets chewed under the teeth of cattle, which works somewhat as a mill would in mushing the hay, or rather as the rubbing of a body between two stones, back and forth, would work upon a material. It would appear that not only is greater time for the mixture of saliva with the food given, but that a more pulpy or upbraided food would result, that would yield more readily to all after processes of the stomach designed to facilitate digestion.

We have experience related in cutting corn fodder that is favorable where the fodder is rightly handled, and the reverse when otherwise treated. Without looking it up, my recollection is that Professor Henry found cutting corn fodder to increase the amount eaten, in any event I am now feeding corn fodder cut by two machines—the hand cutter, that severs the stalk square off, leaving the sharp edges to worry the cattle in feeding; the other is the Lion cutter and smasher that cuts and then tears apart.

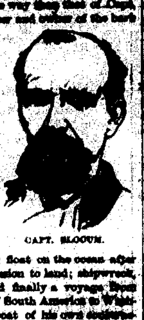
The latter machine secures the consumption of most of the fodder, and more than the mere cutting does and more than non-cutting does by a large per cent. But our corn fodder is much coarser than the Eastern corn fodder and also is courser than Northern corn fodder.

My advise to Mr. Bennett is not to cut his hay at all and that cutting even of corn fodder where it is well secured, as in the east, and of a fine stalk, will not pay a very good profit unless it be cut better than by the [illegible] cutter.—Professor T. W. [illegible] in Mirror and Farmer.

[illegible]

We [illegible] for [illegible] ships [illegible] wonders in the deep [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] mariner [illegible] [illegible] tales of the sea [illegible] so fascinating. But in this as in many other things romance is outdone by reality, and the genius of Cooper and [illegible] [illegible] actually experienced by [illegible] mariners [illegible].

Of the real experiences of recent times none is more curious in its way than that of Capt. Josiah Slocum, master and owner of the bark Aquidneck, whose recent voyage of 7,000 miles in the little Liberdade has attracted so much interest among seafaring men. In less than three years he has gone the whole round of disasters at sea—mutiny and attempted murder, resulting in the killing of one mutineer; a crew disabled by smallpox; a long float on the ocean after being refused permission to land; shipwreck, with loss of all, and finally a voyage from the southern part of South America to Washington, D. C., in a boat of his own construction, but 35 feet long and 7½ feet wide, rigged as a Chinese junk, his wife and two sons being his only companions. As the trial in court and trials on the water of Capt. Slocum in South America have been somewhat misrepresented, it is fitting that the exact facts should be presented, partly as detailed by himself and partly as shown by official record.



CAPT. SLOCUM.

The bark Aquidneck, of 326 tons burden, a clipper of noted swiftness, sailed from New York Feb. 26, 1886, loaded with oil for Montevideo in Uruguay. From there Capt. Slocum went up the river Plato to take a cargo of wine from a stranded brig, delivered it at Rosario on the Parana, and took on a load of hay for Rio Janeiro; but as there was cholera at Rosario, he was forbidden to enter at Rio, and had to return to Rosario, being unable to get rid of his load along the coast of Brazil. At Rosario the cholera had created a regular panic, and all the jails were opened; so of the six men he took there as a new crew five proved to be jail birds, regular cutthroats.

After another trip to Rio he sailed up Paranagua bay to load with "mate"—a sort of tea. The first dark night, the bark lying at anchor in the harbor of Antonina, the cutthroat crew embraced the chance to attempt the capture of the vessel. The captain and his wife, who sailed with him, were awakened at midnight by the two leading mutineers coming aft (where they had no business at that hour), and as the captain went on deck, gun in hand, he was seized by the leader and forced to his knees, but managed to bring the gun to the villain's breast and shot him through. He fell, and the other advanced supposing the gun to be empty; but it was a breech loader with several shots, and one of them was sent through the second man, who fell dead on the deck. The other two (one of the five was ashore) did not advance, but obeyed the captain's order to launch the boat and take the wounded man ashore.

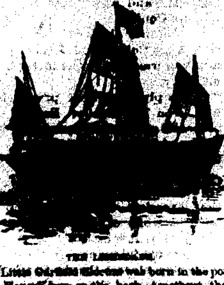
There was a thorough investigation and the Brazilian authorities exonerated Capt. Slocum from all blame. The wounded man recovered, and the captain had to pay for his surgery and also pay his wages to date! It is a comical illustration of the mutineer's desperate character that while lying wounded on the deck he reviled the captain and ridiculed his awkward shooting; and in the final settlement swore he would make no allowance for some clothes he had drawn, because the captain had shot a hole through them. Capt. Slocum then took a crew of Brazilians, delivered the "mate" at Montevideo, and was about to start for Paranagua, when the American consul detained him on some trifling pretense and his men were exposed to "black smallpox." Before clearing the river Plato it broke out in the worst form, two men fell on the deck with "rigor" in the spine and base of the brain.

"Up helm and into Maldonado," the nearest port, was the order; but the people of that place are the "Yahoos" described by Swift in "Gulliver's Travels." The captain signaled "Smallpox on board! Immediate medical aid wanted." Yet thirty-six hours passed before any doctor came off, and all he did was to announce that it was smallpox and the ship must leave. The captain, his son Victor, aged 17 years, and the carpenter were the only force left to navigate the vessel. Of the others, two died on board, and the cook, who had faithfully attended the sick, died after going ashore. After great suffering and delay they got back to Montevideo and got their sick off in an open boat, towed behind a steamer by 200 fathoms of line. After a tedious and expensive disinfecting of the vessel, another crew was obtained; they sailed to Paranagua bay loaded with lumber and were stranded on the bar where the Aquidneck, after twenty-five years' good service, became a total wreck.

Capt. Slocum had lost all—his vessel, worth some $10,000, and all the outlay due to detention, sickness, disinfection and mutiny. He now had to decide whether he would apply to the American consul, and come home as a pauper, or try to save something from the wreck. He determined on the latter and went to work, aided by his heroic wife, his son Victor and younger son, James Garfield, aged 8, to build a smaller boat from the wreck. The result was the now famous Liberdade, so called because it was launched May 13, the anniversary of [illegible] in Brazil. Victor arranged the rigging and did much of the work on the little cabin, Mrs. Slocum made the sails, and even the little boy did such tasks as holding the [illegible] to clinch the nails. The captain was carpenter, builder and boss. The anchor rope was made of vines that grow along the bank [illegible] many of the smaller ropes were made from the bark of trees, and the larger ones were taken from the wreck. The little cabin was framed of bamboo work, with canvas stretched over it, the whole lashed together by rope made of the bark of trees. The little vessel drew two feet four inches when [illegible] provisioned. The [illegible] of the rudder [illegible] of Brazilian [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] The captain is a very [illegible] [illegible] of the old [illegible] family of Slocums.



THE LIBERDADE.

Little Garfield Slocum was born in the port of Hong Kong on the bark Amethyst, then the oldest American vessel afloat; he was named by Col. Mosby, then consul there, as he was registered at the consulate on the day of President Garfield's inauguration. Victor Slocum was born in San Francisco, and their other two sons, now in England, were born in Sydney, New South Wales, and the Philippine Islands. The captain also had two children born in Kamschatka, now deceased. His wife is a native of Nova Scotia, but of Yankee stock.

The Oft Told Story

Of the peculiar medicinal merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully confirmed by the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried it. Peculiar in the combination, proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, peculiar in the extreme care with which it is put up, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in the unequalled good name it has made at home, which is a "tower of strength abroad," peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained, is the most popular and successful medicine before the public today for purifying the blood, giving strength, creating an appetite.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I suffered from wakefulness and low spirits, and also [illegible] on the back of my head and neck, which was very annoying. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I have received so much benefit that I am very grateful, and I am always glad to speak a good word for this medicine." Mrs. J. S. Snyder, Pottsville, Penn.

Purifies the Blood

Henry Biggs, Campbell Street, Kansas City, had scrofulous sores all over his body for fifteen years. Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured him.

Wallace Buck, of North Bloomfield, N. Y., suffered eleven years with a terrible varicose ulcer on his leg, so bad that he had to give up business. He was cured of the ulcer, and also of catarrh, by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

[illegible]

Uganda, in [illegible] part of Central Africa, has an area of 34,000 [illegible] and a population of 5,[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] PLASTER

[illegible]

NICHOLS' BARK & IRON

[illegible] AN UNRIVALLED TONIC [illegible]

and children it is recommended by Physicians. Where other Tonics have failed this has made a conspicuous success.

NICHOLS' BARK AND IRON can be obtained of all Druggists.

BILLINGS, CLAPP & CO., Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. [illegible] Doliber-Goodale Co., Boston, Mass.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

HONEST.

In these days of adulteration and fraud, in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters in curing scrofula; you can depend on them everytime. W. B. EVERTS, A. M., Charleston, S.C. 38w3.

The King of Portugal, Luis I., is fifty years old and is a man of enterprise and progress. He has been twenty-nine years a King.

IT IS USELESS

for young ladies who are troubled with freckles, pimples, moth and tan and a bad skin generally to use liquid paints or dry powders, for they only make the skin look well for the time being. To have a good complexion you must have pure blood. Use Sulphur Bitters and your skin will be fair and complexion rosy.—Young Ladies' Magazine. 38w2

The Emperor of Austria, Francis Joseph, is fifty-eight years of age, and has worn the imperial crown for forty years.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

The Duke of Portland, Master of Horse for the Queen, is the youngest of English Dukes, being but 32 years of age and unmarried.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

The Emperor of Russia, Alexander III., is forty-three years of age, and ascended the throne after the murder of his father, seven years ago.

Stop that Cough.

Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. Use Kemp's Balsam, best cough cure. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c and $1. Sample free. 37w4

The Sovereign or Sultan of Turkey, Abdul Hamid II., is forty-six years old, and succeeded to the throne twelve years ago, when the Sultan who preceded him was deposed.

[illegible]

SAVE THE BABIES by using Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure. Absolutely safe 50 cents.

Sweat-Groan-Growl.

What else is to be expected of the old fashioned way of blacking the shoes? Try the new way by using WOLFF'S Acme Blacking and the dirty task becomes a cleanly pleasure.

Wolff's ACME Blacking REQUIRES NO BRUSH.

[illegible] It is also an Elegant [illegible] Dressing.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia

I had a very Bad Cold, and got a bottle of Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer. [illegible]

Druggists [illegible]

[illegible]

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with PEERLESS DYES. They will dye everything. [illegible] by H. C. [illegible]

MORTGAGES ON LAND!

We purchase MORTGAGES upon lands in all the Western and Southern States [illegible]

The Corbin Banking Co., 115 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BIRD MANNA [illegible]

[illegible]

Prisoner—"If you was as innocent as I am, you [illegible] door."—Drake's Magazine.

Miss Rosie—"Do you think, Aunt Araminta, that marriage is a failure?"

Miss Araminta (age [illegible] desperately)—"I'm afraid it is."—Drake's Magazine.

Miss Travis: "Don't you think my new dress is too [illegible]" Miss Dolsmith: "Oh [illegible] I do believe [illegible] could make a bean-pole look graceful!"—Burlington Free Press.

Mrs. [illegible] young [illegible] not understand why [illegible] ed the rising generation.—Prairie Farmer.

Miss Smythe (to Editor [illegible] of the Daily Screecher)—Oh, Mr. [illegible], I think your paper is just splendid! Last week I advertised in the Screecher for my lost bracelet, and I found it the very next day, right on the piano—just where I had left it.—Toronto Grip.

The meanest man up to date is Sniffkins. He sold Jones a half-interest in a cow, and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that Jones owned the front half. The cow hooked Sniffkins, and now Sniffkins is suing Jones for damages.—Time.

Preparing for an emergency. Jeweler—The inscription you wished to engraved on the inside of this ring, if I understand you, is, "Marcellus to Irene?"

Young man (with some embarrassment)—Yes, that's right. But—er—don't cut the 'Irene' deep."—Chicago Tribune.

EQUAL TO THE OCCASION.—Augustus—"Why, how sweet you look this evening! I'd be almost tempted to kiss you, if it wasn't for disarranging your bang."

Small Brother (from behind the sofa)—"Take it off, sis."—Drake's Magazine.

A process has lately been invented whereby milk may be kept from souring for a month, grape and apple juice for six months and sweet wine for a year. The inventor is now experimenting on an apparatus which it is claimed will keep subscribers from souring on the editor.—Ex.

Mistress—Why, Bridget, what in the world are you doing with my dress on?

Bridget—Sure, mum, it's yerself that gave it to me.

Mistress—I gave it to you?

Bridget—Yis; yez said Oi could have it as soon as yez had worn it out, an' begorra yez wore it out yestherday afternoon.—Harper's Bazar.

First London Belle.—Oh, have you heard the news? I never would have believed it but it's true. All sorts of wonderful things are occurring nowadays.

Second London Belle—Dear me! What has happened?

An English duke, who spent three weeks in America, has returned and married an English girl.—New York Weekly.

ABSENCE OF MIND.—A Boston man purchased a bit of courtplaster for his nose and a postage stamp for a letter. He then placed the courtplaster on the letter, affixed the stamp to his nose and tried to crawl into the letter-box.—Drake's Magazine.

For the benefit of those who [illegible] printers' ink as a prime factor in the advancement of their interest, we would state that Sampson—the strong party—was the first man to advertise. He took two solid columns to demonstrate his strength and several thousand people "tumbled" to the scheme. He brought down the house.—Democratic Union.

St. Louis Man—"Wasn't there a tragedy up at Deadwood last night?" Dakota man—"A man stole a hoss ——" "Yes but the robbery. I heard that road agents robbed the stage and killed four passengers." "Sure enough they did. I'd nearly forgot about that." "Have they captured any of them?" "Captured 'em! No; W'y, man, they hain't ketched that hoss thief yit."—Time.

Eminent Statesman (walking up to reporter): My face is familiar to you, I presume?

Reporter—I have certainly seen you [illegible] and yet I cannot exactly [illegible]

Eminent Statesman—There is no [illegible] trying to keep [illegible] from [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] EVERY [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Consumption [illegible] Liver Complaint [illegible] Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. [illegible]

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

[illegible]

ACHE

[illegible]

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER, Proprietor.

37tf

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a First-Class Market. [illegible] invite all my [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

COURT APPOINTMENTS.

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, until further order, at the times and places below stated:

[illegible]

Trial Jurors are required to attend [illegible] on the second day thereof, but no Grand Jury [illegible] be summoned or required to attend.

Dated at Mexico, Oswego County, N. Y., Dec. 31, 188[illegible]. M. L. WRIGHT, Oswego County Judge.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, [illegible] is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] Harris, [illegible] late of the [illegible] of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of [illegible] or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October [illegible]

[illegible] Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y., Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, C. H. DAVID, Executors

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY, Administratrix

Special School Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that at a Special School Meeting of Union Free School District No. 1 in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, State of New York, to be held at the Fourth street school house, in said district, on the 4th day of March, 1889, at 7 o'clock, p. m., a tax will be proposed, not exceeding the sum of Eight thousand dollars, ($8,000), for the purpose of erecting an additional school building upon the Fourth street site, in said district.

Dated at Fulton, N. Y., this 30th day of January, 1889.

F. E. BACON,
H. C. HOWE,
W. G. GAGE,
W. McCULLY,
G. J. EMENY,
GILES S. PIPER,
C. H. DAVID,
H. S. GARDNER
S B. WHITAKER
Board of Education.

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR:

Or Social and Moral Culture.

Introduced by Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, is having the largest sale of any strictly subscription book published.

Terms and circulars free; if you mean business and want to commence work at once, send $1 for outfit. Exclusive Territory Guaranteed. Hoping to secure your services for 1889, we are, Yours truly,

LYMAN W. DICKERSON & CO, 919 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

(Mention this paper) 37w4

WANTED.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES, POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS, SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 200 TONS POULTRY & WILD GAME FOR HOLIDAYS WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day.

E. M. BALLARD & CO. 743 Myrtle Av. Brooklyn N. Y.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE

9 Cords [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

EPPS'S [illegible] COCOA

[illegible]

Livery [illegible]

[illegible]

"Say, walk with me but a little space,"
Said the World with a kindly air;
"The road I walk is a pleasant road,
And the sun shines always there;
Your path is thorny and rough and rude,
And mine is broad and plain;
My road is paved with flowers and dews,
And yours with tears and pain;
The sky above me is always blue;
No want, no toil, I know;
The sky above you is always dark,
Your lot is a lot of woe;
My path you see is a broad, fair one,
And my gate is high and wide;
There is room enough for you and for me,
To travel side by side."

Half shyly the Church approached the World,
And gave him her hand of snow;
The old World grasped it and walked along,
Singing in accents low,
"Your dress is too simple to please my taste;
I will give you pearls to wear,
Rich velvets and silks for your graceful form,
And diamonds to deck your hair."
The Church looked down at the plain white robe
And then at the dazzling World,
And blushed as she saw his handsome lip,
With a smile contemptuous curled,
"I will change my dress for a costlier one,"
Said the Church with a smile of grace;
Then the pure white garments drifted away,
And the World gave in their place,
Beautiful satins and shining silks,
And roses and gems and pearls,
And over her forehead her bright hair fell,
Crimped in a thousand curls.

"Your house is too plain," said the proud old World,
"I'll build you one like mine;
Carpets of brussels and curtains of lace,
And furniture ever so fine."
So he built her a costly and beautiful house;
Splendid it was to behold;
Her sons and her beautiful daughters dwelt there
Gleaming in purple and gold;
And fairs and shows in the halls were held,
And the World and his children were there,
And laughter and music and feasts were heard
In the place that was meant for prayer.
She had cushioned pews for the rich and great,
To sit in their pomp and pride;
While the poor folks, clad in their shabby suits,
Sat meekly down outside.

The Angel of Mercy flew o'er the Church,
And whispered, "I know thy sin,"
Then the Church looked back with a sigh, and longed
To gather her children in,
But some were off at the midnight ball,
And some were off at the play,
And some were drinking in gay saloons;
So she quietly went her way
Then the sly World gallantly said to her,
"Your children mean no harm,
Merely indulging in innocent sports;
So she leaned on his proffered arm,
And smiled and chatted and gathered flowers,
As she walked along with the World,
While millions and millions of deathless souls,
To the horrible gulf were hurled.

"Your preachers are all too old and plain,"
Said the gay World with a sneer;
"They frighten my children with dreadful tales,
Which I like not for them to hear;
They talk of brimstone and fire and pain,
And the horrors of eternal night;
They talk of a place which should not be
Mentioned to ears polite.
I will send you some of the better stamp,
Brilliant and gay and fast,
Who will tell you that people may live as they list,
And go to heaven at last.
The Father is merciful, great and good,
Tender and true and kind;
Do you think He would take one child to heaven
And leave the rest behind?
So he filled her house with gay divines,
Gifted and great and learned;
And the plain old men that preached the cross,
Were out of her pulpits turned

"You give too much for the poor," said the World
"Far more than you ought to do;
If the poor need shelter and food and clothes,
Why need it trouble you?
Go take your money and buy rich robes,
And horses and carriages fine,
And pearls and jewels and dainty food,
And the rarest and costliest wine;
My children they dote on all such things,
And if you their love would win,
You must do as they do; and walk in the ways
That they are walking in."
Then the Church held tightly the strings of her purse;
And gracefully lowered her head,
And simpered, "I've given too much away,
I'll do, sir, as you have said."

So the poor were turned from the door in scorn,
And she heard not the orphans cry;
And she drew her beautiful robes aside,
As the widows went weeping by;
And the sons of the World and the sons the Church
Walked closely hand and heart,
And only the Master, who knoweth all,
Could tell the two apart.
Then the Church sat down at her ease, and said,
"I am rich and in goods increased;
I have need of nothing, and have naught to do,
But to laugh and dance and feast,"
And the sly World heard her and laughed in his sleeve,
And mockingly said aside,
"The Church is fallen, the beautiful Church,
And her shame is her boast and pride"

[illegible]

—Exchange.

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood, which Hood's Sarsaparilla neutralizes, and thus cures rheumatism.

SPARKS.

[illegible]

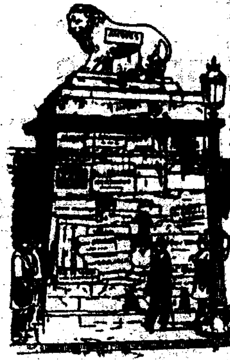
IN PARIS [illegible]

ELECTIONS IN THE [illegible] AND WORLD [illegible]

England's Greatest City Has Wrestled Successfully with the Choice of a County Council—Bill Sticking in Paris—A [illegible]

They have had [illegible] in London and Paris, and the bill stickers have had a picnic, as is said in the "wooly west," in [illegible] London [illegible] voted, giving [illegible] which lately agitated France; but in Paris the war was one of bill stickers. In America, Yankee or colonial, the voters are [illegible] with public meetings and [illegible] use a placard only to call attention to the meeting. They do [illegible] in Paris. Their arguments, their war cries, the names of their candidates, even the details of their campaigns, are set forth in grand placards, plain or many colored; and in this respect the campaign between Gen. Boulanger, representing all the elements of discontent, and the bourgeois Jacques, who represented all the "let-well-enough-alone" party, a campaign which terminated in the election of the 27th of January, outdid all that went before.

No expense was spared. [illegible] more than two million placards were posted. No place was sacred. "In default of the mantle of snow which is denied us by the clemency of the season," says a Parisian paper, "Paris is covered under by a visitation of white and parti-colored paper." The regular bill stickers of Paris were too few, and hundreds, if not thousands, of extras were employed, and it is pleasing to read that while the regulars pursued their business with business-like impartiality, the occasionals, or amateurs, allowed their politics to interfere with their business, and occasionally had it out with fist and skull. A Boulangist bill sticker would ornament the front of an old monument, and before the paste was dry a Jacquerist would come along and cover the other's with a fresh placard. The regular bill stickers appeared to be a jocular set of fellows, and took delight in pasting their bills in places politically most inappropriate. Thus at the Louvre, under the statue of Hoche, there was a Jacques placard, and under that of Kleber a Gen. Boulanger. The monument of Gambetta, that of Strasburg, all those of the Place de la Concorde and all the approaches to the Opera, even the pedestals of the most sacred monuments, were pasted over from five to fifty deep with placards.



BILL STICKING IN PARIS.

One might think that the law would have something to say, for in the French statute regarding the freedom of publication there are two pointed articles. One protects all sacred edifices and all edifices dedicated to culture, against bill stickers; the other punishes with heavy fine any one who defaces a fresh bill; yet both were totally disregarded. On the front, for instance, of the police headquarters were pasted hundreds of placards. On the steps of the Grand Opera every available inch was covered with the names of Jacques and Gen. Boulanger. From the 18th of January to the very day of the election, night and day, rival gangs of men posted and reposted, placarded and effaced each other's placards.

"In the memory of any living voter," says one of the witnesses, "such a plastering of Paris has not been seen." "The walls have ears," says an old proverb in all nations. In Paris they also had mouths, and the Parisian could not step outside of his dwelling or turn the angle of the street without facing hundreds of printed calls, which seemed to say "Look here, a candidate!" and in many different ways they called to him: "Don't pass on before reading me."

Perhaps the most grotesque spectacle was in front of the Tuileries, where the grand lion, the pedestal supporting it and all the walls were covered with the most outre and contradictory placards.

One called attention to Jacques, the candidate of the republic, another to Gen. Boulanger, the advocate of a revised and improved republic; another proclaimed the [illegible]

LADY [illegible]

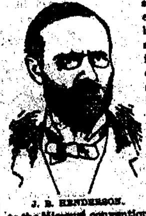
[illegible] the method of voting by ballot in England is about the same as in the United States, Canada and Australia, but is necessarily surrounded by more safeguards. The voter enters a room, goes to the table, gives his name and number to the registry, and receives a stamped paper on which the names of the candidates are printed. Then stepping aside to a desk he takes a pencil and marks a cross opposite the name of the candidate for which he wishes to vote, such parish or district returning two members to the London county council, folds this paper, holds it up in view of the clerk and drops it through a slit in the lid of the box.

Under the municipal law of London ladies paying rates in their own name are entitled to vote, and in this election very many lady householders quietly and easily performed the simple operations required by law. The police did not allow any crowding at the doors or any unnecessary talk in the room, and all rowdyism at the polls was forbidden. The system as above indicated is familiarly known in America as the Australian system, but it is adopted in some of the municipalities in England and the British colonies. It is apparent that it amounts to an educational test. In London and some other municipalities, as well as in Australia and some other colonies of the British empire, substantially the same result is obtained by printing the names of all the candidates on one ballot and allowing the voter to strike out the names of those he does not vote for, or putting a cross opposite names of those he does vote for.

JOHN BROOKS HENDERSON.

He May Go Into President-Elect Harrison's Cabinet.

Ex-United States Senator John Brooks Henderson, who has been prominently mentioned as standing a chance of being in President-elect Harrison's cabinet, was born in the quaint old town of Danville, Va., in 1826. His parents removed to Virginia when he was 10 years of age. He spent his early years on a farm, and taught while receiving his education. He studied law, and was admitted to the bar when 22 years of age, and in the same year was elected to the legislature. He was also sent to the legislature in 1856, originating the state railroad and banking laws in 1857. He was a presidential elector in 1856 and 1860. He was a delegate to the Charleston Democratic convention of 1860, and to the Missouri convention of 1861. In June, 1861, he equipped a regiment of state militia, which he commanded for a time. On the expulsion of Trusten Polk from the United States senate in 1862 he was appointed to fill the vacancy, and in 1863 was elected for the full term, ending in 1869. He was one of the seven senators whose votes defeated the impeachment of Andrew Johnson. He was a commissioner to treat with hostile Indians in 1867, and eight years later was appointed a United States district attorney to prosecute men that were accused of evading the revenue laws, but reflected on President Grant in one of his arguments and was removed from this office.



J. B. HENDERSON.

He is a good lawyer, an impressive talker and a man of much ability in many directions.

Electric Pleasure Boats.

What is stated to be the largest electric pleasure boat in the world has been launched on the Thames. This is the Viscountess Bury, which is mahogany built, and will carry between seventy and eighty passengers. She is 65 feet in length, with a beam of 10 feet, a mean draught of [illegible] and a displacement of 13 tons. The launch is worked by twin propellers which obtain their impetus from two [illegible] motors, each of 7½ horse power and driven by 200 accumulators placed underneath the floor of the boat. The whole deck space, from stem to stern, is thus left free for passengers. [illegible]

[illegible] Prince Bismarck [illegible] simple but substantial [illegible] by means of plenty of [illegible] air. Especially when at one of his three country seats—Friedrichsruh, Varzin or Schoenhausen—he really lives like a gentleman of the olden time. Every [illegible] to his [illegible] particular attention even to the comfort of the farm hands. In all the villages surrounding Varzin and Friedrichsruh, where he prefers to dwell, he is liked by poor and rich, and whenever he passes the children will greet him with "Guten tag, Herr Bismarck."

The old adage, "It's the early bird that catches the worm," does not apply to Bismarck. He does not rise earlier than 9 o'clock, and then, after taking a cup of coffee, he looks over his mail. Should the weather be favorable he takes a walk with his family about 11 o'clock—if in Berlin, through his and his neighbors' magnificent gardens, which adjoin the public park (Thiergarten), and if at one of his country seats, in his beloved forests or to the stud fields. On these promenades he wears a large, broad brimmed felt hat and carries a heavy cane.

After lunch he devotes several hours to the affairs of state. Then, while giving frequent instructions to his secretary, he either walks up and down the room or sits at his writing desk playing with his quill pen, from the immense size of which the name "Bismarck pen" is derived.

Exactly at 5 o'clock he sits down to dinner, which generally lasts two and often three hours. After the English style, every dinner contains fish, which dish the prince likes very much and of which he eats heartily. He is one of those who firmly believe in the old theory that the phosphoric substance contained in fish contributes to the restoration of the brain mass. He generally has a very good appetite. Every day some diplomatic or military men or friends dine with him, even if he should stay at his country seat, Varzin, near Schlawe, which is situated far off in Lower Pomerania, at some considerable distance from all large cities. When dining the prince is almost always in an excellent humor, and frequently changes the conversation from one subject to another. He has a peculiar habit of gazing at some object and wrinkling his brow before he commences, but when he does speak it is in the most unconventional manner.

From 8 to 9 o'clock in the evening the prince remains with his family and then works alone, often until 1 o'clock at night. During these nightly studies his inseparable companions are a long smoking pipe and a bumper filled with beer, of which he drinks copiously. Kegs of the brown liquid are frequently presented to him by some of the famed brewers of Germany.

BISMARCK'S PALACE.
[From Harper's Weekly.]

There is a good joke on Bismarck of recent circulation. [illegible]

[illegible] [From Harper's Weekly.]

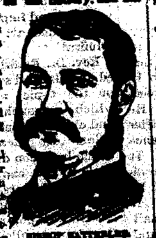
"It is the only [illegible] I ever made," [illegible] "I was a diplomatist, not [illegible]" event.

Prince Bismarck is probably the most powerful uncrowned man in the world. Prime minister and virtually ruler of the strongest power in Europe, [illegible] old. This is true [illegible] older. But Bismarck has drunk more beer and smoked more tobacco than Gladstone, and his health is not so good.

BISHOP OF MICHIGAN.

Sketch and Portrait of Rev. Henry Satterlee, Lately Chosen.

The Rev. Henry Y. Satterlee, D. D., of Calvary church, New York, recently elected bishop of Michigan to succeed the late Bishop Harris, comes of an old New York family. He was born in New York in [illegible], in the old Satterlee mansion on the Battery, and has lived his whole life in the state of his birth. At 20 years of age he was graduated at Columbia college at the head of the class of [illegible]. He at once entered upon the study of divinity at the General Theological seminary. After having thus been prepared for the ministry he was called to be assistant rector of Zion church, at Wappinger's Falls, N. Y., and was soon after made rector. This position he held for seventeen years. At the expiration of this term of service he was called to the rectorship of Calvary church, where he has since remained.



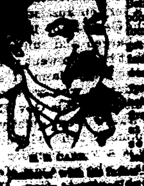
BISHOP SATTERLEE.

Dr. Satterlee has so many New York connections and associations that the west has thus far had no attractions for him. He has once declined the bishopric of Ohio; it remains to be determined if he will accept that of Michigan.

HON. R. S. CARR.

He Has Been Helping in the Making of History in West Virginia.

The Hon. R. S. Carr, of West Virginia, who has [illegible] president of the senate of that state [illegible] was born of Irish parents, who came to America many years ago, and settled in Guernsey county, O. [illegible]



R. S. CARR.

[illegible]

[illegible] POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
[illegible]

Sacrificed to Education.

[illegible] young girls [illegible] They are pale, hollow-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sassy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Ansom's bitter, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Germany for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Cleanses the Nasal Passages
Allays Pain and Inflammation.
Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
CATARRH
HAY-FEVER
TRY THE CURE.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists, by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York

$500 Cash
[illegible]
Ladies' Home Journal
[illegible] every subscriber secured, if desired, instead of premiums. Hundreds of dollars can be made during the next six months by men, women or children. We furnish free sample copies, postage, &c. Address
CURTIS PUBLISHING CO.
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

SEEDS
[illegible]

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

CHEST PAINS
Coughs, Colds
[illegible] relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster [illegible] At druggists, or of Potter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.

PIMPLES [illegible] cured by Cuticura Soap

[illegible] PILLS
[illegible]

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)
[illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE,
Jeweler.
WATCHES
CLOCKS
W. P. Osborne
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!
COAL!
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH. VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation. Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the COLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. [illegible] and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!
When I say Cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I mean A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I warrant my remedy to Cure the worst cases. [illegible] is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.

[illegible]
"MARVELS OF THE NEW WEST."
[illegible]

[illegible] DENTIST,
[illegible] Oswego Falls.
[illegible]

Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Warranted. Good References Given.
Orders can be be left at J. L. [illegible] & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

INSURANCE
—WRITTEN IN—
The Following Well-Known Companies:
ÆTNA, Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL, Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION, London, Eng
CONNECTICUT, Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION, Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS, Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG-BREMEN, Germany
IMPERIAL, London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,
MERCHANTS', Providence, R. I
NIAGARA, N. Y. City, N. Y
PHOENIX, Hartford, Conn
LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY [illegible]
C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
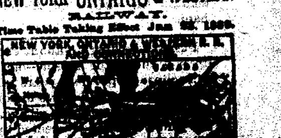
Time Table Taking Effect Jan. [illegible], 1889.
NEW YORK, ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R. AND CONNECTIONS.



TRAINS NORTH.
[illegible]

JAMES COLE
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
[illegible]
Caskets and Coffins
[illegible]
EMBALMING [illegible]
[illegible]
Hearse and Carriages [illegible]

[illegible] Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]

[illegible] communications, on business or [illegible] to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

OSWEGO county has 439 school teachers, 28,664 children of school age, pays a school tax of $24,024.28 and receives from the state $59,724.50.

A TERRIBLE calamity occurred in Hartford, Conn., Monday morning by which it is supposed that about forty loss their lives. The explosion of a boiler completely wrecked the Park Central Hotel which was a five story brick building. The disaster was unparalled in its way. Scarcely any of the guests escaped unhurt.

EVERYTHING points to the fact that the Pathfinder Boat Club will soon erect a club house. It will probably be located near the historic point on the Oswego river known as Cooper's Bluff, where Natty Bumpo, the pathfinder, Chingachook and Jasper secreted Mabel Dunham in a cave in the bluff while they fought the Iroquois for hours until darkness afforded them an opportunity to steal away in two canoes, passing the night in terror as they made their way down the river to Fort Ontario. On this historic and romantic bluff not many years since the remains of a warrior chief were exhumed. In his grave by his side was his tomahawk and a quantity of arrow heads that, no doubt, had done faithful service in guiding the warrior to the happy hunting grounds. May the members of the club be imbued with the spirit of honor and uprightness that was ever to be found in Natty Bumpo and may each maiden who is honored as a guest of the club emulate the virtues of Mabel Dunham.

FULTON seemingly is about entering upon a successful seoson—one that will eclipse all previous years in new enterprises that will prove important factors in building up the village. The new gun works will be erected by our fellow townsman, Harry Comstock and the Hunters and when in operation will employ from 200 to 300 men. This gun works enterprise is no visionary scheme but is entered into by men who know they have an article that will meet with a large and ready sale and they have the money or collateral with which to provide for the manufacture of the same.

Mr. Comstock is the best salesman of guns in this country and knows just what to put on the market. His new hammerless sporting gun will have a large sale.

The large pulp mill recently erected by the Fulton Pulp and Paper Co., while not employing many hands, is an important industry and the fine hydraulic raceway recently completed is sure before long to bring some manufactory to the fine water privileges that it posesses.

There are very flattering probabilities that a raceway will be built at lower Oswego Falls and the excellent water power there more extensively utalized. There are other movements on foot that will work to the great advantage of Fulton. The prospects are indeed bright.

THE time for town meeting is near at hand and the usual amount of discussion concerning available candidates is now going on. The office of Supervisor which is the most important will result in the choice of W. B. Howard by the Democrats. He will be nominated without opposition as he should be for the faithful work that he has done during the past session.

The Republicans have not yet settled on a candidate. It would be an interesting struggle if Arvin Rice would again consent to run and these two veterans in service as Supervisors again were in the field where each has served we think an equal number of terms. Among other names mentioned by the Republicans are William Waugh and E. R. Redhead. The latter did faithful service for his party during the recent campaign and would make a good supervisor. Mr. Waugh would make a strong candidate and has shown on many occasions that he would be a man hard to beat at the polls. Applicants for the minor offices are thicker than hair on a dog's back. What the people want [illegible] are men selected for their ability to fill the positions and candidates placed in nomination by either party for political aggrandisement [illegible] result in defeat. The people [illegible] for "heelers" to carry [illegible] capacity. Let [illegible] to this and see that [illegible] by even [illegible] [illegible] collect damages from the [illegible] and enjoin him from its further use. Nothing could be more false and misleading than these statements, and nothing more unworthy and disingenuous than their publication.

The following are the facts:

1. The case decided by the Supreme Court was on the Bate Refrigerator patent, which has nothing to do with electric lighting.

2. No Edison patent has ever been passed upon by the Supreme Court.

3. The point decided was that an American patent for an invention previously patented abroad does not expire until the foreign patent ceases to exist.

4. Some of the Edison patents are for inventions which were previously patented abroad for short terms. The U. S. Circuit Court in New York had decided that these patents expired when the short terms of the foreign patents ran out, notwithstanding the fact that such terms have been extended. The only advantage of the Bate decision to the Edison Company is that it can go on with its suits on such patents where it can prove that it has extended its foreign patents in time. In such cases the defendants can put in the real defenses and try the cases on their merits. Most of the Edison suits were begun in 1885. Not one of them has ever been brought to a hearing. The testimony has not been closed in any of them. No Edison patent has ever been sustained in America. Many of its best patents have expired by reason of the actual expiration of prior foreign patents. It has no patent upon which it can obtain a preliminary injunction; nor has it any patent on which it can obtain a final injunction or collect damages from customers of this company when the real defenses are put in, as they certainly will be.

5. Every Edison Lamp is an infringement of the Sawyer-Man patent No. 317,676, dated May 12, 1885, which was granted after a four-year interference with Edison in the Patent Office, and every treated Edison lamp is an infringement of the Sawyer-Man patent No. 211,262, and Edward Weston's patent No. 306,980 and every user of such Edison lamp is liable to the Consolidated Electric Light Company and the United States Electric Lighting Company for damages for such use.

6. Every Edison plant is an infringement of the Moses G. Farmer System patents, and every user of such plants is liable to the United States Electric Lighting Company for such use.

7. The Edison Company has been sued on these patents, and the suits are being pressed vigorously.

8. The lamps made and sold by the Sawyer-Man Electric Company and the United States-Electric Lighting Company are made by license under the Sawyer-Man patents.

This company agrees to defend and guarantee all of its users against damages in any and all suits brought against them by the Edison Co. in attempting to annoy and intimidate the users, instead of proceeding against the manufacturers of competing apparatus, while quite in line with the character of its statements, will hardly commend itself to the approbation of the public.

SAWYER-MAN ELECTRIC CO.,
P. H. ALEXANDER,
Asst. General Manager.

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. manufacture and use the Sawyer-Man Electric Co. lamps—paying them a royalty on the same.

Gilberts Mills.

(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

Miss Minnie Waterbury of Central Square has been spending a week with Miss Jennie Thomas.

The young people of this place spent the evening with Miss Effie Alger of Oswego Falls one night last week. A pleasant time was reported.

The Misses Mason left for the Albany Normal school last Monday. Miss Sadie Tyler was prevented from going by sickness.

Elder Denney is holding revival meetings at the sixteenth school house.

The Free Baptist Aid Society met met at Mr. Blodgett's, Friday evening. There was a large attendance in spite of the cold weather and bad roads. The next one will be at Mrs. Mary Coe's.

Elias and Jennie Thomas entertained the young people at their home last Saturday evening.

Mr. Clinton Prichard has returned from a visit to his father's in Utica.

Mrs. E. Snyder entertained her friends Monday evening. There was select reading by Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Snyder, a piece spoken by N. and L. Gardner was very fine.

Deafness Can't be Cured.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out [illegible] restored to [illegible]

EDUCATIONAL.

[illegible] Report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

INDUSTRIAL AND FREEHAND DRAWING.—"This branch of study should be introduced into the examinations at an early day. It has not yet been introduced for the reason that it has not yet been possible to carry it into all of the institutes. But as soon as there has been time and facility afforded to teachers to prepare for it, it should be incorporated in at least all the higher examinations for testing the qualifications of teachers.

In these ways, industrial and freehand drawing will be carried into every school and be extended to all classes and grades of school work. It should be remembered however, that the term drawing very inadequately expresses the nature of the study which is now taught under that name. That term includes the study of form as observed in models and in ordinary objects. Actual objects have taken the place of printed copies. The observing powers are cultivated or sharpened. Then, ways for expressing or representing on paper what is seen are taught. Is not this effectually training the eye and hand?

It produces accuracy of vision, deftness of touch and aptness of execution. It is educational in ways innumerable as well. It arouses intellectual activity and stimulates mental growth. At the same time it harmonizes with other school work, it disparages nothing else, it involves no risk and it costs but little money.

LIBRARIES—After expartiating on the great and good work done by the district library of long ago the State Superintendent speaks as follows in regard to the library fund of the present. "Probably in most of the cities the fund is put to proper use as it is also in some of the villages, and occassionally it is possible to fine a vestige of a library in a rural district. But where libraries are most needed the system is now least effective." He gives some reasons for the present poor condition or entire lack of libraries in most rural districts of the state and the unanimous verdict of many educational men of the state that library money should continue to be distributed but on a different basis and with different ends in view. He recommends that our school libraries should consist largely of reference books for use in the school-room. It should always be kept in the school-house, and the teacher should be made responsible for its care. It needs comparatively but a small amount of money to supply this and keep it up. Their care will be given by the State.

APPORTIONMENT OF PUBLIC MONIES—The Superintendent says in effect that the recent change of law in regard to the apportionment of public money will cause the commissioners this year to apportion a part of the public money according to the aggregate attendance of resident pupils during the past year. This change was made largely to induce trustees to provide for more than barely twenty-eight weeks of school and for more strenuous efforts for the regular attendance of resident pupils. On some account this has not had the desired effect and so it is recommended.

TIME OF SCHOOL MEETINGS—"The annual school meetings occur on the last Tuesday in August. The sentiment seems to be general that it would be better to hold them at least a month earlier, and with that opinion I concur. The time between the school meetings and the opening of the schools is too short to afford newly chosen trustees time to put the school buildings in suitable condition and exercise proper deliberation in the employment of teachers. The change would, moreover be advantageous to teachers, that the school year be made to consist of thirty-two weeks of five days each instead of twenty-eight as formerly required."

CONCLUSION—Finally he argues that the schools of the state should be a State system. "Whether the children shall be in schools and the class and character of the work of the schools, are matters which reach out and affect vast areas of country and large numbers of people. The power is with the State. It must have a definite plan and it must assume responsibility for results. It must see to it that the schools are fully equipped and supplied with necessary appliances and conveniences, that all children are brought within their influence, that the right things are properly taught, that the work is of such a nature and quality as will rear up generations of good, righteous and thrifty citizens who will add strength and character to the Republic."

[illegible]

[illegible]

At the afternoon session addresses were made by Rev. Charles Olmstead, Oswego Falls; Rev. J. C. Breaker, Fulton, and Rev. C. R. Dey, Mexico, and at the evening session by Rev. D. M. Rankin, Fulton, and Rev. W. D. Aylesworth, Cleveland. Concerning the three in which Fultonians are particularly interested, the Palladium of last evening had the following to say:

"The Rev. Mr. Olmstead of Oswego Falls was introduced and spoke at some length upon the vitality of the Bible, which he says must be a living book in the hands of a living teacher. He reviewed the development of man into a family and afterwards a nation as related in the Holy word, constrasted the old with the new Testament and said that he believed that a day would come when all which was difficult to understand in its pages would be made clear and comprehensive.

The next speaker was the Rev. J. C. Breaker, of Fulton, whose theme was "The Adoption of the Bible to the Nature and Needs of Man." He spoke from the assumption that those in destitution needed the work and that those who attended to its distribution did it with a realization of divine authority granted and divine obligations made within its covers. Sin and guilt were the two most radical elements it was designed to to overcome and against these strongholds of Satan its ordniance has directed. It represented God as looking down upon the earth and its great mission was to inform the people that Jesus Christ was their appointed Savior. That it was adapted to the needs of man was made clear by the unimpeachable testimony of innumerable witnesses. It was his consolation in times of sorrow and of grief, and in its pages were rejoicings which accorded with a kindred feeling in man's nature during periods of joy. It was uplifting, advancing and unconquerable in its career, and its universal and undeniable popularity was all gained by reason of its being arranged to correspond to the better and purer promptings of his nature. Mr. Breaker's strong oratory and impassionate utterances commanded attention and evocked admiration.

Rev. Dr. Rankin of Fulton delivered an able and scholarly address upon the topic under consideration which was couched in elegant phases, and characterized by smooth composition. He described the praise which has been drawn even from infidels by its exquisite wording and lofty sentiments, and described its diction as the purest in literature. His Hebrew poetry was of a distinctive stamp, while as a history of the world its value from an educational standpoint was difficult to excel. Its morality was proof of its excellence and was the purest and best the world had ever known. Its greatest blessing however, lay in its showing the way to salvation and herein its richest treasure was contained."

Shanahan's Soft Snap.

It is not known whether Gov. Hill intends to make any changes in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works, now held by Superintendent Shanahan, who was appointed by Gov. Cleveland in 1883. The office is a good one and Mr. Shanahan is not disposed to let it go unless he is absolutely put out by the Senate confirming the appointment of whoever is nominated by Gov. Hill, should he decide upon a change. Superintendent Shanahan was not a very enthusiastic Hill man during the elections of 1885 and 1888 and it is charged and rumored about Albany that he even went so far as to sit upon the enthusiasm of some of his subordinates who were out and out Hill men. All this Gov. Hill was perfectly aware of but quietly allowed Mr. Shanahan to have his own way. That way is a very peculiar one as Buffalonians who have met Mr. Shanahan might attest. Gov. Hill has been severely criticised for a long time by the canal boatmen for not removing Mr. Shanahan and for paying no attention to their petition for Mr. Shanahan's decapation. Mr. Shanahan is not in love with the boatmen but he has great affection for his relations. They have a bonanza at the expense of the state, as the following will show:

James Shanahan, Supt. Public Works, $6000 per year; Edward Shanahan, brother, inspector, $6 per day and expenses, $1679; D. A. Lewis, nephew, general foreman, $4 per day and expenses, $1963; F. J. Berry, nephew, clerk in the department, $[illegible] per year; Frederick O'Connor, brother-in-law, with Assistant Supt. Ira Betts, $[illegible]; John K. Ashe, son-in-law, Deputy Supt. Public Works, $[illegible]; John K. Ashe, Jr., nephew [illegible] the above, special agent, $[illegible]

It will be seen by the [illegible]

Brown's Sarsaparilla.

Not genuine unless made by Asa Warren & Co. Bangor, Me.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Feb 16, 1889.

The House of Representatives was crowded with a buzzing, bustling, curious throng on Wednesday, to see Congress count the electoral votes. It was one o'clock when the Senate entered the House, past the ladies who had been for once admitted to the floor, and Senator Ingalls took his seat beside Speaker Carlisle. Mr. Ingalls dived into the box containing the certificates, and after a jumble of words, solemnly broke the seals of the returns from Alabama. Nothing wonderful ensued but it took over ten minutes to read the report, which Senator Manderson delivered. So on it went, Senator Harris reading the report from Arkansas next. Occasionally amusement was had, as when Senator Harris by a slip of the tongue announced the vote of Indiana for Cleveland, but taken as a whole the proceeding was about as uneventful as could be. Still the curious listened with little sign of being bored and, indeed, almost in a spirit of wise awe, as partaking of a very dignified and judicial feast of reason.

Senator Ingalls treated the matter with his usual disregard for the theatrical. He opened the certificates with the sort of knife they used to call a big barlow when I was a boy and he left it sticking in the top of the desk when he had occasion once or twice to consult the law with Speaker Carlisle, which, it being the first count under the new law, was occasionally necessary.

On the grave of the proposed tariff legislation of the present session, the Government printer has gently laid his tribute of respect. The document is the copy of Secretary Fairchild's letter to the Ways and Means Committee, including the tables of figures. It looks like a tax list and the letter press has the same thrilling, absorbing interest that attaches itself to a patent office report. A clerk with an indestructible voice might be able to read it in the House in ten days. In other words the entire records of the customs service have been emptied on the defenceless House.

The Senate after vigorous opposition is debating the resolution upon the Committee on Privileges and Elections providing for the further protection of the elective franchise in Congressional elections. Senator Harris and others offered to vote on the bill on Tuesday without debate, but this offer was rejected. The Democratic Senators opposed the debate on the ground that it would merely awaken sectional bitterness. Of course the vexed instance that the Republicans expect to make the most capital of is the murder of John M. Clayton in Arkansas. That this was a political murder no one doubts, and while no party is to be held responsible for the action of a few misguided and obscure members, it has deeply affected the good name of the State and ruined the reputation of Representative Breckinridge, the late Mr. Clayton's opponent for Congress.

The House will to-morrow receive Mr. Springer's report of the bill he introduced last month, to enable the Territories of Arizona, Idaho and Wyoming to qualify for statehood. Mr. Springer says that if the bill fails of passage during this session, the awful guilt lies upon the souls of the Republican majority in the Senate. It is not proposed by the bill to admit the three new States so promptly as the five States proposed in the Omnibus bill which passed the House, but it provides that they can be in the Union in time to vote in the Presidential election of 1892. The passage of all of Mr. Springer's proposed measures would add eight stars to the flag, and make sixteen more Senators and ten more Representatives. It would leave only three territories, unless the Oklahoma bill passes,—Utah, Indian Territory and Alaska. It is expected that Mr. Springer will next turn his eagle eye on Alaska. The delegates from the territories interested are particularly enthusiastic. The population of Wyoming is estimated by Delegate Carey at 120,000; that of Arizona by Delegate Smith at 80,000, that of Idaho by Delegate Dubois at 120,000. The idea of giving 80,000 people two Senators would seem a trifle absurd, but Mr. Springer says that their interests demand it and Mr. Springer is a politician and ought to know.

The new method of counting the votes of Presidential electors cost only a little over $1,000 for printing [illegible]

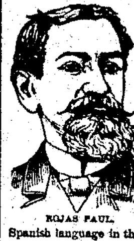
[illegible] College of St. [illegible] in Warsaw, and at 16 [illegible] After studying further at Vienna, he proceeded to Rome, where he joined the Academia Ecclesiastica, founded to impart a special training to young clergymen distinguished for their ability. Pius IX named him domestic prelate and protonotary apostolic, and sent him on a diplomatic mission to Madrid and other places. He was consecrated archbishop of Thebes on his appointment to the nunciature of Brussels, where he remained four years.

In 1865 he was translated to the archbishopric of Gnesen and Posen, which gave him the title of Primate of Poland. He resisted the Prussian laws against the church and was imprisoned in the dungeons of Ostrowo, when he was proclaimed cardinal by the pope, in 1875. He was released from captivity in 1876, and from that time till his death, lived at Rome.

VENEZUELA'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Has Been Recently Elected and His Name Is Rojas Paul.

A protrait is here given of Dr. Rojas Paul, the new President of Venezuela. Dr. Paul was born in Caracas. He studied in Valencia, and having determined to adopt the profession of the law was sent to the capital in 1846, and entered the Central university.



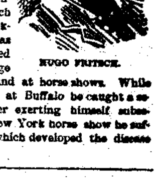
ROJAS PAUL.

Besides pursuing his legal studies he took a course of private instruction in medicine. In 1869 the university conferred on him the last grade in civil jurisprudence, and a month later he was admitted to practice. Three years previous he had been appointed a professor of the Spanish language in the National College for Girls, a position he filled for twenty years.

In 1850 Dr. Paul was governor of the Province of Caracas. In 1860 he was made Administrator of the University Rents; in 1882 first member of the academic tribunal; in 1883 member of the jury for qualifying the memoirs to be presented to the university, unfolding the thesis proposed by the institute at the fiftieth anniversary of the Liberator, Simon Bolivar. In 1879 Rojas Paul was appointed secretary of the treasury under Blanco Guzman.

Chevalier Hugo Fritsch.

Chevalier Hugo Fritsch, who died not long ago in New York, was an Austrian, who came to America in 1859, at the age of 16. He became Austrian vice consul at New York, which position had fallen to Mr. Theodore Havemeyer, who succeeded Mr. Fritsch's uncle, Mr. De Lussy, as consul general. Mr. Fritsch was quite a remarkable whip, and was constantly called upon to be judge at horse races and at horse shows. While acting as a judge at Buffalo he caught a severe cold. After exerting himself subsequently at the New York horse show he suffered a relapse, which developed the disease of which he died.



HUGO FRITSCH.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

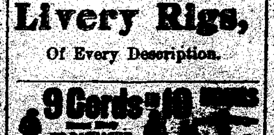
Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.



AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, Reed and Ratt[illegible]

ROCKERS,

In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tables

Of All Descriptions.

Foot Rest,s Blacking Cases

Writing Desks, Easels Book

Cases, Children's Chairs

Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts.
All at Rock Bottom Prices.

Brown's Furniture Sotre.

Times Block.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
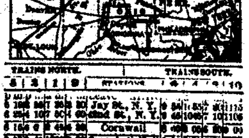
Time Table Taking Effect Jan 28, 1889.



TRAINS NORTH.					TRAINS SOUTH.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS	4	6	2	10
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Jay St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	42nd St., N. Y.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cornwall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Campbell Hall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	M'Vn Main St.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Middletown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bloomingburgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Wurtsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hurleyville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Mountain Dale	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Centreville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hurleyville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	12	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]	14	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	41	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	50
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Utica	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rome	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Community	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sylvan	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bernhard's Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Pennelville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA, Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL, Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION, London, Eng
CONNECTICUT, Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION, Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS, Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN, Germany
IMPERIAL, London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE, " "
MERCHANTS', Providence, R. I
NIAGARA, N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX, Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED,

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

AGENTS!
SOCIAL MIRROR:
Or Social and Moral Culture.
[illegible]

VIENNA BAKERY
—AND—
ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobacco and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

COAL WAY DOWN
COAL
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, [illegible]
FOR SALE BY
[illegible]

[illegible] A. R. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express........1:[illegible] a. m
[illegible]........9:10 a. m
[illegible]........3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express........10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express........6:[illegible] a. m
Oswego Express........11:[illegible] a. m
Freight and Accommodation........5:[illegible] p. m.
Oswego Day Express........6:[illegible] p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:37	11:[illegible]	[illegible]	5:27	7:[illegible]
For Oswego,	[illegible]	11:55	[illegible]	6:13	8:43

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot [illegible] minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan.

tf.

PERSONAL.

M. B. Schenck of Meridan, Ct., was in town over Sunday.

A. A. Maltby of Pulaski, was in town Thursday, visiting the Fulton schools.

Harry Comstock left Sunday night on a business trip to New York and Boston.

Hon. George M. Case will attend the inauguration at Washington, March 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrus Morse of Volney returned last week from their trip to Canada.

Fred Woodcock returned last week from Nebraska where he has been for several years.

Ernest George is at home still unable on account of sickness to return to his business in Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinstry of Oswego, attended the whist party given by Mrs. C. R. Nichols, Friday evening.

Harold Bacchus, who is now engaged in the wool business at Philadelphia, has been in town for a few days during the past week.

N. N. Stranahan, Jay Harrington and School Commissioner Baldwin are among those that go to Washington to the inauguration.

H. E. Nichols and daughter, Gertrude, attended the wedding of Dr. Graham A. Andrews of Lyons, at Philadelphia, yesterday.

H. P. Marsh brother of Dr. E. F. Marsh is home from New York having finished his first year in the medical department of the university of New York.

Secretary Bauder of the Fulton Y. M. C. A. is in attendance at the tenth annual conference of general secretaries which is being held at Ogdensburg.

Mrs. C. S. Murphy and Mrs. William Hancock are the delegates to the state convention of the Women's Relief Corps, which is to be held in Binghamton, next week.

If you want a pure Soap use Master. 40tf.

A fine lineof Slippers at Hill's New Shoe Store, on Oneida Street.

Teacher's Association.

Teachers from other towns who can readily reach Oswego Falls by rail or other conveyance are cordially invited to participate with Granby teachers in the association at the school house Upper Oswego Falls, Saturday, Feb. 23. Let us all hope for a pleasant day, but if the pleasant day does not come let us come just the same.

W. A. BALDWIN, Com.

A fresh supply of Canned Fruit just received at J. E. Cary's, Cayuga St.

That 25c. Tea at Cary's is the bes in town for the money. 29m3

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Jan. 28th, 1889, 8 a. m.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Trustees Johnson, Nichols, Rice and Kellogg.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

[illegible]

[illegible] Board of [illegible] scheme [illegible] proposition to a vote of [illegible].

In the [illegible] a meeting [illegible] attended and no one could be found except Trustee [illegible] to favor the scheme and the people then believed the trustees would abandon the scheme and in fact they did abandon it for that season while Mr. Waugh remained in the Board. But soon after electing the present Board the scheme was renewed to build the sewer with a 10 inch tile at an enormous cost and borrow the money to pay for it and tax the people, whether they are willing or not.

My thought is, that very few of the citizens really know much about the plan of the sewer. Many suppose they can drain their cellars into it, which is not the case. The sewer is only intended for draining water closets and slop drains making more demand for city water thereby helping the water company.

This contemplated sewer takes no surface water, or water from cellars, only water closets and slop drains are to be provided for.

If a majority or even a respectable minority of the taxpayers are in favor of such an expenditure and so indicate to the Trustees, then the Trustees are justifiable in making the expenditure.

But I judge the Trustees well know that the people would vote almost solidly against it, therefore the Trustees propose to go in on "their nerve" and not give the people any chance to vote on the question. Possibly it is just as well as the present Board seem to pay but little attention to what the people want or what they vote for or against.

The people at the call of the Trustees on one or two occasions voted nearly unanimously that they would not be taxed for hydrants, would not take city water for the village. But the Trustees made the contract with the water company just the same. Not for one year but for several to come so as to cut the taxpayers off from having anything to say about the water.

I infer that the Board of Trustees think they know better what is good for the taxpayers and what is good for building up the Water and Electric Light companies than the taxpayers do, and possibly they are right. Though for one I beg to enter protest.

TAXPAYER.

Falley Seminary Re-Union and History.

Were you at the Re-Union and stirred by it? Do you desire a book with the account of the re-union, including the historical address, and as far as possible the name, address, occupation, year or years at school, of every old student from 1834, to 1884? Would you prefer a pamphlet at fifty cents, or a book at a dollar?

Please send your name as you desire it printed, and let the married ladies give their maiden name. By your response to the re-union invitation, or by your presence at Fulton, are you entitled to have your name in the chapel list?

Send us the name and address of any old student whom you may know. Have you any suggestions as to the book, or any incident saved out of the school years? Have you any sentence, as a tribute to a departed teacher or student? May we use, modify, or refuse anything sent? Please send you response at once to Miss Elizabeth I. Coates, Secretary of Committee of Correspondence.

COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

Mrs. Helen Byington Emens,
Miss Elizabeth I. Coates,
Mrs. Martha Harroun Howe,
Mrs. DeEtte Bassett Cole,
Mrs. Mary Warren Emerick,
Mrs. Helen Tucker Gage,
Mrs. May Northrop Howe,
Miss Franc H. French.

See our all wool Dress Flannels at 19c per yard.

J. C. O'BRIEN.

Men's pure gum boots for $3 00 at Hill's new shoe store, in the Patterson block.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Stockholders of the Excelsior Piano Key Leveling Pin Co. will be held at the office of the Company, in the Village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 18th day of March, 1889, at 1 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of diminishing the Capital Stock of said Company from the sum of ($250,000) Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to the sum of ($10,000) ten thousand dollars.

Dated Fulton, Feb'y. 23, 1889.

[illegible] } Directors.

41w3

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. Hill, Oneida street.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible]

[illegible] Sunday.

Rev. A. M. See preached at the Free Baptists of Oswego Falls Sunday morning.

There is a good advance sale for the minstrel entertainment at the opera house this evening.

Come to THE TIMES office if you want auction bills printed. We give notice of sale in the paper when job work is done at this office.

The Oswego County Agricultural Club have a meeting at Central Square, on March 7th and 8th.

Rev. J. H. Lynch, rector of Zion church, exchanged pulpits with Rev. W. L. Wilson of Syracuse, on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Bloom, late of the Free Baptist church of Oswego Falls, preached in the Baptist church, in this village Sunday morning.

F. C. Ives' little son Don has been dangerously ill with congestion of the brain during the past week. His condition is not much improved.

The Ladies Aid Society of Zion church will hold their annual meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year in the vestry to-morrow —Thursday—evening at 7:30.

Rev. B. Brunning who was formerly pastor of the Universalist church in this village now located at Sherburne, Chenango county will preach here on Sunday, March 3d. There is a movement among the members of the church to secure him as a regular pastor.

J. C. Switzer has rented his farm one and a half miles south-east of South Hannibal, near the White school house, and will sell at public auction on Saturday March 2, his stock, farming implements and a quantity of household goods. He expects to move to Fulton.

The following are the Fulton delegates to the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. of New York state which opens in Watertown to-morrow, Dr. D. M. Rankin, Rev. W. D. Chase, J. L. Dixon, E. R. Redhead, F. E. Goodjon, Frank Connell and Secretary Bauder. All expect to attend.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase will have completed his third year as pastor of the M. E. church in this village soon. Under the old rule this would have been the limit that he could remain, but under the new rule he can remain two years longer. It seems to be the unanimous wish of his church members and the community that he be retained as long as possible.

If you are going to take Summer boarders next season, it is now time to make your arrangements for advertising in the N. Y. O. & W. Summer Home book. They make no charge for the first ten words composed of, address, name, number accommodated, and rates per week, but discriptive additional matter will be charged for accordingly to the number of words.

Mrs. C. R. Nichols gave a drive whist party to a number of her friends last Friday. Refreshments were first served, after which eleven tables were filled and the friendly struggle to capture the largest number of green seals commenced. After about two hours play the returns showed that J. H. Case and Miss Franc French were entitled to the prizes, which were accordingly presented.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Phœnix Union Agricultural Society was held Saturday. A reorganization of the society was secured and the following officers elected: J. W. Pendergast, President; W. S. Names, Vice President; B. T. Mason, Secretary; N. A. Hughes, Treasurer. A committee of one from each town to solicit stockholders for the new organization was appointed. The date of holding the next fair was left to the Executive Board.

40 Pieces New Spring Dress Goods just opened, They are Very Handsome, Prices, "as usual" lower than elsewhere

J. C. O'BRIEN.

IT IS THE BEST.

When buying Flour be sure and get the Electric Light brand. The only place to buy it is at J. E. CARY'S.

Wort's famous bread at Bersee's.

Get a sample of that 35c. Tea worth 50cts. per pound, at CARY'S. 19m3

[illegible] cey, C. C. Wells, S. S. [illegible], W. C. Tucker, W. J. [illegible], S. E. Stranahan, J. J. Wright, Fred Sutherland, J. H. Case, F. A. [illegible], L. C. Foster, L. T. Miller and J. M. Foster. This committee meets at Mead & Stranahan's office for action to-morrow evening. The club is now in a most flourishing condition, having 67 members. The following are the present officers: J. M. Foster, Commodore; W. C. Tucker, Vice Commodore; Dr. H. L. Lake, Secretary and Treasurer.

Testimonial Benefit.

A grand testimonial benefit for the Cullivan's, John and Nellie, is announced to be held in the opera house on Friday evening, March 1st. The following are among those that will take part. The Riano Brothers, Dan and Jim, acrobats and gymnasts; Fulton's favorite baladist, Miss Lena Hardy; Howe and Royce, mid-air experts; F. Carney, in Irish songs and dances; the Cullen Brothers, Frank and Tom, juvenile club swingers; the Martino Brothers, horizontal bar experts; Edward Simpson, in daring exercises on the pendulum perch, and the Cullivans in their original songs, dances, parodies, &c. Admission to all parts of the house 25cts.

Can It Be George?

There is a young man from Fulton in Oswego jail who has learned a lesson. He got it into his head that it would be a good thing if he should put out his hand and seize the outside bars and stop the revolving turret when the turnkey or some other person was working on it. He tried it this week and the result was not pleasing. His hand slipped off the bars and passed between the turret and the outer wall and his arm was badly jammed before he could be released. He is now nursing an injured arm and says he will not try it again. —Oswego Times.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Palermo Centre church, will have a musical and literary entertainment and New England supper at the hall there on Friday evening, March 1.

A movement is on foot toward the organization of a stock company for the manufacture of pulp. If the organization is completed the power at the Lower Falls near Foster Bros. knife factory will be used.

It is announced that the Good Templars lodges of Oswego Falls and Hannibal will give an entertainment at the A. O. U. W. rooms Oswego Falls, Saturday evening. Two dramas will be presented.

The district meeting of Good Templars was held in this village Monday evening. About forty were present from the Phœnix and Pennellville lodges which with the members of the Fulton lodge present made over one hundred. Refreshments were served and literary exercises held. An excellent meeting is reported.

The friends of Hon. N. W. Nutting are much concerned at the news which comes from Washington in relation to his condition. The information, which seems to be reliable, that he is making arrangements to come home within a few days, taken in connection with the report that he has recently submitted to another serious operation upon his deceased jaw gives occasion for much concern on the part of his friends.—Oswego Times.

As was expected the defense in the Myers infant murder case is insanity and some twenty witnesses, chiefly from Oswego county and several experts have been on the witness stand during the past week. The interest in the trial is unabated in this vicinity where, Mr. and Mrs. Myers formerly lived. The case will not be given to the jury until the latter part of the week.

T. D. Lewis has commenced to convert two rooms at the Lewis House on Cayuga street until recently used as sample rooms and barber shop into a large double store with plate glass front windows and all modern improvements. This when completed will be occupied by the enterprising clothing firm of Peebles & Co. The 5 and 10 cent store, now located in the opera house block have leased the store now occupied by Peebles.

[illegible] caucus for the town of Volney will be held in the opera house hall on Saturday, at 2 p. m.

Chas. Hewitt has sold his house and lot on Union street and expects to remove with his family to Leadville Col. in a few days.

James Stevens' card can be found in THE TIMES. He is prepared to do all kinds of wall papering in the best possible manner.

Miss Etta Reynolds, sister of T. Beekman Reynolds, has been dangerously ill. Her condition is considerably improved.

Miss Lena Van Valkenburg, who has been living at Edwin Foster's for the past year, returned to her home in New York City Monday.

Extensive preparations have been made by members of Neahtawanta Lodge I. O. O. F. for the public dedication of their hall in THE TIMES block on Friday evening.

Frank Carney of this village who is an officer of Iron Moulders Union No. 93, states that he has received official orders from Auburn to keep men from that city until the strike there is settled.

A large reception was given in honor of Mrs. William B. Fuller nee Miss Gertrude Dada of this village at the home of Mr. Fuller's parents, in Syracuse, on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

The amount necessary to raise the debt on the Congregational church, at Oswego Falls has been pledged. They are now to have a bell for the church and money for the same will will be raised.

Giles S. Piper has been appointed referee to hear, try and determine the cases the City of Oswego against ex-City Clerk John H. Mackin and his bondsmen for the alleged taking of fees illegally, also the cases of Bronson Babcock and his bondsmen and Herbert M. Harman and his bondsmen.

"Con" Tobin the big moulder, formerly of Fulton had a contest with gloves at Rome last Friday evening, with Professor Watson. In the third round the men clinched viciously and when the seconds tried to part them Tobin struck his own second. The police rushed on the stage and stopped the mill. The fight was declared a draw.

Arrangements have been completed for the manufacture of the Kendrick Ensilage and Fodder Cutter in this village, by George J. Emeny. He will make them in his shop on lower First street, paying Mr. Kendrick, the patentee, a royalty on the machines manufactured. The cutters possess advantages that none now in use have. It is thought that they will have a large and ready sale.

Six hundred invitations have been sent out by the committee having charge of the dedicatory exercises of Neahatawanta Hall next Friday evening. A large number of friends that the committee would like to have invited have been left out as the seating capacity of the hall necessarily limits the number. Nearly five hundred invited guests are expected to attend.

The increased through travel on the Ontario & Western demonstrates the fact, that this company's facilities for reaching the far west, is at least equal to its competitors. We know their rates are as low, and the through Buffett Pullman Sleeping cars attached to the night express daily between New York and Suspension Bridge are the finest.

If you have friends coming from the West, write them to purchase tickets via Suspension Bridge and the Ontario & Western by leaving Chicago at 9:05 p. m., via the Niagara Falls Short Line, they connect at Suspension Bridge with No. 6 avoiding transfers, and reach home from five to fifteen hours sooner than by other routes.

Everything in Domestics very cheap this week. Step in and get Prices. J. C. O'BRIEN.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

[illegible] the property of the village without the consent of the taxpayers? Our supposition is that they do it under the honest conviction that they are benefitting the property, and the inhabitants to a degree that more than compensates for the outlay. It is certainly under this supposition that we favor the movement. The power they have to go on with the work is vested in them by special act of the legislature some two years ago when a bill was passed granting the privilege of constructing this system of sewerage in the village of Fulton.

The contracted price for building this system is $[illegible]. The Trustees, however, deem it proper to raise $[illegible], or $[illegible] more than the contractor's price, which should and will if properly conducted cover all expenses for a competent engineer and contingencies.

Taxpayer says: "Many suppose that they can drain their cellars into it, which is not the case. The sewerage is only intended for draining water closets and slop drains, making more demand for city water and thereby helping the Water Company."

We consider it a great thing to have the foul matter, collected from these sources, taken from the thickly populated portions of the village and carried away through the sewers to the outskirts of the village. As far as helping the Water Works Company is concerned, Dr. Pardee, the promulgator and leading spirit in bringing to its present stage this sewerage matter, has never shown any disposition to tear his clothes in endeavoring to benefit the Water Company. As the Water Company in their contract with the village are to flush the sewers at no extra compensation, the advantage that comes to them will be from private individuals who place water closets in their houses. This will only be done by those that are able and willing to pay for the extra expense that is attached to this convenience. As there is no compulsion about this only those that desire need take advantage of it.

In regard to draining cellars, James T. Gardiner, the drainage engineer of Albany, N. Y., an expert of no small repute, who drew the plans for the system under consideration and the civil engineers Landreth and Fitzgerald, who drew up the specifications, announce it as an undisputed fact that all cellars can be drained by running a tile from the cellar and having the contents discharged at the point in the street where the sewer runs. As an illustration of this they point to the system introduced in Schenectady about five years ago, a system similar in every particular to the one proposed for Fulton.

Prize Contest.

Another prize contest for the contest for the Demorest medals and literary entertainment will be held at the Bristol Hill church on Friday evening. The contestants for the silver medal this time will be:

Will McDonald, Ernest B. Eno, Sadia Lambert, John Snell, Bessie Russ, Belle Simons, Clarence Babcock, Grace Howser, Ida Coles, Lena Babcock, Benton Howard, Enola Fairchild, Millie Piper. Admission to the church 10 cents.

Step in and see our all wool Henriettas at 45c., 59c. 73c and 87c. They are the best value ever shown in this market.

J. C O'BRIEN.

When Buying Get the Best.

Prof. Roberts, Director of Agricultural Experiment Station of Cornell University, under date of Jan. 15, 1889, says:

"We have used your churn enough to know that it fulfills the recommendation that you gave it. We consider the 'vent' a valuable feature."

Yours very truly,

I. P. ROBERTS, Director.

Write to Gifford Mf'g. Co., Watertown, N. Y. for catalogue with full direction for making granulated butter.

Go to the New Shoe store, in the Patterson block, for "Waverly Shoes." Every pair warranted.

Master is the most economical 5c. Cake in the Market. 40tf.

What is it? Its a puzzle in prices. The cipher is simply [illegible] or nothing and you can read it this way

Prices Next To Nothing

We take this method of impressing on our patrons and the public at large the notable fact, that

Lower Prices Cannot Be Made.

Than the prices we are making on as good a line of goods as was ever submitted to the experienced of our customers.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS.

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton,and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N.Y

LOST—Somewhere between Seventh street and Morrill Bros. office a pocket book containing $3 in silver and some other change. Finder would confer a favor by leaving the same at Morrill Bros. office.

TWO HOUSES AND LOTS FOR SALE. Both having good barns and both to be sold cheap. One of the places on Buffalo and the other on Third street. For further particulars enquire at FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—On Second Street, House in good repair, large lot, fruit, barn, good cistern, city water. Enquire of Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co., Crockery Store. 40tf

FOR SALE—House on Seneca street, known as the Palmiter place, on very reasonable terms or will exchange for Syracuse property. Inquire of W. J. LOVEJOY, Fulton Savings Bank.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot corner of Fourth and Utica streets Fulton, or will exchange for a smaller house. Inquire of GILES S. PIPER, or 40t3 MRS. S. M. BABCOCK.

FOR SALE—One Parlor Stove, two Extension Tables, one fall leaf Table, two Stands and a number of other articles at S. A. GREEN'S, 39w4 Oneida Street.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hardware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

Chocolate creams at 25cts.per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Stephens Opera House,

Wednesday Even'g, Feb 20.

AL. G. FIELD & CO.'S

OPERATIC MINSTRELS.

BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER.

Fashion's Favorites!

An Entire New Company,
New Acts, Original Ideas,
Novel Features, Catchy Music,
Handsome Costumes,
Superb Singing,
A Dancing Tournament.

The Mammoth

Military Encampment First Part

(Copyrighted.)

THE TWO DRUMMERS;
or THE HOTEL AT THE JUNCTION.

The Burlesque Japanese Students,
The Policeman's Parade,
And One Hundred Other New Ideas.

The Greatest, Grandest Combination Of Musical Celebrities, Comedians Dancers and Specialists Extant.

LOUIS KERR'S
$5,000 Challenge Military Band.
Musical Concert and Grand Parade
Daily at 11 a. m.

SPECIAL

Announcement.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Will sell during this Month.

SKATES

At Specially Low Prices.

☞Boys will please take notice.

SPECIAL SALE OF

BLACK SILKS AND HENRIETTAS.

We have concluded to give the people of Fulton and vicinity a GRAND TREAT in the way of bargains in Fine Dress Fabrics, this week and next, so those who anticipate buying anything in [illegible] we invite you to inspect these goods, and compare our prices on SAME QUALITIES anywhere you please, and we are sure that you will be convinced that we "Always Lead Never Follow." [illegible] our goods always prove to be as represented:

Please note the following, and at the same time keep in mind the fact that

Our $1.38 Silk Warp Henriettas we offer at $1.19.
" [illegible] " " " " " .75.
" [illegible] all wool, 46 inch " " " 73.
" [illegible] " " " 1.49.

Our 60c. all wool Cashmere Henriettas we offer at 49c.
" 89c. " " Black Cord " " " " 73c.
" 88c. Lustre Twill, 40 inch " " " " 73c.

[illegible] In [illegible] you. During this sale we shall offer our $1.00 Plush at 76c. and a good one at 49c.

[illegible] & CO.

[illegible] right time.

It is said that a number of farmers in the vicinity of Moorestown, N. J., are buying mustangs for farm work. The animals are hardy and endure great fatigue.

Give plants in winter all the sunshine possible. They will not bloom well without it, and every clear day should be taken advantage of to give them a good "sunbath."

Whenever old beds are replanted with a second crop, the Massachusetts Ploughman advises to give them a thorough smoking to kill the lice with which they are apt to be infested.

Corn burnt on the cob is recommended as the best form in which to administer charcoal to fowls and swine as an aid to digestion.

If cattle are turned out of doors to drink or for exercise, do not let them remain too long and guard against their having to plung through snowdrifts or against slipping upon icy places.

"By feeding an abundance of bone and muscle forming food, such as wheat midlings, clover, peas and oats, we can raise strong, healthy pigs which will not readily succumb to hog cholera," is reported as the opinion of F. D. Curtis.

A correspondent of the American Cultivator writes that he had a horse that was troubled with a bad cough and heaves. He fed him with apples twice a day, beginning as soon as the fruit began to fall, and carried the treatment through two winters. For more than two years he has not had a sign of a cough or heaves, and is in constant use at the present time.

A Pennsylvania correspondent writes to the Country Gentleman that his winter grain ration for milch cows is of one-half wheat or buckwheat bran, and the other half meal, made by grinding corn, rye and oats together in equal parts, and give each cow about four quarts of the mixture both morning and night, fed dry. For succulent food he feeds pumpkins, storing twenty or thirty loads in the barn basement.

The evaporating fruit industry was begun in Western New York only about fifteen years ago, and yet within forty miles of Rochester there are nearly 2,000 fruit evaporators, besides many small dry-houses on farms and the business is still rapidly growing. Of apples alone 25,000 pounds were evaporated here, and the total dried product of all kinds of fruit amounted to 87,500,000 pounds, for which producers received $1,485,000. More than 4,000,000 of dried fruit were exported from this region last year, and Rochester fruit is in demand at such remote markets as Australia.

Don't hawk, and blow, and spit, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Ensilage for Cows.

In a discussion at a recent Farmers' Institute in this State several prominent speakers strongly favored the feeding of ensilage, especially for dairy stock. Prof. Wing, of Cornell University, said it was not true that ensilage impaired the flavor of milk. They are feeding a bushel a day to cows at the University, and furnishing milk to the most fastidious of customers, and hear no complaints. But the corn was nearly mature when cut, and ears with kernels glazed. The stalks are slightly acid, but the corn is sweet. Mr. George T. Powell said the existing prejudice against ensilage was an inheritance from the time when corn was grown wrong, and siloed in an immature condition. Col. Curtis laid great stress in having silage made right, and said it is the best winter feed possible for cattle, no matter from what point considered scientific or otherwise, and creamery men ought not to object to it. He gave the hint that an extra silo for summer feeding was a good thing to have when there was no drought.

MY WIFE SAID

to me last night: How much do you suppose we have paid out for doctors and medicine during the past year? I told her I did not know. To doctors I have paid nothing, and five dollars' worth of Sulphur Bitters has kept health in our family. L. ANDREWS, 12 Bowdoin Street, Boston.

Effect of Pork Brine on Stock.

Without salt I think stock would be worse than scrubs. Of course they should not have brine, as that is a deadly poison to all kinds of stock. I remember, when a small boy, my father throwing half a pailful of pork brine to some fat hogs, and that two of them died from drinking it, while the rest were at once killed to save them from dying, as an Irishman would say. A neighbor of ours did not believe that pork brine would kill hogs, so decided to experiment. He had two hogs fat enough to kill and gave them some brine, then watched the effect. The result was that he had to kill them to save the pork. Again, there was a case here where a lot of pork brine was thrown on the ground was licked up by a flock of sheep which came along two hours later. In two hours five of the sheep died.—Farmer's Review.

Better Than a Hero.

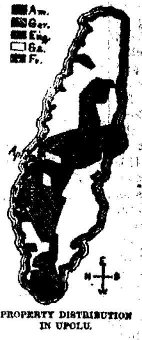
"What a coward that Major Smith [illegible]," said Jones to Robinson, "why, the very sight of gun-powder powder [illegible] him ill. How did he [illegible] to become an officer in [illegible]?" "Don't say anything [illegible]

[illegible]

He had probably read a [illegible] the Samoan Islands [illegible] somewhat—not much, however. They are enchanting oases in the desert sea.

The Samoan Islands are all inhabited, and are nine in number. The most important of them, and the one most interesting on account of the complicated state of affairs there, is the Island of Upolu, which, although but one of the Samoan Islands, is usually referred to simply as Samoa. The Samoan Islands are in the South Pacific, about 400 miles northeast of the Fiji Islands. They are all of volcanic formation. There are many extinct volcanoes on the islands. The natives have no traditions of eruptions from any of them. In 1867, however, a submarine volcano burst out in the ocean near the Island of Manua, and for two weeks shot up jets of mud and dense columns of sand and stones to a height of 2,000 feet. The Island of Tutuila is, in scenery, the finest of the group. It is high and mountainous, with precipices rising from the ocean to a height of 2,200 feet. On its southern coast is the magnificent harbor of Pago-Pago—one of the finest in the world. It is completely landlocked, has an entrance clear of rocks, and water enough for the largest vessels.

Upolu Island, of the shape of which the annexed map gives a tolerably clear idea, together with its property distribution, has an area of about 335 miles. Its middle is occupied by a range of broken hills, the sides of which, covered by luxuriant vegetation as variously colored as a rainbow's hues, slope to the sea, which here rarely belies its gentle name, and breaks softly upon the long white shore. The climate is as near absolute perfection as can be conceived. The mean temperature is about 80, and the mercury seldom rises higher than 90 or below 72. The difference of temperature between sun and shade is seldom more than seven degrees. The rains are distributed evenly throughout the year, except in January, February and March, which is known as the rainy season, and heavy rain storms and northern winds prevail. Destructive storms are as rare as angels' visits in the Samoan Islands. It is, in short, as fine a climate as can be found in the world.



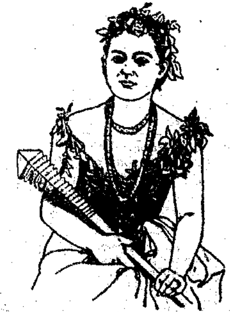
PROPERTY DISTRIBUTION IN UPOLU.

The island of Upolu is covered with dense forests of tropical beauty and variety. Among the trees and fruits are several species of palms, two varieties of pandanus, the anauli, rattan, bread fruit, cocoanut, wild orange, lemon, lime, banana, plantain, yam, taro, tacca (from which arrow root is made), pineapple, guava, mango and citron. The flowers of the islands are of indescribable beauty, and their delicious fragrance greets the sailor many miles out at sea.

The great evenness of climate makes two crops a year a possibility, but in a climate of such languorous influences as that of Samoa energy seems to be the lacking element toward the carrying out of extensive agricultural schemes. Nearly all the trade is controlled by some German houses, and the Germans are by far the most numerous of the foreigners.

The natives of the Samoan Islands are, physically, the superiors of any of the African races. Their color is, as a rule, dark olive. The better class, however, are much lighter.

The men average about five feet ten inches in height, are erect and of really noble bearing, and have superbly formed bodies, giving one rather a false idea of being quite athletic. They do not, in reality, excel in sport of any kind, but this probably is the case because the men are naturally of rather a somber cast of mind, and do not care for athletics. The women are generally slender, but very symmetrical, easy and graceful, and are the most good humored creatures imaginable.



DAUGHTER OF A SAMOAN CHIEF.

The nose is usually straight and not flattened like that of the Malay, and the mouth is large, with thick lips. In some the eyes are oblique. The hair is black and straight, and it is considered a great honor to have red hair. A red haired Samoan is a rarity, so they bleach their hair with a very curious preparation devised by themselves. Beards are not so common as among whites, yet many of the men have heavy beards. Polygamy is customary, but two wives seldom live in the same house. The natives are very cleanly in their habits, and hospitable in disposition. Women are considered the equals of men, and join in the family labors. The ancient religion of the islanders acknowledged one God, but they had a god of earthquakes, a god who supported the earth, and gods of lightning, darkness, rain and hurricanes. All are now nominally Christians. There are schools and a church in every village. Nearly all the children over 7 years of age can read their own language, and those of the adult population can read and write.

Harold M. [illegible]

[illegible]

"I was entirely [illegible] from [illegible] treatment. I [illegible] of any Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am now entirely cured of salt rheum, and my weight has increased from 125 lbs. to 155." MRS. ALICE SMITH, [illegible], Conn.

If you suffer from salt rheum, or any blood disease, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has cured many others, and will cure you.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or mercury, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, clouded, or [illegible]

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published?

During the year 1888 the following cities have dedicated new Y. M. C. A. buildings at the following costs: Toronto, $80,000; Detroit, $125,000; Albany, $100,000; Indianapolis, $100,000; Worcester, $140,000; St. Joseph, $125,000; New York (railroad), $100,000; Yorkville Branch, $30,000.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia, and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

During the past year 1,800 girls have been graduated from the Boston cooking schools.

Every woman who suffers from Sick Headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses, should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicines to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in Dyspepsia and Indigestion; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles. As easy to take as sugar. Only one pill a dose. Price 25 cents. If you try them you will not be without them.

Street cars on the West Side, Chicago, are to be heated by gasoline.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts., and $1 00. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

The number of passengers transported annually in the horse cars in Berlin is nearly 100,000,000.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—A positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker-Mouth. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Prince Bismarck is a capital French scholar, but detests every other German who parades the same accomplishment.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

It is stated that rum is directly and indirectly depopulating Madagascar.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by W. J. Watson.

The cost of the Paris exposition will be ten millions.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never fails to cure. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

At a ball in Paris recently a lady wore shoes each of which had a watch inserted in the leather, near to her toes.

Bright's Disease.

[illegible]

Her Life was Rescued by [illegible]

HOP PLASTER

It satisfies every time. TRY ONE NOW.

25 Cts., 5 for $1.00.

Sold everywhere, or mailed for price.

Look for signature of the proprietors, Hop Plaster Co., Boston, on the genuine goods.

MELLIN'S FOOD FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

TRADE MARK.

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE in CHOLERA INFANTUM and TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD for DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT in ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. [illegible]

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

In the last days of Napoleon there were as many as 10,000 Americans in Paris. Now there are no more than 3,000.

FOUND DEAD.

Last evening a person having the name of G. R. Thompson registered at Hunt's Hotel, and desired to be called in season to take the 12 p. m. train for Chicago. Being unable to awaken him, the room was entered by means of the ventilator over the door, when the gentleman was found to be dead. He was advertising agent for Sulphur Bitters which has an extensive sale. The coroner returned a verdict of death from heart disease. His body will be sent east immediately.—Cin. Commercial.

A young man died in La Grande, Oregon, recently from the effects of over-exertion in dancing.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and Wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

A new magazine for the blind in raised Braillie type will shortly make its appearance in London.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few drops of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At Druggists', 50c. and $1.00. Sample bottle free. 4t4.

It is said that three breweries in Milwaukee spent last year the immense sum of $190,000 for the single item of casks.

To the Readers of This Paper.

This style of advertising has been running in our paper a long time. Your eyes have wandered over it for years. It is simply here as a reminder to you that if you should ever be so unfortunate as to have a cold or any lung trouble Kemp's Balsam is the best cough cure. At all drug stores. Large bottles 50c. and $1 00. Sample bottles free. 4t4

The Emperor of China is allowed $2,500,000 a year from his household department.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at R. E. Phillips' drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Another crank is to attempt to go through the Niagara ripids May 23.

ARE YOU MADE miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Arizona's new gold district is sixty miles from a railroad.

For Diseases of Horses

There is nothing that compares with Cole's Veterinary Carbolisalve. It cures Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Collar and Saddle Galls, Sores, Mange, Scratches, Thrush, Inflammations and all skin and hoof diseases quicker than any other remedy. It is the only preparation that will invariably renew the hair its original color. Edwin D. Bither, driver of Jay Eye See, says: "Having given Veterinary Carbolisalve a thorough trial, I can fully endorse it, and take pleasure in recommending it to all owners of horses as the best remedy that I ever saw for general stable use." Large cans $1.00; Small cans 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Gisler.

Lowell, Mass., intends spending $400,00 in public buildings.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

[illegible]

What a Comfort!

No Dirt! No Fuss! No Back Ache!
LASTS LONGER,
LOOKS BRIGHTER,
and makes the Shoes WEAR BETTER.
Don't let the women have all the best things, but use
Wolff's ACME Blacking
ONCE A WEEK FOR MEN.
ONCE A MONTH FOR WOMEN.
I find it a tip top Harness Dressing.
WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

COUGH KILLER

I had a very Bad Cold, and got a bottle of Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer, and it helped me at once. It will do all it is recommended to do.

Wm. F. Alverson, Branch, Ulster County, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion! Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ills arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c. and $1.00.

LADIES!

Do Your Own Dyeing, at Home, with

PEERLESS DYE,

they will dye everything. They are sold everywhere. Price 10c. a package. 40 colors. They have no equal for Strength, Brightness, Amount in Packages or for Fastness of Color, or non-fading qualities. They do not crock or smut. For sale by H. C. GISLER. 4ly

SALVATION OIL

[illegible]

ROYAL [illegible]

[illegible]

A Key West fisherman rubs his body with kerosene oil and swims among the sharks in safety.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 25 1 y

In the City of Mexico the sum of $60,000 is spent daily for strong drink.

Epoch.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, to the use of [illegible]

[illegible]

I all [illegible]

—Life.

The only time when a [illegible] [illegible] after the accident.—Puck.

The [illegible] man who fought his way to the [illegible] now in the penitentiary.—Las Cruces.

It is a [illegible] that can tell the age of a man by looking at his teeth.—Dansville Breeze.

Did you ever talk to a fair, sensible sort of a man that you did not feel ashamed of yourself?—Atchison Globe.

Old lady (rushing into drug store)—"Say, mister, I want some paint." Obliging clerk—"Y-e-s. Face or fence?"—Judge.

"You're too fresh," said the brine to the beef. "I acknowledge the corn," replied the beef, humbly.—Puck.

A musical journal says that America needs a national air. Does, eh? What's the matter with the blizzard?—The Wasp.

A glass eye has one compensation—everybody else can see through the device, if the wearer can't.—Life.

The late Oliver Ditson left $15,000 for the founding of a home for poor singers. But the sum is appallingly inadequate. Fifteen millions would not house half of them.—Puck.

What is the difference between a grand and comic opera? At comic opera you ought to laugh, but can't; at grand opera you must not laugh, but want to.—San Francisco Wasp.

A large iron spring has been discovered in the northern part of the state; it is supposed to have escaped from a Waterbury watch.—Life.

Robinson: "How does it come that you are always in the courts?" Lawyer: "That's my business." Robinson: "Oh well, I wouldn't get so touchy about a little thing if I were you."—Time.

If a few more citizens of Indianapolis remove to Washington and Montreal during the next few months the town will have to be shut down for lack of hands to run it.—Chicago News.

"How many men dare do right?" asks a Chicago paper. Lots and lots of them; but when a man has a lead nickel and the street car is crowded the temptation is very strong.—Rochester Union.

Pat (just landed, reading the sign in the window "help wanted")—"Hilp wanted is it? Well, begorra, it's not Patrick O'Shaughnessy will ever lave a fellow-being in distress." (And he tears off his coat and dashes madly inside.)—Epoch.

Even the most absent-minded man generally remembers to stop short of the division line between his own and his neighbor's sidewalk when he is shoveling off the snow.—Somerville Journal.

Frenchman:—"Yes, Miss Bostonia, in the Mediterranean I sailed through schools of sardines." Miss Bostonia: "Nonsense! How could they swim in those heavy tin boxes?"—Time.

A waggish cabinet-maker, who repaired chairs as an accommodation, advertised thus: "All kinds of chairs, and bills contracted therefor, receipted with pleasure." His wit and wisdom turned him in a deal of cash trade.—Nantucket Inquirer.

"Say, Cholley," asked one newsboy of another, "what's a payin' teller?" "He's de man what pays out de money." "An' what's de receivin' teller?" "He's de man what takes in de money." "An' what's de cashier?" "He's de feller what gits away wid de money."—Harper's Bazar.

It is said that one of the New York's "boodle aldermen" gave his barber $15 for New Year's. It was probably "hush money."—Yonkers Statesman.

Caller (at house in Indianapolis): "I should like to see General Harrison." Servant, (reading card): "J. Filkins Jones, Mind Reader." (Emphatically): "You can't see the General, sir."—Chicago Tribune.

An Indiana court has decided that unless a woman is pleased with her photographs she need not pay for them. Since this decision was rendered forty-five photographers have spilled their chemicals out of the window and left the State.—Burlington Free Press.

Miss Canada (blushingly): "I am sorry, sir, but I can never be any more to you than a sis——" Uncle Sam (aghast): "Christopher Columbus, young woman! You misunderstand me. I'm not courting you, I am only offering to be a father to you."—Chicago Tribune.

Things one would rather have left unsaid.—Miss Margaret: "Pray sit down. I'm so sorry, mamma and my sisters are out!" Shy Curate (who has called on parish business): "Oh, pray don't mention it; one of the family is quite enough!"—Punch.

How shall we give our boys a taste for elevating and refining books? Buy a few more Sunday papers, with full descriptions of Whitechapel murders, and [illegible] over the [illegible].—Puck.

[illegible]

[illegible]

At Druggists and Dealers.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat [illegible] CATARRH [illegible] circular with home testimonials [illegible] CAMPBELL'S [illegible] Atlanta, Ga.

[illegible]

$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless.

Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

VIENNA BAKERY
—AND—
ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
27tf Proprietor.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a

First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Yours Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

PATENTS

[illegible]

[illegible]

COURT APPOINTMENTS.

[illegible] hereby ordered that the [illegible] of Oyer and Terminer [illegible] County of Oswego, [illegible] to be held [illegible] places [illegible] Oswego [illegible] Pulaski [illegible] Fulton [illegible] Trial Jurors are required to attend [illegible] on the second day [illegible] to be summoned or [illegible]

Dated at Mexico, Oswego County, N. Y., Dec. 24, 1888. M. L. W[illegible], Oswego County Judge.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of [illegible] 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October [illegible], 1888.

THOMAS E. [illegible],
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y., Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS,
C. H. DAVID } Executors

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 29th, 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix.

Special School Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that at a Special School Meeting of Union Free School District No. 1 in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, State of New York, to be held at the Fourth street school house, in said district, on the 5th day of March, 1889, at 7 o'clock, p. m., a tax will be proposed, not exceeding the sum of Eight thousand dollars, ($8,000), for the purpose of erecting an additional school building upon the Fourth street site, in said district.

Dated at Fulton, N. Y., this 30th day of January, 1889.

F. E. BACON,
H. C. HOWE,
W. G. GAGE,
W. McCULLY,
G. J. EMENY,
GILES S. PIPER,
C. H. DAVID,
H. S. GARDNER,
S. B. WHITAKER,
Board of Education.

AGENTS!
SOCIAL MIRROR:
Or Social and Moral Culture.

Introduced by ROSE ELIZABETH CLEVELAND, is having the largest sale of any strictly subscription book published.

Terms and circulars free; if you mean business and want to commence work at once, send $1 for outfit. Exclusive Territory Guaranteed. Hoping to secure your services for 1889, we are, Yours truly,

LYMAN W. DICKERSON & CO.
919 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.
(Mention this paper) 37w8

WANTED.
BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE, APPLES,
POTATOES, ONIONS, BEANS,
SHEEP, LAMBS, VEAL, 200
TONS POULTRY & WILD
GAME FOR HOLIDAYS
WILL PAY CASH OR SELL ON
Commission. Daily market report forwarded every day.
E. M. BALLARD & CO.
743 Myrtle Av. Brooklyn N. Y.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

SPECIAL

Announcement.

[illegible]

VOLUME 21—NUMBER 43.
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1889.
Single Copies Three Cents.

[illegible]

[illegible] by an old-fashioned chair,
[illegible]
[illegible] the days gone by
[illegible]
[illegible] pleasure I'd paint
[illegible] as I saw it then—
[illegible] with the brightness of youth,
[illegible] she scored her four-score-and-ten.
[illegible] as white as the new-fallen snow,
[illegible] round her brow,
And a face so sweet that the angels in Heaven
Might envy its beauty now.

Weary of play, we besought her to tell
A story of when she was young;
And ever ready the children to please,
She said in the dear mother tongue:

When I was a lass, mony years ago,
An' lived in a lan' o'er the sea,
Mony o' the laddies for twenty miles round'
Wad fain come a-courtin' me.

I remember fu' weel a simmer nicht,
When twa bonny lads came tae woo;
I couldna hae baith, an' I didna' want ane,
Sae what could a puir lassie do?

I didna' enter the room whaur they sat
A glowrin' at ane anither;
But quietly crept upstairs tae bed,
An' left them talkin' tae ither

Were they angered? Ah, weel—I dinna ken,
I wadna' fash myself wi' them;
For lassies are careless when lovers aboun'
An' carle' when ane comes tae see them.

I canna forget the day I met Sam;
'Twas at a parade in the town;
An' he was the bravest o' a' the lads,
Frae the tip o' his toe tae his crown.

Hoo it had happend I never could tell,
But when his blue een fell on me,
There came sic a trembling fra heid ta fut,
That I thocht I wad surely dee.

The comin' nicht I sat at my loom,
An'—hearin' the out door slam—
Lookit up, expectin' a neebor tae see,
An' wha should it be but my Sam!

I needna' tell you a' that he said,
Or hoo he had learned my name,
An' walked fu' mony a weary mile,
Tae visit my humble hame.

Enow that he tauld me he lo'ed me weel,
An' wad lo'e me a' thro' his life.
Nae matter what comes, I'll aye be true,
If you'll promise to be my wife."

Sae tender his voice, an' sae sweet his smile,
That my een wi' tears were fillin'
An' what reply could a puir lassie mak,
But "I will, if father is willin'."

We lo'ed ilk ither, an' why should we wait
For settlements or for dresses;
Sae I decked myself in my Sunday gown,
An' twined a flow'r in my tresses.

Sam whispered tae me, that never a bride,
Lookit half sae sweet, or sae fair,
As I in my muslin gown sae white,
Wi' the rose in my dark brown hair.

Thegither we walked tae the minister's hoose
Wi' father an' mither ahead;
An' sae wi'out ony trouble at a'
My Sammy and I were wed.

Tho' the years passed on, my cup o' joy,
Forever kep' rinnin' ower,
As he who had made me his happy wife
Yet remained my faithful lover.

An' the bairns the Lord in His gudeness sent
To double an' share oor pleasures,
Were Edward an' Jamie, Mary an' Jean,
Willy an' Sam—oor treasures.

But the famine came tae this hame sae dear,
In the lan' we lo'ed sae weel;
An' what could your grandfather dae, puir man,
Wha was ainly a "weaver chiel?"

In vain he struggled a livin' tae mak,
The childer for bread were cryin',
An' in a' the country roun' about
Our freends, an' neighbors were dyin'

We had heard o' this lan' sae free tae a',
A-flowin' wi' milk an' honey,
An' by sellin' the hame whaur oor bairns were born
We raised our passage money.

An' ower the sea we speedily sailed
Tae this highly favored lan',
Whaur the gude Lord showers his blessin's doun
Wi' an ever-bountiful han'.

An' hoo we were prospered, ye ken fu' well;
Our bairns were the pride o' my heart,
An' mony a tear their auld mither shed,
When forced frae her childer tae part.

For Edward—oor first-born—tae college went,
An' a minister he became,
While Sammy, oor bairn, in seekin' for gold,
Wan'ered thousands o' miles frae hame.

An' the Lord ca'ed Will an' Mary aboon,
Frae this warl' o' sorrow and sin.
An' Jamie? Why surely your father, bairns,
A better lad couldna' hae been:

Sae I made my hame wi' him an' his wife,
When Jean oor ain lass got married,
For your grandfather went tae his lang, lang hame,
While I unwillingly tarried.

'Tis twenty lang years syne he left me here,
An' I surely canna but think,
That Sam is watchin' an' waitin' for me,
As I'm nearin' the river's brink.

* * * * * * *

Ere many days passed, the welcome news came,
For the angel—in death's disguise—
Having entered the room where the dear one lay,
Was greeted with joyful surprise.

With glorified vision, she then beheld
The city so wondrously fair;
But dearer by far were the loving friends,
Who waited her coming there.

[illegible] the river [illegible] broad an' deep,
[illegible] I can see,
[illegible] on the ither side.
My Sam [illegible] me."

[illegible] the form became still,
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

—N. Y. Witness.

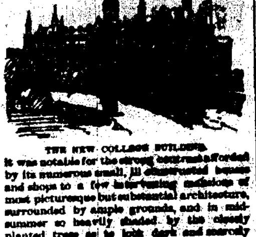
[illegible]

AN OLD UNIVERSITY.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE FOUNDED BY ARCHBISHOP CARROLL.

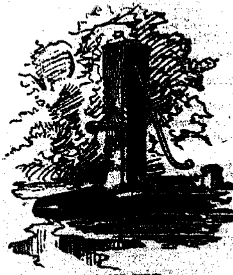
What the Town of Georgetown Looks Like. The College Grounds and the Splendid New Edifice Now Being Completed—Gen. Washington's Visit to the University.

One hundred and thirty-eight years ago, in pursuance of an act of the colonial government of Maryland, the town of Georgetown, in the District of Columbia, was laid out. Excepting the fact that since that time it has increased by a few thousands in population, it to this day retains the leading characteristics which distinguished it in the days of George Washington's youth. In those days, as now, it was notable for the strong contrast afforded by its numerous small, ill constructed houses and shops to a few interesting mansions of most picturesque but substantial architecture, surrounded by ample grounds, and in midsummer so heavily shaded by the closely planted trees as to look dark and scarcely distinguishable from the high stone ledging inclosing the estates. At the time Georgetown was founded the adjacent country now known as Washington consisted of a few farms and a dense forest. Where the White House now stands was a straggling plantation owned by a canny Scotchman named David Burns. Georgetown was then considered quite a thriving hamlet. Vessels from New York, Philadelphia, Boston and the West Indies stopped there and exchanged merchandise, and there was a healthy rivalry between Georgetown and the then prosperous town of Alexandria, Va., a few miles down the river. But it is a curious fact that in the past hundred years both of these towns have retrograded instead of progressed. Riding down the Potomac to Mt. Vernon, on a hot summer's day, the near view you have of Alexandria gives you the impression that the town is completely deserted. At the wharves lie dismantled, rotting ships. The only signs of life you see on the docks are a few darkies lying full length under the shade of a warehouse, looking at the lazy rippling of the water and whistling to the winds. The ferry from Washington slowly sweeps up to the wharf, but as soon as the few passengers are unloaded the momentary excitement subsides and the droning quietness again sets in. Between the cobblestones of the streets shoot up morbid growths of weeds and grass, which are nosed by occasional stray hogs that wander unrestrained through the streets. Georgetown has not undergone such a decadence as this, but the place is drowsy enough. True, there is a faint echo of the restlessness of Washington to be heard in Georgetown, which is now virtually a part of Washington, the two places only being separated by a bridge spanned creek; but the difference between the spirit that pervades the atmosphere of Washington and that which strikes the stranger in Georgetown is simply the difference between the Nineteenth and the Eighteenth centuries.



THE NEW COLLEGE BUILDING.

When Archbishop Carroll founded the great college in Georgetown in 1789 it was largely on account of the magnificent location. The several buildings constituting the university are situated on a wooded hill, commanding a splendid view many miles up and down the Potomac and of Washington. The grounds comprise many acres and in so far as possible have been left in their natural condition. They are threaded by several small streams, spanned by rustic bridges. There are many sinuous walks through the park, and near the college is a smooth plot for baseball, football and other sports. The various buildings of the college have been constructed at widely different times and of different materials, and the effect, although exceedingly picturesque, is not altogether artistic. But the new building, which is nearly completed and which connects the two rows of buildings that formerly constituted the university, amply atones for the artistic shortcomings of the old structures. It is a noble edifice, considerably over 450 feet in length and of granite and [illegible] architecture. It includes a [illegible] library and a spacious chapel. The [illegible] library consists of [illegible] years old. The new building [illegible] for occupancy in a few [illegible].



THE OLD PUMP.

Georgetown college is the oldest and most important Roman Catholic university in the United States. Many men who have become famous as statesmen, lawyers and writers were educated within its walls. [illegible]

[illegible]

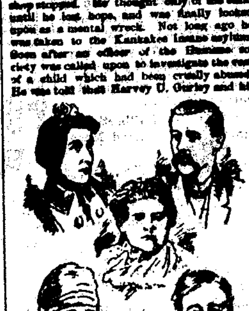
[illegible]

ANNIE THERESA REDMOND.

The Little Chicago Girl Who [illegible] Kidnaped [illegible]

The pages of fiction tell few stranger stories than that of little 4-year-old Annie Theresa Redmond, the little Chicago girl who was kidnaped about a year ago and recently discovered in a foundling asylum by accident. The little girl was kidnaped on March 25, 1888. She was playing in a vacant lot, with a boy companion, when she was approached by a strange woman and enticed away by promises. The police worked hard on the case, urged on by the piteous and repeated appeals of her father, a well to do blacksmith, who, besides, offered large rewards and traversed the country in search of his missing daughter.

All search was fruitless, yet at no time has the child been outside of a radius of one mile of her father's home. Grief and worry finally told on the fond father, and the embers of his forge died out, and his busy blows in his shop stopped. He thought only of the child until he lost hope, and was finally looked upon as a mental wreck. Not long ago he was taken to the Kankakee insane asylum. Soon after an officer of the Humane society was called upon to investigate the case of a child which had been cruelly abused. He was told that Harvey U. Gurley and his wife Josie, living on Throop street, had taken their child into the cellar, where they bound her with ropes and laid a heavy ladder across her breast. The girl's cries attracted the attention of a woman living next door, who rescued the child. The Gurleys were taken before a magistrate, where the circumstances of their inhuman conduct were told. The little girl told everybody that her name was Flora Della Gurley, and that she was the daughter of her tormentors. This appeared strange in view of the fact that Josie Gurley is yet a young woman, not over 21 years at most. The magistrate was inclined to deal severely with the couple, but on Gurley's plea that his wife was in a delicate condition let him go under a suspended fine of $50. The child was turned over to the Home for the Friendless, where she still gave the same name of Gurley.



MRS. JOSIE GURLEY. HARVEY U. GURLEY.
ANNIE THERESA REDMOND.
MRS. PARSONS. PARSONS.
THE ABDUCTORS AND THE ABDUCTED.

A short time ago a lady, a neighbor of the Redmonds, wishing to adopt a child, went with another lady to the Home for the Friendless, where she accidentally discovered little Annie Redmond in the kindergarten. The little girl still said her name was Gurley, and on being asked if she had no other name gave the name of Annie Redmond, but said that the woman who had stolen her had forced her to tell every one that her name was Flora Dell Gurley. She was taken home to her mother, who was beside herself with joy, and her father was brought from the insane asylum. The recovery of his child has almost entirely restored his reason, and he will soon be all right again.

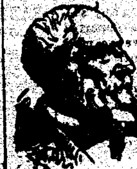
The little girl told a harrowing story of the cruelty of the Gurleys, and when the latter were arrested they told several conflicting stories. An old man named De Witt Parsons and his wife were also arrested as being accomplices in the kidnaping. Parsons, who was called "grandpa" by Annie Redmond (being forced to do so by the Gurley woman) is Gurley's stepfather. The affair created great excitement in the neighborhood, the peculiar features of the case being much discussed in the newspapers.

THE LATE GEN. HUNT.

At the Time of His Death He Was the Governor of the National Soldiers' Home.

The Soldiers' home in Washington, a beautiful spot, which will always be interesting historically as the spot where in summer President Lincoln sought relief from the cares of state and the leadership of a gigantic civil war, has met with a great loss in the death of its governor, Gen. H. J. Hunt.

Gen Hunt was born in Michigan in 1819, but was appointed to the United States Military academy at West Point from Ohio in 1835. He was graduated four years later with Henry W. Halleck, Isaac I. Stevens, Alexander R. Lawton, United States minister to Austria; James B. Ricketts, E. O. C. Ord, E. R. S. Canby and other prominent men. Hunt was assigned to the Second artillery, and was made first lieutenant [illegible] years later, when the Mexican war broke out. He was twice wounded at Molino del Rey, and during the war became famous as an artillery officer.



GEN. HUNT.

In 1862 he was made a brigadier general of volunteers. He was chief of artillery of the Army of the Potomac, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

The Messrs. Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia, are very happy because of the success of the Yorktown, the [illegible] cruiser [illegible] built by them for the United States navy and tried with great success.

The recent trial trip was for the testing of the Yorktown's engines, [illegible] having been designed in the navy department at Washington. The contract called for 3,000 horse power in a continuous run of four hours at sea. The contractors were to be paid $455,000 for the 3,000 horse power and were to be allowed $100 for each horse power in excess. They succeeded in getting a surplus of 550 horse power over that contracted for, thus gaining $55,000 over the contract price.

THE YORKTOWN.

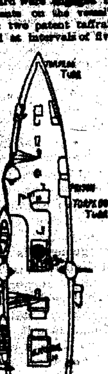
The trip was a four hours' test, required to determine the fulfillment of the contract. There was a northwest gale blowing. During the whole four hours, while the ship was under the strain of wind and sea, not a single mishap occurred to the machinery, and not a drop of water was put on any journal to cool it. Capt. Joseph Steel commanded, while the government had more than a dozen men aboard to look out for Uncle Sam's interests.

The Yorktown started out to sea at 9:15 a. m., but the time of trial did not begin for half an hour later. The government engineers each carried into the engine room a black walnut box in which was a little nickel plated machine called an indicator. It consisted of a cylinder about four inches tall, around which a piece of white paper was fastened. Close by the cylinder was a pencil arrangement which drew lines on the paper resembling a right angled triangle with a curved hypothenuse. To the end of each cylinder one of these machines was fastened and given a double motion by the admission of steam into the cylinder and the turning of the shaft. This drew the diagram.

Every fifteen minutes cards were taken from each of the cylinders, and during five minutes before and after each, removal the average number of revolutions of the shaft was taken so as to complete the necessary data for making the calculation of the power. During this time the ship was put under what is called "forced draught," the firemen and coal heavers being shut up. The machinery kept the temperature at about 70 degs., which is not an unpleasant temperature in which to work.

On deck the trial board were engaged in making their experiments on the vessel's speed. From her stern two patent taffrail logs were dragging, and at intervals of five minutes a chip log was thrown overboard and dragged for thirteen seconds or during the running of sand through a sand glass. Then the log was taken in and the computation made. It was determined, upon taking an average of several logs, that the run during the trip was a trifle over sixteen knots an hour, or eighteen and a half miles, slightly exceeding the estimate. The highest speed attained was seventeen and two-tenths knots, the lowest sixteen.

In regard to steadiness the experiments were eminently satisfactory. Mr. William Cramp took a tumbler of water filled to within an eighth of an inch of the brim and placed it on a hatch on the quarter deck, at the time the ship was running with the wind, and notwithstanding the swell so smoothly and steadily did she run that in fifteen minutes, while the glass was in position, not a drop was spilled.



YORKTOWN'S DECK PLAN.

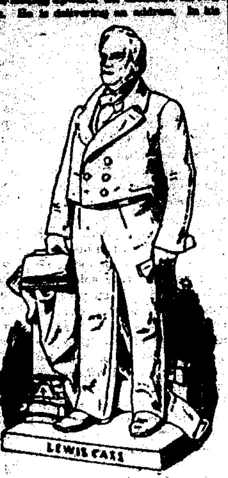
The wind was very cold while the trip was being made, the thermometer standing about 35 degs. The Yorktown first sailed to the southeast, then to the southward, and then made a circle out to sea, returning to the northward. She came back with the wind on her bows, and as the temperature was below freezing when she came in, she looked like a vessel just in from a long voyage, her bows being covered with ice. The [illegible] worked to a charm.

A test was made to see how quickly the vessel could be turned about in a circle. First the experiment was tried with both screws and then with one. She was turned in twice her own length in five minutes and [illegible] seconds. It was also found that [illegible] brought to a full stop [illegible]

[illegible]

STATUE OF LEWIS CASS.

[illegible] back. He is delivering an address. In his left hand is a roll of manuscript, his right holding an open book, on a stand, over which is thrown a cloak of the period. His dress is the dress or swallow tail coat worn by older men at that time, with the high rolling collar. To the mouth is a protuberance of the under lip, the result, it is supposed, of the quid carried in the mouth of most eminent and lowly men of Gen. Cass's day. The statue rests on a pedestal of light marble, on whose front are the arms of Michigan. There will be no inscription, the plinth simply bearing the name "Lewis Cass."



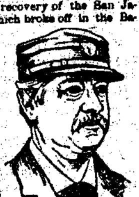
THE CASS STATUE.

Gen. Cass was Michigan's most prominent man, consequently his statue was the first presented by that state to Statuary Hall. He was a statesman, a legislator, a scholar and a man of great integrity.

THE LATE REAR ADMIRAL CHANDLER.

He Was Forty-four Years in the Service and Had a Very Eventful Life.

Rear Admiral Ralph Chandler of the United States navy, who recently died in Hong Kong, China, while in command of the Asiatic station, was in the service for forty-four years. He was a native of New York, and entered the navy in 1845 at the age of 16, his first sea service being in the independence, then the flag ship for the Pacific squadron. In 1847 he took part in the blockade of Mazatlan, Mexico, and the subsequent siege and capture of that place. In 1851 he became a passed midshipman, and in the following year he was attached to the naval squadron. From 1853 to 1855 he was attached to the sloop St. Louis of the Mediterranean squadron, taking part in 1854 in the Koszta affair in Smyrna. In 1855 he became a master and lieutenant. In 1856 and 1857 he was attached to the coast survey, and in 1858 and 1859 was engaged in the survey of the Panama river and tributaries. In 1860-61 he was attached to the Vandalia, taking part in the battle of Port Royal. In 1862 he was attached to the San Jacinto of the North Atlantic and East Gulf blockading squadrons, taking part in the engagement at Sewell's Point and the capture of Norfolk. During this cruise he received the thanks of the navy department for the recovery of the San Jacinto's propeller, which broke off in the Bahama channel. The drawings showing the manner in which he recovered the propeller are at the Naval academy and are referred to in lectures on seamanship. He became a commander in 1869, and in 1863-64 he commanded the Huntsville of the East Gulf squadron. He had command of the steam gunboat Maumee in 1864-65 and took part in the bombardment and capture of Forts Fisher, Anderson and Lee and the capture of Wilmington, N. C.



ADMIRAL CHANDLER.

He had command of the monitor Sangamon in 1865, and cleared the James river of torpedoes without accident. He was in command of the Don on special service, from 1866 to 1868, and discovered and surveyed the Cultivator shoal, about fifty miles east of Cape Cod. From 1869 to 1870 he was in command of the Tallapoosa. He was in command of the New York navy yard from 1870 to 1874. In 1874 he was made a captain and given command of the Swatara. With the Swatara he landed five parties to observe the transit of Venus—one at Desolation Island, Indian ocean, two at Tasmania, one at New Zealand and one at Chatham island. Hearing that the German party for the observation of the transit was in distress at the Auckland Islands, he sailed at once from Chatham to offer relief. Fortunately he found the party all right, but his kindness and [illegible] a letter of hearty thanks from Prince Bismarck.

From 1880 to 1882 he was in command of [illegible]. He became a commodore in [illegible] and a rear admiral in 1886, and since [illegible] he has been in command of the Asiatic station.

[illegible]

[illegible] the St. Louis defaulter, [illegible] recently deserted for Canada, was one [illegible]

[illegible]

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
[illegible] Alum, Lime, Phosphates, or other injurious [illegible] GEO. C. HANFORD, [illegible] Syracuse, N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part, pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sassy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's 51797, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

HELL GATE'S MILLIONS.

The Search for British Gold to be Renewed in the Spring.

Treasure Seeker George W. Thomas of Hackettstown, N. J., is jubilant over the decision rendered by the court of errors and appeals, by which he will be allowed to continue seeking for the sunken treasure of $4,800,000 which lies in the waters of Hell Gate. The case, which has been before the courts since 1884, was that of J. C. Hartshorn of Providence, against Geo. W. Thomas. It was instituted to compel Thomas to pay back or make an accounting of $64,000 which had been turned over to him for the purpose of rescuing from the watery depths of Hell Gate about $5,000,000 in gold which is supposed to have been aboard the English frigate Hussar, which was wrecked on Pot Rock, Nov. 25, 1780. The money was sent from England for the pay of the men in the English navy, who had not received any money from the government for three years. The ill-fated frigate at the time of the disaster was bound for Newport, R. I., with 150 men on board, including a number of American prisoners. It is related that all perished within fifty yards of Randall's Island. The British government and various companies have tried to raise the sunken treasure, but only a few thousand dollars' worth of guns and cannon balls have been recovered.

George W. Thomas, the defendant in the present suit, began operations in 1879, having received permission from the government to go on with the work. He obtained various sums of money from his friends for conducting the work until 1884, when those who advanced the money secured the annulment of the government permission for its continuance.

The supreme court has now given a decision setting aside the verdict of the lower court. Work on the sunken treasure will be commenced again by Mr. Thomas in the spring.—New York Herald.

The gay young bicyclist he's in his bed,
Not for him the sun is shining;
He has been flung and is sore in body and head
But Salvation Oil will make him smiling.

"I've got it at last," said the fellow who found his cough subdued by a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

A man breathes about twenty times a minute or 1200 times an hour.

FOUND DEAD.

Last evening a person having the name of G. R. Thompson registered at Hunt's Hotel, and desired to be called in season to take the 12 p. m. train for Chicago. Being unable to awaken him, the room was entered by means of the ventilator over the door, when the gentleman was found to be dead. He was advertising agent for Sulphur Bitters which has an extensive sale. The coroner returned a verdict of death from heart disease. His body will be sent east immediately.—Cin. Commercial.

The average weight of an adult is 150 pounds six ounces.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)
Brain-Workers, Dyspeptics, Chronic Invalids, All Praise it, No Narcotic.
A [illegible] TONIC.
[illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE.
Jeweler,
WATCHES CLOCKS
W. P. Osborne
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

Change of Ownership
Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a
First-Class Market.
I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.
Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S CREAM BALM Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain & Inflammation, Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH ROSE-COLD HAY-FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE PRICE 50 CENTS ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A. EASY TO USE
HAY-FEVER
TRY THE CURE.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York

SEEDS Given Away
A Pkg Mixed Flower Seeds, 400 kinds, Guide, and 10c. Certificate for seeds, your choice, all for 2 stamps (4c). Every flower lover delighted. Tell all your friends. G. W. PARK, Fannettsburg, Pa. Send at once, this notice appears but a few times.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

CHEST PAINS
COUGHS, COLDS
Chest Pains Coughs and Colds, Weak Lungs, Backache, Kidney Pains, Rheumatism, and all Muscular Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti - Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1 00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND.
[illegible] Diamond Brand [illegible] At Druggists. Accept no other. [illegible] "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return mail. 10,000 testimonials [illegible] Name Paper. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line.
Caskets and Coffins
of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
and Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

UNITED LIFE
AND ACCIDENT
INSURANCE ASSOCIATION,
[illegible] BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
[illegible]

Business Cards.
MORRILL BROS. [illegible]

JANE BROADWELL,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p.m.

Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dilts & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, - Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

9 Cords IN 10 HOURS
Runs Easy
NO BACKACHE.
BY ONE MAN. [illegible]

BEST STEEL WIRE
Woven Wire Fencing
Wire Rope Selvage
GALVANIZED.
[illegible] TO $2 PER ROD.
[illegible]

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood,
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation.
Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. [illegible] of [illegible] Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, [illegible] or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, [illegible] Boston, Mass., to whom all [illegible] or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to Cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 Pearl St., New York.

TRADERS [illegible]
287 BROADWAY, N. Y.
LIVE AGENT WANTED.
[illegible]

[illegible] all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible]
[illegible] Post-Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]
[illegible] communications, on business or [illegible] to The Times.
F. D. VanWa[illegible],
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.
[illegible] who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his [illegible] whether he is a subscriber or not—is [illegible] for the pay.
[illegible] courts have decided that refusing to take [illegible] and periodicals from the post-office [illegible] removing and leaving them uncalled for, is [illegible] facie evidence of intentional fraud.
[illegible] any person orders his paper discontinued [illegible] must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may [illegible] to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. E. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

NEXT Monday evening persons who possess the qualifications necessary have the privilege of voting for or against the raising of a tax of $8,000 for the erection of an aditional school building upon the Fourth street site.

A question doubtless rises in the minds of many and certainly in our own whether the proposed step is the wisest one that can be taken at the present time.

There is no question but that more school room must be obtained and at once, but could not a wooden building or annex be built on the Fourth Street site that would meet the demand at an expense of say $1,000 or $1,500. This expense would not be materially felt by the taxpayers and would make good and sufficient school room for several years to come and leave matters open to the possibility in the future of securing Falley Seminary for a public school building.

We understand that the owner of Falley Seminary does not at present desire to sell the property but all who are versed in school matters know that the days of private seminaries are practically at an end and there is every reason to expect that in the future this fine structure with its classic halls and reputation as a seat of learning, now used as a residence could be secured by the village for school purposes, and as Falley Seminary and Fulton Union School the acme of public school advantages attained in Fulton if the proper management of school affairs is maintained.

If the seminary at some future date can be secured and the suggested wooden structure is constructed it can be sold, probably to an advantage, the Ontario street and State street buildings disposed of and changed into dwelling houses, leaving the public school buildings, the seminary and the present Fourth street building, both situated in the central part of the village.

If the contemplated $8,000 school building is voted to be constructed it puts a stop to all speculation of ever securing Falley Seminary for public schools purposes, an event that all who feel a pride and interest in educational matters would like to see consummated.

IN his remarks before the Farmers' Institute held in this village, John Gardenier of Oswego, made the following statements:

"There are more farmers than any one class of people; have the greatest investment; have made greatest improvements. Reference was interestingly made to the changes in methods and implements. Last year, of butter made in this country, there were $60,000,000 worth; of cheese, $110,000,000 worth: dairying the leading interest. Average cows's product last season, 3,034 lbs.; sepcial cows have yielded 8, 10, 12, up to 30,000 pounds of milk; by breeding we can produce same product with one-half the number of cows. Cows are numerous who have produced 20 lbs. of butter per week. Improvements in cows and in methods have been largely brought about through the influence of Farmers' Clubs and institutes. Speaker drew a ludicrous picture of the old-time way of making butter. Referring to Ensilage—8 acres had 250 tons of ensilage; this was worth $1,850 to feed; valuable crop. Any man with $100 can afford to have a silo.

THE price of a ticket to the Inauguration ball will be five dollars. Each ticket entitles one person to admission to the ball room. A lady's ticket costs as much as a gentleman's. The ticket reads: "Admit one person to the Inaugural ball at the new Pension building, March 4th, 1889. A. B. Britton, chairman of the inaugural committee. Full dress required.

[illegible] J. ARKELL, owner of Judge, the [illegible] paper, has bought Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper for $400,000. [illegible] was paid for the edition [illegible] English and $100,000 for the [illegible]. The papers were signed [illegible] consummated Monday.

[illegible] amount of tree [illegible] Assembly ceiling [illegible] strong odor of a big [illegible]. The end of the [illegible].

[illegible] HARRISON is [illegible] having arrived [illegible]. He has [illegible] Hotel.

[illegible] school house in the [illegible] village. If we have not enough room for all the children then I am in favor of building more, but let our taxpayers go and visit the school house No. 1, or the one in the north end of the village any day during school hours and see for themselves if more room is needed, and for one I do not believe there is any profit in building more houses for the purpose of taking outside pupils to educate at small tuition.

If all outside scholars were excluded we would have much surplus room and our own would get better attention no doubt.

Our taxes for the next few years are going to drive people who think of locating away from us.

The sewer scheme which is to cost on the start $25,000 with a prospect of its costing many times that before complete and our large tax for hydrants which will constantly increase and electric lights and all other village expenses on the increase, make people hesitate before locating and buying property here.

If we continue to pile on the taxes we will soon find ourselves much in the condition of our neighbor Oswego—taxes so high the property is largely being sold to pay them and in many instances not bringing the amount of the tax called for. Let us consider well before loading up more than the team can possibly handle.

TAXPAYER.

Who Has a Right to Vote.

We are requested by several to state in THE TIMES the qualifications that are necessary to vote at the special school meeting which is to be held next Monday evening at the Fourth street school house. The following is the school law with regard to the matter:

"Every person of full age residing in any neighborhood or school district, and entitled to hold lands in this state, who owns or hires real property in such neighborhood or school district liable to taxation for school purposes, and every resident ed of such neighborhood or district who is a citizen of the United States above the age of twenty-one years, and who is the parent of a child or children of school age, some one or more of whom shall have attended the district school for a period of at least eight weeks within one year preceding, and every such person not being the parent who shall have permanently residing with him or her such child or children, and every such resident and citizen as aforesaid, who owns any personal property assessed on the last preceding assessment roll of the town, exceeding fifty dollars in value, exclusive of such as is exempt from execution, and no other, shall be entitled to vote at any school meeting held in such neighborhood or district."

VALUE 25 CENTS, CASH.

Our Book Coupon.

Any subscriber to THE FULTON TIMES, who has paid therefor in advance to the end of 1889, who will present this coupon personally or by mail, at the store of John B. Alden, Publisher 393 Pearl St., New York; 218 Clark St., Chicago, 1113 S. 9th, St., Philadelphia, will be credited with the sum of 25 Cents toward the regular price of ROBERT ELSMERE, 12mo, cloth, 657 pp. Price 50 cts.; postage 12c., the remainder of the price of the book to be paid in cash, the order to be received on or before Saturday, March 9th, 1889,

I, a subscriber to THE TIMES, as above offer, specified claim the above and enclose the money required.

Name...

Address...

Send books by......................................

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

The above innocent-looking little coupon means a good deal.

Most of our readers, probably, are familiar with the name of John B. Alden, Publisher, New York, who has done so much in popularizing and cheapening high-class literature. His edition of above described, one of the most famous books of the century, is a remarkable specimen of his enterprise. A copy of the book, to be seen at this office, printed in large type, on good paper, well and nicely bound in cloth, shows it to be fairly equal to books our readers in years past have been accustomed to pay $1.00 or a $1.50 for, his regular price being 50 cents.

ROBERT ELSMERE,

In consideration of our placing Mr. Alden's enterprise thus prominently before our readers, and commending it, as we can most heartily, he has consented to allow us to make the above very remarkable coupon offer to our subscribers. Please notice carefully the simple and reasonable conditions:

1st. Paid in advance subscribers to THE TIMES.
2d. To be presented within a specified date.
3d. 25 cents cash with the coupon, and 12 cents postage, if by mail.

The first condition is our requirement If you have paid us,—thank you; it is a pleasure to acknowledge it with the above privilege. If you have not yet paid, the above is an inducement for you to do so at once. If you have a neighbor who "borrows" your paper, or who is not a subscriber, will you kindly tempt him, for us, to subscribe by showing him this notice!

To favor our subscribers as much as practicable we have arranged with Mr. Alden (and this is where the importance of the dates come in) that if subscribers so request all books shall be shipped together in our care, and we will deliver them at our office, [illegible]

[illegible] Myers, the husband, who was jointly indicted with the woman for the crime, on bail.

This afternoon it was learned that the jury laid aside the question of insanity entirely in determining their verdict. Their first ballot was six each for conviction and acquittal, the next seven and five, the next nine and three and the last for acquittal. They were out seventeen hours.

The defendant paid no attention to the verdict and did not notice the jury at all.

The jury say that they were influenced more by the condition of the defendant in court than the evidence, and at last agreed on acquittal on the grounds of a reasonable doubt. Mrs. Myers will go home to-day with her sister-in-law to Mexico. The sentiment of the people is divided as to the verdict.

Justin Forbes' charge was extremely fair. The case, including the lunacy commission, will probably cost the county $10,000.

Mrs. Myers did not appreciate her situation at all. She will go to the Auburn Criminal Insane asylum to be placed under the charge of Doctor MacDonald, who was the principal expert witness for the defense.

Mr. Sayles and his wife will take her immediately. Doctor MacDonald thinks he can cure her inside of a year.

Myers is very happy and expects to be out next week."

OBITUARY.

Mary B., wife of Porter W. Hyde, died very suddenly at her home on upper First street, Wednesday, February 20, at the age of 56 years. Mrs. Hyde was in her usual health on the day of her death and was attending to her houshold duties when she was taken with a fainting spell became unconscious and died almost immediately from heart failure. Funeral services were held at the house on Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. H. Lynch rector of Zion church.

Don Harold, the son of F. C. and Carrie A. Ives, died on Tuesday morning, Feb. 26th, at half past five, of brain fever. He was 7 years and 8 months old. For nearly a week before his death life had been dispaired of. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. at house and 3:30 at the M. E. church, Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating.

Oh, our blessed dark eyed boy,
Lent to us a few short years,
We must hide our precious treasure
With sad hearts and flowing tears.

His life was like a ray of sunshine
Torn away in quick surprise
But we know he is safe with Jesus,
Among the flowers of Paradise.

Miss Ann Eliza Reynolds aged 68 years, died on Wednesday, Feb. 20th, of heart failure, at the home of her brother, T. Beekman Reynolds. Funeral services conducted by Rev. W. Dempster Chase were held at the house Saturday, at 2 p. m.

Charles, the son of Albert Hines of Palermo, aged seven months, died of pneumonia, on Sunday, Feb. 24th. Funeral services were held yesterday.

Mrs. N. Carroll, an old and highly respected resident of Cleveland in this county, died suddenly at her home, of heart disease, Friday evening.

That Gas Well.

The well has proved to be a gasser, and continues to flow as it has now done for nineteen days. Friday the third pocket of gas was reached and this proved to be larger than the other two. The gas is now believed to flow from a vein. Saturday C. W. Colony and several other gentlemen rigged a gas burner on a five gallon can. The can was filled without pressure by simply holding it over the well and giving vent to the air in the can. Under a water pressure the gas burned from a burner with a sixteenth of an inch aperture for twenty-five minutes. In the evening the store of Messrs. E. H. Sargent & Son was lighted in the same manner, the flame burning six inches high and as clearly and brightly as if supplied by manufactured gas.

The flow of gas from the well is not at all times alike, owing to the pressure of the water. The water enters the well within seventy-five feet of the surface and suppresses the flow of gas. The well is still being sunk, the company intending to go through the strata of sand rock in which they are now drilling. This morning when the well was sand pumped at a depth of about 600 feet the gas and water followed the bucket from the well and spurted the water to a height of twenty feet.

The directors of the company held a meeting Monday and resolved that stockholders should be given the preference in disposing of the remainder of the stock. A holder of one share can have one more share; a holder of 2 shares, 2 shares more; 3 shares, 3 shares additional; 5 shares, 3 shares and 10 shares 5 shares. These shares are to be purchased as the original stock was for $10 a share.—Sandy Creek News.

Deafness Can't be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. [illegible]

[illegible] Ogden, drape [illegible] most effectively. Some charming effects are produced by draping them over silk or velvet tunics.

Mrs. Hetty Green, who is known as the "Witch of Wall street," gives some very sensible advice to women about speculating. Mrs. Green is said to have made $20,000,000 in the street, and it is not strange that she should be importuned for advice by women who are anxious to try their luck also. "Don't touch stocks unless you are perfectly able to be wiped out," says the old lady, "and can lose your money without losing your head."

Dion Boucicault remarks in the "North American" that during his lifetime the sense of decency has shifted from the ear to the eye." This is true; a double entendre in a novel is now highly resented, but the so called best people will not only gaze with interest upon a lot of nearly nude women upon the stage, but will themselves appear at dinner parties and the opera in corsages cut with reference to showing most of the bust.

Ellen Terry wears common-sense shoes, those having wide soles and low wide heels. She even protests against wearing the narrow pointed toes, so necessary in some of her historical parts, and while waiting for her call always rests her feet by changing these cramped affairs for warm, easy slippers.

Striped goods are to be more fashionable than plaids for spring and summer wear, though the wide stripped ginghams will hold their well earned places.

A correspondent asks if there is any particular process to be observed in washing King Phillip Mills cambrics and where the bordered apron lawns can be found? To answer the last question first, I supposed this lovely apron material could be found at almost any first class dry goods house in the country. There is a great demand for it in New York and Brooklyn. There is no particular process to be observed in washing the cambrics and nainsooks; make a good suds do not boil, and skip the rubbing board. A shade of blue in the last rinse is all that is required.

The talk that Libby Prison was to be moved to Chicago for exhibition purposes. and the counter report that the scene of such awful physical and mental suffering was to be entirely destroyed, has had the effect of arousing a wide spread interest in the historic building. I have just had several photographs sent me by Loeber Bros., of New York, and they are certainly the most remarkable pictures I have ever seen of this truly remarkable place. There are three views of the outside of the prison, and four views of the outside of the interior, including a photograph of "The Fireplace" where Col. Rose, amid the greatest possible peril, worked for the escape of himself and his comrades. The room where, without beds or coverings, the prisoners "spooned" at night, and turned in military obedience to the word of command to "spoon" on the other side, brings to my mind many a story that has been told me by the boys in blue who were so unlucky as to be incarcerated in this awful place. Such pictures are invaluable, and taken in connection with the "Century" Magazine war papers must prove of the greatest assistance to young historical students, as well as a boon to older readers.

Miss M. G. Anderson, the metropolitan guide and shopper, had rather a serious encounter the other day with a visitor from Kansas. She was an elderly lady and bent upon seeing all the sights. The view from the top of the Equitable Building was much enjoyed by the Westerner, and everything seemed most agreeable until Miss Anderson suggested a view from another point. "No," said the old lady, with a strange light in her eyes, "no; this is much the best spot to jump from." "You are quite mistaken," said the plucky guide with a smile. "This is no comparison to a place I can show you. Step this way, please; just down here, and right round there," and so talking quietly and smiling radiently, the little woman piloted her insane guest to safety. The old lady's husband, who had finished his business and was waiting at his hotel for the return of the traveler, said that his wife was perfectly sane on all subjects with the exception of this one—a desire to jump from great heights. He supposed a shopping tour only was in contemplation, and never thought to warn his wife's companion, whom he complimented most highly and substantially for her coolness and discretion.

***

Brockton, Mass., last year turned out on an average about forty-five pairs of shoes per minute for 300 days of ten hours each.

There is one school district in Douglas county, Kansas, in which the people refuse to have grammar taught.

Our Combination Rates.

For a limited time, we make the following combination offers to every [illegible]

[illegible] the only candidates left on the track are now [illegible] Mr. Blaine and Mr. Wanamaker. Mr. Morton excused himself from the combination at the beginning and Mr. Allison also absented himself early. Mr. Henderson, of Missouri, Mr. Platt, Gen. Alger, Mr. Evarts and Mr. Foster passed out of sight like so many meteors or have been reserved for other honors if they have further aspirations.

Most of the names mentioned for the Cabinet are regarded as certain. Not more than two are held to be in any doubt. California claims a right to representation in the Cabinet and as the Agricultural Department appears to be the only one now open, it is likely that Mr. Estee will be pushed for that. Senator Sanford says: "I have great faith in the ultimate success of the right, and for that reason I still hope that General Harrison will remember the Pacific coast when he makes up his cabinet. We ought to be represented, and I believe we will be dealt with justly. "He added that Gen. Harrison knew what the people west of the Rocky mountains are and what they deserve, and that he was going to treat them fairly and kindly.

Geographically speaking the new cabinet is a western one. Only three of the eight members are east of the Alleghanies. This will doubtless be criticised as sectional and in some respects bad politics. There will be disappointment in some quarters, as there always is on such occasions, and a feeling of chagrin here and there. But the aching will not last forever. History repeats itself in this respect every four years and the Government still survives.

From the bustle and confusion around inaugural headquarters, and from the number of great unsightly reviewing stands that meet the eye between the Capitol and White House, it is evident that the fourth of March is approaching. The Pension Office building has been turned into a vast workshop. The interior has been a vast mass of electric wires, lumber, gaspipes and now the Brooklyn decorators are ready to begin work. The final orders have been given to the various committees and sub-committees of the ball and parade, to the aides and officers and rules for the ball have been issued.

The inaugural ball tickets announce that full dress is required. This regulation has caused considerable discussion, as the general understanding is that full dress means a swallow-tail coat. Some have feared that this requirement might have the effect of keeping away many who could not conviently provide themselves with this important garment Careful inquiry revealed the fact that the ticket might be construed that full dress is "requested" or "expected." The ball authorities stated that this precaution was taken in order to prevent people from coming without any care whatever as to the propriety of their dress, but that a Prince Albert coat that a gentleman would wear at an evening entertainment of a formal character would be considered proper.

The arrangement is to flash the numbers of the private carriages from a screen twenty feet square placed on the roof of the Pension building. The figures on the screen will be seven or eight feet long, since it will be necessary to see them two or three squares off, and the operators of the stereopticon will be in telegraphic communication with the entrance.

The President's signature is all that is necessary now to provide for the admission into the Union as States the Territories of North and South Dakota, Montana and Washington, the items of disagreement having been adopted on Wednesday by both Houses. The announcement of the adoption of the conference report was received with verocious applause from both sides of the House of Representatives.

In the Senate considerable debate arose on the right of women to vote in the proposed State of Washington. Senator Hoar wanted to know what had been done with his recommendation, signed by twenty-two Senators, recognizing the right of women to vote there despite the decison of the Territorial Supreme Court. The explanation was that it had been dropped because the House coferees refused to accede to it.

Excursion to Washington.

The Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R. is making great preparations to handle the patrons of their Third Annual Popular Excursion to Washington, which will be run March 2[illegible]th. The excursion from the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. in March, 1888, carried eight hundred people to Washington, and it is expected that a large number will avail themselves of this splendid opportunity this year. The requirement of the Pennsylvania R. R. is that all through cars must be equipped with the air signal whistle pipe; this device does away with the old time bell cord and engine gong, and in case anything [illegible] the train, the air signal [illegible]

[illegible] Sunday [illegible]

[illegible] the house was well [illegible] during the bad [illegible].

Landlord Jennings is to have a masquerade party next month.

Hiram Jennings who has been sick for sometime is better and able to be out again. He is however, not well yet.

Our postmaster F. H. Jennings has been in Auburn the past week on business.

Timothy Dolbear of Palermo Centre is on the sick list.

Jennie Marshall of Volney Centre is in town on a visit at D. H. Trimble's.

Three of Fulton's gentlemen had a run away at Palermo Centre on Friday morning at one o'clock and the team went back to Mexico.

Volney Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

At the Prize Contest held in the Bristol Hill church Friday eve. Feb. 22d. the silver medal was won by Ernest R. Eno. The judges were Messrs. Ives, Keller and Washer.

John Atwater and wife have gone to Jefferson county for a visit.

Mrs. Jane Sackett is visiting Mrs. James Sears of Lansing.

Mrs. Martha Gilson of Gilberts Mills was the guest of Mrs. Fred Mason last week.

Mrs. John Cole of Mexico, visited her sister, Mrs. Levi Candee, last week.

Mrs. Andrus Morse is on the sick list.

Luella Johnson is in Fulton sick with the mumps. There are several cases of them at "the Corners."

Our summer school will be taught by Miss Harding of Palermo.

The Gifford M'f'g Co., of Watertown, N. Y., have recently issued their new churn catalogue containing valuable information for butter makers. In order to get this catalogue into the hands of every butter maker, they are mailing it together with a first-class Dairy Thermometer for 10c. in stamps for postage etc. A large number of farmers have already taken advantage of this offer. If you are interested do not delay but send at once.

Oswego County Bar.

There are one hundred and twenty two practicing attorneys now members of the bar of Oswego county.

Of these, fifty-nine are residents of Oswego; fifteen are of Mexico; thirteen of Fulton; nine, Pulaski; six, Phœnix; four, Hannibal; Sandy Creek, three; Constantia, Cleveland, Orwell and Parish, two each; Central Square Sand Bank, Scriba, West Amboy and Williamstown, one each.—Pulaski Democrat.

New goods and new prices at the new shoe store in the Patterson.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Falley Seminary Re-Union and History.

Were you at the Re-Union and stirred by it? Do you desire a book with the account of the re-union, including the historical address, and as far as possible the name, address, occupation, year or years at school, of every old student from 1834, to 1884? Would you prefer a pamphlet at fifty cents, or a book at a dollar?

Please send your name as you desire it printed, and let the married ladies give their maiden name. By your response to the re-union invitation, or by your presence at Fulton, are you entitled to have your name in the chapel list?

Send us the name and address of any old student whom you may know. Have you any suggestions as to the book, or any incident saved out of the school years? Have you any sentence, as a tribute to a departed teacher or student? May we use, modify, or refuse anything sent? Please send you response at once to Miss Elizabeth I. Coates, Secretary of Committee of Correspondence.

COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

Mrs. Helen Byington Rnens,
Miss Elizabeth I. Coates,
Mrs. Martha Harroun Howe,
Mrs. DeEtte Bassett Cole,
Mrs. Mary Warren Emerick,
Mrs. Helen Tucker Gage,
Mrs. May Northrop Howe,
Miss Franc H. French.

She Ought to Have Known.—Belinda—Have you read Mr. Penman's last poem on "Growing Old?" It's really charming.

Mabel—No; but I will do so. I'm sure you ought to be a good judge.—Boston Post.

HEAT AND CLEAR HEADED MEN

Abhor the idea of an attack of catarrh as they do the bite of a snake. Yet this foul and most disgusting disease is very common. [illegible]

[illegible]
Condition Powder
[illegible]

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF

Plush, Reed and Ratan ROCKERS,

In Antique Oak and Cherry. A Large Line of

Willow Work Stands,

—ALSO—

Plush and Fancy Tables

Of All Descriptions.

Foot Rests Blacking Cases,
Writing Desks, Easels Book
Cases, Children's Chairs

Of all descriptions. A large line of Staple Goods, Suitable for Christmas Gifts.
All at Rock Bottom Prices.

Brown's Furniture Store,

Times Block.

BABYHOOD

Is a monthly magazine devoted to the hygiene and care of infants and young children, and all that pertains to the routine of the nursery. It is now in its fifth year. The Congregationalist recently said of it:

"BABYHOOD seems almost indispensable to the household in which there are young children. It is for the parents and the nurse, and is packed full of important suggestions of a practical character. From personal experience of its usefulness, we commend it warmly."

And the Chicago Advance:

"No mother but must appreciate its wise and helpful suggestions, and be grateful for the solving of [illegible] and the helping over hard places which every one comes to who has the care of young children. We commend it to every mother in the land."

Also the New York Graphic:

"The success of this periodical has been [illegible]. It makes young mothers feel that the only subject worthy of attention is at last being recognized."

Every intelligent father and mother should read it regularly. Their children will be healthier and happier. It will reduce the work of caring for them, nursing them, dressing them, amusing them. Letters from subscribers frequently contain such testimonies as these, lately received:

"I am grateful to BABYHOOD: I have seen but two numbers, but have learned so much from those that I feel I should be doing my children a wrong if I should fail of the opportunity to learn more." [illegible]

You want a sample copy—
Price 15 cents.
Or to subscribe for a year—
$1.50.

On our part we wish to know that you have seen this advertisement; and in order to induce you to mention this paper when writing us,

We have arranged to have manufactured for us a large quantity of

Hudnut's celebrated Sachet Powder, and will give a packet, free (either "Violet" or "White Lilac," as preferred),

[illegible] to every person who sends us either $1.50 for a year's subscription or 15 cents for a single copy, and mentions this paper. (Note the condition.) The powder is in no sense a "premium," but is offered simply to aid us in tracing the results of our advertising in various parts of the country. Its retail value is about 25 cents.) Address

BABYHOOD PUBLISHING CO.,
5 Beekman St., New York.

Do not confound BABYHOOD with picture-books for the amusement of children. It is a mothers' [illegible] nursery help. Its list of contributors [illegible] many specialists of [illegible]

The [illegible] says: "It is really a question what the mothers of little babies used to do before the excellent little magazine BABYHOOD was published. No number can be missed without the file being lost."

SALESMEN WANTED
Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid
[illegible] Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. [illegible] (established 1835) Rochester, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

SPECIAL

Announcement.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Will sell during this Month.

SKATES

At Specially Low Prices.

Boys will please take notice.

NOTICE.

[illegible]

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

INDIA PALE ALE.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

[illegible]

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR,

Or Social and [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] FULTON TIMES [illegible]
[illegible] 1889.

R. W. & O. R. R. [illegible]

A. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:38 a. m.
[illegible] Accommodation	8:10 a. m.
[illegible] Express	3:21 p. m.
[illegible] Express	10:17 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] Night Express	6:38 a. m.
[illegible] Express	11:[illegible] a. m.
[illegible] Accommodation	5:[illegible] p. m.
[illegible] Day Express	8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

[illegible] Trains going north leave the Broadway [illegible] minutes earlier. All trains will stop at [illegible] depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S SUPERIOR COAL

[illegible] Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

John Porter will attend the inauguration at Washington.

J. L. Dixon and wife of Oswego Falls have gone to Washington.

William Waugh expects to be present at the inaugeration in Washington Monday.

Miss Gertie Sweet, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs H. King of Syracuse, has returned home.

Dr. F. E. Simons of Canajoharie, N. Y., has been in town visiting Fulton friends for the past few days.

S. V. Wise, J. S. Palmer and James Jones attended the G. A. R. State Encampment at Binghamton last week.

Hon. H. C. Howe is contemplating a trip to California for his health. He is still confined to his house with rheumatism.

Clark Stewart who is a student in the Baltimore Medical college is at the home of his parents on Fourth street, spending his vacation.

Dr. D. Pardee attended the convention and banquet of the Theta Delta Chi, his college society, at the Globe hotel in Syracuse last Thursday evening. He responded to the toast, "Medicine" at the banquet.

Messrs. E. R. Redhead, F. E. Goodjon, Frank Connell and B. Bauder of this village and Rev. Charles Olmstead, J. L. Dixon, T. F. Diamond and L. Ballard of Oswego Falls attended the Y. M. C. A. convention in Watertown last week.

Mrs. John H Woodin has been spending a delightful two weeks with her friends Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Brando in Providence R. I. She is now in New York and to-morrow evening will attend the American Art school reception given by Mrs. A. L. Blanchard at her studio.

One Case of Wide Century Prints 9c. per yard, worth 12½c.
J. C. O'BRIEN.

All kinds of Pickles in bottles, all sizes, shapes and prices.
42tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Chacolate creams at 25cts. per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

Go to the New Shoe Store, in the Patterson block, for "Waverly shoes." Every pair warranted.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea, and Toilet Sets, will when they see those fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them.

Stephens Opera House.
Monday Even'g, March 4.

The World Renowned Actor and Author,

[illegible] ERIN VERNER

[illegible] of all Delineators of [illegible] Irish Character, in his Original Version of the Beautiful [illegible] Historical Play,

Shamus O'Brien
THE BOLD BOY OF GLINGALL

[illegible] Direction of [illegible] Walsh [illegible]

[illegible]
The Founder of [illegible] Times [illegible]
[illegible]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23, 1889.

An item in a late number of THE FULTON TIMES giving notice of the coming dedication of the new Odd Fellows' Hall very naturally awakens pleasurable emotions in the breast of one who was present at another event in the history of Neahtawanta Lodge close on to twenty years ago. It was about eighteen, I think, to be more precise; but even that period of time, brief as it is when contemplated from this end of it, takes the organization back beyond the cognizance of nearly all who are active members of it now. That was the feeble beginning of what has since grown to be a robust and vigorous branch of the noble Order and the solid ground work which the few but faithful souls laid in 1870 was the sure foundation on which the proud superstructure of 1889 securely rests. The infancy of Neahtawanta Lodge was feeble in more senses than one. It came into the world with, as I now remember, but nine members and one or two of these were members in name only. None of them was wealthy and as an almost inevitable consequence, none of them had either social or commercial standing that amounted to much. But they had zeal and principle and nerve and fidelity—if that last means anything not hereinbefore enumerated; and this was the capital they invested in the enterprise. Their favorite charge was slow of growth at first, for some reasons that are obvious and others that the "old stagers" will readily recall; but it never saw the time, after the first few months, when it had not a safe balance in its treasury for benevolent purposes and any other legitimate claims. There can be none to rejoice more heartily in its later triumphs than those who participated so patiently and uncomplainingly in its earlier trials. Long may it live and all the time may its numbers continue to increase!

A glance, almost involuntarily, at the date of the last number that has reached me, at this writing, reminds me that THE FULTON TIMES lacks only a few weeks of being of legal age—twenty-one years old. This fact ought to entitle its voice to some weight in the business, political and society circles of Fulton and its healthy appearance indicates that this right is fairly if not fully recognized. No such instrumentalities as local newspapers are ever estimated at their full value in any community, for the simple and sufficient reason that every community contains a considerable element that is prompt to avail itself of all the benefits in sight but slow to appreciate the propriety of remuneration except under some species of compulsion. THE TIMES is another Fulton institution that has grown into a position of the first importance from an unpretentious beginning. It will surprise some of different faith and practice to be told that it was started—the first number dated, May 4. 1868—without a single subscriber having been solicited for it or a single individual in any way committed to its support. Muscle and will and the belief that if the paper should prove worthy of patronage it would receive it, were the sole resources on which the venture was undertaken. The fact that it "still lives," and is now, after an existence of more than a fifth of a century, larger, stronger and better than ever, is the best answer to the question whether the calculation in which the paper had its inception was a rational one. Considering that it has managed for so long to survive and thrive without a party or a seat at the back of it—with nothing but the spontaneous good sense of the people and the fidelity of the friends it has made to rely upon, it has no cause to be ashamed of its record.

THE TIMES has arrived so nearly to the consummation of its twenty-first year that I reach back my hand to it and congratulate it on the attainment of a healthy and robust majority. This age implies, according to the Constitution, an accession to political rights also, but it anticipated the acquisition of these long ago. It has been a "voter" in the sense of sense of regularly taking a hand in the election or defeat of candidates fo office, from its youth up; and though frequently "challenged," often by the strongest politicians in the community, it never failed to get in its—work.

Since the strife of the coal dealers through THE TIMES has subsided I am not aware what prices rule in Fulton for anthracite but I doubt if the people there are yet conscious of the atmosphere of luxury which surrounds them. "Stove" and "chestnut" are about the only sizes ever seen here and the price at this season of the year is about $12 a ton by the time it reaches the consumer. The principal part of the coal used here for fuel is bituminous and comes mainly from Illinois, though it abounds in all this region of country. It retails at from 8 to 11 cents a bushel, which means an average of about $2.50 a ton. It is very much cheaper than hard coal, but the inevitable smoke, soot and dirt connected with its use create a limited demand for hard coal among the better class of the population.

About four inches of snow is the most that has been seen here this winter. [illegible]

[illegible]

Arvin Rice has resigned his position as Justice of the Peace.

I. Darrow [illegible] of the town [illegible] is a candidate for the position of town collector.

Louis Gomez is again opening a barber shop here—in the Miller Block, on Cayuga street.

On Ash Wednesday, March 6th, Morning services will be held at Zion Church at half past ten.

Mrs. Frank VanBuren has a son born on Sunday night. The father arrived home from Chicago on Saturday.

Rev. B. Brunning of Sherburne, N. Y. will preach at the Universalist church next Sunday morning and evening.

Last week Charles Kellar purchased the Spafford house, on Oneida streets, and will move into the village April 1st.

Thos. O'Brien is now selling kindling wood at $1.50 a load. Leave your orders at Nettleton's or at Dr. Whitaker's, Oswego Falls.

C. W. Streeter returned from his western trip on Friday last and J. J. Coit on Saturday. They returned together as far as Rochester.

Cornelius V. Murphy formerly a printer in the Patriot office now living in Buffalo has become insane and placed in an asylum in that city.

Remember the 4 o'clock Sunday song services in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Reports will be made by the delegates to the convention at Watertown.

It is announced in an exchange that Mr. Humphrey Chamberlain of Denver, Col. has bought $70,000 worth of real estate at Fort Worth, Texas.

Capt. O. J. Jennings has been awarded a government contract for removing stone in the bed of the Piscataqua river, near Portsmouth, N. H. He will commence operations there about April 1st.

W. P. Kennard, supt. of the R. & O. mills, has taken a lease of Mrs. Benj. Howe's house on Third street. This means that Mr. Kennard is soon to bring a bride from Sterling, Ill. to augment Fulton society.

The Republicans of Granby, talk of nominating A. E Keller, for Supervisor and the Democrats John Foster for the same office. There will be some lively hustling if these two popular men run against each other on the head of their respectative tickets.

In another column is a letter from George E. Williams founder and first editor of THE TIMES. It is the first time in years that anything from his pen has appeared in these columns and will be read with interest by his many friends who are still patrons of THE TIMES.

The Oswego District M. E. conference was held in Central Square on Monday and Tuesday. Pulaski was chosen as the place for holding the next meeting. Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Rev. J. N. Fulford, S. Green, Mrs. E. R. Redhead and Miss Roxie Snow attended from Fulton. On the return of delegates from the different towns yesterday a gospel service was held on the train.

Rev. O. H. Denney who has been pastor of the Free Baptist church at Gilberts Mills for the past three years completes his work there and goes to Odessa, Schuyler Co. on April 1st. Rev. Mr. Ward of Phœnix will probably succeed him at Gilberts Mills. Mr. Denney has been very successful in his church work at Gilberts Mills, having increased materially the church membership. His church members and friends regret his contemplated departure but will hope that the same success follows his labors in Odessa that have characterized them in Gilberts Mills.

The Van Beck reclining chair cars, which have been in service for the past year, on the night express trains of the O. & W., are now in the Middletown shops, being enlarged and otherwise improved. The smoking rooms will be dispensed with and sixteen new chairs added. Double windows, similar to those adopted by the Pullman Co., with inside curtains, will be a new feature. The acme of comfort and luxury attained by the use of those cars, without charge, so increased the travel, that it has been found necessary to enlarge their capacity. Both coaches will be ready for service in a few days.

Tea 8 to 18c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf

A beautiful "Snow Girl" given for 25 Master Wrappers. 40tf.

[illegible]

[illegible] Ensilage [illegible] manufactured in this village by George J. Emeny at his [illegible] First street. [illegible] and Capt. [illegible] busily at work on patterns. The first of these cutters will be completed and ready for the market by April 1st.

As we before stated they possess improvements that no machine of a similar nature has and can be manufactured at an expense no greater than those which are now used. A safety fly wheel and safety driving pulley are so constructed as to absolutely prevent any foreign substance from getting in and injuring the machine which constitutes one of its essential features.

Several different sizes will be manufactured and the fact that so many silos are being built, which makes it necessary to secure a machine to cut fodder for the same, is an incouraging feature. Mr. Emeny will pay a small royalty to the patentee for every machine that he sells. He intends to push the sales in all parts of the country and the outlook is that an industry has been established which will soon give employment to a large number of persons.

Probable Candidates.

The town caucuses of both political parties will be held on Saturday afternoon. The candidates of the Democrats are pretty well decided upon although some changes may occur before the caucus. W. B. Howard will be nominated for Supervisor, Amos Wolever and George Coles for Overseers of the Poor, Delos Durfey Commissioner of Highways and M. C. Highriter Town Clerk. Walter Bradley would again receive the nomination for Collector but does not want the office as he is after the appointment of Superintendent of this division of the Oswego canal now held by L. T. Richardson. This looks very much like the ticket the Democrats put up last year.

It is yet a question as to who will be the Republican nominee for Supervisor. Isaac Darrow and Edward Morgan will try to secure the nomination for Collector. While H. S. Gardner and A. A. Rowlee will doubtless be nominated for Overseers of the Poor.

To get your Croceries cheap go to SYLVESTER'S. 42tf.

The Inauguration at Washington

The Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R. will sell tickets to Washington and return at half fare rates from principal stations, on account of Inauguration of General Harrison, March 4th.

A large crowd from the line of the R. W. & O. is not expected for this event, because, owing to special requests from a number of people, a Popular Excursion will be run from the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. March 26th, to Washington and return at rate of $10.00 for the round trip. It is expected that President Harrison will hold a special reception to welcome the Northern New-Yorkers.

Two Justices of the Peace will be elected on town meeting day in place of John W. Distin whose term has expired and Arvin Rice, resigned.

Charles E. Verner, who is to appear at the opera house next Monday evening, under the management of T. H. Winnett comes most highly recommended. The star is quoted as being the truest and best exponent of Irish character now before the public. See advertisement in another column.

We are selling our fine Black Dress Goods very cheap this week. Get Prices.
J. C. O'BRIEN.

Oranges 15c per doz. at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf

Auction.

Charles Keller will sell at public auction on Thursday, March 14th, the property on his farm in East Palermo, consisting of stock, wagons, sleighs, farming implements, household furniture, &c. &c.

Bargains in Tinware and Household goods for the next 30 days at the 5 and 10c. Store, Opera House block. 42w3

If you want a pure Soap use Master. 40tf.

A fine line of Slippers at Hill's New Shoe Store, on Oneida Street.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible]

The ladies of the Universalist society will give a tea party in the church parlors next Tuesday evening.

Rev. Mr. Young of Oswego preached at the Congregational church, Oswego Falls, Sunday evening.

The Volney Democratic caucus will be held in Stephens opera house hall, next Saturday afternoon, at 2 p. m.

Interesting public retoricals were given by the scholars of the senior class of Fulton academy on Friday afternoon.

The Oswego County Agricultural Club hold an institute meeting at Central Square, on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Reuben Pierce of Ira, and Miss Carrie Rogers of Bowens Corners were married by Rev. Charles Olmstead, on Wednesday, Feb. 20th.

The scholars of Fulton Union school hold their Industrial Fair in the Fourth street school building, on Thursday and Friday of next week.

Willis Ney has purchased the Waugh cigar store situated at the corner of First and Oneida streets and will take possession the first of the month.

The Volney Republican caucus will be held in the opera house hall at 2 p. m., on Saturday next and the Granby Republican caucus in Johnston's hall, Oswego Falls, at the same hour.

As previously announced a testimonial benefit entertainment for the Cullivans will be given at the opera house next Friday evening. Admission to all parts of the hall 25 cents.

The quarterly meeting of the Free Baptist church will be held at Oswego Falls commencing Friday evening and continuing over Sunday. Friday evening Rev. Joseph Cook of Constantia will preach.

Word comes from Fulton that Walter Bradley is making an active canvass for the office of Canal Superintendent, now held by L. T. Richardson. The latter has had the place six years. The salary is $1,500 a year. —Palladium.

Edward VanBuren of Battle Island, near the gas well, is about to put up a large building and fit up the gronnds for picnic purposes, he will light the gas at the well and run a pipe to the N. Y. O. & W. to light the station at night. Trains will be stopped at the station.—Oswego Times.

The Granby Prohibitionists held a caucus on Saturday and nominated Nelson Cooper, for Supervisor; Edward H. Baldwin, for Town Clerk; Thomas Coles, for Assessor; George V. Wolven, for Commissioner of Highways; Wm. Stewart, Overseer of the Poor; Rush Fitch, Collector.

The young people's society of the Congregational church of Oswego Falls, will give a pink tea and musical in the church parlors, on Monday evening, March 4th. The Lysander quartet will be present and assist. The young people's society pledged $100 toward the church debt and this is to go to that fund. Admission 25 cents.

At a meeting of the committee on the incorporation of the Pathfinder boat club, on Thursday evening, a board of directors was appointed and papers were prepared for the incorporation of the club as a stock company under a special act for sporting clubs which provides that each member is responsible only according to the amount of stock he holds.

The Liberty family entertainment at the opera house Monday evening was lightly attended. There were plenty present however, and if the entertainment had been prolonged another half hour the whole would doubtless have partaken of the nature of a dress rehearsal to empty benches. The family possess some musical ability but beyond that the entertainment was of a decayed nature. The proper field for this company to display their talent is certainly not in the Empire state. Their specialities were tiresome—very tiresome.

Special Prices on Dress Goods, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at J. C. O'BRIEN'S.

Canned corn 8 cents at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf.

Now is your time to buy Household Goods Cheap. Big bargains for the next 30 days. Call and be convinced. 5 and 10c Store, Opera House block. 42w3

Waverly Shoes are the best. For sale by S. F. Hill, Oneida street.

[illegible]

[illegible] dedication of an Odd Fellows lodge room. The ceremony connected with the same is impressive and pleasing and to the members of the lodge especially the occasion will be one long to be remembered.

The evening of this event was stormy and disagreeable which made the magnificent lodge room in THE TIMES block appear to even greater advantage to the eyes of those who had never witnessed the finely frescoed walls and ceiling containing emblematic paintings of the order, the expensively upholstered furniture, the beautiful carpets, the large paintings which adorned the walls, the beautiful canopy that overhung the Noble Grand's station and other effects of the lodge room which caused the Grand officers to pronounce it the finest that they had ever visited.

The hall was filled at the time announced for the dedicatory exercises to commence. The opening being an anthem sung by a quartet of selected voices which was followed by the entrance of the Grand officers: Past Grand Sire, John H. White, of Albion, Orleans Co.; Dep. Grand Master, George W. Chapman of Canastota and Grand Secretary, James Terwilliger of New York. On this occasion they filled the position of Grand Master, Grand Warden and Grand Chaplain, respectively. Dist. Dep. Grand Master Chas. A. Bentley of Oswego was unable to be present on account of sickness and Dr. E. Frank Marsh N. G. acted as Gr. Marshal, E. A. Waugh V. G. taking Dr. Marsh's position as presiding officer.

After singing of the opening ode by the members of the order, a short prayer was offered by the Grand Chaplain and then the building of the altar which is an essential part with the dedicatory exercises was begun. This work is done by the Heralds of the North, South, East and West which offices on this occasion were filled by T. D. Richard, W. J. Watson, G. C. Webb and Fred Miller. The Grand Marshal gave his commands for the building of the altar to the Heralds and explained as is customary their significance.

A hugh white stone emblamatic of Purity was brought by the Herald of the North and formed the foundation. Then came blocks typical of the three links of Odd Fellowship, Friendship, Love and Truth. Afterward blocks representing Faith, Hope and Charity were brought and the alter was completed.

The keys were given to the Grand Master by the acting Noble Grand and after an impressive prayer by the Grand Chaplain the Grand Master by the authority and in the name of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the state of New York declared the hall dedicated to the business and purposes of Odd Fellowship.

The proclamation of the Heralds followed. The Herald of the North contributed water to the urn at the top of the altar; the Herald of the South kindled fire; the Herald of the East distributed seed while the Herald of the West distributed flowers around the secret emblem.

The keys were then given by the Grand Master to the acting Noble Grand and the dedication proper ended.

Addresses by the Grand officers followed and each complimented the members of the lodge on their magnificent hall which was pronounced by Grand Warden Chapman and Grand Chaplain Terwilliger to be the finest they had ever visited.

After the invited guests had departed the first degree work was done for the benefit of the grand officers.

Settlement Day.

The Board of Town Auditors met in Howe & Rice's law office yesterday to receive the reports of the Supervisor, Overseers of the Poor and Commisioner of Highway. The board however, only finished the business of the Overseers of the Poor, when they adjourned to meet on Saturday next. The Overseers of the Poor report shows that the amount expended by Mr. Wolever was $1,123.63 as against $3,041.15 the year before. The amount expended Mr. Coles, Overseer of the Poor in the Country, $336.06 as against $357.38 last year. The present incumbents in this office have made a good showing. Both will probably be renominated by their party on Saturday.

Master is the most economical 5c. Cake in the Market. 40tf.

O, [illegible]!

What is it? Its a puzzle in prices. The cipher is simply naught or nothing and you can read it this way

Prices Next To Nothing.

We take this method of impressing on our patrons and the public at large the notable fact, that

Lower Prices Cannot Be Made.

Than the prices we are making on as good a line of goods as was ever submitted to the experienced of our customers.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE
ALSO
FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS.
OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.!

GEO. JOHNSTON,
Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y

TO RENT OR SELL—Farm of 125 acres with stock. H. CHAMBERLAIN
42w3 Gilberts Mills, N. Y.

TWO HOUSES AND LOTS FOR SALE. Both having good barns and both to be sold cheap. One of the places on Buffalo and the other on Third street. For further particulars enquire at FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—On Second Street, House in good repair, large lot; fruit, barn, good cistern, city water. Enquire of Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co., Crockery Store. 40tf

FOR SALE—House on Seneca street, known as the Palmiter place, on very reasonable terms or will exchange for Syracuse property. Inquire of
W. J. LOVEJOY,
Fulton Savings Bank.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit, to be sold cheap. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 34 Oneida St. tf

FOR SALE—House and lot corner of Fourth and Utica streets Fulton, or will exchange for a smaller house. Inquire of GILES S. PIPER, or 40t3 MRS. S. M. BABCOCK.

FOR SALE—One Parlor Stove, two Extension Tables, one fall leaf Table, two Stands and a number of other articles at S. A. GREEN'S, 39w4 Oneida Street.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hard ware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

WORKING OXEN.

2 Pair For Sale by
42w4 W. S. NELSON.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6 First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Feb. 20th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President, Trustees More, Nichols, Rice, Kellogg and Pardee.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Street Commissioner's report was presented showing an expenditure of $19.01 in removing snow from the fire hydrants and cross-walks.

The Clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of Trustee Kellogg for the amount.

On motion of Trustee Rice the Clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer of the fire department for $800,—being the balance of the appropriation for the fire department.

The Bill of "The Engineering and Building Record" of $19.90 for advertising was allowed and an order drawn in favor of Arvin Rice for the amount.

The Street Commissioners report was presented showing collections for poll tax from the following persons: J. W. Snyder, Frank Dilts, W. S. Crandall, J. Pearman, Starr F. Hill, James Smith, H. L. Lake, A. Bristol, James Clark, N. H. Haviland, A. J. Snow, James McDonough, F. E. Sutherland, John Morway, James Elder and H. B. Rose with a receipt from the Village Treasurer for $16.00. And that James Austin, Patrick Beahan, D. K. Hall, Thomas VanBuren and George Holden had paid their poll tax in work.

The report was ordered filed and printed with the proceedings.

Mr. Alex Bradford reported of the condition of a "dead" telephone wire at the corner of Cayuga and Fourth streets.

On motion of Trustee Rice, Mr. Bradford was requested to remove the same, he agreeing to do so without cost to the village.

On motion of Trustee Rice the proposition of Messrs. Landreth & Fitzgerald for doing the engineering work in the construction of sewers was accepted. The same was ordered printed and read as follows:

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 5th, 1889.

To the Board of Trustees of Fulton, N. Y.

GENTLEMEN:—We offer to do all the engineering work required in the construction of sewer at Fulton, N. Y., for eight cents ($0.08) per lineal foot of sewer.

2nd. The above price to include any money now due us for services already rendered.

3rd. Payments to be made monthly at the rate of seven cents per foot on work done during the month. One cent per foot to be retained until the final records (to be hereinafter mentioned) are delivered to the Board, and the final estimate of the contractor made out.

4th. The acceptance of this proposal on the part of the Board of Trustees shall in nowise bind said board to any agreement with the undersigned in case it may not be deemed expedient to construct a system of sewer during the present year.

5th. The work contained in this proposal to include all engineering and inspection, as provided for by the specifications; the giving of all lines and grades; the inspection of all material; and in general, a complete superintendence of the work. Also the preparation of a card on manila backed paper, in book form, of the location of all fixtures such as manholes, lampholes etc., any all "Y" branches. It is further provided that should the undersigned employ any engineers or inspectors whom a majority of the Board may deem incompetent or unfitted to the position, the said undersigned will discharge the same as soon as practicable. Respectfully submitted
LANDRETH & FITZGERALD.

On motion the Board adjourned for two weeks.
M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

---

A New Department!

-WINDOW SHADES !-

We have just bought, direct from the Manufacturer, a full line of Window Shades, Fringes, Curtain Fixtures etc., which we shall sell at Wholesale Prices. We buy for two stores and get these goods in JOBBERS QUANTITIES and consequently can retail them at what other dealers are obliged to pay for them. When you come in, ask to see our Curtains. Our leaders will be a Handsome Dado Shade, with Spring Fixtures Complete, at 35cts. each. Regular 50c. Shade.

Carpets! Carpets! Carpets!

It is unnecessary to say much about our Carpet Department, only that we have in our Spring Stock. The styles and colorings are elegant. We have by far the largest variety of any house in town and our prices are ALWAYS RIGHT. We have all grades, from a yard-wide Hemp at 10cts. to the best Body Brussels. Don't buy a carpet this spring until you see our line. We will do better by you than anyone else. Remember it.

[illegible] & CO.

[illegible] that sheep take readily to good, sweet ensilage and do well on it.

Feed a pint of linseed meal twice a day, with the straw, and note growth.

The cream must not get frozen nor be churned in a chilling temperature.

Put bran and linseed meal in the whey and feed three times a day. Feed it to the calves and hogs sweet.

Keep the floor of the poultry-house dry. The dry earth stored last fall will now come in play.

Roads and road making is now a subject of general interest and discussion among farming communities.

Prof. Henry is reported as affirming that uncut cornstalks make ensilage of the best quality, but the labor of getting them out of the silo is too great.

Dr. Hoskins says, in Garden and Forest, if there is a best apple we surely have it in Hunt's russet, sometimes called the golden russet of Massachusetts.

Among new breeds of poultry whose future popularity appears to be well settled P. H. Jacobs includes the White Wyandottes and white Plymouth Rocks.

If the hen deserts the nest for a few hours, and allows the eggs to become chilled, do not throw the eggs away. Let them have another trial; they will stand exposure for a long while and yet hatch well.

Testing the vitality of oats designed for seed should be a common practice, according to the Michigan Farmer. With ordinary methods of field culture, probably less than one half of the kernels sown produce mature plants.

An easy way to test garden and field seeds is to moisten a piece of old cloth, put samples of seed on it and roll it up tight, and keep it warm and moist. In a week unroll and you will see what per cent. will grow in favorable circumstances. If exactly one hundred seeds be put in the roll it will be easy to calculate the percentage.

Boston market gardeners generally grow onions and celery together. To experienced growers in favorable seasons these crops are very profitable, frequently harvesting 600 to 800 bushels of onions and 400 dozen of celery, the latter occupying about one-seventh of the ground. The Boston market variety of celery is best for keeping.

If it is proposed to plant a new orchard the coming spring, American Agriculturalist suggests that a useful part of the work may be done now in deciding upon the varieties, the number of each, &c. Colored apples red or largely striped with red, it says, sell more readily than green ones. Of winter apples select those varieties that are well known.

It takes three and one half acres to keep a cow in New York state, and she gives 125 pounds of butter on an average. With the silo one acre will keep a cow. One silo man keeps one hundred cows on the same ground on which he formerly kept 25. The old way must go. Stowell's Evergreen Corn is the best for ensilage. Cover with tarred paper, with little or no weighting. Silage if fed exclusively to milch cows will effect the milk. So will any other substance.

Simple Rules for Butter Making.

Much important matter is embodied in the following rules, published by the Royal Agricultural society, England:

Rinse all dairy utensils in cold water.

Scald with hot water and rinse again with cold.

Always use a thermometer.

Churn and cream to be at a temperature of 56 degs. to 58 degs. in summer, 60 degs. in winter.

Ventilate churn sufficiently.

Churn at forty to forty-five revolutions per minute.

Stop churning immediately the butter comes. The butter should be like grains of mustard seed.

Draw off buttermilk and wash the churn till water is clear and free from buttermilk.

Make a strong brine, and pour into churn through a hair sieve.

Remove butter and work on a butter worker. Never use the hands.

Going Keep One Better.

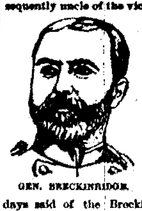
In a crowded street car a well dressed, rather foppish appearing young man sat beside a very shabbily dressed, tired looking young workingman. Every seat in the car was taken. A woman got in. "Now," whispered a moralizer to his small son, "we shall find out who is the true gentleman." The poor workingman and the richly dressed fop both saw the woman, and the latter hastening to rise, lifted his silk hat with his gloved hand and politely requested the woman to take his seat. This fable teaches that a man may occasionally be a gentleman, to the infinite confusion of moralists, even though he be a well dressed dude. It also teaches that [illegible] workman did quite right to [illegible].—Buffalo Express.

[illegible]

co-author of the "Kentucky Resolutions of 1798."

To begin at the beginning, there was in Scotland in 1689 a Presbyterian and a Covenanter by the name of Breckinridge, who escaped to America when the Stuart kings were restored. His grandson, James, was a noted patriot in the American revolution and colaborer of Thomas Jefferson. That grandson's brother John removed to Kentucky and assisted in framing the noted resolutions above mentioned. He was a United States senator and attorney general under President Jefferson. His son John was a noted Presbyterian writer in his time and was the father of John C. Breckinridge, vice president of the United States and the youngest who ever held that office.

A brother of the preacher John, and consequently uncle of the vice president, was the eminent Robert Jefferson Breckinridge, who was as determined an opponent of slavery and secession as ever lived, and was president of the national convention at Baltimore, in 1864, which nominated Abraham Lincoln for the second time. A Kentucky wit of those days said of the Breckinridges that they were "lovely in their way, but in life they were divided." It was poor parody on the scripture, but too true for a jest, for of the two sons of the eminent Robert J. one went into the service of the United States and the other into that of the Confederacy.



GEN. BRECKINRIDGE.

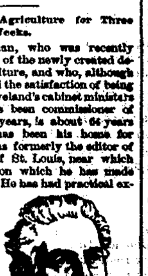
Of the latter, William Campbell Preston Breckinridge, it is sufficient here to say that he was a fighter and rose to the rank of colonel, that he "surrendered in good faith," and became a good citizen, and in 1884 was elected as a Democrat to the house of representatives, where he has taken a very prominent part in the discussion of economic questions. He is re-elected to the Fifty-first congress. The second son of the great preacher, Joseph Cabell Breckinridge, is the new inspector general.

He was born in the parsonage manse of the Presbyterian church at Baltimore, Jan. 14, 1842, was educated at Transylvania, Ky., and at the University of Virginia, read law in Danville, Ky., and left the office to become adjutant to Col. (afterwards general) William Nelson, then organizing the Union troops of Kentucky. He served through the war with such distinction that he was appointed a major in the regular army, and after doing excellent service in many places was made assistant inspector general in 1881, from which place he is now promoted to that of inspector general. The relative positions of the different members of this family are indeed matter for wonder. In no other country than the United States, and in no other era than that of the civil war, could such transformations have occurred. The family record is marvelously variegated, but it proves that "blood will tell."

NORMAN J. COLMAN.

The Secretary of Agriculture for Three Weeks.

Norman J. Colman, who was recently nominated secretary of the newly created department of agriculture, and who, although he only will have had the satisfaction of being one of President Cleveland's cabinet ministers for three weeks, has been commissioner of agriculture for four years, is about 64 years old, and Missouri has been his home for thirty years. He was formerly the editor of The Rural World, of St. Louis, near which city he has a farm, on which he has made many experiments. He has had practical experience in stock breeding, and is familiar with equine pedigrees. In 1884, at a meeting of the National Sugar Growers' association, of which he was president, Mr. Colman was unanimously nominated to the office of commissioner of agriculture.



NORMAN J. COLMAN.

Mr. Colman was in the Union army during the civil war, and has been a member of the Missouri legislature and lieutenant governor of the state. He was the originator of the Missouri board of agriculture and the founder of the Missouri Horticultural society.

The advisability of elevating the agricultural office to the dignity of a cabinet department has long been under consideration by those who have recognized its importance. It is one of the most practical institutions in the governmental system. Briefly told, its duties are as follows:

It collects and diffuses useful information on subjects connected with agriculture. It collects new and valuable seeds and plants, and learns by actual cultivation such of them as may require such tests. It distributes valuable seeds among agriculturists. It collects reliable information as to the condition, prospects and results of the cereal, cotton and other crops by the instrumentality of four correspondents in each county of several states. This information is gathered at stated periods of each month, carefully studied, estimated, tabulated and published. It obtains information with regard to insects injurious to vegetation, and points out their modes of infliction and the means by which their depredations may be avoided. It receives botanical contributions, and after making desirable selections for the National herbarium, distributes the duplicate plants among foreign and domestic scientific societies, and answers inquiries of botanico-agricultural character. Other investigations of less practical but quite as essential a character are made, and the farmers of the United States have found the information of great value.

Old Mrs. Baker, of Cairo, took a new departure on her 84th birthday. She ate an orange, a fig and a date for the first time in her life, but concluded not to try a glass of lemonade for fear it might be dangerous.

Have a System.

Whoever you are, whatever your lines of action, reduce your life to a system. This is the open secret of all smooth and rapid work. It is always the systematic people who get over the most ground with the least friction. Watch this successful business man; observe that thrifty housewife; mark yonder pastor as he manipulates a hundred interests. Full of affairs, how do they contrive to [illegible]

[illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. [illegible] by C. I. HOOD & CO., [illegible]

100 Doses One Dollar

[illegible]

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

[illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Drinking a Farm.

My homeless friend with the chromatic nose, while you are stirring up the sugar in that 10-cent glass of gin, let me give you a fact to wash down with it. You say you have longed for years for the free, independent life of the farmer, but have never been able to get enough money together to buy a farm. But this is just where you are mistaken. For several years you have been drinking a good improved farm at the rate of 100 square feet a gulp. If you doubt this statement figure it out for yourself. An acre of land contains 43,560 square feet. Estimating for convenience the land at $43.56 per acre, you will see that it brings the land to just one mill per square foot, one cent for ten square feet. Now pour down the fiery dose and imagine you are swallowing a strawberry patch. Call in five of your friends and have them help you gulp down that 500-foot garden. Get on a prolonged spree some day and see how long it requires to swallow a pasture large enough to feed a cow. Put down that glass of gin; there's dirt in it—100 square feet of good, rich dirt, worth $43.56 per acre.—Robert Burdette.

Are free from all crude and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging. Try them.

The average height of an Englishman is five feet nine inches; of a Frenchman, five feet four inches; of a Belgian, five feet six and three-quarter inches.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could only live a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial Bottles of this wonderful Discovery Free at R. E. Phillips' Drug store.

The average weight of the brain of a man is about three and a half pounds; of a woman two pounds and eleven ounces.

RHEUMATISM

[illegible]

IT IS EASY TO DYE WITH DIAMOND DYES

Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt.

HOP PLASTER

Sold Everywhere. 25 Cts. 5 for $1.00 or mailed for price.

Apply one now for [illegible]

Removes every sort of Pain, Ache, or Weakness, and quickly, too.

Look for signature of HOP PLASTER CO., Proprietors, BOSTON, on the genuine goods.

MELLIN'S

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

TRADE MARK.

FOOD

THE ONLY

Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk.

INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING.

A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS.

A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES.

REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES.

Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address.

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

The average of the pulse in infancy is 130 per minute; in manhood 80; at sixty years 60. The pulse of females is more frequent than that of males.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness, and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

The average weight of a skeleton is about fourteen pounds. Number of bones 240.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few drops of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At Druggists', 50c. and $1.00. Sample bottle free. 41t4.

A man annually contributes to vegetation 124 pounds of carbon.

To the Readers of This Paper.

This style of advertising has been running in our paper a long time. Your eyes have wandered over it for years. It is simply here as a reminder to you that if you should ever be so unfortunate as to have a cold or any lung trouble Kemp's Balsam is the best cough cure. At all drug stores. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00. Sample bottles free. 41t4

The brain of a man exceeds twice that of any other animal.

Eupepsy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to direction and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and oust the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by R. E. Phillips' Druggist.

The weight of the circulating blood is twenty-eight pounds.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

CATARRH CURED, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Oregon, said to be a hunter's paradise, at this time is overrun with game of all sorts.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Governor Gordon of, Georgia, is going into raising thoroughbred cattle.

A California grower received a large order for apples to be shipped to Japan.

[illegible] will Cure — COUGHS, [illegible]

Sweat-Groan-Growl.

What else is to be expected of the old fashioned way of blacking the shoes? Try the new way by using WOLFF'S Acme Blacking and the dirty task becomes a cleanly pleasure.

Wolff's ACME Blacking

REQUIRES NO BRUSH.

Sheds Water or Snow. Shoes can be washed clean, requiring dressing only once a Week for men, once a Month for women.

It is also an Ele[illegible] Harness Dressing.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion! Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ills arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c. and $1.00.

Dr. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

Salvation Oil [illegible]

BEST IN THE WORLD FOR [illegible]

ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS.

WORCESTER CORSET CO. WORCESTER, MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N.Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R.I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

[illegible] —Merchant Traveler.

It has been observed that [illegible] those communities where white shirts perish of solitude.—Burdette.

The corset, though railed against by a few dress reformers, will not go. It has a good grip on its wearers, and as it were, has come to stay.—New Orleans Picayune.

Old lady—"Little boy, what would your father do if he should find you smoking?" Little boy—"He'd (puff) prob'ly lick me; this is (puff) one of his cigars."—Once a Week.

It is not interesting to have a man tell how rich he might have been if he had had good luck. It is better to know what he has been able to do against bad luck.—New Orleans Picayune.

It is said that Young composed his "Night Thoughts" with a human skull before him, in which he placed a lighted candle. If he had placed the candle in his own skull, the poem would have been much lighter.—Bob Burdette.

Travis—I tell you, fellow, I struck a mighty soft thing to-day.

Chrones—What was it?

Travis—Poseboy's head. He insulted me.—Burlington Free Press.

"What is a man-of-war?" said a teacher to his class. "A cruiser," was the prompt reply. "What makes it go?" "Its screw, sir." "Who go with it?" "Its crew, sir."—The Ocean.

You cannot expect a man to tell which way the wind is, simply because he is a little vain.—Boston Com'l Bulletin.

Mr. S.—Shall we call on the Wetherbees to-night, my dear? Mr. S.—No; I have nothing to wear. Mrs. S.—Oh, then we'll go to the opera.—Life.

"In what condition was the Patriarch Job at the end of his life?" asked a Camden Sunday school teacher of a quiet-looking boy at the foot of the class. "Dead," calmly replied the quiet looking boy.—Philadelphia Item.

Foreign visitor—"Ah, yes; this is a great country, but everything is so monotonously new. Have you no picturesque old ruins at all?" American—"Lots of 'em. Go look at our forts."—Philadelphia Record.

Mother—Bobby, you shouldn't speak so crossly to your father. You never hear him speak crossly to me. Bobby—He dassent, ma; he's just like me, he dassent.—Epoch.

Student of Slang—Everything is "in the soup" now-a-days.

Guest at church festival—Everything but the oyster.—Chicago Globe.

The man who always tells the exact truth in this world on every possible occasion, may have a clear conscience, but he will never be popular amongst his neighbors.—Somerville Journal.

Discouraging.—Uncle James: "Well Bobby, are you gaining any prizes at school nowadays?" Bobby: "No, sir; the other fellow gets them all." Uncle James: "But you'll keep on trying, of course." Bobby: "What's the use? The other fellows keep on trying too!" —Life.

"Oh, why Should they Bury Me Deep?" is the title of some verses sent to this office by a New Jersey poet. One reading of the poem ought to furnish a satisfactory answer to any reasonable person.—Drake's Magazine.

Mr. Brefe Less—"Did you read the account of my heroic rescue of a child from under the feet of a runaway team?" Miss Edith—"No, I think not." Mr. Brefe Less—"Oh, yes, the paper has nearly a quarter of a column about it, headed 'Heroism of a Prominent Young Attorney,'" Miss Edith—"Why, yes, I saw the headlines, but I never dreamed of it being you!"—Terre Haute Express.

One of the primary schools of a neighboring town had returned to the a-b-c system of teaching reading, after having used the word system for some years, and a youngster was showing how well he could read. He read, ', I—c—a—n," and interpreted it "I see a hen." His teacher must lie under suspicion of being a cockney.—Lowell Courier.

Opulent Banker: "Mr. De Smith, you have served me faithfully these many years, and on this anniversary of the day you entered my employ I desire to present you this keepsake." De Smith, accepting a proffered envelope with mingled emotions of reverence and gratitude, breaks the seal and discovers—a photograph of the banker. "Sir," he gasps, "all I can say is that it is very much like you."—Boston Post.

"The saddest words are often the sweetest," murmured De Boor. "The lover's good-night, for instance." "Yes," sighed Miss Weary, "I always like to hear you say it."—Harper's Bazar.

Little Boston Girl (as the hair-brush is reached for): "Mamma, the consecutiveness and prevalency of these interminable castigations are slowly sapping my very life!"—Time.

Laura (to her best man)—"There now, Henry dear, don't [illegible]

[illegible]

Sold by Druggists and Dealers Everywhere.

An Ingenious Census Taker.

Kansas Rustler: "Anybody kin be rich if he exercises a little ingenuity. W'y in '75 I took the census of the State at regular rates an' made a barrel of money—took just a day to a county." New Comer: "Impossible! You could not——" "Not at all, podner, I hit a town 'bout sundown, looking as much as I could like a Boston capitalist an' just 'fore goin' to bed I'd ask the price of corner lots. By mornin' every man, woman an' child in the county would be waitin' for me and all I had to do was to look out of the hotel windows an' count the heads."—Time.

An Extraordinary Phenomenon.

No other term than the above would apply to the women who could see her youthful beauty fading away without a pang of regret. Many a woman becomes prematurely old and haggard because of functional derangement. What a pity that all such do not know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will restore their organs to a normal state, and make them youthful and beautiful once more! For the ills to which the daughters of Eve are peculiarly liable the "Prescription" is a sovereign remedy. It is the only medicine sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be returned. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

The heart sends nearly ten pounds of blood through the veins and arteries each beat and makes four beats while we breath once.

It is a Curious Fact

That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

Five hundred and forty pounds, or one hogshead and one and one-quarter pints of blood pass through the heart in one hour.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for Sick Headache, and every woman should know this. They are not only a positive cure, but a sure preventive if taken when the approach is felt. Carter's Little Liver Pills act directly on the liver and bile, and in this way remove the cause of disease without first making you sick by a weakening purge. If you try them you will not be disappointed.

A man breathes about eighteen pints of air in a minute or upward of seven hogsheads a day.

Bludbilder,

The new vegetable tonic alterative and blood purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts directly upon the blood, through it imparting tone and vigor to the entire system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female weakness, and all blood, liver and kidney diseases. Price $1.00. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

One thousand ounces of blood passes through the kidneys in an hour.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Twin sisters in Richmond, Va., have arranged to be married on the same day.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40 e w

The Emperor of Germany during his stay in Rome received 5,000 begging letters.

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. Sold by W. J. Watson.

One hundred and seventy-five million cells are in the lungs, which would cover a surface thirty times greater than the human body.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Mr. Spilkins— If you will let me have [illegible]

[illegible]

Who [illegible] of the days fall on a legal holiday the court [illegible] will be held on the day previous thereto.

COURT APPOINTMENTS

It is hereby ordered that the terms of the County Court and Court of Sessions of the County of Oswego, be held, and the same are hereby appointed to be held, until further order, at the times and places below stated:

Third Monday, of Feb'y, Court House, Pulaski.
Second " April " " Oswego.
First Tuesday " Sept. " " Pulaski.
Second Monday " Dec. " " Oswego.

Trial Jurors are required to attend each term, on the second day thereof, but no Grand Jury will be summoned or required to attend.

Dated at Mexico, Oswego County, N. Y., Dec. 31, 1888.
M. L. WRIGHT,
Oswego County Judge.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of [illegible] 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.
THOMAS R. REYNOLDS,
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.
DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors
C. H. DAVID

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th 1889.
CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix.

Special School Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that at a Special School Meeting of Union Free School District No. 1 in the Town of Volney, County of Oswego, State of New York, to be held at the Fourth street school house, in said district, on the 4th day of March, 1889 at 7 o'clock p. m., a tax will be proposed, not exceeding the sum of Eight thousand dollars, ($8,000), for the purpose of erecting an additional school building upon the Fourth street site, in said district.

Dated at Fulton, N. Y., this 30th day of January, 1889.

F. E. BACON,
H. C. HOWE,
W. G. GAGE,
W. McCULLY,
G. J. EMENY,
GILES S. PIPER,
C. H. DAVID,
H. S. GARDNER,
S. B. WHITAKER,
Board of Education.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat [illegible] cured. [illegible] PAYNE & CO., [illegible]

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

OVER WORKED Women

For "run-down," debilitated and overworked women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is a potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to Women; a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, it imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, nausea, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. It is carefully compounded by an experienced physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

WARRANTED. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee of satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, with full directions for home-treatment), send ten cents in stamps.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

COUGH KILLER

I had a very Bad Cold, and got a bottle of Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer, and it helped me at once. It will do all it is recommended to do.

Wm. F. Alverson, Branch, Ulster County, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if [illegible]

HEAD

AC[illegible]

[illegible]

"Who lives there, honest fellow," said a traveling stranger,
As on through the County of Antrim he sped,
And who fancied that house shut up implied danger;
"Lives there," answered Pat, "why a man that is dead."
"When did he die?" asked the stranger more gaily;
Pat [illegible] eyed the stranger so trim and so sleek,
Then replied, "By my conscience, my jewel, why, really,
If he lived till to-day he'd been dead a whole week."

* * *

"What, hang from the neck of a lady!" cries Bill,
"Were ever such folly and impudence known?
As to [illegible], indeed, he may hang where he will,
But as to the neck let it be by his own."
—N. Y. World.

[illegible]

She's up in all the classics
And [illegible] of all the wars.

She's pretty, witty, brilliant, wise,
You say I find many such—
And—I think I'd like to marry her,
If she didn't know too much.
—W. H. Hills, in Journal of Education.

THE PROPER THING.

Black lace dresses will remain in favor during the next summer.

Large back round hats will be worn next summer with any dress.

Silver shot black silk for second mourning are novel and effective.

Brocaded ribbons will be a decided feature of the summer trimmings for bonnets.

The small, close capote, will be the bonnet for spring, with the toque for its special rival.

A season in thin fabrics is predicted by Paris milliners, with bonnets entirely of silk muslin.

Golden brown, the new golden terra cotta and many lovely tints in gray will be leading colors next season.

Crossbarred dresses are made with a deep overskirt that almost conceals the foundation skirt beneath it.

New black veils of plain net have a hem at the lower edge with a design in gilt threads and similar rows above.

Black cashmere dresses are brightened by pearl-edged gold braid alternating with black Hercules braid as vest, cuffs and waist band.

The corsage polonaise bids fair to be popular the coming season. These have their side or back forms prolonged in tabs that reach the bottom of the skirt.

Cashmere dresses for the house and for spring wear are being made with a degree of fullness because of the graceful folds formed by the supple fabric.

By way of combining two colors in dress skirts a border half a yard wide of plain wool of contrasting color is sometimes sewed around the foot and the whole is accordion pleated.

When you see a bright baby pleased with itself and everybody else, be sure that Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup has been used. Only 25 cents a bottle.

To think clearly and act quickly one must have good health. Indigestion is the foe of health and should at once be driven from the system by the regular use of Laxador. Price 25 cents.

The Quiet Girl.

The quiet girl is often mistaken for a stupid one and reckoned as a cipher among the [illegible]. Nobody seems to feel it a duty to talk to her in the hope of drawing her out, and [illegible] she cannot appreciate anything. Because she does not gush [illegible] for everything [illegible] think she has no ideas, [illegible] or enthusiasms. Because [illegible] wear a hat that would [illegible] off the sky; be[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] ment of the [illegible] American custom of treating would be the greatest boon ever granted to a nation. The custom of treating is one of the most pernicious and foolish that ever cursed society. It is supposed to have originated in the primitive days of the nation, when the settlers had to resort to the mutual help plan, and when the neighbors gathered for a barn-raising or log-rolling the host set 'em up for the boys, and upon similar occasions the compliment was returned.

Two-thirds of the drinking done, two-thirds of the money spent for drink, two thirds of the resulting wretchedness are due to the treating system. Men take drink after drink that they do not want, and spend money to pay for drinks for other people, oftentimes men they hardly know or perhaps dislike. The custom furthermore, looked at in the proper way, is degrading and unmanly. It assists in forming bad associations, "habits of loafing around," and precludes a person from his most sacred privilege—that of choosing his own associates. People who join in the social drink should be those who are on the closest and most intimate relations.

There is no hospitality or generosity in the American treating any more than there is in the giving of an Indian who takes his present back. Every man keeps a mean little tab in his head on his fellows, and the score is kept even all around. There is comparatively little solitary drinking in America. The number of men who go to drinking places and buy a drink for themselves alone is comparatively few. Abolish treating and the saloons would soon be few and far between.—Washington Post.

Too Smart.

We do not like boys (says an American writer) who think themselves smart, and want other people to think so too. A smart boy of this kind was once employed in the office of the treasurer of a western railway. He was usually left alone in the office between the hours of eight and nine in the morning, and it was his duty to answer the questions of all callers as politely as possible. One morning a plainly dressed old gentleman walked quietly in and asked for the cashier.

"He's out," said the boy, without looking up from the paper he was reading.

"Do you know where he is?"

"No."

"When will he be in?"

"'Bout nine o'clock."

"It's nearly nine now, isn't it?"

"There's the clock," said the boy, smartly, pointing to the clock on the wall.

"Oh, yes, thank you," said the gentleman. "Ten minutes before nine. May I wait here for him?"

"I s'pose you may, though this isn't a hotel for the public."

The boy thought this was smart and he chuckled aloud over it. He did not offer the old gentleman a chair.

"I would like to write a note while I wait," said the caller. "Will you please get me a piece of paper and an envelope?"

The boy did so and as he handed them to the old gentleman, he said, "Anything else?"

"Yes; I should like to know the name of such a smart boy as you are."

The boy felt flattered by the word "smart" and he replied, with a grin, "I answer to the name of Billy Thompson. [illegible]"

The [illegible] the stranger [illegible] Mr. [illegible]

[illegible] He [illegible] Mr. [illegible] and Billy heard [illegible] sorrow. Any [illegible] a boy of Master Billy's [illegible] might secure him, as he is still out of employment.

The [illegible]

The four new states will bring an [illegible] Rep[illegible] New York, [illegible] Delaware, [illegible] K[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Colorado—Mahogany brownish [illegible] three shades.

Malaga—a muffy red.

Pavot—a poppy red.

Japon—Japanese; dull red, several shades.

Oiseaux Saxe—Between a shell and shrimp pink.

Perle—A pearl-giving shade.

Platain—Platina of gray silver. Many shades.

Vieux bleu—Old blue as seen in tapestry.

Vieux Sevres—Old china, or grayish blue. Many shades.

Itara—Straw yellow shade.

Suede—Lemon yellow shade.

Vielle—Old gold shade.

Chartreuse—A color of green.

[illegible]—A [illegible] green.

[illegible]—A cloudy green.

Verdurette—Verdure shade of green.

Verveine—A light sage green.

Vert tendre—A light green shade of young shoots.

Sauterelle—A grasshopper green.

Nil—A light water green.

Sycamore—Color of bark of sycamore trees.

As to Breathing.

A boy fourteen years old, recently imported from Kentucky, handed the following in as a composition. "Breathing." The instruction was: "Tell all you can about the breathing." He said: "Breath is made of air. We breathe with our lungs, our lights, our liver and kidneys. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life a going through the nose when we are asleep. Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. Should wait till they get out of doors. Boys in a room make bad, unwholesome air. They make carbonicide. Carbonicide is poisoner than mad dogs. A heap of soldiers was in a black hole in India, and a carbonicide got in that there black hole and killed nearly every one afore morning. Girls kill the breath with corsets that squeezes the diagram. Girls can't holler or run like boys because their diagram is squeezed too much. If I was a girl I'd rather be a boy, so I can holler and run and have a great big diagram."—Washington Star.

He Had Heard Similar Speeches.

Johnny (to company of boys listening with breathless interest)—And that good little boy, children, that never told lies, and never smoked cigars, and never drunk no whisky, and always obeyed his parents, and combed his hair smooth, and went to bed at 7 o'clock every night, and never played hookey, nor put bent pins on the bench at school when the fellow next to him was a standing up to read, grew up to be a man. And he kept on being good, and the people made him a constable, and then a town clerk, and various other things like that. And what do you suppose he is doing now? Children, he's got the biggest lay-out of groceries and canned goods of any man in Punkin Ridge, and has eleven boys and girls of his own. And who do you suppose he is?—Children, that good little boy that never kept no bad company nor done anything but what was [illegible] and proper (striking an [illegible] and laying his hand on his stomach) was me, children—it was me! (Tumultuous applause from Johnny's audience.)

Johnny's Father (putting his head in at the door)—What's all this racket about, anyhow?

Johnny—We're playing Sunday school and I'm the superintendent's [illegible] I am doing the [illegible] act.

[illegible] Seminary Re-Union and History.

[illegible]

[illegible] I was always lucky.

One day last week I happened luckily to be walking along in the yard a few feet behind old Prof. Fullalove. Just as he passed [illegible] he dropped a paper out of [illegible] he was carrying. [illegible] did not notice it and I picked it up. What luck! It was the examination paper that he was going to give us the next day in philosophy. [illegible] I read the paper through, made note of the questions I did not know and hurried up to him.

"You dropped this, sir," said I.

"Thank you, Mr.——" Luckily he did not remember me. He put it in with his other papers without looking at it.

I congratulated myself all the evening on my good luck, as I carefully and thoroughly studied up the answers to the questions on the paper.

"Lucky dog!" muttered several men as I wrote my book full with a satisfied air next day, and went out before the hour closed. It was a very hard paper. I knew that well enough.

At the next examination old Prof. Fullalove came beaming into the room.

"Gentlemen," said he, "I appreciate that I gave you much too hard an examination. I have looked over only two books and found that they contain almost nothing. Luckily for you, gentlemen, I shall not count this examination."

Once more I was among the lucky ones.

He Had Earned A Little Credit.

A small boy entered a Fourteenth-ave. grocery the other day and asked the proprietor to trust him to two cents' worth of candy.

"I don't know you," was the reply.

"But I live just two blocks down."

"But what made you suppose I'd trust you?"

"I supposed so because you've got two barrels of kerosene out doors and I could have bored gimlet holes in both of them last night without any body knowing it."

The grocer compromised by trusting the boy to a cent's worth of candy and rolling the barrels into his shed.—Detroit Free Press.

Horrible Death in a Lion's Den.

The shocking death of Bertha Baumgartner, a tamer of wild beasts, is reported from Hohenmuth, in Bohemia. During a public performance in a strolling menagerie she entered an empty cage, and the door of an adjoining cage was then opened to let a lion and a Bengal tiger enter. The lion walked in quietly, but the tiger, a ferocious beast, which had three times wounded its keepers, crouched in the doorway and showed temper. The girl lost nerve, cried for help, and slipped. As she did so, the tiger made a spring for her, and after terribly lacerating her, tossed her body about the cage. Half the audience ran to the doors in horror, while the attendants tried to beat off the tiger by poking hot irons into the cage. But the girl was dead long before the animal was driven away.

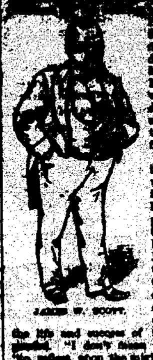
A Texas [illegible] Story.

A man in Texas was accused of stealing a horse. It is scarcely necessary to say that [illegible] there was a lynching bee. At the conclusion of the entertainment the [illegible] found that they had [illegible] the wrong man [illegible] [illegible] were [illegible] [illegible] wait upon the widow [illegible] her weeping. [illegible] awkward wave of his [illegible] in a somewhat [illegible] manner "Marm, we lynched your husband, but he was the wrong man. [illegible] the [illegible]"

[illegible]

"Marriage a failure? [illegible]

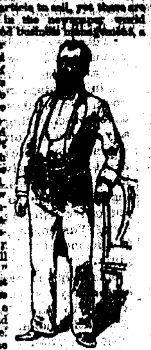
[illegible]



JAMES W. SCOTT.

[illegible] Mr. [illegible] the [illegible] there was a [illegible] element entirely different from the editorial on which [illegible] the life and success of the newspaper [illegible] "I don't mean by this," he said, [illegible] the refuse upon the mighty men of affairs, whose throbbing brains make up our journals, but I repeat what you all know, that the [illegible] planting of their [illegible]

"The newspaper who would be successful [illegible] a good article to sell, yet there are [illegible] world [illegible] business management, a comparatively poor paper [illegible] a circulation out of all proportion to its merits. On the other hand, there are many publications ably edited which fall far short of the circulation to which they are rightly entitled. There are very few papers in this country so admirably established in prosperity that their circulation will take care of itself."



CHARLES H. TAYLOR.

At a banquet at the Hoffman house there were some good speeches, and some odd dialogue. Col. Brown, of The New York Daily News, being called on to respond to a maxim of Dana, of The New York Sun, "Never print a bad advertisement as reading matter," said he believed in getting all the money he could get legitimately, for it took close management to make a newspaper pay.

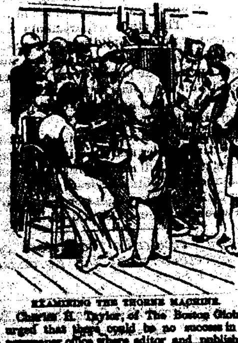
"Editors are no good," he exclaimed, "unless there's somebody down stairs to make the money to pay them."

"Hear him! Hear him!" called out Henry Watterson.

"Col. Watterson is a brilliant man. He is a large owner of The Louisville Courier-Journal, but he never had the capacity to make a dollar," retorted Col. Brown, while he went on deprecating editors, though not forgetting to praise the reporters.

Mr. Watterson, who was next called on, spoke more modestly as to editors. He said that the counting room and editorial room must go together in the ideal newspaper office.

"I have been all the way up, boys," said he, "and if you publishers want to make money you must be on good terms with the fellows up stairs."



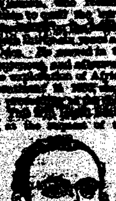
EXAMINING THE THORNE MACHINE.

Charles H. Taylor, of The Boston Globe, urged that there could be no success in a newspaper office where editor and publisher were not in harmony. The ideal newspaper man, he said, has three [illegible] to his head, [illegible] having a nose [illegible] [illegible] of the importance of [illegible] and business management [illegible] of the importance of both [illegible]

The [illegible] of [illegible] Typesetting [illegible] The guests [illegible] the [illegible] and watched its [illegible] work.

CAPT. WISSMAN'S EXPEDITION.

[illegible]



CAPT. WISSMAN.

[illegible]

[illegible] BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
[illegible] Cream of Tartar [illegible] Ammonia [illegible] Syracuse, N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "romy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austin's Bitters, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Possibilities of Negro Emigration.

The negroes seem to have no desire to leave the south, but confine their wanderings almost entirely to the limits of the old slave states, but with a tendency southward. Should the movement continue in its onward march it is not difficult to forecast the final gravitation of a large negro population to Mexico. They may also stop in New Mexico, Indian territory and Arizona. As time goes on the negros will seek to establish themselves in some region which they can control and dominat. In the far southwest, perhaps, such a dream could best be realized. When the migratory impulse shall once take hold upon them we may expect extensive and remarkable movements of negro population.—New Orlean Picayune.

A Dish of New P's.

P stands for Pudding, for Peach and for Pear,
And likewise for Poetry and Prose;
The Parrot, the Pigeon that flies in the air,
The Pig with a ring in his nose;
For Paper and Pen, for Printer and Press,
For Physic and People who sell it;
But when you are sick, to releive your distress
Take at once Pierce's Purgative Pellet.

Oh, yes, indeed! These are the P's for you, poor, sick man or women. Nothing like them for keeping the bowels and stomach regulated and in order—tiny, sugar-coated granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds. They work gently but thoroughly.

Mrs. William Astor spends $10,000 a year for dress, and nearly ten times that sum for charities.

Cole's Carbolisoap

Is a medicinal Toilet Soap, absolutely pure and free from the deleterious ingredients used in many of the so-called skin soaps. It purifies the skin, allays the irritation of the sunburn, rash and prickly heat, softens the hands and prevents roughness and chapping, cures blackheads, pimples and skin blemishes, and preserves, freshens and beautifies the complexion. It produces a soft, creamy emulsion, even in hard water, and is a positive luxury for the bath, the toilet and the nursery. Get only the genuine, the label on which is black and the letters green. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler. 43tf.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)
Brain-Workers, Dyspeptics, Chronic Invalids, All Praise it, No Narcotic.
A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.
[illegible]
KASKINE CO. 165 Duane St., New York.

IT will Cure—— [illegible] COUGHS.
IT will Heal—— [illegible] THROAT.
IT [illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE.
Jeweler,
WATCHES
CLOCKS
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a First-Class Market. I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S CREAM BALM Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain & Inflammation, Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
CATARRH
HAY-FEVER
TRY THE CURE.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York.

SEEDS Given Away
A Pkg. Mixed Flower Seeds, [illegible] and 10c. Certificate for seeds, your choice, all for 2 stamps (4c.). Every flower lover delighted. Tell all your friends. G. W. PARK, Fannettsburg, Pa. Send at once, this notice appears but a few times.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

CHEST PAINS
COUGHS, COLDS
Chest Pains, Coughs and Colds, Weak Lungs, Backache, Kidney Pains, Rheumatism, and all Muscular Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND.
[illegible] LADIES [illegible]
Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line.
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

UNITED LIFE
AND ACCIDENT
INSURANCE ASSOCIATION,
[illegible] BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
[illegible]

Business Cards.

M[illegible]

JANE BROADW[illegible]
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE.
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS.
Post Office Address, Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

[illegible]

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH VITALITY
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation.
Avoid unskilful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to Cure the worst cases. [illegible] failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address H. G. ROOT, M. C., [illegible]

TRAVELERS [illegible]
[illegible]
287 BROADWAY, N. Y.
LIVE AGENT WANTED.

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER,
Haberle's Brewing Co. P[illegible]
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE,
[illegible] Foreign & Domestic [illegible]
Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobacco [illegible]
We are [illegible]

[illegible] Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible]

[illegible] D. VanWagenen, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it h s pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

On Monday noon General Benjamin Harrison, twenty third President of the United States took the oath of office and Levi P. Morton that of Vice-President. The day was inclement. The rain pouring while the inauguaral address was being delivered. The much discussed cabinet officers have been settled upon by President Harrison and were confermed by the senate. They are as follows:

Secretary of state, James G. Blaine of Maine; secretary of the treasury, William Windom of Minnesota; secretary of war, Redfield Proctor of Vermont; secretary of the navy, Benjamin E. Tracy of New York; secretary of the interior, John W. Noble of Missouri; postmaster general, John Wanamaker of Penn.; attorney general, W. H. H. Miller of Indiana; secretary of agriculture, Jeremiah Rusk of Wisconsin.

THREE DAYS MORE!

VALUE 25 CENTS, CASH.

Our Book Coupon.

Any subscriber to THE FULTON TIMES, who has paid therefor in advance to the end of 1889, who will present this coupon personally or by mail, at the store of John B. Alden, Publisher 393 Pearl St., New York; 218 Clark St., Chicago, 1113 S. 9th, St., Philadelphia, will be credited with the sum of 25 Cents toward the regular price of ROBERT ELSMERE, 12mo, cloth, 657 pp. Price 50 cts.; postage 12c., the remainder of the price of the book to be paid in cash, the order to be received on or before Saturday, March 9th, 1889.

I, a subscriber to THE TIMES, as above offer, specified claim the above and enclose the money required.

Name...

Address..

Send books by..

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

The above innocent-looking little coupon means a good deal.

Most of our readers, probably, are familiar with the name of John B. Alden, Publisher, New York, who has done so much in popularizing and cheapening high-class literature. His edition of above described, one of the most famous books of the century, is a remarkable specimen of his enterprise. A copy of the book, to be seen at this office, printed in large type, on good paper, well and nicely bound in cloth, shows it to be fairly equal to books our readers in years past have been accustomed to pay $1.00 or a $1.50 for, his regular price being 50 cents.

ROBERT ELSMERE,

In consideration of our placing Mr. Alden's enterprise thus prominently before our readers, and commending it, as we can most heartily, he has consented to allow us to make the above very remarkable coupon offer to our subscribers. Please notice carefully the simple and reasonable conditions:

1st. Paid in advance subscribers to THE TIMES.
2d. To be presented within a specified date.
3d. 25 cents cash with the coupon, and 12 cents postage, if by mail.

The first condition is our requirement If you have paid us,—thank you; it is a pleasure to acknowledge it with the above privilege. If you have not yet paid, the above is an inducement for you to do so at once. If you have a neighbor who "borrows" your paper, or who is not a subscriber, will you kindly tempt him, for us, to subscribe by showing him this notice?

To favor our subscribers as much as practicable we have arranged with Mr. Alden (and this is where the importance of the dates come in) that if subscribers so request all books shall be shipped together in our care, and we will deliver them at our office; the cost of freight will not be over 3 cents a copy, instead of 12 cents postage, by mail.

Deafness Can't be Cured,

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. [illegible] only one way to cure Deafness, [illegible] is by constitutional [illegible] is caused by an [illegible] of the mucous lining [illegible] Tube. When [illegible] you have a [illegible]

There was that amount of bustle and activity in the village yesterday that is characteristic of town meeting day, but the crowd that collected from every part of the town was in the main an orderly one. The total vote cast was 1454 as against 1[illegible] cast last year. Split tickets were almost the rule rather than the exception. Those that went to the polls undecided how they were going to vote would find workers prepared to supply them with almost any kind of a ticket. At noon reports of the town officers were read and the appropriations for the incoming year voted on. $700 was voted to be raised for the Overseer of the Poor, $400 for the Highway Commissioner in addition to the $250 required by law, $100 of this amount was to be expended on the road in the south end of district No. 5 before the 1st. of August.

As will be seen by the summary, W. B. Howard, Democrat, was elected supervisor by 289 plurality over E. R. Redhead the Republican nominee. In justice to Mr. Redhead we would say that he was nominated in his absence from the village and against an expressed declaration that he would not be a candidate. He knew nothing about his nomination until his return on the afternoon of town meeting day.

The Republicans in Granby elected the whole of their ticket with the veteran John C. Wells now over 70 years of age at the head of the ticket. "Say! Say! Good enough."

The following is the full vote of Volney and Granby.

VOLNEY.

SUPERVISOR.

Howard	838
Redhead	549
Eames	67

Howard's Plurality, 289.

TOWN CLERK.

Highriter	725
Cole	657
Gilbert	72

Highriter's Plurality 68.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Piper, (to fill vacancy)	648
Hulett " "	722

Hulett's majority 74.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Candee	626
Distin	756
Taft	73

Distin's Plurality 130.

ASSESSOR.

Howard	658
Rowlee	730
Bell	68

Rowlee's Plurality 72.

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER.

Durfey	666
Wright	724
Littlefield	63

Wright's Plurality 58.

OVERSEER OF THE POOR, (village)

Wolever	653
Gardner	735
Breads	64

Gardner's Plurality 82.

OVERSEER OF THE POOR, (country)

Coles	752
Rowlee	634
Sanford	67

Cole's Plurality 118.

COLLECTOR.

Lalonde	662
Darrow	724
Davis	69

Darrow's Plurality 62.

GAME CONSTABLE.

Lynch	600
VanVankenburgh	766
Wilson	74

VanValkenburgh's Plurality 166.

CONSTABLES, Democrats.

More	561
Jones	681
Clark	625
Simons	622
Ingersoll	620

Republicans.

Murphy	784
Van Valkenburgh	706
Hubbard	714
Ireland	745
Bowen	749

Prohibitionists.

Loomis	72
Johnson	72
Markland	72
Eames	72
Burdick	73

INSPECTORS OF ELECTION.

Democrats.

Fassell dist. No. 1		620
Hannis "		621
Yeomans "	2	621
Stevenson "		616
McDonald "	3	619
Snell "		619

Republicans.

Lewis dist. No. 1.		756
Loomis "		755
Lasher "	2.	746
Osborn "		756
Gardner "	3.	761
Whitney "		759

Pohibitionists.

Woodbury dist. No. 1.		73
Calkins "		73
Abbey "	2.	73
Burdick "		73
Crane "	3.	73
Graves "		73

Excise Commissioners, (license.)

Hyde	756
Roach	756

No License.

Benedict	538
Green	540

Majority for License 216.

GRANBY.

SUPERVISOR.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Wolever [illegible] 61

Sommerville's Plurality, 22.

OVERSEER OF THE POOR.

Tompkins	[illegible]
Rigley	[illegible]
Stewart	81

Rigley's Plurality, 287.

COLLECTOR.

Wescott	384
Dutton	560
Fitch	40

Dutton's Plurality, 176.

The following Republicans were elected Constables by about 100 plurality, Dexter, Alger, Fuller, Dietrich and Smith and Brown, Game Constable. The balance of the Republican ticket was elected by about 160 plurality.

Patrick Powers, the license candidate for excise commissioner was elected by 27 majority over Ambrose Thomson the no license candidate.

Volney Town Caucuses.

The Republican and Democratic town caucuses were held in the opera house hall, Saturday afternoon. The former was called to order at 2 p. m., by H. E. Nichols, who nominated Arvin Rice for chairman, C. W. Streeter and G. G. Chauncey were appointed secretaries and O. J. Jennings and J. R. Fairgrieve, tellers.

Ballots were taken for collector and Highway Commissioner. For collector there were two candidates, Isaac Darrow and E. H. Morgan, the former received 215 votes and the latter 146.

The ballot for Highway Commissioner disclosed the fact that there were three candidates in the field. Frank Wright received 170 votes, Peter LaMay 149 and George White 24. On motion a second ballot was taken on the two leading candidates which resulted in Wright receiving 170 and LaMay 121. The following ticket was put in the field:

For Supervisor,
Edwin R. Redhead.

For Town Clerk,
Newell R. Cole.

For Justice of the Peace, (To Fill Vacancy)
Herman Hulett.

For Justice of the Peace, (Full Term,)
John W. Distin.

For Assessor,
Virgil Rowlee,

For Highway Commissioner,
Frank Wright.

For Overseers of the Poor,
Henry S. Gardner,
Albert A. Rowlee.

For Collector,
Isaac Darrow.

For Game Constable,
Fred. J. VanValkenburgh.

For Constables,
Cornelius S. Murphy,
Fred. J. VanValkenburgh,
Henry D. Hubbard,
John H. Ireland,
Harvey L. Bowen.

For Inspectors of Election, Dist. No. 1,
Thomas D. Lewis,
Wayland W. Loomis,

For Inspectors of Election, Dist. No. 2.
James D. Lasher,
William N. Osborn,

For Inspectors of Election, Dist. No. 3,
Eber Gardner,
Morris Whitney.

The Democratic caucus was immediately after, Jay Piper was made chairman and Walter Bradley and M. C. Highriter, secretaries. The whole ticket was nominated by acclamation with the exception of Highway Commissioner which was contended for by Deloss Durfey and W. A. LaFontain. Durfey received 147 votes and LaFontain 83. The following is the full ticket placed in the field:

For Supervisor,
William B. Howard.

For Town Clerk,
Morris C. Highriter.

For Justice of the Peace. (to fill vacancy)
Giles S. Piper.

For Justice of the Peace, (Full Term,)
Levi S. Candee.

For Assessor,
Samuel P. Howard.

For Highway Commissioner.
Deloss Durfey.

For Overseers of the Poor,
Amos Wolever,
George Coles.

For Collector,
Joseph Lalonde.

For Game Constable,
John Lynch.

For Constables,
Charles F. More,
Edward F. Jones,
Andrew J. Clark,
Arby W. Simons,
Elmer J. Ingersoll.

For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 1.
George H. Fassell,
Oscar O. Hannis.

For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 2.
Prentiss Yeomans,
Peter Stevenson.

For Inspectors of Election Dist. No. 3,
Frank McDonald,
Orville H. Snell.

The following is the Prohibition ticket placed in the field on Saturday, February 23:

For Supervisor,
Deane D. Eames.

For Town Clerk,
Dayton O. Gilbert.

For Justice of the Peace,
Ovid V. Taft.

For Assessor,
Richard H. Bell.

[illegible]

[illegible]

For Commissioner of Excise, [illegible]

Schuyler Green.

Excursion to Washington.

The Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg R. R. Company has arranged its third annual grand excursion to Washington and return, and no cheaper or more attractive excursion could be offered to the people of Northern New York than this admirably arranged trip to the National Capital. The fare to Washington and return is only ten dollars from any station on the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. at which excursion tickets are on sale.

Special trains of elegant West Shore coaches will run through to Jersey City where transfer will be made to new and clean Pennsylvania R. R. coaches. Wagner Sleeping Cars will be attached to all special trains and run through from R. W. & O. R. R. stations to Washington. Sleeping car tickets can be purchased of any R. W. & O. R. R. ticket agent. The sale of these tickets closes Saturday, March 23d, 1889.

The route is via Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R., West Shore & Pennsylvania Railroads, passing the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, as well as many other places of interest. The excursion starts from the line of the R. W. & O. R. R., in the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, March 26th. A stop will be made at Jersey city for breakfast and at Philadelphia for lunch, arriving in Washington early in the afternoon, Wednesday. March 27th, the time not exceeding twenty hours from any station in Northdrn New York to Washington. Tickets are good until April 10th, inclusive, and allow a sojourn of ten days in Washington, giving ample time to visit Mt. Vernon and other historic places in the vicinity of Washington, as well as some of the memorable battlefields in Virginia.

Side trip excursions from Washington may be made at th following round-trip rates: To Mt. Vernon 75 cents, Richmond, Va., $4.00. Petersburg, V.., $5.00.

Reduced rates have been arranged at sixteen hotels in Washington.

Special tourist agents will accompany the excursionists to Washington and give personal attention to the wants of passengers. With such complete arrangements for careful supervision, the excursion will be conducted in a manner to please the most refined and fastidious taste.

The ceremonies of Inauguration being just ended, the National Capital at this particular time will offer special attractions on account of the interest awakened by the incoming of a new administration.

Washington is a remarkably beautiful city and presents many interesting and attractive features, aside from those of a strictly national character. The Capitol building is the largest and finest public edifice in the world. The state departments and all other public buildings are grand and imposing, of great interest, and are open to the public every day except Sunday from 9 or 10 a. m. to 3 or 4 p. m. No fees are asked or expected for showing them.

Excursion tickets, sleeping car tickets, time-tables and descriptive circulars, giving full and detailed information, can be obtained from any R. W. & O. R. R. ticket agent or from Gen'l Passenger Agent, Oswego, N. Y.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 29tf

Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R.

In connection with

West Shore and Pennsylvania R. R.

1889. THIRD ANNUAL 1889.

GRAND EXCURSION TO

WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

TUESDAY, March 26th,'89.

The fare to Washington and Return, from any station on the R. W. & O. R. R., where Excursion Tickets are on sale, is only

TEN DOLLARS.

Tickets are good going March 26th, allowing ten days in Washington, and are good until April 10th for return passage.

SPECIAL TRAINS,

with elegant West Shore coaches, will leave the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. in the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, March 26th, on special schedule time, and run through to Jersey City, where transfer will be made to new and clean Pennsylvania R. R. coaches, arriving at Washington early Wednesday afternoon—time will not exceed twenty hours from any station.

WAGNER PALACE SLEEPING CARS

will be attached to all special trains from R. W. & O. R. R. stations, and run Through to Washington Without Change.

Price for double berth in Sleeping Car, $3.50; section, $7.00, from any station on R. W. & O. R. R. to Washington. Sale of sleeping car tickets closes March 23d.

SIDE TRIP EXCURSIONS

From Washington to Mount Vernon, 75 cents; Richmond, Va., $4; Petersburg, Va., $5.

REDUCED HOTEL RATES

Have been arranged at sixteen hotels in Washington prices from $1.50 to $3.50 per day.

Special tourist agents will direct the excursion and attend to the party on trains and in the city of Washington.

For excursion tickets, sleeping car tickets, illustrated programs and detailed information apply to nearest R. W. & O. R. R. Ticket Agent, or correspond with Gen'l Passenger Agent, Oswego, N. Y.

E. S. BOWEN, Acting Gen'l Manager. THEO. BUTTERFIELD, Gen'l Passenger Agt. Oswego, N. Y.

NOTICE.

[illegible]

[illegible] They are all on hand waiting to be called.

The city is rapidly filling up, although the weather bids fair to be a repetition of that attending Garfield's inauguration. If so the visitors from cities near by will be materially decreased in numbers.

The decorators and carpenters are working night and day. Anxiety centers on the inauguration ball preparations. As it is expected to be not only a magnificent affair but to pay all the expenses of the inauguration, no pains are spared. "I have orders," as the undertaker told Mrs. Gaup, "to be perfectly lavish in the matter."

Four years ago when Grover Cleveland took the oath of office there stood beside him a handsome man, who although careworn, looked fit to live a score of years more. The Chief Justice who administered the oath, a short sturdy man, with long head and bushy hair, was but in the prime of maturer manhood. The Vice-President who looked on, flushed with victory, appeared almost youthful. And yet Arthur, Hendricks and Waite have been pushed off the chessboard of life. A whole generation of public men have passed away in the last four years. Friends and enemies, the just and the unjust, go home together, and sorrow however sincere is certainly brief. Death is the last defeat. The conventions at Chicago and St. Louis last summer would have been rather lively if Conkling and Hendricks had been living.

The increased number of visitors at President Clevdland's receptions this week indicate the eminently virtuous desire of the American tourist to get all he can for his money. I saw about eight hundred received Thursday, including many ladies. Mr. Cleveland retains his supreme power as a handshaker to the last. He grasps every hand firmly and shakes it heartily. He has never weakened even when receiving 10,000 poeple on New Year. Lincoln, as I remember, was often too worn and worried to perform the operation with a good grace. Johnson used to take your hand tenderly and after absentmindedly looking at it, gave it back to you, as being something that seemed satisfactory on inspection and which you might wish to carefully preserve as a memento of the occasion. Grant had a deceptive pumphandle movement, that was a careful avoidance of unnecessary effort. Garfield's grip was naturally hearty, but he always exhausted himself in the first hour. Everybody remembers Arthur's mode. He hated public receptions as cordially as he disliked his enemies. If he had been allowed to have his way there would have been some privacy at the White House. I can never forget his bored look at one New Year reception when he held up his right hand with his left, and allowed his visitors to touch it. A great future is for the inventor who will construct an automatic Presidential hand, warranted to deceive the blissful tourist. Or Congress might put its foot down firmly, and only allow the great American public to shake the President's hand twice a year.

I used to know a man in Georgetown who had shaken hands with every President since, I believe the second Adams. As he grew very old he became frightened at the prospect that there was a long line of coming Presidents that he would not live to shake hands with. He wanted to hand down to his children a deathless record as a handshaker. So, to hoodwink time, he used to prowl around the Capitol shaking the hands of eminent statesmen and alleged statesmen, in the hope of grasping the hands of two or three coming Presidents. He kept an alphabetical roster of the names but his judgment was bad. He had touched Blaine a dozen times and made assurance doubly sure with Bayard. But after the Chicago convention he discovered that he had never met Harrison. He never recovered from the blow. He was too feeble to go to Indianapolis, and while waiting patiently about for Benny to appear, he died last December.

Gilberts Mills.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Mrs. Dr. Drury of Phœnix is visiting at Jacob Bauder's.

There was a surprise party at Jim Hamlin's Tuesday night, as they are soon to leave this place their friends presented them with a bible stand as a token of their esteem.

Over one hundred were present at the Aid Society at Mrs. Coe's Friday night. The next one will be at Mrs. Horace Collis's March 13.

There will be a prize contest at the Baptist church, Thursday evening, March 7. Admission 5 cents.

Mr. L. R. Foley [illegible]

[illegible]

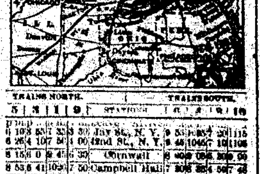
Brown's Sarsaparilla

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co. Bangor, Me. 30tf

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Jan 23, 1889.

NEW YORK, ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R. AND CONNECTIONS.



TRAINS NORTH. TRAINS SOUTH.

5	3	1	9	STATIONS	6	[illegible]	[illegible]	10
p m	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
6 10	3 55	7 35	3 30	Jay St., N. Y.	9 55	[illegible]	7 20	1115
6 25	4 10	7 50	4 00	42nd St., N. Y.	9 45	[illegible]	7 10	1106
8 15	6 0	9 45	6 30	Cornwall	8 40	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
8 53	6 41	1029	7 50	Campbell Hall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 15	7 02	1048	8 40	M't'n Main St.	7 12	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 25	7 15	1050	1015	Middletown	7 10	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	7 32	....	1043	Winterton	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	7 38	1110	10 5	Bloom'ngb'rgh	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	7 45	....	1102	Wurtsboro	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 58	7 53	1120	1130	Summitville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	8 12	1150	....	Ellenville	....	7 05	3 25	[illegible]
1015	p m	....	1200	Mountain Dale	[illegible]	a m	[illegible]	[illegible]
1023	....	....	1213	Centerville	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
1032	....	1208	1225	Fallsburgh	5 55	....	[illegible]	4 31
1040	....	[illegible]	1233	Hurleyville	n549	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
1051	....	1220	1258	Liberty Falls	n539	....	n307	3 46
1058	....	1225	1 08	Liberty	5 35	....	3 03	3 38
1108	....	1237	1 25	Parksville	n524	....	2 50	3 18
1119	....	1248	1 45	L'v'gst'n Man'r	5 10	....	2 37	2 58
1131	....	1 01	2 31	Rockland	4 55	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
1142	....	1 12	2 45	Cook's Falls	n444	....	2 12	2 17
1206	....	1 32	3 20	East Branch	4 25	....	1 51	1 59
1211	13	1 43	3 35	Fish's Eddy	n415	14	1 43	1 06
1222	a m	1 57	3 50	Hancock	4 05	p m	1 30	1250
1 10	7 50	2 4[illegible]	1 50	Walton	3 25	8 55	1205	1150
....	7 00	3 40	9 40	Delhi	....	9 40	1040	1040
1 43	8 25	3 15	5 35	Franklin	2 50	8 26	1210	1049
n150	8 33	3 22	5 45	Sidney Centre	n233	8 17	1202	1032
2 07	9 00	3 4[illegible]	8 10	Sidney	2 27	8 00	1145	1000
....	....	9 30	....	New Berlin	....	....	7 00	a m
....	1018	n255	....	Guilford Centr	....	7 30	1127	....
n230	9 22	4 00	....	Guilford	n205	7 25	1124	....
2 51	9 38	4 13	....	Oxford	1 48	7 07	1109	....
3 15	9 58	4 30	41	Norwich	1 30	6 45	1050	50
....	....	....	....		....	42	....	....
....	....	....	a m		....	p m	....	p m
3 15	9 58	4 35	7 30	Norwich	1 30	7 15	1046	6 15
....	1008	f446	7 41	North Norwich	....	7 03	1031	5 55
n340	1023	4 55	7 57	Smyrna	n103	6 50	1023	5 35
....	1050	5 05	8 05	Earlville	1257	6 40	1013	5 15
3 59	1057	5 12	8 1[illegible]	Randallsville	1249	6 31	1004	1 40
....	1150	6 40	....	Utica	....	4 38	8 15	....
....	1225	7 20	....	Rome	....	4 00	6 50	....
n411	p m	5 25	8 25	Eaton	1239	6 20	9 54	4 10
4 16	....	5 30	8 3[illegible]	Morrisville	1233	6 12	9 46	3 50
n430	....	5 44	8 47	Munnsville	1217	5 56	9 30	3 10
n442	....	....	9 00	Community	1203	5 01	n910	2 30
4 47	....	6 05	9 12	Oneida Castle	1158	5 25	9 18	2 04
4 55	....	6 20	9 25	Oneida	1153	5 15	9 06	2 00
....	....	1040	9 47	Sylvan	....	1145	[illegible]	1210
n520	....	6 46	9 55	North Bay	1120	4 37	8 35	1 55
f534	....	7 0[illegible]	1012	Cleveland	1108	4 20	8 2[illegible]	1125
n540	....	7 06	1018	B'rnhard's Bay	1103	4 14	8 17	1041
5 48	....	7 14	1023	Constantia	1057	4 10	8 10	1028
6 03	....	7 30	1045	Central Square	1044	3 53	7 52	9 35
....	....	n737	1055	Caughdenoy	....	f349	n746	9 05
f615	....	7 43	1102	Pennellville	1033	3 40	7 39	8 55
6 34	....	8 01	1127	Fulton	1017	3 24	7 22	8 1[illegible]
6 55	....	8 25	1150	Oswego	9 55	3 00	7 0[illegible]	7 05
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1 stops at Hurleyville 12:08 on signal "f" and at Liberty Falls for New York passengers "n."

Train 6 stops at Mountain Dale, Centreville, Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, Parksville, Cook's Falls, Fish's Eddy for New York and Middletown passengers "n."

Running south, train 6 stop for New York passengers at Eaton, Morrisville, Munnsville, North Bay, Cleveland, Bronhards Bay; and at Pennellville on signal.

Train 6 stops at Cleveland on signal and at Eaton, Morrisville, Sylvan and Bernhards Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 2:45 and 9:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:00 a. m., 3.45 and 9:40 p. m. [illegible]u days leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9.00 a. m.

Train 49—Way Freight Leaves Norwich 8:00 a. m., arriving at Oswego 6:55 p. m.

Train 33—Passenger and Freight—Leaves Norwich 2.15 p. m., arriving at Oneida 5:10 p. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 1:1[illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 3:00, Norwich 5:15 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin and Edmeston 11:45 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. stopping at all stations, arriving at Edmeston 2:30 and 9:55 p. m. Sunday leave Sidney 10:30 a. m. arriving at New Berlin 11:59, a. m. Edmeston 12:40 p. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 6:45, 10:40 a. m., 2:00, 5:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 8:35, 11:59 a. m., 3:40 and 6:40 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 a. m. and 6:20 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:25 and 7:20 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 44 Leaves Oneida 10:00 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 1:20 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 7:13 a. m., 8:15, 4:38 and 11:15 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9.53 a. m., 12:10 and 5:34 p. m. and 1:30 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 6:50 a. m., 4:00 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28 Leaves Norwich 6:15 a. m., Oxford 7:00, Sidney 9:00, Franklin 1005, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave Edmeston 6:30 a. m., New Berlin 7:00 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 8:45 a. m. Also leave Edmeston 4:30 p. m., New Berlin 5:30, stopping at all stations, arrives at Sidney 7:15 Sunday Milk leaves Edmeston 7:30 a. m., arrives at Sidney 9.30 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 7:00 a. m., 10:43 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:45 and 11:43 a. m., 6:40 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

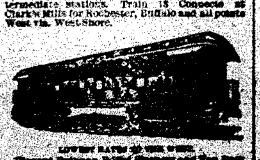
Train 2—Connects at Campbell Hall for all stations on the Wallkill Valley R. R. at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Newburgh, Kingston and Albany.

Train 1—Connects at Earlville for Syracuse, Randallsville for Utica and Rome, all stations on the Utica Division, at Oneida Castle with West Shore Express, arriving at Syracuse 7:10, Rochester 9:40, Buffalo 11:30, Detroit 8:20 a. m., Chicago 4:25 p. m. St. Louis 7:30 a. m., and all points West.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points North; at Oswego, with R. W. and O. R. R. for Suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 8:00 a. m. and all points west.

Train 41—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connects both ways at Sidney, with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and intermediate Stations. At Earlville with S. O. and N. Y., for Syracuse and intermediate stations. Train 13 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West via. West Shore.



LOWEST RATES TO [illegible]

[illegible]

Below [illegible]

A Full Line [illegible]

Window Shades [illegible]

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholstering.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN,

Times Block.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
87tf Proprietor.

HEMLOCK LUMBER

—AND—

Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,

SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

BABYHOOD

Is a monthly magazine devoted to the hygiene and care of infants and young children, and all that pertains to the routine of the nursery. It is now in its fifth year. The Congregationalist recently said of it:

> "BABYHOOD seems almost indispensable to the household in which there are young children. It is for the parents and the nurse, and is packed full of important suggestions of a practical character. From personal experience of its usefulness, we commend it warmly."

And the Chicago Advance:

> "No mother but must appreciate its wise and helpful suggestions, and be grateful for the solving of perplexities and the helping over hard places which every one comes to who has the care of young children. We commend it to every mother in the land."

Also the New York Graphic:

> "The success of this periodical has been enormous. It makes young mothers feel that the only subject worthy of attention is at last being recognized."

Every intelligent father and mother should read it regularly. Their children will be healthier and happier. It will reduce the work of caring for them, nursing them, dressing them, amusing them. Letters from subscribers frequently contain such testimonies as these, lately received:

> "I am grateful to BABYHOOD; I have seen but two numbers, but have learned so much from those that I feel I should be doing my children a wrong if I should fail of the opportunity to learn more." "The help it has been to us would have astonished me had it been predicted beforehand." "Physician as I am, your magazine is the most welcome periodical that comes to my table, and is the one I read first." "I cannot speak too highly of BABYHOOD. During the three years that I have subscribed to it I have felt repaid a hundred times for the outlay by the relief and confidence it has given me in the management of my children."

You want a sample copy—

Price 15 cents.

Or to subscribe for a year—

$1.50.

On our part we wish to know that you have seen this advertisement; and in order to induce you to mention this paper when writing us,

We have arranged to have manufactured for us a large quantity of

Hudnut's celebrated Sachet Powder, and will give a packet, free (either "Violet" or "White Lilac," as preferred),

[illegible]

BABYHOOD PUBLISHING CO.,

5 Beekman St., New York.

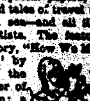
[illegible]

FOR CHILDREN OF ALL AGES.

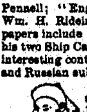
St. Nicholas for 1889.

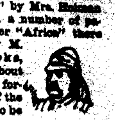
PEOPLE who have the idea that St. Nicholas magazine is only for little children should look over the prospectus of that magazine for 1889, and they will discover that it is for children of all ages, "from five to eighty-five," as some one recently said of it. Indeed, while St. Nicholas is designed for girls and boys, it might almost be called a "family magazine," for the grown-up members of a household will find much to interest them in every number.

The editor, Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge, calls the next volume an "all-round-the-world year," because it is to contain so many illustrated papers about the world in general—not dry geographical papers, but stories and sketches and tales of travel and adventure by land and sea—and all illustrated by the best artists. The features will include a serial story, "How We Made the Farthest North," by Gen. A. W. Greely, the well-known commander of the Greely Expedition; a serial about Canada, by Mrs. Catherwood, who is writing a serial story for The Century this year; "Indians of the Amazon," by Mrs. Frank R. Stockton. There are many papers about Europe, including a Christmas story of life in Norway, by H. H. Boyesen; articles on Holland and the Dutch, by Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge; "The Queen's Navy," by Lieut. F. Harrison Smith, R. N., with illustrations of many of England's finest war ships; "The Winchester School," illustrated by Joseph Pennell; "English Railway Trains," by Wm. H. Rideing, etc., etc. The French papers include "Ferdinand de Lesseps and his two Ship Canals," and there are several interesting contributions on German, Italian and Russian subjects.



Under "Asia," comes "Boys and Girls in China," by Yan Phou Lee (a recent graduate of Yale); "Home Life in the East," by Mrs. Holman Hunt, and a number of papers about Japan. Under "Africa" there is a sketch of Henry M. Stanley, by Noah Brooks, and several stories about Egypt. Australia is not forgotten, nor the islands of the sea, and there are even to be stories of under the sea.





Of course the bulk of the contents will relate to American subjects, as usual. Mrs. Burnett, the author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," contributes a story of New York called "Little Saint Elizabeth;" there will be papers describing how the government offices are conducted, papers about athletics, amateur photography, etc. The full prospectus will be sent to any one who wishes to see it by the publishers, The Century Co., of New York.

The Graphic recently said of St. Nicholas, "the family without it is only half-blessed."

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible]

[illegible] WESTERN R. R.

[illegible] Station as follows:

[illegible] 7:38 a. m.
[illegible] 9:10 a. m.
[illegible] 2:31 p. m.
[illegible] 10:17 p. m.
[illegible]
[illegible] 8:28 a. m.
[illegible] 11:35 a. m.
[illegible] 5:20 p. m.
[illegible] 9:01 p. m.

PHOENIX LINE.

[illegible] Fulton Station as follows:

[illegible] p. m. p. m. p. m. [illegible]

[illegible] have the Broadway [illegible]. All trains will stop at [illegible]

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

[illegible] Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan.

tf.

PERSONAL.

D. A. Gage has been in New York during the past week.

Mrs. O. M. Lee is visiting New Haven friends for a few days.

G. S. Carver of Syracuse were the guest of Harry Baker over Sunday.

Mrs. Mollie Wooden has returned from her trip to Providence and New York.

Miss Bertha Emerick is somewhat improved in health since her return from New York.

Miss Hattie Bradshaw is again [illegible] having spent about two months with her sister Mrs. Overton in Brooklyn.

C. J. Jennings started to-day for Buffalo, Detroit and other western [illegible] in the interest of the Granby [illegible] Co.

Dr. W. H. Loomis was called home from New York, Saturday by the sickness of his little daughter who has [illegible] scarlet fever.

S. V. Babcock, who has been at home for the past month on account of sickness returns to his business in Pittsburgh next Friday.

J. S. Moss, wife and daughter returned last week from their western trip. They visited friends in Chicago [illegible] and Humbolt, Iowa.

Mrs. F. E. Goodjon's trip to California has benefited her greatly. She has gained twenty-five pounds. She is expected home in May.

Mrs. J. N. Whitman is expected to come to Fulton next week for her household goods which she will take back with her to Youngstown, Ohio.

[illegible] Redhead and F. G. Weeks of [illegible] have been in Philadelphia and Baltimore this week on business. They were in Washington on Monday.

TO CONVINCE the PEOPLE

That we will not be undersold by any house in town, we will make the following extraordinary offer never before thought or heard of. We will sell for the next 30 days:

13 Two-Cent Stamps for a Cent and a Quarter.

[illegible] take this as a standard [illegible] any article of or articles [illegible] from our stock at [illegible] are

In the Same Proportion:

[illegible] necessary to make other [illegible] to enable you to supply [illegible] with stamps. The offer [illegible] to all alike, customers, [illegible] everybody.

[illegible] SHOE STORE!

[illegible] of Pickles in bottles, all [illegible] and prices.

at SYLVESTER'S.

[illegible] at the Syracuse [illegible] 20tf

[illegible] at [illegible]'s.

[illegible]

[illegible] building. He thought [illegible] that there was [illegible] there was [illegible] become evident [illegible] something must be done to secure more room. He also showed the advantage that was derived from a financial standpoint of accommodating foreign pupils. The amount received from this source amounted all the way from $65 to $75 per year from each foreign scholar. His remarks were made he said to impart information. They certainly showed that it would be foolhardy from any standpoint to exclude foreign pupils.

C. H. David showed that if $6,000 were expended on a new building and $2,000 payments made each year for four years the income to the school from foreign pupils was sufficient to make these payments. If it were decided not to have additional school room but to exclude foreign pupils the taxpayers were adding over $2,000 yearly to their taxes, the amount that this class of pupils are now bringing to the school, as the same number of teachers would have to be employed to accommodate the resident scholars.

A. Hanna thought that too much attention was given to higher branches of studies, that efforts to keep away instead of encouraging the attention of foreign pupils should be made.

The question of the possibility of being able to secure at some future time old Falley Seminary was brought up and considered. G. S. Piper, who as a member of a committee from the Board of Education had seen the owner of the seminary, announced that at the present time it could not be purchased at any price.

After some further discussion it was voted to adjourn for four weeks until Monday evening, April 1st.

Messrs Rice & Lovejoy desire to say to the old customers of H. E. Nichols in the Insurance business, that no policies will be allowed to expire without notice, and that they are prepared to write Insurance in the best companies, on favorable terms. 43w2

Resolutions Passed at the M. E. Oswego District Conference.

RESOLVED—That we the members of Oswego District Conference having heard of the death of Rev. O. C. Lathrop of Fulton and the sudden death of Brother H. C. Peck of Mexico who were members of this body and whose loss we greatly deplore, do hereby gratifully recall our high appreciation of these Brethren in Christ who were unselfish in their devotion to every good word and work and who were wise and able in counsel in all the departments of church work in which they were called to serve. That their life was a type of that modest and unassuming standard of purity illustrated in the life of our blessed Lord and becoming to all His followers. That in their death the church has been called upon to part with two valuable and useful member, Henry C. Peck who was in all departments of life pre-eminently a man of great worth whose place in the locality will be difficult to fill, and Rev. O. C. Lathrop, whose loyalty to the church and whose purity of life entitle him to the warmest eulogy and makes his example worthy of earnest imitation.

That a copy of these resolutions be put upon the journal of the District Conference, a copy published in the Northern Christian Advocate, the Fulton and Mexico papers and a copy forwarded to the respective families of our deceased Brethern.

C. R. DOHS,
W. DEMPSTER CHASE,
T. R. SHEPHARD,
NORMAN TUTTLE.

To get your Groceries cheap go to SYLVESTER'S. 43tf.

Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S. 43tf

A beautiful "Snow Girl" given for 25 Master Wrappers. 40tf.

Positively Given Away.

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. Mrs. J. C. Tyeman & Co.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by W. J. Watson.

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. tf.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] of the bride, [illegible] Fitch, both of Fulton, by Rev. Jas. C. Brooks.

A telegram was received on Friday last that Will Livingston who is now in Tacoma, Wash. was dangerously ill with peritonitis.

C. S. Murphy has been selected as trustee of the Catholic church in place of Joseph Murphy, who had resigned and is about to remove to Cortland.

H. R. Hoff of this village graduated yesterday from the school of Pharmacy at Albany. The graduating exercises were held in Jermain Hall in Albany last evening.

Three car loads of material for the new gun factory have arrived in Fulton. They were taken to the shop on Mr. Comstock's premises. This looks like business.

A call has been extended to the Rev. B. Brunning of Sherburne, N. Y., to become settled pastor of the Church of the Restoration (Universalist) in this village. It is probable that he will accept.

Henry F. Parsons Republican, was elected Supervisor by a majority of 108 over George M. Hanchitt Democrat. The entire Republican ticket was elected by about the same majority.

On Monday evenning Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Murphy gave a farewell tea to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cullen who have removed to Syracuse. Miss Kate Fennell of Lower Oswego Falls carried home the prize in the game of progressive euchre that followed.

Patrick Cullen has moved to Syracuse with his family. Mr. Cullen was an active citizen and business man and will be missed from Fulton. He now has an interest in a general store on West street near Fayette, in Syracuse which now has the firm name of Holloran, McCarthy & Cullen.

The re-organized Pathfinder Boat Club have decided to purchase the south half of VanBuren's island which consists of about six and one-half acres. Nearly all the money for the purchase of the same has been raised. The price to be paid is $300. A club house will probably be erected next summer.

Mrs. Race celebrated her 70th. birthday on Thursday last and in the evening her friends called upon her in a body and give her a good old fashioned surprise. The evening was very pleasantly spent. Music, which is always abundant in the Gilbert family gatherings, was augmented by dancing in which women of equal age with Mrs. Race, if reports are true, did not fail to take part.

There was a large audience at the opera house Monday evening and we are glad of it for the entertainment was an excellent one. "Shamus O'Brien" was the play and Charles Erin Verner in the title role is all that is claimed of him, a fine actor and true delineator of Irish character. Suffering from a bad cold he unfortunately was unable to sing. Katharine Walsh as Mary O'Donahue, Edwin Parish as the dude baronet, Sir Reginold Dare, W. B. Cahill as the informer. Shadrack Finn were finished actors. The dancing of J. E. Howley was also good.

Farmer's should beware of an agent for "South American Corn." It is the "Bohemian Oat Swindle," in principle, by which so many honest farmers have been defrauded of their earnings. "South American Corn" may be good, as are Bohemian Oats, but it is not necessary to sign a contract, which always turns up a note, to obtain them. Again we say look out for the man. Be careful how you sign your name to any kind of a contract, subscription or other paper. Sharpers are very sharp, and will catch you if you are not sharp, too. The best way is to show them the way out as soon as they obstruct the light of your door-way.—Hammondsport Herald.

See the Latest Style in Men's Derby Hats for Spring wear. D. C. MORE & CO. have them.

Canned corn 6cents at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf.

[illegible]

[illegible] price.

Gilbert Jennings proprietor of the Palermo Centre Hotel will give a grand masquerade party on Friday evening, March 15, G. D. Trimble, Floor Manager, Sheerwell band will be in attendance.

W. D. Clapp has sold his farm and will sell at public auction on the premises one-half mile east of Palermo Centre on Tuesday March 19, at 10 a. m., a large quantity of stock, wagons, farmer's supplies, hay, household goods, &c.

The following pupils of the C. Junior Department 4th. St. school have not been absent nor tardy during the winter term: Clara Belfry, Mamie Branan, Eugene Bennett, Dollie Dresser, Nellie Doyle, Mamie Pomphert, Clinton Nichols and Willie Hill.

Some business men measure the value of an advertisement by the direct returns they get from it, and after a short trial withdraw it from their town journal, on the ground that it does not pay. The indirect benefits derived from keeping the name before the trade are out of all proportion to the direct returns received, and the most successful advertisers are those who keep themselves so constantly before the trade, that their names become as familiar as household words. The merchant or manufacturer who does not let the people know what he has for sale, will soon find himself out of the race. —Art Printer.

The Industrial Fair.

Preparations are complete for the School Industrial Fair which will be held in the Fourth street building on Thursday at 7 p. m. and on Friday forenoon and afternoon. There will be a large number of articles made by scholars at this fair and everything tend to show that it will be a success in every particular. Friends and patrons of the schools are most cordially invited to go on either day of the exhibit.

OKLAHOMA.

The opening of the Indian Territort for settlement is at present attracting much attention throughout the country. Oklahoma, as the new Territory is to be called, is one of the finest sections of the west. To those desiring full information representing this country, we would call attention to the advertisement of A. Bass & Co., McPherson, Kansas, seen elsewhere in this paper.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. March 6, 1889.

Mrs. Lewis Richardson, Thador Sundeel, care of Mr. Dunkern. Geo. Sullivan, S. T. Smith, Chas. E. Sutton, Miss Donnelly, Patrick H. Connelly.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

Removal.

The office of the Singer Manuf'n'g Co. has been removed from the store of A. Bristol to that of E. E. Hart, opposite the "Bee Hive."

45w4 H. B. ROSE, M'g'r.

Oranges 15c per doz. at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf

Auction.

Charles Keller will sell at public auction on Thursday, March 14th, the property on his farm in East Palermo, consisting of stock, wagons, sleighs, farming implements, household furniture, &c. &c.

Bargains in Tinware and Household goods for the next 30 days at the 5 and 10c. Store, Opera House block. 42w3

If you want a pure Soap use Master. 40tf.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 20tf

COULD NOT KEEP

Shop without them. I consider your Sulphur, [illegible] remarkable blood purifier. I [illegible] of several people whose [illegible] were considered hopeless, that [illegible] been [illegible] by your medicine. The sale of Sulphur Bitters [illegible] so large that I could not keep shop without them. E. S. YATES, Pharmacist 60 Essex st. Lawrence.

[illegible]

[illegible] V. M.

H. B. Rose agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co. now has his office in the Hart building with the American Express Co. opposite the Bee Hive.

Little Georgie Rendell of Mexico who recently had his leg amputated at the knee, has to suffer another operation this week. It is hoped this will be the last.

The Woman's Relief Corps served dinner in the opera house block, Town Meeting day. This is a praiseworthy movement and met with satisfactory patronage.

Dr. J. K. Stockwell, Republican, was elected mayor over Jeremiah Heagerty at Oswego yesterday by 121 majority. The Democrats elect five out of eight alderman and five out of eight supervisors.

A number of Fulton ladies attended the matinee performance of the Boston Ideal Opera Co. at the Wieting opera house in Syracuse Saturday. Pauline L'Allemand appeared as "Marie" in "The Daughter of the Regiment."

To-day is the twentieth anniversary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. This afternoon and evening the ladies of the M. E. church assemble in the church parlors to celebrate the event. Supper will be held from five to seven and appropriate exercises in the evening.

Quarterly meeting of the Oswego district was held in Oswego Falls on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was well attended from abroad and a good spirited interest manifested. Rev. R. E. Nesbitt of North Scriba, preached an excellent sermon on Sunday morning. Rev. O. H. Denney resigned his position as secretary and Rev. R. E. Nesbitt was appointed in his place.

The Cullivan entertainment in the opera house, on Friday evening, brought out a good house and the work of the participants gave satisfaction. Mr. and Mrs. Cullivan are artists of good ability, and their appearance was the signal for lots of applause every time. Most of those that took part were Fultonians. Howe and Royce, on the trapeze, Simpson and Sweet, tumblers, the Martino brothers on the horizontal bar, the Cullen brothers in their club swinging, Hennessey in song and dance, Lena Hardy in song and Frank Conners in jigs and reels all did well.

The Pink tea given by the Young People's Society of the Congregrational church was quite well attended. Several sets of people were furnished with supper. The musical program as follows was carried out, Miss Bogue acting as accompanist:

1.	Song,	DOUBLE QUARTET
2.	Brass Quartet,
3.	Song,	LYSANDER QUARTET
4.	Solo,	MR. NEWELL
5.	Clarionet Solo,	MR. BOGUE
6.	Song,	LYSANDER QUARTET
7.	Solo,	MISS DARBY
8.	Cornet Duet,
9.	Song,	LYSANDER QUARTET

"Min" Hamilton a well known character in the village has gone before District Attorney Stowell at Oswego and sworn to a story according to which Alexander Demeraux was murdered at Fulton on November 8, 1888. Demeraux was found lying by the railroad track with his skull fractured, and soon died, without having spoken. He was supposed to have been struck by a train, but the Hamilton woman says that he was hit with some weapon by William Pruner, and that she saw the act. Pruner was in town yesterday and had not been arrested, and it is said that unless further evidence is obtained he will not be arrested. The officials doubt the woman's story, as it is said she is jealous of Pruner, with whom she has been living, and may be making the story out of whole cloth.

Spring Styles of hats received by D. C. MORE & CO.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 20tf

[illegible]

[illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. S. J. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo [illegible], William B. [illegible], Henry, a son of V. H. Waugh, Leslie Simons and a family named Murphy on Second street.

As soon as it was discovered that something was wrong with the meat, Mr. Smith went around and notified all to whom any had been sold.

By prompt medical treatment possibly fatal results were averted. All have now recovered after a great amount of suffering in several cases.

Mr. Smith has had many years experience in this business and took his customary pains in preparing the head cheese. The theory of Drs. Lee and Marsh is that it was what is termed ptomaines, a chemical poison produced at times by fermentation of animal food, which is the beginning of putrefaction. This theory is further supported by the fact that several persons that ate the food were not effected to any considerable extent probably getting their portion from the outside instead of the center of the mass where it was possible for impurity to arise. The effect produced on the sick persons was a weak pulsation, cold extremities with severe purging and vomiting.

Customer to real estate agent—"What is the best investment you know of to-day?"

R. E. man—(thinking of family matters)—"Those shoes at the Salmon Shoe Store. 43w2

Lenten Services.

The following is the program of Lenton services to be held in Zion church this year:

ASH WEDNESDAY.

Morning Prayer and Sermon 10:30 A. M.

SUNDAYS—Service and Sermon 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M.; Sunday School and Bible Class, 12 M.

MONDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address 4 P. M.

TUESDAYS—Evening Prayer and Confirmation Instruction, 4 P. M.

WEDNESDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 7:45 P. M.

THURSDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 4 P. M.

FRIDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 7:45 P. M.

SATURDAYS—Evening Prayer and Confirmation Instruction, 4 P. M.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Morning Prayer and Sermon, 10:30 A. M.

EASTER DAY.

Service and Sermon, 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M.
Sunday School Festival, 3 P. M.

J. HOLLISTER LYNCH, RECTOR.

A New Departure.

The reliable coal and lumber dealer Q. Rust has a new departure in his long established yard and is prepared to supply all who contemplate building at a low price the best quality of Hemlock Lumber and Hemlock Bill Timber. At his yard can also be found a complete stock of Dry Pine Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Mouldings, Ladders, Eave Troughs &c. Everyone will find it to their advantage to call at Rust's when in need of anything in the lumber line.

Card of Thanks.

Our loss is not so severe, nor our sorrow so great but we remember the kindness of the many, who have come to us in our grief. Neighbors have been more than neighbors and friends were never so dear. Special mention could be made of some, but may one and all know how thoroughly we appreciate all help, every word, every token of sympathy. May the Father bless your homes and keep your loved ones. If affliction comes to you, may your burden be lightened by the same tenderness and thoughtfulness.

FRIEND C. IVES.
CARRIE A. IVES.

Now is your time to buy Household Goods Cheap. Big bargains for the next 30 days. Call and be convinced. 5 and 10c Store, Opera House block. 42w2

Master is the most economical 5c. Cake in the Market. 40tf.

There are 182 young lady students at Cornell, and the 1,644 young gentlemen have to hump themselves to gather in any of the honors of the institution.

More oranges, lemons, bananas, figs and raisins are consumed in the United States than in any other country in the world.

Fifteen boys in the Pittsburg Cooking School have taken prizes for efficiency in cooking.

[illegible] Furnishings, to begin on [illegible]

Everybody is Invited!

This will be the event of the season and no effort will be spared to make it a time to be remembered for remarkable bargains.

Buyers will

Dance for Joy

When they see the extent of our stock and lead to realize by the prices we ask, the enormous sacrifice at which goods are going. It is a

Sale Without Precedent.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Go to Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS.

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

TO RENT OR SELL—Farm of 125 acres with stock. H. CHAMBERLAIN

43w3 Gilberts Mills, N. Y.

TWO HOUSES AND LOTS FOR SALE. Both having good barns and both to be sold cheap. One of the places on Buffalo and the other on Third street. For further particulars enquire at FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—On Second Street, House in good repair, large lot, fruit, barn, good cistern, city water. Enquire of Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co., Crockery Store. 40tf

FOR SALE—House on Seneca street, known as the Palmiter place, on very reasonable terms or will exchange for Syracuse property. Inquire of

W. J. LOVEJOY,
Fulton Savings Bank.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

TO RENT—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 41tf 34 Oneida St.

FOR SALE—House and lot corner of Fourth and Utica streets Fulton, or will exchange for a smaller house. Inquire of GILES S. PIPER, or 40t3 MRS. S. M. BABCOCK.

FOR SALE—One Parlor Stove, two Extension Tables, one fall leaf Table, two Stands and a number of other articles at S. A. GREEN'S, 39w4 Oneida Street.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hard ware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

WORKING OXEN.

2 Pair For Sale by

42w4 W. S. NELSON.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6. First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHOENIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Have a New

OLIVER
STEEL
PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

Chilled Plows.

A New Department!

-WINDOW SHADES!-

We have just bought, direct from the Manufacturer, a full line of Window Shades, Fringes, Curtain Fixtures etc., which we shall sell at Wholesale Prices. We buy for two stores and get these goods in Immense Quantities and consequently can retail them at what other dealers are obliged to pay for them. When you come in, ask to see our Curtains. Our leaders will be a Handsome Dado Shade, with Spring Fixtures Complete, at 35cts. each. Regular 50c. Shade.

[illegible] [illegible]! Carpets!

[illegible] colorings are elegant. We have by far the largest variety of any house in town. [illegible] Body Brussels. Don't buy a carpet this spring until you see our line.

[illegible]

E. E. HART SELLS THE BEST LEHIGH VALLEY COAL, AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Up town Office Opposite Bee Hive, First Street. Coal Delivered in Fulton and Oswego Falls.

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday, March 6, 1889.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] ... 9:06 a. m.
[illegible] and Philadelphia Express ... 11:14 a. m.
[illegible] and Elmira Express ... 3:47 p. m.
[illegible] Express ... 5:24 p. m.
[illegible] York and Phil. Night Express ... 8:05 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express ... 9:06 a. m.
[illegible] ... 12:14 p. m.
[illegible] ... 3:16 p. m.
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express ... 7:08 p. m.
[illegible] Express ... 9:48 p. m.
[illegible] a. m. and 8:05 p. m. trains will [illegible] Sundays.
[illegible] cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. C. [illegible], Ass't Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express ... 7:20 a. m.
Freight and Accommodation ... 6:20 a. m.
Norwich Express ... 3:21 p. m.
N. Y. Night Express ... 10:17 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express ... 6:28 a. m.
Oswego Express ... 11:56 a. m.
Freight and Accommodation ... 5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express ... 5:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:47	[illegible]	[illegible]	5:27	7:38
For Oswego,	9:43	12:56	2:23	6:18	0:49

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

F. A. Gage has been in New York during the past week.

Mrs. C. H. Lee is visiting New Haven friends for a few days.

G. S. Carver of Syracuse were the guest of Harry Baker over Sunday.

Mrs. Mollie Wooden has returned from her trip to Providence and New York.

Miss Bertha Emerick is somewhat improved in health since her return from New York.

Miss Hattie Bradshaw is again home having spent about two months with her sister Mrs. Overton in Brooklyn.

G. J. Jennings started to-day for Buffalo, Detroit and other western cities in the interest of the Granby Brownstone Co.

Dr. W. H. Loomis was called home from New York, Saturday by the sickness of his little daughter who has the scarlet fever.

E. V. Babcock, who has been at home for the past month on account of sickness returns to his business in Pittsburgh next Friday.

J. S. Moss, wife and daughter returned last week from their western trip. They visited friends in Chicago Ill. and Humbolt, Iowa.

Mrs. D. H. Goodjon's trip to California has benefitted her greatly. She has gained twenty-five pounds. She is expected home in May.

Mrs. J. N. Whitman is expected to come to Fulton next week for her household goods which she will take back with her to Youngstown, Ohio.

F. R. Redhead and F. G. Weeks of Skaneateles have been in Philadelphia and Baltimore this week on business. They were in Washington on Monday.

To CONVINCE the PEOPLE

That we will not be undersold by any house in town, we will make the following extraordinary offer never before thought or heard of. We will sell for the next 30 days:

13 Two-Cent Stamps for a Cent and a Quarter.

And will take this as a standard and offer any article or articles you may desire from our stock at figures which are

In the Same Proportion:

It is not necessary to make other purchases to enable you to supply yourself with stamps. The offer is open to all alike, customers, competitors, everybody.

SALMON SHOE STORE!

All kinds of Pickles in bottles, all sizes, shapes and prices. 49tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Chocolate creams at 25cts per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Wort's famous bread at Bemco's.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

School Meeting.

The special school meeting called to vote on the question of raising $9,000 by tax for the erection of a new school building drew a large number of voters to the Fourth street building Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by Amos Youmans, clerk of the Board of Education, who read the call. H. E. Nichols was made chairman of the meeting. By request Prof. Clapp came forward and made statements and a report of the crowded condition of the school buildings. He showed conclusively that there were more scholars than there was room for and it must have become evident to all present that something must be done to secure more room. He also showed the advantage that was derived from a financial standpoint of accommodating foreign pupils. The amount received from this source amounted all the way from $25 to $75 per year from each foreign scholar. His remarks were made he said to impart information. They certainly showed that it would be foolhardy from any standpoint to exclude foreign pupils.

C. H. David showed that if $6,000 were expended on a new building and $3,000 payments made each year for four years the income to the school from foreign pupils was sufficient to make these payments. If it were decided not to have additional school room but to exclude foreign pupils the taxpayers were adding over $2,000 yearly to their taxes, the amount that this class of pupils are now bringing to the school, as the same number of teachers would have to be employed to accommodate the resident scholars.

A. Hamm thought that too much attention was given to higher branches of studies, that efforts to keep away instead of encouraging the attention of foreign pupils should be made.

The question of the possibility of being able to secure at some future time old Falley Seminary was brought up and considered. G. S. Piper, who as a member of a committee from the Board of Education had seen the owner of the seminary, announced that at the present time it could not be purchased at any price.

After some further discussion it was voted to adjourn for four weeks until Monday evening, April 1st.

Messrs Rice & Lovejoy desire to say to the old customers of H. E. Nichols in the Insurance business, that no policies will be allowed to expire without notice, and that they are prepared to write Insurance in the best companies, on favorable terms. 40w2

Resolutions Passed at the M. E. Oswego District Conference.

RESOLVED—That we the members of Oswego District Conference having heard of the death of Rev. O. C. Lathrop of Fulton and the sudden death of Brother H. C. Peck of Mexico who were members of this body and whose loss we greatly deplore, do hereby gratefully recall our high appreciation of these Brethren in Christ who were unselfish in their devotion to every good word and work and who were wise and able in counsel in all the departments of church work in which they were called to serve. That their life was a type of that modest and unassuming standard of purity illustrated in the life of our blessed Lord and becoming to all His followers. That in their death the church has been called upon to part with two valuable and useful member, Henry C. Peck who was in all departments of life pre-eminently a man of great worth whose place in the locality will be difficult to fill, and Rev. O. C. Lathrop whose loyalty to the church and whose purity of life entitle him to the warmest eulogy and makes his example worthy of earnest imitation.

That a copy of these resolutions be put upon the journal of the District Conference, a copy published in the Northern Christian Advocate, the Fulton and Mexico papers and a copy forwarded to the respective families of our deceased Brethern.

C. H. DORR,
W. DEMPSTER CHASE,
T. E. SHEPHARD,
HERMAN SUTTLE.

To get your Groceries cheap go to SYLVESTER'S. 49tf.

Tea 8 to 16c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf

A beautiful "Snow Girl" given for 25 Master Wrappers. 49tf.

Positively Given Away.

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by W. J. Watson.

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 22.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a

First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

None Such contains no Terra Alba.

To-day is Ash Wednesday the first day in Lent.

Charter election will be held on Tuesday March 26.

Regents examinations are being held at Fulton Union School this week.

Rev. W. H. Ward of Phoenix exchanges pulpits with Rev. O. H. Denney of Gilberts Mills next Sunday.

Married—Feb. 26, 1889, at the house of the bride, Lena DeRusha to Harry Pitch, both of Fulton, by Rev. Jno. C. Breaker.

A telegram was received on Friday last that Will Livingston who is now in Tacoma, Wash. was dangerously ill with peritonitis.

C. S. Murphy has been selected as trustee of the Catholic church in place of Joseph Murphy, who had resigned and is about to remove to Cortland.

H. B. Hoff of this village graduated yesterday from the school of Pharmacy at Albany. The graduating exercises were held in Jermain Hall in Albany last evening.

Three car loads of material for the new gun factory have arrived in Fulton. They were taken to the shop on Mr. Comstock's premises. This looks like business.

A call has been extended to the Rev. B. Brenning of Sherburne, N. Y., to become settled pastor of the Church of the Restoration (Universalist) in this village. It is probable that he will accept.

Henry F. Parsons Republican, was elected Supervisor by a majority of 168 over George M. Hazeltine Democrat. The entire Republican ticket was elected by about the same majority.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Murphy gave a farewell tea to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cullen who have removed to Syracuse. Miss Kate Fennell of Lower Oswego Falls carried home the prize in the game of progressive euchre that followed.

Patrick Cullen has moved to Syracuse with his family. Mr. Cullen was an active citizen and business man and will be missed from Fulton. He now has an interest in a general store on West street near Fayette, in Syracuse which now has the firm name of Holloran, McCarthy & Cullen.

The re-organized Pathfinder Boat Club have decided to purchase the south half of VanBuren's Island which consists of about six and one-half acres. Nearly all the money for the purchase of the same has been raised. The price to be paid is $300. A club house will probably be erected next summer.

Mrs. Race celebrated her 70th. birthday on Thursday last and in the evening her friends called upon her in a body and give her a good old fashioned surprise. The evening was very pleasantly spent. Music, which is always abundant in the Gilbert family gatherings, was augmented by dancing in which women of equal age with Mrs. Race, if reports are true, did not fail to take part.

There was a large audience at the opera house Monday evening and we are glad of it for the entertainment was an excellent one. "Shamus O'Brien" was the play and Charles Erin Vernor in the title role is all that is claimed of him, a fine actor and true delineator of Irish character. Suffering from a bad cold he unfortunately was unable to sing. Katharine Walsh as Mary O'Donahue, Edwin Parish as the dude baronet, Sir Reginald Dare, W. B. Cahill as the informer. Shadrach Finn were finished actors. The dancing of J. E. Nowlay was also good.

Farmer's should beware of an agent for "South American Corn." It is the "Bohemian Oat Swindle," in principle, by which so many honest farmers have been defrauded of their earnings. "South American Corn" may be good, as are Bohemian Oats, but it is not necessary to sign a contract, which always turns up a note, to obtain them. Again we say look out for the man. Be careful how you sign your name to any kind of a contract, subscription or other paper. Sharpers are very sharp, and will catch you if you are not sharp, too. The best way is to show them the way out as soon as they obstruct the light of your door-way.—Hammondsport Herald.

See the Latest Style in Men's Derby Hats for Spring wear. D. C. MORE & CO. have them.

Canned corn 8cents at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf.

Charter election next

Miss Carrie Nichols gave a large masquerade party last evening.

Scholars of the village school have a two week's vacation after this week.

We are requested to announce that the Women's Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. will meet in the rooms on Saturday at 3 p. m. instead of Thursday.

Charles Foster celebrated his 80th. birthday last Thursday. He has been a resident of this town for sixty-five years and of the village for over forty years.

Gilbert Jennings proprietor of the Palermo Centre House will give a grand masquerade party on Friday evening, March 15, G. R. Whipple, Floor Manager, Chesterfield band will be in attendance.

W. D. Clapp has sold his farm and will sell at public auction on the premises one-half mile east of Palermo Centre on Tuesday March 12, at 10 a. m., a large quantity of stock, wagons, farmer's supplies, hay, household goods, &c.

The following pupils of the C. Junior Department 4th. St. school have not been absent nor tardy during the winter term: Clara Bailey, Mamie Brennan, Eugene Bennett, Dollie Becker, Nellie Doyle, Mamie Pomphert, Clinton Nichols and Willie Hill.

Some business men measure the value of an advertisement by the direct returns they get from it, and after a short trial, withdraw it from their town journal, on the ground that it does not pay. The indirect benefits derived from keeping the name before the trade are out of all proportion to the direct returns received, and the most successful advertisers are those who keep themselves so constantly before the trade, that their names become as familiar as household words. The merchant or manufacturer who does not let the people know what he has for sale, will soon find himself out of the race. —Art Printer.

The Industrial Fair.

Preparations are complete for the School Industrial Fair which will be held in the Fourth street building on Thursday at 7 p. m. and on Friday forenoon and afternoon. There will be a large number of articles made by scholars at this fair and everything tend to show that it will be a success in every particular. Friends and patrons of the schools are most cordially invited to go on either day of the exhibit.

OKLAHOMA.

The opening of the Indian Territory for settlement is at present attracting much attention throughout the country. Oklahoma, as the new Territory is to be called, is one of the finest sections of the west. To those desiring full information respecting this country, we would call attention to the advertisement of A. Bass & Co., McPherson, Kansas, seen elsewhere in this paper.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. March 6, 1889.

Mrs. Lewis Richardson, Theodor Bandeel, care of Mr. Dunkern. Geo. Sullivan, S. T. Smith, Chas. E. Sutton, Miss Donnelly, Patrick H. Connolly.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

Removal.

The office of the Singer Manuf'n'g Co. has been removed from the store of A. Bristol to that of E. E. Hart, opposite the "Bee Hive."

43w4 H. B. ROSE, M'g'r.

Oranges 16c per doz. at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf.

Auction.

Charles Keller will sell at public auction on Thursday, March 14th, the property on his farm in East Palermo, consisting of stock, wagons, sleighs, farming implements, household furniture, &c. &c.

Bargains in Tinware and Household goods for the next 30 days at the 5 and 10c. Store, Opera House block. 49w2

If you want a pure Soap use Master. 49tf.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 30tf

COULD NOT KEEP

Shop without them. I consider your Sulphur Bitters a remarkable blood purifier. I know of several people whose cases were considered hopeless, that have been entirely cured by your medicine. The sale of Sulphur Bitters is so large that I could not keep shop without them. E. S. Yarns, Pharmacist 39 Essex st. Lawrence.

There will be a temperance meeting at the M. E. church Sunday evening.

Charlie Kinnie is the happy daddy of an eight pound boy who was born last Friday night.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase will preach at the Emory school house next Friday evening at 7:30.

MARRIED—At North Volney Feb. 28 1889 by L. H. Drake Justice of the Peace, Gerard F. Taft and Miss Nellie J. Stewart both of Volney N. Y.

Special communication of Hiram Lodge, No. 144 next Monday evening, at 7:30 to confer the third degree on three candidates. By order of the W. M.

H. B. Rose agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co. now has his office in the Hart building with the American Express Co. opposite the Bee Hive.

Little Georgie Rendell of Mexico who recently had his leg amputated at the knee, has to suffer another operation this week. It is hoped this will be the last.

The Woman's Relief Corps served dinner in the opera house block, Town Meeting day. This is a praiseworthy movement and met with satisfactory patronage.

Dr. J. K. Stockwell, Republican, was elected mayor over Jeremiah Hengerty at Oswego yesterday by 131 majority. The Democrats elect five out of eight aldermen and five out of eight supervisors.

A number of Fulton ladies attended the matinee performance of the Boston Ideal Opera Co. at the Wieting opera house in Syracuse Saturday. Pauline L'Allemand appeared as "Marie" in "The Daughter of the Regiment."

To-day is the twentieth anniversary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. This afternoon and evening the ladies of the M. E. church assemble in the church parlors to celebrate the event. Supper will be held from five to seven and appropriate exercises in the evening.

Quarterly meeting of the Oswego district was held in Oswego Falls on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It was well attended from abroad and a good spirited interest manifested. Rev. R. E. Nesbitt of North Scriba, preached an excellent sermon on Sunday morning. Rev. O. H. Denney resigned his position as secretary and Rev. R. E. Nesbitt was appointed in his place.

The Cullivan entertainment in the opera house, on Friday evening, brought out a good house and the work of the participants gave satisfaction. Mr. and Mrs. Cullivan are artists of good ability, and their appearance was the signal for lots of applause every time. Most of those that took part were Fultonians. Howe and Royce, on the trapeze, Simpson and Sweet, tumblers, the Martine brothers on the horizontal bar, the Cullen brothers in their club swinging, Hennessey in song and dance, Lena Hardy in song and Frank Conners in jigs and reels all did well.

The Pink tea given by the Young People's Society of the Congregational church was quite well attended. Several sets of people were furnished with supper. The musical program as follows was carried out, Miss Bogue acting as accompanist:

1.	Song,	DOUBLE QUARTET
2.	Brass Quartet,
3.	Song,	LYSANDER QUARTET
4.	Solo,	MR. NEWELL
5.	Clarionet Solo,	MR. BOGUE
6.	Song,	LYSANDER QUARTET
7.	Solo,	MISS DARBY
8.	Cornet Duet,
9.	Song,	LYSANDER QUARTET

"Min" Hamilton a well known character in the village has gone before District Attorney Stowell at Oswego and sworn to a story according to which Alexander Demeraux was murdered at Fulton on November 3, 1888. Demeraux was found lying by the railroad track with his skull fractured, and soon died, without having spoken. He was supposed to have been struck by a train, but the Hamilton woman says that he was hit with some weapon by William Pruner, and that she saw the act. Pruner was in town yesterday and had not been arrested, and it is said that unless further evidence is obtained he will not be arrested. The officials doubt the woman's story, as it is said she is jealous of Pruner, with whom she has been living, and may be making the story out of whole cloth.

Spring Styles of hats received by D. C. MORE & CO.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 30tf

---

Poisoned by Eating Head Cheese.

On Friday of last week James Smith placed on sale in his meat market a quantity of head cheese, which to every appearance was perfectly wholesome. Quantities were sold on Friday and Saturday to a large number of customers. On Friday night a number were taken sick and on Saturday more were taken down. An investigation showed all thus taken sick had eaten of this head cheese.

Among those were Mr. and Mrs. James Waugh and their four children, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Waugh, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Palmiter, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hatch, William R. Hancock, Harry, a son of V. E. Waugh, Leolla Simons and a family named Murphy on Second street.

As soon as it was discovered that something was wrong with the meat, Mr. Smith went around and notified all to whom any had been sold.

By prompt medical treatment possibly fatal results were averted. All have now recovered after a great amount of suffering in several cases.

Mr. Smith has had many years experience in this business and took his customary pains in preparing the head cheese. The theory of Drs. Lee and Marsh is that it was what is termed ptomaines, a chemical poison produced at times by fermentation of animal food, which is the beginning of putrefaction. This theory is further supported by the fact that several persons that ate the food were not affected to any considerable extent probably getting their portion from the outside instead of the center of the mass where it was possible for impurity to arise. The effect produced on the sick persons was a weak pulsation, cold extremities with severe purging and vomiting.

Customer to real estate agent—"What is the best investment you know of to-day?"

R. E. man—(thinking of family matters)—"Those shoes at the Salmon Shoe Store. 43w2

Lenten Services.

The following is the program of Lenten services to be held in Zion church this year:

ASH WEDNESDAY.

Morning Prayer and Sermon 10:30 A. M.

SUNDAYS—Service and Sermon 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M.; Sunday School and Bible Class, 12 M.

MONDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address 4 P. M.

TUESDAYS—Evening Prayer and Confirmation Instruction, 4 P. M.

WEDNESDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 7:45 P. M.

THURSDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 4 P. M.

FRIDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 7:45 P. M.

SATURDAYS—Evening Prayer and Confirmation Instruction, 4 P. M.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Morning Prayer and Sermon, 10:30 A. M.

EASTER DAY.

Service and Sermon, 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M.
Sunday School Festival, 3 P. M.

J. HOLLISTER LYNCH, Rector.

A New Departure.

The reliable coal and lumber dealer Q. Rust has a new departure in his long established yard and is prepared to supply all who contemplate building at a low price the best quality of Hemlock Lumber and Hemlock Bill Timber. At his yard can also be found a complete stock of Dry Pine Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Mouldings, Ladders, Eave Troughs &c. Everyone will find it to their advantage to call at Rust's when in need of anything in the lumber line.

Card of Thanks.

Our loss is not so severe, nor our sorrow so great but we remember the kindness of the many, who have come to us in our grief. Neighbors have been more than neighbors and friends were never so dear. Special mention could be made of some, but may one and all know how thoroughly we appreciate all help, every word, every token of sympathy. May the Father bless your homes and keep your loved ones. If affliction comes to you, may your burden be lightened by the same tenderness and thoughtfulness.

FRIEND C. IVES.
CARRIE A. IVES.

Now is your time to buy Household Goods Cheap. Big bargains for the next 30 days. Call and be convinced. 5 and 10c Store, Opera House block. 49w2

Master is the most economical 5c. Cake in the Market. 49tf.

There are 129 young lady students at Cornell, and the 1,044 young gentlemen have to hump themselves to gather in any of the honors of the institution.

More oranges, lemons, bananas, figs and raisins are consumed in the United States than in any other country in the world.

Fifteen boys in the Pittsburg Cooking School have taken prizes for efficiency in cooking.

Our Inauguration Bawl!

We announce the Inauguration of a Great Sale of Clothing and Furnishings, to begin on March 6th, to which

Everybody is Invited!

This will be the event of the season and no effort will be spared to make it a time to be remembered for remarkable bargains. Buyers will

Dance for Joy

When they see the extent of our stock and lead to realize by the prices we ask, the enormous sacrifice at which goods are going. It is a

Sale Without Precedent.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

TO RENT OR SELL—Farm of 125 acres with stock. H. CHAMBERLAIN
43w3 Gilberts Mills, N. Y.

TWO HOUSES AND LOTS FOR SALE. Both having good barns and both to be sold cheap. One of the places on Buffalo and the other on Third street. For further particulars enquire at FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—On Second Street, House in good repair, large lot, fruit, barn, good cistern, city water. Enquire of Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co., Crockery Store. 40tf

FOR SALE—House on Seneca street, known as the Palmiter place, on very reasonable terms or will exchange for Syracuse property. Inquire of W. J. LOVEJOY, Fulton Savings Bank.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

TO RENT—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 41tf 34 Oneida St.

FOR SALE—House and lot corner of Fourth and Utica streets Fulton, or will exchange for a smaller house. Inquire of GILES S. PIPER, or 40tf MRS. S. M. BABCOCK.

FOR SALE—One Parlor Stove, two Extension Tables, one fall leaf Table, two Stands and a number of other articles at S. A. GREEN'S, 39w4 Oneida Street.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hard ware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

WORKING OXEN.

2 Pair For Sale by

42w4 W. S. NELSON.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6. First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y.
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y.
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I.
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y.
PHENIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Have a New

OLIVER STEEL PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

Chilled Plows.

A New Department!

-WINDOW SHADES!-

We have just bought, direct from the Manufacturer, a full line of Window Shades, Fringes, Curtain Fixtures etc., which we shall sell at Wholesale Prices. We buy for two stores and get these goods in JOBBERS QUANTITIES and consequently can retail them at what other dealers are obliged to pay for them. When you come in, ask to see our Curtains. Our leaders will be a Handsome Dado Shade, with Spring Fixtures Complete, at 35cts. each. Regular 50c. Shade.

Carpets! Carpets! Carpets!

It is unnecessary to say much about our Carpet Department, only that we have in our Spring Stock. The styles and colorings are elegant. We have by far the largest variety of any house in town and our prices are ALWAYS RIGHT. We have all grades, from a yard wide Hemp at 15cts. to the best Body Brussels. Don't buy a carpet this spring until you see our line.

We will do better by you than anyone else. Remember it.

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

If you have [illegible] - Try it, - - SCHENCK & FOSTER.

[illegible] the early killed [illegible] the weed that robs the crop [illegible]

If you are careful to keep the furrows straight, you will do faster and better plowing.

A variety of crops distributes work, receipts and expenses more evenly through the year and through the years.

The Bubach ranks among approved new strawberries. A fruit-grower who has seventy-one varieties of the strawberry gives the lead to Bubach No. 5.

Among the latest notable features of the poultry business is that of hatching ducks by incubators and fattening them for early market. It is claimed to be a very remunerative business.

Boxes in the kitchen windows provide probably the best and most convenient way to raise plants from seed for the home garden. Sow seed about six weeks before time to transplant to the open ground.

One objection urged against the Worden grape is that its stem is too thin to bear transportion well. A grower in Western New York has found that this difficulty is overcome when a vine leaf is placed under each cluster.

The exports of wheat and corn from all American ports and Montreal, from Sept. 1, 1888, to Jan. 26, 1889, were 34,662,000 bushels wheat and 22,800,000 bushels corn, against 43,185,000 bushels wheat and 16,259,000 bushels corn same time 1887-8.

In regard to feeding potatoes to cows, Professor Stewart says that raw potatoes are not digestible and only operate as a laxative food and any considerable amount fed raw will reduce the milk instead of increasing it." It it a fact that potatoes are absolutely indigestable in the stomach of domestic animals? Somebody has got a great deal to learn yet about feeds and feeding.

Southern Cultivater expresses the opinion that it is not best to turn under a green crop or turn over the soil at all in midsummer, unless the land can be fown at once in a crop that will promptly cover the surface again with vegitation.

The New England Homestead mentions two large New England fertilizer firms that have given up the business because the raw material of which fertilizers are made is worth from 20 to 30 per cent. more than it was a year ago, while it is impossible to sell the manufactured goods at higher prices.

A bill has been introduced into the New York Legislature which appropriates $30,000 to establish schools for teaching the art and pracaice of dairying, including the best modes of making butter and cheese. The schools are to be in charge of the Dairy Commissioners of the State. skilled professors and tutors are to be employed. The art of raising poultry is to be included.

P. H. Jacobs, who is authority on hatching with incubators, tells in Rural Home, in answer to the question, "How to feed the chicks?" that for the first thirty-six hours no food is given. Then stale bread, dipped in milk and squeezed dry, if given three times a day and a little box of granulated oatmeal is kept always before them until they begin to eat wheat, when wheat is given in place of the oatmeal. After that time any kind of food may be given.

Early Potatoes.

Farmers may forward the seed for their crops of early potatoes and gain several days. We usually cut the tubers in March, sprinkling the cut surfaces freely with gypsum (land plaster) to dry them and prevent their sticking together. The pieces are then laid in the "flats" first mentioned, or other shallow boxes. They are placed close together, skin sides up and exposed to the sunlight of the kitchen window. The eyes will form strong sprouts which at the proper season may be planted. If the first shoots that appear above ground are cut by the frost, other shoots will appear from the dormant buds and the labor will not be all lost. Of course this forwarding process is advised for those only who wish to be early with a part of their crop and who can try a part of their early kinds to see if it will pay. A still further help is to nail two boards together after the manner of a trough; place these [illegible] the rows and if a frost seems probable, or even a cool night, it is but the work of a minute to turn them over the rows; indeed it would be well to cover the rows every night until the potatoes outgrow their protection.—American Agriculturist.

Sow Oats Early.

Oats require a long season for growth and cool weather; therefore sow them early but do not sow on [illegible] ground with the expectation that they will sink down in the mud and [illegible] themselves. This slipshod method will do for the poor ignorant [illegible] (no man more so) [illegible]

[illegible] kinds of stock; [illegible] and working [illegible] the least.

Fourth—Very rarely does the fertility taken out of the food by our live-stock amount to one-fourth of that in it, and it may be one-twentieth.

Fifth—Nearly all the phosphorus is in the solid portion of the excrement, while the nitrogen and potash are in the urine; hence, if we allow the urine to go to waste, we have only one of the three valuable elements left in any quantity in what remains.

Sixth—In buying feeds we should always have in mind the manurial value that they contain, as well as the feeding value.

The Per Bushel Weight of Oats.

From the reports of correspondents relative to the bushel weight of oats, the following interesting particulars relative to the per bushel weight of oats in the most important oat-producing states are summarized in the Farmer's Review:

Ohio—Average weight, 32 pounds per bushel.

Indiana—Average weight, 31½ lbs.

Illinois—Average weight, 30¼ lbs.

Kentucky—Average weight, 31 lbs.

Iowa—Average weight, 26 pounds.

Missouri—Average weight, 31 lbs.

Kansas—Average weight, 29 pounds.

The highest weights reported were Cass Co. 35, and Custer Co. 36 pounds per bushel; The lightest weight Dixon County, 20 pounds.

Michigan—Average weight, 33½ lbs.

Wisconsin—Average weight 30 lbs.

Minnesota—Average weight, 30 pounds per bushel.

The Leading Lady Objects.

"If there is one thing above another' said Mrs. Harrison to me, 'that I detest, and have detested all my life, it is being made a circus of. And that is what has come to me in my old age, as it were. I've been a show, the whole family's been a show, ever since Mr. Harrison was elected. All last fall I sat in my sewing-room and watched the procession of feet pass across the parlor floor, wearing their path into the nap, and disappear like the trail of a caravan into the General's room beyond. Day by day I watched the path grow wider and deeper, and at last the caravan spread out and engulfed us all. But I don't propose to permit myself to be made a circus of forever. If there's any privacy to be found in the White House I propose to find and preserve it.' "—N. Y. World.

Derangement of the liver, with constipation, injures the complexion, induce pimples, sallow skin. Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose. Try them.

Royal Blood in Everybody's Veins.

Every man has two parents, four grand parents, eight-great-grandparents, sixteen great-great-grand-parents, thirty-two great-gfrat-great-grand parents, etc. Now, if we reckon 25 years to a generation, and carry on the above calculation to the time of William the Conqueror of England, it will be found that each living person must have had at that time even the enormous number of 35,000,000 ancestors. Now, suppose we make the usual allowance for the crossing or intermarrying of families in a genalogical line and for the same person being in many of the intersections of the family tree, still there will remain a number at that period even to cover the whole Norman and Anglo-Saxon races. What, therefore, might have been pious, princely, kingly or aristocratic, stands side by side in line with the most ignoble, plebian or democratic. Each man of the present day may be certain of having had, not only barons and 'squires, but even crowned heads, dukes, princes, or bishops or renowned generals, barristers, physicians, etc., among his ancestors.—Baltimore Sun.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please. Try them.

Don't Give up the Ship.

You have been told that consumption is incurable; that when the lungs are attacked by this terrible malady, the sufferer is past all help and the end is a mere question of time. You have noted with alarm the unmistakable symptoms of the disease; you have tried all manner of so-called bures in vain and you are now despondent and preparing for the worst. But don't give up the ship while Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery remains untried. It is not a cure all, nor will it perform miracles but it has cured thousands of cases of consumption in its earlier stages, where all other means had failed. Try it and obtain a new lease of life.

COULD NOT KEEP

Shop without them. I consider your Sulphur, Bitters a remarkable blood purifier. I know of several [illegible] whose cases were [illegible] less, that have been entirely [illegible] your medicine. The sale of Sulphur Bitters is so large that I could not keep shop without them. E. H. YATES, Pharmacist, 39 Essex street, Lawrence, Mass.

The latest nickel-in-the-slot device perfumes one's handkerchief.

[illegible] CATARRH REMEDY—A [illegible]

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible]

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] 100 Doses One Dollar

[illegible] Sulphur Bitters! [illegible] SULPHUR BITTERS [illegible] The Invalid's Friend. [illegible] Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published?

What Puzzled Patrick.

"Look at that, now," said an Irishman, as, in company with a friend, he passed a couple of Italians who were engaged in animated conversation.

"Well, what of it? They are talking to each other; nothing more."

"Yis; but here's the wan thing Oi want to know?"

"What is that?"

"How the divil can they tell phwhat they're talkin about?"—Merchant Traveler.

Two great enemies—Hood's Sarsaparilla and impure blood. The latter is utterly defeated by the peculiar medicine.

It has been calculated that not less than 20,000,000 of meteors, each large enough to be visible as a "shooting star," enter our atmosphere daily.

Relief from Sick Headache, Drowsiness, Nausea, Dizziness, Pain in the Side, guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. Don't forget this. Price 25 cents.

By adding a spoonful of vinegar and a little sugar to the stove blacking a high polish is easily produced.

DIDN'T WANT A GIRL.

Last summer my wife's health was all run down, and she wanted me to hire a girl to do the work. In a little while I found one I thought would suit her, when to my surprise she said I need not hire any one, as she felt much better, and thought another bottle of Sulphur Bitters would cure her. DONALD GREY, 41 Winchester square, Boston. 43tw.

At Monte Carlo $100,000,000 change hands annually and the bank's percentage amounts to $3,000,000.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10 cts., 50 cts., and $1.00. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

There are about 70,000 lace-makers in Normandy, and in all France there are nearly 200,000 women engaged in this industry.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow

A gas well at Kingsville, Ont., throws out nearly 5,000,000 cubic feet daily.

[illegible]

Best Plaster Ever Made

HOP PLASTER

Completely and [illegible] CURES [illegible]

25 Cts. 5 for $1. [illegible]

Look for the proprietor's signature HOP PLASTER CO., BOSTON, on all genuine goods.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address. Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Railroad Travelers.

Dizzy actors making the next town —"I'd like to own a railroad, Jimmy."

"What a wild, romantic dreamer you are getting to be, Sammy."

"Makes piles of money. What a business this line is doing!"

"Yes; we've had to get off the track to let a train go by every ten minutes."—Chicago Herald.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few drops of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At Druggists', 50c. and $1.00. Sample bottle free. 4t14.

Men at work on the Eiffel tower, in Paris, begin at 6 a. m., and have sunlight long before it reaches the city.

To the Readers of This Paper.

This style of advertising has been running in our paper a long time. Your eyes have wandered over it for years. It is simply here as a reminder to you that if you should ever be so unfortunate as to have a cold or any lung trouble Kemp's Balsam is the best cough cure. At all drug stores. Large bottles 50c. and $1 00. Sample bottles free. 4t14

In digging among the ruins of Pompeii they have found a piece of brass made to fit over the human cheek.

Eupepsy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mouring because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to direction and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and oust the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eupepsy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1 00 per bottle by R. E. Phillips' Druggist.

A man in the interior of Pennsylvania killed himself because he could not use his $400 new sleigh.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

About five hundred mechanics are now walking the streets of Dayton, Ohio, vainly seeking work.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 38 1 y

In a minute the lowest sound your ear can catch has been made by 800 vibrations.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable [illegible]

What a Comfort!

No Dirt! No Fuss! No Back Ache!

LASTS LONGER, LOOKS BRIGHTER, and makes the Shoes WEAR BETTER.

Don't let the women have all the best things, but use

Wolff's ACME Blacking

ONCE A WEEK FOR MEN. ONCE A MONTH FOR WOMEN.

I find it a tip top Harness Dressing.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion! Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ills arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c. and $1.00

SALVATION OIL

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure your cough for 25 c.

BEST IN THE WORLD ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS. WORCESTER, MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,

Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,

FULTON, N. Y.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

[illegible]

[illegible] vant girl is responsible for lots of domestic bliss.—Rochester Post-Express.

Be kind to the little ones. You can't develop children as you do corns—with a boot.—Binghamton Republican.

A mule in Mt. Vernon has immortalized itself by kicking the cheek off a sewing machine drummer.—N. Y. Herald.

"Love is blind," which may account for the fact that so many lovers forget to light the gas.—Terre Haute Express.

The self-closing door-spring is an awful aggravation to the man who is going out of your office and wants to slam the door.—Somerville Journal.

The autocrat of the breakfast table—The two-year-old child.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Both the barber and the farmer make less money when the crops are short.—Burlington Free Press.

Scene—A lonely spot on a dark night. "Would the gentleman be so kind as to assist a poor man? Beside this revolver, I have nothing in this wide, wide world to call my own.—Boston Saturday Gazette.

Stranger (in temperance town) —"Ain't you got nothing to drink?" Hotel clerk (confidentially)—"Go over to that machine and drop two nickels in the slot.—Philadelphia Record.

Result of a shopping tour. Elijah (looking at an almanac)—"Have you seen the official figures, general?" Gen. Harrison—"Don't speak so loud, 'Lije. Mrs. Harrison is anxious to keep them away from the newspapers. Yes, I've seen them."—Chicago Herald.

Jinks (at a party)—"I don't see what's the matter with that pretty woman over there. She was awful flirty a little while ago, but now she won't have anything to do with me." Stranger—"I have just come in. She is my wife."—New York Weekly.

Now they have "lady White Caps" in Indiana, who send around threatening notices to objects of their displeasure. The extent of their severity is not stated, but we presume that in extreme cases they compel men to go to afternoon teas.—Kansas City Times.

A woman in Chicago, while dressing a chicken, found a ten dollar gold piece in its crop. Poultry-raisers tell us that there is seldom so much money as this in chickens, however.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

The querist was a sprightly youth. "Why would a barber rather shave three Irishmen than one German?" asked he. "You give it up? Of course you do. Well, because he'd get forty-five cents from the Irishmen and only fourteen cents from the German."—Chicaco Journal.

An Old Family.—Mr. De Pink—My dear, I've found a husband for you.

Miss De Pink—Does he belong to an old family?

Mr. De Pink—Yes, indeed. All his brothers are over 80, and he's gray-headed himself.—Philadelphia Record.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher, "what scriptural quotation would you use if somebody should call Jimmy a fool? You remember, 'He that calleth—' "

Johnny—Oh, I know! "The truth should not be spoken at all times."—Boston Transcript.

"What a wonderful painter Rubens was!" remarked Merritt, at the art gallery. "Yes," assented Cora. "It is said of him that he could change a laughing face into a sad one by a single stroke." "Why," spoke up little Johnnie, in disgust, "my school teacher can do that."—Harper's Bazar.

Harry (horrified at seeing Kate puffing at a cigarette)—Mercy! Do you smoke, Kate?

Kate—Not because I enjoy it, Harry. I want to fill the rooms with smoke, so that, should a burglar break in, he'll think there's a man in the house.

Harry—Well, you're only losing your time and soiling your lips. A man never smokes cigarettes—leastwise no man that a burglar need be afraid of.—Boston Transcript.

A patent medicine vender in a country village was dilating to a crowd upon the wonderful efficiency of his iron bitters one week when he was shoved into prison for murder, and what does Steve do but open a vein in his arm and take iron enough out of his blood to make a crowbar, with which he pried the doors open and let himself out. Fact!"—Exchange.

Hooker (to old college chum)—"Yes, your son drops in to see me quite often." Brooker—"That's strange. Tom never mentions it. By the bye, what business are you in now?" Hooker—"I'm a pawnbroker."—Buffalo Courier.

Two little Mobile boys were fishing from a wharf [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Sold by Druggists and General Storekeepers. [illegible]

There are 188 young lady students at Cornell, and the 1,044 young gentlemen have to hump themselves to gather in any of the honors of the institution.

Bloodbuilder,

The new vegetable tonic alterative and blood purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts directly upon the blood, [illegible] tone and vigor to the [illegible] system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female weakness, and all blood, liver and kidney diseases. Price $1 00. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

More oranges, lemons, bananas, figs and raisins are consumed in the United States than in any other country in the world.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Fifteen boys in the Pittsburg Cooking School have taken prizes for efficiency in cooking.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR:

Or Social and Moral Culture.

Introduced by ROSE ELIZABETH CLEVELAND, having the largest sale of any strictly subscription book published.

Terms and circulars free; if you mean business and want to commence work at once, send $1 for outfit. Exclusive Territory Guaranteed. Hoping to secure your services for 1889, we are, Yours truly,

LYMAN W. DICKERSON & CO.

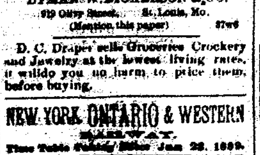
919 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

(Mention this paper) 37w6

D. C. Draper sells Groceries Crockery and Jewelry at the lowest living rates, it willdo you no harm to price them, before buying.

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table [illegible] Jan 28, 1889.



[illegible]

[illegible] Wednesday [illegible] the Friday [illegible] April, July and October.

[illegible] April, July and October.

[illegible] the [illegible] and the [illegible]

[illegible] on the Friday [illegible] April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal [illegible] the court [illegible] day previous thereto.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, [illegible] is hereby given to all persons [illegible] against Maria Crumelin, late of [illegible] Oswego, in said county deceased, to present [illegible] with the vouchers thereof, to the [illegible] at Fulton in the county of Oswego [illegible] York, on or before the [illegible] 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. [illegible]
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, }
C. H. DAVID, } Executors.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 28th 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix.

[illegible] TRUE & CO., Box 486, Augusta, Maine.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 7 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c. [illegible] PAYNE & CO., Athens, Pa.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c and $1.00 at Druggists.

G·M·D

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, and bodily health and vigor will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Eating Sores or Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating and nutritive properties, if taken in time. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Catarrh in the Head, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

COUGH KILLER

I had a very Bad Cold, and got a bottle of Dr. Seth Arnold's Cough Killer, and it helped me at once. It will do all it is recommended to do.

Wm. F. Alverson, [illegible] Ulster County, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, [illegible]

HEAD

[illegible]

ACHE

[illegible]

[illegible]
The [illegible] didn't see me
[illegible] by the door,
He [illegible] I was old and deaf
As [illegible] and poor.
He [illegible] a Christian,
For he led me [illegible] through
The long aisle of that crowded church
To find a pleasant pew.

I wish you'd heard the singin',
It had the old time ring;
The preacher said with trumpet voice,
"Let all the people sing."
The tune was "Coronation"
And the music upward rolled,
Till I thought I heard the angels
Striking all their harps of gold.

My deafness seemed to melt away,
My spirit caught the fire,
I joined my feeble, trembling voice,
With that melodious choir.
And sang as in my youthful days,
"Let angels prostrate fall,
Bring forth the royal diadem
And crown Him Lord of all."

I tell you wife it did me good
To sing that hymn once more;
I felt like some wrecked mariner
Who gets a glimpse of shore.
I almost wanted to lay down
This weather beaten form,
And anchor in that blessed port,
Forever from the storm.

The preachin'? Well, I can't just tell
All that the preacher said,
I know it wasn't written,
I know it wasn't read.
He hadn't time to read it
For the lightnin' of his eye
Went flashin' 'long from pew to pew,
Nor passed a sinner by.

The sermon wasn't flowery,
'Twas simple gospel truth,
It fitted poor old men like me,
It fitted hopeful youth.
'Twas full of consolation
For weary hearts that bleed.
'Twas full of invitation
To Christ and not to creed.

The preacher made sin hideous
In Gentiles and in Jews;
He shot the golden sentences
Down in the finest pews.
And though I can't see very well,
I saw the falling tear
That told me hell was some ways off
And heaven very near.

How swift the golden moments fled
Within that holy place,
How brightly beamed the light of heaven
From every happy face
Again I longed for that sweet time.
When friend shall meet with friend,
When congregations ne'er break up,
And sabbath has no end.

I hope to meet that minister,
That congregation too,
In that dear home beyond the stars
That shine in heaven's blue.
I doubt not I'll remember
Beyond life's evening gray
That happy hours of worship,
In the model church to-day.

Dear wife, the fight will soon be fought,
The victory soon be won,
The shining goal is just ahead,
The race is nearly run.
O'er the river we are nearing
They are thronging to the shore,
To shout our safe arrival
Where the weary weep no more.
—Anon.

Druggists tell us that the best selling article with them now, is Laxador. Price only 25 cents.

Why suffer sleepless nights when your baby is not well? You can buy Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup at all drug stores at a quarter of a dollar.

THE PROPER THING.

Pleated overskirts are likely to be a feature of spring gowns.

Blocks two inches square are in many of the light spring woolens.

Long coats of shot silk with raised velvet figures are to be worn in the spring.

India silks for summer dresses have the ground pink with black outline figures.

Summer camel's hair of a stylish color is bordered with embroidery like cut work.

The genuine mutton leg sleeves, much larger than those now worn, are on new spring dresses.

A fancy for turning the hem of lower skirts up on the right side is seen again on light woolen dresses.

For early spring long cloaks of fawn or gray cloths shaped like the Russian circulars will be worn.

Pink with black is a favorite combination of colors that will continue into summer for various dresses.

The [illegible] India silks appear among the summer fabrics and are figured with white in large designs.

Very sheer woolen stuffs for spring and summer are woven sleazily in straight threads like veiling and bunting.

White [illegible] for spring and summer wear are sprinkled with Empire [illegible], also borders of stripes or of [illegible].

Spring [illegible] of delicate gray, reseda, [illegible] and rush green shades are [illegible] embroidered in colored [illegible] and metals.

WAR[illegible] Log Cabin Remedies—old fa[illegible] simple compounds, used b[illegible] our hardy fore[illegible] but "old re[illegible] [illegible]

WAIT PATIENTLY.

BY GEORGE R. [illegible]

How hard it is to wait [illegible] for anything that our [illegible] whether he wished for [illegible] is of a heavenly or an earthly character! It is natural to want what we desire right away—even [illegible] almost impossible.

A mother sits watching at night at the window for the return of her wayward boy. She is impatient. Minutes with her are like hours with others. She wants him immediately, before the big hand on the clock moves a sixteenth of an inch. While waiting, the suspense causes tear after tear to drop on the window sill. Mother's boy ought to hurry home, for the great heart of her who gave him birth is beating too hard for her safety. Perhaps she ought to be more patient—she tried to be, but she can not.

To such a mother all I can say is, Wait as patiently as you can. Keep the lights in the window burning brightly, for when your prodigal boy has fed on the husks until he is tired he may return, and need all the light you can give him to illumine his pathway homeward.

Patience—what a virtue! How hard it is to travel miles and miles to tell the story of redeeming grace and dying love when no man or woman heeds your kind invitations to give Jesus their hearts! It brings on a feeling that is worse than seasickness. It requires patience to keep up your faith and even in your sleep you are restless. But recollect that patience has its reward.

It requires patience of a peculiar kind to stand the wear and tear of every-day business life. A business man in debt needs a ton of it every morning as he leaves his home to struggle with that terrible enemy of human happiness—back debts. How they stick—closer than a brother. All day long they ask and demand serious consideration. When you feel like spending a dollar for a good cause or want to befriend a destitute neighbor, they look you square in the face and say, "Me too!" Such a condition requires fortitude and patience of the strongest kind.

And who is more in need of patience than that pale, worn-out little delicate mother, with three or four small children to look after, besides the cares of house-keeping? The little tots, like young birds in a nest, have their mouths open from morning till night, wanting something to be dropped into them. That mother's patience is sorely tried; but she plods along, with the rainbow of hope before her. The future expectations may never be realized; but they help to work out patience, and, like angels' visits, are welcomed.

Patience is a grand thing to have when struggling for political reform. It is hard to be knocked down election after election, even in a good cause. After a while it becomes a little monotonous. It goes against human nature to have men oppose you who ought to be with you. To be called vile names for trying to do what is admitted even by your opponents to be right, is a cross to bear that it requires patience to stand up under. But always recollect that the road to reform is not strewn with flowers, giving forth sweet fragrance: but the pathway is filled with thorny bushes, that prick you from Monday morning until Saturday night. Have patience to endure until victory comes. The heavier the cross now, the brighter will be the crown hereafter.

Have patience with your neighbors, and especially with their children. You must not expect everybody's children to be like yours. What a queer-looking flock of children would be exhibited if every one had the same colored eyes and hair, the same kind of noses, the same way of walking, talking, or crying. Have patience with the boy who is not as bright as you think he ought to be; he is doing the best he knows how; pat him on the back gently and kiss him sweetly. Have patience with him until the little spark in him grows more lustrous, and then will come your reward.

Have patience with that red-headed, freckled-faced, romping, careless girl. She is a terror, perhaps; but that is the very reason why you must not be a terror to her. What an amount of steam she has on board, and what a women she will be if you can only have the patience to break her in, without injuring her! If you succeed, she will be worth a dozen of your sickly, lifeless girls, who never have to be corrected because they have not got steam enough on board even to whistle.

Patience! I wish I had more. If it could be bought by the pound I would hunt up a span of Percherons, hitch them to a good-sized wagon, and take a load home with me. But it cannot be bought. It is a grace that comes by [illegible] cultivation all the year round. If you want it badly enough to toil [illegible] and [illegible] for the [illegible], you can have it.—N. Y. Witness.

[illegible]

As the [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] feeling, but [illegible] prejudice [illegible] dying out. The general disposition of political leaders and journals, especially those of high character, is to render a fair and just judgment regarding President Cleveland's administration of the Government during the last four years.

There are the most gratifying indications that the spirit of political antagonism has been for years growing less bitter, and more fair and just, and that the savagery of partisanship is disappearing before the advance of a more enlightened public sentiment. The general mass of our citizens, those who follow as well as those who lead in politics, have come to recognize that Republicans and Democrats are not greatly different from each other in either public or private virtue, or in wisdom, or in the lack of it.

It has come to be perceived that those of neither party have exclusively inherited or acquired all the patriotism, courage and integrity which should be the attributes of sovereign citizens, and this belated recognition enables all but the prejudiced few to be just to the public servant who has in good faith and with his best endeavor sought to serve honestly and wisely his countrymen in the high office of Chief Magistrate.

There is always anger and bitterness in partisan defeat for a time. The American people are apt to make their political campaigns fiery crusades, and the party that is overthrown feels the hurt the more because it waged its fight so hotly. It was natural that the Republican party, which had held control of the of the national Executive for 24 consecutive years, should feel angry and bitter against the men who had ousted it. The flood of misrepresentation and denunciation which rose against President Cleveland in 1884, became a deluge in 1888, when he became a candidate for re-election, and when the chances of, his success seemed so great. If the statements of his adversaries could have been accepted as true they would have made him appear the worst of Chief Magistrates, without a redeeming virtue. But he was defeated, and malice, anger, chagrin and disappointment offer no longer any ground of vintage against him. Detraction and misrepresentation have not only been nearly silenced, but those who record in the press, or through public speeches, the passing history of the day, are tardily doing justice to President Cleveland, frankly recognizing in him a man of unselfish purposes, firm principles, invincible integrity, manly courage and patriotic zeal. The wisdom of his policy, the expediency of his plans, the discretion of his acts cannot always be approved. He was guilty of some grave errors of judgment, and has paid the penalty of them in his defeat.

But even to his mistakes the country should be just, if it cannot be kind to them. President Cleveland has been most severely condemned because of his tariff policy which seemed to those of clear, experienced judgment to be fatally erroneous as applied to this country and people; because of the alleged disregard of his pledges in respect to the elevation of the Civil Service; and because of his course with reference to private pension bills. The first of these arrayed against him all supporters of the principles of protection to American industry, both without and within his own party; the second of them many friends of good government, both Republicans and Democrats, who desired that public office should be regarded as a public trust, and not as a political spoil; and the third, through a misunderstanding of the just motives which inspired him, as we believe, a large proportion of the veterans of the war.

But it is not yet fully perceived that President Cleveland displayed not only good conscience but courage in his Tariff message of December 1887, and in his numerous vetoes of private pension bills, there can be no doubt that ultimately his countrymen will recognize that he did so. It seems impossible to believe that Mr. Cleveland, when he wrote and promulgated his celebrated Tariff message, was ignorant of the fact that one of the most cherished principles of his countrymen was protection to their industries. He must have known that, but himself believed differently, and feeling it to be his duty as President to express his dissent from the general view, he did express it, and, in the judgment of the [illegible] politicians, so wrought his own defeat. He might have been expedient and won; he preferred to be right as he saw the right, and so lost the Presidential [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] that in the [illegible] respect of his [illegible] courageous and [illegible] tion of the affairs of the Government will increase, and [illegible] his retirement he will be followed by the grateful sense of their appreciation of all the good he has, with high conscience and patriotic purpose, wrought in their behalf.—Ledger, Philadelphia.

AN OPEN QUESTION.

Is Harrison a Descendant of Pocahontas?

It is popularly believed that President Harrison is descended from Pocahontas and from the Parliamentary soldier and regicide General Thomas Harrison, who was executed in 1660.

Pocahontas, daughter of Powhatan, manifested a friendliness for the early white settlers of Virginia when she was but a girl. The story of how she saved the life of Captain John Smith, who had been captured and condemned to death by her father—how she, on several occasions, made known to the settlers their danger when about to be attacked—is well known to all acquainted with the early history of America. Her subsequent marriage with John Rolfe, an Englishman—her removal to England where a son was born, from whom numerous wealthy families of Virginia claim descent—is the basis of the opinion that President Harrison is one of her descendants.

Whether this be true or not it is, however, well-known that President Harrison is a descendant of a noted family, distinguished alike in peace and war. The name of Harrison is already indelibly written upon the pages of American history, for General Wm. Henry Harrison—the ninth President of the United States—was the grandfather of Gen. Ben. Harrison.

The election of another member of the Harrison family is but another proof of the prevailing disposition of the public to return to healthy administration of public affairs so characteristic of the earlier years of government. A similar desire has been manifested for a revival of early manners and customs in many various ways, of which mention in particular can be made of the prevailing demand for those old time preparations which were so successfully employed in the prevention and cure of the ills and ailments which frequented the early log-cabin homes.

After much inquiry and research a noted manufacturer has procured the original methods used in their preparation and again under the name of Warner's Log Cabin Remedies, the public is possessed of those well-known preparations for the cure of coughs, colds, consumption in its early stages, blood disorders, catarrh, dyspepsia, debility, and other common disorders.

Nothwithstanding the large amount of time, attention and expense which the manufacture of Warner's Safe Cure demands—its well-known reputation as the only remedy for the prevention and cure of kidney diseases being world wide—the manufacturer is resolved to push the merit of Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla to the front because of its splendid blood purifying properties and great value as a household remedy and spring-time system renovator.

Pocahontas, during her life-long friendship for the white settlers of Virginia, besides her many acts of kindness, is said to have contributed much valuable information to the log cabin home concerning the successful methods employed by the Indians in the treatment of disease and it matters little whether the alleged relationship between herself and the President be true or not for the name of Pocahontas is already immortal.

A Young American.

A good way to learn to love any country is to be born in it. At any rate, children born in America, no matter what their foreign parentage, are usually decided little Americans. They soon get "digested into" American life as Wendell Phillips used to phrase it—which is the best possible thing for all parties concerned.

The editor of Our Youth says he was one day seated in the barber's chair, while the knight of the scissors was waving his weapons over his head, when a little boy came into the room. The barber spoke to him in the German; the boy answered in English, whereupon the barber said, [illegible] [illegible] a very remarkable case, and [illegible] imaginative, it is very [illegible].

There is a family in this city who are dependent at this moment upon a little child for all the present comfort of their lives. A few weeks ago the young wife and mother was stricken down to die. It was so sudden, so dreadful, when the grave family physician called them together in the parlor, and in his solemn, professional way intimated to them the truth—there was no help.

Then the question arose among them who would tell her. Not the doctor! It would be cruel to let the man of science go to their dear one on such an errand. Not the aged mother, who was to be left childless and alone. Not the young husband, who was was walking the floor with clenched hands and rebellious heart. Not—there was only one other, and at this moment he looked up from the book he had been playing with unnoticed by them all, and asked gravely:

"Is mamma doin' to die?"

Then, without waiting for an answer, he sped from the room and upstairs as fast as his little feet would carry him. Friends and neighbors were watching by the sick woman. They wonderingly noticed the pale face of the child as he climbed on the bed and laid his small hand on his mother's pillow.

"Mamma," he asked, in sweet, caressing tones, "is you 'fraid to die?"

The mother looked at him with swift intelligence. Perhaps she had been thinking of this.

"Who—told—you—Charlie?" she asked faintly.

"Doctor, an' papa, an' gamma—everybody," he whispered. "Mamma, dear, 'ittle mamma, doan' be 'fraid to die, 'ill you?"

"No, Charlie," said the young mother, after one supreme pang of grief; "no mamma won't be afraid!"

"Jus' shut your eyes in 'e dark, mamma, teep hold my hand—an', an' when you open 'em mamma, it'll be all light there."

When the family gathered awe-stricken at the bedside, Charlie held up his little hand.

"H-u-s-h! My mamma doan' to sleep. Her won't wake up here any more!"

And so it proved. There was no heartrending farewell, no agony of parting; for when the young mother woke she had passed beyond, and as baby Charlie said: "It was all light there."

The Future Life.

I feel in myself the future life. I am like a forest which has been more than once cut down. The new shoots are stronger and livelier than ever. I am rising, I know, toward the sky. The earth gives me a generous sap, but heaven lights me with the reflection of unknown worlds.

You say the soul is nothing but the resultant of bodily powers; why then is my soul the more luminous when my bodily powers begin to fail? Winter is on my head and eternal spring is in my heart. Then I breathe, at this hour, the fragrance of the lilies, the violets and the roses as at twenty years.

The nearer I approach the end the plainer I hear around me the immortal symphonies of the worlds which unite me.

It is marvelous, yet simple. It is a fairy tale, and it is a history. For half a century I have been writing my thoughts in prose, verse, history, philosophy, drama, romance, tradition, satire, ode, song—I have tried all. But I feel that I have not said the thousandth part of what is in me. When I go down to the grave I can say, like so many others, "I have finished my day's work;" but I cannot say, "I have finished my life." My day's work will begin again the next morning. My tomb is not a blind alley, it is a thoroughfare. It closes in the twilight to open with the dawn.

I improve every hour because I love this world as my fatherland. My work is hardly above a foundation. I would be glad to see it mounting and mounting forever. The thirst for the infinite proves infinity.—Victor Hugo.

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. Sold by W. J. Watson.

Mrs. Senator Stanford, in her drives about Washington, rides behind a pair of magnificent black horses which are valued at $30,000.

St. JACOBS OIL
[illegible]
REMEDY FOR PAIN
Facts [illegible]
Fresh, Strong, Convincing Facts.
[illegible]

[illegible]
BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
Compounded only from Pure Grape Cream Tartar, [illegible] ... Contains no Ammonia, Lime, Alum, Phosphates or other impurity. [illegible] Sold in cans only. Geo. C. Hanford, Mfr., Syracuse, N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part, pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sonsy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's 51797, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

A Sure Test.

Bessie—Ma and pa have been quarreling, haven't they?

Willie—Yep.

Bessie—Which one got the best of it—do you know?

Willie—Not yet. I'm waiting to see which one of them slams the door going out.—Burlington Free Press.

March, April, May

Are the months in which to purify the blood, as the system is now most susceptable to benefit from medicine. Hence now is the time to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, a medicine peculiarly adopted for the purpose, possessing peculiar curative powers. It expels every impurity from the blood, and also gives it vitality and richness. It creates an appetite, tones the digestion, invigorates the liver, and gives new life and energy to every function of the body. The testimony of thousands of thousands, as to the great benefit derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla, should convince everybody that it is peculiarly the best blood purifier and spring medicine.

A sea bass weighing 425 pounds was caught at San Diego, Cal., a few days ago.

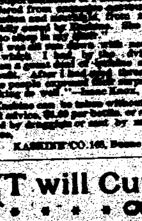
Cole's Carbolisalve

Is a truly wonderful remedy, suited alike to the skin of the child and the adult, and its soothing, cleansing and healing properties renders its application universal. It has no equal as a cure for Piles, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poisons, Bites of Insects, Chilblains, Chaps and all Itching and Irritating diseases of the Skin and Scalp. It immediately relieves the pain of Scalds and Burns and cures the worst case without a scar. Get only the genuine which has a black wrapper with green letters. Small boxes 25 cents; Large boxes 50cts. Sold by H. C. Giesler. 40tf

A correspondent of Science states that holding the breath is found to control the sensibility to tickling.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40-ow

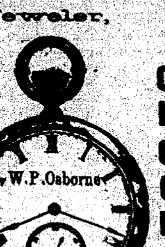
KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)



Brain-Workers,
Dyspeptics,
Chronic Invalids,
All Praise it,
No Narcotic.
A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.
[illegible]
KASKINE CO. 165, [illegible] St., New York.

IT will Cure — — COUGHS.
IT will Heal — — SORE THROAT.
IT will Save — — [illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE.
Jeweler,
WATCHES
CLOCKS



W.P.Osborne
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

ELY'S CREAM BALM Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain & Inflammation, Heals the Sores. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
CATARRH
HAY-FEVER
TRY THE CURE.
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists: by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York [illegible] Mixed Flower Seeds, [illegible] and 10c. certificate for seeds, your choice, all for 2 stamps (4c). Every flower lover delighted. Tell all your friends. G. W. PARK, Fannettsburg, Pa. Send at once, this notice appears but a few times.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL-COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

CHEST PAINS
COUGHS, COLDS
Chest Pains, Coughs and Colds, Weak Lungs Backache, Kidney Pains, Rheumatism, and all Muscular Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

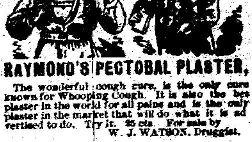
UNITED LIFE
AND ACCIDENT
INSURANCE ASSOCIATION,
44 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Lowest rates. Best security. $1,000 policy, yearly cost, $12. Reliable Agents wanted.
Hon. PETER BOWE, Pres.

SALESMEN WANTED
Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid. Special inducements to beginners. Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. Hooker Nurseries, (established 1835. ROCHESTER, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

Oklahoma A BOOK giving full description and information containing three MAPS. CIRCULARS FREE.
A. BASS & CO., McPHERSON, KANSAS. 43w6

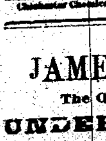
FARMS BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South J. F. MANCHA, Clairmont, Va

MR. HARRISON SAYS



RAYMOND'S PECTORAL PLASTER,
The wonderful cough cure, is the only cure known for Whooping Cough. It is also the best plaster in the world for all pains and is the only plaster in the market that will do what it is advertised to do. Try it. 25 cts. For sale by W. J. WATSON, Druggist.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND.



[illegible]
Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
[illegible]

Business Cards.
MORRILL BROS. Steam Job Printers, First Street, over [illegible]. Every kind of [illegible] executed in a [illegible] manner at low prices.

JANE BROADWELL,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

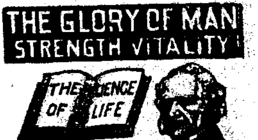
Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, - Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

FREE [illegible] Solid Gold Watch [illegible] $85. [illegible] Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine.

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH VITALITY



THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskilful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. [illegible] and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS, A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 Pearl St., [illegible]

TRADERS & TRAVELERS
[illegible]
Benefits
$5000. for DEATH [illegible]
[illegible]
287 BROADWAY, N. Y.
LIVE AGENT WANTED.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobacco and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
[illegible]

[illegible] printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

THE Ainsworth bill permitting women to vote in municipal elections has been read a third time in the Assembly and ordered to be placed on final passage March 25th.

VIRGIL JACKSON the Oneida county murderer is sentenced to be hanged to-morrow. Gov. Hill has denied the application for executive clemency and consequently he will hang.

THE Phœnix Chronicle has nearly doubled its former size and came to us last week in its new and improved form. The Chronicle is a bright, active and enterprising paper and the citizens of Schrœppel should give it the support it deserves.

JOHN ERICSSON, the great engineer whose most noteworthy achievement was the building of the Monitor which arrived at Hampton Roads, during the late war in time to save the U. S. fleet there from destruction by the rebel ironclad Merrimac, died in New York, on Thursday, in his 86th year.

NOMINATIONS are now being made by President Harrison to the Senate. The following were made yesterday: Arthur C. Mellette of Watertown, Dak., to be Secretary of Dakota; Cornelius H. Hanford of Washington Territory to be Chief Justice of the Supreme court of the Territory of Washington; Gen. W. Irvin of Montana to be Marshal of the United States for the Territory of Montana; Smiley N. Chambers of Indiana to be Attorney of the United States for the District of Indiana; George S. Batcheller of New York to be Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, vice Hugh S. Thompson, resigned; Albert G. Porter of Indiana to be Minister to Italy; John A. Enander of Illinois to be Minister to Denmark; George W. Dunn to be Postmaster at Binghamton, N. Y., and Richard Root, Postmaster at Keokuk, Ia.; Lensie L. Sayles at Malone, N. Y.; Ira Dorrance at Middletown, N. Y.; L. R. Muzzy at Pulaski, N. Y., and W. L. Keers at Rhinelander, N. Y.

Free Reclining Chair Cars on the New York Ontario & Western Railway.

The new reclining chair cars which have been in the Middletown shops for the past three or four weeks undergoing repairs, are now running regularly on night express trains 5 and 6, between New York and Suspension Bridge.

These cars have been enlarged to accommodate 44 passengers each, redecorated, and one car furnished with Johnson patent reclining chairs, and the other with the Van Beek.

The seats are absolutely free to through passengers, and we do not hesitate to announce, that they are the finest and most comfortable passenger cars in service on any line in the State of New York, and are highly appreciated by the public.

Rip Van Winkle.

This well know play is to be presented at the opera house on Saturday evening March 16, with J. W. Carner, well known as an actor to many Fultonians, in the title role. The following is from the Oneida Dispatch of a recent date:

Jake Carner's theatrical troupe, which preformed in Conry Opera House, Tuesday evening, greatly to the delight of all in attendance, is to furnish two more entertaluments in the same place, being engaged for Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. On Thursday evening the ever popular drama of "Rip Van Winkle" is to be presented, Mr. Carner taking the character of "Rip," in which role, as hundreds of our citizens who have been privileged to witness his representation on previous occasions can testify, he very greatly excels. Few professionals—not even excepting Jefferson—do better justice to his wonderful conception of Irving. Carner is too well know in this section to require extended introduction,—never furnishing a cheap performance.

Wide Awake.

This popular magazine for March has several features appropriate to the inauguration month among which are "How Nat Saw the Inauguration"; a reminiscence of the Harrison campaign of 1840 and a story about Mrs. Harrison when she was a school girl, [illegible] pathetic Alsace-Lorraine [illegible] "The Last Day of School" has [illegible] translated for this number, [illegible] an exciting western story [illegible] was Kidnapped" and a [illegible] story "The Coon Hunt [illegible]" many other [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Condon, Mary Keyes, Agnes Murphy, Agnes McCormick, Maude Connelly, G. A. Ryther.

ALGEBRA—Etta Moody, Mattie Quigg, Charles B. Doty, Josie Loomer, Velma Dann, Elmer Dutcher, Gertie Wells.

PHYSIOLOGY—Tommy Coles, Anna Kimber, Gertie Wells, Mattie Quigg, Stella Shattuck, Elmer Dutcher.

CIVIL GEOGRAPHY—Elmer Dutcher, Etta Moody, Mattie Quigg.

A GRAMMAR—Anna Kimber, Velma Dann, Anna Althouse, Gertie Wells, Etta Moody, Kittie Hartnett.

B GRAMMAR—Maggie Crahan, Bertha Kelley, G. A. Ryther, Mary E. Keys, Agnes Murphy, Agnes McCormick, Tommy Coles.

A GEOGRAPHY—Meggie Craban, Elmer Dutcher, Anna Althouse, Guy Clute, Anna Kimber, Mary Keyes, G. A. Ryther, Tommy Coles, Mattie Quigg, Etta Moody.

J. F. COOPER, Principal.

The New Board of Supervisors.

Albion—W. H. Cox, D.†
Amboy—J. S. Clelland, R.*
Boylston—Geo. N. Shafty, R.*
Constantia—James Gallagher, D.
Granby—J. C. Wells, R.†
Hannibal—D. F. Acker, R.
Hastings—Jared Mallory, R.
Mexico—John W. Ladd, R.†
New Haven—Geo. M. Whitney, R.*
Orwell—Arthur Olmstead, R.*

OSWEGO CITY.

1st. Ward—John Donovan, D.
2d. Ward—John Woods, D.†
3d. Ward—Wm. D. Allen, R.*
4th. Ward—A. A. Wellington, R*
5th. Ward—Dennis J. Sweeney, D*
6th. Ward—Edgar E. Frost, R*
7th. Ward—J. Cusick, D.†
8th. Ward—John Carvey, D.
Oswego Town—Frank A. Place, R.
Palermo—Henry F. Parsons, R.†
Parish—James David, R.
Redfield—George Thompson, R.
Richland—Isaac J. Rich, R.*
Sandy Creek—E. Upton, R.
Schrœppel—John O'Brien, D.†
Scriba—William Enos, R.
Volney—W. B. Howard, D.*
West Monroe—W. R. Paul, D.*
Williamstown—W. H. Selleck, R*

*Re-elected.
†Previously served in the Board.
Republicans 18.
Democrats 11.

Not What She Expected.

"Miss Laura," began the youth, with a flushed face and a tremor in his voice, "I came this evening to ask you"——

"One moment, please, Mr. Hankerson. Willie, you are making too much noise with those blocks. You'd better take them into another room."

"To ask you," resumed the young man, mopping his brow with a trembling hand, "if you"——

"Willie, take those blocks instantly and go."

"If you have tried that new headache remedy you said the other evening you were going to take, and if it did you any good. I am nearly wild with headache to-night."

"I have forgotten the circumstance to which you allude, Mr. Hankinson," said Miss Kajones, coldly. "Willie, you may remain if you wish."—Chicago Tibune.

Battle Island Cheese Factory.

The annual meeting of the patrons of Battle Island cheese factory will be held at said factory, Friday, March 22d, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

Mr. Leroy Owens of Pennellville, has been hired to make the cheese the coming season and that is guarantee enough that the factory will be run first-class and as a No. 1 factory.

The factory has had several hundred dollars needed repairs expended on it this winter by the present proprietor, W. H. Merriam and is in first-class order for the coming season, with the addition of another large vat it will be prepared to receive all the milk that will come the present season.

HART keeps every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. TRY IT and you will be well pleased. 44tf

How She Rejected Him.

He proposed on the way home from church with a Buffalo girl one Sunday evening. She was too young to marry, and did not want him anyway. But she said "yes," with the stipulation that he should get her father's consent. The young man was happy until he discovered the next day that his adored one's father had been dead for several years. He has removed to another city.—Buffalo News.

OBITUARY.

Lillian Belle daughter of Daniel and Alice McCarthy died in this village on Sunday March 10 of consumption at the age of 23 years. Funeral services at the house at 2 p. m. to-day and at the M. E. church at 2:30. Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating.

James W. Hoey died on Sunday March 10 at his home in this village at the age of 20 years. Funeral was held from the church of the Immaculate Conception yesterday forenoon.

Don't forget to try the Loyal Sock Coal, for sale by Hart, office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

[illegible]

[illegible] Clute has sold his farm to [illegible] Shattuck [illegible] Thompson's [illegible] rented his farm and is going to Mexico. Charles Kline has sold his farm and he is moving to Fulton where it is said he will go into business. Loomis Parsons who is on the George Woodruff farm will go onto his father's place and Ed. Myers of New Haven will take the Woodruff farm.

Arthur Loomis who cut his foot a short time ago is gaining very fast and will be out again soon.

Every one should remember the masque party at the Palermo Centre house, on Friday evening next, as it is the last one of the season and will be well attended if a good night.

It is stated that our postmaster F. H. Jennings will work through the harvest time for the Osborne mower and reaper works of Auburn and will have his headquarters at Fulton.

J. C. Campbell and wife will move to Bowens Corners about the first of April, to work in the butter and cheese factory at that place for F. H. Dolbear.

Sanford Graves of Clifford went to the Mexico depot one day last week and leaving his horse went into the depot. The result was a broken cutter and the horse received a very bad cut also on one of his legs by being scared by the cars.

Allie Marks is in town on a visit at his father's. He is to work at New Haven the coming summer.

Parish.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The regents examination in the Union School was acceptably passed by the scholars of the school.

D. R. Fritts has purchased the hardware stock of Edick & Church.

A new grange has been formed in this place consisting of about 50 members. The probabilities are that it will result in a large and effective order. Farmers should give all the encouragement possible to such an organization. There is also a large farmers club organized in town which holds frequent sessions.

James David, Republican, who was elected Supervisor of Parish is a brother of C. H. David of Fulton, has in previous years filled the office very acceptably and will doubtless do so again.

Mrs. Angeline White was buried from her late home in this village on on Saturday, March 2, 1889, at the age of 80 years. Mrs. White moved into Parish with her parents, 1814 and was married to Dr. Austin White, the first physician that ever settled in town, about the year 1835. Dr. White died about 18 years ago and from choice she has lived alone in the home since that time. She gave special orders to two of her lady friend show to prepare her burial. The house was to be locked up after her death for four days and no one to be admitted during that time. These instructions were lived up to.

Persons who are agitating the subject of uniting of the Fulton and Oswego Falls schools are on the right track.

Save your Master wrapper and get the "Snow Girl." 44tf

South Granby.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

We had a big blizzard Friday and Saturday of last week which made the roads impassable for two days.

The tobacco market was quite lively here last week several buyers being through here and a few crops changed hands. Among a few who sold were E. E. Fisher, at 13 cents, George E. Sickler at 13 cents; John C. Allen at 12 cents, P. Blakeman sold his some time befor at 15 cents, some inferior crops sold at from 8 to 10 cents.

Wednesday evening will be the last night of the singing school in the Cody district. It has been a very interesting and successful school.

The ladies' aid society meet at Miss Mary Whitcomb's next Friday evening. Let there be a full house.

G. D. Trimble was here last week and filled his ice house for the factory use.

South Scriba.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

We have just experienced one of the worst storms of the season.

Our school has just closed after a successful term of seventeen weeks with Max Vincent as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hubbard are on the sick list.

The pupils of our school are preparing for an exhibition to be held at the school house in the near future.

The whole Republican ticket with the exception of Monroe Hubbard, Justice of the Peace, Democrat, was elected. The whole number of votes cast were 532.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., March 6th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment. Present, the President, and all the Trustees except Trustee [illegible]

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

[illegible]

[illegible] The hungry army of office seekers [illegible] has been [illegible] since Monday by the [illegible] of the various portfolio. For every office paying $1,500 or even $1,200 there are a score of applicants, and the number of those who do not know exactly what they do want is simply astounding. If any one State may proudly boast of its supreme energy in office seeking at present, the palm may be awarded to Indiana. That State now affords active candidates for every bureau head in the departments.

In conversation with this hungry army, one is surprised to learn that they expect their claims are to be considered within a week or ten days certainly in two weeks. Congressman This, or well known friend of Harrison. That has promised his assistance, "Besides," you are told, "if I don't get the office I am after, this influence will get me some-thing else about as good."

Here commences the fine work of the worm i' the bud which preys upon the cheek of the man after an office. Very soon the big offices will be filled and nineteen out of twenty will be left out in the cold. The positions wont go round. Will our solicitous friends go home and plant and reap and be content as before? One third of them may. The others will remain. Summer will come and find them denizens of dreary second-class boarding houses. The hotel lobbies will still be filled with them, sad ghosts of the last campaign. Those that have been in the chase before will reconcile themselves to old associations, and those who have not been in Washington before will accommodate themselves to the temporizing life as best they may, hoping against hope that something may turn up.

When Congress comes back again next winter, the office seekers, depressed but not discouraged will be on hand. They will waylay unwary statesmen in dark nooks of the Capitol corridors and force large promises from their pallid lips. And after a while, when his money gives out and the friends of his better days begin to avoid him, the seeker for place will be content to get a $900 position in the census office or some similar bureau for the disposal of political garbage. Then you may see the mysteriously important gentleman who to-day desires to be, say, Indian Commissioner, carrying his little lunch basket to a messenger's desk.

There are among all these hungry ones, a large number of really good men—men of honor and usefulness at their own home. Like death, this craze is no respector of persons. I met yesterday as sterling a fellow as ever lived, a rising young lawyer, not to be sure a man who would ever be a great lawyer but a man who might by remaining in Illinois, in a few years reach a practice of $4,000 per annum. He concluded by saying, "you know that I have never asked for office before." He states it as if it were a merit, and so it is; but he does not tell us why he did not retain the merit.

"That's what I told Ben Harrison during the campaign," I heard an Indiana Congressman saying yesterday, "and I believe I persuaded him of it, though he didn't seem to feel so at first. There is nothing so honorable as the pursuit of position. Let a great man die; what is his biography but a history of the offices he has held. The most noted lawyer in the world would have been unknown was it not for the public offices he has held." What shall it profit a man to agree with such a spoilsman—what fallacy could not be more easily eradicated?

The new cabinet went in on Wednesday, General Tracy, for Secretary of the Navy, being the first to take the necessary oath. The only interest felt by the outside public was in the installation of Mr. Blaine. Quite a crowd gathered about the State Department and waited patiently until the hour arrived when he appeared and took possession. With the exception of Secretary Windom of the Treasury, Mr. Blaine is the only member of the new cabinet known to the public. Whether or not any of them shall succeed in winning laurels and notority overshadowed by Mr. Blaine remains to be seen.

Deafness Can't be Cured.

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Our [illegible] the [illegible] awaiting the [illegible] ly [illegible] man was missing. The services were dismissed and the members of the church gathered in groups to discuss the strange incident.

Rev. Mr. Smith was last seen Saturday afternoon at the handkerchief counter of a big dry goods house. From there he cannot be traced. A hat with his name marked within was picked up to-day on Allen street near the bank of the Charles River and it is therefore feared that he has committed suicide in a temporary fit of insanity. The police were notified and a search for the missing pastor begun. Two sounding boats were sent out and the search for the body, or any further evidence of suicide, was carried on until late in the afternoon, when the change in tide made a suspension of the work necessary.

The missing clergyman since his arrival in this city has resided with his brother-in-law, Rev. Frederick Campbell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Roxbury. Mrs. Campbell said to-day: "My brother left the house Saturday afternoon and I have not seen him since. He was then in his right mind and I don't believe he has committed suicide. There is no reason for such an act. His wife is very ill and he had worried somewhat about her on his installation day but he has been quite cheerful since. The only other trouble which has been on his mind was the death of his six-year-old daughter last Fall before he left the West."

Unless some news of Mr. Smith's whereabouts is received the dragging of the river and the search by the police on land will be continued to-morrow.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society in the Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon the following officers were elected: Mrs. M. E. Connell, president; Mrs. Dr. Emens, first vice-president; Mrs. Mattie Howe, recording secretary; Mrs. E. R. Redhead, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eber Hubbard, treasurer. A six o'clock tea was served to about 200 persons, and in the evening interesting services were held, as it was the twentieth anniversary of the society. Rev. W. D. Chase gave a review of the work of the society during the 20 years. Mrs. C. S. Eggleston read a paper about Lucknow, India, and Mrs. E. R. Redhead one about Foochow, China, "thank offerings" were given for the girls' missionary schools at those places. Mrs. Dr. Emens, the retiring president, who had held that office for five years, was, by the vote of the society and its paying $20, made a life member. The organization here now consists of more than 100 members.—Cor. Standard.

Hannibal Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The people of Hannibal Centre were very much surprised on Sunday about 3 o'clock, to see stage driver Kelsie come wading into town with the mail bag over his shoulder having left his horse at South Hannibal, where he has been staying since Friday night. The roads are drifted worse than from any storm this winter.

The schools and churches at this place and Hannibal have been closed by the Board of Health on account of the small pox at North Hannibal.

A number have sold their crops of tobacco about here to parties at Port Byron, Mr. John Bacon receiving for his crop 16½cts. and a cash present of $100.

Miss Jennie Bowles closed her term of school at the White school house Friday of last week.

Miss Elpha Whittemore of Marcellus is visiting friends in this place.

Mrs. John Ames is visiting her sister in Scriba.

Mrs. Mary Knowlton is on the sick list, Dr. Acker of Hannibal attends her.

A good many from this place attended the S. S. Convention held at the Baptist church, at South Hannibal, Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. George Smith's brother and sister of Canada, spent last week with her.

Mrs. Wm. Mosier is storm bound at Plainville.

Volney Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The stage could not get through last Saturday, consequently we had no mail. Neither was there any church Sunday although the roads were partly broken and before noon Monday everything was in running order again.

Mrs. A. G. Morse who has been sick several weeks is getting better.

Miss Cora Whitney of Dexterville is visiting her mother's friends.

Mrs. Jay Place and daughter [illegible] visited last week [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] guest of William Seward, although he lived as a prisoner of [illegible] for some weeks. The [illegible] forced his way into the house [illegible] at the secretary and struck at his throat, but the blade of the knife glanced upon some of the surgical appliances with which Mr. Seward's broken jaw was being held in place while healing, and only wounded him. Leaving his deadly work unfinished Payne started for the door, meeting Mr. Seward's son, with whom he had a desperate struggle, only after using his knife again. Mr. Seward and his son lay for weeks in their rooms before they recovered.

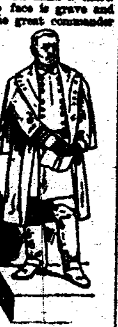
THE OLD SEWARD MANSION.

Mr. Seward's only daughter, who had witnessed the assault, and had given the alarm, received such a nervous shock that she gradually lost health and died.

The next occupant of the house was Gen. Belknap, Grant's secretary of war after Rawlins died, and for a season it was the social headquarters of the Grant regime. After the death of Mrs. Belknap the general gave up the mansion, and once more it became a boarding house. But the story got out that it was haunted and ill fated, and, notwithstanding the fine location, with the park in front and the White House in full view to the south, people would not take the rooms. For a while the old mansion stood unoccupied. There was some talk of remodeling it with a mansard roof and other modern improvements. Finally the government took the mansion, and for a dozen years used it for the offices of the commissary general while the new war department building was going up. Some months ago the commissary general moved to the new building, and since then the house has been an elephant on the agent's hands. Mr. James G. Blaine is the latest one to take the mansion, having rented it for a term of years at very low rent. Thousands of dollars will be required to put the mansion in shape, but for a cabinet house the location is beyond comparison. Mr. Blaine will live in the residence, which is within the smallest radius from the White House. If he and his family are not superstitious there seems no reason why the mansion should not prove satisfactory in every respect.

Leavenworth's Grant Statue.

A cut is here given, taken from a photograph of a model of a statue to be erected to Gen. Grant at Leavenworth, Kan. The artist, Mr. Lorado Taft, of Chicago, has depicted the general as he would appear in winter in the field. He is attired in uniform with an overcoat, and holds in his hand a chart. The expression on the face is grave and thoughtful, as though the great commander were studying a military problem. The general stands squarely on his feet in an easy position.



LEAVENWORTH STATUE.

The casting will be done at the works recently established for such purposes at South Chicago. The pedestal will be made of Barre granite, from the quarries at Barre, Vt. It will be 7 feet square at the base and between 16 and 17 feet high. The statue will be about 9 feet high. On the front of the pedestal will be the one word, "Grant." There will also be a bronze panel, showing some incident in Grant's life, in relief. The statue will occupy a triangular lot, with three granite entrances.

John C. Klein.

Here is a portrait of John C. Klein, the American who went to the Samoan islands some little time ago to act as correspondent for The San Francisco Examiner and The New York World. It will be remembered that while he was engaged in his journalistic labors he conducted himself in such a way as to bring down upon his devoted head the charge that he was no friend of the Germans—that, in fact, he helped the natives in their resistance. Mr. Klein denies all this, of course, and has returned to America. It having been rumored that the German government would demand "Klein," punishment for his alleged evil conduct, The New York World has uttered a defiant "dad" at Bismarck, assuring him that Klein would be protected, and [illegible], if the demand for the correspondent's [illegible] [illegible] in the [illegible] words, "Johnny, [illegible] gun!"

JOHN C. KLEIN.

However, there seems to be no probability now that Germany's demand will be made.

Gen. Jacob Brown.

In the war of 1812 a leading position belonged to Gen. Jacob Brown, who was born on May 9, 1775, and died on Feb. 24, 1828. His parents were Quakers, residing in Bucks county, Pa. [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]

SNOW FLAKE (Groff's) ....
LEWIS' ....
PEARL (Andrews & Co.) ....
HECKER'S ....
GILLET'S ....
ANDREWS & CO. "Regal" ....
BULK (Powder sold loose) ....
RUMFORD'S, when not fresh ....

REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS

As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder, which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances. E. G. LOVE, Ph.D."

"It is a scientific fact that the Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. "H. A. MOTT, Ph.D."

"I have examined a package of Royal Baking Powder, purchased by myself in the market. I find it entirely free from alum, terra alba, or any other injurious substance. HENRY MORTON, Ph.D., President of Stevens Institute of Technology."

"I have analyzed a package of Royal Baking Powder. The materials of which it is composed are pure and wholesome. S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer, Mass."

The Royal Baking Powder received the highest award over all competitors at the Vienna World's Exposition, 1873; at the Centennial, Philadelphia, 1876; at the American Institute, New York, and at State Fairs throughout the country.

No other article of human food has ever received such high, emphatic, and universal endorsement from eminent chemists, physicians, scientists, and Boards of Health all over the world.

NOTE—The above DIAGRAM illustrates the comparative worth of various Baking Powders, as shown by Chemical Analysis and experiments made by Prof. Schedler. A pound can of each powder was taken, the total leavening power or volume in each can calculated, the result being as indicated. This practical test for worth by Prof. Schedler only proves what every observant consumer of the Royal Baking Powder knows by practical experience, that, while it costs a few cents per pound more than ordinary kinds, it is far more economical, and, besides, affords the advantage of better work. A single trial of the Royal Baking Powder will convince any fair minded person of these facts.

* While the diagram shows some of the alum powders to be of a higher degree of strength than other powders ranked below them, it is not to be taken as indicating that they have any value. All alum powders, no matter how high their strength, are to be avoided as dangerous.

Furniture & Undertaking.

We offer the Largest Stock of

FURNITURE

ever shown in Fulton and at prices

Below all Competition.

A Full Line of

Window Shades, Cheap

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholstering.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN,

Times Block.

Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R.

In connection with

West Shore and Pennsylvania R. R.

1889. THIRD ANNUAL 1889.

GRAND EXCURSION TO

WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL,

TUESDAY, March 26th, '89.

The fare to Washington and Return, from any station on the R. W. & O. R. R., where Excursion Tickets are on sale, is only

TEN DOLLARS.

Tickets are good going March 26th, allowing ten days in Washington, and are good until April 10th for return passage.

SPECIAL TRAINS,

with elegant West Shore coaches, will leave the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. in the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, March 26th, on special schedule time, and run through to Jersey City, where transfer will be made to new and close Pennsylvania R. R. coaches, arriving at Washington early Wednesday afternoon—time will not exceed twenty hours from any station.

WAGNER PALACE SLEEPING CARS

will be attached to all special trains from R. W. & O. R. R. stations, and run Through to Washington Without Change.

Price for double berth in Sleeping Car, $3.50; section, $7.00, from any station on R. W. & O. R. R. to Washington. Sale of Sleeping car tickets close March 23d.

SIDE TRIP EXCURSIONS

From Washington to Mount Vernon, 75 cents; Richmond, Va., $1; Petersburg, Va., $5.

REDUCED HOTEL RATES

Have been arranged at various hotels in Washington, prices from $1.50 to $3.00 per day.

Special agents will direct the excursion and attend to the party on trains and in the city of Washington.

For complete, tickets, sleeping car tickets, illustrated programs and detailed information, apply to nearest R. W. & O. R. R. Ticket Agent, or correspond with Gen'l Passenger Agent, Oswego, N. Y.

E. S. BOWEN, Acting Gen'l Manager. THEO. BUTTERFIELD, Gen'l Passenger Agt., Oswego, N. Y.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a

First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

INSURE IN THE

TRADERS & TRAVELERS

Accident Company,

287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BENEFITS.

$5,000 for Death.
$5,000 Loss of Limbs.
$2,500 Loss of Limb.
$2,500 Loss of Sight.
$1,250 Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks.

[illegible]

COST.

Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00
Annual Dues, ... 1.00
Membership Fee, $.00 . . . $11.00

[illegible]

AGENTS!

[illegible]

SNOW & LOOMIS

Have a New

OLIVER STEEL PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

THE FULTON TIMES.

Wednesday March 13, 1889.

DEL. LACK'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] 5:08 a. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express 11:14 a. m.
[illegible] 3:07 p. m.
[illegible] 5:21 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express 9:50 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express 8:08 a. m.
Day Express 11:14 a. m.
Day Express 2:46 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express 7:02 p. m.
Evening Express 9:48 p. m.

[illegible] a. m., and 9:05 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

[illegible] cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. E. Schwaas, Ass't. Supt.

N Y ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express 7:28 a. m.
Freight and Accommodation 8:10 a. m
Norwich Express 3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express 10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express 6:35 a. m
Oswego Express 11:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation 5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express 8:01 p. m

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:37	11:34	1:32	5:37	7:32
For Oswego,	5:46	11:56	2:26	6:15	8:43

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. F. Roberts and family have moved to Cortland.

Mrs. VanDusen of Buffalo is the guest of Mrs. G. H. Salmon.

Miss Pearl Moulter of Fayetteville, N. Y., is the guest of Miss Gertie Ottman.

A Bristol is in New York this week selecting musical goods for his spring trade.

Father Earley returned from Glens Falls Friday where he has been on a three week's vacation.

Chas. Hewitt, wife and son left last evening for Leadville, Col., to make that their home.

Mary E. Adams of South Bend, Ind., is in town visiting her nieces, the Misses May and Ida Briggs.

Miss Hattie Sabin, who has been in the employ of Connell & Patterson for the past year goes to Buffalo next week to study stenography.

Mrs. Bowen of Bay City, Michigan, is visiting friends in this vicinity. She is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Althouse of Lower Oswego Falls.

Mr. Lemuel Wooster of Gloversville, N. Y., who has been for the past six months at Cincinnati, Ohio, and other points is now in Fulton visiting friends.

Mrs. J. N. Whitman, son and daughter of Youngstown, O. are in town preparing to move their household goods. While here they are the guests of Prof. and Mrs. Clapp.

Ed. Palmer of Parish was in town Monday on his way to Oswego where he goes as a delegate from his town to the quarterly session of the Patrons of Husbandry and the Oswego County Good Templars.

Spring Styles of hats received by D. C. MORE & CO.

Rev. B. Brunning of Sherburne has been engaged as permanent pastor of the Church of the Restoation, (Universalist,) in this village. He will assume charge on April 1st.

The case of the electric light pole at the corner of First and Oneida streets has been decided by Judge Merwin against the company. The case will probably be carried to a higher court.

Messrs. Connell & Patterson with their employes met at the home of W. H. Patterson on Oneida street last evening. This gathering was for the benefit of Miss Hattie Sabin who had been in their employ for the past fifteen months and is to leave next week for Buffalo. After partaking of refreshments, enjoying music, etc., Miss Sabin was presented with a traveling bag by her employers.

Another Demorest prize contest will be held at Bristol Hill church tomorrow evening. The contestents this time will be Lena Babcock, Ida Coles, Belle Simons Will McDonald, Burr Howard, Millie Piper, Clarence Babcock, Enola Fairchilds, Lola Hill, Mary Gray, Bessie Russ, Myrtle Duell. In addition to the prize speaking an excellent musical program is announced. Admission 10 cents.

FOUND—On First street a carpenters bit and bit stock. The owner can learn of same by calling at this office and paying for local.

James Wilcox will sell at public auction at his farm 2½ miles south of Oswego Falls, on Friday, March 22, at 10 a. m. fifteen cows, a pair of robes with box and a mowing machine.

ROOMS TO RENT.—Four rooms kitchen, sitting room and two bedrooms, on Cayuga, near Sixth street. For particulars inquire of F. H. French at Wilcox's meat market. 44t8

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A. Bristol is constantly receiving [illegible] and Organs of many of the [illegible] makes which he is offering at [illegible] 44tf

[illegible]

[illegible] spare at [illegible]

St. Louis, Feb. [illegible] 1889.

E. F. March, N. G.—and through you to the Brothers of Neahtawanta Lodge—No. 245, I. O. O. F.

I desire hereby to acknowledge the kind remembrance of an invitation to attend the dedicatory ceremonies in your new hall this evening and only regret the impossibility of an acceptance in person. I am sure that it will be an occasion of solid enjoyment, for the harmonious union of Heart and Hand and their zealous co-operation in a work in which they and all the world are alike interested can produce no other. You are right in presuming that I have watched the recent growth of Neahtawanta Lodge with lively emotions, for my affections have been largely bound up in it from the period of its feeble infancy in 1870 to its stalwart manhood in 1889. Neahtawanta was instituted on the 10th of August of the year first before named, with barely more than the constitutional number of what was then Fifth degree numbers. I think there were but nine in all—there may have been but seven—and I am almost ashamed that I cannot recall the names of these correctly. My impression is that James L. Parker, James Stevens, C. S. Rust, John H. Case and the writer hereof where among them.

Neahtawanta Lodge was, like an eminent personage of remoter history, literally born in a manger; and I think also that the identity of its father is involved in quite as much doubt as the identity of his was. But that doesn't matter so long as the work done in both instances unquestionably inured to the good of the human race. In such matters the beginning, even though humble and unpretentious, is an important factor, as without a beginning there could never be any results.

The hall in which the Lodge was instituted was the third floor of the Tucker building over Nettleton's Shoe store. The entrance, from necessity, was by the middle door in the block, then up two long flights of steps and across the intervening flats. This constituted a passage that was well calculated to appall the timid soul at the outset but very few who made it successfully were ever heard to regret the adventure. The lodge room, when reached, was a gloomy and barn-like apartment, destitute of carpets, as well as of pretty much everything in the shape of fittings and furniture, whether of necessity or convenience. The regalia and paraphernalia was loaned principally from Golden Rule at Phœnix and brothers from that place and Oswego assisted at the exercises. Like the true men which Odd Fellowship makes, they did not turn up their noses at the poverty-stricken aspect of the place but accepted the situation with fraternal cheerfulness and rendered the occasion enlivening by their presence. This is about the way business was commenced. I have thought it worth while to recall so much, for the benefit of those who, coming in later, know the Lodge only as a strong, vigorous and well equipped institution.

The formal dedication of this hall came a few months afterwards, when it had been modestly but neatly furnished by a discreet use of available resources; and quite extensive—and expensive—preparations were made to give the fortunes of the infant organization a boom in connection with the event. These included an address at the M. E. Church in the afternoon by P. G. M. Barnes of New York and a grand ball and banquet at the Lewis House in the evening. The program was carried out triumphantly and paid for promptly to the last dollar; but it cost the ambitious and disappointed projectors liberal contributions to make up the difference between expenditures and receipts. The cause of the disaster was not so much bad management as bad weather. The elements were—I do not mean to say deliberately and maliciously against us but—unfavorable to us.

The temperature was wild, but during the procession to the church a snow storm set in—great big flakes filled the air and settled upon the ground with a looseness and liberality for which Volney is famous. It was so good natured and so gentle that nobody familiar with Volney winters felt any apprehension; but the result proved that the storm fully made up in generosity what it lacked in malice. By the time the hour for gathering at the evening exercises had arrived a dead level of fresh snow to the depth of three feet—and I think the brothers who "in" at the time would not object if I were to say six feet—lay all over that section of country. The trains from North and South, on which considerable delegations of visitors had depended for transportation completely blocked; the highways leading out from Fulton were rendered impassable; and even movements about the village streets were tedious and uncertain. The misfortune was a trying one, and it undoubtedly retarded the growth of Neahtawanta, rather than accelerated it, as had been hoped; but it did not dishearten the indomitable souls that were committed to its establishment. They went on with undiminished courage, though probably a little more slowly, and they did not spend any time whining over the disaster. They went right on putting in their faithful work, and [illegible] they put it in to stay. [illegible] which they then [illegible] by them and [illegible] vigilantly [illegible]

[illegible] in Fulton [illegible] of [illegible] and forever [illegible] prosper!

As I write the wind is [illegible] from the north, [illegible] of fine snow are sifting fitfully through the air, and there is a promise in the newspapers of a temperature considerable below zero within a few hours. I hope for the best for you and all Neahtawanta to-night, as I remember what happened on a similar occasion about 19 years ago. Whatever may be in store be hopeful, cheerful, faithful, for men so inspired are the ones God chooses for his most important work. Fraternally, and with regards for all,

GEO. E. WILLIAMS.

Sunday next is St. Patrick's day.

Rip Van Winkle at the opera house next Saturday evening.

Dr. Mary Walker has applied for a patent on an improved suspender.

George Kelly and Lorenzo Clark were sent up for three months for stealing goods at Lathrop's store last Saturday.

The Wilson Brothers have opened a hardware store in the building on First street formerly occupied by Pruyne as a harness shop.

James Fanning has the contract for constucting the pit and placing the water wheels, and A. B. Fletcher the contract for furnishing the bricks for the new gun factory.

The worst storm of the season for railroads visited this locality on Friday and Saturday of last week. The storm subsided Saturday night, and trains were running regularly on Monday.

L. R. Muzzy editor of the Pulaski Democrat has been nominated for postmaster at Pulaski under the new administration. Mr. Muzzy's nomination will undoubtedly be confirmed. We extend congratulations.

A donation and oyster supper will be held by the people of Granby Centre for the benefit of Rev. J. N. Fulford, at his home, corner of Third and Seneca Streets, on Wednesday, March 20th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Pathfinder Boat Club now have the deed for the south half of Van Buren's Island, having paid $300 for the same. The articles incorporating the club as a stock company having been signed by Judge Churchill and have been sent to Albany to be filed.

The Young Ladies Mission Band of the M. E. church will hold a reception in the church parlors Friday evening, March 15th. 1889. Light refreshments will be served from 6 to 8 p. m., after which a short program will be rendered. The receipts from this reception are to go toward the purchase of a bell for the new Grace Chapel. All are cordially invited.

An exchange that is first-class authority on social and business amenities, lays down this rule: "Never go where you are not wanted. If a man wants you to go to his house he will invite you to do so, and if a merchant wants you to visit his place of business he will invite you through the columns of the local newspapers. It is wrong to intrude on privacy; don't do it."

The Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R. having received requests from more than 500 people, who desire to visit the City of Washington and wish to avoid the crowd, incident to the Inauguration Ceremonies, have decided to run their third Annual Popular Excursion to Washington and return, March 26th, at the same rate as in former years, $10.00 from any station in Northern and Central New York to Washington and return.

Hugh McKiernan who is agent for Lister's Agricultural Chemical Works at Newark, N. J. and who last year introduced their fertilizers in this vicinity, a few days since received a carload of the same and has sold it all besides receiving orders for much more.

See the Latest Style in Men's Derby Hats for Spring wear. D. C. MORE & CO have them.

J. W. Roche late of the firm of Roche & Blair, Oswego, N. Y. is the sole agent in Oswego county for the sale of H. W. John's Asbestos roofing and materials, also Rocke's patent Acme roofing, Gravel, Tin and Felt roofs repaired and satisfaction guaranteed. All orders should be addressed to J. W. Roche, 119 West Bridge St., Oswego, N. Y. 44w2

[illegible] As there were so many specimens exhibited it is impossible to specify each with the name of [illegible]. We may say however in general that there were books, [illegible] and [illegible] are complete in every detail; bookcases, violins, miniature [illegible] and farmers implements in abundance; oil paintings, Kensington work, amateur photography, crayon sketches that would do credit to anyone; fancy pin and toilet cushions, crazy quilts, mats, tidies and splashers by the hundreds; specimens of bread, biscuit, cakes gems, pies, &c., that would make a hotel cook pale with envy; fine horse shoes, knife blades and other articles of the kind that were made by the scholars themselves; slate writing by a large number of children at ages ranging from 6 to 10 years; botonical specimens mounted on large cardboard, an engine running a pump, with a finely constructed oil well derrick, a water wheel, specimens of rocks, collected in this vicinity, models in clay, and many other things were viewed with interest and wonder at the skill displayed by the scholars.

This exhibit is a new departure and a commendable one, and too much cannot be said in praise of the first exhibition of the pupil's work in the mechanical and fine arts.

Getting to the Front.

Fulton Union school is each year advancing to the front in its standing. Of all the schools in the state it now stands 25, the numerical rank being based on the number of scholars in each school holding preliminary regents certificates. Only three union schools in the state outside of cities hold a higher rank at present than our own. These three are the schools at Batavia, Bath and Port Jervis. It can be seen by this that our school stands ahead of those in a number of cities.

The following is the standing of several schools in this vicinity for the past three years:

	1886,	1887,	1888.
Baldwinsville,	70	54	37
Central Square,		223	84
Fulton,	42	36	25
Jordan,	145	129	63
Mexico,	62	54	47
Oswego,	26	27	27
Parish,		216	105
Phœnix,	37	105	61
Pulaski,	85	117	63
Sandy Creek,	99	91	72
Syracuse,	1	1	1

A report has gone out that there is small pox in Fulton and telegrams have been sent here from Oswego papers asking concerning the rumor. There is no small pox in this village or vicinity.

You may not be pleased with the Harrison Cabinet but you will be pleased with Master Soap. 44tf

"Summer Homes Advertisements Will Only Be Taken for a few Days More.

Parties who desire to advertise for summer boarders in the Summer Homes for the coming season, should send in their applications at once to J. C. Anderson, General Passenger Agent, 28 Exchange Place, New York.

Blanks may be obtained from the nearest station agent of the N. Y. O. & W. Railway, or on application to the General Passenger Agent at the above address.

The book is rapidly nearing completion, and will be shortly sent to the printers. To ensure a good representation advertisements should be forwarded without delay.

Messrs Rice & Lovejoy desire to say to the old customers of H. E. Nichols in the Insurance business, that no policies will be allowed to expire without notice, and that they are prepared to write Insurance in the best companies, on favorable terms. 43w2

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

House and lot with good barn, on Buffalo St., in good repair. City water in both house and barn. Easy terms. For further particulars inquire at this office.

Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf

Positively Given Away.

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

[illegible]

C. C. [illegible] had his left hand badly injured on the Hook and Ladder truck last Friday.

D. C. More has rented Noel Lawrence's house on Utica street and will move into it this week.

The postponed meeting of the County Educational Council will be held in Oswego on Saturday.

M. F. Stephens is to occupy the law offices in the Kenyon block recently vacated by Piper & VanWagenen.

The box factory started up again last week and is now giving employment to the usual number of hands.

Two sleigh loads of young married people went from this village to Seneca Hill last evening, had supper, a dance and a good time generally.

The work of re-building the block on Cayuga street recently burned goes rapidly on. It will be ready for the occupancy of H. P. Wilson by April 1st.

In another column to-day will be found a striking and instructive illustration of the comparative worth of the various kinds of baking powders now in the market.

D. D. Eames and W. W. Loomis were made salesmen and W. C. Newton treasurer for the coming year of the W. W. Loomis cheese factory at their annual meeting last Wednesday.

Philip Lynch was badly injured at the R. W. & O Mills by jumping upon a broom handle one day last week. It was thought at first that his injuries were serious but the fear is expelled.

The marriage of Miss Zuilee Hubbard, one of Fulton's well known and popular young ladies to Dr. J. T. Barker of Wallingford, Conn., is announced to occur on Wednesday afternoon, March 20th.

A surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ney last evening, the occasion being their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary. Fifty ladies and gentlemen were present and a sumptous repast was served. An enjoyable time was had by all.

This evening at the Presbyterian church parlors will be held a "Chicken Pie" supper to which all are invited to come and indulge. After supper, which lasts from 5 to 8 o'clock an attractive musical and literary entertainment will be given. Supper, 25cts.

An enthusiashic temperance meeting was held in the M. E. church Sunday evening. Addresses were made by R. B. McCully, Rev. A. M. Roe and Dr. Lake. Miss Roxie Snow recited in a touching manner a temperance piece. The addresses were interspersed with singing by the choir.

On Wednesday of last week the contract was let for building the new gun factory to Edwin R. and G. J. Foster. The building will be made of brick and will be 60x220 feet and four stories high. The work of constructing the same will commence as soon as weather permits. Consideration for building, $15,063.

A fire alarm sounded at noon Friday, and the Fire Department promptly responded drawing their hose carts through the deep snow. A fire had broken out at the residence of A. J. Thayer, corner of Cayuga and Third streets, but was put out before the services of the Department were needed.

Mrs. M. A. Eno will sell at public auction, on Wednesday, March 27th, on the premises in Volney, two miles east of Fulton, a large amount of live stock, farmers' implements, including a new Triumph self-binder and a great number of articles suitable for farm purposes. 44w2

Articles of incorporation were prepared last Thursday for a pulp company with a capital of $30,000, in shares of $100 each. The corporation will be called the "The Fulton Paper Company." Its incorporators are F. J. Ray of Utica, James Sears, late of Oswego now of Fulton, and J. A. Foster. The company intend to build a factory for the manufacture of pulp, this spring, where the Wright saw mill used to stand in Lower Oswego Falls.

Is Marriage a Failure?—Not if you buy your coal of Hart. 44tf

To get your Groceries cheap go to SYLVESTER'S. 42tf.

[illegible]

[illegible] arrested in Fulton and Oswego Falls on Saturday last [illegible] that Joseph Bloom, who for the past year and until recently had been pastor of the Free Baptist church in Oswego Falls, had been arrested for horse stealing.

The circumstances connected with the case are as follows:

On the evening of February 26, a young man entered the livery of F. Woods in Oneida stating that he wanted to drive to Oneida Castle, about two miles distant. As the party did not return, Mr. Woods concluded that the horse had been stolen. He employed a detective named Olcott to trace the missing property. After traveling about 200 miles he finally, on Friday last, found the animal in the livery of S. D. Becker at Oswego. Mr. Becker stated he had bought the horse of a young man claiming to be Joseph Bloom of Oswego Falls. A warrant was obtained for Bloom's arrest and word sent to Deputy Sheriff Poole of this village to secure him. Poole found that Bloom had gone to Syracuse and sent back word to that effect to Chief Doyle of Oswego.

On Saturday forenoon however the accused was found by the officer at his boarding house in Oswego Falls, placed under arrest, and taken to Oswego.

Messrs. Joel P. Streeter, Clarence W. Streeter, F. E. Goodjon, B. Bauder and Rev. J. C. Breaker went to Oswego to see that Bloom had all the chances possible to prove his innocence. At the examination Mr. Becker positively identified Bloom as the man that sold him the horse. A letter to a Mr. Mastin with whom the cutter and robes had been left dated Oswego Falls and signed "Joseph Bloom," gave instructions for Mastin to sell them for not less than $10. The writing of this letter and one written by Bloom after his arrest was the same as was also the paper on which they were written.

Bloom through the whole displayed no small amount of nerve and stated that he was innocent of the charge and claimed that the writing was a clever forgery. He also claimed that a man had been in Oswego Falls that looked very much like him and that he without doubt was the man that had sold Becker the horse. Other statements were made that were misty to say the least. The whole tended to show that Bloom was either crazy or a scamp, possibly both. He has also recently had in his possession a horse which he transferred to I. A. Markland of this village in in payment for a debt. He claims that he secured one from a brother in Michigan, exchanged with a liveryman in Syracuse, again made an exchange with Roberts, the Broadway liveryman in this village, and finally paid his debt to Markland by turning over the last horse received. He is now held in in the Oswego jail as no one was disposed to go $1,000 bail for him and further examination on this charge is to be held to-morrow at 9:30 a. m. Bloom gave Becker a bill of sale of all his effects, books, etc., to secure him against possible loss. We can only say for the clergyman that we are sorry but things look blue for him.

The accused is an Englishman who came to Oswego Falls about a year ago to become pastor of the Free Baptist church having been sent by the New York central association from Elmira. He was recently accused of several irregularities in church matters and made a sensation by denouncing members of the congregation from the pulpit. He resigned from the church and became a member of the regular Baptist church in this village. He was examined for ordination on Thursday last but was found incompetent. He was soon to be married to a young lady in Oswego Falls.

Just arrived from the MINES, a car load of each, No. 4 and Pea coal, very nice, clean and bright, for Hart. 44tf

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

All kinds of Pickles in bottles, all sizes, shapes and prices.
42tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Chacolate creams at 25cts. per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant tf.

[illegible]

We announce the inauguration of a Great Sale of Clothing and Furnishings, to begin on March 6th, to which

Everybody is Invited!

This will be the event of the season and no effort will be spared to make it a time to be remembered for remarkable bargains. Buyers will

Dance for Joy

When they see the extent of our stock and lend to realize by the prices we ask, the enormous sacrifice at which goods are going. It is a

Sale Without Precedent.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS.

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,
Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y

Furnished Rooms on Rochester St. Enquire of E. E. Wolcott. 44w2

TO RENT—House on Academy street next west of my residence. Large garded with fruit. For further particulars inquire of 44w3 MORGAN ROBERTS.

TO RENT OR SELL—Farm of 125 acres with stock. H. CHAMBERLAIN
42w3. Gilberts Mills, N. Y.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

TO RENT—House and lot on Seneca street between 4th and 5th. Good house, good garden and variety of fruit. Inquire of E. G. Hubbard, 41tf 34 Oneida St.

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hard ware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

WORKING OXEN,

2 Pair For Sale by
42w4 W. S. NELSON.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

To CONVINCE the PEOPLE

That we will not be undersold by any house in town, we will make the following extraordinary offer never before thought or heard of. We will sell for the next 30 days:

13 Two-Cent Stamps for a Cent and a Quarter.

And will take this as a standard and offer any article of or articles you may desire from our stock at figures which are

In the Same Proportion:

It is not necessary to make other purchases to enable you to supply yourself with stamps. The offer is open to all alike, customers, competitors, everybody.

SALMON SHOE STORE!

Lenten Services.

The following is the program of Lenten services to be held in Zion church this year:

ASH WEDNESDAY.

Morning Prayer and Sermon 10:30 A. M.

SUNDAYS—Service and Sermon 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M.; Sunday School and Bible Class, 12 M.

MONDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address 4 P. M.

TUESDAYS—Evening Prayer and Confirmation Instruction, 4 P. M.

WEDNESDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address 7:45 P. M.

THURSDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 4 P. M.

FRIDAYS—Evening Prayer and Address, 7:45 P. M.

SATURDAYS—Evening Prayer and Confirmation Instruction, 4 P. M.

GOOD FRIDAY.

Morning Prayer and Sermon, 10:30 A. M.

EASTER DAY.

Service and Sermon, 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M.
Sunday School Festival, 3 P. M.

J. HOLLISTER LYNCH, RECTOR

Removal.

The office of the Singer Manuf'n'g Co. has been removed from the store of A. Bristol to that of E. E. Hart, opposite the "Bee Hive."
43w4 H. B. ROSE, M'g'r.

Oranges 15c per doz. at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf

Customer to real estate agent—"What is the best investment you know of to-day?"

R. E. man—(thinking of family matters)—"Those shoes at the Salmon Shoe Store. 43w2

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea, and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

Canned corn 6 cents at SYLVESTER'S. 49tf.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6. First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

CLEARING SALE OF DRESS GOODS,

Just Before Going to New York.

We find ourselves with a large stock of Dress Goods on hand, and to make room for our SPRING PURCHASES, must dispose of a large quantity of these goods during the NEXT 10 DAYS!

To make sure of this we have made a

Staggering Reduction!

Which any lady will realize, when she sees the goods and gets our prices.

Give These Prices a Moment's Thought.

500 yards Fancy Stripes and Checks (single width) at 5cts
8 pieces [illegible] (during this sale) at [illegible]

5 Pieces Cashmere (colors) yard wide at 24cts.
5 Pieces All Wool Flannel Suitings, 50 inches wide at 40cts.
Several pieces all wool [illegible] regular 35c. quality at 25cts.

5 Pieces Fancy Checks (spring colors) yard wide, [illegible]
R50 emnants at about one-half price.

[illegible] & CO.

[illegible] being ship[illegible] in [illegible] the South.

A bill is pending before the New York Legislature providing for an official inspection and analysis of all fertilizers sold in this State.

Any ground fitted to grow a good crop of onions will grow celery. According to an American Cultivator correspondent any good garden soil, and even good potato land, if of sufficient consistency to allow of banking up the celery in the Fall, will do.

The bill introduced into Congress by Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin, to establish a system of farm institutes, to be held every year in the different States, is, in case its establishment is secured, to be under the control of the new Department of Agriculture.

The "Fruit Recorder" is credited with the assertion that "pear blight may be prevented by rubbing the bodies of the pear trees with pure linseed oil in early spring, and scattering a quart or two of salt under the trees twice during the season."

Milking should be done at as regular hours as possible, winter and summer; and a like rule should be observed as to feeding. The cows do not have watches, but they know when the business hours come around, and are fretful if the business fails to go on.

"One point should," we are told, "be deeply impressed upon the dairymen's mind, and that is, if he wants to make a first-class article of butter, he must churn often. Never let the cream get over three days old, no matter how cold it may be kept."

If the supply of hay is short use straw and corn fodder as a part of the daily ration. Any deficiency in the coarse fodder can be supplied with extra grain. In fact, any ration can be balanced by the judicious use of ground grain and cottonseed and linseed meal.

It is estimated that for fattening hogs one bushel of corn is equal to three bushels of oats, and that when fed dry shelled corn is more economical than corn meal for hogs, especially if the cost of grinding is taken into consideration.

It is remarked that "the best farmers advocate a thorough preparation of the soil; they insist upon this point and make it one of the chief demands of farming, not only in grain culture, but in that of grass as well; they take equal pains in preparing their land for grass as for grain."

"I would recommend to every farmer," says a Country Gentleman correspondent, "who wishes to know which is best—Spring or Fall ploughing—to try both ways on his own land, half and half, instead of reading the arguments of writers who live a hundred or a thousand miles away."

Early potatoes may go in the ground as soon as spring begins to open. If the seed is well covered no danger need be feared of frost, as the plant is quite hardy after it gets a start. Use plenty of fertilizer on potatoes and keep the ground well cultivated.

It is true that farmers are the victims of all sorts of combinations, but railroads and trusts and everything else combined do not work such injury to them as their own lack of thorough knowledge and thorough execution in the daily pursuit of their business.

The cleansing, antiseptic and healing qualities of Dr. Sage's Catarrh remedy are unequalled.

Cleanliness in the Cow Stable.

Thorough carding and brushing are indispensible for cleanliness. The waste of the skin, the scale or dandruff which peels off, and all loose hairs are taken off, and the dried perspiration which has a disagreeable odor, and is really an excrement, is removed. The friction is exceedingly beneficial to the animals, stimulating the skin, encouraging the perspiration and removing from the blood those used up waste matters which are offensive, and would, if not thus got rid of, escape with the milk. This is the cause of what has been called the animal odor of the cows and the milk, and which has been truly charged with exercising an injurious effect upon the milk as a decomposing ferment. But the true odor of a clean, healthy cow is not disagreeable, much less fetid. Virgil wrote of the sweet breath of the heifers, and any dairyman may experience the same if he will take pains to enable the skin to throw off the waste matters which will naturally pass off when the cows are free to clean themselves by rubbing their skins, and in other ways.

Exposure to foul air is uncleanliness. The stables should not only be well cleaned and purified by plenty of fresh litter and plaster, which neutralizes the odor of a stable, but also by ample ventilation with abundant space for each cow. A cow needs eighty square feet of floor space and nine feet above the floor for a for a sufficient supply of air; that is, four feet of the floor of a stable twenty feet wide and nine feet high; so that wide passages in front and rear of the stalls are needed for health as well as convenience. Good health is one of the elements of cleanliness, for disease of any kind is always productive of fetor of breath, or exhalation, or excrement, which being caused by a wrong internal condition will certainly affect the milk.

Clean food is another element of cleanliness, and pure water is included. Perhaps there is no other place except a chemist's laboratory where greater attention must be given to secure perfect cleanliness and entire [illegible] from all [illegible] matter [illegible] the stable [illegible] of it—[illegible]

[illegible] Vhell, dot last day comes and somepody preaks my vindow mit der snowball, and vhen I goes oudt to shpeak aboudt it he calls me oldt Knickerbocker. I look at him more closely, und lo! he vhas dot same neighbor's poy! I can't make oudt how she vhas.

Sometimes my neighbor comes to me and says: "Mr. Dunder, you doan' lif in dis country so look ash I do, und I like to tell you dot it vash agin some law if you put ashes around. I shpeak to you pecause I vhas your frendt." Vhell, dot makes me ashamed, und I goes off und puys a box. In two days a policeman comes along und says my neighbor keeps more ashes, swill, dead cats, und strawbeds in his yard dan he sees pefore in two hoonered years, und he goes py der Recorder Court und pays a fine. I can't make oude how she vhas

Sometimes my frendt comes to me und says: "Say, Mr. Dunder, doan' make some fool of yourself. If der poys like you to run for aldermans in our ward, decline mit thanks. Dere vhas no money in it, und der papers abus you like some tiefts." Vhell, dot settles me, but vhen I goes py der poles to wote, lo! my frendt vhas on der teeket for aldermans und is elected! Somepody tells me he pays more ash $600 to be aldermans. I can't make ondt how she vhas.

Sometimes my frendt comes in and says: "Say old chapple, I haf always said I like to help you to a good thing, and der time was now come, I know a man on Rivard street who vhas awful hard oop. You can puy dot house und lot fer one tousand dollar, und he vhas wort eighteen hoonered. If you take her I warrent you make one tousand dollar in a year." Vhell, I pelief dot, and I puys der place. In two weeks I find owt dot my frendt make $100 commission on dot sale, und dot I vhas sheated by tree hoonered. I can't make oudt how she vhas.

Sometimes dot neighbor on my left hand comes to me and says: "Say, Dunder, oldt poy, I doan' hurt your feelings for one million dollar, but I like to shpeak mit you a leedle. You haf some beer wagons drive oop in front of your house, und my wife vhas afraid der public shall pelief it vhas us who vhas taking beer. Be some good fellows und haf der wagons go in der alley." Vhell, dot looks reasonable und I make 'em do it, but in four days my neighbor comes home so drunk on whisky dot I haf to help him in his honse, and his wife says it vhas nopody's peesness. I can't take her oudt.

Sometimes, ashi go to church on Soonday, I find all der saloons open, der poys playing ball and peoples going off on picnics. Vhen I goes inside der minister looks right at me und says: "It preaks my heart dot so many heathen in Africa vhas on der broad road to destruction. Please come down mit some contributions to save 'em." I come down, but I can make her oudt.—Detroit Free Press.

The oppressed subjects of European governments turn to this country for free homes, free laws, and for the free use of Salvation Oil for all pains.

It is the slight cold frequently contracted that finally underminds the system. Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and be cured.

Potatoes for Seed.

The importance of healthy tubers for seed is too well known to require more than a mere mention. Another important fact is that no crop benefits more from a frequent change of seed than potatoes. On the subject of cutting potatoes for seed Mark Lane Express says: "Many growers prefer planting the sets whole. Of course it economizes the seed if one potato can be made to do the work of two, but we question whether the cut potato makes the safest seed especially on farms that are addicted to potato disease. The great drawback to the whole potato has been that it sends up too many stems together and the crop is injured by over crowding. But is it not possible to prevent this by extracting all the eyes excepting, say, two? We should think there would be little difficulty about that; there can be no doubt that the whole set this far depleted of its sprout-eyes would have more nourishment to support the young plant than the seeding that has been cut. Its nourishment, moreover, would be concentrated on the two shoots left, which would tend to strengthen and fortify them for the battle of life."

"Just Hear that Child Scream!"

said Mrs. Smith to her sister, Mrs. Davis, as the sound of a child's shrieks came across the garden from a neighbor's house. "What kind of a woman have you for a neighbor? Does she abuse her children?" "No, indeed," replied Mrs. Davis "She is one of the most tender mothers in existance. But you see, she believes in the the old-fashioned styles of doctoring. When a child needs physic, she fills a spoon with some nauseous doses, lays the little victim flat on their lap, hold his nose till he is forced to open his mouth for breath, when down goes the dreadful mess. Then come the yells." "No wonder," said Mrs. Smith. "Why doesn't she use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative pellets? They are effective without being harsh, and are as easy to take as sugar plums. I always give them to my children." "And so do I," said Mrs. Davis.

A Recent Invention.

A burglar alarm has lately been devised which secretly registers the burglar's weight as soon as he enters the house, turns on electric lights and takes an instantaneous photograph of him, throws indelible ink in his face, seizes him by the coat-collar and locks him into the [illegible] [illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla

[illegible] Mrs. J. B. Bayrum, Pottsville, Penn.

Purifies the Blood

Henry Biggs, Campbell Street, Kansas City, had scrofulous sores all over his body for fifteen years. Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured him.

Wallace Buck, of North Bloomfield, N. Y., suffered eleven years with a terrible varicose ulcer on his leg so bad that he had to give up business. He was cured of the ulcer, and also of catarrh, by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

A Milwaukee brewer horse has his gallon of lager per day, and he won't pull a pound if they try to beat him out of his drink.

More cases of sick headache, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

Some citizens of San Diego have petitioned the members of the California Legislature to refrain from using tobacco.

The new combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters, has proved to be one of the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, and you will be surprised and pleased by the prompt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia, a plaster over the pit of the stomach stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

Forty-six moonshiners entered pleas of "guilty" last Wednesday in the United States district court at Louisville, Ky.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

The morphine craze is growing. A Portland, Me., manufacturer has made and sold 25,000 hypodermic needles since 1886.

DIDN'T WANT A GIRL.

Last summer my wife's health was all run down, and she wanted me to hire a girl to do the work. In a little while I found one I thought would suit her, when to my surprise she said I need not hire any one, as she felt much better, and thought another bottle of Sulphur Bitters would cure her. DONALD GREY, 41 Winchester square, Boston. 43tw.

A Washington correspondent states that but one senator smokes cigarettes.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by W. J. Watson.

COULD NOT KEEP

Shop without them. I consider your Sulphur Bitters a remarkable blood purifier. I know of several people whose cases were considered hopeless, that have been entirely cured by your medicine. The sale of Sulphur Bitters is so large that I could not keep shop without them. E. S. YATES, Pharmacist 99 Essex st. Lawrence. Mass. 43t2

Tolstoi, the Russian novelist, says that the great mass of people read novels for the story; they do not look or care for the application.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

May 30, next has been decided upon for the dedication of the monument to Gen. McClellan at Trenton, N. J.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

The Rothchilds and others have loaned Russia $140,000,000.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

Gen. Sherman is an interesting talker and his company is greatly sought in New York.

OH! MY HEAD!!

Suffering of a New Jersey Resident.—Dyspepsia, Sick Headache—Terrible Things.

When the stomach is torpid it soon becomes clogged with half digested matters, the blood becomes vitiated and foul; the other organs fail to act normally, and induces a train of symptoms, such as dyspepsia, sick headache, dizziness, [illegible], palpitation of the heart, pain in the back, loss of appetite.

"There are few things that I believe in with all my heart and it affords me pleasure to tell of one of them." [illegible]

Tortures of Dyspepsia

[illegible]

Paine's Celery Compound

[illegible]

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

DIAMOND DYES [illegible] | LACTATED FOOD The Physician's Favorite.

The Best Spring Medicine.

[illegible]

QUICKEST REMEDY KNOWN [illegible] SOOTHING, PAIN-KILLING, CURATIVE and STRENGTHENING.

MY BACK!
OH!
for one of those HOP PLASTERS.

HOP PLASTER

It satisfies every time. TRY ONE NOW. 25 Cts. 5 for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or mailed for price.

Look for signature of the proprietors, HOP PLASTER CO., BOSTON, on the genuine goods.

MELLIN'S
FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.
FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address. Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

The novel enterprise of raising frogs for the Boston market is about to be started at Manchester, N. H., by a New York party.

The Latest Yarn.

A Pittsburg drummer tells this new yarn: I always carry a bottle of Kemp's Balsam in my grip. I take cold easily and a few drops of the Balsam always makes me a well man. Everywhere I go I speak a good word for Kemp. I take hold of my customers—I take old men and young men, and tell them confidentially what I do when I take cold. At Druggists', 50c. and $1.00. Sample bottle free. 41t4.

A thief in Carlisle, Pa., steals nothing but Bibles, and he has taken ninety-one from the people of that town without being discovered.

To the Readers of This Paper.

This style of advertising has been running in our paper a long time. Your eyes have wandered over it for years. It is simply here as a reminder to you that if you should ever be so unfortunate as to have a cold or any lung trouble Kemp's Balsam is the best cough cure. At all drug stores. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00. Sample bottles free. 41t4

An iceboat on the Hudson river recently ran a race with an express train, beating it easily. Two miles and a half were made in five minutes.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. —Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at R. E. Phillips drug store.

Phillip H. Welch, the New York humorist who died recently, earned $7,000 a year by writing three to five line jokes.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., New York. 23 1 y

A Humboldt (Kas.) broom factory is laying itself out on a broom for the new mistress of the White House.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

At his country home John Wanamaker is said to have the finest lot of rhododendrons in Pennsylvania.

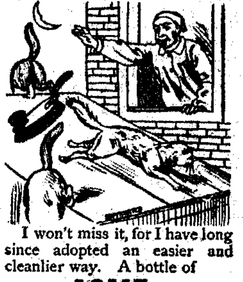
Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery of Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips drug store. Large bottles $1.

Washington society is enthralling Mamie Morrice, a pianiste, 14 years old, who is described as "a female Josef Hofmann."

[illegible]

THE SHOE BRUSH GONE



I won't miss it, for I have long since adopted an easier and cleanlier way. A bottle of

Wolff's ACME Blacking

and a sponge to keep my shoes washed clean, save a deal of labor and shoe leather.

Sold by Shoe Stores, Grocers, Druggists, &c.

The best Harness Dressing in the world.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N.Y.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion! Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ills arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c. and $1.00.

Dr. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

THE PEOPLE'S [illegible]

Salvation Oil "Kills all Pain." Try it! Only 25 c.

BEST IN THE WORLD ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS WORCESTER, MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you. | Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS. | $1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

[illegible]

Sulphur Bitters.

Send 3 two-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] in Puck.

A handkerchief is cold comfort.—Puck.

A spanking team—Our parents.—Hotel Mail.

While sojourning in Naples our base ballists had a taste of the crater.—Boston Herald.

Depositor—"Is the cashier in?" The janitor—"He is, ma'am, for ten years. Perhaps the assistant cashier'll do, ma'am?"—Judge.

A musical journal says that America needs a national air. Does, eh? What's the matter with the blizzard?—Boston Beacon.

Fish have some discomforts, but they manage to escape the annoyance of being called "too fresh"—Boston Globe.

The very latest—Drop in a nickel and see the organ grinder go away.—New York Herald.

It is the noble Kentuckian who never misses the water when the well runs dry.—Rochester Post-Express.

There are many unexpected occurrences in life, but they do not lie in the direction of surprise parties.—Boston Gazette.

Dude—"You have been looking straight at me for the last five minutes. What is it?" Farmer—"That's just what I was wondering."—Harper's Weekly.

It is better to be alive and poor than it is to be wealthy but dead. It is better to do a kind act for a fellow-being than it is to leave a desirable widow for some one else to marry.—Bill Nye.

Sorrows of the cross-eyed man—"Miss, may I have the honor of the next waltz with you?' Two ladies (eagerly rising)—"With pleasure."—Fliegende Blatter.

People who have seen a more remarkable winter thab this will keep still about it, if they are wise. Human endurance has its limitations and even the best of us forgot ourselves at times.—Somerville Journal.

Teacher—"Henry Clay was one of the most famous men of his time. Now can any boy tell me the cause of his fame?" Bright boy—"Cigars—my father allers smokes 'em."—Boston Post.

A Social Veteran.—Ted—What did Giles mean by saying Miss Lovelorn had a war record?

Ned—That she had been in many engagements, I suppose.—New York Evening Sun.

Druggist (awakened at 2 a. m.)—What do you wish? Voice (at the door)—If you'll let me look in your directory to see how to address this letter I'll buy the postage stamp of you.—New York Weekly.

A young devine tells a story of a groom who after the marriage ceremony, slipped a $2 bill into, his hand murmuring, apologetically, "I'll do better next time."—Harper's Magazine.

A New York man who went to Florida to start a newspaper got so thin in six months that he couldn't cast a shadow without doubling up like a jackknife.—Time.

"What is the future of Ireland!" exclaimed the senator, in earnest tones.

"Ireland," said the new school ma'am, calmly, "has no future; it is a noun."—Boston Beacon.

Chances to Save money.—Little Boy—"Do hotel clerks get very big salaries?" Kentucky Uncle—"Not often." "Then how can they afford such big diamonds?" "Well, you see they don't have to pay anything for their licker."—New York Weekly.

An editor's wife never goes through her husband's other trousers pockets to strike a package of love letters. Editors are not like the wicked, unfaithful men of the world—editors rarely have the other trousers.—Ex.

Fond mother (proudly)—Yes, Johnnie won the reading prize in school. Come here, Johnnie and tell Mrs. Brown how you won the prize.

Johnnie—Oh, I took it hands down. Billy Waffles got it for readin' good but I played marbles for it an' won it.—Harper's Bazar.

"A thousand dollars for that little picture!"

"Yes'm, but it is in oil, you know, and——"

"Oh, yes. I did not think of that. What an awful monopoly that Standard Oil Company is!"—Boston Transcript.

Honesty is the best policy. The reason we don't hear more about it is probably because it has expired.—Life.

A new rendering of the old text: It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a poor man to get into a fashionable church.—Boston Courier.

The answer is, one tills the soil and the other soils the till, but you can arrange the question to suit yourself.—Texas Siftings.

Susan B. Anthony greatly admires Mrs. Potter's Cleopatra. Miss Anthony knew the original Cleopatra when her brother Mary was attractive in the Egyptian Queen.—World.

[illegible] "Are you in favor of [illegible], Miss Oldmaid?" Miss Oldmaid—"Oh, this is so sudden! Y-e-s, I am Paine."—New York Weekly.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co. Bangor, Me. 44t4

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,
87tf Proprietor.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 7 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c.; mail, 60c.; registered, 60c. PAYNE & CO., ATHENS, PA.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. 50c.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless.

Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

As a Family Remedy Dr. Seth Arnold's COUGH KILLER has no equal.

We have used it for the past ten years, and can truly recommend it. Mrs. C. Filkin, Montezuma, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. [illegible],
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the sub-scribers at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

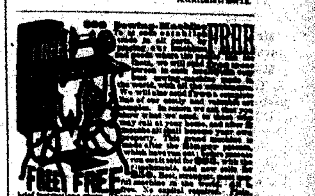
DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors
C. H. DAVID }

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix.



[illegible] TRUE & CO., Box 740, Augusta, Maine.

HEMLOCK LUMBER

—AND—

Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,

SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

AGENTS!

SOCIAL MIRROR:

Or [illegible] Culture.

[illegible]

THE [illegible] TIMES.

TWENTY-FIRST YEAR.

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

[illegible] Where His Own Image."

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y. WEDNESDAY, MARCH 20, 1889.

VOLUME 21—NUMBER 45

Single Copies Three Cents

Charlie's Story.

The family pledge hung on the wall,
 And on it you could see
The names of mamma, Mary Jane,
 And Charlie—that is me.

We didn't dare to ask papa
 To write upon it too,
So left a space for him to fill;
 'Twas all we dared to do.

He saw the pledge as soon as he Came in the door that night;
And when we saw him reading it,
 It put us in a fright.

He didn't say a word to us
 About the pledge at all,
But oft I saw him look at it,
 While hanging on the wall.

And every night when he came home,
 He stopped and read it through,
All kept still about those words,
 Although we knew them true.

Four weeks had passed, and then one night
 When pa came home to tea,
He took the pledge down from its nail,
 And then he turned to me.

"Go get the pen and ink, my boy,
 And let me fill that space.
It looks so bare,' he slowly said,
 A queer look on his face.

And then mamma sat down and cried,
 (She said it was for joy).
And Mary Jane sh cried some too,
 I didn't—I'm a boy.

But papa says he did not drink
 Since that first night when we
Had hung that pledge upon the wall
 Where he our names could see.

And ever since that space was filled,
 Mamma just said to-night,
Though dark may be our little room,
 One corner now is light.

A. H. Hutchinson.

DR. T. HERMAN BREHMER, an eminent German authority, says: "Consumption is always due to deficient nutrition of the lungs, caused by bad blood." At the Brompton Hospital for consumptives, London, England, a statement has been published that 52 per cent. of the patients of that institution have unsuspected kidney disorder. This explains why the proprietors of Warner's Safe Cure claim that they have received many testimonials which they have not published, because of the incredulity with which they would be received were it claimed that Warner's Safe Cure cures consumption. But the fact is that if your kidneys be cured and put in a healthy condition they expel the uric acid and poisonous waste matter, and prevent the irritation of the delicate substances of the lungs, thereby removing the cause. When the effect is removed the symptom of kidney disease, which is called consumption, disappears, and with it the irritation, which caused it.

THE PROPER THING.

The old fashioned, soft muslin-delaine is revived for the coming season.

The new bonnets all take the toque form, are small and set close to the head.

Jackets should not be worn over the long, redingote dresses, as they break the long, graceful lines of the skirt.

Jackets are so becoming to fine figures that they are liked to wear over dresses that are made without redingotes.

Directoire capes and mantles of cloth are the new wraps designed to be worn over Directoire costumes this spring.

Among the pretty gowns for summer are those of white serge or faced cloth of light-weight made up with the Diretoire redingote.

There will be a great rage during the coming season for embroidered and printed muslin, because they make up so well in straight skirts.

Bonnets and coiffures may be high or low, according to individual taste, still the average woman would do well to preserve a certain effect of moderate height in her bonnet and style of wearing her hair.

In the Directoire capes the cloth is placed layer upon layer, consisting sometimes of six capes, each deeper than that just above it. The cloth edges of each cape are smoothly cut and require no other finish.

The new parasols for spring and summer are covered with faille or armure silk in plain colors or richly brocaded, or with striped silks, plaids or bordered patterns, and very dressy parasols have thin gauze, silk muslin, or net covers brocaded with tinsel in designs like embroidery.

The surest means to rid yourself of that distressing cough is to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. 25 cents.

"Mrs. Jones sits at the window all day as placid as a May morning, and her five small children play hide and seek on the back stairs." "No wonder! She uses Salvation Oil for sprains and cuts."

Fifty years ago beet sugar was first made by David L. Child, of Northhampton, Mass.

Woman's Modesty.

Many women are prevented by feelings of delicacy from consulting a physician in those disorders arising from functional derangement of her peculiarly delicate organism, and the most [illegible] results are often [illegible] by this neglect. To such persons Dr. [illegible] Prescription is an [illegible] the [illegible] offers a sure and safe [illegible] distressing [illegible] [illegible]

FALL OF THE TIMES.

THE MOST HUMILIATING DEFEAT IN NEWSPAPER HISTORY.

Heretofore The Times Was the Most Successfully Managed Newspaper in the World—John Walter and Other Eminent Men on the Paper—The Perjurer Pigott.

"The Decline and Fall of The London Times" will not fill so many volumes as did that of the Roman Empire, but it is certainly one of the momentous events of these times. Momentous, if not ominous, because The Times is not only the greatest journal in the world, most cautious in taking up anything sensational, and managed by men of the widest experience, but it has been almost uniformly successful and is in a way identified with the existing government; yet its managers now have to confess (and they do it in the most ungracious manner) that they have failed in all the important requisites of true journalism. That is, they have believed without sufficient evidence, have been thoroughly tricked by an impostor so shallow that he was unable to impose upon Irish patriots of the least experience, have allowed political prejudice to lead them to acts of indecent personality, have persisted in injustice despite fair warning, and have finally been so disastrously defeated that the reaction is likely to overthrow the administration they support.

THE TIMES BUILDING.

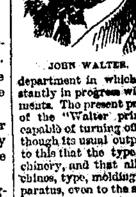
It would seem that a temporary madness must have afflicted John Walter, the third of the name in the management of The Times. The great journal really dates from 1785, when Mr. John Walter, grandfather of the present proprietor, started The Daily Universal Register; and not quite four years ago The Times celebrated its centennial by calling attention to it in a paragraph of some twenty lines! What an opportunity that would have been for an American publisher. On the 29th of November, 1814, The Times was first printed by steam, that being the first application of steam to printing; and from the start The Times has been among the first to adopt all improvements in the great art. Not only are the improvements of all others tested as soon as heard of, and, if successful, adopted, but The Times has a large department in which experiments are constantly in progress with a view to improvements. The present proprietor is the inventor of the "Walter printing press," which is capable of turning off 24,000 copies per hour, though its usual output is but 22,000. Add to this that the type is mostly set by machinery, and that all the type setting machines, type, molding and electrotyping apparatus, even to the smallest appliances, are manufactured in the same building with the printing, and it will be seen that The Times has the best appointed printing establishment in the world.



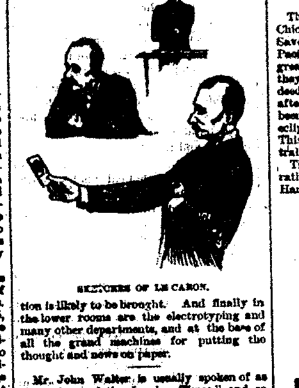
JOHN WALTER.

It is also, all things considered, the most finished paper as it comes from the press. Typographical errors are almost unknown. A considerable reward for the detection of any failed to produce proof of one for several days together. To an American the daily edition has a sort of "blocky" appearance, differing as it does so much from American journals in make up; but in a few days the reader gets familiar with the arrangement and likes it. It is also the highest priced daily, selling at three pence a copy, or six cents of American money; but as it is clearly printed on superb paper, and contains really the condensed thought and information of the world, it is well worth it. And, finally, it employs many of the most noted writers in the world, and sustains them with British tenacity; maintains the best appointed bureaux at the centers of European interest; pays princely salaries, and will have none but the best dispatch and telegraphic service.

There are pretentious governments which require far less attention to detail in their administration than does The Times, and many principalities in Europe with smaller incomes. When there was a stamp duty on advertisements The Times in [illegible] (1829) paid the government £70,000 ($350,000 nearly) on this item alone, and when a penny stamp was required on each paper sold, the dues from The Times were rated among the large items in the British exchequer. If these taxes were now in force The Times would pay $2,300,000 a year. They were widely denounced as taxes upon intelligence. The [illegible] daily sales for many years have been 60,000, and, rating the advertisements at the average, the income of The Times has been a trifle below $6,000,000 a year. And yet the hands [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Each below are the [illegible] ing rooms, [illegible] graphic [illegible] being in [illegible] slip as it [illegible] the special wire from Paris. There are [illegible] porter who has taken his report down in shorthand talks it through the wondrous wire to the transmitting [illegible] in the office who takes it down in turn in shorthand, and dictates it to the compositors, one transmitter succeeding another so rapidly that the speech is in type in a few minutes after it is uttered in parliament. The typesetting machines made and used in The Times building are about as near perfection as that invention is likely to be brought. And finally in the lower rooms are the electrotyping and many other departments, and at the base of all the grand machines for putting the thought and news on paper.

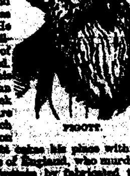


SKETCHES OF LE CARON.

Mr. John Walter is usually spoken of as "proprietor of the London Times," and so that phrase is used here, but he is merely principal proprietor, as there is a stock company. Many employes of The Times, both regular and occasional, have risen to fame, such as W. Vernon Harcourt, John Oxenford, M. Blowitz, the renowned manager of the Paris bureau of correspondence; Edmund Yates, John Delane, Henry Labouchere and the renowned Dr. William H. Russell, whose reports from the United States in 1861 gave sensitive Americans so much occasion for anger, which has since given place to good humored laughter. Dr. Russell himself very pleasantly says that no country with a complex system of government, and extremely heterogeneous society (and the United States certainly has both), can be fully understood till the observer has lived in it long enough to become saturated with the national feeling.

It is needless to detail the recent troubles of The Times. Suffice it to state that in 1887 the journal began publishing a series of fierce attacks on the Irish leaders, charging that they were secretly inciting violence while pretending to engage in strictly constitutional reforms. This was followed by another series headed "Parnellism and Crime," and when the Parnellites called for proof The Times gave fac-similes of letters alleged to be those of Mr. Parnell, in which assassination was defended. The sensation created can scarcely be described; it extended to every part of the English speaking world. At length one O'Donnell brought suit against The Times, and was defeated, after which the Tory government accepted all The Times statements as true, and the managers of the journal seemed to lay aside all prudence in their frantic attacks on the Home Rulers.

The accused being members of parliament, that body was compelled to take action, and after much squabbling a special court was created. The trial was a "state case," fairly rivaling that of Warren Hastings. The Times at last produced its great witness, one Edward Pigott, who claimed to have been a Fenian, a soldier in the American civil war and many other things. He had received the letters, he testified, and knew the plans of the "Irish conspirators." He was cross examined and then the whole case broke down. He confessed his villainy, his forgery of the letters and fled. A perusal of his testimony makes an honest man's cheek burn for his share of the shame which attaches to common humanity. Pigott takes his place with the historic perjurers of England, who murdered noble men and women by fabricated testimony—with Titus Oates, Bedloe and Dangerfield. And the government is deeply involved, as the attorney general had conducted the case and the Salisbury cabinet had virtually sustained the charges. In all the annals of journalism there is no other case of such a disgraceful defeat as The Times has sustained —[illegible] with it in humiliation, loss of prestige and far reaching consequences.



PIGOTT.

The reported suicide of Pigott makes the fall of the [illegible] of The Times complete.

A Poem in Brick.

All have heard of the buildings in Europe which are poems in stone, but it remained for an eccentric Philadelphian to construct a remarkable structure which he calls a "poem in brick." [illegible] is a [illegible] of [illegible] and very early American [illegible] flowers, [illegible] Free Press.

SERVED [illegible] SIXTEEN YEARS.

[illegible]

[illegible] printed pages.

There are but few men in the house who were there when Gen. Clark first took his seat. Among them may be mentioned Sam Cox, Holman, Randall, Kelley, [illegible] and Bland. During the last three congresses Gen. Clark has filled the responsible and onerous position of clerk of the house. The duties of this office are complex and difficult, requiring the assistance of a staff of thirty-six clerks. During the last recess they prepared 13,000 printed pages of testimony in contested election cases.

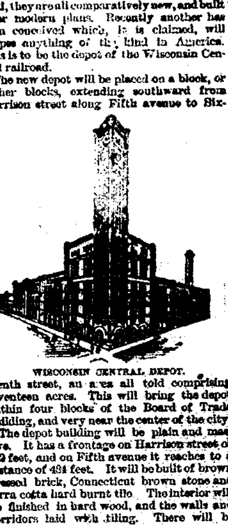
Gen. Clark is one of the most popular men in Washington. It is significant of his honesty, and of the small pecuniary reward attached to public life, that after a service of sixteen years he finds himself without any substantial accumulation and under the necessity of retiring to private life and facing from the outset the problem of bread winning.

A GREAT DEPOT.

It Is to Be Built by the Wisconsin Central Railroad in Chicago.

There are more beautiful railroad depots in Chicago than in any other city in the world. Save one—the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, built a short time previous to the great fire of 1871, and not then destroyed—they are all less than eighteen years old. Indeed, they are all comparatively new, and built after modern plans. Recently another has been conceived which, it is claimed, will eclipse anything of the kind in America. This is to be the depot of the Wisconsin Central railroad.

The new depot will be placed on a block, or rather blocks, extending southward from Harrison street along Fifth avenue to Sixteenth street, an area all told comprising seventeen acres. This will bring the depot within four blocks of the Board of Trade building, and very near the center of the city.



WISCONSIN CENTRAL DEPOT.

The depot building will be plain and massive. It has a frontage on Harrison street of 232 feet, and on Fifth avenue it reaches to a distance of 484 feet. It will be built of brown pressed brick, Connecticut brown stone and terra cotta hard burnt tile. The interior will be finished in hard wood, and the walls and corridors laid with tiling. There will be steam heating and electric lighting. A special feature will be a clock tower, 250 feet high. Then there is a covered court, capable of sheltering fifty vehicles, entered through three great stone archways, the court being 157 feet long by 100 feet wide. The main waiting room is 200 feet by 72 feet. There is a ladies' parlor, a restaurant, a barber shop and bath rooms. The train depot building is 600 feet long, the tracks being spanned by semi-circular steel arched trusses, steel arches supporting the glass roof. The height of this roof is 90 feet. It is intended to arrange electric lights along these arches.

In the tower will be a great clock, with a face illuminated by electric light. From the summit one will get a splendid view of Chicago; its business blocks directly below; a forest of frame houses stretching west and the vast fields of lumber and planing mills on the south, while half a mile to the east, and contrasting with the busy scene on land, are spread the blue waters of Lake Michigan.

The Philadelphia Mint.

The Philadelphia mint is to be enlarged. A cut of how the building will look when the additions are on is here given. The enlargement will consist of a third story and a tower, the latter 40 feet high. The architecture is to be altered from a simple Ionic to a florid style. The fronts on Chestnut street will be advanced until they are nearly in a line with the front of the main building. The tower will be raised above the center of the Chestnut street front, in the top of which a [illegible] will be made that the front of the tower may appear.

THE MINT.

The change from one style of architecture to another is explained from the fact that no further acquisition of ground at a moderate cost could be expected, and no addition which would leave the building in its present form nor any new building adjoining the mint can be erected.

Ice as a Heater.

One of St. Patrick's most famous miracles is thus commemorated in the old Irish ballad of "Polly Roe:"

St. Patrick, as in legends told,
The morning being very cold,
In order to assuage the weather,
Collected bits of ice together;
Then gently breathed upon the pyre,
When every fragment blazed on fire.
Oh! if the saint had been so kind,
As to have left the gift behind
To such a love lorn wretch as me,
Who daily struggles to be free;
I'd be content, content with part;
I'd only ask to thaw the heart,
The frozen heart of Polly Roe.

It's a Pretty Sight, Sure.

[illegible]

[illegible]

"It seems to me," remarked [illegible] of our [illegible] the other day, "that physicians are allowed extraordinary license in the manner in which they juggle with the welfare of their patients."

"Now here is Dr. —— who was attending Mr. —— up to the time of his death, and if he treated him for one thing he treated him for a dozen different disorders. First the doctor said pneumonia was the trouble; then it was consumption. Then the patient was dosed for heart trouble, and so on until just before he died it was ascertained that disease of the kidneys was the real trouble, and that which had been at first treated as pneumonia, consumption, heart disease, etc., were but the symptoms of kidney disease.

"But then it was too late.

"This is only one case in a hundred, and I am beginning to lose faith in the doctors altogether. In fact I haven't had any need for their services since I began to keep Warner's Safe Cure in my house, a little over three years ago. Whenever I feel a little out of sorts I take a few doses of it, confident that the source of all disease is in the kidneys, which I known Warner's Safe Cure will keep in good order, and will eradicate any disease that may be lurking there. Had Mr. —— followed a similar course I have no doubt that he would be alive to-day; but of course all people don't think alike.

"One thing is certain, however, and that is the doctors are allowed a little too much freedom in the way they have of pretending to know that which they really know nothing about. If they don't know what is the real trouble with the patient, they should admit it and not go on and experiment at the cost of the patient's life."

Fifty years ago Sirius and Great Western, the first ocean steamships, entered New York harbor on their return trip No. 1.

Mrs. Chas. Smith, of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Fifty years ago a survey was made by John Baily for a canal across Central America.

Have no equal as a prompt and positive cure for sick headache, biliousness, constipation, pain in the side, and all liver troubles. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Try them.

Fifty years ago John Ericsson was allowed letters patent on a steam "propeller" boat.

Something that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Iron Pills are made for exactly this class of troubles, and are remarkably successful in accomplishing the ends desired, as named above. They are useful for both men and women. Price, 50 cents a box.

Fifty years ago David G. Burnett began to serve as acting President of the "Republic of Texas."

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

Kansas Philosophy.

It is of no avail to weed last year's garden.

The soft paw of a cat covers many a sharp claw.

Some people are happiest when they are miserable.

A pathetic mouth sometimes hides a bitter tongue.

No man is as wretched as he imagines himself to be.

To err is human; to keep it from being found out is divine.

It is said that when a man begins to tell of his good deeds the devil stirs the fire.

The man who has had smooth sailing all his life can lay no claim to being a sailor.

A man can give a reason for hating another man, but women hate without reason.

When you remember that the world is so full of real trouble its remarkable that people worry so much over imaginary ones. After you have provided a fire in winter do not go out to hunt cold weather.—Atchison, (Kan.) Globe.

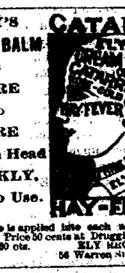
ST. JACOBS OIL [illegible]
RHEUMATISM [illegible]
INJURIES.
[illegible] 40 YEARS [illegible]
SCIATIC RHEUMATISM.
[illegible]

NONE SUCH BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
Contains only Pure Grape Cream Tartar, [illegible] Soda, and a little Starch. Full weight, always uniform. Incomparable for strength, purity and wholesomeness. [illegible] Contains no Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Phosphates, or other impurity. "Safe for dyspeptics and invalids." Sold in cans only. Geo. C. Hanford, Mfr., Syracuse, N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sonsy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's 31797, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.



ELY'S CREAM BALM is SURE to CURE Cold in Head QUICKLY. Easy to Use.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York

BONANZA TO AGENTS SAMPLES FREE [illegible] New York City

[illegible]

PARLOA'S COOK BOOK.
Large Quarto. Lithographed Cover.
Over 100,000 Parloa Cook Books have been sold
Mailed on receipt of 30 cts by any bookseller, or
ESTES & DATRIAT, Boston, Mass.

ACHING Sides AND Back
Aching Sides and Back, Hip, Kidney and Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)

Good Cheer
Instead of Despondency;
Energy by Day,
Sleep at Night,
No Opium.

A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

Mrs. Caroline Austin, Astoria, N. Y., says: "Last winter I ran down so rapidly from malaria that I would faint away sitting in my chair. I heard Kaskine, the new Kaskine, the new quinine. Using it three weeks I was well."

W. F. Holcombe, M. D., late Prof. in New York Opth. Hospital and N. Y. Medical College, writes: "After five months use of Kaskine I cheerfully state that I have found it superior to quinine in its specific power, and entirely free from causing any disturbance to the hearing."

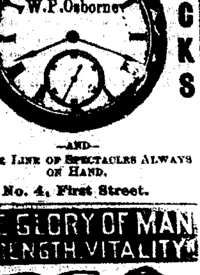
Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.
KASKINE CO. 166, Duane St., New York.

UNITED LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION,
44 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Lowest rates. Best security. $1,000 policy. yearly cost, $12. Reliable Agents wanted.
Hon. PETER BOWE, Pres.

Oklahoma A BOOK giving full description and information containing three MAPS. CIRCULARS FREE. A. BASS & CO., McPherson, Kansas.

IT will Cure — — COUGHS,
IT will Heal — — SORE THROAT,
IT will Save — — MANY LIVES.
[illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE.
Jeweler,



WATCHES CLOCKS
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

THE GLORY OF MAN STRENGTH VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.
EXHAUSTED VITALITY UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskilful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. [illegible] and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

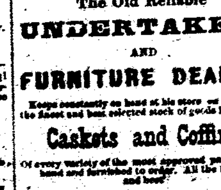
[illegible] A Pkt. Mixed Flower Seeds, [illegible] and Hle. Certificate [illegible] seeds your choice, all for 5 stamps (5c). Every flower lover delighted. Tell all your friends. G. W. PARK, Fannettsburg, Pa. Send at once, this notice appears but a few times.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

SALESMEN WANTED Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid. Special inducements to beginners. Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. Hooker Nurseries, (established 1835), ROCHESTER, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

FARMS. BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South J. F. MANCHA, Clairmont, Vt.

MR. HARRISON SAYS



RAYMOND'S PECTORAL PLASTER,
The wonderful cough cure, is the only cure known for Whooping Cough. It is also the best plaster in the world for all pains and is the only plaster in the market that will do what it is advertised to do. Try it. 25 cts. For sale by W. J. WATSON, Druggist.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS
RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND.
Original, best, only genuine and reliable pill for sale. Never Fail. Ask for Chichester's English Diamond Brand, in red metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. At Druggists. Accept no other. All pills in pasteboard boxes, pink wrappers, are a dangerous counterfeit. Send 4c. (stamps) for particulars and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return mail. 10,000 testimonials from LADIES who have used them. Name Paper. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

DR. G. F. WHITNEY'S
New and Successful Method of Diagnosing and Treating Diseases. Patients treated right at their own homes with perfect success. The most difficult and complicated cases quickly and permanently relieved even after all other means have failed. Those desiring trial treatment should send full name, age, sex, weight and a brief history of illness and medicines, carefully prepared for the case, to last ten days will be sent them with the diagnosis. Terms $5 and 6c. postage. Address G. F. WHITNEY, M. D., Cleveland, O.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First S[illegible] the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
[illegible] everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

A Wise Man.

Mrs. Brown—My husband is one of the [illegible] of men.

Mrs. [illegible]—That's nice.

Mrs. Brown—[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

JANE BROADWELL,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given.
Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, - - Fulton, N. Y.

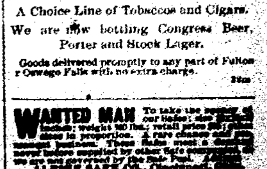
Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

$85 Solid Gold Watch. Sold for $100, until lately. Best $85 watch in the world. Perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Heavy Solid Gold Hunting Cases. Both ladies' and gents' sizes, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free, together with our large and valuable line of Household Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send Free, and after you have kept them in your home for 2 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine. FREE

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

INSURE IN THE
TRADERS & TRAVELERS
Accident Company,
287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
BENEFITS.
$5,000 for Death.
$5,000 Loss of Limbs.
$2,500 Loss of Limb.
$2,500 Loss of Sight.
$1,250 Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks.
One Set of Individual Registry Plates Included.
COST.
Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00
Annual Dues, - - - 1.00
Membership Fee, 5.00. . $11.00
IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Traders & Travelers Accident Co. of New York desire the services of one responsible representative in each town to act as agent for the general transaction of their business. A liberal and permanent arrangement will be made with parties who can fill the above requirements. Address
C. S. SOMERVLLE, Sec'y.



80c TO $2 PER ROD.
All sizes and widths. [illegible] THE [illegible] WOVEN WIRE FENCE CO., Nos. [illegible] E. Market St., Chicago, Ill.

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

WANTED MAN To take the agency of our Safes; [illegible] weight [illegible] lbs.; retail price [illegible] sizes in proportion. A rare chance and permanent business. These Safes meet a demand never before supplied by other Safe companies, as we are not governed by the Safe Pool. [illegible] ALPINE SAFE CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

9 Cords in 10 HOURS
NO BACKACHE.
[illegible]

[illegible] EVERY WEDNESDAY

Times Block, - First Street.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

Our Daily Bread.

Heavy and sour bread or biscuit has a vast influence through the digestive organs upon the measure of health we enjoy. How important to our present happiness and future usefulness the blessing of good health and a sound constitution are, we can only realize when we have lost them, and when it is to late to repair the damage. Notwithstanding these facts, thousands of persons daily jeopardize not only their health, but their lives, and the healths and lives of others, by using articles in the preparation of their food the purity and healthfulness of which they know nothing. Perhaps a few cents may have been saved, or it may have been more convenient to obtain the articles used, and the housekeeper takes the responsibility and possibly will never know the mischief that has been wrought. Paterfamilias may have spells of headache, the children may have lost their appetites, or look pale; if so, the true cause is rarely suspected The weather, the lack of out-door air, or some other cause, is given, and the unwholesome, poisonous system of adulterated food goes on. Next to the flour, which should be made of good, sound wheat and not ground too fine, the yeast or baking powder, which furnishes the rising properties, is of the greatest importance, and of the two we prefer baking powder, and always use the Royal, as we thereby retain the original properties of the wheat, no fermentation taking place. The action of the Royal Baking Powder upon the dough is simply to swell it and form little cells through every part. These cells are filled with carbonic acid gas, which passes off during the process of baking.

The Royal is made from pure grape acid, and it is the action of this acid upon highly carbonized bicarbonate of soda that generates the gas alluded to: and these ingredients are so pure and so perfectly fitted, tested and adapted to each other, that the action is mild and permanent, and is continued during the whole time of baking, and no residue of poisonous ingredients remains to undermine the health, no heavy biscuits, no sour bread, but if directions are followed, every article will be found sweet and wholesome.

The Century.

Mr. Joseph Jefferson has been engaged for a number of years upon his autobiography, which will soon begin to appear in The Century. No more interesting record of a life upon the stage could be laid before the American public, and Mr. Jefferson's personality is perhaps more sympathetic to the people of this country than that of any actor we have had. He is the fourth in a generation of actors, and, with his children and grandchildren upon the stage, there are six generations of actors among the Jeffersons. The record which he has made of the early days of the American stage is said to be peculiarly interesting especially the story of his travels as a boy in his father's company, when they would settle down for a season in a western town and extemporize their own theatre.

The autobiography will begin in The Century during the coming autumn, and the installments will be illustrated with a portrait gallery of distinguished actors.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., March, 13th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present the President and Trustees More, Rice, Johnson and Kellogg.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The following bills were reported correct by the Finance committee, allowed by the Board and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the amounts, to-wit:

Geo. H. Fassell, Board of Health	$25.00
J. C. Dresser, " " "	25.00
Oscar O. Hannis, " " "	25.00
Mary J. Hornibrook, rent of barn	6.25
M. C. Highriter, Clerk's salary	25.00
" " Janitor and disbursements,	4.85
George H. Fassel, cutting stone	2.50
Dr. Pardee, Health officer	25.00
Pardee & Hall, professional services	10.00

The Street Commissioner presented his report showing he had expended $99.88 on streets. On motion the Clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of Trustee Kellogg for the amount.

On motion Patrick O'Brien, Jr., was appointed a Policeman.

Trustees Nichols and Pardee came in.

The Attorney and Board discussed the question of the authority of two of the Sewer Commissioners to act in the absence of the other.

On motion of Trustee Rice, when the Board adjourns, it will be till to-morrow evening, and at that time hear a further report from the Attorney.

Adjourned.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., March 14th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and all the Trustees.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

[illegible]

St. Louis, [illegible]

There is [illegible] of truth in the saying that "one half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives;" indeed, it may be said to be all truth; but the fact derives considerably less interest from the fact that fully one half of the world doesn't care how the other half lives. With equal truth, and perhaps with the chance of a more attentive hearing, it may be said that the inhabitants of one section of this glorious and growing country of ours know little or nothing of any other section—near or remote. At least this is true of ninety-nine in a hundred; and for the most part the term "section" would not need to extend beyond State boundaries. We are essentially a stay-at-home people, reasonably content with our lot, attached to the associations amid which we grew up, and satisfied to pursue the struggle for subsistence—and what happiness may be in store for us—in the companionship of those, who, from knowing us best, can judge us most righteously. It is, I apprehend, a matter of predilection more than conscious volition; for I doubt if very many ever discuss with themselves the propriety of a departure from the ordinary rule. And so it happens that they are wise whether they deliberately intend to be or not.

Pursuring the idea with which I started, it may be assumed that the readers of THE TIMES—or of any other paper printed in the interior of New York State—know very little about St. Louis; and yet it was settled when the vast region between the Mississippi and the Empire State was either wilderness or unbroken prairie. The selection of the site was the work of a party of adventurers up the river from New Orleans in 1764. The junction of the Missouri at this point was the natural advantage that determined the location. It was incorporated as a city in 1822, with a population of between 4,000 and 5,000; at the breaking out of the war it contained about 150,000; by the census of 1880, 355,000; and is now estimated at close on to 500,000. There is no good reason, unless it be the conservative ideas that prevailed in all the later slaveholding territory, why St. Louis should not have maintained her ancient prestige as the commercial metropolis of all this region.

If the city was ever located immediately at the confluence of the two great rivers, as is the popular understanding, it is not now. The northern boundary does not reach nearer than five or six miles from that point. The well-known eccentricity of the currents might account for a part of this distance, but not for the whole. The real reason is that the banks and lands on the present site are vastly better adapted to building purposes, being high enough to insure against danger of overflow in seasons of freshet.

The first plat of St. Louis was small reaching west only half a dozen squares from the river, but with a longer water front. Now it covers an area of about seven miles at the widest point, east and west, by fifteen miles north and south the commercial centre being still the original city. Many times since the incorporation in 1822, and commencing soon after it, additions of outlaying settlements, have been made, at first amounting to a narrow strip of a few squares in some desirable direction, and later to a mile or two of territory. As a result of this policy St. Louis presents a sort of patchwork quilt aspect that is anything but attractive and convenient. Each little independent suburb had a system, a scale, and a nomenclature of its own, and all different from each other; and the effect of moving these together so to speak, and consolidating them in a single municipality, has been confusing in the extreme. None of the additions fitted the main city, and no one of them fitted any other. As a consequence very few of the streets are straight for any considerable distance; the squares are all the way from say 200 to 1,000 feet long; the names are changed two or three times on the same thoroughfare in some instances, and are duplicated in others. It is best just to add, however, that the disadvantage of such a situation is appreciated, and every opportunity is being improved to remedy it where possible.

The initial St. Louis, like all old Southern cities, was built on the ground and not in the air. It is doubtful if up to the close of the war the city contained a dozen buildings that were four stories high, and the instances were comparatively rare in which they were more than two. This gave a groveling, squatty appearance to the place that was not gratifying to pilgrims from the North and East. Modern taste and enterprise are changing this, so that magnificient structures of eight and ten stories are getting to be common. Among these latter, Odd Fellows' Hall, eight stories high and occupying about one-fourth of a city square of ground, is approaching completion, and will be dedicated the coming summer. It is one of the handsomest buildings in the city, and fronts on the most popular business and residence street. Its cost will be close to half a million dollars. It stands directly opposite the massive Government building—post office, custom house, United States court, etc.—which occupies an entire block.

It will astonish those who feel any interest in a Western city of this magnitude, especially if they are not familiar with the fact, to be told that St. Louis had not a square of permanently paved street up to 1882. Everything was macadam and mud—dust when not mud. An experiment had been made a year or two previous with wood, for a few squares in the business centre; but as fast as it gave out it was repaired with the enevitable macadam until the granite system was adopted. This has since been pushed with vigor and courage though greatly to the grief of property owners, but it is popular with the people and will stay. Wood and asphaltum are being tried on a few residence avenues not subject to heavy traffic, but it is too early to say with what prospect of final adoption.

St. Louis is [illegible] with Volney and [illegible] [illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March 16, 1889.

President Harrison is delivering the nominations to Congress as fast as he can finish them. He deals with the question of foreign missions as a house wife makes a custard pie. He begins by laying in the pan the crust and he retains the rich elements to pour in as a grand finale. The most important positions already filled in the diplomatic service are those of minister to Spain and minister to Italy, as the Japanese mission is of secondary importance.

The appointment of ex-Governor Porter to the Italian mission is acceptable to every one, and gives the President opportunity to reward a strong personal friend. The selection of Senator Palmer for the post at Madrid is singularly inappropriate, in the light of precedent. For years we have sent to Spain gentlemen of scholarship and literary attainments. The libraries of Madrid teem with manuscripts relative to the early history of discoveries in the New World. Here Prescott, then our minister, wrote his enchanting stories of the conquests, and gave the Spaniards a new idea of the ability of North Americans. Even Perry Belmont, hasty and irrepressible as he may be, is still a man of fine scholarship and literary tastes. Senator Palmer is one of the most sensible of millionaires, and would have made, what he so much desired to make, and excellent Secretary of Agriculture. But his knowledge of literature may be said to be bounded on one side by the Michigan lumber laws and on the other by his bank book. Let us be thankful that the days when wily Spanish diplomats made one-sided treaties and pulled the wool over the eyes of other diplomats and interfered in international affairs, is over.

The appointment of Mr. Swift to the Japanese mission is regarded as something of a fall off for his high ambition. Perhaps California should have had higher representation. Even the minister to China, if his being a Californian would not prevent his acceptance by the Chiniese Court, would be of more advantage to the Pacific slope. However, Japan is so delighted with everything American that it may be well to send them one of our best after dinner speakers and in that way Mr. Swift's selection is excellent.

The selection of George S. Batcheller, of New York, as first assistant secretary of the Treasury, evinces a desire to bestow offices upon men who have done active party service. A week ago it appeared that Charles E. Coon would certainly have this position, but he has now missed both first and second assistant secretaryships. Mr. Coon was in the Treasury Department from boyhood and became a valuable official, being an unusually able man. When the Democratic administration numbered him among the slain, he went to New York city and entered the employ of a great banking house. He rather forgot the rural New York district where he had been reared, and lost his residence there. During the last campaign he gave the Republican party moral support, but he did not git out and "hustle." In fact, Mr. Coon had been so long an elegant society figure that it was quite out of his line. He therefore only claimed office as a common everyday patriot and a man trained in the conduct of the Treasury Department business. On this account Secretary Windom desired his appointment. But as the first assistant has the minor appointments practically in charge, Senator Platt and his chums wanted a New York man whom they could control, and so chose Mr. Bacheller and left Mr. Coon to catch on to anything else he might see unoccupied.

These New Yorkers are no less thrifty than shifty. You will observe that failing to secure the Treasury portfolio, they secure the first assistant and they do the same in the Interior Department. While still the light holds out to burn New York may be expected to be peeping around for a chance to do good—for itself.

It is said with some appearance of truth that Mr. Blaine is attempting his old role of "the power behind the throne," and that Mr. Harrison somewhat objects to the power being greater than the throne itself. The "plumed knight" is said to have presented the names of Whitelaw Reid and William Walter Phelps for the English and German missions. To the first proposition, it is said that the President responded that the position was already disposed of, as he had promised the English mission to another candidate some time since. Could it have been Depew?

The time since the 4th of March has been a whole year of hard work and patience endurance to President Harrison. His pale face is paler than ever and he looks as worn as a Washington shop girl at the end of August.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

AGENTS!

[illegible]

[illegible]

ORDINARY EXPENSES.

Street Lighting,	[illegible]
Assessors,	[illegible]
Board of Health,	[illegible]
Cross Walks,	[illegible]
Clerk,	[illegible]
Office Room,	[illegible]
Printing,	[illegible]
Fire Department,	1,[illegible] 00
Incidentals,	[illegible]
Total,		4,[illegible] 00

HIGHWAYS.

General Repairs,	$[illegible] 00
Permanent Improvement for constructing iron bridge at Hubbard and First streets, balance to be drawn from other funds if necessary,	1,000 00
Total,		2,800 00
Furnace for engine house,	200 00
Annex to engine house, for drying hose	200 00
		450 00
Total,		$7,308 00

EXPENDITURES.

Ordinary Expenses.

STREET LIGHTING.

NO. OF ORDER.
17.	Geo. G. Chauncey,	$498 73
88.	Citizens' Electric Co.,	344 80
132.	" " "	258 88
		1,098.41

COURT ROOM.

69.	Charles Whitaker,	$ 26 00
166.	" "	26 00
		$ 52 00

ASSESSORS.

56.	Myron Haven,	$ 50 00
100.	" "	2 00
51.	P. Yeomans,	30 00
108.	" "	2 00
55.	Laurence Van Buren,	30 00
115.	" " "	2 00
		$ 116 00

BOARD OF HEALTH.

6.	J. C. Dresser,	$ 2 00
170.	Geo. H. Fassell,	25 00
171.	J. C. Dresser,	25 00
172.	Oscar O. Hannis,	25 00
177.	D. Pardee, Health Officer,	25 00
		$ 102 00

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT.

180.	Louis Myers, wrought iron bridge	$1,150 00

CLERK.

19	N. N. Stranahan,	$ 12 50
28.	M. C. Highriter,	12 50
73.	" "	25 00
140.	" "	25 00
174.	" "	25 00
		$ 100 00

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

22.	W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer,	$200 00
64.	" " "	200 00
66.	" " "	400 00
145.	" " "	200 00
164.	" " "	200 00
		$ 1,200 00

PRINTING.

26.	J. R. Fairgrieves, Printing,	$ 15 00
89.	Fred Bennett, "	46 25
62.	Fulton Times, "	14 70
96.	Fred Bennett, "	39 75
137.	Fulton Times, "	12 50
138.	Fred Bennett, "	28 50
		$ 156 70

SPECIAL FUND.

71.	E. R. & G. J. Foster, building annex to engine house,	$395 02
124.	Geo. Johnson, engine house furnace.	186 50
		$ 581 52

GENERAL FUND.

9.	J. More & Co., coal court room,	$ 1 63
10.	" " "	1 63
12.	Geo. Kellogg for Bridget Duffy,	20 50
13.	B. J. Kimball, surveying,	3 00
16.	H. B. Collins, jail key,	1 35
18.	Light Com., Expense to Rochester,	21 00
20.	N. N. Stranahan, disbursement,	90
23.	John White, gas for jail,	2 00
24.	S. J. Parmiter, jail key,	1 00
27.	Mary J. Harnibrook, rent of barn,	6 25
29.	M. C. Highriter, janitor,	3 75
30.	Geo. Marshall, burying dog,	1 00
31.	C. G. Whitbeck, drawing bridge plan,	5 00
32.	B. J. Kimball, use of map,	5 00
35.	A. Rice, point for road machine,	3 05
36.	O. H. Sholtz, tax on village lot,	23
37.	American Fire Hose Co., new hose,	659 14
42.	H. H. Kendrick,	25 00
44.	Andrew J. Clark, special police,	2 00
45.	Thos. G. Poole, " "	4 00
46.	Edward A. Jones, " "	2 00
47.	Willard Curtis, " "	4 00
48.	Eureka Fire Hose Co., mend. sleeve and playing pipe,	30 00
52.	M. C. Highriter, labor on tax rolls,	20 00
53.	John White, gas for jail,	2 25
57.	B. J. Kimball, surveying,	1 50
61.	Arvin Rice, freight on stone,	22 40
62.	B. J. Kimball, surveying,	1 50
63.	L. H. Judd, Board of Health,	2 00
70.	Mary J. Hornibrook, rent of barn	6 25
72.	W. C. Stephens, att'y for assessors	33 03
74.	M. C. Highriter, janitor,	3 75
75.	J. Pearman, re'p'rs steamer No. 1,	6 05
76.	" " " " 2,	26 70
78.	W. J. Lovejoy, treas., lever, wheel and exhaust	15 65
79.	Pardee & Hall, professional services,	25 00
80.	Paul Roderick, carting hose,	50
81.	Geo. G. Chauncey, Supt., water for drinking fountains,	15 [illegible]
84.	C. Hammond, repairs steamer No. 1,	4 [illegible]
86.	American Fire Hose Co., hose	500 00
87.	Geo. E. True, La Duke note,	1,[illegible] 87
88.	T. Nelligan, iron for bridge,	6 [illegible]
91.	H. H. Kenkrick, bridge and services,	[illegible] 87
97.	C. S. Murphy, serving summons,	1 60
98.	A. W. Stoneburg, rent of hose house,	13 00
99.	John White, gas for jail,	2 60
101.	J. More & Co., coal for court room,	5 75
103.	Geo. Johnston, supplies,	20 37
104.	B. J. Kimball, surveying,	2 50
125.	John White, gas for jail,	3 25
126.	Gage, Porter & Co, lime and tile,	44 85
127.	P. Cullen, cleaning jail,	2 00
130.	W. D. Patterson, rent of jail,	200 00
131.	J. More & Co., coal for jail,	27 50
135.	N. N. Stranahan, attorney,	118 00
136.	Mary J. Hornibrook, rent of barn	6 25
139.	Geo. G. Chauncey, water in engine house	47 50
141.	M. C. Highriter, janitor and disbursements,	4 80
143.	G. G. Chauncey, repairs to fountain,	3 [illegible]
146.	A. Rice, traveling expenses sewerage	11 [illegible]
147.	J. More & Co., coal, court room,	5 75
148.	Chas. Scranton, Board of Health,	1 00
150.	J. O. Lang, mattresses for jail,	[illegible]
152.	John White, gas, jail,	7 75
153.	[illegible], labor on streets,	1 [illegible]
155.	Chas. Scranton, Board of Health,	3 00
156.	D. Roach, [illegible]	4 00
157.	Geo. G. Chauncey, hydrant rental,	746 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
159.	Arvin Rice, [illegible]	2 [illegible]
160.	W. D. Patterson, [illegible] bridge,	4 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible] for advertising,	19 [illegible]
167.	F. M. Wilson, coal, court room,	5 75
168.	John White, gas for jail,	3 [illegible]
169.	John Porter, sand,	[illegible]
173.	Mary J. Hornibrook, rent for barn,	6 25
176.	M. C. Highriter, janitor and disbursements,	4 [illegible]
178.	Geo. H. Fassell, cutting stone,	2 50
179.	Pardee & Hall, professional services,	[illegible]
		$[illegible]

HIGHWAY FUND.

[illegible]

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
142.	[illegible]	[illegible]
143.	Geo. Kellogg,	[illegible]
151.	[illegible]	[illegible]
162.	Geo. Kellogg, highway labor,	[illegible]
164.	P. W. Hyde, [illegible]	[illegible]
165.	Geo. Kellogg, highway labor,	[illegible]
166.	[illegible]	[illegible]
168.	W. G. Gage, stone,	[illegible]
170.	Geo. Kellogg, highway labor,	[illegible]
		$1,69[illegible] 27

CROSSWALK FUND.

36.	Geo. Kellogg, crosswalk labor,	$ 18 [illegible]
38.	[illegible], hemlock lumber,	17 [illegible]
41.	Geo. Kellogg, labor,	[illegible]
42.	J. H. Howard, stone,	7 [illegible]
50.	Geo. Kellogg, labor,	10 [illegible]
54.	Geo. H. Fassell, stone,	3 [illegible]
55.	Arvin Rice, stone,	[illegible]
56.	Geo. Kellogg, labor,	[illegible]
65.	" " "	[illegible]
68.	" " "	17 [illegible]
77.	Arvin Rice, freight on stone,	[illegible] 40
88.	Mullin & Miller, crosswalk stone,	[illegible]
92.	Geo. Kellogg, crosswalk labor,	[illegible]
112.	" " "	18 [illegible]
128.	" " "	19 [illegible]
134.	" " "	21 [illegible]
144.	" " "	[illegible]
		$504 63

RECEIPTS.

Balance on hand at last settlement,	$ 2,046 05
Rec'p from P. O'Grady, collector	544 [illegible]
" " R. H. Morgan, "	7,784 [illegible]
" " P. S. Fuller,	158 75
" " P. W. Hyde, poll tax,	26 00
" " Water Works Co.,	3 [illegible]
" " T. Nelligan, dirt,	1 [illegible]
" " N. N. Stranahan,	55 00
" " W. B. Howard,	75 00
" " Victoria Paper Co.,	30 00
" " M. C. Highriter, license,	4 00
" " Water Works note and interest due Aug. 18, 1889	746 90
" " Hose note and interest due Sept. 7, 1889	800 00
Total,	$12,350 38

EXPENDITURES.

Fire Department	$1,200 00
Street Lighting,	1,098 41
Court Room,	52 00
Assessors,	116 00
Board of Health,	102 00
Iron Bridge,	1,150 00
Clerk,	100 00
Printing,	156 70
Annex to engine house,	395 02
Furnace for " "	186 50
General Fund,	4,763 14
Highway Fund,	1,69[illegible] 27
Cross Walks,	504 63
Total,		$ 11,515 69
Balance on hand,		$ 734 69

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

RECEIPTS.

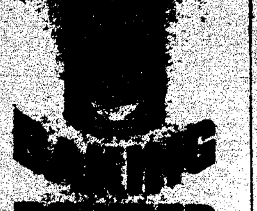
Fire department appropriation	$1,200

DISBURSEMENTS.

NO. ORDER.
1	D. Roach, Engineer,	$ 50 00
2	C. S. Hammond, Engineer,	50 00
3	John Hammond, Fireman,	18.75
4	Jas. Briggs, "	18.75
5	A. Tooley, Janitor, H. & L.	7.50
6	Sharp Hose Co, drawing hose,	.25
7	F. C. Mosher, white rubber coat	5.00
8	F. M. Wilson, coal,	6.00
9	Citizens Electric Co,	9.00
10	D. Roach, washing hose,	1.00
11	Paul Roderick, team hire,	2 50
12	W. E. Fuller, repair on truck,	2 75
13	Jas. Roach, cutting wood,	1.00
14	E. E. Hart, wood,	2.75
15	W. Bradley, express charges	.70
16	Paul Roderick, team hire,	3.00
17	L B. Rowlee, " "	7.00
18	Frank Van Valkenburgh, team hire	5.00
19	Chas Wilkinson, night watch,	4.25
20	W. Bradley, express charges,	.35
21	F. More, drawing cart,	1.00
22	C. Chase. " "	.50
23	Paul Roderick, team hire,	4.00
24	W. Bradley, exhaust nozzle, lever and wheel	15.00
25	D. Roach, Engineer,	50 00
26	C. S. Hammond, Engineer,	50.00
27	John Hammond, Fireman,	18.75
28	J. R. Cavanaugh, "	18.75
29	Will Hutchins, Janitor, H. & L.	7.50
30	C C. Hewes, secretary,	10.00
31	W. J. Lovejoy, treasurer,	6 00
32	W. Bradley, expenses to convention,	52 00
33	W. Bradley, express charges.	.65
34	Citizens Electric Co.,	9.00
35	J. White, gas coal,	16.00
36	E. A. Cook & Co., rubber coats,	35 00
37	W. H. Pruyne, repairs on hose,	4 50
38	E. A. Waugh, band review day,	20.00
39	C. Wilkinson, night watch,	3.25
40	W. Bradley, prize money, hose race,	20.00
41	A Goman, Janitor No. 3,	10.00
42	F. More, " " 4,	10.00
43	D. Roach, drawing steamer,	3.00
44	L. B. Rowlee, team hire,	13.50
45	C. S. Hammond, Engineer,	50.00
46	D. Roach, "	50.00
47	John Hammond, Fireman,	18.75
48	J. R. Cavanaugh, "	18.75
49	W. Hutchins, Janitor, H & L.	7.50
50	C. C. Hewes, Secretary,	10.00
51	W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer,	6.00
52	M. F. Crahan, labor and painting,	26.66
53	Snow & Loomis, hardware,	5.53
54	W. E. Fuller, work on truck,	2.50
55	Citizens Electric Co.	9.00
56	C. Wilkinson, night watch,	2 25
57	D. Roach, repairs	5.50
58	A. E. Nettleton, rubber boots,	20.40
59	Bennett & Stewart, white gloves,	1.25
60	Edward Quirk, 2 teams,	5.00
61	F. M. Wilson, coal,	15.00
62	F. W. Richardson, oil,	2.38
63	M. F. Crahan, setting glass,	2 13
64	N. Sykes, repair water closet,	1.00
65	W. Bradley, cleaning Wilson uock,	.25
66	M. F. Crahan, fixing drain,	1.50
67	Schenck & Foster, coal,	15.00
68	Fred Van Buren, washing hose,	2.00
69	W. Hutchins, " "	1.00
70	D. Chetney, " "	2.00
71	Chas. Sweet, " "	2.00
72	Paul Roderick, team hire,	2 50
73	J. More & Co, coal,	3.50
74	D. Roach, repair on truck,	4.38
75	Leonard & Clark, team hire,	15.00
76	W. Bradley Dept. dues to convention	2.06
77	J. Fairbanks, washing hose,	1.00
78	H. B. Kendall, hot coffee, sandwiches	8.50
79	D. Roach, Engineer,	50.00
80	C. S. Hammond, Engineer	50.00
81	John Hammond, Fireman,	18.75
82	J R. Cavanaugh "	18.75
83	W. Hutchins, Janitor, H. & L.	8.50
84	W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer,	9.60
85	C. C. Hewes, Secretary,	10.00
86	A. Goman, Janitor No. 3,	5.09
87	F. More, " " 4	5.00
	Total	1064.58
	Balance on hand	135.46

I would recommend the following amounts to be raised for general and special purposes for the ensuing year:

Lighting Streets,	$ 1,700 00
Assessors,	[illegible]
Board of Health,	[illegible]
Cross Walk Stone,	[illegible]
Clerk,	[illegible]
Court Room,	[illegible]
Printing,	[illegible]
Fire Department,	1,[illegible] 00
Water Works,	[illegible]
Incidentals,	[illegible]
		$[illegible]
Highways,		[illegible]
Water Works note [illegible]	$ [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
		[illegible]
Total,		[illegible]



Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., New York.

No Snow Blockades.

Snow blockades on railroads are apparently a thing of the past. The new rotary snow plow on the R. W. & O. R. R. is a continued success and performs with utmost satisfaction its work of cleaning away the snow. Another new mechanical snow plow made a successful trip in the snow drifts near Oswego, Monday, March 11th. This new plow is known as Jull's Centrifugal Snow Excavator, and consists of a machine about fifty feet long, with a mammoth boiler of 800 horse power, which furnishes steam for the engines which work the excavator. On the front of the machine is the excavator which performs the work. The peculiar feature of the Jull excavator is the screw or blade cone, which is arranged diagonally across the front of the frame of the car which carries the machine, so that its apex is at the lower right hand corner of the hood which holds it and the base at the upper left hand corner. The blades upon the cone are curved or helical blades with a greater curve toward the apex than toward the base of the cone, so that as the cone revolves the knives slice off the snow from side to side of the track.

The snow sliced off is carried around by the "scoop shaped" blades and thrown out through openings in the hood to a considerable distance, sometimes as far as sixty feet, on either or both sides of the track as desired. The revolutions of this cone in deep snow, will reach three hundred per minute. The machine is substantially built, weighs sixty-five tons and is equipped with Westinghouse air brakes. The engines in this machine make 320 revolutions per minute. On the trial trip March 11th, the motive power was furnished by two locomotives, one with 16x22 cylinders, the other with 17x24 cylinders. It took the Jull excavator just seven minutes to clear 720 feet of track. The snow averaged a depth of seven feet, the maxmium depth being 10 feet. The performances of the excavator during its trial trips on the R. W. & O. R. R., were entirely satisfactory.

The traveling public and residents along the lines of northerly railways will doubtless be grateful to the inventor of these mechanical plows and to the Railroad Companies, enterprising and progressive enough to use them.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Have a New

OLIVER
STEEL
PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

Chilled Plows.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

Mrs MAGGIE VAN COTT'S EXCELSIOR

THROAT TABLETS

[illegible] Undertaking

We offer the Largest Stock of FURNITURE ever shown in Fulton and at prices Below all Competition.

A Full Line of Window Shades, Cheap

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholstering.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN.

Times Block.

Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R.R.

In connection with

West Shore and Pennsylvania R. R.

1889. THIRD ANNUAL 1889.

GRAND EXCURSION TO

WASHINGTON, D.C.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

TUESDAY, March 26th, '89.

The fare to Washington and Return, from any station on the R. W. & O. R. R., where Excursion Tickets are on sale, is only

TEN DOLLARS.

Tickets are good going March 26th, allowing ten days in Washington, and are good until April 10th for return passage.

SPECIAL TRAINS,

with elegant West Shore coaches, will leave the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. in the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, March 26th, on special schedule time, and run through to Jersey City, where transfer will be made to new and clean Pennsylvania R. R. coaches, arriving at Washington early Wednesday afternoon—time will not exceed twenty hours from any station.

WAGNER PALACE SLEEPING CARS

will be attached to all special trains from R. W. & O. R. R. stations, and run Through to Washington Without Change.

Price for double berth in Sleeping Car, $3.50; section, $7.00, from any station on R. W. & O. R. R. to Washington. Sale of sleeping car tickets closes March 23d.

SIDE TRIP EXCURSIONS

From Washington to Mount Vernon, 75 cents; Richmond, Va., $1; Petersburg, Va., $5.

REDUCED HOTEL RATES

Have been arranged at sixteen hotels in Washington prices from $1.50 to $3.50 per day.

Special tourist agents will direct the excursion and attend to the party on trains and in the city of Washington.

For excursion tickets, sleeping car tickets, illustrated programs and detailed information apply to nearest R. W. & O. R. R. Ticket Agent, or correspond with Gen'l Passenger Agent, Oswego, N. Y.

E. S. BOWEN, Acting Gen'l Manager.
THEO. BUTTERFIELD, Gen'l Passenger Agt Oswego, N. Y.

BABYHOOD

Is a monthly magazine devoted to the hygiene and care of infants and young children, and all that pertains to the routine of the nursery. It is now in its fifth year. The Congregationalist recently said of it:

"BABYHOOD seems almost indispensable to the household in which there are young children. It is for the parents and the nurse, and is packed full of important suggestions of a practical character. From personal experience of its usefulness, we commend it warmly."

And the Chicago Advance:

"No mother but must appreciate its wise and helpful suggestions, and be grateful for the solving of perplexities and the helping over hard places which every one comes to who has the care of young children. We commend it to every mother in the land."

Also the New York Graphic:

"The success of this periodical has been enormous. It makes young mothers feel that the only subject worthy of attention is at last being recognized."

Every intelligent father and mother should read it regularly. Their children will be healthier and happier. It will reduce the work of caring for them, nursing them, dressing them, amusing them. Letters from subscribers frequently contain such testimonies as these, lately received:

"I am grateful to BABYHOOD: I have seen but two numbers, but have learned so much from those that I feel I should be doing my children a wrong if I should fail of the opportunity to learn more." "The help it has been to us would have astonished me had it been predicted beforehand." "Physic an' as I am, your magazine is the most welcome periodical that comes to my table, and is the one I read first." "I cannot speak too highly of BABYHOOD. During the three years that I have subscribed to it I have felt repaid a hundred times for the outlay by the relief and confidence it has given me in the management of my children."

You want a sample copy—
Price 15 cents.

Or to subscribe for a year—
$1.50.

On our part we wish to know that you have seen this advertisement; and in order to induce you to mention this paper when writing us,

We have arranged to have manufactured for us a large quantity of

Hudnut's celebrated Sachet Powder, and will give a packet, free (either "Violet" or "White Lilac," as preferred),

(quantity sufficient to elegantly perfume Baby's clothing for months), to every person who sends us either $1.50 for a year's subscription or 15 cents for a single copy, and mentions this paper. (Note the condition.) The powder is in no sense a "premium," but is offered simply to aid us in tracing the results of our advertising in various parts of the country. Its retail value is about 25 cents.) Address

BABYHOOD PUBLISHING CO.,
5 Beekman St., New York.

Do not confound BABYHOOD with picture-books for the amusement of children. It is a mothers' magazine, a nursery help. Its list of contributors on medical subjects comprises many specialists of the highest professional standing.

The Springfield (Mass.) Union says: "It is really a question what the mothers of little babies used to do before the excellent little magazine BABYHOOD was published. No number can be missed without the loss being felt."

Job Printing

We are prepared to do all kinds of

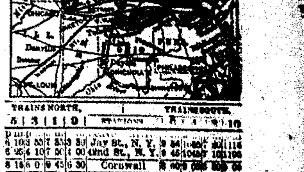
Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, RANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
[illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Jan 23, 1889.



TRAINS NORTH	STATIONS	TRAINS SOUTH
[illegible]	Jay St., N. Y.	[illegible]
[illegible]	42nd St., N. Y.	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cornwall	[illegible]
[illegible]	Campbell Hall	[illegible]
[illegible]	M't'n Main St.	[illegible]
[illegible]	Middletown	[illegible]
[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Bloom'ngb'rgh	[illegible]
[illegible]	Wurtsboro	[illegible]
[illegible]	Summitville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Ellenville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Mountain Dale	[illegible]
[illegible]	Centerville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hurleyville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]
[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]
[illegible]	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]
[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]
[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]
[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]
[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sidney	[illegible]
[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford Centr	[illegible]
[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]
[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]
[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Utica	[illegible]
[illegible]	Rome	[illegible]
[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Community	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]
[illegible]	Sylvan	[illegible]
[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]
[illegible]	B'rnhard's Bay	[illegible]
[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]
[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]
[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]
[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]
[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]
[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]
a m p m p m a m Arrive		Depart [illegible]

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa.
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn.

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

HEMLOCK LUMBER
—AND—
Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,
SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS,
LADDERS, EAVETROUGHS, &c.

Q. RUST.

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday March 20, 1889.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.
Trains leave Fulton station as follows:
GOING SOUTH.
Day Express .... 9:05 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express .... 11:14 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express .... 3:47 p. m
Syracuse Express .... 6:26 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express .... 9:05 p. m
GOING NORTH.
New York and Philadelphia Express .... 9:08 a. m
Day Express .... 11:14 a. m
Day Express .... 3:48 p. m
New York and Philadelphia Express .... 7:08 p. m
Evening Express .... 9:48 p. m
The 9:08 a. m., and 6:05 p. m., trains will run Sundays.
Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.
A. E. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:
GOING SOUTH.
New York Day Express .... 7:22 a. m
Freight and Accommodation .... 8:10 a. m
Norwich Express .... 3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express .... 10:17 p. m
GOING NORTH.
Ontario Night Express .... 6:33 a. m
Oswego Express .... 11:38 a. m
Freight and Accommodation .... 5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express .... 8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:27	11:26	[illegible]	5:37	7:32
For Oswego,	8:43	11:56	2:38	6:13	8:48

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—
Q. RUST'S
SUPERIOR COAL
or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Jefferson Bailey expects to go to Tacoma, W. T. soon.

Mrs. Charles Whitaker is on a visit to friends in Fayetteville.

There will be a reunion of the 184th. regiment in Fulton on June 6th.

Miss Vischer, of Phœnix, is in Fulton the guest of Miss Helen Barnes.

Mrs. Harry J. Baker is very ill. Her sister from Clyde is here with her.

Miss May Bristol is in Brooklyn on a visit.

Hon. H. C. Howe is in Washington, looking after his individual interests.

J. W. Carner, the actor, passed Sunday in town the guest of his brother.

J. H. Case has returned to St. Paul, Minn. to attend to his business interests there.

Del. Tucker attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Colgrove, at Perryville, yesterday.

E. R. Andrews from Dakota is visiting his daughters Mrs. H. E. Nichols and Mrs. F. E. Bacon.

Mrs. Ludlow Fry, of Paletine Bridge, is visiting in town the guest of Mrs. T. B. Reynolds.

Miss Hattie Edgarton takes the position in Connell & Patterson's store vacated by Miss Hattie Sabin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster went to Perryville, Madison Co., Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Colgrove.

Mrs. M. V. Connell and Mrs. E. R. Redhead visited at L. W. and J. E. Connell's in Baldwinsville, last week.

F. E. Bacon returned yesterday from his western trip. Most of his time while west was spent at Denver, Col.

Miss Maggie Cullen started for New York yesterday to attend the spring openings. She will be gone about ten days.

D. J. Freeze formerly jeweler at Draper's with his family has started for Kansas City. They will first visit friends in Illinois and Iowa.

Bert Hoff returned from Albany Monday, having graduated from the College of Pharmacy there. He has a position in Norwich where he goes to-morrow.

ROOMS TO RENT.—Four rooms kitchen, sitting room and two bedrooms, on Cayuga near Sixth street. For particulars inquire of F. H. French at Wilcox's meat market. 44t3

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A. Bristol is constantly receiving Pianos and Organs of many of the leading makes which he is offering at great bargains. 44tf

D. C. Draper sells Groceries, Crockery and Jewelry at the lowest living rates, it will do you no harm to price them before buying.

To CONVINCE the PEOPLE

That we will not be undersold by any house in town, we will make the following extraordinary offer never before thought or heard of. We will sell for the next 30 days:

13 Two-Cent Stamps for a Cent and a Quarter.

And will take this as a standard and offer any article of or articles you may desire from our stock at figures which are

In the Same Proportion:

It is not necessary to make other purchases to enable you to supply yourself with stamps. The offer is open to all alike, customers, patrons, everybody.

SALMON SHOE STORE

Duffy's Malt and Inula Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant.

Canned corn 8 cents at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf.

The Rev. O. H. Smith Mystery.

The following is a letter received by Dr. Rankin from a friend and officer of the church in Dorchester, to which Mr. Smith had been called. A special dispatch in a Rochester, N. Y. paper of Saturday from Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Smith recently was pastor announces that Mr. Smith has been seen in St. Paul, Minn., by persons who knew him and that he was on his way to California. Rumors of this kind nearly always are circulated and the probabilities are that it is not true.

BOSTON, Mass. March 14, 1889.

My dear Mr. Rankin.

Yours received—The circumstances connected with the calling of Rev. O. H. Smith to our church were peculiarly happy. His installation was one of the marked events in the Suffolk conference. All his new relations to the church had been most pleasant and helpful, the promise, of bright days for him and our church seemed stretching out before us. We met a church full to overflowing Sunday morning, when we were shocked by the announcement that Mr. Smith left home Saturday morning and had not been seen or heard from since—later came the news of the finding of his hat, carefully crowded between the iron rails of a fence near the Charles river. In his hat was his card giving his residence—also his name written on the satin lining of the hat, so that there was no mistaking the identity of the hat. Then suicide or foul play seemed the only solution, but later it is thought by the police and many that he has in a fit of temporary insanity wandered from home, and that his disordered mind cunningly arranged the hat, so that it would mislead. His relations everyway were happy, in church, home, everywhere, but the strain of the past months has been great upon him. The death of his child—sickness of his father and mother-in-law—his wife very much of an invalid, his earnest hard work all have told severely on him and we all fear he has broken under the strain. Everything is being done to find him and our hearts are sad. His poor wife is heart broken. Hastily but sincerely

Yours
SETH MENDELL.

Our Combination Rates.

We make the following combination rates to every-one, 10 cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county. All of the papers have a world wide reputation in the fields which they cover and we commend them to our readers:

THE TIMES 1 year and Farm Journal 1 year $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and N. Y. Weekly World 3 mos., $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and Detroit Free Press 3 mos. $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Rural New Yorker 1 year $2.50.

THE TIMES 1 year and the N. Y. Weekly World 1 year $1.85.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Detroit Free Press 1 year $1.85. tf

JUST RECEIVED.

500 of those popular 25c. novels to be sold at 10c. each at the 5 & 10c. store Opera House Block. 45w2.

Removal.

The office of the Singer Manuf'n'g Co. has been removed from the store of A. Bristol to that of E. E. Hart, opposite the "Bee Hive."
43w4 H. B. ROSE, M'g'r.

Oranges 15c per doz. at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

Positively Given Away,

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & CO.

The Fulton Fish Market on First street opposite the Clark House is now receiving fresh caught Lake and Ocean fish. Bullheads, Ciscoes, Pike, Salmon trout and White fish. Oysters and Clams received daily.
2w. BACH & MONTAGUE.

Annual Election.

The Stockholders of Mt. Adnah Cemetery are hereby notified that the Annual Election of said association will be held at the office of Howe & Rice on the first day of April next at 7½ o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing three Trustees in the place of George M. Case, W. G. Gage and S. Crombie whose term of office will expire on that day and also to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.
Fulton, March 16, 1889.
45w2 S. CROMBIE, Clerk.

Great Writers of All Ages.

Volume XII of Alden's Cyclopedia of Universal Literature is richly freighted with literary gems. As in the preceding volumes the biographical sketches are concise but clear and interesting, and the extracts from the writers represented are ample and have been selected with excellent judgment. As illustrating the scope of the work we give a few of the famous names which appear in this volume. William and Mary Howitt; Huber, the blind naturalist; Thomas Hughes, whose Tom Brown books have endeared him to boys throughout the English-speaking world; Victor Hugo, the French poet and novelist; Humboldt, the immortal scientist; Hume, the illustrious historian; Leigh Hunt; Huxley, the great biologist; Saint Ignatius, who earnestly desired martyrdom; Jean Ingelow; Washington Irving, the first American who secured literary recognition from England; Helen Hunt Jackson; Henry James, the [illegible]; Thomas Jefferson; Edward Jenkins; Douglas Jerrold; Sir William Jones, the great [illegible] scholar; [illegible] Alden, Publisher, New York, [illegible]

[illegible] Tuesday.

Rumors of frauds, but None-Such Baking Powder is no fraud.

Robins have come, the advance guard is reported to have reached here Saturday.

Sleighs are now giving way to wagons as the large quantity of snow is melting away.

W. A. Bart has been appointed postmaster at Hannibal, and F. J. Coe at North Scriba.

The young friends of Lottie David and Helen Whitman gave them a surprise party on Saturday evening.

The premises No. 7, Seneca Street, are offered for sale. Enquire at that number or of F. A. EMERICK.

This evening the Women's Auxiliary will give a reception to the young men of this vicinity at the Association rooms.

The little daughter of Dr. W. H. Loomis, who has been dangerously ill with scarlet fever and a complication of other disease, is convalescent.

Henry V. Spencer, Supt. of the Poor, announces that while there is small pox in Oswego county no visitors will be allowed in the Poor House and requests Justices of the Peace and Overseers of the Poor to send no tramps there during the prevalence of the disease in the county.

J. W. Carner gave an excellent impersonation of Rip Van Winkle at the opera house, Saturday evening, to a large audience. His company was also a good one. Mr. Carner with a larger company has engaged the opera house for the second week in April, to play for six nights a different program for each evening.

John W. Swan, formerly of this village, now a real estate agent in Syracuse, was arrested in Syracuse Monday, on a sealed indictment found by the last grand jury and charging him with grand larceny. The prosecution grew out of a trade with John T. Webb of Syracuse. It is alleged that Swan made payments with bonds that proved worthless.

Uncle Lewis Montague of Hinmanville sent some twelve pound pickeral to friends in Phœnix last week. He caught them through the ice at Ox creek. He once caught a pickeral weighing 18½ pounds at the same place, "so help him God." Mr. Montague has a brother Levi, living at Fulton, who credits himself with catching a 12½ pound eel. It runs in the family.—Phœnix Chronicle.

A conference in the interest of Foreign Missions, will be held in the Congregational church at Oswego Falls, on Friday, March 22, in the afternoon and evening.

Rev. H. N. Barnum, D. D. of Harpoot, Turkey, Miss Gertrude R. Hance of Zulu, Africa, and Rev. C. H. Daniels, District Secretary of the American Board, of New York, will be present at the meetings. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Last fall a son of C. C. Perry, living near Gilbert's Mills, was shot by the accidental discharge of a revolver which he was handling. The ball entered his hand near the base of the little finger and lodged opposite the first finger where it was allowed to remain until a few days since, when it began to occasion inconvenience, and on Tuesday Dr. Drury removed it. It was found to be battered and badly corroded. For a few days the young man suffered exoruciating pains in his hand and arm, and serious consequences were feared, but this week the inflammation is subsiding and the indications are more encouraging.—Phœnix Register.

The marriage of Miss Zuilee Hubbard to Dr. John Tenney Barker of Wallingford, Conn. occurs at the residence of the Misses Lathrop on Fourth street this afternoon at six o'clock. The ceremonies will be performed by Rev. E. C. Bruce of Syracuse. Miss Hubbard is one of Fulton's favorite daughters and under other circumstances we would loath to have her leave Fulton. Dr. Barker is a successful dentist of Wallingford and has made many warm friends in Fulton. THE TIMES a few hours in advance extends to the happy couple its best wishes for their future welfare and happiness.

The great Centennial celebration of the inauguration of George Washington, will take place in New York City April 30th. The N. Y. O. & W. R. R. will sell excursion tickets April 27th, 28th, and 29th, good returning up to and including May 2nd., at very low rates of fare for the round trip.

Ask your Grocer for Master Soap. tf

[illegible] a [illegible] of money. Inquire at this office.

The "Bee Hive" is closed to-day on account of putting in a new floor. It will be opened again to-morrow.

Be sure and attend the sale of horses at Rowlee's barn on Saturday March 23. Terms: Six months credit on approved notes.

Charles Keller and family have moved into town from Palermo this week and now occupy the Spafford place on Oneida street which he recently purchased.

Rev. Charles R. Olmstead of Oswego Falls will give an address at the young men's meeting in the Christian association rooms Sunday afternoon at the usual hour.

"Con" Tobin, indicted in Oswego county for attempting to engage in a prize fight, was knocked out by a beer glass and spittoon in a saloon fight at Cortland, Saturday night.

The annual meeting of the managers of the Oswego Falls Agricultural society was held in the law office of Howe & Rice on Monday. September 17, 18, 19 and 20, were decided upon as the days on which the fair would be held next fall.

Boarding House advertisements for the Ontario & Western Summer Home book will not be received after Monday April 1st. All wishing to advertise in this Guide for the coming season, should in their advertisements, on or before that date

Sanburn Van Buren and Wm. Scouten were arrested yesterday for petty larceny, were tried by jury before Justice Sharp last evening and acquitted. They were charged with stealing coal from Hart's coal yard. The evidence was not strong enough to convict.

On yesterday afternoon little Ruth Carr celebrated her 10th birthday and a large number of her young friends was at the home of her grandfather, corner of Fifth and State streets, to assist her. A grand time was had by the young people both afternoon and evening.

Small pox has not spread in North Hannibal. The Goodrow and Remington houses contain all the cases there are and these houses are strictly quarantined. The post-office at North Hannibal, kept by William Remington, has been officially closed and the utmost caution taken in every particular to prevent the spread of the disease. Joseph Remington is the only one that has died.

Barnum's Great Circus will exhibit in Madison Square Garden New York, commencing March 23rd., continuing one month. The N. Y. O. & W. R. R. have arranged a series of cheap excursions, to be run every Wednesday, during the exhibition, as follows: March 27th, April 3rd, 10th, and 17th. Regular trains. Tickets good returning following day at very low rates of fare from all stations south of Sidney, including admission to the Exhibition.

Mrs. Colgrove, formerly of this village and the last member of the Tucker family that has been identified for so many years with the history and growth of Fulton, died at her home in Perryville, Madison county, on Saturday, March 16th. Funeral services were held yesterday and the last one of the Tucker family laid to rest.

John London, about 45 years of age, died suddenly, of heart disease, on Sunday, March 17th. He lived on "the flats" and had recently been converted through the efforts of Samuel Green. Funeral services were held at Grace Chapel yesterday afternoon.

Oswego Falls Charter Election.

At the Oswego Falls charter election yesterday, the whole Democratic ticket was elected, excepting that the vote for president was a tie, the Republican candidate, Miles Ellis, and the Democratic candidate, Anthony C. Calkins, each receiving 180 votes. The officers elected are: Trustees for three years, Marvin Thompson and Daniel Sullivan; for two years, Geo. B. Wood and Charles Barry; for one year, Charles Mangott and John H. Chubb; assessor, Luman Carvey; collector, Edward A. Hagan; treasurer, John R. Sullivan. A special election will have to be held for president.

Fischer Pianos.

Bristol has a large stock of Fischer and other makes of pianos, also Estey and Chase organs. Elegant goods, prices reasonable and terms easy.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store, 29tf

[illegible] in the "Bee Hive."

[illegible] shoe store has recently been improved by the laying of a new floor.

Mr. B. Bander, Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. filled the pulpit in the M. E. church Sunday evening.

T. D. Lewis is pushing the work at the Lewis house, consisting of extensive repairs and re-arrangements.

A reception is to be given to John B. Bernhard and his bride at Bernhard's Bay, on Friday next.

The work of tearing down the old tannery wall, preparatory to building the Comstock Gun Factory, has commenced.

A new plate glass front is being put in the Colgrove block occupied by the Vienna Bakery. Geo. Emeny is doing the work.

C. R. Nichols will move his jewelry store from his present site in the Gardner block to Bristol's store on First street, April 1st.

At the reception of the Young Ladies Mission Band in the M. E. Church parlors, on last Friday evening, nearly $20 was taken in.

At the Curtis Parks sale of trotting stock which took place last Thursday in Baldwinsville, Raymond Leonard purchased the bay mare "Rosella" for $240.

A donation will be given by the people of Granby Centre, to Rev. J. N. Fulford this evening at Mr. Fulford's home corner of Third and Seneca streets.

A popular movement is on foot to make our enterprising citizen, Harry Comstock, president of the village the coming year. We venture to state that this meets with general favor.

On Tuesday next a president will be elected in place of Geoage E. True, two trustees in place of Dan'l. Pardee and John More, an assessor in place of Myron Haven, a collector in place of Edward H. Morgan, and a treasurer in place of W. J. Lovejoy.

At the County Lodge of Good Templars, held in Oswego last week, the silver pitcher was awarded to the Salmon River lodge for initiating the most members during the last quarter and the beaded regalia to Oswego City lodge for reinstating the most members.

The St. Patrick entertainment at the Opera House Monday evening was largely attended. There was an address by Rev. Father Earley, bar and trapeze work by local talent, singing and the drama, "Robert Emmet, the Irish Patriot." The whole gave excellent satisfaction.

Manager Pelham of the Foster Theatre Company, which opens a three night engagment at the Opera House to-morrow, issues free tickets to the ladies.

For the sum of ten cents these tickets can be changed for a reserved seat at Watson's.

A fine class in vocal music was organized last evening, in the old Armory hall under the direction of Prof. J. F. Cooper. First lesson to begin on Thursday evening, March 26. All who wish to join the class should hand in their names at F. E. Goodjon's store. School opens at 8 o'clock sharp.

At a meeting of the Pathfinder Boat Club of this village at the Trustees rooms on Friday evening, John M. Foster was elected Commodore and W. J. Watson vice-Commodore. At a meeting of the Directors immediately following Geo. G. Chauncey, was elected President, G. C. Webb, vice-President and L. T. Miller, Secretary and Treasurer. The following is the Board of Directors for the first year:

F. A. Emerick, J. H. Case, George True, N. N. Stranahan, G. C. Webb, G. G. Chauncey, J. M. Foster, F. E. Sutherland, W. C. Tucker, J. R. Fairgrieve, J. F. Willard, W. J. Watson, L. T. Miller.

Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf

Mrs. M. A. Eno will sell at public auction, on Wednesday, March 27th, on the premises in Volney, two miles east of Fulton, a large amount of live stock, farmers' implements, including a new Triumph self-binder and a great number of articles suitable for farm purposes. 44w2

Is Marriage a Failure?—Not if you buy your coal of Hart. 44tf

To get your Groceries cheap go to SYLVESTER'S. 42tf.

A man visited [illegible] Quick's barn [illegible] and took a horse and cutter belonging to George Brown. He was stopped by one of Quick's men and said he had been sent by Brown for the horse. Nothing more was thought about the matter until Brown put in his appearance and on being told that his horse was gone said that he had sent no one after the animal. Efforts have been made to trace the thief but as yet nothing definitely has been determined. The value of the horse and cutter was about $75. The horse is a dun mare with white star in the forehead and about 15 hands high, being hitched to a square box Portland cutter containing gray wolf robe and whip.

Washington Excursion.

The R. W. & O. R. R. third annual excursion to Washington, Tuesday, March 26th, promises to be a grand success. Twelve Wagner Sleeping Cars and fifteen West Shore Standard Coaches have been assigned to this excursion. Reduced rates have been arranged at eighteen hotels in Washington. The price for excursion tickets is only ten dollars from any station on the line of the R. W. & O. R. R. at which excursion tickets are on sale. Sleeping Car double berths, $3.50, sections $7.00. This affords a splendid and cheap opportunity to spend ten days in the beautiful city of Washington. Side trip excursion tickets can be obtained in Washington to Richmond, Mount Vernon and Petersburg, at reduced rates. For particulars and illustrated programs, apply to nearest R. W. & O. R. R. Ticket Agents.

The Small Pox Scare.

D. D. Metcalf Esq. of North Hannibal, sent to the Fulton Bank Wednesday a sum of money to pay a note. The officers of the institution were so frightened on receiving the money from that neighborhood that they notified Mr. Metcalf if he sent more money there it would not be received. If Mr. Metcalf has any more ducats that he wants to dispose of he can send them to this office where they will be received and no question asked.—Hannibal News.

A Grand Concert.

On Tuesday evening, April 2, a grand concert will be given in the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the ladies of the church. Mrs. Lillian Allen assisted by foreign and the best Fulton talent will take part. The services of Prof. Sutcliffe of Syracuse has been secured for the occasion. There will also be a chorus of 16 voices. Extensive preperations are being made for the event and we are authorized to state that the concert will be excellent in every particular.

The Foster Theatre Company.

This company will be the attraction at the Opera House the last three nights of this week. Concerning their performance a Batavia paper says:

"A full house greeted the Foster Theatre Company in 'Divorce, or Woman Against Woman,' last evening, and if intense interest and rapturous appiause are reliable signs the audience was delighted with the performance. The company is a particularly good one, and ought to attract large audiences every night this week. The prices of admission are so low that one can attend all the performances at about the same price that is usually charged for a single dramatic entertainment at the Opera House."

Bloom Still in Jail.

The case of Rev. Joseph Bloom, charged with horse stealing, was brought up before Recorder Bulger at Oswego, on Thursday. He plead not guilty, waived examination and was held on $1,000 bail to await the action of the next grand jury.

Immense stock of Wagons and Carriages just received at Bristol's; prices low, quality of goods high; Terms easy. 45tf.

You may not be pleased with the Harrison Cabinet but you will be pleased with Master Soap. 44tf

Just arrived from the MINES, a car load of each, No. 4 and Pea coal, very nice, clean and bright, for Hart. 44tf

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

All kinds of Pickles in bottles, all sizes, shapes and prices.
42tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Chacolate creams at 25cts. per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Coat Tales

Are often told by over-anxious salesmen in such an exaggerated manner as to disgust the average customer. Coats and tails are right and proper in their place, but when tales are told of the coat to influence a sale, it entails discredit on the retail business. But we do not propose to go into the subject in detail, but to dove-tail our remarks together as compactly as possible and at the same time give the public to understand that they

Can Cur-tail Expenses

by doing business with us, and that we allow no tails told of any article of clothing which goes out of our establishment.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Go to Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN
STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE
ALSO
FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware,
Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.
Tin Roofing a Specialty.
GEO. JOHNSTON,
Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

FOR SALE.—House and premises next east of H. S. Gardner on north side of Oneida street known as the "Tibbals place." GILES S. PIPER.

TO RENT.—From April 1st. Rooms with every convenience for housekeeping for small family. Also furnished rooms for lodging at Mrs. E. M. Babcock's, Cor. Fourth and Utica streets, Fulton N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Five- and one-half acres of good land inside of No. 2 school district on Sixth street. Easy terms. Enquire of MORGAN ROBERTS. 45tf

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

House and lot with good barn, on Buffalo St., in good repair. City water in both house and barn. Easy terms. For further particulars inquire at this office.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Breming place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of F. S. Fuller. tf

AUCTION.—Mrs. George Ball will sell at her late residence 2½ miles south of New Haven village on Saturday, March 30, at 10 a. m., a good work team of horses, 4 cows, wagons, mowing machine, farming implements and a large number of other articles. 2w

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hardware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

J. W. Roche late of the firm of Roche & Blair, Oswego, N. Y. is the sole agent in Oswego county for the sale of H. W. John's Asbestos roofing and materials, also Roche's patent Acme roofing, Gravel, Tin and Felt roofs repaired and satisfaction guaranteed. All orders should be addressed to J. W. Roche, 119 West Bridge St., Oswego, N. Y. 44w2

WORKING OXEN.
2 Pair For Sale by
42w4 W. S. NELSON.

Stephens Opera House.
THREE NIGHTS ONLY!
Thursday March 21, '89!
America's Greatest Versatile Actress.
MISS KITTIE ARYMAN,
Supported by the Celebrated
Foster Theatre Co.,
In an Unsurpassed Repertoire of Dramatic Successes.
Acknowledged by Press and Public to be one of the Finest Organizations Traveling.
Admission 10 and 20 cents.
Reserved Seats 30cts.

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

Furnished Rooms on Rochester St. Enquire of E. E. Wolcott. 44w2

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6, First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

Just received a fresh stock of confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 29tf

All kinds of Fruit and Vegetables in cans at SYLVESTER'S. 42tf

HART keeps every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. TRY IT and you will be well pleased. 44tf

Cole's Carbolisalve

Is a truly wonderful remedy, suited alike to the skin of the child and the adult, and its soothing, cleansing and healing properties renders its application universal. It has no equal as a cure for Piles, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Poisons, Bites of Insects, Chilblains, Chaps and all Itching and Irritating diseases of the Skin and Scalp. It immediately relieves the pain of Scalds and Burns and cures the worst case with out a scar. Get only the genuine which has a black wrapper with green letters. Small boxes 25 cents; Large boxes 50cts. Sold by H. C. Giesler. 40tf

CLEARING SALE OF DRESS GOODS,

Just Before Going to New York.

We find ourselves with large stock of Dress Goods on hand, and to make room for our SPRING PURCHASES, must dispose of a large quantity of these goods during the NEXT 10 DAYS!

To make sure of this we have made a

Staggering Reduction!

Which any lady will realize, when she sees the goods, and gets our prices.

Give These Prices a Moment's Thought.

500 yards Fancy Stripes and Checks (single width) at 9cts.
8 pieces Jamestown Worsteds (during this sale) at 21cts.
5 Pieces Cashmere (colors) yard wide at 24cts.
5 Pieces All Wool Flannel Suitings, 50 inches wide at 40cts.
Several pieces all wool Dress Flannels regular 35c. quality at 25cts.
5 Pieces Fancy Checks (spring colors) yard wide, 29cts.
Remnants at about one-half price.

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

[illegible]

Inspect field outlets and clear obstructed ones.

Louisiana sugar planters are converted to the profits of tile drainage.

Vegetable seeds of most kinds are still good at the end of the second year.

Seed and plant catalogues are suggestive reading at this season.

The New York Senate passed the Vedder bill exempting agricultural and horticultural associations from the incorporation tax.

Canadian pork packers want the American hog products excluded, with a view to reviving the Canadian industry.

Ventilation should exist in well regulated stables but draughts should be unknown.

A. F. Hunter assures the New England Farmer's readers that the old method of mixing up a dough of corn meal with cold water for chicks won't make them grow.

After washing a horses feet and legs they should be thoroughly dried, otherwise cracked heels, etc., are invited.

A wrench and one or two tools for making repairs are easily carried in the farm wagon and come very handy at times.

Mr. S. F. Baker considers the wren one of the best friends of farmers and encourages them to nest on his place. He has yet to see the sparrow feed on insect feed of any kind.

Small potatoes boiled and mixed into the warm mash given in morning will help poultry along through the next two months.

An ingenious farmer and his boys can put together a variety of simple tools and conveniences for farm use in these comparatively leisure days.

When laying pullets are purchased they frequently cease to lay on account of the change of house, run and surroundings.

Where a regular system of underdrainage does not commend itself, drains at least should be cut through the wet spots in fields, which by drowning out will perhaps offset the gain on other portions.

"My opinion of farmers as a class is," said Abraham Lincoln, "that they are, in proportion to numbers, neither better nor worse than other people. In the nature of things they are more numerous than any other class, and I believe there are really more attempts at flattering them than any other; the reason of which I cannot conceive, unless it be that they can cast more votes than any other."

For all the ailments of small children there is no better remedy than Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. All druggists sell it. Price only 25 cents.

The bad effects of imprudence in eating and drinking are speedily removed, and the depression following eating is quickly banished by the use of Laxador. Price 25 cents a package.

The Farmer's Garden.

Now that spring is so near at hand, it is time for those farmers who are accustomed to having only a small garden, and that perhaps cluttered up with berry bushes and fruit trees, to consider whether or not it would be a good plan to set apart an acre near the dwelling; manure it well, devote it to gardening purposes with horse cultivation. Borders could be left at the ends for the horse to turn on, and these could be planted in potatoes the last of June, when most of the cultivating of the season would be done. It is as easy to care for an acre with a horse as it is to cultivate an ordinary garden by hand. Farmers generally have very poor gardens, and their supply of vegetables for the table is limited. The average farmer's bill of fare is meat, potatoes, bread and butter, and usually some kind of vegetable, but not always. By the new method he can have a daily supply of several kinds, and this would largely curtail grocers' bills, keep the meat and flour barrels from being emptied so rapidly, and what is better, increased health will save doctor's bills. With the following list to draw from it will be seen how easy it would be to make up a tri-daily bill of fare "fit for a king:" Lettuce, onions, leeks, chives, cabbage, celery, spinach, rhubarb, beets, peas, beans, cauliflower, cucumbers, tomatoes, squashes, carrots, parsnips, turnips, salsify, radishes, horseradish, melons and several other vegetables and berries, something for every day in the year. The Lord made these and gave man the skill to develop them, and this should be taken as a fair hint that their production and use is eminently desirable.—Ohio Farmer.

Sold At a Sacrifice.

Simonstern (the auctioneer): "Here I hef a chenuine tiamont ring, vort' dree hundert und feefty tollar. Der vidow ohf a man dot died sudden has godder to sell it. How mooch am I offert?" Customer (promptly): "Ten cents!" Simonstern: "Take it away, unt pay at der desk. Chakey, pring up der nend lot!"—Judge.

Symptoms of Catarrh.

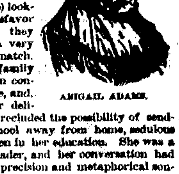
Dull heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste is impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. If you have all or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from Nasal Catarrh. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption and [illegible]

[illegible] RACHEL JACKSON AND OTHERS.

Two of Them Were Never Mistresses of the White House—Mrs. Adams' Education—"Dolly" Madison's [illegible]—[illegible] About Mrs. Jackson.

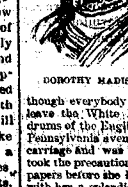
The social position of the wife of a president of the United States is probably as high as is held by any woman in the world. Even the queen of England, although she is the nominal ruler of realms on which the sun never sets, and has weaved about her the mantle of royalty, cannot be said to be greater socially than the first lady of the United States, for the reason that insuperable traditions and customs that are the growth of centuries prevent her coming into nearly as close contact with the great body of her people as is the case with the wife of the president of the United States.

The wives of the majority of the presidents of the United States have been remarkable women. It is a matter of history that many of the presidents owed a very large measure of their success to the skillful diplomacy and incessant encouragement of their consorts. This was notably so in the case of John Adams, the second president of the United States. Adams is not considered to have been a man of extraordinary endowments, but his wife, Abigail Adams, was a woman of remarkable intellectual force, and there is no doubt that Adams reflected a good deal of her brilliance when his star was most luminous. When she married him he was the son of a small farmer, and had no particularly bright prospects. The friends and relatives of Miss Smith (Mrs. Adams' maiden name) looked with disfavor upon what they considered a very undesirable match. Miss Smith's family was an old an conservative one, and, although her delicate health precluded the possibility of sending her to school away from home, sedulous care was taken in her education. She was a voracious reader, and her conversation had all the strict precision and metaphorical sonorousness of one of the preternaturally cultured young women to be found in the pages of novels of the last century. She was, in truth, a second edition of Johnson's "Clarissa," and her letters and journals, notably those during the period of the Revolutionary war, are perfect models of diction and pure English. She was married to Adams in 1764, when but 20 years old, and she was an able and devoted assistant of her husband during his struggles as a briefless young lawyer. His rise was not slow, however, and from the time of his service as a member of the Continental congress until he succeeded Washington as president his wife was an amiable dictator and a gentle companion. Owing to her delicate health, which was not capable of enduring the then malarious climate of Washington, and her desire to frugally manage, she spent at the White House only four months of the time during which her husband was president. Washington was not an altogether pleasant village in those days, and in her letters to friends at home Mrs. Adams made many disparaging comparisons between the radiant freshness of the hamlets and the bracing qualities of the air of Massachusetts with the muddy streets, unhealthy morasses and enervating atmosphere of the national capital. During the time she was at the White House she made herself quite popular with the society of Georgetown and Washington, although she was essentially a domestic woman, and shone more around her own fireside than in the whirl of a miscellaneous society. She was thoroughly wrapped up in her son, John Quincy Adams, and although she did not live to see him become president of the United States her life was spared long enough to see him achieve greatness in state affairs. She died at the advanced age of 74.



ABIGAIL ADAMS.

Dorothy Madison, more frequently referred to as "Dolly" Madison, had all the archness of manner and sweetness of temperament that Dickens gave to Dolly Varden. She was one of the most popular women in the United States. She was possessed of consummate tact, and a grace and womanly sympathy that made her the adored of all who were permitted to become intimately acquainted with her. She was beautiful. Her features were lively and mobile, and her figure was exquisite. Her hands and feet were marvelously small. She had great masses of dark hair, which she usually covered by a bright turban, and her eyes were lustrous and large. She was never a simperer, but her smiles, the outward showing of a rarely bright spirit, were extremely sweet and bountifully bestowed. Although a woman of most excellent education, she was the antithesis of a blue stocking, and her conversation was rather sparkling and occasionally tinged with good humored satire than profoundly intellectual. She was a brave woman, as was demonstrated by her cool demeanor when the British entered Washington during the war of 1812 and sacked the city. Although everybody was flying, she did not leave the White House until she heard the drums of the English soldiers approaching on Pennsylvania avenue, when she entered her carriage and was driven to Virginia. She took the precaution of securing valuable state papers before she left the building, and took with her a splendid portrait of Washington which was hanging in the White House, and which would have otherwise perished in the burning of the mansion a short time after. From the hills of Virginia she could see the lurid glare of the fire that consumed the Capitol.



DOROTHY MADISON.

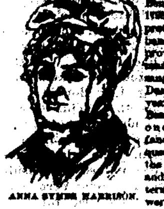
Before her marriage with Madison, Miss Payne (Mrs. Madison's maiden name) had been the wife of John Todd, a rising young lawyer of Philadelphia, who died not long after the union. By Todd she had one son, Payne Todd, a handsome youth, whose dissipated, spendthrift habits were a source of deep grief to her as long as she lived. There is in Washington now an aged colored man, in the employ of the government, who was one of Dolly Madison's pages when a very small pickaninny, and he remembers many affecting scenes between the reckless young fellow and his heartsore mother. This old negro cherishes a deep reverence for everything that appertains to Dolly Madison, and he never tires of talking of her beauty, her gentleness, and her [illegible]. She died in 1849, at the great age of 82 years.

Mrs. Rachel Jackson, the wife of Gen. Andrew Jackson, was never the mistress of the White House, having died before her husband took possession of the home of the presidents; although her death was caused by a disease of the heart, the slanders in regard to her character published in newspapers, whose political opinions were at variance with those of her husband, undoubtedly hastened her end. Before her marriage with Andrew Jackson, Rachel Donelson, the daughter of a brave and hardy old surveyor of Virginia, who afterwards emigrated to Tennessee, had been married to Lewis Robards, whom she had met in Kentucky. As heart [illegible]

[illegible] sion of the old soldier, and to persuade him to desist from his purpose. She grasped the bridle of his horse, and, notwithstanding his fierce injunction, "Out of my way!" she still clung to and pleaded with him, and he was finally subdued by her eloquence. Much of Jackson's after moroseness is attributed to this bitter passage in his life.

Although a woman of a very sweet, domestic nature, Mrs. Jackson had few accomplishments. She had no children of her own, and adopted a boy, Andrew Jackson, Jr. She died at the age [illegible]

Anna Symmes [illegible] the wife of Gen. William Henry [illegible] was born a year before the date of [illegible] independence. In her girlhood she [illegible] rounded by strong religious influences [illegible] left their marks on her character [illegible]. She was a beautiful woman, and her features were not altogether unlike those of the present Mrs. Gen. Harrison. She became the wife of Gen. Harrison at North Bend, O., Nov. 29, 1795. She was very proud of her husband's military prowess, and of his many triumphs in sanguinary battles. During her thirty years' life at North Bend she buried one child in infancy, and subsequently followed to the grave four sons and three daughters, all of whom were settled in life, and ten grandchildren. Mrs. Harrison was never mistress of the White House, as Gen. Harrison died a month after his inauguration. Mrs. Harrison did not spend this month in Washington. Her health was frail and her physicians protested against her crossing the mountains from Ohio at that season of the year. Mrs. Harrison died at the remarkable age of 89, in 1864, at the residence of her son, J. Scott Harrison, five miles below North Bend, on the Ohio river.



ANNA SYMMES HARRISON.

Salt Rheum

The agonies of those who suffer from severe salt rheum are indescribable. The cleansing, healing, purifying influences of Hood's Sarsaparilla are unequalled by any other medicine.

"I take pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it has done wonders for me. I had salt rheum very severely, affecting me over nearly my entire body. Only those who have suffered from this disease in its worst form can imagine the extent of my affliction. I tried many medicines, but failed to receive benefit until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. Then the disease began to subside, the disappeared, and now I am entirely free from the disease. My blood seems to be thoroughly purified, and my general health is greatly benefited." LYMAN ALLEN, Sexton N. E. Church, North Chicago, Ill.

Agonizing Itch and Pain

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and the calves of his legs, so bad that they would crack open and bleed. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

From 108 to 135

"I was seriously troubled with salt rheum for three years, and receiving no benefit from medical treatment I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am now entirely cured of salt rheum; my weight has increased from 108 lbs. to 135." MRS. ALICE SMITH, Stamford, Conn.

If you suffer from salt rheum, or any blood disease, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has cured many others, and will cure you.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

Fifty years ago was established the first commercial college in America, Comer's college, of Boston.

Jack and Jill each took a pill,
Old-fashioned kind—full grown;
Jack went down—but with a frown—
Jill died from "cause unknown."

Smiles will supersede many frowns, and many discomforts will be unknown, when Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets entirely supersede, as they bid fair to do, the large and less efficient pill of our fathers. Every day they gain new laurels! Most popular when most ills abound.

Fifty-one years ago the first steam fire engine ever made was tested in New York.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never fails to cure. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow

Fifty years ago the Mormons were driven from Missouri to Nauvoo, Ill.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness, and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Fifty years ago the Massachusetts Abolition party was organized.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

Fifty years ago brass clocks had only been in use a year.

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

OH! MY HEAD!!

[illegible]

When the stomach is torpid it soon becomes clogged with [illegible], the blood becomes vitiated and foul; the other organs fail to act properly, and induces [illegible] sick headache, [illegible] palpitation of the heart, pain in the back, loss of appetite.

"There are few things that I believe in with all my heart and it [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Strengthens the Nerves, Stimulates the Liver, Regulates the Kidneys and Bowels, Gives Life and Vigor to every organ.

There's nothing like it.

[illegible]

Brigadier General V. N. G., Burlington, Vt.

$1.00. Six for $5.00. At Druggists.

Use It Now!

"Having used your Paine's Celery Compound this spring, I can safely recommend it. [illegible]"

[illegible], Watertown, Dakota.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co. Props. Burlington, Vt.

DIAMOND DYES [illegible] | LACTATED FOOD [illegible]

HOP PLASTER

Fresh Hops, Hemlock Gum and Pine Balsam combined. Spread on white muslin.

The Popular and Reliable Plaster.

Apply one now for Backache, Sideache, Rheumatism, Kidney Weakness, Tender Lungs, Sore Chest, Stiff Muscles, Female Pains, Crick, Sprains, etc.

It cures every sort of Pain, Ache, or Weakness, and quickly, too.

Sold Everywhere 25 Cts. 5 for $1.00 or mailed for price.

Look for signature of HOP PLASTER CO., Proprietors, BOSTON, on the genuine goods.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. FOOD

TRADE MARK.

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk.
INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING.
A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS.
A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES.
REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES.
Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address.
Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Fifty years ago Frederick Douglass, the famous negro orator, journalist and politician, escaped from slavery at Baltimore, Md.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. —Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at R. E. Phillips drug store.

Fifty years ago 1,000 reformed drunkards marched in procession at the first anniversary of the Washington society.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C. 181 Pearl St. New York. 23 1 y

Fifty years ago a law was enacted against dueling in the district of Columbia. It grew out of the Cilley-Graves duel.

A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE SAYS.

Hon. John Nealey, justice of the peace and ex-member of the House of Representatives from Mededith, N. H., was for twelve years a terrible sufferer with rheumatism. He says: I cannot obtain any medicine which does me so much good as your Sulphur Bitters, and I think it is the best medicine made. 45t2

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery of Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips drug store. Large bottles $1.

Fifty years ago the Cherokee Indians were removed from Georgia and placed west of the Mississippi river.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—A positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker-Mouth. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Fifty years ago the first normal school was organized in Lexington, Mass.

"HACKMETACK," a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Fifty years ago the banks in the United States resumed specie payments.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by W. J. Watson.

Fifty years ago John C. Fremont and Jessie Benton were secretly married.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Fifty years ago the first patent was granted to Goodyear for vulcanized india-rubber goods.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow [illegible] by praying on his own side of the river.

[illegible]

Boy—Mother, since I have been using Wolff's Acme Blacking my shoes wear longer than ever before, and I never get my feet wet, but I do not think they look as smooth as when I first used it.

Mother—Indeed, my son, I am sorry you are so careless. You forget that even a good thing is only good when properly used. You have not even looked at the directions, for they are yet around the neck of the bottle. Now you must read them, and they will get you out of your trouble. Your father and I keep our shoes in elegant order by its use. I use it about once a month and pegs about once a week.

Wolff's ACME Blacking

Is wonderful; preserving and Waterproofing any leather; giving it a deep, rich black lustre which lasts a week. Don't use oftener. Do not confound ACME Blacking with any other. Sold by Shoe Stores, Grocers, Druggists, &c. Try it on your Harness.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. HISCOX & CO., N.Y.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ills arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c. and $1.00

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup [illegible]

SALVATION OIL

BEST IN THE WORLD ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS.

FOR [illegible] WORCESTER CORSET CO. WORCESTER MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or mercury, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine [illegible]

Don't Wait [illegible] Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

[illegible]

"[illegible]"—[illegible]

A [illegible] has its [illegible]

A [illegible]

A [illegible] may be as good as a [illegible], but she's lucky in not having to buy stockings for as many feet.—Puck.

Why not call them shy widows? Hay is grass with the greenness squeezed out.—Peoria Transcript.

He is a wise poet who knows his own poem after it has been copied half a dozen times in the newspapers.—Harper's Magazine.

"George, dear, what kind of fruit is borne by an electric light plant?" Electric currents of course."—Terre Haute Express.

Mrs. Slimdiet—Have some more of the mackerel, Mr. Boarder?

Mr. Boarder—No, thank you; but I'll take a bucket of water, if you please.—N. Y. Weekly.

The impression is gradually forcing itself upon the people of other sections of the country, that the complications of New York politics are a blamed nuisance, without distinction of party.—Boston Herald.

"Doctor, how do you find your patient to-day? "O, Mr Ransom is no worse." Do you anticipate a fatal result?" "Mrs. Ransom, my medicine has never failed to do its work."—Time.

"In the hands of men entirely great, the pen is mightier than the sword." It is the same way with a parasol in the hands of a woman. It will stop a horse car.—New Orleans Picayune.

Riddleberger can utilize the obscurity into which he has retired by writing a book. He might entitle it "High Old Times in the United States Senate."—Syracuse Herald.

"You should make some little sacrifice during Lent, my child."

"Thank you, mamma, for the hint. I will deny myself the pleasure of seeing my school teacher for the next six weeks.—Boston Gazette.

Butcher—Have you any orders this morning, madam?

Young Wife—(who is keeping house) Yes, that goose liver you brought me last week was very fine. I want another one, but be sure and get it from the same goose, as my husband is very particular.—Texas Siftings.

Jakey—I vas goin' to tell you a shoke, fader. Der vas—

Mr. Oppenheimer (excitedly)—Don't you tell no shokes here, Jakey. Der vos two gustomers in de store, and if dey laugh de new suits vont last till dey get to de door.—Omaha Republican.

A Boy's Composition on the Wasp.

A wasp is a six-legged bird that lives mostly in trees and under the eves of barns and you cannot taim him; he is to busy. Never stroke his fur the wrong way because it makes him mad, and when a wasp is mad I don't want nuthin' to do with him. He has what they call "a stinger," and when he goes out a stinging boys must keep away from him. I leaned up agin one once when he was busy and I jumped much as a feet; ma had to put a mud pie on the place. I hit a wasp's nest with a stone once and the boss wasp chast me clean acrost the lot so fast that when I got over the fence I tore my pants; then pa he spanked me till I wished I had let the old wasp sting me.

Some say wasps make honey, but if their honey is as hot as their stingerin' I don't want none. Pa says the stingerin' aint so bad at first as the rekolekshuns of it for a few days. He ought to know cos me and my brother Ike got on the roof and poked a big nest from the peek down in the barnyard while pa was milkin'.—Albany Press.

Hints For Lent.

A thoroughly penitential food is boarding house hash.

Lenten toilets will not as a general thing be made of sackcloth.

Give up some worldly pleasure—one that you can give up the easiest.

Don't allude to the dollar that keeps Lent. It is an old joke and is little used nowadays.

If you put away all expensive and frivolous gayeties you are entitled to a $50 Easter bonnet.

People dependent upon the Relief and Aid Society will rigorously fast. They are used to it.

A dinner of turtle soup, baked shad, porter-house steak and a bottle of wine is quite enough for a fasting man.

Of course you will go to church every morning. Never mind breakfast. You are fasting anyway, you know.

Forgetfulness in the Extreme.

There was once, as we know, a distinguished person who got married in the morning and latter in the day became so absorbed in his scientific investigations that he entirely forgot the interesting little circumstance. A correspondent tells us of a Scotch gentleman who was even more dreadfully forgetful He was walking along a Glasgow street with a friend. They met a lady who bowed; and as in duty bound both saluted in return. "Who is that young lady?" asked the young gentleman of his more elderly companion, "I seem to know her face." "Oh, you must have seen her before," was the reply; "that is the lady you are going to marry to-morrow."—St. James's Gazette.

Ages of Animals.

An elephant lives 400 years.
A whale lives 300 years.
A tortoise lives 100 years.
A camel lives forty years.
A horse lives twenty-five years.
A bear lives twenty years.
A lion lives twenty years.
An ox lives twenty-five years.
A cat lives fifteen years.
[illegible]
A [illegible] lives [illegible] years.
[illegible]

[illegible]

George H. Wise, of the firm of Truxton & Wish, Bangor, Me., was afflicted with a scrofulous humor which caused troublesome sores upon both his legs. Many remedies were used and several physicians consulted, without result. After taking Brown's Sarsaparilla a short time he was better, and soon the eruption disappeared and he is now all right. This is only one of a thousand victories gained by

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co. Bangor, Me. 44t4

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington D. C.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents,

JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PAYNE'S MONARCH CATARRH CURE

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 7 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c.; mail, 60c.; mail, registered, 80c. PAYNE & CO., ATHENS, Pa.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

OVER WORKED Women

For "run-down," debilitated and overworked women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is a potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to Women; a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, it imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, nausea, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. It is carefully compounded by an experienced physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

WARRANTED. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee of satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, with full directions for home-treatment), send ten cents in stamps.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

COUGH KILLER

As a Family Remedy Dr. Seth Arnold's COUGH KILLER has no equal.

"We have used it for the past ten years, and can truly recommend it."

Mrs. C. Filkin, Montezuma, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

[illegible] Cash

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Court [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] at the [illegible] office of Hon. [illegible]

[illegible] Tuesday in [illegible]

[illegible] at office of Hon. [illegible] on the Friday succeeding [illegible] day in April, July and October.

Central Square.—At the [illegible] Square on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

Fulton.—J. S. Loomis' law office in Fulton on the Friday succeeding the last Tuesday in April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court, except at [illegible], will be held on the day previous thereto.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. REYNOLDS,
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

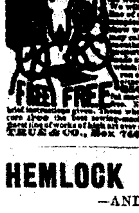
DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors
C. H. DAVID }

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th, 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix.



[illegible] FREE [illegible]

TRUE & CO., Box 740, Augusta, Maine.

HEMLOCK LUMBER

—AND—

Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,
SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS,
LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N.Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn.

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
[illegible]

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible]

[illegible] YEAR.
[illegible] in Advance.
FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 27, 1889.
VOLUME 21—NUMBER 46
Single Copies Three Cents

Tobias—So to Speak.

[illegible]

Yes, his front name is Tobias,
And he isn't over pious,
And his eyes were on the bias,
So to speak;
And his curly sign and bent is
Nobby clothing—for this gent is
Just a bit non compos mentis
Like and weak.

And this feather-weighted gent he—
Tho' not one and twenty—
Has of knowledge quite a plenty,
So to speak;
For he'd rather be a prancing,
And kicking at a dancing,
Than his stock of wit enchancing,
Learning Greek.

Tho' he apes the drawl and stammer
When he dons his slick claw hammer,
Yet Tobias shoots his grammar,
So to speak;
And he question very rarely,
So his clothes are hanging fairly)
If his brain be fashioned squarely,
Or oblique.

No, he has no education,
And his beauty took vacation
'Bout the time of his creation,
So to speak;
And upon mature reflection,
Taking each distinct bisection,
I've decided his complexion
Rather weak.

Tho' his shirt has not a rimple,
Nor his beardless chin a dimple
On his beak,
And his voice is not radiant,
For at times it is defiant,
And at times it is a pliant,
Little squeak.

Now it seems to me so funny
That the half demented sonny
Should be loaded down with money,
So to speak;
While the writer of this ditty,
Who you see is rather witty,
Has to scrub about the city
On his cheek.

DO WHAT you can when you cannot do what you would.

Warner's Log Cabin PLASTERS will immediately relieve the pain in your back; then look for the cause of it. Try it.

THE PROPER THING.

Gobelin blue gains in favor.

All shades of green appear this season in greater variety than usual.

All the stringless bonnets are accompanied by delicate mask veils.

Soft, low-crowned toques are the most popular head covering of the season.

Tailors have revived for spring coats the Breton jacket once so popularly worn.

Wide sash ribbons, brocaded, striped, or of plain faille, and soft silks with fringed ends, are chosen for the Empire sashes.

For simple and inexpensive wraps are short jackets of checked or striped cloth. Striped homespun is used for spring ulsters.

The black chantilly laces, sixty or more inches wide, are being made up as princesse gowns with bodice and skirt in one.

The long wraps for spring are modifications of the two models most used during the winter, the close-fitting redingote and the Russian cloak.

The Marie Antoinette fichu grows in favor as a draping for the bodices of house dresses, and is made of silk muslin of mull, net lace or crape.

The graceful draped skirt has not been entirely superseded by the straight directoire gowns. The draperies still exist but are soft and clinging and must on no account make the garment bouffant on the tournure or about the hips.

The best reform in domestic life is without doubt the introduction of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup. Where it is known no more laudanum is given to the babies.

An excellent remedy. Laxador is superior as a cathartic to any other in all cases in which a purgative is employed. At all druggists. Price 25 cents.

Juvenile Definitions.

The "Listener," in the Boston Transcript, gives the following as instances "of the power of words over youthful intelligence:"

"Stability is the taking care of a stable."

"A mosquito is the child of black and white parents."

"Obelisk, one of the marks of punctuation."

"Doxology, dropsy in the head."

"Ironical, something very hard."

"Monastery, a place for monsters."

"A rifle is a sort of a gun."

"Ventilation is letting in contaminated air."

"A rehearsal is what they have at a funeral."

"An incendiary is when you go round preaching and singing hims."

"Expostulation is to have the small pox."

"The man was very cursory because he cursed a great deal."

"A crisis is something to put your [illegible]"

[illegible]

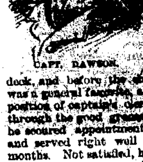
THE MURDERED EDITOR.

ROMANCE OF THE LIFE OF CAPT. F. W. DAWSON.

His Bravery in Battle—A Graphic Story of the Killing of Dawson—Stories of His Newspaper Career—His Connection with the Civil War.

The untimely death of Capt. F. W. Dawson, editor of The Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier, at the hands of Dr. T. B. McDow, of that city, removes from the field of southern journalism one of its shining lights—a man who was popular, not merely in a social sense, but, with his large, progressive ideas and marvelous energy, one who in his work and person was a type of the New South.

Capt. Dawson was, like many generous men, hot headed and impetuous—sometimes imperious. Men of strong executive ability rarely brook opposition, and he was one of them. An incident illustrates this trait in his character, and it has a bearing upon what has been written. In the early days of reconstruction a paper was established in Charleston known as The Republican. Its editor, Myron Fox, had graduated from The New York Tribune, and was as brave as he was brainy. He realized that he was "a stranger in a strange land," yet with a conscience alive to the issues of the hour, he fought on against desperate odds. Among his bitterest antagonists was Capt. Dawson, then just beginning to edit The Charleston News. Between the two men it was every day "give and take." At last, something was said in The Republican that provoked Dawson to more than usual wrath, and with cane in hand he went to the offending editor to demand that he should either apologise or take a whipping. The Republican man, on the occasion of the call, was sitting at his desk writing an editorial. When he saw the threatening stick he coolly told Dawson to put it down or he would throw him out of the window. In a second more the two men were clinched. The stout young Northerner, lifting his visitor from the floor with as much ease as an athlete handles a dumb bell, carried the captain where he said he would—to the window—and remarked: "I don't want you to apologise, and I don't want to drop you; but will you stop quarreling?" There was so much determination in the words and method of the man that Dawson quietly said "Yes," apologised like the gentleman he was, and thereafter the two editors became very respectful friends.



CAPT. DAWSON.

The history of F. W. Dawson, if it were enlarged, would read like a romance. He went to the south a beardless boy of 21. Born in England, tired of the struggle for livelihood in London, and seeing new opportunities for an adventurous spirit in the war just begun between the north and south, he stole a passage on the steamer Nashville, then a Confederate privateer, commanded by Capt. Pegram, formerly of the old navy. When the ship was well at sea after leaving Southampton, he appeared on deck. The petty officers set him at work cleaning the brasses and doing odd chores. Whatever he did, he did well, and he continued to do it all through life. By and by his alertness and intelligence attracted the attention of the quarter deck, and before the ship reached port he was a general favorite, and had attained the position of captain's clerk. On his arrival, through the good graces of Capt. Pegram, he secured appointment as master's mate, and served right well for a number of months. Not satisfied, however, with his inactive office, he managed to effect a transfer to the army, and became a high private in Purcell's battery of A. P. Hill's division. This was in June, 1862. In the battles around Richmond he was sorely wounded while standing alone and single handed at his gun, firing the last shot before he fell. Thus attracting public notice, it was not difficult for such a bright, brave young fellow to obtain a commission, and the strap of a lieutenant of artillery was awarded him, with orders to report to the ordnance department of the Army of Virginia. Step by step, not in rank, but in honor, he rose to a position that brought him close to the person of Gen. Longstreet. Here he again distinguished himself. One day, in the heat of battle, he saw a regiment break and start for the rear at a critical moment. Without saying a word to those who were around him, he put spurs to his horse, dashed down among the demoralized men, and with his shrill, ringing voice, and in the stirring words he knew so well how to command, rallied and led them back, re-established the broken line, charged again and captured a portion of a battery.

When the war ended Capt. Dawson returned to Richmond penniless and with only the clothes in which he stood, but he soon succeeded in finding a place as a reporter under John Cowarden, the veteran editor of The Richmond Dispatch. After a while he drifted to Charleston, S. C., and became an associate editor on The Charleston Mercury, his chief being Albert Rhett, who was subsequently killed in a duel. The two other live papers of the city at this time were The South Carolinian, the official journal of the state, owned and edited by F. G. de Fontaine, and The Charleston News, which had been established a year or two before by Hon. Ben Wood, of New York, and was edited by Mr. George Cathcart, now a member of the firm of Ivison, Phinney & Blakeman, the New York publishers. The Charleston Courier, on which James Gordon Bennett the elder worked as a journeyman printer when he came to America, was for the moment dead or nearly so.

Learning that The Charleston News was also in a life and death struggle for existence, Capt. Dawson saw his opportunity to purchase the plant, and taking as a copartner Mr. B. R. Riordan, who with William Gilmore Simms, the southern novelist, was then an associate editor on The South Carolinian, he came to New York, conferred with Mr. Wood, and though without a dollar in the world obtained possession of the [illegible]

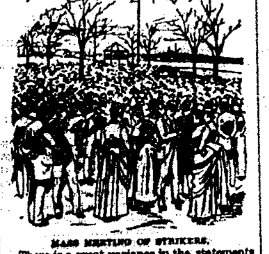
[illegible]

[illegible] energy of his work and the magnetism of his nature, to any [illegible] of his commanding influence as a citizen, would have turned to him any gift he might have asked from the people. It will be a long time before his place is filled.

TEN THOUSAND OUT.

Great Strike of Weavers in the Cotton Mills of Fall River.

Fall River, Mass., is the greatest cotton manufacturing center in the United States, and the fact that 6,000 weavers there have struck for an advance in wages is momentous. One by one the other classes of workers, spinners, pickers, ropers, etc., have had to quit; and at the present nearly 20,000 men, women and youths are idle. It is a question of wages and dates back to 1884, when a general reduction of 20 per cent. was made in all the mills. The spinners in ten mills struck then, but yielded in a few days. Early in 1887 an advance of 10 per cent. was made, and the companies now claim that by improved machinery and appliances the employes now earn a little more than they did before the reduction of 1884.

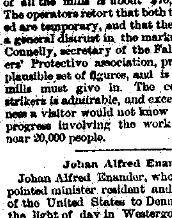


MASS MEETING OF STRIKERS.

There is a great variance in the statements of the parties. The operators claim that the weavers average $10 to $12 per week, while the spinners range from $11 to $13, but the workers figure the average at a little below $9. It appears from the statements of both sides that this is one of the few employments in which women earn as much as men. The employes invite attention to the fact that cotton is 1¼ cents lower than in 1884, and cloth 1-16 cent higher per yard, so that the total profits of all the mills is about $70,000 per week. The operators retort that both the prices quoted are temporary, and that there is even now a general distrust in the market. Patrick J. Connelly, secretary of the Fall River Weavers' Protective association, presents a very plausible set of figures, and is confident the mills must give in. The conduct of the strikers is admirable, and except for the stillness a visitor would not know a strike was in progress involving the work and wages of near 20,000 people.

Johan Alfred Enander.

Johan Alfred Enander, who has been appointed minister resident and consul general of the United States to Denmark, first saw the light of day in Westergotland, Sweden, May 22, 1842. He was a farmer's son, and like the other boys obtained his early education at the district school. He was a very ambitious youth, and spent his evenings at home studying the higher branches until he was able to pass the examination admitting him to the college of Wenersborg. In the earlier part of the '60s he served as clerk in a judge's office. From 1865 till 1869 he devoted his time to study and then came to this country and entered the college of Augustava, at Rock Island. Soon after he was made editor of The Hemlandet, a Swedish paper printed in Chicago. In 1872, with G. A. Bohman as partner, he bought the paper, which he has since edited. In 1874 Enander wrote a Swedish history of the United States, which was so well received that it was shortly afterward translated into English. From 1874 to 1877 he edited a Swedish literary paper, Noroch Fjerran, and in 1879 an illustrated paper entitled Ungdomsvan, both of which have since been discontinued. Mr. Enander was made a member of the state board of education in 1879.



J. A. ENANDER.

A HANDSOME COLLEGE.

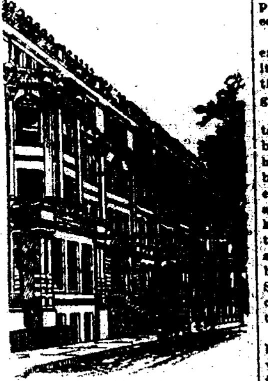
ST. FRANCIS XAVIER'S, RECENTLY COMPLETED IN NEW YORK.

The Late Rev. Theodore Thiry, a Jesuit, Who Was the Adviser of 20,000 Young Men—The Establishment of the College in 18[illegible]—Noted Priests.

Rev. Theodore Thiry, who recently died in New York city, was one of the most prominent Jesuits in the United States. He was connected with the Church and College of St. Francis Xavier for forty years. He was a native of [illegible], and was born in 18[illegible]. He was ordained priest by Bishop Hughes in 18[illegible], four years after his arrival in the United States. He was noted not so much for his powers of oratory as for his deep scholarship and his great personal [illegible]. It is said that he was on terms of friendship with as many as [illegible] persons, and did in the course [illegible]

[illegible]

The new building [illegible] St. Francis Xavier, is one of the [illegible] in America. The ceremonies attending the formal opening took place [illegible] day, and the occasion will go [illegible]. The new structure is an imposing one. As one passes along Sixth avenue, by the elevated trains or on foot, and looks up Sixteenth street, there is the impression of a flash of soft light as if a huge creamy flake had fallen from the heavens and molded itself into a beautiful building. The eye of the person who glances closely is first greeted by the severe majesty of the Jesuits' massive church. Then come the long, graceful lines of the new college building. The effect is superb. But the details are quite simple. The result of richness and ornament is secured by an original application and combination of simple materials. The architect's work has been what may be called the modern treatment of classical architecture, and the building may be called Greek in taste. As to its general lines, for capitals and keystones, it is simple and original. The combination is original, and the effect has been made rich by a skillful and judicious harmonizing of the simplest forms.



THE NEW COLLEGE.

The building is 184 feet long, 86 feet high from curb line to top of parapet, and 69 feet deep. There is a lecture hall which runs through three floors, and has a capacity of 1,000 persons. The library of the college is at the east end of the building. It is 68 feet long and 28 feet wide. The college possesses a fine library of 23,000 volumes. On the first floor are parlors for the reception of friends of the college and visitors on parochial matters. The upper rooms are occupied by the Jesuit fathers and professors of the college.

One of the most prominent features of the building is the main stoop. It is of gray granite, and eighteen feet wide. The front of the structure is relieved by two bays twenty-eight feet in width, projecting about twelve feet beyond the face of the main building, square in plan in basement and first story, octagonal in second and third. The face of the building on the fourth floor returns again to the building line. As is the case in all Jesuit institutions, the interior furnishings are of the most simple kind.

St. Francis Xavier's now has a most imposing group of buildings—the church, the college in Fifteenth street, and the new structure just completed at a cost of $300,000.

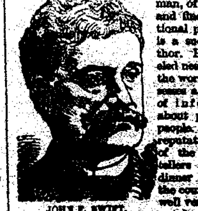
Christianity and Churches.

It is an historic fact that Christianity got on and thrived for over 200 years without synagogues or temples. It was not until the end of the Third century that Christians reared edifices set apart for public worship. Our Lord prayed and preached in private houses, in the open air, by the wayside, from the deck of a chance fishing smack—anywhere, everywhere. So did the apostles; so did their successors. There is no sanctity in brick and mortar. Nothing makes a place sacred but God's realized presence; and that makes any spot holy ground, from the aisle of the forest to the aisle of the cathedral.—Clergyman in St. Louis Republic.

EXIT HUBBARD, ENTER SWIFT.

One Has Been Minister to Japan, the Other Will Be.

John F. Swift, who has been appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Japan, is a wealthy and very prominent man in Pacific slope politics. He is a lawyer, and has held several positions of importance in the state. He has retired from active practice, though he is only about 50 years old. He is a learned and affable man, of bright wit and fine conversational powers, and is a successful author. He has traveled nearly all over the world, and possesses a large fund of information about places and people. He has a reputation as one of the best story tellers and after dinner speakers in the country. He is well versed in Oriental diplomatic matters, having been one of the negotiators of the treaty with China in 1880, known as the Swift, Angel and Prescott treaty. He was the Republican candidate for governor of California in 1886, and wrote the famous anti-Chinese petition which was presented to the senate two or three years ago.



JOHN F. SWIFT.

He is a native of Missouri, but went to California in the early days. He is an old friend of the president and worked for his nomination.

Mr. Swift will supersede as minister to Japan Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, who was appointed by President [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] of the [illegible] had to be [illegible] with the fact that the modern advertiser is progressive.

He is compelled to be, since competitors more active in the invention of new advertising devices, will outstrip him in public favor.

The value of printers' ink judiciously and scientifically employed cannot be overestimated; it is the medium whereby a meritorious discovery is raised from local fame to a position in the public esteem. Hence the columns of the newspapers are daily used by hosts of advertisers and in the competition which is indulged in to attain the desired end, the reader is oftentimes amused.

The greatest of American advertisers, and it may as well be said in the world is H. H. Warner of Rochester, N. Y., whose name has been made everywhere familiar in connection with Warner's Safe Cure, widely advertised because of its merit in the prevention and cure of kidney diseases.

By printer's ink this great discovery has achieved world-wide popularity and thousands feel grateful for the knowledge thus acquired of this greatest of modern remedies.

Furthermore, the public has been taught that disorders of the lungs, brain, heart and liver which have hitherto been regarded and treated by the profession as distinctive diseases are not so in fact, but are the attending symptoms of disease of the kidneys; therefore, the consumptive, the apoplectic, the paralytic, and the sufferer from nervous disorders can be restored to health by Warner's Safe Cure, which will remove the cause of those disorders by restoring the kidneys to healthy action.

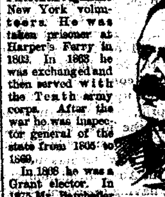
The advertising methods employed by this greatest of advertisers are invariably instructive and, although the reading may sometimes be "caught" in reading an advertisement, which was not at first supposed to be such, there is nevertheless no time lost since useful information is invariably gained concerning life's great problem.

George Sherman Batcheller.

George Sherman Batcheller, who will serve as assistant secretary of the treasury, comes from one of the oldest families in New York. He is a grand nephew of Roger Sherman, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Mr. Batcheller was graduated at Harvard in 1857, receiving the degree of LL. B. He was somewhat of an athlete, being a fine looking specimen of physical manhood, apparently the equal of John L. Sullivan or any other man. He was born at Batchellerville, Saratoga county, July 25, 1838. After leaving Harvard he was elected to the New York legislature, when only 21 years old. In 1858 he was admitted to the bar.

During the war he entered the army as lieutenant colonel of the One Hundred and Fifteenth regiment New York volunteers. He was taken prisoner at Harper's Ferry in 1862. In 1863 he was exchanged and then served with the Tenth army corps. After the war he was inspector general of the state from 1865 to 1869.

In 1868 he was a Grant elector. In 1875 Mr. Batcheller was appointed judge of the international tribunal at Cairo, Egypt. In 1885 he resigned his seat on the bench and returned to Saratoga.

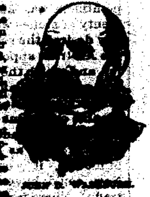


GEORGE S. BATCHELLER.

Mr. Batcheller has been elected to the New York legislature repeatedly, has been chairman of the committees on ways and means and the judiciary, and has had a wide experience in political affairs.

John D. Washburn.

John D. Washburn, the newly appointed minister to Switzerland, belongs to the famous Washburn family of Massachusetts. He was born in 1833, in Boston, and is a graduate of Harvard university. Mr. Washburn has been a close friend of Senator Hoar, to whom his selection is credited. He has been in the insurance business since the war. He served in the legislature four years, from 18[illegible] [illegible]



JOHN D. WASHBURN.

[illegible]

ST. JACOBS OIL
[illegible] PAIN
INJURIES.
40 YEARS.
SCIATIC RHEUMATISM.
[illegible]

NONE SUCH BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
Containing only Pure Grape Cream Tartar, Soda Bicarbonate Soda, and a little Starch. Full weight, always uniform. Incomparable for strength, purity and wholesomeness. The most economical. Contains no Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Phosphate, or other impurity. "Safe for dyspeptics and invalids." Sold in cans only. GEO. C. HANFORD, Mfr., Syracuse, N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sonsy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's SIREY, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

ELY'S CREAM BALM is SURE to CURE Cold in Head QUICKLY. Easy to Use.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
HAY-FEVER
ELY BRO'S
U.S.A.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York

BONANZA TO AGENTS SAMPLES FREE [illegible] New York City

R. Q.
PARLOA'S COOK BOOK.
Large Quarto. Lithographed Cover. Over 100,000 Parloa Cook Books have been sold. Mailed on receipt of 30 cts. by any bookseller, or ESTES & LAURIAT, Boston, Mass.

ACHING Sides AND Back
Aching Sides and Back, Hip, Kidney and Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)

Good Cheer Instead of Despondency; Energy by Day. Sleep at Night. No Opium.

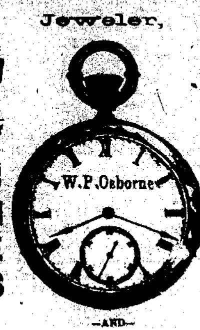
A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.
Mrs. Caroline Austin, Astoria, N. Y., says: "Last winter I ran down so rapidly from malaria that I could not leave my chair. I heard Kaskine, the new quinine, [illegible]"
W. T. [illegible], M. D., late Prof. in New York [illegible] College, writes: [illegible] I cheerfully [illegible] superior to quinine in [illegible] free from causing [illegible]
Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.
KASKINE CO. 185 Duane St., New York.

UNITED LIFE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE ASSOCIATION,
40 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Lowest rates. Best security. $5,000 policy, yearly cost, $12. Reliable Agents wanted.
Hon. PETER BOWE, Pres.

Oklahoma A BOOK giving full description and information containing three MAPS. CIRCULARS FREE. A. BASS & CO., McPherson, Kansas.

IT will Cure — — COUGHS,
IT will Heal — — SORE THROAT,
IT will Save — — MANY LIVES,
IT is [illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE, Jeweler,
WATCHES CLOCKS



—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

THE GLORY OF MAN STRENGTH VITALITY!
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood,
EXHAUSTED VITALITY UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

[illegible] Seeds [illegible] and 10c. [illegible] seed your choice [illegible] stamps (4c). Every [illegible] lover delighted. Tell all your friends. G. W. PARK, Fannettsburg, Pa. Send at once, this notice appears but a few times.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

SALESMEN WANTED Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid. Special inducements to beginners. Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. Hooker Nurseries (established 1835), ROCHESTER, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

FARMS, BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South. J. F. MANCHA, Clairmont, Va.

MR. HARRISON SAYS

RAYMOND'S PECTORAL PLASTER,
The wonderful cough cure, is the only cure known for Whooping Cough. It is also the best plaster in the world for all pains and is the only plaster in the market that will do what it is advertised to do. Try it. 25 cts. For sale by W. J. WATSON, Druggist.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS
RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND.
Original, best, only genuine and reliable pill for sale. Never Fail. Ask for Chichester's English Diamond Brand, in red metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. At Druggists. Accept no other. All pills in pasteboard boxes, pink wrappers, are a dangerous counterfeit. Send 4c. (stamps) for particulars and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return mail. 10,000 testimonials from LADIES who have used them. Name Paper. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

DR. G. E. WHITNEY'S
New and Successful Method of Diagnosing and Treating Diseases. Patients treated right at their own homes with perfect success. The most difficult and complicated cases quickly and permanently relieved even after all other means have failed. Those desiring trial treatment should send full name, age, sex, weight and a brief history of illness and medicines, carefully prepared for the case, to last ten days will be sent them with the diagnosis. Terms $5 and 6c. postage. Address G. E. WHITNEY, M. D., Cleveland, O.

JAMES COLE, The Old Reliable UNDERTAKER AND FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line.
Caskets and Coffins
of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And latest improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
[illegible] everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

A Wise Man.

Mrs. Brown—My husband is one of [illegible]

Mrs. [illegible]—That's so.

Mrs. [illegible]—Yes; I made him a [illegible]

[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

JANE BROADWELL, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST, OFFICE AT RESIDENCE, Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls. Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Paper Hanging! Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, - Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
[illegible]puty Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON.
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

FREE $85 Solid Gold Watch. Sold for $100 until lately. Best $85 watch in the world. Perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Heavy Solid Gold Hunting Cases. Both ladies' and gents' sizes, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free, together with our large and valuable line of Household Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send Free, and after you have kept them in your home for 2 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine.

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M. C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

INSURE IN THE TRADERS & TRAVELERS Accident Company, 287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
BENEFITS.
$5,000 for Death.
$5,000 Loss of Limbs.
$2,500 Loss of Limb.
$2,500 Loss of Sight.
$1,250 Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks.
One Set of Individual Registry Plates Included.
COST.
Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00
Annual Dues, - - - 1.00
Membership Fee, 5.00. $11.00
IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Traders & Travelers Accident Co. of New York desire the services of one responsible representative in each town to act as agent for the general transaction of their business. A liberal and permanent arrangement will be made with parties who can fill the above requirements. Address C. S. SOMERVLLE, Sec'y.

BEST STEEL WIRE Woven Wire Fencing Wire Rope Selvage
GALVANIZED.
80c TO $2 PER ROD.
[illegible]

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

9 Cords [illegible] 10 [illegible]
[illegible] NO BACKACHE.
[illegible]

A Vermont [illegible]

[illegible] Communications must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.
Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.
Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.
Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,
F. D. VANWAGENEN, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is enjoying the freedom of an American citizen in Cuba.

CORPORAL Tanner of Brooklyn was appointed commissioner of pensions by President Harrison Friday. The choice seems to give general satisfaction among G. A. R. men although Poole, of Syracuse, was the man that most in this vicinity were in favor of.

GOD AND MAN: By the Rev. Henry Truro Bray, N. A., L. L. D. This book is elegant in form and most beautiful in contents. It is the book for the times, it is in fact a revelation. Size 9 x 6. Sent post paid for $2. Send stamp for circulars. Agents wanted.
Holt Pub. Co., Box 390, St. Louis, Mo.

THE four actresses who at the present time are probably the most widely known to the American public of any in their profession, Julia Marlowe, Mary Anderson, Lilly Langtry and Mrs. James Brown Potter are all incapacitated by sickness which is probably due to mental and physical strain.

ASSOCIATE Justice, Stanley Matthews, of the United States Supreme Court, died on Friday, March 22nd, at Washington. He was 64 years of age. The question of who will be appointed his successor is the one that now agitates the minds of many. Judge Gresham or Attorney General Miller are considered to stand a good show. Of the two the President more probably will appoint Miller.

POSTMASTER General Wanamaker is getting things down to business principles and the fact that he is at the head of that department is already felt. He has increased the number of hours of work for clerks in that department which will benefit the public at large but will prove detremental to the clerks who are base ball enthusiasts and expert tennis players. Mr. Wanamaker also announces that the charge of offensive partisanship will not be regarded as sufficient cause for the removal of Democratic postmasters.

MISS Charlotte Suits, the daring young æronaut, who made the baloon ascension from the Oswego Falls Fair grounds last fall was married a few days since to Judson Ward a wealthy gentleman of Rome. N. Y. who has a fortune of over $50,000. He is 52 years of age. Miss Suits is 25 years old. She formerly taught school in Oneida county but could not make money enough and started making aerial flights, under the management of Prof. Myers of Mohawk making her first ascension at Rome three years ago. We imagine that there was not money enough even in that.

Concerning Small Pox.

The condition of small-pox patients at North Hannibal is somewhat improved and no new cases are reported. The Hannibal News has the following regarding the cases in that town: "A sufficient time has elapsed in which those, if any, who have been exposed to small-pox, would show signs of sickness by the disease, and none so far have been manifested. It appears to us that no further fear need be entertained. We think it is safe to say, that there is no more reason to apprehend any more cases of the disease in town than in any other town in the State."

HANNIABL, Mach 26.—Mary Remington, sister of Joseph Remington, who was an inmate of the infected house at North Hannibal, died this morning. Up to yesterday there had been some hope that she might recover, but then the disease took a fatal turn. Wm. Remington, the postmaster is no better.

A neighbor, Mr. Fred Roberts who lives near is reported sick, but it is not certain that he has the small-pox, although every illness in the neighbood just now is likely to be ascribed to this cause.—Oswego Times.

Our Combination Rates.

We make the following combination rates to every-one, 10 cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county. All of the papers have a world wide reputation in the fields which they cover and we commend them to our readers:

THE TIMES 1 year and Farm Journal 1 year $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and N. Y. Weekly [illegible], $1.50.

[illegible] year and Detroit Free Press [illegible]

[illegible] year and the Rural [illegible]

[illegible] the N. Y. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Fruit Valley—Byer M. Randall.
Fulton—Henry C. Gardner, Giles S. Piper, Arvin Rice, William Stephens.
Hannibal Centre—Richard N. Cooley.
Hannibal—Nicholas B. Brower.
Kasoag—Hugh D. Mellen.
Lacona—Gilbert N. Harding.
Lycoming—Edwin J. Lawton.
Mexico—Benjamin F. French, Jas. A. Johnson, Henry V. Spencer.
Mt. Pleasant—John Wilmer.
New Haven—Schuyler M. Barker.
Orwell—Arthur B. Olmstead.
Oswego City—Charles W. Barnes, Jos. J. Belanger, Henry C. Benedict, Thos. A. Bennett, Orson H. Brown, Weston Bunker, Geo. N. Burt, Geo. T. Clark, Benj. Doolittle, Chas. A. Fisk, Edward A. Fitzgerald, Boardman C. Frost, F. B. Hamilton, James J. Johnson, E. Kelly, Thos H. King, John J. Lamoree, Frederick B. Lathrop, Henry H. Lyman, Thos. Martin, Harmon D. Nutting, Merrit Peckham jr., Chester Penfield, William J. Pentelow, Elisha B. Powell, Wardell G. Robinson, Merrick Stowell, Wm. Tiffany, Christopher J. Vowinkle, Theo. H. Webb, Charles T. Whitney.
Oswego Falls—Charles F. Boyd, Jas. Frank Willard.
Parish—Romayne C. Robertson.
Phœnix—F. W. Alvord, F. K. Avery, Wm. J. Dougall, F. H. Fox.
Pulaski—F. G. Johnson, John Preston, Nathan B. Smith, Benj. Snow.
Richland—Wm. H. Gilbert.
Sand Bank—John M. Brown, Thomas M. Costello, Wm. H. Cox, Philo B. Sage.
Sandy Creek—Udelle Bartlett, Mathew M. Earle, Ferdinand E. Smith, Azariah Wart.
South Hannibal—Robert Gifford.
South Richland—Charles L. Goodsell.
Texas—Loron D. Loomis.
Union Square—John F. Hartson.
West Amboy—Emmet Lewis.
West Monroe—Ransom O. Smith, J. Eugene Sperry, Edgar M. Wightman.
Williamstown—Edward Dixon, Wilbur H. Selleck, Alex McAuley, Chas. J. Williams.

OBITUARY.

Joseph A. Hinchey, better known as "Dell" Hinchey, formerly night operator in the N. Y. O. & W. Railway, in this village, but for the past year located at Bernhards Bay as station agent, died at Oswego Falls on Sunday, March 24, of consumption, at the age of 26 years. He remained at his post at Bernhards Bay station until Saturday afternoon, made out his weekly report bolstered up in his bed. When completed he stated that his work in this world was done and was brought to the home of his parents in Oswego Falls, Saturday evening, where he died the following afternoon. The funeral services will be held at the Congregational church this afternoon and will be under the the charge of the Odd Fellows, of which organization the deceased was a member.

Frederick B. Carrington, son of Mr. E. J. Carrington, for many years a resident of this village, died in Pontiac, Mich., on Thursday, March 21, 1889 at the age of 32 years. The deceased left Fulton some ten years ago and about three years ago was married to Miss Newins, of Riverhead, Long Island, who survives him. He also leaves one child, a girl about a year old. The remains were brought to Fulton for interment and services, conducted by Dr. Rankin, were held at the house of C. C. Benedict on Saturday afternoon. Mr. E. J. Carrington, of Detroit, Mrs. Carrington and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Newins, of Riverhead, Long Island, came to Fulton with the remains.

Mrs. Graham Andrews died of typhoid fever at Lyons on Sunday, March 22d. She was married in Philadelphia, Pa., but five weeks ago to Dr. Graham Andrews who formerly resided in this village. Mrs. S. N. Dada and Mrs. H. E. Nichols, a sister of Dr. Andrews went to Lyons to attend the funeral yesterday.

Eliza Barrett wife of William Barrett died at her home, the old toll gate house about two miles north of this village in the town of Volney, on Sunday, March 24, after a long illness, at the age of 55 years. The deceased had been a resident of Volney all her life. Funeral services will be held in the M. E. church to-morrow at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Eliza Wilmer, of Mt. Pleasant, in this town, died at the residence of her son, John Wilmer, on Thursday, March 21st, 1889, of inflammation of the bowels, aged 79 years. The funeral services were held on Sunday at 11 o'clock a. m., at Mt. Pleasant. Rev. Mr. Rathbun officiating.

From the edition of Geo. P. Rowell & Co's "American Newspaper Directory just published (its twenty-first year), it appears that the newspapers and periodicals of all kinds issued in the United States now number 17,107, showing a gain of 797 during the last twelve months, and of 7,863 in ten years.

WEIGHT OF WORDS.

There is a shade of difference even in synonymous words, if not in their meaning, surely in their weight and impression. We speak of a thing as a "relief," a "remedy," "an alleviation" when we desire to express something stronger. Those who employ St. Jacobs Oil for aches and pains of all kinds find that it "cures"; that's the word. [illegible]

[illegible] For Trustees, Dr. D. R. Lake, [illegible] Assessor, Reuben [illegible] Collector, C. S. Murphy; Treasurer, Amos Youmans. The village committee of last year, Dr. D. R. Lake, Fred Gage and T. D. Lewis were re-appointed.

The Democratic caucus was held at 7 p. m. on Saturday and was rather lively at first. It was called to order by J. N. Sharp and H. McKiernan was made chairman, P. O'Grady and and Walter Bradley were appointed secretaries. It had been decided at a recent meeting of the Democratic Reform club to re-nominate George True, but Willard Johnson, the grand Monkey Monk, had decreed otherwise and was on hand with his heelers to run the caucus. George Wells an able man and good citizen was nominated for President, Amos Wolever and W. D. Patterson, for Trustees, Michael Martin for Collector, Myron Haven for Assessor and W. J. Lovejoy for Treasurer. Walter Bradley, P. O'Grady and J. N. Sharp were appointed the village committee.

An anti-sewer caucus was held on Thursday the following circular being distributed about town:

PEOPLES' CAUCUS.

The voters of the village of Fulton, irrespective of party, who believe in the doctrine of 1776, of "No Taxation Without Representation," and who are opposed to having a Board of Trustees build sewers in the town for the people to pay for without the people having an opportunity to say anything about it or vote upon it, are requested to meet in opera house hall in caucus, on Thursday evening, March 31st, 1889, at 8 o'clock, to nominate a President of the village and two Trustees and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. VOX POPULI.

Joel Palmer called the meeting to order and J. D. Lasher was made chairman. Remarks were made by Palmer, Lasher and Fred Bennett of the Patriot, when it was decided to adjourn until Saturday, after the other caususes were held. The following anti-sewer ticket was then put in the field: For President, J. S. Palmer; Trustees, Amos Wolever, W. D. Patterson; Collector, C. S. Murphy; Assessor, Myron Haven; Treasurer, Amos Youmans.

Overseers of Highways.

The following is a list of the Overseers of Highways appointed by Frank Wright, Commissioner of Highways of the town of Volney:

Name	Dist. No.
George Hacket,	1
E. M. Baldwin,	2
Henry Weller,	3
Henry Somers,	4
James Hoff,	5
Simon T. Smith,	6
George Woodcock	7
Wm. H. Blakeman,	8
James Dutcher	9
C. P. Bradford,	10
Andrus G. Morse,	11
Charles Goodfellow,	12
Casius Snyder,	13
Peter Conley	14
Wm. C. Baldwin,	15
L. D. Streeter,	16
S. P. Howard,	17
Walter White,	18
George Simmons,	19
Sylvanus Stewart,	20
Wm. C. Coats,	21
E. M. Bonner	22
Henry Crouch,	23
Edgar Skeel,	24
Eugene Bartlett	25
Walton Adams,	26
George House	27
John W. Distin,	28
Frederick Foster,	29
J. B. Atwater,	30
Fred. M. Lindsley,	31
Andrew J. Baker,	32
James P. Waugh,	33
Michael Mullen,	34
David Jewett,	35
Elmer Coon,	36
E. D. Distin,	37
George Peckham,	38
W. I. Carrier,	39
Charles Briggs,	40
Henry Sanford,	41
Wm. R. Sherman,	42
R. C. Coe,	43
John Austin,	44
Chas. Lanning,	45
C. W. Hastings,	46
Arthur Loomis,	47
Sewart Tapling,	48
Harmon Rockwood,	49
Oliver Baldwin,	50
Austin Locker,	51
William Palmer,	52
Charles Coe,	53
Cyrus Howard,	54
D. M. Cox,	55
Fred. Hall,	56
Webster Hawks,	57
Joseph S. Moss,	58
William Hill,	59
John DeWolf,	60
H. T. Hubbard,	61
John Ricket,	62
Sylvester Dickey,	63
Morgan VanBuren,	64
John Hill,	65
Benjamin Ingamells,	66
John Green,	67
George Kellogg,	68
Artemus Burchim,	69
[illegible]	70
Wm. H. Williams,	71
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible] a number of years ago, when Mr. Schuyler occupied a diplomatic position, [illegible] wrote ugly things about the Minister to France, Mr. Washburne, as well as several other American politicians. The work was thoroughly snobbish and self sufficient and though it was soon forgotten, was widely cursed. It is even stated that Mr. Blaine last year placed Schuyler's name on the list of "the forgiven," though reluctantly. But there were dozens of other lists on which Mr. Schuyler's cognomen was black-marked, and among these the private lists pertaining to Senators Sherman, Farwell and Edmunds. All they wanted was a chance to reject the New Yorker with the unruly tongue, and practically they had their revenge, late but sweet.

New York is certainly receiving her share of the appointments, as well as the shares properly belonging to every one else. It is not yet known whether or not Whitelaw Reid will accept the French mission, but whether he does or not the position has thus first been offered to New York. It is stated that in the event of his refusal, Senator Evarts will resign and take the English mission, leaving the way clear for Tom Platt to enter the Senate. Another rumor is to the effect that in the failure of such a deal, Chauncey Depew will go to England. No one appears to know exactly how wealthy Mr. Depew is. He may be worth $40,000,000 for all anybody knows to the contrary. His railroad duties make him the hardest worked man in New York. He is in the autumn of life. What would be more pleasant than the highest diplomatic position in the gift of the country.

The thrifty spirit of Fred Grant, (of New York, of course) was exhibited on Wednesday by his success in inducing the President to appoint him Minister to Austria. Fred is lucky in securing more than he originally asked. In January he announced himself as a candidate for the Chinese mission, and as no one could give any grounds for the asking, it was taken as a playful evidence of his pungent humor. The majority of people were simply astounded by his appointment to the Austrian mission.

When General Grant died the reputation of his magnificent military achievements, the fame of his private worth and personal humor, passed into the sacred keeping of good men everywhere. Honors were thick upon him. The lion did not sire fine cubs, however, and there is no more reason for asking the American people to admire Fred Grant than there would be for asking them to idolize Fred Jones, or Fred Smith, or any other impudent and addle pated son of a good father. This country is supposed to have no royal family. Fred Grant, reared in an atmosphere of adulation, used to seeing his father worshiped, and never when a child broken of the foul habit of taking everything he could get and crying for more, grew up to be the most astounding prig, the most impudent beggar and the most selfish bigot, that it has ever been my bad fortune to see. And now he has been appointed to the Austrian mission, while other men, having the claim of faithful party service and high ability, must step aside. Bayard sent to the same court Kiley, in the beginning of his administration of the State Department; Blaine leads off with Grant. It is stated that President Harrison could not well resist the pressure without showing personal feeling, Fred Grant having been a supporter of Gresham.

John C. New's acceptance of the position of Consul General at London was natural, but his disappointment at failing to secure the Austrian appointment was keen. Mr. New has plenty of money and his wife especially desired the social prestige which the Austrian appointment would confer, and which the Consulship at London could not afford. His Republican services made his request a reasonable one. But Grant must be first served. In as much as the London office is twice as profitable in point of income, it would seem that Mr. New hould have induced Fred to trade. There is no telling, however, what a thrifty fellow like Fred may be able to make in Austria.

Some of the disappointed office seekers have gone home disgusted, but new arrivals atone for their loss, and Washington hotel keepers are happy, for the average office seeker is able to pay his way.

[illegible]

The new vegetable tonic-alterative and blood purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts directly upon the blood, through it imparting tone and vigor to the entire system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female weakness, and all blood, liver and kidney diseases. Price $1.00. Sold by R. C. [illegible]

Livery Stable.
Nathan Rowlee.
[illegible]

[illegible] Mrs. A. G. Howe and Mrs. Jay [illegible] are still on the sick list.

[illegible] Snell cut his foot quite badly last week.

Geo. Reynolds will work for Geo. Wright next summer, Bert Reynolds for Henry Seymour and John Snell for a Mr. Gilbert of Granby. Some of the other boys are looking for a job on the railroad. If they don't get it they will probably have to "buckle down" to farm work.

There is a little maple sugar being made here.

Several of our young people went to Fulton yesterday to attend school the coming term.

Prof. Cooper, of Oswego Falls, Miss Ellen Royce and Miss Edith Emens of Fulton were the judges at the Demorest prize contest at Bristol Hill last Thursday evening. The medal was awarded to Enola Fairchilds of Granby, with honorable mention of Lena Babcock of Fulton. The 8th contest will be held in April. There will be a contest for a gold medal within the next two months. The contestants will be the eight speakers who have won silver medals at previous contests.

South Scriba.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Schuyler Rhodes, an old and respected resident of this town, died at his late residence Thursday Mar. 21, after a short illness of pneumonia. Deceased was about 60 years of age and spent the most of his life in this town. He was one of our largest and most successful farmers and was an ardent Sunday school worker.

David Hammond is quite sick at the residence of his son, David A. Hammond. Fears are entertained that he will not recover.

Lycoming Lodge I. O. O. F. confered the third degree on four candidates Friday night.

The members of the cornet band of North Scriba held entertainments at the Baptist church Thursday and Friday evenings which were a success in every respect.

There has been considerable moving this spring, Val. Dubois has moved on to G. G. Ives' farm; Harvey M. Dubois on to Gus. Becker's farm; D. W. Hall has sold his farm to Wright Lamb, Ishmal Hall to Henry Hubbard. Wallace Southard has bought a farm in Granby and is moving there.

The roads are very poor, neither wheeling or sleighing.

South Granby.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The moving fever is quite catching here this spring and a good many changes will be made.

John A. Blakeman is moving to Fulton this week and Frank Kellogg will occupy the place he vacates.

The Baird Bros. will move onto J. A. Gaylord's farm.

Wednesday the most of those that have sold their tobacco will deliver the same at Baldwinsville, some are loading it on the cars at this station and others are hauling it there on wheels. The latter being a tedious job as the snow in the roads is quite deep in places.

John Steads who has been living with John Happeny this winter was married last Wednesday to Miss Bertha Stall of Lysander. They will commence house keeping at the latter place.

Palermo.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Ebin Duel of Palermo cut his foot in a very bad manner on Friday last. Dr. Green was called and dressed the wound. Gardner Taft of North Volney also cut his foot on Tuesday of last week.

D. H. Trimble has a new clerk, Winnie Mack of Vermillion.

W. Merriam of Clifford is to put up a store at Pennellville this spring.

Burt Ure of Clifford is said to have stolen a gold watch and left for parts unknown. Officers are looking after him.

The roads are in very bad condition neither sleighing or wheeling and the sooner the snow leaves the better.

Mrs. Henry Kelsey is on the sick list. Dr. Green is attending her.

Wm. Gaffey our blacksmith is to leave town on April 1st and there is a good chance for a blacksmith to locate here and get plenty of work.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by [illegible] F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. [illegible]

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., New York.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., March 26th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President, and all the Trustees.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Finance Committee reported, that the uncollected tax of 1887, amounting to $180 05 was placed in the hands of P. S. Fuller, for collection: That he has collected the sum of $173 91

W. W. Hill (agreed by the Board of Trustees to take gravel)	$5 64
J. & Geo. Sawyer (lot is owned by village,)	25
Mrs. J. Anderson, (not able to find any person interested in the property, ...	25
		$ 6 14
		$180 05
Of the Amount collected he has paid the Village Treas.	155 17
Paid costs	1 35
His fees, ...	17 39
		$173 91

That tax list and warrant for 1888, issued to E. H. Morgan, collector, called for $8,689 75.

That he has collected		$8,112 12
Still uncollected, ...	$577 63
		$8,689 75
Of the amount collected he has paid Village Treasurer, ...	$7,754 36
Has in his hands, ...	357 76
		$8,112 12

That the Village Treasurer had on hand at last Annual Report, ...		$2,046 05
Received of P. S. Fuller, Tax of 1887		155 17
" " P. O'Grady		544 39
" " P. W. Hyde, Poll Tax		36 00
" " Water Works Co., ...		3 63
" " N.N. Stranahan (lots sold)		55 00
" " W. B. Howard, drinking fountains, ...		73 00
" " T. Nelligan, dirt sold....		1 30
" " Victoria Paper Mills Co.		30 00
" " M. C. Highriter, licenses		4 00
" " Notes Discounted, ...		1,546 90
" " E. H. Morgan, Tax of '88		7,754 36
Total		$12,251 80
Paid on village orders, ...		11,502 35
Balance in hands of Treas. $		749 45
That orders have been drawn but not not yet presented to the Treasurer, amounting to		13 34
Leaving actual amount, ... $		736 11
Add amount in collector's hands		357 76
" amount of uncolected Tax of '88		577 63
Amount due Village from all sources,		$1 671 50

The following bills were reported correct by the Finance committee, allowed by the Board and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the amounts, to-wit:

Fred Bennett, printing, ...	$28 50
" " " Board of Health...	4 05
Fulton Times, printing proceedings, ...	14 55
N. N. Stranahan, attorney	10 00
Jos. LaLonde, blacksmithing	1 05
Geo Johnston, hardware	67 01

The Chief Engineer reported the bad condition of the Engine house and the unsafe condition of the bell tower.

On motion of Trustee Rice the Chief Engineer was requested to examine the tower and if found necessary to cause temporary repairs to be made.

The following resolution was offered by Trustee Kellogg and adopted:

Resolved, That Michael Sullivan of Little Falls, N. Y., be requested to come here and examine as to laying sewer pipe under the canal before navigation opens.

A claim of $300 from Flavilla M. Hanna for alleged injury to person in being run into by a hand sled, February 14th, 1889, on Rochester street near Second was presented and filed.

On motion the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion the Board adjourned to meet at 8:30 a. m., Tuesday next at Stephens' Opera House hall.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

SPECIAL MEETING.

FULTON, N. Y., March 21, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present a full Board.

Mr. Rice stated the object of the meeting to be to confer with Mr. Michael Sullivan who was present on request of the Board.

Trustee Rice presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the contract for the construction of sewers in and for the Village of Fulton be, and the same is hereby awarded to Michael Sullivan of Little Falls, N. Y., in accordance with his proposal submitted Janurry 25, 1889, and that upon his presenting to this Board a satisfactory bond as required by the form of contract and upon the approval of the same by this Board, and that the President of the Village of Fulton be and hereby is directed to execute said contract in behalf of of said Village.

The resolution was adopted by the following vote, the ayes and nays being called by Trustee Johnson

Trustees Kellogg, Rice, Nichols and More voting aye; Trustee Johnson voting no; Trustee Pardee not voting.

The President gave notice of the operation of of the Resolution:

I Hereby suspend the Resolution authorizing me to execute the Contract for the construction of Sewers, on the ground that it is in violation of Chapter 179 of Laws of 1886, and the Charter of the Village of Fulton.

GEO. E. TRUE, President.

On motion of Mr. Rice the Village Attorney was directed to prepare a Special Contract for putting from sewer pipe under the canal, and submit the same to the President of the Village and when approved by him to be returned to this Board at its next meeting.

On motion the Board adjourned.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and despatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
POSTERS, [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible] the coming of Spring comes the idea of refurnishing your homes. To those in search of

Substantial and Reliable

CARPETS and FURNITURE

We suggest a visit to our Large Warerooms, comprising

12 Spacious Rooms, 12

Loaded down with bran new goods, for Spring Trade.
For this week we make a Special of

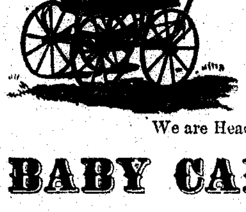
15,000 Yards TAPESTRY CARPET at 50 Cents.
In beautiful effects and elegant designs.

250 CHAMBER SUITES at $18.00.
In Cherry, Imitation Mahogany and Antique Oak, with French Bevel Glass.

A. A. Graff & Co.,
61 and 63 South Salina St., Syracuse.

Go To Johnston's
THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN
STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE
ALSO
FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware,
Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.
☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.
GEO. JOHNSTON,
Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

Furniture & Undertaking.



We offer the Largest Stock of
FURNITURE
ever shown in Fulton and at prices
Below all Competition.
A Full Line of
Window Shades, Cheap
We are Headquarters for
BABY CARRIAGES,
and our prices are the Lowest in town.
Repairing & Upholstering.
We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.
B. C. BROWN.
Times Block.

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
Liquors Wines Lager Beer
AND ALES.
Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE,
OSWEGO,
CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO.
OF SYRACUSE, and the
HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.
Our Wine List includes
CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet)
PORT, CLARET, MADERIA
AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES.
Sold in Bulk or Bottles.
Oneida Street, Fulton, N. Y.

Great Writers of All Ages.

Volume XII of Allen's Cyclopedia of Universal Literature is richly freighted with literary gems. As in the preceeding volumes the biographical sketches are concise but clear and interesting, and the extracts from the writers represented are ample and have been selected with excellent judgment. As illustrating the scope of the work we give a few of the famous names which appear in this volume. William and Mary Howitt; Huber, the blind naturalist; Thomas Hughes, whose Tom Brown books have endeared him to boys throughout the English-speaking world; Victor Hugo, the French poet and novelist; Humboldt, the immortal scientist; Hume, the [illegible] historian; Leigh Hunt; Huxley, the great biologist; [illegible] Washington Irving, the first American [illegible] [illegible]

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.
Time Table Taking Effect Jan 28, 1889.

NEW YORK, ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R. AND CONNECTIONS.

[illegible]

[illegible] FULTON TIMES

[illegible] March 27, 1889.

[illegible] & WESTERN R R

[illegible]

[illegible]	8:00 a. m
[illegible]	11:10 a. m
[illegible]	3:07 p. m
[illegible]	6:26 p. m
New York and [illegible] Night Express	9:25 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:00 a. m
Day Express	11:14 a. m
[illegible]	3:48 p. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:38 p. m
[illegible] Express	9:48 p. m

The [illegible] a. m., and 6:05 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

[illegible] cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. P. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N Y ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:10 a. m
Norwich Express	3:31 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:38 a. m
Oswego Express	11:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	5:30 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:27	11:29	3:38	5:37	7:32
For Oswego,	6:48	11:50	2:38	6:13	8:48

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

for Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Louis Emerick of Cornell University is home on a few day's vacation.

Mrs. F. W. Richardson is visiting friends in Providence, R. I. for a few weeks.

L. T. Miller has been confined to the house by sickness for the past week.

Elmer Morril and W. H. Patterson, are among the excursionists to Washington.

C. S. Carver spent Sunday in town with his sister Mrs. H. J. Baker, who is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens of Meridan, were the guests of Mrs. Isaac Kitchen yesterday.

Pat Cullen of Syracuse was in town yesterday. He could not stay away on Charter election day.

Mrs. B. R. Howe and daughter, Mrs. Hitchcock, are expected home from Santa Barbara, Cal. this week.

J. Ford Morris is in Oswego taking care of the Conde residence during the family's three month's absence in New York.

Miss Lucretia Lathrop leaves this week for Indianapolis, Ind. where she will make her home for the present with her sister, Mrs. Neisler.

W. H. Patterson of the firm of Connell & Patterson started last evening on a trip for Washington, on his return home he will stop in New York and purchase goods for the spring trade.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A. Bristol is constantly receiving Pianos and Organs of many of the leading makes which he is offering at great bargains. 44tf

D. C. Draper sell Groceries Crockery and Jewelry at the lowest living rates, it will do you no harm to price them, before buying.

To CONVINCE the PEOPLE

That we will not be undersold by any house in town, we will make the following extraordinary offer never before thought or heard of. We will sell for the next 30 days:

13 Two-Cent Stamps for a Cent and a Quarter.

And will take this as a standard and offer any article of or articles you may desire from our stock at figures which are

In the Same Proportion:

It is not necessary to make other purchases to enable you to supply yourself with stamps. The offer is open to all alike, customers, competitors, everybody.

SALMON SHOE STORE

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. tf.

SNOW & LOOMIS

Have a New

OLIVER

STEEL

PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

[illegible]

[illegible] Fulton was [illegible] Miss [illegible] Hubbard of this village to Mr. John Tommy Barker of Wallingford, Conn. on Wednesday afternoon, March 27, at the home of the bride's cousins, the Misses Lathrop on [illegible] street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and plants and artistically trimmed. About eighty guests were present, at six o'clock Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Miss Pauline Jennings accompanied by Mr. Fred Kenyon on the violin. The impressive marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. E. C. Bruce of Syracuse. The bride was given away by Mr. C. D. Lathrop of the Syracuse Standard, a cousin of the bride. The maid of honor was Miss Grace Barker of Hartford, Conn. a sister of the groom, she was attired in a blue and silver gauze with white rose buds over a pale blue faille francaise.

The bride was married in an exquisite ivory white silk, en traine, with brocaded front, and carried a large boquet of lilies of the valley. The same flowers also adorned her veil. Mr. L. C. Foster was best man and the ushers were Messrs. H. Putman Allen, C. M. Allen, Lovewell Johnson and Dr. N. F. Hall. Elegant refreshments were served, the tables being decorated with choice cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Barker left on the evening train on their wedding tour to New York, Philadelphia and other places. They will make their home in Wallingford, Conn. The list of presents including many beatiful and valuable gifts among these was a check of $500 to the bride from the groom's parents, a magnificent diamond bracelet from the groom and a complete silver tea set from her brother Mr. Edward Hubbard.

Among those present from out of town were Mrs. L. M. Hubbard and Edward Hubbard, W. H. and Grace Baker, brother and sister of the groom, all from Hartford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Benton, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Croke, of Syracuse; Mrs. and Miss Strong of Manlius; and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Morehouse of Oswego.

Arrested for Forgery.

John Dugan, who lives at Mt. Pleasant, in this town, was arrested by an officer from Oswego last week charged with forgery—a serious offense. Dugan formerly resided at Sterling, Cayuga Co., and had done a great deal of work for Thomas Hunter, the party interested in the Gun Works which are being built here. Thoroughly familiar with Mr. Hunter's financial standing and being in need of money, Dugan raised $300 on a note which he made out crouched in the usual form as drawn by Thomas Hunter to the order of John Dugan. The note was discounted by C. J. Jones, of Oswego, whose suspicion was aroused from the similarity of the endorsment "John Dugan" on the back and that on the face of the note and the fact that a man of Hunter's means would give such a note. On investigation it was found to be a forgery and Dugan was arrested. Dugan has considerable property and some fine horses. He admits the charge of forgery but says that he was about to take up the note and that he was induced to do as he did in order to tide over some financial difficulties. He was held on $1,000 bail. On Monday the case was again brought up and adjourned until Friday next. Bail in the case was reduced to $300 with two sureties, which was furnished. Mr. Jones has been promised security from loss by a mortgage upon Mr. Dugan's stock.

The largest line of Wall Paper and Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. WILLIAMS'. 46tf

JUST RECEIVED.

500 of those popular 25c. novels to be sold at 10c. each at the 5 & 10c. store Opera House Block. 45w2.

Removal.

The office of the Singer Manuf'n'g Co. has been removed from the store of A. Bristol to that of E. E. Hart, opposite the "Bee Hive."

43w4 H. B. ROSE, M'g'r.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

Positively Given Away,

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

The Fulton Fish Market on First street opposite the Clark House is now receiving fresh caught Lake and Ocean fish. Bullheads, Ciscoes, Pike, Salmon trout and White fish. Oysters and Clams received daily.

2w. BACH & MONTAGUE.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 8 First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

Just received a fresh stock of Confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

All kinds of Fruit and Vegetables in cans at SYLVESTER'S. 48tf

Annual Election.

[illegible]

[illegible]

It has been good [illegible] weather during the past [illegible].

We have had beautiful spring weather during the past week.

There were five burglaries at Oswego on the west side Monday night.

"Now's the day and now's the hour" to buy None-Such Baking Powder.

Mrs. Wm. Taylor will move next week into her old home on Fourth street near the seminary.

The premises No. 7, Seneca Street are offered for sale. Enquire at that number or of F. A. EMERICK.

G. C. Webb has moved into the Gilbert double house on Fourth street. He has placed eight electric lights in the house.

Mrs. James Morrow entertained a number of her friends at her pleasant home on Rochester street last Wednesday evening in honor of her mother's 70th. birthday.

Fulton Union School received $3,297.84 from the state common school fund and $2,367 from the Regents, Literature and non-resident pupils funds during the past year.

Rev. Mr. Ward of Phœnix assumes the pastorate of the Gilberts Mills Free Baptist church after this week in place of Rev. O. H. Denney who goes to Odessa, N. Y.

The adjourned school meeting, to consider the advisability of erecting an additional structure will be held at the Fourth street school house next Monday evening.

The R. & O. mills commenced running on summer time Monday, Mar. 18. The hours are as follows: 6:30 a. m. to 12 m. 1 p. m. to 6:15 on all days except Saturdays when work ends at 12:45 p. m.

John W. Swan, who was arrested in Syracuse for giving what proved to be worthless bonds in a real estate transaction was tried and discharged last week. Mr. Swan declared that he supposed the bonds good and had taken them for such.

A meeting of the Pathfinder Boat Club was held at the law offices of Mead & Stranahan, Monday evening, and the Constitution and By Laws of the club drawn up by a special committee were adopted. A meeting of the directors will be held to-morrow evening at the same place at 7:30.

The Good Templars lodge of this village have decided to take up the Demorest prize speaking contests and a committee was appointed Monday evening to form a class for the first contest.

The first class is designed to include only members of the lodge. Date and arrangements will be perfected after the class is formed. The movement is a good one and will be productive of much good from many standpoints.

As the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg train which leaves Oswego at 1:15 P. M., was pulling out of Mexico on its way east on Friday some person fired a bullet through the rear passenger coach. The bullet crashed through the side of the car above one of the windows, and taking a downward course passed through a window on the opposite side, within four inches of a passenger's head.

The work of remodeling the Lewis House block under the charge of W. H. Ross continues. The Lewis House will have its kitchen on the Second floor of the addition which is now being built, the wash room in the basement formerly used as a furnace. The dining room floor will be raised to a height equal to the front part of the block. The first floor in the east part of the block when completed, as before stated in THE TIMES, will be occupied by the enterprising clothing firm of Peebles & Co.

TALLY HO Baking Powder 12 cents per lb at SYLVESTER'S

We have just received new Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets which we will sell at rock bottom prices. Call and see them if you want bargains,

46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

If you are going a fishing call on W. C. Tucker. He has the largest assortment in town and his prices are the lowest. 46t3.

Don't fail to see all of the nobby styles of Wall Paper at 46tf M. M. WILLIAMS'.

HART keeps every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. TRY IT and you will be well pleased. 44tf

[illegible] this morning, [illegible] was about the house as usual. Shortly before 8 o'clock he went into the sitting room to [illegible] the stove. He was found a few moments later lying upon the floor, dead.

The sudden shock to wife and daughter was severe and words are idle things to express the gloom that overhangs the home which has so suddenly been cast in mourning. The wife, one son, C. M. Sabin freight agent at the R. & W. depot, and two daughters, Mrs. George Sawyer of Syracuse and Mrs. Eva Williams survive.

Mr. Sabin was born in Hamilton, Madison County nearly 72 years ago, at the age of nine years he moved to this village with his parents and has since resided here. For over 40 years he was one of the most prominent merchants of Fulton. Of late years he has been out of business. He had always been a staunch Democrat and voted yesterday at the Charter Election. The time for the funeral has not yet been decided upon.

Y. M. C. A

The 1st anniversary of the Fulton and Oswego Falls Young Men's Christian Association will occur Sunday. At the Presbyterian church, Sunday evening, March 31st, commencing at 7 o'clock, appropriate exerercises will be held. Rev. Geo. A. Hall, state secretary will deliver the address. He is an interesting speaker and will present many facts which will be very interesting and important to the citizens of Fulton and Oswego Falls. A general invitation is extended to all.

The annual meeting of the association will be held in the rooms this evening, when reports will be given by the chairmen of the different committees. Let every member be present.

A Grand Concert.

On Tuesday evening, April 2, a grand concert will be given in the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the ladies of the church. Mrs. Lillian Allen assisted by foreign and the best Fulton talent will take part. The services of Prof. Sutcliffe of Syracuse has been secured for the occasion. There will also be a chorus of 16 voices. Extensive preperations are being made for the event and we are authorized to state that the concert will be excellent in every particular.

Mora.

The Comedy Sunbeam "Mora" supported by an excellent company under the management of Fred Williams will play at the opera house for one week commencing on Monday evening April 1st. This troupe comes most excellently recommended and will give satisfaction. The Elmira Telegram of a recent date says:

"MORA, the brilliant little "Sunbeam," has been delighting our people all the week at the Madison Avenue. She is really a "child of nature," and it is truly refreshing to witness her delineations of character, so real and life-like. One word fully expresses her power—she is charming."

Dust Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S.

Fischer Pianos.

Bristol has a large stock of Fischer and other makes of pianos, also Estey and Chase organs. Elegant goods, prices reasonable and terms easy.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Is Marriage a Failure?—Not if you buy your coal of Hart. 44tf

Ask your Grocer for Master Soap. tf

New Goods. The latest ideas in Glassware at

46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co's.

I have received notice of the shipment of another car load of my Lister's "SUCCESS" Phosphate, which will arrive in a few days by the N. Y. O. & W. R. R. when my friends who wish to can avail themselves of a reduction of the regular price by taking it from the car, thereby saving the cartage to my store-house.

HUGH MCKIERNAN.

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

Those who miss the bargains now offered at Draper's on those new and elegant patterns of Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets, will when they see these fine goods and bargains at their neighbors, wish they had priced them in time.

[illegible] has moved into the [illegible] the factory recently [illegible] by Mr. [illegible].

The trial of [illegible] who fatally stabbed John [illegible] in Little Utica, Onondaga county, Jan. 14, will commence on Monday April 8.

About twenty men, under the supervision of Ed. Abbey, are at work taking out the debris and making preparations for laying the foundation walls for the new Gun Factory.

It is reported on the streets that the Thomson-Houston Electric Light Co. has obtained a controlling interest in the Fulton—Schuyler Electric Co. If this is so the remaining stock-holders in the latter company will be benefited, but will Willard stand it?

The directors of the Sandy Creek Gas company have piped their gas to the top of the derrick, and have arranged a large burner so the gas can be lighted each night. It is said that it burns with a large, clear light and makes a brilliant appearance.

Two boys, named Wybrown and Walker, were brought before police justice Sharp Monday, having been arrested for racing horses up and down First street Sunday evening. His Honor gave them a lecture and let them go by paying a fine of $1.50 each.

A pleasant surprise party was given to F. E. Bacon on Friday evening by teachers and officers of the M. E. Sunday school, a welcome to him on his return from his recent western trip. Mr. Bacon has been Superintendent of the Sunday school for several years.

George Brown's horse and cutter stolen from Quirk's horse sheds were found two miles north of Parish last week Wednesday. The horse was hitched to a post and abandoned by the party that stole it. It is evident that the party wanted to get as far as possible from Fulton, for what reason no one seems to know.

What was termed a blue party was given to Mrs. Slater Laycock and Mrs. J. N. Waitman at F. E. Goodjon's house on Buffalo street last Thursday evening. It was termed a blue party because the aforesaid ladies were about to leave "the neighborhood" where they both have so many friends, the former going to Syracuse and the latter to Youngstown, Ohio. Blue ribbons, blue aprons and blue caps could be seen on all sides. It was necessary for them to have something visable to indicate that they were blue because no one would ever infer that they were from the lively time that was enjoyed on the evening in question.

Piso's Remedy for catarrh. The best and easiest to use. Sold exclusively, in Fulton, by H. C. Giesler. tf

Canned Corn 4c. per can
46tf at SYLVESTER'S.

LADIES ATTENTION.

50 choice varieties of Imported flower seeds, 2 papers for 5c., at the 5 & 10c. store, Opera House Block. 45t2

Immense stock of Wagons and Carriages just received at Bristol's; prices low, quality of goods high; Terms easy. 45tf.

You may not be pleased with the Harrison Cabinet but you will be pleased with Master Soap. 44tf

Just arrived from the MINES, a car load of each, No. 4 and Pea coal, very nice, clean and bright, for Hart. 44tf

Stephens Opera House.

ONE WEEK!
And Saturday Matinee.
COMMENCING

Monday, April 1, 1889!

The Comedy Sunbeam,

"MORA"

Supported by Fred Williams' birds of a feather in the following attractive Repertoire:

Monday evening,	Dad's Girl,
Tuesday ,,	Velvet and Rags,
Wednesday ,,	A Mountain Pink,
Thursday ,,	Fire Fly,
Friday	The Little Devil's Share,
Saturday	The Little Detective.

Admisson 10 and 20 cents. Reserved Seats 30 cts. now on sale at Watson's.

The [illegible] election [illegible] largely into the hands of [illegible], but was by no means the only feature which made the result as it is. It will be seen that Capt. [illegible] S. Palmer, the "guardian angel" of the anti-sewerage faction, who was placed at the head of the Republican ticket and that of the anti-sewerage faction, failed to run to any alarming extent ahead of the candidates that were on the Republican ticket for trustees but did not materialize on the anti-sewerage ticket. He was beaten by F. M. Wilson by a majority of 125. George Wells was placed in nomination by a faction of the Democratic party at their caucus, against his wishes, and he refused to run. At the eleventh hour Mr. Wilson at the earnest solicitation of many Democratic friends consented to be placed at the head of the ticket and received a deservedly high compliment by the number of votes cast in his favor considering the combinations against him.

Apropos to the sewerage question we are frank to say that it looks from the results that it is the wish of the majority of the people that the question should remain in statu quo for the present at least. The vote cast was not large being 847 for the head of the ticket as against 962 last year.

Before the polls were opened the following amounts were voted to be raised:

Lighting streets	$ 1,700 00
Assessors	125 00
Board of Health	135.00
Cross walk stone	300.00
Clerk,	100.00
Court room	75 00
Printing	200.00
Fire Department	1,200 00
Water Works	2,100 00
Incidentals	800 00
Highway Fund	2,500.00
For injured Firemen	100.00
Water Works note and interest due Aug 18, 1889	771.79
Hose note and interest due Sept. 7, 1889	848.40
Total	$10,645.19

Two-hundred dollars of the highway fund was voted to be used for improvements of the village park.

The following is the vote cast with the successful candidates majority:

FOR PRESIDENT.
Wilson, dem	486.	maj 125
Palmer rep	361.
FOR TRUSTEES.
Wolever, dem	485.	maj. 127
Lake, rep	358.
Patterson, dem	489.	maj. 130
Rose, rep	359.
FOR ASSESSOR.
Haven, dem	492.	maj. 137
Bradshaw, rep	355.
FOR COLLECTOR.
Martin, dem	457.	maj. 69
Murphy, rep	388.
FOR TREASURER.
Youmans, rep	442.	maj 33
Lovejoy, dem	409.

GRAND CONCERT

—AT THE—

Presbyterian Church, Tuesday Ev'ng, April 2d.

The following program will be rendered:

PART I.

Grand Opening Chorus—
"The Heavens are Filling," Haydr
Quartet—"Sleep Darling Sleep," Pinsuti
MISSES RANKIN AND MAYNARD,
MESSRS GILBERT AND ALLEN.
Solo—"Calvary,"
MR. N. H. GILBERT.
Piano Duet and Violin,
MRS. EMERICK, MISS LOVEJOY AND
MR. F. KENYON.
Quartet—"Jesus Lover of My Soul," Williams
MRS. ALLEN MISS FOSTER,
MESSRS GILBERT AND ALLEN.

PART II.

Opening Chorus—(a) "Rhine Raft Song" Pinsuti
(b)—"Song of the Triton.
Solo—"Bright Star of Love" Polundi.
MRS. ALLEN.
Quartet—"Robin Adair," Dudley Buck
MISS RANKIN, MISS JOHNSON,
MISS FOSTER, MISS WOODEN.
Vocal Duet—"Serenade" Schubert
MISSES RANKIN AND WORDEN.
Male Quartet—Selected,
MESSRS: N.H. GILBERT, C.M. ALLEN,
L. C. FOSTER, H. P. ALLEN.

Doors open at 7:30 Concert begins at 8.

Chacolate creams at 25cts. per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Coat Tales

Are often told by over-anxious salesmen in such an exaggerated manner as to disgust the average customer. Coats and tails are right and proper in their place, but when tales are told of the coat to influence a sale, it entails discredit on the retail business. But we do not propose to go into the subject in detail, but to dove-tail our remarks together as compactly as possible and at the same time give the public to understand that they by doing business with us, and that we allow no tails told of any article of clothing which goes out of our establishment.

Can Cur-tail Expenses

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

WANTED—A girl to do general housework, in a small family with no children. Mrs. N. Stewart, Cor 4th and State St.

LOST.—A case of razors. $5 reward will be given for their return to W. M. CRAINE'S Barber Shop, Oneida Street.

FOR SALE—A row boat in first class condition. For particulars inquire of Morris Whitaker at News Room. tf

FOR SALE.—House and premises next east of H. S. Gardner on north side of Oneida street known as the "Tibbals place." GILES S. PIPER.

TO RENT.—From April 1st. Rooms with every convenience for house-keeping for small family. Also furnished rooms for lodging at Mrs. E. M. Babcock's, Cor. Fourth and Utica streets, Fulton N. Y.

FOR SALE.—Five and one-half acres of good land inside of No. 2 school district on Sixth street. Easy terms. Enquire of MORGAN ROBERTS. 45tf

FOR SALE OR TO RENT

House and lot with good barn, on Buffalo St., in good repair. City water in both house and barn. Easy terms. For further particulars inquire at this office.

FOR SALE—The property known as the Charles Brenning place on the Emory road inside of the corporation limits, five acres of land, plenty of fruit, &c. Inquire of P. S. Fuller. tf

AUCTION.—Mrs. George Ball will sell at her late residence 2½ miles south of New Haven village on Saturday, March 30, at 10 a. m., a good work team of horses, 4 cows, wagons, mowing machine, farming implements and a large number of other articles. 2w

FOR SALE.—Ten acres of land on the Emory road one mile east of Fulton, containing a good house and barn. Inquire at Johnston's hard ware store, of JOHN WILSON. 37tf.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and Wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a

First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street

BABYHOOD

Is a monthly magazine devoted to the hygiene and care of infants and young children, and all that pertains to the routine of the nursery. It is now in its fifth year. The Congregationalist recently said of it:

> "BABYHOOD seems almost indispensable to the household in which there are young children. It is for the parents and the nurse, and is packed full of important suggestions of a practical character. From personal experience of its usefulness, we commend it warmly."

And the Chicago Advance:

> "No mother but must appreciate its wise and helpful suggestions, and be grateful for the solving of perplexities and the helping over hard places which every one comes to who has the care of young children. We commend it to every mother in the land."

Also the New York Graphic:

> "The success of this periodical has been enormous. It makes young mothers feel that the only subject worthy of attention is at last being recognized."

Every intelligent father and mother should read it regularly. Their children will be healthier and happier. It will reduce the work of caring for them, nursing them, dressing them, amusing them. Letters from subscribers frequently contain such testimonies as these, lately received:

> "I am grateful to BABYHOOD: I have seen but two numbers, but have learned so much from these that I feel I should be doing my children a wrong if I should fail of the opportunity to learn more." "The help it has been to us would have astonished me had it been predicted beforehand." "Physician as I am, your magazine is the most welcome periodical that comes to my table, and is the one I read first." "I cannot speak too highly of BABYHOOD. During the three years that I have subscribed to it, I have felt repaid a hundred times for the outlay by the relief and confidence it has given me in the management of my children."

You want a sample copy—
Price 15 cents.
Or to subscribe for a year—
$1.50.

On our part we wish to know that you have seen this advertisement; and in order to induce you to mention this paper when writing us,

We have arranged to have manufactured for us a large quantity of

Hudnut's celebrated Sachet Powder, and will give a packet, free (either "Violet" or "White Lilac," as preferred),

(quantity sufficient to elegantly perfume Baby's clothing for months), to every person who sends us either $1.50 for a year's subscription or 15 cents for a single copy, and mentions this paper. (Note the condition. The powder is in no sense a "premium," but is offered simply to aid us in tracing the results of our advertising in various parts of the country. Its retail value is about 25 cents.) Address

BABYHOOD PUBLISHING CO.,
5 Beekman St., New York.

Do not confound BABYHOOD with picture-books for the amusement of children. It is a mothers' magazine—a nursery help. Its list of contributors on medical subjects comprises many specialists of the highest professional standing.

The Springfield (Mass.) Union says: "It is really a question what the mothers of little babies used to do before the excellent little magazine BABYHOOD was published. No number can be missed without the loss being felt."

PISO'S REMEDY
FOR CATARRH
PRICE 50 CTS.
IT IS THE BEST, EASIEST TO USE, & THE CHEAPEST.

Oklahoma. A BOOK giving full description and information containing three MAPS. CIRCULARS FREE.
A. BASS & CO., McPherson, Kansas.
43w6

CARPETS, CARPETS, CARPETS.

CURTAINS! CURTAINS! CURTAINS!

We are having a Great Sale on these goods, and the cause is very apparent. We have the LARGEST STOCK to select from and our prices are below all others. It requires no expert to sell our goods, the quality and price speak for themselves. Remember the place,

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.,

(Successors to F. E. Bacon.)

15 Doz. Boys' Shirt Waists, Just Received. Get Our Price.

[illegible] then follow in the same furrow with a subsoil plow.

A recent report makes it appear that the number of hogs packed at Chicago for the winter season of 1888-'89 was the smallest since 1871-'72.

"It is unsafe to feed either oats or wheat without considerable water and ashes, gravel or grinding substance," says a poultry grower.

A dairywoman claims that by milking three times a day she gets more butter, and that the noon milking has twice as much cream as the night and morning.

As a result of experiments made, at Manhattan, Kansas, it is reported that use of salt on wheat fields, will increase the yield.

According to the figures furnished by the Boston chamber of commerce, the receipts of butter have increased from year to year, and the price has gone one cent per pound higher in 1888 than in 1887.

When horses are not blanketed in cold weather, if they keep in good condition they must eat more than a horse blanket would cost. When spring comes a horse that has been blanketed all winter is usually worth $50 more than one which has not been.

The New York State Grange was organized in Syracuse in 1874 and it now has a membership of about 35,000. There are 500 subordinate granges in the state. Each county is allowed on delegate for every 400 members, and one at large at the State Grange meeting.

A successful potato grower of Maine says that he does not divide his crop with the "bugs." As soon as they appear he sends trustworthy men over the fields, who give the enemy plenty of Paris green mixed with water, two heaping spoonfuls to a pail of water, applied with a fine-nozzled garden sprinkler.

The best land for onions is reclaimed swamp, but they may be successfully grown on good bottom land or loamy clay upland. On a stiff cold clay they will not usually pay, but on black prairie or swale land they will do well if the other conditions are right.

It does not pay to delay manuring the garden until nearly the time for plowing. The better way is to manure in the fall and allow the rains and melting snows to wash the soluable parts into the soil. If fall-plowing, it will be ready for planting by merely cultivating the manure under to the depth of two or three inches.

Quntities of apples were sent to England last fall, but on account of the low prices paid for them here, little care was taken in handling them, and they were so much bruised that the prices paid in England were even less than were paid in this country. Those who pursued a different course, carefully putting up only the best fruit, have, on the contrary, obtained good prices and saved themselves from loss. That is a sound maxim, which says "What is worth doing at all is worth doing well."

If you've got a pain or ache or a bruise, Salvation Oil will reach the case instantly. Price 25 cents.

Attention Voters.—By resolution passed by our Legislature, all good citizens are requested to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and recommend same as the people's remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc. 25cts,

How to Raise Quinces.

A successful quince grower in the West attributes his success to the fact that most of his trees were set in low, mucky ground, and with such shelter that their fallen leaves and those of the adjoining apple orchard make a good annual mulch. He says that it is not the trunk and branches of the quince that are tender, but the roots, trees being almost invariably killed in exposed situations where the frost penetrates deeply. His practice is to mulch well-rotted stable manure, saying the better the manure, (with reasonable limits) the fairer and larger the fruit. He also believes a vigorous growth prevents, to some extent, the twig blight and red rust, which are becoming quite common in some sections.

The well know strengthening properties of Iron combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Feed Young Animals.

The younger the animal the greater the proportionate gain for the food consumed, observes a Western contemporary. When an animal matures it gains very slowly, and as it does not then grow the gain is in fat only. Young animal gains in meat, bone, and fat. There is a point reached when the animal can be sold to the best advantage, but the farmer must keep a record of the cost, weigh his stock from time to time, and learn when to dispose of it—three points of importance to all stock-feeders.

A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE SAYS.

Hon. John Nealey, justice of the peace and ex-member of the House of Representatives from Mededith, N. H., was for twelve years a terrible sufferer with rheumatism. He says: [illegible] any medicine which [illegible] much good as your Sulphur Bitters, and I think it is the best [illegible] made. [illegible]

[illegible] acres of land in [illegible]

[illegible] over the knapsack and carried in honor bound not to even mention accidents along the line.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN.—Major Bostwick, the owner of Grizzly Ranch, came in the other day and subscribed for the Kicker in the name of his 6-year-old-son who has been crying for it for the last two months. This is the fifth or sixth case where children have evinced their interest in and admiration for our great enterprize and we cannot help but feel flattered.

While the Kicker will not enter the field to compete with the Sunday School Advocate or the Christian Herald, we shall give everything a goodish twist and strive to point a moral and inculcate a lesson.

LAME EXPLANATIONS.—A stranger supposed to be a man who is wanted for murder in Tucson, was discovered hiding under the bridge the other day and taken to jail to be held until identified. That night he dug his way out and next day the sheriff was around trying to get a $100 bill changed. He says he found the bill on the street but that story looks fishy. There isn't a man in this town that woudn't yell a lung out if he lost that much money. The prisoner used a crowbar to dig out with and the sheriff says he must have had it concealed in his pistol pocket. The official owes us $15 and if we can get our hands on the money this week we shall, in our next issue, advise the public to run him out of town as a dishonest scoundrel.

NOT A CRITICISM.—In a law suit before Esquire Jones last week 14 reputable witnesses swore to seeing Pete Jackson carry off a rifle belonging to Abram Weeks. Jackson himself didn't deny the fact, refusing to plead at all but his honor discharged him. Why? Because Jackson's brother Jim sent four gallons of whiskey around to his honor's shanty the day before the trial.

We do not purpose to criticise the judiciary of this town but we feel to remark that if Esquire Jones was soaked in the creek tor about four days he'd be more worthy of that confidence of our people. We don't say that he sold himself for four gallons of whiskey but we are ready to form one of a committee to wait upon him and prove that he has been drunk ever since the case was ended.

CONTENTMENT passes wealth. You are sure to be contented with the use of

Warner's Log Cabin EXTRACT

for external and internal pains. This is better than to employ a physician who cannot do more for you if you had the wealth of Crœsus. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

There is no one article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna plasters.

Last year 20,000 persimmon trees were exported from Japan to the United States.

Can a Man Swallow a Cannon-ball?

Well, "that depends." He can if his throat is large enough and the cannon-ball not too large. The question really seems worthy of some consideration in view of the size of some of the pills that are prescribed for suffering humanity. Why not throw them "to the dogs," and take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets? Small, sugar-coated, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, in glass and always fresh.

It is said that at a sale of farm stock in Womelsdorf, Pa., 5,000 persons were fed.

Must not be confounded with common cathartic or purgative pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

The rarest and costliest of precious metals is gallium. It is valued at $3,250 an ounce.

Bludbilder,

The new vegetable tonic-alterative and blood purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts directly upon the blood, through it imparting tone and vigor to the entire system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female weakness, and all blood, liver and kidney diseases. Price $1.00. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The stawberry crop in Georgia is expected to be a month earlier than usual this season.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by W J Watson.

It is safe to say that only a fraction of the cigarette deaths are ever made the subject of formal inquest.

OH! MY HEAD!!

[illegible]

[illegible] Purifies the Blood [illegible] Kidney and Liver Complaints, Catarrh, Rheumatism, and that extreme tired feeling.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for catarrh and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A. BALL, Syracuse, N. Y.

Creates an Appetite

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla to cleanse my blood and tone up my system. It gave me a good appetite and seemed to build me over." E. M. HALE, Lima, Ohio.

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for cancerous humor, and it began to act unlike anything else. It cured the humor, and seemed to tone up the whole body and give me new life." J. F. NIXON, Cambridgeport, Mass. Send for book giving statements of cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all rundown, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Dr BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

Salvation Oil "Kills all Pain." Try it! Only 25 c.

BEST IN THE WORLD FOR ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS. WORCESTER CORSET CO. WORCESTER MASS. CHICAGO. ILL.

The Sponge is Mightier than the Brush.

THROW AWAY THE SHOE BRUSH and use a Sponge and water, which will keep your SHOES BRIGHT and CLEAN if you use

Wolff's ACME Blacking

The women know a good thing and will have it, and the men ought to.

It preserves the leather and gives a brilliant polish. Water and snow slip off it as surely as off a duck's back. Men's shoes require dressing ONCE A WEEK—women's once a month, that's all. Worth trying, isn't it? It is also the best dressing for harness, on which it lasts THREE MONTHS.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia

HINDERCORNS.

[illegible]

CONSUMPTIVE

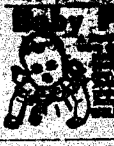
[illegible]

MRS MAGGIE VAN COTT'S EXCELSIOR THROAT TABLETS

[illegible]

Livery Stable.

Nathan Nowles



[illegible] WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., BURLINGTON, VT.

Eases Pain Instantly, Strengthens Weak Parts, Quiets Nervousness. [illegible] Best Plaster Ever Made.

HOP PLASTER

[illegible] COMPLETELY and [illegible] CURES [illegible]

Sold by [illegible] 25 Cts. 5 for $1. [illegible]

Look for the proprietor's signature HOP PLASTER CO., BOSTON, on all genuine goods.

MELLIN'S
FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.
TRADE MARK.
FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address. Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

The income of Herr Krupp, the great gun-maker of Essen, last year was nearly $1,500,000. This sum is larger than the income of the richest of the Rothschilds.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. —Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at R. E. Phillips drug store.

Many are in doubt how Amelie Rives-Chandler pronounces her first name. In a late valentine letter written to a friend she makes it rhyme with "family."

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St. New York. 23 1 v

Cardinal Manning will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his episcopal consecration June 8, 1890.

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. Sold by W. J. Watson.

President Harrison is the fourteeth lawyer to hold the executive chair of the nation.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery of Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large bottles $1.

Philadelphia has 847,000 people and 179,000 houses, while New York, with 1,200,000 inhabitants, is said to have but 92,000 houses.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

The population of Africa is eighteen to the square mile; in Europe there are eighty-eight to the same space.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

A San Antonio banker has sent President Harrison a chair made of horns of Texas cattle which cost $1,500.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow

Secretary of the Navy Tracy was one of the famous 306 who stuck by General Grant in the Republican convention of 1880.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" [illegible]

The inaugural committee at Washington has achieved an unprecedented financial success, having a surplus of $20,000 after paying expenses.

Don't You Know that you cannot afford to neglect that catarrh? Don't you know that it may lead to consumption, to insanity, to death? Don't you know that it can be easily cured? Don't you know that while the thousand and one nostrums you have tried have utterly failed that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is a certain cure? It has stood the test of years, and there are hundreds of thousands of grateful men and women in all parts of the country who can testify to its efficacy. All druggists.

According to a California paper one of the tramps of the Santa Cruz chain gang wears kid gloves when sweeping the streets.

Don't Get Caught

This spring with your blood full of impurities, your digestion impaired, your appetite poor, kidneys and liver torpid, and whole system liable to be prostrated by disease—but get yourself into good condition, and ready for the changing and warmer weather, by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, giving an appetite, and for a general spring medicine.

Two hundred people are engaged in horse breeding in the Dakota Black Hills, and there are fully 30,000 horses on the range.

WHY SHOULD I

not have confidence in that which has done me so much good? If you had suffered years with liver complaint and got cured by using Sulphur Bitters, would not you too have confidence in them? J. R. NASH, Hotel Winthrop, Boston. 45t2

A New York lady was lately seen with a tiny watch in the back of her glove.

CATARRH CURED, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Stern parent: "Johnnie, I am informed that you use a great deal of slang. Is it true?"

"Yes sir."

"And I have cautioned you against the vulgar habit scores of times. I once more warn you that if you persist in using slang I'll take that strap from the wall and you'll find yourself in the soup.—Nebraska State Journal.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Russell Harrison is said to be a candidate for United States Senator from the State of Montana.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Dizziness, and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Mrs. General Grant has given $25 to the fund for the Confederate soldiers' home in Texas.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

Miss Mary Anderson has placed herself under the care of a physician. She is suffering from insomnia and nervousness.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. [illegible]

[illegible] The West.

She—"Don't you think Miss Washburn has pretty feet?" He—"They're immense."—New York Sun.

"See how dusty these chairs are, Mary?" "Shure, mum, it's because nobody's sot into 'em the day."—Judge.

Answered.—Night drug clerk (3 a. m., with glaring eyes)—"Well?" Customer—"No; sick!"—Puck.

"Fine dog that of mine, Doc." "Ye-es, but isn't he consumptive?" "Consumptive?" "Yes—he's Spitz blood, you know."—Hotel Mail.

Mr. Findout—"Sad about Mrs S.—died this morning while trying on a new dress." Mrs. Findout—"No, you don't say so; what was it trimmed with?"—Munsey's Weekly.

In an argument with a man a woman invariably has the last word. But death alone can decide the victory when the battle is between two women.—Youngstown Telegram.

Mr. Gibbs (meeting his son late at night)—"Where are you going at this time of night, John? On no good errand, I'll warrant." John—"No, sir; I was going to look for you."—Life.

The modesty of the owners of the gas plants should be immortalized by a monument. Something in brass would be about the thing.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Pa, what's the difference between a thief and a kleptomaniac?" "Oh, about $10,000 a year. The one who hasn't it is the thief."—Harper's Bazar.

Mrs. Winks—Well, I declare! The weather indications are right for once. Mr. Winks (looking over her shoulder)—Humph! That paper you've got is a week old.—Philadelphia Record.

A Baltimore justice has decided that umbrellas are private property. Now, if he can persuade the rest of the world to agree with him, his decision may be of some value.—Norristown Herald.

"Is your mother making ice cream?" inquired the man when Johnnie came four times during the morning for ice. "No," chuckled little Johnnie; "The old man was out late last night."—New York Sun.

It is marvellous how the poor manage to live in New York through the Winter months. A late New York paper notes the fact that strawberries have advanced from $10 to $12 a quart.—Galveston News.

Benevolent Pedestrian (to gamin, who is crying)—"What's the matter, my boy?" Gamin—"Boo hoo! I've lost a dime, sir." B. P.—"Here's another," giving it "What are you crying for now?" Gamin—"Because I didn't say a quarter."—Philadelphia News.

On Maiden Lane—First Diamond Dealer—"How many carats did you sell to-day, Bob?" Second Dealer—"About ninety." Farmer Corn-Bob (in amazement)—"Gosh! This must be a poor market day."—Jewellers' Weekly.

Uncle Harry: "Well, Johnnie, and how did you like the ride on Uncle Harry's knee?" Johnnie: "Oh, it was very nice; but I had a ride on a real donkey yesterday."—Harper's Bazar

Ethel, to her betrothed—Do learn to skate, George. I'm sure you would look lovely on ice. George, a young and rising undertaker—Look lovely on ice, would I? Thank you. No hurry about it.—Texas Siftings.

Office boy (to editor)—"Please sir; there's a man outside wants to see yer." Ed.—"Well, did he send his card?" O. B.—"No; guess he ain't got any card. He ain't got any boots or collar." Ed.—"Ah! a literary gentleman. Show him right in, Joe."—New York World.

Governess—"Tommy, name the seven wonders of the world." Tommy—"The pyramids, the sphynix, another sphnix, the gardens where they hanged in Babylon, my sister's beau, hash and myself." The punishment that followed was another wonder to Tommy.—Time.

Caller at the Bank—Is the cashier in?

Clerk—Yes.

Caller—May I see him for a minute?

Clerk—You will have to come around to his desk. There is a Montreal excursion to-day and his feet are in the stocks—Lowell Citizen.

The old lady went to the theater for the first time. The play was "Julius Cæsar." "Waal," she said afterwards, "I've hearn tell that the theayter were bad but I think it's wuss than bad. It's nothin' but crime to kill all them fellers just to amuse the audience and it oughter be put a stop to."—Harper's Bazar.

Mrs. Hayseed: "So young Wiggins is dead. I wonder what he died of?" Alonso Hayseed (from college): "I heard it was pulmonary phthisis." Mrs. A.: "Land o'Goshen! and me thinkin' all the time the fellow had the consumption."—America.

Our Village Institute Soiree.—Rector's wife (hysterically): "Here's a note come from those Wagshaws. They ask me to play and sing during the evening; because, they say—they want the young and attractive women to [illegible]?" (Tableau.)—English Paper.

Only Half the Job.—[illegible]

[illegible] Get the pure [illegible] Dr. Brown's Sarsaparilla does this work quickly and surely through its direct and positive action upon the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver and skin. For all weak and nervous ailments [illegible] rheumatism, scrofula, gout, [illegible] malaria, catarrh, hay fever, all skin affections and eruptions [illegible] of the blood.

George H. Wish of the firm of Truxton & Wish, Bangor, Me., was afflicted with a scrofulous humor which caused troublesome sores upon both his legs. Many remedies were used and several physicians consulted, without result. After taking Brown's Sarsaparilla a short time he was better, and soon the eruption disappeared and he is now all right. This is only one of a thousand victories gained by

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co. Bangor, Me. 44t4

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

VIENNA BAKERY

—AND—

ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods, of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.

JOHN BARKER,

87tf Proprietor.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 17 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c.; mail, 50c.; mail, registered, 60c. PAYNE & CO., ATHENS, Pa.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

G·M·D

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, and bodily health and vigor will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Eating Sores or Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties, if taken in time. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Catarrh in the Head, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

COUGH KILLER

As a Family Remedy Dr. Seth Arnold's COUGH KILLER has no equal.

We have used it for the past ten years, and can truly recommend it.

Mrs. C. Filkin, Montezuma, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. [illegible]

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

[illegible] August.

[illegible] Thursday [illegible]

FULTON.—At office of O. H. [illegible] on the Second Thursday in [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At office of Hon. [illegible] Mexico on the Friday succeeding [illegible] day in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE.—At [illegible] Central Square on the last Thursday of April, [illegible] and September.

PHŒNIX—J. B. Loddington's law office [illegible] on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday [illegible] April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court except at Phœnix, will be held on the day previous thereto.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. REYNOLDS,
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provid d.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors
C. H. DAVID

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT.	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N.Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

HEMLOCK LUMBER

—AND—

Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,

SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen
the Market and Fixtures on
Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand
the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains
to a
First-Class Market.
I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.
Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS, LETTER HEADS, [illegible] DODGERS, [illegible] CARDS, COMPLAINTS, [illegible]

Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 1889.

VOLUME 21—NUMBER 47

Single Copies Three Cents

[illegible] than gypsy's width
[illegible]
[illegible] the tailor-made girl.
[illegible] coquettishly twirl,
[illegible]
[illegible] the tailor-made girl.

She was brave, even bold
She was fresh, bright and cold;
Her chin was determined, her lip had a curl,
[illegible] by y bliss
[illegible] in the kiss
Of the broad-shouldered out-of-door tailor-made girl.

She has had her brief day,
And she simply can't stay,
Then time for their altars our idols must hurl;
But the shrine won't be bare
Very long—that I'll swear!
So good luck and good-bye to the tailor-made girl.

THE PROPER THING.

The buttons on dresses and wraps are a decided feature.

Milliners' folds, made in the old-fashioned way, appear on new gowns.

The sleeves of most of the new dressy wraps are made loose and slightly open.

Fringes of every length, device and color have again been taken into favor.

Ribbons are much used on black net dresses to give them their only touch of color.

Accordion pleating is in great use and shows itself on some of the handsomest dresses.

Rich brocades of antique colors and designs are used to brighten up black faille and surah dresses.

Gold ribbons and embroideries, literal copies of those of the first empire, are trimmings for white and black bonnets.

Toques and round hats make up the bulk of spring and summer millinery and are fanciful and picturesque in design.

White wool for summer gowns is brightened by woven colored borders in brocaded patterns of garlands, flowers, etc.

The mixture of striped and other fancy materials with plain fabrics continues in high favor, and also the wearing of gowns of fine, spring woolens with handsome borderings in Grecian, broche and Bulgarian patterns. These handsome edges are also used to represent stripes. Gimps, galloons in applique, arabesque designs in silk cord and velvet, moire cut in stripes, velvet ribbon and innumerable beaded garnitures of every description, will all be used for this purpose. Entire ribbon dresses are made with alternate stripes of net or lace.

THE Brompton Hospital for consumptives, London, England, published a statement that 52 per cent. of the patients in that institution had unsuspected kidney disease. Every drop of blood in the system passes thousands of times through the lungs in each 24 hours. The same blood passes through the kidneys for purification. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition or able to expel the poisonous or waste matter the acids return to the delicate tissues of the lungs and produce irritation, which results in the symptoms of what is known as consumption. This explains why 52 per cent. of the consumptive patients have unsuspected kidney disorder. Warner's Safe Cure puts the kidneys in a healthy condition taking the acids from the blood which vitiate the lungs and cause consumption.

Origin of Great Inventions.

Needles—First made in England, 1545.

Oxygen—Discovered by Priestly, 1774.

Candles—Made of tallow, used in 1290.

Cotton-gin—Made by Eli Whitney, 1793.

Engraving—Invented by Chinese, 1000 B. C.

Clocks—Water clocks used in Rome 158 B. C.

Hydrogen—First isolated by Cavendish, 1766.

Thermometers—Credited to Santorio of Padua, 1648.

Barometer—Evangelista Torricella invented, 1643.

Air Pump—Made by Otto Guericke of Magdeburg, 1650.

Barbers—Great antiquity; mentioned in Ezekiel v. 1, about 596 B. C.

Billiards—Ascribed to Henrique Devigne, who lived in the reign of Charles IX of France.

[illegible] Stingy?

A few years ago a poor cartman in [illegible] very serious mis[illegible] while giving his vocation at [illegible]. His cart and horse [illegible] into the water, the horse [illegible] and the cart damaged. [illegible]

A [illegible]

A widow, [illegible] shady and [illegible] front of a [illegible] train. She was [illegible] ing and her [illegible] that her loss was [illegible] When near to Chicago she turned to the drummer and said: "What place are we coming to next?" "Chicago, madam." "Lem'me see; that's in Illinoy, ain't it?" "Yes—certainly." "I'd ort to know but I'd for[illegible] ben in Illinoy. I buried [illegible] sband there 'bout twenty ye[illegible]." "Indeed!" "Yes and from [illegible] of went to Ioway. I buried my [illegible] man out in Ioway, and I ain't been there sence. That was eighteen years ago. Went down to South Carliny from Ioway." "Oh, did you? I've been there." "You hev! Ever been to a place called Black Snake Forks." "No!" "Well, Hen Dodson lays there." "Who was Mr. Dodson?" "My third man; and a right smart feller he was. He had a cousin named Hi Daggett. Ever run across Hi?" "I think not." "You'd know if you had. Ev'rybody liked Hi. Him and me was married in Georgy, and he's buried nine miles from Atlanty." "O, indeed! and do you live in Georgia now?" "Land, no! Ain't set foot there for more'n a dozen years. I went from Georgia away up to Minnesoty and I met Tom Hixon up there." "Tom Hixon!" "Yes; him and me lived most a year there after we were married; then a blamed old white mule we had kicked Tom so fatally that I buried him one cold day under the snow up near St. Paul, and sold off and went out to Kansas near Atchison, and tuk up a quarter section of land jinin' a real smart man's named Dill." "And you——" "Yes, I married Dill, an' he took chills and fever 'fore three months and left me a widder 'fore the year was out. I tell you, I've had mighty bad luck." "I should think so." "That's what I have. There was Ben Barber. After him and me was married out in California we got along splendid, and was making money fast, when all of a sudden Ben goes head first down a nine-hundred foot shaft, and of course I was a widder 'fore the pore man ever struck bottom." "Then you left California?" "Yes; I stayed there eight or nine months, and then Bob he wanted to—" "Bob who?" "Oh, Bob White! He was Ben's pardner, and he never gave me no peace till I married him. He's buried in the Black Hills." "Great Cæsar!" cried the drummer; "do you make a business of going around the country burying husbands?" The "widder" put her handkerchief to her eyes in keen rebuke: "That's a purty way to talk to a pore lone widder that's got her husband's cawpse in the baggage-car ahead a-takin' him to Dakoty to lay him side of his folks."—Detroit Advertiser.

How to Be Happy.

Take a cheerful view of everything.

To learn the different temper of each individual.

When any good happens to any one, to rejoice at it.

To try for the soft answer that "turneth away wrath."

In all the little pleasures which may occur, to put self last.

In conversation not to exalt ourselves, but to bring others forward.

We may be quite sure that our will shall be crossed to-day; so prepare for it.

To watch for the little opportunities of pleasing, and to put little annoyances out of the way.

If, from sickness, pain or infirmity we feel irritable, to keep a good watch over ourselves.

To observe when others are suffering, and drop a word of kindness and sympathy suited to their wants.

Everybody in the house has an evil nature as well as ourselves, and therefore we must not expect too much.

When we have been pained by an unkind word or deed to ask ourselves, "Have I not often done the same thing and been forgiven?"

An Australian Millionaire.

The "prosperous Queensland squatter, whose landed possessions are estimated at five millions," mentioned in the late Lady Brassey's posthumous volume, is James Tyson, at once the wealthiest and the stingiest man in Australia. Almost every single individual you meet in the colonies has an anecdote to tell of "Hungry Tyson," to give him his enviable sobriquet. A colonial prelate who was in London, recently attending the Lambeth Conference, related how, on a voyage along the Australian coast Tyson, who was a fellow passenger, slept on deck, and [illegible] sandwiches the [illegible] meal and berth from the ship's [illegible] not being in accordance with his ideas of economy. [illegible] Tyson has [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] money.

When the lust of [illegible] more for [illegible] than his [illegible] does for hockey, [illegible] and bonnets.

When one of the parties engages in a business that is not approved by the other.

When both parties persist in arguing over a subject upon which they never have and never can think alike.

When either husband or wife takes a vacation.

When the vacations are taken by one side of the house only.

When a man attempts to tell his wife what style of a bonnet she must wear.

When a man's Christmas present to his wife consist of bootjacks, shirts and gloves for himself.

When the watchword is: "Each for himself."

When dinner is not ready at dinner time.

When "he" snores his loudest, while "she" kindles the fire.

When the "father" takes half of the pie and leaves the other half for the one who made it and her eight children.

When the children are given the neck and back of the chicken.

When children are obliged to clamor for their rights.

When the money that should go for a book goes for what only one side of the house knows anything about.

When there is too much latch-key.

When politeness, fine manners and kindly attentions are reserved for company or visits abroad.—Springfield Union.

PROBLEMS

If "blocks of five" are worth $25 a block in Indiana, what are they worth in Vermont?

A and B play a game of poker. At the start A has $300. After playing two hours A discovers that B is an army officer. He thereupon quits the game. How much does he have left? Answer, nothing.

A man puts $5,000 in the hands of a Wall Street broker, with instructions to invest the same in wheat; how much does he lose by the transaction? Answer $5,000.

If a man spend three-quarters of an hour trying to unlock the front the door with a button-hook, how much did he spend at the club during the evening?

A Maine grocer bought ten barrels of cider at $3 a barrel. How many of his friends were afflicted with chronic vertigo before the cider gave out?

A man fails in business for $20,000. His creditors levy upon his assets and obtain $7,000 in settlement of their claims. How much does his wife make by the transaction? Answer $13,000.

If A. D. T. boy goes on an errand at the rate of one mile in forty-eight hours, and another at the rate of one mile in thirty six hours, which will come out ahead matching pennies? What chance has the man who employed them of remembering what the message was about when he gets the answer.—Life.

The Young Man's Trouble.

Editor—"Mr. Funnyman, your humorous department is not half so bright and fresh as it used to be. Are you in poor health?" Mr. Funnyman—"No, sir; my health is all right, but I'm afraid I'll have to give up the humorous work." "What is the matter?" "Well, sir, I got married some months ago, and now when I print a joke about wives my wife thinks it means her, and if I mention mother-in-law her mother comes around and and raises the roof; and besides, one of my wife's brothers is a plumber, another is an ice-man, and the other is a coal dealer, and she has a half-brother who is a book agent, and they're all big men with ugly tempers. If you don't mind I'd like to retire from the humorous department and take a position as obituary editor."—Philadelphia Record.

A General Tie-Up of all the means of public conveyance in a large city, even for a few hours, during a strike of the employes, means a general paralyzing of trade and industry for the time being, and is attended with enormous aggregate loss to the community. How much more serious to the individual is the general [illegible] known as [illegible] of the most important organs for prudent [illegible]. If too long neglected, [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] is it.

So [illegible] in which [illegible]—we [illegible] near to their [illegible] secure their [illegible] give you favor in their eyes.

The impressions made in the home are lasting. A mother's words never pass from the mind. A father's counsel remains fresh so long as life lasts. The last benediction of parental love and solicitude—with what tenacity it clings to the memory when almost all else has gone.

How important, therefore, that the home be maintained intact as long as possible—a haven of loving counsel of peace and joy to the growing children. How sad when death invades, when the fire goes out on the hearthstone and the family is scattered. What the children lose by the death of a parent only those realize who have grown up without that love and advice which a parent alone can bestow.

No doubt, tens of thousands of parents have found premature graves, who might have lived years of usefulness had they but known what was sapping their strength, and slowly but surely pushing them into the grave.

There are tens of thousands of parents to-day in agony of mind through fear of death from kidney disease, who do not know they are doctoring only symptoms—such as wakefulness, nervousness, a splendid feeling one day and an all-gone one another, dropsy, weak heart action, pneumonia, neuralgia, fickle appetite, etc., while the real trouble is poisoned blood caused by diseased kidneys. Unless purified with Warner's Safe Cure they will just a surely die as though poisoned with arsenic.

If you are suffering as described, and have been for any length of time, you are, unless you get relief right speedily, stricken with death, wheher you know it or not.

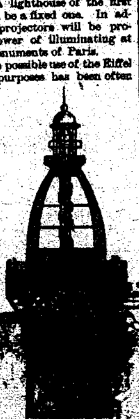
Doctors publicly admit that they cannot cure advanced kidney disease; they are too bigoted to use Warner's Safe Cure because it is an advertised remedy; consequently unless you use your own good judgment, secure and use Warner's Safe Cure, a specific, which has proven itself in tens of thousands of cases to be all it is represented, your home through your death will be broken up and your loved ones deprived of that which money cannot purchase or friends supply.

Already too many loving parents, noble, kind and true, have gone to premature graves through ignorance of their condition, and the bigotry of physicians. It is time to cry a halt, and we beg of you for the love you bear your home and the duty you owe yourself, to give this matter your careful and conscientious consideration.

EIFFEL'S TOPKNOT.

It Will Consist of a Lantern Twenty-three Feet High.

The Eiffel tower in Paris, which is 984 feet high, and, as every one knows, is the tallest in the world, has an elaborate top, of which we give an illustration. The lowest platform seen in the cut, is the third one from the ground. The platform includes a balcony of square form measuring about sixty feet on each side. The outside promenade will be of glass plates in movable frames. In the center of the platform will be a cabin divided into laboratories, to be used for making experiments. Above this platform is the highest platform on the tower, standing over 900 feet from the ground. The summit of the tower consists of a lantern twenty-three feet high, which will contain an optical system the same as that of a lighthouse of the first class. The light will be a fixed one. In addition two optical projectors will be provided, giving the power of illuminating at will the principal monuments of Paris.



The question of the possible use of the Eiffel tower for scientific purposes has been often raised, says The Engineer, and as yet we have seen no authoritative document on that head signed by any scientific man or indorsed by any learned society, but scientific utility is possibly a secondary object in its construction. The tower will be such a curiosity in itself as to powerfully help to draw many visitors to Paris during the [illegible] tion. O[illegible] January [illegible] the Eiffel [illegible] M. Max [illegible] ty, engi[illegible] published [illegible] and the [illegible] gives the [illegible] of several leading Frenchmen of science who have expressed [illegible]

SWORD PLAY IN PARIS.

GREAT REVIVAL OF THE OLD AMUSEMENT OF FENCING.

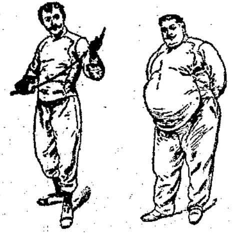
The Profession of Swordsmanship in France's Gay Capital—Skillful Fencers. Fencing Halls in Abundance—Will Men Again Carry Swords at Their Sides?

THERE is an epidemic of sword play in Paris and throughout France generally. The prevailing "fad" is to have a fencing master and to talk with a knowing air of "cut" and "thrust," "carte en tierce," "lunges" and "guards." And, as generally happens in revivals of old customs, the movement goes much farther than any one designed at first; all the old patterns of swords and rapiers have been reproduced and tried, amateurs have appeared in the costumes of all the eras from Pepin and Charlemagne to the Directory and the Empire. Much is said of the Gallic leather jerkin and the Moorish doublet, the knee boots of the dragoons, the slashed sleeves of "Looes Cartorz" and the pointed rapier of "Hongres Catt'r" (Louis XIV and Henry IV).

There are said to be more professors of fencing in Paris now than ever before, and the prevailing taste has set the fashion in all the theatres. "There are fencing balls in all the fine houses," says the satirical Mirliton; "swordsman's boots are the style in all the boys' schools, the opera dance is a grand sword play, the figurantes at the Porte St. Martin exercise with sticks while they wait on the side between the scenes, and at all the cafe concerts nothing goes but a pass at arms; even the graceful quadrille is no more."

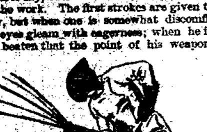
Pasteur is humorously advised to seek the microbe of this strange frenzy, and comic writers predict that the time is near at hand when gentlemen will promenade with swords at their sides.

There is much discussion as to the best suits and the most suitable colors. Buff and blue lead in the latter, and for serious work the favorite suit is a stout jacket (often of leather) and very tight pantaloons, as shown in the annexed engravings. The face is protected, of course, by a wire mask, which in no way interferes with the sight. Jackets and tights often have metallic trimmings, and generally the precautions against danger are many. But with all that sharp wounds are often given, and blood is spilled in unpleasantly large quantities. The spirit of combat is easily excited, and as the amateurs warm to their work they grow more reckless. Sometimes the point of a rapier is broken off by a fierce stroke, and the piece flies in the most unaccountable line to an exposed part.



PRESIDENT AND ASSISTANT.

The fashion of inviting friends to a private exhibition prevails so far that the most accomplished fencers in the city are engaged for weeks ahead; and young men of wealth and high social standing appear on the boards as amateur fencers in aid of charity, as they lately did in amateur theatricals. At all these private exhibitions (held in the halls of the wealthy), there are two important personages—the "president" and his assistant. The former is often an old fencing master who has grown too fat for the business; yet he is clad in the professional costume, and the awful dignity and serious interest he displays double discount the president of the Corps Legislatif. His assistant bends the rapiers to test them, fastens the button securely on the point (for otherwise the amateur might run the sharp weapon through his friend), places the combatants and does the preliminary work generally. The etiquette of "the assault," as they call it, is most rigid, combining the strictness of army life and the deference of the ball room; the fat president would not deign to do anything but preside and pronounce on any disputed point. Showing anger at defeat is an unpardonable offense. The advocates and patrons of the new amusement—or rather the old amusement revived—claim that it is "a perfect school for gentlemen." The physicians say it develops pliability in every muscle of the body. Yet it must be indulged in sparingly, for it is most exhausting exercise. It is very amusing, the reports say, to note how the amateurs warm to the work. The first strokes are given timidly, but when one is somewhat discomfited his eyes gleam with eagerness; when he is so far beaten that the point of his weapon is bent, then he bends forward and throws his whole soul into the contest. Often the president must assert his authority with the utmost sternness. An hour of the combat makes the strongest amateur gasp and tremble with fatigue.



BY PLAY.

In every street in Paris are fencing halls, and men of all ranks take an occasional turn; at any hour one may see the grave teacher overlooking a class of students, workmen, boys or professionals, and these cutting and slashing the innocent air with all the awful grimaces of Hash-hash-een fanatics. It's a queer "fad," but they like it; it is an amusement that just suits the French.

Mary Anderson's Tastes.

As Mary Anderson grows older her tastes for asceticism and religion grow more pronounced. It has been found necessary to [illegible] physician absolutely order [illegible] more meat during Lent to keep up [illegible]. Her devotions are as [illegible] widely advertised as [illegible]. Beyond [illegible] to have no very distinct taste [illegible] accumulation of money, which [illegible] to England as is [illegible].—New York Journal.

[illegible]

NONE SUCH BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

Contains only Pure Grape Cream Tartar, finest Bi-carbonate Soda, and a little Starch. Full weight, always uniform. Incomparable for strength, purity and wholesomeness. The most economical. Contains no Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Phosphate, or other impurity. "Safe for dyspeptics and invalids." Sold in cans only. GEO. C. HANFORD, Mfr., Syracuse, N.Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sonsy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's 51797, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

ELY'S CREAM BALM is SURE to CURE Cold in Head QUICKLY. Easy to Use.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH ROSE-COLD HAY-FEVER DEAFNESS HEADACHE EASY TO USE PRICE 50 CENTS ELY BRO'S, OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A. HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists: by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York.

BONANZA to AGENTS SAMPLES FREE both sexes. Write now GEO. A. SCOTT, New York City

Mind—your P's & Q's

PARLOA'S COOK BOOK.

Large Quarto. Lithographed Cover. Over 100,000 Parloa Cook Books have been sold. Mailed on receipt of 30 cts by any bookseller, or ESTES & DATRIAT, Boston, Mass.

ACHING Sides AND Back [illegible] Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

KASKINE (THE NEW QUININE.)

Good Cheer Instead of Despondency; Energy by Day, Sleep at Night, No Opium.

Science emerging from Darkness.

A POWERFUL TONIC. A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

Mrs. Caroline Austin, Astoria, N. Y., says: "Last winter I ran down so rapidly from malaria that I would faint away sitting in my chair. I heard Kaskine, the new Kaskine, the new quinine. Using it three weeks I was well."

W. F. Holcombe, M. D., late Prof. in New York Opth. Hospital and N. Y. Medical College, writes: "After five months use of Kaskine I cheerfully state that I have found it superior to quinine in its specific power, and entirely free from causing any disturbance to the hearing."

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

KASKINE CO. 168, Duane St., New York.

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

Liquors Wines Lager Beer AND ALES.

Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE, OSWEGO,

CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO. OF SYRACUSE, and the HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.

Our Wine List includes CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet) PORT, CLARET, MADERIA AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES. Sold in Bulk or Bottles.

Oneida Street, Fulton, N. Y.

[illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE. Jeweler,

WATCHES W. P. Osborne CLOCKS

—AND— A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.

No. 4, First Street.

THE GLORY OF MAN STRENGTH VITALITY! THE SCIENCE OF LIFE KNOW THYSELF. THE SCIENCE OF LIFE A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY UNTOLD MISERIES

Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskillful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER. EPPS'S GRATEFUL-COMFORTING. COCOA MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

SALESMEN WANTED Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid Special inducements to beginners. Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. Hooker Nurseries (established 1835), ROCHESTER, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

FARMS, BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Va

DR. G. F. WHITNEY'S New and Successful Method of Diagnosing and Treating Diseases. Patients treated right at their own homes with perfect success. The most difficult and complicated cases quickly and permanently relieved even after all other means have failed. Those desiring trial treatment should send full name, age, sex, weight and a brief history of illnes and medicines, carefully prepared for the case, to last ten days will be sent them with the diagnosis. Terms $5 and 6c. postage. Address G. F. WHITNEY, M. D., Cleveland, O.

JAMES COLE, The Old Reliable. UNDERTAKER AND FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First S the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a First-Class Market.

I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.

Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street

PATENTS Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

JANE BROADWELL, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST, OFFICE AT RESIDENCE, Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls. Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Paper Hanging! Plain and Ornamental. All Work Guaranteed Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.

JAMES STEVENS, Post Office Address, Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole, Deputy Sheriff and Detective. All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON, —DEALER IN— BOOKS, STATIONERY, WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES, CURTAIN FIXTURES, PICTURE FRAMES, MOULDINGS &c. Fulton N. Y.

FREE $85 Solid Gold Watch. Sold for $100, until lately. Best $85 watch in the world. Perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Heavy Solid Gold Hunting Cases. Both ladies' and gents' sizes, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free, together with our large and valuable line of Household Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send Free, and after you have kept them in your home for 2 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine.

I CURE FITS! When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS, A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

INSURE IN THE TRADERS & TRAVELERS Accident Company, 287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BENEFITS.
$5,000 for Death.
$5,000 Loss of Limbs.
$2,500 Loss of Limb.
$2,500 Loss of Sight.
$1,250 Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks.
One Set of Individual Registry Plates Included.

COST.
Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00
Annual Dues, 1.00
Membership Fee, 5.00. $11.00

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Traders & Travelers Accident Co. of New York desire the services of one responsible representative in each town to act as agent for the general transaction of their business. A liberal and permanent arrangement will be made with parties who can fill the above requirements. Address C. S. SOMERVILLE, Sec'y.

BEST STEEL WIRE GALVANIZED. Woven Wire Fencing Wire Rope Selvage 80c TO $2 PER ROD. [illegible]

CATARRH [illegible]

Livery Stable. Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and [illegible] dents with [illegible] made known on application.

[illegible] of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] reasonable prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.
[illegible] all communications on business or [illegible] to The Times.
F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

THE United States Senate adjourned yesterday sine die.

THE Mexico Independent has just passed its 28th birthday. In its vigorous manhood we wish it all the success imaginable.

ELLIS H. ROBERTS, editor and proprietor of the Utica Herald has been appointed Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New York city.

MURAT Halstead, who was nominated by President Harrison for Minister to Germany has been rejected by the U. S. Senate. The reason for this is that Mr. Halstead is an editor and has made in times past severe criticisms on the acts of Senators. He will go back to his sanctum and proceed to make it doubly interesting, if he has an opportunity, for those that voted for his rejection.

JOHN BRIGHT, the great English orator and statesman died on Wednesday of last week. He was a Quaker, and head of a firm of cotton spinners and manufacturers in Rochdale, Lancashire. He co-operated with Mr. Cobden and the two became the leading spirits of the anti-corn league. He was a strong advocate for free trade, and his influence and persistency had much to do in the modification of the corn laws. During the civil war, he was a strong friend of the Union, and supported its cause both in and out of parliament.

TERRIBLE news comes from Auckland to the effect that the American men-of-war Trenton, Vandalia and Nipsic and the German men-of-war Adler, Olza and Eber, have been wrecked at Samoa during a violent storm. There were four American officers and forty-six men drowned according to the reports while the casualties to the Germans were nine officers and eighty-seven men. The American and German fleets were in Samoan waters to establish international authority. This disaster will doubtless put a stop to all thought of conflict.

PRESIDENT Fowler, of the N. Y. Ontario and Western, under date of Saturday, has issued the following circular: "J. E. Childs having resigned as general manager of this company, to take the position of assistant general manager of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad, John B. Kerr has been appointed acting general manager, and will act in that capacity after this date until further orders." Mr. Kerr has been the attorney of the Ontario & Western Company.

Do you wish to save money on your purchases. If so, Draper, at No. 6 First street, thinks he is now offering all grades of Crockery, Lamps, Silver and Plated Ware, also a new and elegant line of Watches and Jewelry, at lower prices than any other house in Oswego County. Price goods and prove this.

Would Take His Chances.

Hungry tramp—"Madam, will you please give me something to eat?"

Lady of the house.—"Well, here is a mince pie. But I am afraid to have you eat it. The cook isn't sure that she didn't use rough on rats by mistake, and I was going to put it into the stove."

"No. Lemme have it. I have eaten mince pie and lived, and I'll take my chances on rough on rats."—Chicago Herald.

[illegible]

[illegible] and [illegible] ago, spending the winter and leaving reminiscences of a description which will perpetuate his name and fame for a much longer term than is usually allotted to casual visitors. He justly laid claims to being an actor and elocutionist of a superior order and gave several entertainments which after a time were sparsely patronized. Although his personal appearance could be scarcely termed as prepossessing, the man was clearly a linguist and scholar of no mean pretentions and possessed most gentlemanly manner and courtly grace. He was insinuating and magnetic and succeeded in inspiring such confidence that his debts were soon promiscuously scattered throughout the town.

In the spring he organized a dramatic company which opened at Ithaca, played two nights and then went to pieces. The Doctor, or "Hal Newton Carlyle," the name he assumed while on the road, disappeared, leaving the company to extricate themselves as best they might. He next visited Cortland, where he spent the summer in clover, pursuing a similar plan to that used in Fulton. He organized a gymnasium and made extensive repairs to the opera house, performing all actions upon his apparently unlimited credit. Organizing dramatic companies seemed to be his ambition, and in a few months he was fully equipped with another which opened at Bordentown, N. J., and calmly died after giving two performances. Spencer, Carlyle, or J. McPherson, as he is variously known, undauntedly returned to Cortland, and by dint of perseverance and ingenuity was soon in condition to repeat his previous dramatic experiences. This time he opened an opera house in one of the suburbs of Philadelphia, where he played one night to good business. The next morning, however, his whereabouts formed an unknown quantity, and his actors bitterly bemoaned his disappearance with the receipts in vain. Since then no news has been received from the versatile Thespian, nor is it likely that he will be seen in this section for many moons.

To those honored with his acquaintance, it is difficult to believe him intentionally dishonest or fraudulent. Circumstances, however, are strongly against him. Many, however, still think his pretentions sincere, and await in happy anticipation the day he will come to liquidate his debts and redeem his reputation.—Syracuse Herald.

Arbor Day.

The first Arbor Day in New York State will be observed on Friday, May 3d. The second section of the law relative to this observance reads as follows: "It shall be the duty of the authorites of every public school in this State, to assemble the scholars in their charge on that day in the school building, or elsewhere, as they may deem proper, and to provide for and conduct, under the general supervision of the city superintendent or the school commissioner, or other chief officers having the general over sight of the public schools in each city or district, such exercises as shall tend to encourage the planting, protection and preservation of trees and shrubs, and an acquaintance with the best methods to be adopted to accomplish such results." This law is not compulsory, but much good might be accomplished by educating the scholars in the interesting work of arborculture.

In his circular to the editors of the State, Supt. Draper says; "Arbor Day is now observed in nearly every State in the Union. Let New York, her people and her children, identify themselves with a movement which will erect living monuments of use and beauty, to the intelligence of the present generation, and which will add pleasure and comfort to the generations yet to come."

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Apr. 3, 1889.

Henry R. Brennan (2), Irwin Duell, Britton Dillion, Wm. Fuller, Myron Foster, Emery Fenton, Mrs. A. Flett, J. Fitzgibbons, Mrs. Stacia Burns, Mrs. Thos Costello, Mrs. Phebe King, Miss Ellen E. Clark, Mr. John Connor, Miss Maggie Duffy, Smith Fulines, Leonard Fargo, Geo. Faval, Mrs. Susan Gaylord, Mrs. John B. Kinney, W. I. Church, Mrs. Peter Callet.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

Fischer Pianos.

Bristol has a large stock of Fischer and other makes of pianos, also Estey and Chase organs. Elegant goods, prices reasonable and terms easy.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Piso's Remedy for catarrh. The best and easiest to use. Sold exclusively, in Fulton, by H. C. Giesler. tf

Our Combination Rates.

We make the following combination rates to every-one, 10 cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county. All of the papers have a world wide reputation in the field which they cover and we recommend them to our readers.

THE TIMES 1 year and Farm Journal 1 year $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and N. Y. Weekly World [illegible], $1.[illegible].

THE TIMES 1 year and Detroit Free [illegible]

[illegible] from the house at 1 p. m. to-day.

Mrs. Lucy Richards, widow of the late Morris Richards, died at North Granby, on Sunday, March 31, at the age of [illegible] years. Funeral was held from the house yesterday, at 2 p. m., and the remains taken to Lewis Corners for burial.

Mrs. Honora Casey, mother of Mrs. Maher of the Broadway House, Oswego Falls, died at Hinmanville on Friday, March 29 at the age of 60 years. Funeral was held from the Catholic church Monday forenoon.

George Wood, an Englishman died at his late residence in Oswego Falls, on Sunday March 30, at the age of 49 years. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dennis M. Kennedy, President of the Pease Furnace Co. of Syracuse, died in Pasadena, California, yesterday. He went to California for his health. Mr. Kennedy was well know in Fulton, having received his education at Falley Seminary. He was a brother of Mrs. Abram Howe of this village.

Mrs. Almira P. Lamphere of Hannibal, aged 80 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Cook, whom she was visiting. She had been ill for several months. Her funeral will be held in the Lewis school house in Granby on Thursday at 2 P. M.

Volney Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Mrs. A. G. Morse and Mrs. Jay Piper still continue on the sick list, both being confined to their beds.

Noxon Wright has moved into the Witherell house and Walter Reynolds into Mrs. Cook's house, Mr. Porter of Mexico is moving on the farm where Mr. Eno has lived several years. 'Date Reid will live on Mrs. Dall's farm the coming year. Fred Garrison will work Elizer Baldwin's farm and Mr. Morey will move on his own farm. These will probably be the only changes in places in this vicinity.

Fred Sikes has been visiting in New Haven the past week.

The Gilbert Mills people are emulating the Volney people in Demorest Prize Contests. They have already had two, one last week when the silver medal was won by Clarence Babcock.

A number of young men departed yesterday for the scene of their summer labors.

A flock of wild geese passed over Volney Centre last week going northward.

Hannibal Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents at Hannibal Centre, March 28, 1889, by Rev. D. McFarland Mr. Barton H. Greenfield of Ira, and Miss S. Jennie Rowlee of Hannibal Centre.

The quarantine is removed from the town of Hannibal and the church bells rang last Sunday for the first time since the small pox scare.

George Pooler moves onto Charles Tompkins farm this spring.

Herb Palmer moves on to the Knowlton farm.

Jud Kellogg is moving back from Hannibal to his farm.

O. J. H. Reed has sold his house and lot to George Pellet, and he is moving to Lancaster, N. Y.

Levi Pooler of Dexterville has rented Levi Brackett's house and will move into it this week.

Jay Brackett and Homer Perkins are home from Ilion, where they have been attending school.

John Pritchard has sold his house and lot to George Smith and has gone to Hinmanville to live.

Gilberts Mills.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Moving seems to be the order of the day. Amos Mason has moved to Oswego Falls. Clinton Prichard will occupy his house here.

Elder Denney preached his farewell sermon Sunday.

Nelson Gardner will carry the mail for the next three months.

Miss Clara Cable has been engaged to teach our school this spring.

A Fitting Tribute.

The following Memorial has been been sent to Mr. E. J. Carrington by the Detroit Board of Trade of which his son, F. B. Carrington had been a member:

MR. E. J. CARRINGTON, Detroit, Mich.

Dear Sir:—The members of this Association have been pained to hear of the death of your son, F. B. Carrington, and especially in view of the sad circumstances surrounding the last minutes of his life. The Board, therefore, at its meeting upon the 2d inst. adopted the following:

MEMORIAL.

"It is with sincere sorrow that we have learned of the death of F. B. Carrington, for several years a member of this Association.

"The memory of all our relations with him while he was with us is pleasant and satisfactory. [illegible]

[illegible] It is not Willie's fault. The truth is that the President knows that Willy is not so vitally important a factor in American politics as he himself has fondly imagined.

The selection of Robert T. Lincoln for the English mission is regarded in Washington as an excellent choice though the nomination is a great surprise. In the first place it was not supposed that Mr. Lincoln wanted the appointment and in the second place, he was not classed among the Americans rich enough to afford the honor of spending vast sums yearly from private funds to support such a brilliant social position. Exactly what sort of Minister he will make should not be hard to determine in the light of his record as Secretary of War. In that position he firmly resisted every effort of the regular Army officers to plunge their arms into the Treasury any further than their elbows. No other Secretary in the last score of years has attempted to do that. He also evinced a calm disregard for the cheap clamor of small factions. The appointment thus appears satisfactory.

However Mr. Lincoln's appointment may strike the Irish interested in the cause of Home Rule—and it would appear that it should impress them favorably—it goes without saying that the selection will be popular in the rural neighborhoods, where new men are slowly learned of and old names are reluctantly parted with. To these people, the people who do the voting, the sending of Robert Lincoln to England revives only generous recollections of the magnificent American liberator. Abraham Lincoln's son must be a thorough going American.

Murat Halstead is one of the dozen American journalists whose names are known to the people at large, With Mr. Reid's appointment, this nomination completes a strong representation of newspapers in the diplomatic service. At present our relations with Germany are in a fair way to settlement, but it is cheering to know that a military looking man, with an immense power for distributing sanguinary ink over large areas of paper, will be right there to jealously guard our honor, by the year, or the number of words.

When the Republic was a great deal younger she often flew in the face of the proverb as to choosing young men for action and old men for counsel. After a long time she has done so again in sending Allen Thorndike Rice to Russia. Mr. Rice is distinctively an aggressive young man, with a healthy mind, a fine literary training following upon a singularly thorough education, and an indomitable courage. When he took possession of the North American Review a few years ago, he was less than twenty-five years of age, and the stock of the magazine was practically worth less than twenty-five cents. To-day it is the most fortunate of the high class monthlies.

It was expected that opposition to Mr. Rice's confirmation might be very strong among Democrats who believe him to be the author of the Arthur Richmond letters, which so scored Bayard and his policy. There being apparently no proof of the authorship, the opposition may, however, be futile, as it would of course be, in the end, useless.

Patrick Egan's nomination for Minister to Chili is regarded as a graceful recognition of the Irish vote, though just what Mr. Egan can do for Home Rule while in Chili is hard to determine. It is expected that Patrick Ford will be the next Irishman appointed to a prominent office.

Mr. Wanamaker has put his large Philadelphia feet into the soup by attempting to run the Post Office Department in the same way he conducts his store, by consulting only himself as to appointments. His selection of a Postmaster for Philadelphia in open opposition to Senator Quay will result in the making of a new slate for Pennsylvania, from which both his man and Senator Quay's will be carefully omitted.

The Senate will hardly adjourn before next Friday, and in consequence appointments in the next few days will be very numerous.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by

The traveling public and residents along the lines of northerly railways [illegible]

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of from [illegible]

[illegible] New York.

Board of Trustees Proceedings.

ANNUAL MEETING.

At Stephens' Opera House hall March 26th, 1889.

Board met at 9½ a. m. pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Trustee Johnson, Nichols, Rice, More, Kellogg and Pardee.

On motion of Trustee Johnson, Trustee Rice was elected President pro. tem.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted; also of the special meeting held March 21st, inst.

The President's report was read to the electors and adopted.

The following amounts were voted to be raised for ordinary expenses of the village and for the purposes named, to-wit:

Lighting Streets	$ 1,700 00
Assessors	125 00
Board of Health	125 00
Cross Walk Stone	300 00
Clerk	100 00
Court Room	75 00
Printing	200 00
Fire Department	1,200 00
Water Works	2,100 00
Incidentals	600 00
Highway Fund	2,000 00
Total	$9,095 00

Moved by S. B. Mead that $600, of the fund to be raised for highway purposes be expended under the direction of the Board and Street Commissioner in the improvement of the Park. Carried.

Moved by Mr. M. F. Crahan that $100, of the Fire Department fund be set apart as an indemnity fund for disabled firemen. Carried.

The Polls of the election were opened at 9 o'clock a. m. and closed at 4 o'clock p. m. The whole number of votes cast was eight hundred and fifty-two (852) and after they were duly canvassed the following were declared elected to the offices named:

For President—Francis M. Wilson.
For Trustees—Amos Wolever and William D. Patterson, for three years.
For Assessor—Myron C. Haven, for three years.
For Collector—Michael A. Martin, for one year
For Treasurer—Amos Youmans.

The Board then adjourned to meet March 27th, at 7½ p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., March 27th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Trustees Johnson, Rice, Kellogg and More.

President elect Francis M. Wilson and Trustees elect Patterson and Wolever appeared and took the oath of office and entered upon the discharge of their duties.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read adopted.

The following bills were reported correct by the Finance committee, allowed by the Board and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the amounts, to-wit:

A. W. Stoneburg rent of Hose House	$13 00
Edward A. Jones, Police, Charter Election	2 00
C. F. More, Police, Charter Election	2 00

The St. Commissioner's report showing an expenditure of $19.13 for labor on streets, was allowed and the clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of Trustee Kellogg for the amount:

The finance committee to whom was referred the claim of Flavilla M. Hannah reported adversely and a motion that the claim be disallowed was amended by Trustee Patterson that a committee be appointed to investigate the validity of the claim.

The President appointed Trustees Patterson and Johnson as such committee.

The following is the claim:

The Village of of Fulton,

To Flavila M. Hannah, Dr.

To claim for damages for injury alleged to have arisen from the negligence as the authorities, of said village in respect to the sidewalk, at the corner of Second and and Rochester streets in said village in permitting the sidewalk to be used for a sliding place with sleds by boys and girls and especially, on the 14th day of February, 1889, by reason of which use the said Flavilla M. Hannah, was on the said 14th day of February, 1889, run against by a sled or by a boy on a sled and was thrown down and caused to strike on her head and shoulder, causing her to be severely injured on her head and shoulder and to be sick, sore and lame and confined to her house for a long space of time, to-wit, three weeks and compelling her to be at the expense of being cared for a physician, an attendant and to loose her time and services and for which she claims $900.

FLAVILLA M. HANNAH.

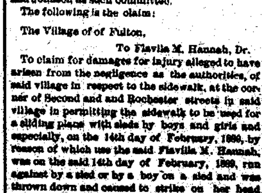
OSWEGO COUNTY.—Flavilla M. Hannah, being duly sworn says that the above claim is correct and true. That the facts with respect to said claim are correctly set forth in the foregoing statement of her claim.

Sworn, &c., March 18th 1889, before me.

S. N. Dada, Notary Public.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening next at 7½ o'clock.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.



"This is one of the 5/A Dusters. It is closely woven and handsomely embroidered."

Don't get stuck with Dusters which will let the dust through and spoil your clothes.

5/A Lap Dusters [illegible]

5/A [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Utica	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Rome	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Sylvan	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Bernhard's Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	a m	a m

Train 1 stops at Hurleyville 12:06 on signal "g" and at Liberty Falls for New York passengers "n."

Train 6 stops at Mountain Dale, Centreville, Hurleyville, Liberty Falls, Parksville, Cook's Falls, Fish's Eddy for New York and Middletown passengers "n."

Running south, train 4 stop for New York passengers at Eaton, Morrisville, Munnsville, North Bay, Cleveland, Bernhards Bay; and at Pennellville on signal.

Train 6 stops at Cleveland on signal and at Eaton, Morrisville, Sylvan and Bernhards Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 3:45 and 8:00 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:05 a. m., 5:40 and 9:40 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 49—Way Freight—Leaves Norwich 8:00 a. m., arriving at Oswego 4:30 p. m.

Train 45—Passenger and Freight—Leaves Norwich 2:15 p. m., arriving at Oneida 5:10 p. m.

Train 57—Leaves Walton 1:10 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 3:00, Norwich 5:45 p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin and Edmeston 11:45 a. m. and 5:00 p. m., stopping all stations, arriving at Edmeston 2:30 and 9:55 p. m. Sunday leave Sidney 10:30 a. m. arriving at New Berlin 11:50, a. m. Edmeston 12:40 p. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica 6:45, 10:40 a. m., 2:30, 6:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 8:35, 11:58 a. m., 5:40 and 8:40 p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 11:40 a. m. and 6:30 p. m., arriving at Rome, 12:25 and 7:30 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 44—Leaves Oneida 10:00 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 1:20 p. m.

Trains leave Utica 7:15 a. m., 8:15, 4:36 and 11:35 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville 9:30 a. m., 12:10 and 6:54 p. m. and 1:30 a. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 8:34 a. m., 4:00 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 58. Leaves Norwich 6:15 a. m., Oxford 7:00, Sidney 8:00, Franklin 1005, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave Edmeston 6:30 a. m., New Berlin 7:00 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 8:45 a. m. Also leave Edmeston 4:30 p. m., New Berlin 5:50, stopping at all stations, arrives at Sidney 7:15 Sunday milk leaves Edmeston 7:30 a. m., arrives at Sidney 9:30 a. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 7:00 a. m., 10:40 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:56 and 11:45 a. m., 6:30 p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton 11:00 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

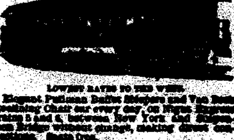
Train 2—Connects at Campbell Hall for all stations on the Wallkill Valley R R at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Newburgh, Kingston and Albany.

Train 1—Connects at Earlville for Syracuse, Randallsville for Utica and Rome, all stations on the Utica Division, at Oneida Castle with West Shore Express, arriving at Syracuse 7:16, Rochester 9:40, Buffalo 11:20, Detroit 8:20 a. m., Chicago 8:35 p. m St. Louis 7:20 a. m., and all points West.

Train 5—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore for all points east and west, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for all points west; at Central Square with R. W. and O. R. R. for all points North; at Oswego, with R. W. and O. R. R. for suspension Bridge, Detroit, Chicago 9:00 a. m. and all points west.

Train 41—Connects at Oneida Castle with West Shore east and west.

Trains 13 and 14 run through between Delhi and Utica without change, connects both ways at Sidney, with the D. & H. for Binghamton, Albany and intermediate Stations. At Earlville with S. C. and N. Y. for Syracuse and intermediate stations. Train 13 Connects at Clark's Mills for Rochester, Buffalo and all points West via, West Shore.



LOWEST RATES TO THE WEST.

Elegant Pullman Buffet Sleepers and Van Buren Reclining Chair car every day, on Night Express trains 5 and 6, between New York and Oswego [illegible]

[illegible]

J. C. Anderson, Gen. Pass'r Agt., No. 18 Exchange Place, N. Y.

SNOW & LOOMIS
Have a New OLIVER
STEEL
PLOW.
As well as the
OLIVER & WIARD

[illegible]

We suggest a visit to our Large Warerooms, comprising
12 Spacious Rooms, 12
Loaded down with bran new goods, for Spring Trade.
For this week we make a Special of
15,000 Yards TAPESTRY CARPET at 50 Cents.
In beautiful effects and elegant designs.
250 CHAMBER SUITES at $18.00,
In Cherry, Imitation Mahogany and Antique Oak, with French Bevel Glass.
A. A. Graff & Co.,
61 and 63 South Salina St., Syracuse.

Go To Johnston's
THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN
STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE
ALSO
FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS.
OF ALL KINDS.
Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware
Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.
Tin Roofing a Specialty.
GEO. JOHNSTON.
Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,
Wholesale Dealers in
Liquors Wines Lager Beer
AND ALES.
Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE,
OSWEGO,
CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO.
OF SYRACUSE, and the
HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.
Our Wine List includes
CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet)
PORT, CLARET, MADERIA
AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES.
Sold in Bulk or Bottles.
Oneida Street, - - Fulton, N. Y.

To CONVINCE the PEOPLE
That we will not be undersold by any house in town, we will make the following extraordinary offer never before thought or heard of. We will sell for the next 30 days:
13 Two-Cent Stamps for a Cent
and a Quarter.
And will take this as a standard and offer any article of or articles you may desire from our stock at figures which are
In the Same Proportion:
It is not necessary to make other purchases to enable you to supply yourself with stamps. The offer is open to all alike, customers, competitors, everybody.
SALMON SHOE STORE

JAS. McDONOUGH,
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
INDIA PALE ALE.
Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
We are now bottling Congress Beer, Porter and Stock Lager.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.
[illegible]

VIENNA BAKERY
—AND—
ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.
I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries
Bread, Cake Crackers
And all kinds of Bakery Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest [illegible] of [illegible]
[illegible]

BABYHOOD
Is a monthly magazine devoted to the hygiene and care of infants and young children, and all that pertains to the routine of the nursery. It is now in its fifth year. The Congregationalist recently said of it:
"BABYHOOD seems almost indispensable to the household in which there are young children. It is for the parents and the nurse, and is packed full of important suggestions of a practical character. From personal experience of its usefulness, we commend it warmly."
And the Chicago Advance:
"No mother but must appreciate its wise and helpful suggestions, and be grateful for the solving of perplexities and the helping over hard places which every one comes to who has the care of young children. We commend it to every mother in the land."
Also the New York Graphic:
"The success of this periodical has been enormous. It makes young mothers feel that the only subject worthy of attention is at last being recognized."
Every intelligent father and mother should read it regularly. Their children will be healthier and happier. It will reduce the work of caring for them, nursing them, dressing them, amusing them. Letters from subscribers frequently contain such testimonies as these, lately received:
"I am grateful to BABYHOOD; I have seen but two numbers, but have learned so much from those that I feel I should be doing my children a wrong if I should fail of the opportunity to learn more." "The help it has been to us would have astonished me had it been predicted beforehand." "Physician as I am, your magazine is the most welcome periodical that comes to my table, and is the one I read first." "I cannot speak too highly of BABYHOOD. During the three years that I have subscribed to it I have felt repaid a hundred times for the outlay by the relief and confidence it has given me in the management of my children."
You want a sample copy—
Price 15 cents.
Or to subscribe for a year—
$1.50.
On our part we wish to know that you have seen this advertisement; and in order to induce you to mention this paper when writing us,
We have arranged to have manufactured for us a large quantity of Hudnut's celebrated Sachet Powder, and will give a packet, free of either "Violet" or "White Lilac," as preferred),
(quantity sufficient to elegantly perfume Baby's clothing for months), to every person who sends us, either $1.50 for a year's subscription or 15 cents for a single copy, and mentions this paper. (Note the conditions. The powder is in no sense a "premium," but is offered simply to aid us in tracing the results of our advertising in various parts of the country. Its retail value is about 25 cents.) Address
BABYHOOD PUBLISHING CO.,
5 Beekman St., New York.
Do not confound BABYHOOD with picture-books for the amusement of children. It is a mother's [illegible] nursery help. Its list of contributors [illegible] comprises many specialists of the highest professional standing.
The [illegible] says: "It is really a question what the mothers of little babies used to do before the excellent little magazine Babyhood was published. No number can be missed without the loss being felt."

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
[illegible]
All printed in the best [illegible]
Lowest [illegible]
AT THE FULTON [illegible]

[illegible] Express ......1:[illegible] a. m.
[illegible] Express ......[illegible]
[illegible] ......[illegible]
[illegible] ......[illegible]
[illegible] and 5:05 p. m., make [illegible] connections [illegible]
[illegible], Ass't Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.
New York Day Express ......1:09 a. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation ......9:10 a. m.
[illegible] Express ......3:21 p. m.
N. Y. Night Express ......10:17 p. m.

GOING NORTH.
Ontario Night Express ......5:26 a. m.
Oswego Express ......11:20 a. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation ......5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express ......8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	[illegible]	11:[illegible]	[illegible]	5:27	7:32
For Oswego,	[illegible]	11:[illegible]	2:20	5:15	8:48

[illegible] Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 2 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf.

PERSONAL.

Willard Reynolds is home from Amherst college on his vacation.

Miss Anna and Andrew Gilmour are both home on their spring vacation.

J. C. O'Brien is in New York making spring purchases for his dry goods store.

Miss Mary O'Hare is in New York selecting millinery goods for C. E. Chappell & Co.

Dr. J. J. Stephens of Washington, D. C., is in town looking after his real estate interests.

C. E. Chappell is in New York selecting springs goods for his Fulton and Baldwinsville stores.

Simeon Osborne returned Monday from Dakota City, Iowa, where he has been spending the winter with his son.

Joseph Sabin of Buffalo only brother of the late H. N. Sabin with his daughter were here on Saturday to attend the funeral.

Thomas Ferris, W. M. of Hiram lodge and Rev. J. C. Breaker attended the annual reunion of Frontier City lodge in Oswego, last Friday evening.

The Oswego county Farmer's Club have arranged to hold a Farmer's Institute in Parish on the 9th and 10th the present month.

D. C. More returned Saturday from Roxbury, Delaware county where he had been called the week previous by the dangerous sickness of his father and stepmother. Both died, the father on Saturday March 23, and mother the following Thursday.

William Ayles formerly foreman of the machine department Baker Gun Works in Syracuse and latter with his son going to Batavia for the company, has returned to Fulton with his family, having been engaged by Mr. Comstock as foreman for the new gun works here.

Miss Lucretia Lathrop went to Syracuse Saturday where she will remain a few weeks before going to Indianapolis to reside permanently. Miss Ella Lathrop will reside for the present at C. S. Eggleston's. In the fall she [illegible] to assume charge of a missionary school in Utah.

Editor Williams of the Register is the most promising candidate for the position of postmaster at Phoenix.

The Womans' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will hold its monthly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors, Thursday at 3 p. m. A full attendance is requested. By order of the President.

The "Mora Comedy Co." will appear at the opera house this evening in "A Mountain Pink." The company is a good one and will continue for the balance of the week at the opera House with a change of program each evening. We commend the company to the people of Fulton as one of the best troupes that has appeared here playing at popular prices.

A CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. H. N. Sabin and family desire to thank the many friends and neighbors who have by their presence given them aid and comfort in their late bereavement.

The largest line of wall Paper and Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. Williams'. 46tf

[illegible] Given Away.

A Japanese [illegible] with every pound of our [illegible], Formosa Oolong, Choice [illegible] and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. [illegible] C. Tucker & Co.

[illegible] fresh stock of [illegible] at the Syracuse [illegible]

[illegible] the village [illegible] foreign pupils [illegible] at the previous meeting [illegible] wise move even from a financial standpoint to build the addition. The Board of Education had given this matter their careful consideration for months and as the best thing that possibly could be done they had decided on the resolution which was adopted Monday evening. The resolution they offered was as follows:

Resolved, That a tax of $6,000 upon the taxable property in Union Free School District No. 1 in the town of Volney, county of Oswego, state of New York, is hereby voted, for the purpose of building a brick addition to the present Fourth street school house in said district, and the Board of Education are hereby directed to levy the moneys hereby voted by installments as follows: $2,000 on or about October 1, 1889, and $2,000 each and every year thereafter until the whole sum of said $6,000 shall have been levied."

The question was then discussed. Dr. C. G. Bacon, F. E. Bacon, President of the Board of Education and C. H. David each spoke earnestly in favor of the resolution and showed wherein it was an advantage that it be adopted. Mr. Merry thought it wrong to concentrate all the departments in one locality and therefore did not favor the resolution. He thought money should be expended on the State and Ontario streets buildings and the younger scholars placed in those buildings. S. N. Dada opposed the resolution stating as his reason that if the contemplated structure were built hopes for securing Falley Seminary for public school purposes would be adandoned for many years to come. He favored the building of a $3,000 wooden structure for present use in hopes that the seminary in a few years might be on the market and possibly secured.

After further discussion the resolution was put by the chairman. On a rising vote 96 voted for and only six against. Many did not vote as it was evident that the resolution was carried. The plans and specifications of this new addition were drawn by N. Dillenbeck, architect, Syracuse. It is to be made of brick with two stories and a basement and will be located and added to the north part of the present building. The size will be 68 by 44 ft. and will contain four rooms on each floor. Those on the second floor corresponding with the ones on the first floor, the sizes of the rooms being 23x32ft. 8 in.; 23x31ft. 8 in.; 23x23ft. 6 in. and 15x21ft. In addition to these rooms are the halls, cloak rooms, closets, &c. The plans and specifications call for a structure modern in its arrangements and one that will be a credit to the village in every particular.

CONSOLIDATION.

The Fulton—Schuyler Electric Light Co. Absorbed by the Thomson-Houston.

It was stated in The Times last week that indications pointed to a consolidation of some sort between the two rival electric light companies which have operated in Fulton for the past two years.

The fight between these companies has been long and bitter, working to the pecuniary disadvantage of both companies and consequently to the advantage of the village, which for the past year has had its streets lighted at $82.98 for each arc light, a cheaper figure, we think, than any other place in the country.

The stock of the Fulton-Schuyler company has been divided into 330 shares with a par value of $23 per share. A large portion of this has been held by local stockholders. Representatives of the Thomson-Houston Co. some ten days or more since made a contract for 170 shares or a majority of the stock. An offer was also made to take all stock that might be offered at its par value $23 per share. On Monday, April 1st, 293 of the 330 shares were transfered from the Fulton—Schuyler stockholders of the representatives of the Thomson-Houston company. 37 shares is till held by eleven of the Fulton-Schuyler stockholders.

The meeting of the Fulton-Schuyler Co. called for April 13 will of course result in the adoption of a resolution to consolidate with the Thomson-Houston.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 2

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Meat and everything else [illegible]

First-Class Market.

[illegible] Woodruff and the stock to [illegible] LaPointe.

The Mora Comedy Co. are giving excellent performances at the opera house every evening this week to good houses thus far.

S. V. Wise is building a dwelling house at the corner of Fifth and State streets. Dwelling houses are going up fast in that locality.

Lost—Will the boy who found a black silk umbrella on Oneida St. Sunday afternoon please bring it to Wm. Sylvester's Grocery Store.

C. E. Chappell with his family have moved here from Baldwinsville, and now occupies the Dyer house, on Buffalo street, opposite the park, which he has rented of F. E. Goodjon.

The ladies of Zion church will hold ther annual apron sale at Church's Hall on April 30 and May 1st. On the evening of April 30 a Washington Centennial supper will be given in the hall.

Mrs. LaDuke has moved her dressmaking rooms from above the Vienna bakery to the store on Cayuga street next east of the opera house. S. J. Parmiter has moved his model shop into the rooms which she has vacated.

The body of Paul Pilky of Hinmanville, was found in the Oswego river between that place and Phœnix on Friday. He left home on Thursday to go to Phœnix, and it is believed he walked into the river.

President Case of the village of Oswego Falls, will hold over for another year. It will be remembered that at the recent charter election there the candidates for president each had 180 votes, a tie.

The Observer states that Henry Weed has purchased of James Langdon the lot next to Mrs. Swan's, at Lower Oswego Falls and will erect thereon a fine dwelling. He paid $1,200 for the lot which extends to the river. Amos Langdon has the contract for building the house.

An exciting runaway occurred on First street, Monday afternoon. A five-year-old colt belonging to a farmer living near Bowens Corners got loose from where it was hitched and dashed up First street. No great amount of damage was done. It ran into a barn above the bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sears of Putnam, Washington county, George Lincoln of Norwich, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bradford and daughter of Phœnix, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Sears of Pennellville, Mrs. E. Lincoln of Oswego and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradford and son of Ingells Crossing are all visiting at Alexander Bradford's on Cayuga street.

F. G. Weeks of Skaneateles, N. Y., is in the city arranging to supply S. W. Laney of the Ithaca Paper Company with wood pulp. Mr. Weeks began by making one ton of paper a day. His mills at Skaneateles and Fulton now produce 14 tons of paper and seven of pulp daily. Mr. Weeks is of the opinion that it is only a question of time when Syracuse will acquire Skaneateles lake as its water supply.—Ithaca Journal.

The funeral of H. N. Sabin was held from his late residence on Buffalo street on Saturday afternoon where a large number of sorrowing friends collected to pay the last solemn rites to the memory of the one that had so long been resident in Fulton. Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiated at the funeral and C. S. Eggleston, A. Hanna, J. D. Lasher, C. H. David, S. B. Whitaker and Prof. B. G. Clapp acted as pall bearers.

The Girls' Mission Band of the M. E. church kindly took upon themselves the pleasant task of furnishing a bell for Grace chapel. A social was held under their auspices for this purpose. Mr. Harry Comstock was present. He became so interested in this matter, that unsolicited and moved by his own generosity he has ordered and presented a fine toned bell to the mission band. The bell has arrived. It is a beauty. It will be on exhibition at Robert Phillips' drug store. The money raised by the girls at the social is now in their hands and will be used with other money added to furnish the interior of the chapel.

Hart keeps every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. Try it and you will be well pleased. 44tf

[illegible] by Prof. [illegible] were numerous which lengthened the program and made it doubly interesting.

Y. M. C. A. [illegible]

The first annual meeting of the Fulton Y. M. C. A. was held in the rooms in the Grand Central block on Wednesday evening of last week and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

F. E. Bacon, president; J. L. Dixon, vice-president; C. W. Streeter, treasurer; William S. Royce, secretary.

The following named persons are elected a board of directors: F. E. Bacon, F. E. Goodjon, E. R. Redhead, J. J. Colt, C. C. Benedict, W. S. Royce, C. W. Streeter, F. P. Faulkner, J. L. Dixon, Thomas Diamond, Lyman Ballard.

"Long May It Wave."

Mr. Geo. C. Cooper, state agent of Michigan, for the Firemen's Fund Insurance Co., of San Francisco, Cal., in sending his annual subscription to The Times writes:

Editor Fulton Times

I enclose post office order for $1.35 due on subscription. Long may it wave. It gives us great pleasure to receive the news from an old home and I would not be without it for any price.
Yours Very Truly,
Geo. C. Cooper.

Stockholders' Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of The Fulton-Schuyler Electric Light Co., of Fulton, N. Y., is hereby called to be held at the Law Office of H. E. Nichols, in the Village of Fulton, N. Y., on April 13th instant at 1:30 o'clock, p. m.

G. C. Webb, Sec'y.

Dated April 2d, 1889. 47w2

Dissolution.

The firm of Snow & Loomis is this day dissolved by mutual consent, A. J. Snow having purchased the interest of Jas. R. Loomis in the business, and assumed all the liabilities of the concern. The continuing partner is authorized to receipt for all debts due the late firm.

(Signed) A. J. Snow,
" J. R. Loomis.

Fulton, N. Y., April 1st, 1889.

There has recently been some fast driving over the two bridges and I hereby announce that unless it is stopped the fine of $10 will be enforced. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Frank Wright,
Com. of Highways.

Wanted—A position as type setter. Address R., care Times Office, Fulton, N. Y.

Dust Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S.

Removal.

The undersigned having moved his stock of Groceries and Provisions into the store (lately occupied by Mrs. Robinson) in the opera house block. Will be glad to welcome his old customers, and as many new ones as choose to call. My motto, best goods and low prices to cash buyers. I can and will save you money. Call and be convinced. Frank S. Russell.

Fulton, April 1, 1889.

Is Marriage a Failure?—Not if you buy your coal of Hart. 44tf

Ask your Grocer for Master Soap. tf

New Goods. The latest ideas in Glassware at 46tf Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co's.

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

Canned Corn 4c. per can
46tf at SYLVESTER'S,

Immense stock of Wagons and Carriages just received at Bristol's; prices low, quality of goods high; Terms easy. 45tf.

You may not be pleased with the Harrison Cabinet but you will be pleased with Master Soap. 44tf

Just arrived from the Mines, a car load of each, No. 4 and Pea coal, very nice, clean and bright, for Hart. 44tf

[illegible]

Robert [illegible], son of Wesley McCarty, has been temporarily [illegible]

E. W. Barbour has been appointed postmaster at [illegible] and R. B. Knowlton at [illegible] Centre.

Mrs. Cornelia Eyres, who was recently tried for the murder of her infant and acquitted is now in the insane asylum at Mexico.

Frank French who has been in Wilcox's market for nearly three years is now engaged by W. S. Crandall in his market and grocery.

The Church piano key leveler is being manufactured at the knife works at Phœnix. Work was commenced on the same last Thursday.

Ex-Supervisor George N. Salisbury of Sandy Creek, has been appointed Forestry Commissioner. He is the only Republican on the commission.

The Right Reverend F. D. Huntington, Bishop of Central New York, will hold a confirmation service at Zion church, at 7:30 Tuesday evening, April 9th.

John A. Blakeman of South Granby recently purchased a lot of Amos Wolever, at the corner of State and Sixth streets and is preparing to build a dwelling house on it.

The work of building the foundation for "Grace Mission" is now going on under charge of Ed. Abbey. When completed the wood work will commence under the supervision of Geo. J. Emeny.

James H. Brooks, recently of Rochester, has leased the store at the corner of First street and Broadway, formerly occupied by Russell & Son and opens it to-day with a fine and entirely new line of groceries.

Officer Ed. Jones and Ed. Quirk went out beyond Gilberts Mills yesterday where they expected to find George Jennings, the party suspected of taking the horse belonging to Geo. Brown from Quirk's sheds. They did not find him but are still on his trail.

Hugh McKiernan is rapidly disposing of his second car load of Lister's Success Phosphate. All those desiring any can for the next few days secure it from the car on Second street and get the benefit of cartage on the same.

Albert Kelly, owner of the farm at "High Banks" about three miles up the river, has leased the same and purchased Edwin Foster's new house on Third street. Mr. Foster has rented the Hewitt house on Buffalo street.

The case of the Mt. Pleasant farmer, John Dugan charged with forging and disposing of a promisory note for $300 to C. G. Jones of Oswego, was adjourned until April 5th. He is out on bail, Mr. Jones being one of the bondsmen.

Rev. B. Brunning will commence his second pastorate in the Universalist church in this village on Sunday next. His subject for morning will be, "What For?" and in the evening, "And Peter." He will be pleased of course, to meet many of his old friends at either or both meetings.

A most remarkable formation of ice could be seen on the canal this week. It had frozen over in places making symmetrical figures resembling pond lilies and was examined and wondered at by a large number of persons that saw it. A number of ladies expressed the thought that it was an excellent design for a crazy quilt.

C. D. Lathrop, of the Syracuse Standard office, has been appointed to write a history of the Alethean literary society, to accompany the forthcoming report of the Falley Seminary re-union. He finds the society's records missing except for its last three years. Any Alethean who knows the whereabouts of the earlier records will confer a favor and serve the cause by informing Mr. Lathrop on this point, or by communicating facts within his own recollection.

Leave orders for Green, the paper hanger, at C. S. Eggleston's. 47tf

[illegible] President, [illegible] 1st assistant, [illegible] Foreman of [illegible] 1st assistant, Charles [illegible] 2d assistant, L. C. [illegible] Secretary, J. R. [illegible] Wardens, E. Sykes and J. R. Fairchild; Delegates, Chas. Tucker, John Hannifield, E. Sykes.

STEAMER NO. 2 AND [illegible] HOSE CO.

President, C. C. Benedict; Vice-President, Edward Briggs; Foreman Steamer, W. J. Lovejoy; 1st assistant, M. F. Conlon; 2d assistant, James Briggs; Foreman Hose, Fred Van Buren; 1st assistant, Charles Sweet; 2d assistant, Patrick Bavey. Secretary, L. C. Foster; Treasurer, Daniel Roach; Wardens, M. F. Crahan and W. J. Lovejoy; Delegates, William Stowe, Robert Stowe, James Briggs.

HOOK AND LADDER CO.

Foreman, Fred Gardner; assistant foreman, Will Hutchins; Secretary and Treasurer, James Taylor; Property clerk, C. C. Hewes; Wardens, Job Bennett, C. C. Hewes; delegates, Charles Rodd, James Taylor, Fred Gardner.

SHARP HOSE NO. 3.

President, Geo. Gardner; Vice-President Carl Pilch; Secretary, Wm. G. Bennett; Treasurer, Robt. L. McCully; Foreman, Fred G. Hewitt, 1st assistant, Chas. Wise; 2d assistant, Geo. Smith; property clerk, Wm. G. Bennett; Wardens, A. L. Goman; Delegates, Fred G. Hewitt, J. R. Waugh.

Delegates to elect Chief Engineer and Assistants will meet to-morrow at 2 p. m.

The annual meeting of the department will be held at the engine house at 7 p. m. Friday.

Y. M. C. A.

The first anniversary of the Y. M. C. A. in this village was appropriately celebrated last Sunday. In the morning General Secretary George A. Hall of New York, preached an eloquent sermon in the Methodist church and Mr. St John of Rochester, in the Congregational church in Oswego Falls. In the afternoon at the Baptist church, Mr St John and Rev. Mr. Hall made addresses. In the evening at the Presbyterian church a union services were held, F. E. Bacon, President of the Association presiding. The opening hymn was sung by Messrs. Gilbert, Goodjon, Colt, Allen, Foster, Buck and Hodges, Mrs. C. K. Howe at the piano. Rev. W. Dempster Chase read the scripture and Rev. Charles Olmstead offered prayer. The reports of the different committees of the association were then read F. P. Connell read the report of the furnishing committee, W. F. Buck that of the reception committee, Secretary Bauder gave his report and made some practical suggestions. President F. E. Bacon reported the general outlook for the year to come. C. W. Streeter, as treasurer, then read an interesting statistical report, stating that the association had received from contributions, subscriptions and other resources the sum of $1,341.20, while the expenditures and incidental expenses amounted to $1,224.90, leaving a splendid balance in the treasury of $116.30. Rev. George A. Hall then gave an interesting address during which he stated that the Y. M. C. A. was first organized by George A. Williams in London, England in 1844 in a small room in a warehouse. From this small beginning it had spread until now it encircled the globe, there being over 4,000 associations and a membership of over 300,000 young men.

The Fulton and Oswego Falls Association has a membership of 141. An important addition being the Women's Auxiliary which renders much assistance to the society.

TALLY HO Baking Powder 12 cents per lb at SYLVESTER'S

We have just received new Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets which we will sell at rock bottom prices. Call and see them if you want bargains,
46tf Mrs. J. C. Tucker & Co.

If you are going a fishing call on W. C. Tucker. He has the largest assortment in town and his prices are the lowest. 46t3.

Don't fail to see all of the nobby styles of Wall Paper at 46tf M. M. Williams'.

Chocolate creams at 25cts per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Then you can and will trade with Peebles & Co. Good [illegible] should never be wasted on bad bargains so we offer a strong inducement to induce you to

Put Good Money

Into Good Goods in the shape of Cheap Choice Clothing. N. B.—We do not offer You "Choice Cheap" Clothing. Our Clothing is Choice first, and Cheap afterward.

PEEBLES & CO

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Furniture & Undertaking.

We offer the Largest Stock of

FURNITURE

ever shown in Fulton and at prices

Below all Competition.

A Full Line of

Window Shades, Cheap

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholstering.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN.

Times Block.

To Rent—One Double House on Third Street. Also office over No. 6, First Street. Enquire of
D. C. Draper.

Houses For Sale or Rent—Situate on 1st, 2d and 7th streets. Also for sale Choice Building Lots on 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th and other streets. Payments on instalment plan or cash as purchaser may desire.
47w4 W. S. Nelson, Agt.

For Sale—A row boat in first class condition. For particulars inquire of Morris Whitaker at News Room. tf

For Sale.—Five and one-half acres of good land inside of No. 2 school district on Sixth street. Easy terms. Enquire of Morgan Roberts. 45tf

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

Stephens Opera House.

ONE WEEK!
And Saturday Matinee.
COMMENCING

Monday, April 1, 1889!

The Comedy Sunbeam,

"MORA"

Supported by Fred Williams' birds of a feather in the following attractive Repertoire:

Wednesday—A Mountain Pink.
Thursday—Fire Fly,
Friday—The Little Devil's Share.
Saturday—The Little Detective,
Saturday Afternoon—Velvet and Rags.

Admisson 10 and 20 cents. Reserved Seats 30 cts. now on sale at Watson's.

1889. 1889.

IN EARNEST

MILTON S. PRICE,

Salina and Clinton Sts.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

DRY GOODS,

CARPETS,

Furniture and Curtain Draperies.

For years I have been in the habit of making my Spring and Fall Announcement in the columns of this paper. No doubt my great establishment has been visited by many of its readers, so that it will be of no use to give a description of my great stores.

I will emphatically say, that this is to be the banner year.

I am proud of the selections made by my corps of buyers for the Spring Season of 1889.

THE STOCK OF
DRY GOODS AND FANCY GOODS
Is the Largest in the City.

CARPETS!

The Acknowledged Headquarters for Carpets.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies

From the best makers in the Eastern and Western markets. The stock of Curtain Draperies is perfectly grand.

Those wishing to purchase Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture and Curtain Draperies will be well repaid by coming to Syracuse and making a thorough inspection of my stock. I feel confident that there will be no trouble in making selections, and the prices at which I am offering goods this season cannot but meet with public favor.

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

CARPETS, CARPETS, CARPETS.

CURTAINS! CURTAINS! CURTAINS!

We are having a Great Sale on these goods, and the cause is very apparent. We have the Largest Stock to select from and our prices are below all others. It requires no expert to sell our goods, the quality and price speak for themselves. Remember the place,

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

(Successors to F. E. Bacon.)

Just Received. Get Our Price.

THE FUL[illegible]N TIMES.

TWENTY-FIRST YEAR.

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show [illegible] Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 21—NUMBER 48

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., [illegible]DAY, APRIL 10, 1889.

Single Copies Three Cents

My Jim.

BY WM. S. [illegible]

See that little critter thar
With red ha'r?
Freckled-face and hooked nose,
Wearin' some of my old clothes,
Humbly 'nough to stop a clock;
Head as hard as any rock—
See him?
That's Jim.

He's my boy, 'nd twelve year old;
Good as gold.
Thunderin' lonesome spot out here
Ain't a neighbor nowhar near.
But the woman, she's all right
In the day or in the night.
With him,
My Jim.

Scare him? Well, he I must say
Ain't built that way.
'Tother day came along a tramp,
Hulkin', double-jinted scamp.
'Lowed he'd camp right then and thar
And eat all they had to spar;
Eyed him
Did Jim.

Women's dilikit, you know,
Long been so.
Tramp he ordered her aroun',
Cussed, 'nd swore up hill and down,
Eatin' wuss his wust intent.
But no matter whar he went,
With him
Went Jim.

Women scairt almost to death,
Gasped fur breath.
Tramp was havin' all the fun,
Jim slipped out 'nd got my gun
Out from under the back stair,
Rested it across a chair.
Looked grim
Did Jim.

Gun was biggist of the tu,
I tell you.
When the tramp came toward him Jim
Drew a level bead on him.
Pulled both triggers "crack! bang! bang!"
Through the house like thunder rang
Plugged him
Did Jim.

Perforated that ar' blimmer
Like a skimmer
Loaded up the gun agin.
Stood on guard outside the door
Ready for a dozen more
Just him,
My Jim.

Had to git the Cor'n'r down
From the town.
Jim remarked he "had to shoot,
Or be killed by that galoot;"
Cor'ner's verdict, "Served him right,"
Then he held a dollar bright
To him
My Jim!

Did he take it? What, my Jim!
That's not him
Oughter heard the critter say,
Straight'nin' up hisself this way,
'I ain't shootin' folks fur pay!'
Bless him,
My Jim!

—N. Y. World.

HOW PAPA'S HEAD WAS CUT.

I saw her little round face at the window as I drew near the house. Her nose was pressed against the pane and her chubby cheeks glowed redly like an apple flushed with ripeness. A dancing light came into her eyes when she saw me and a smile lit up her face that made the dimples deeper. Then she tried to kiss me through the window and slapped the jealous glass with her fat hand when she found that it was a crystal barrier between us.

Look out for the bandage? Oh, yes; I had forgoten it Doctor. That was a nasty rap, wasn't it? Oh, about the baby. Just 14 months old yesterday. Come here, you little witch and see your pop. Now kiss the Doctor, too. Her lips are as red and soft as the petals of a Jack rose. No, no, Bessie; you musn't pull the Doctor's watch out of his pocket. That's naughty. Now sit still on the Doctor's knee while I tell him how your papa cut his head.

"When I came into the house we had a romp, as usual, I sat her on my shoulders and we played horse. No, no, baby; don't pull that pin out of the Doctor's scarf! He'll put you on the floor if you don't stop! Then we had tea and she upset the sugar bowl and cut her thumb with the table knife. It isn't well yet, is it, baby? Never mind; it will heal in a few days.

"After tea the child's mother went out to make a call, and the baby and I were left alone. I showed her the picture books, and in every cut of a face she saw her papa, and every animal was alluded to as a "kittie." Her blue eyes opened wide with wonder when I imitated the quacking of a duck and the barking of a dog. When she got tired and slid off my lap and went toddling over the floor to the door, which had been left ajar by her mother. By the time I reached the hall she was halfway up the stairs leading to the second floor, and a gleeful, rippling laugh was bubbling over her lips at her escape. When I picked her up she set up a howl of dismay, and so I put down upon the stairs again, and got below her on the stairway, so that if she fell I could catch her.

"This went on for a few minutes and then she toddled off to explore the mysteries in the parlor hallway. The gas was burning brightly, and she amused herself with the hat rack and [illegible] the umbrellas around until this [illegible] her taste.

"When you get tired of holding her, Doctor, just put her on the floor. [illegible] She'll break [illegible]

[illegible] flight of [illegible]. We [illegible] ba- [illegible] and she was as happy as a kitten with a ball of yarn. We had reached the top of the stairs and I was about to carry her down so that she could climb up again, when there came a knock at the area door. The [illegible] 'Hark!' in that [illegible]. Just then, Doc[illegible] me.

[illegible] which my wife had bought after she had left the school, I stopped at the foot of the stairs, and hearing no sound, I assumed that the child was all right. That was one of the biggest mistakes I ever made. The boy was slow in his movements, and it was fully three minutes before he had taken all the groceries from his basket. I went to the door to look it after him, when I was startled by the boy running back and saying:

"'Is that your baby, sir?'

"In the meantime we had both stepped into the front yard. The boy pointed upward, and there, standing on the window-sill, with her hands clasping the bottom of the sash just above her corn silk hair, stood that child on your knee.

"She's getting troublesome, Doctor, I'm afraid. You'd better put her down. No! All right, then. The street lamp cast a bright glow of light into the yard, and as she leaned outward—just think of it, Doctor!—leaned outward and looked down, she saw me and laughed out, "Pa-pa, pa-pa," with that curious way she has of lingering on the syllables.

"It was as if I had been struck with apoplexy, Doctor. The street, the buildings, the baby and grocer's boy all swam before my eyes like misty, unreal things. Then my vision cleared again, and I stepped quickly under the window and raised my hands toward the baby.

"I'm not a praying man, Doctor; that is, I hadn't been up till this time. But I think those two words of entreaty which shot from behind my clenched teeth must have struck the gate of heaven like a minie ball. As calmly as I could I said to the grocer boy:

"'Run up stairs and catch her. I'll stand here in case she falls!'

"All the while my little one stood there in the window, laughing and calling her papa. I tried to chirrup to her, but the words died in my throat. I can see her now when I close my eyes, outlined against the light in the room behind her, with a smile upon her lips, and when I think of it there comes that icy coldness about my heart that I felt that night.

"It seemed an age before I heard that blundering boy flounder into the room with a crash that startled the baby. She gave one frightened glance over her shoulder, let go her hold upon the sash, and fell. The thoughts of it made my muscles harden and my pulses thrill at this moment, Doctor. I braced myself and—and—caught her. Then I fell senseless upon the pavement.

"I think I must have struck the fence with my head, and that's how I got that wound. Well, when I came to my senses I was laying on the lounge, with my wife crying over me and that little rascal on your knee tugging at my hand and saying:

"Pa-pa, dit up an' play wif baby!"

"Hurt! Not a hair of her golden head injured, thank God!"

"Do you believe in a special providence, Doctor? Well, we won't discuss such a big subject as that now; my head's aching again. About a week, you think, eh? Well, that ain't as bad as it might be; still, for an active man, its pretty hard. Good-by."—New York Sun.

WARNER'S Log Cabin Remedies—old-fashioned, simple compounds, used in the days of our hardy forefathers, are "old timers" but "old reliable." They comprise a

Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla,

"Hops and Buchu Remedy," "Cough and Consumption Remedy," "Hair Tonic," "Extract," for External and Internal Use, "Plasters," "Rose Cream," for Catarrh, and "Liver Pills." They are put up by H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's Safe Remedies, and promise to equal the standard value of those great preparations. All druggists keep them.

The Value of Spare Minutes.

Madame De Genlis composed several charming volumes while waiting in the school-room for the tardy princes to whom she gave daily lessons.

Dagnesseau, one of the chancellors of France, wrote an able and bulky work in the successive interval of waiting for dinner.

Elihu Burritt, earning his living as a blacksmith, learned eighteen languages and 22 dialects by simply improving his spare "spare moments."

A celebrated physician in London translated Lucretius while riding in his carriage upon his daily rounds.

Dr Darwin composed nearly all his works in the same way, writing down his thoughts in a memorandum book, which he carried for the purpose.

Kirk White also learned Greek while walking to and from a lawyer's office.

And yet there are hundreds of Christians, and many of them young, who cannot find time to read a single chapter in the Bible each day.

Spring Medicine.

The necessity of a spring medicine is almost universally admitted. And the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose becomes more and more widely known every year. That power to purify the blood, and those elements of strength and health which the system craves, and to which it is so susceptible at this season, are possessed by this peculiar medicine, in a [illegible] degree. Scrofula, pimples, boils, or any humor, [illegible] dyspepsia, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, or [illegible] [illegible]

A Famous Battle-Ground.

On the banks of the Tippecanoe, a small stream which enters the Wabash river in Indiana, was fought the terrific battle of Tippecanoe.

In this great struggle of frontier times, the allied western Indians under the chieftainship of Elkwatawa, the "Prophet" were defeated in November, 1811, by the Americans under the command of Gen. Wm. H. Harrison.

It was a desperate, hard fought battle, and much depended upon the result.

Had the Indians been successful, all barriers of defence for the early settlers would have been overthrown and the deadly tomahawk would have been active in the rapid extermination of the remaining pioneers. On the other hand the fortunate termination of the contest put an end to further attempts at open warfare by the Indians. The rich territory, so long over-run by hostile savages, was thrown open for settlement, which rapidly occurred as soon as the news of the great victory became widespread.

Naturally great praise was rendered to the success and intrepid bravery of Gen. Harrison and he was honored in many ways. He afterward served as Commander of the Army of the North-west, and when Indiana was admitted to statehood, he was selected to represent the state in the United States Senate. In 1840 he was elected President and his unfortunate demise occurred shortly after being inaugurated.

The forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Tippecanoe found the gallant grandson of "Old Tip" leading his forces to a great political victory which resulted in the selection of Gen. Ben. Harrison as President of the United States.

The Harrisons have been a hardy race of men, sprung from old log cabin stock, which is a sufficient guarantee of its genuineness wherever found. Realizing the truth of this, great effort has been made to rediscover some of the secrets contained in the old log cabin stock of the useful articles, and as the result, the famous Old Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, universally regarded as the best spring tonic and blood cleanser, has been found. Not satisfied with the world wide esteem which is held for Warner's Safe Cure, the only cure for kidney diseases, the proprietor is willing to do all that is possible to establish Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla as foremost among household articles on account of its purity and effectiveness.

After all, each individual has, at all times, the great battle of life or death to fight and for security attention must necessarily be given to the best weapons which science can offer humanity in the great contest.

The American Girl.

The New York World has offered a prize of a gold double-eagle to the person who will write in 200 words the best description of the typical American girl. The following is one of a great number of communications received. We wonder how many of our girls will recognize themselves in the description:

She is exceedingly jaunty and pretty.
Very intelligent, quick and witty;
Cannot be easily awed or abashed,
Sat down on, crushed or otherwise "mashed."
Always dresses to look as well as she can (Also so as to look like a man).
A little extravagant, perhaps in her taste.
But not at all about the waist.
She will marry a duke to be a duchess,
Or else off with her father's coachman rushes;
Has also a great weakness for ugly pugs,
Easter bonnets, ice cream and jeweled bugs.
She can do more talking to the square inch,
Wear tighter shoes that "never pinch,"
Carry a large tournure with greater ease
Than any of her sisters over the seas.
If it so happens she is obliged to work,
You will find in her no lazy shirk.
Independent ever as "Pigs in Clover."
You'll not find her equal the wide world over
She is brave if a burglar gets in the house,
But faints at the sight of a very small mouse.
A delicate soupcon of slang she uses,
Which, if it doesn't instruct, at least amuses
Does she flirt? Well, I suppose, some,
And, oh, ye gods, can't she chew gum!

The Common Lot.

There is a place no love can reach,
There is a time no voice can teach,
There is a chain no power can break,
There is a sleep no power can wake.

Sooner or later the time will arrive, that place will wait for your coming, that chain must bind you in helpless death, that sleep must fall on your senses. But thousands every year go untimely to their fate, and thousands more lengthen out their days by heedful timely care. For the failing strength, the weakening organs, the wasting blood, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful restorative and a prolonger of strength and life. It purifies the blood and invigorates the system, thereby fortifying it against disease. Of druggists.

A Smart Girl.

They have some pretty smart girls up in Pennsylvania. One of them has just eloped from Latonia with a legless man. Whenever we hear that a girl has eloped with a legless man we yearn to publish our commendation of her exceeding good judgment. Such a man can never kick her out of bed for putting her cold feet on his'n.—Washington Post.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all [illegible]

BALLOT REFORM.

HOW MANY EXPERIMENTS THE ENGLISH PEOPLES HAVE TRIED.

First Viva Voce, and Consequent "Intimidation"—Then Ballots with Bribery, "Stuffing" and "Repeating"—The Rhines System by Typewriting—Indiana Law.

Ever since voting by ballot began there has been more or less talk of "ballot reform," and the need of it has confessedly grown so great in the United States within a few years past that a few old men in the west have raised their voices in favor of a return to the system of their youth, namely, "voting by word of mouth." In Kentucky plenty of old men can remember when the principal candidates sat by the poll clerks in the larger towns, and when a voter announced his choice the favored candidate bowed with old time grace and thanked him for his vote. In Great Britain and Ireland this viva voce system prevailed till quite a recent period, but like nearly all the general laws on the relations of persons it had to be abolished on account of the peculiar condition in Ireland.

RHINES SYSTEM—TOP OF BOX.

Thirty years ago or more the visitor to any good sized market town in Ireland on election day, might have seen more than one curious caravan filing in from the country; in front, on his blooded roadster, was the rosy and often ponderous landlord; behind him several vans or farm wagons fitted for riding, and behind and on either flank outriders to see that nobody slipped away. It was the noble landlord bringing in his "free and independent tenants" to vote! In many instances the whole gang would be intoxicated. Of course the tenant was "intimidated," and so voting by ballot had to be introduced, and then arose another evil scarcely less than intimidation. But as to buying votes, of course "the other side began it" and so "our side had to" or suffer a disadvantage. The expense finally became so enormous—for the voters were massed in clubs with agents authorized to contract for the vote of the whole club—that all parties had to combine and limit the amount a candidate might spend besides still further securing the secrecy of the ballot, and Great Britain is just now in the middle of that experiment.

The English speaking people have in various parts of the world tried almost every conceivable scheme of suffrage and balloting, and the states of the American Union have in turn improved upon the experience. Just at present the drift is toward the Australian system and several states are debating or have adopted some modification of it. This system involves three important things: The voting is in an inclosure where no "heelers," "workers" or "boodlers" can get within fifty or one hundred feet of the voter, the ballots are all printed by the government, so there can be no trickery in that line, and finally the voter must exercise some intelligence if he succeeds in voting his wishes. The annexed cut will give a fair idea of the recesses (derisively called "bathhouse booths") to which the voter retires to do his "scratching." If he cannot read a clerk sworn to secrecy must fix his ballot for him. And this is substantially the system lately adopted in Indiana and explained below.

RHINES SYSTEM—REAR VIEW OF COMPARTMENT.

The greatest novelty, however, is the Rhines system, voting with a typewriter, now under discussion in Michigan and described in The Buffalo News. The projectors claim that this has all the secrecy of the Australian system, is just as cheap and convenient, and counts the votes as they go in, and they explain it in these words:

> After an elector has been found to be entitled to vote he goes to the compartment in which the voting machine is standing. He sees before him a box with a cover. Raising the cover, which sounds a bell, a number of rows of keys or buttons are disclosed. Each row represents some one party, and each row is of a different color. On the face of each key is the name of the candidate, while on the side of the key is the name of the office.
>
> The voter presses a button and it remains down. It has pressed against a roll of paper underneath, making a clear mark of a figure, which figure is the total number of votes that particular candidate up to that time has received. He does this with as many candidates as he wishes to vote for, each vote being recorded in the same manner. When he has voted he shuts down the lid of the machine, the keys are released and the box is ready for the next voter. When the last vote is polled the machine has faithfully recorded and counted every vote, and it only remains for the inspectors to announce the result.

Of course there are many precautions against fraud and "repeating." The bill presented in the Michigan legislature provides that each candidate shall pay his share of the expense: For the secretary of state, $30; for a county clerk, $20; and so on down the grade. Also for different machines for state, county and congressional and presidential elector tickets, and for screens to hide the machine while the voter is typing down his choice. In each compartment is this big notice:

THE AUSTRALIAN SYSTEM.

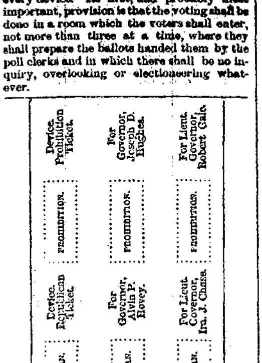
> Raise the cover and voter having voted, close it. Do not open or close the cover [illegible]

Now there is one serious objection to all these schemes [illegible]

[illegible] was now not permitted [illegible] were allowed to vote any [illegible] they saw fit, and many [illegible] getting the receipts [illegible] in the box. One well known [illegible] voted a memorandum for [illegible] handed him by his wife. In those [illegible] judges put in whatever the voters handed in, and returned to the owner any private paper found in the box. Written tickets continued in very general use till [illegible] then the fashion of having party tickets [illegible] came into notice. During [illegible] and the few years following this [illegible] became a great abuse. Republican [illegible] red-white-and-blue, and Democratic [illegible] spangled all over with flags, [illegible] and other emblems.

[illegible] was "reformed" by a law that all [illegible] white paper, and [illegible] by varying the size and shape. Then the legislature prescribed the exact length, breadth and thickness of the paper; there were to be no distinguishing marks whatever and between each name and the following there must be room for the "scratcher" to write in other names. This brought in the ingenious "paster." Each candidate had his workers at each polling place with little slips arranged in "books" and nicely gummed for the "scratcher" who did not want to be recognised by his handwriting, to paste over the other fellow's name on the regular party ticket. And so the law continued till this year.

But now bribery came in and beat all laws. In 1868 it began to be whispered that "money was used at elections." In 1872 it became a certainty. In 1876 the bribery was notorious, and in 1880 worse still. So a new law became a necessity; and the Hon. Mr. Andrews has exhausted the resources of statesmanship in compiling a statute to meet every device. Its first, and probably most important, provision is that the voting shall be done in a room which the voters shall enter, not more than three at a time, where they shall prepare the ballots handed them by the poll clerks and in which there shall be no inquiry, overlooking or electioneering whatever.



Device. Prohibition Ticket.	For Governor, Joseph D. Hughes.	For Lieut. Governor, Robert Gale.
PROHIBITION.	PROHIBITION.	PROHIBITION.
Device. Republican Ticket.	For Governor, Alvin P. Hovey.	For Lieut. Governor, Ira J. Chase.
REPUBLICAN.	REPUBLICAN.	REPUBLICAN.
Device. Democratic Ticket.	For Governor, Courtland C. Matson.	For Lieut. Governor, William R. Myers.
DEMOCRATIC.	DEMOCRATIC.	DEMOCRATIC.

All ballots are to be printed according to the form shown above, by public authority, those of the state on red tinted paper, those of the county on plain white; the box for state tickets is in like manner, red, and that for county and local tickets white. The judges and clerks are to be of different parties as now, the inspector the regular township trustee. All the names of all the candidates are on one ticket, which will necessarily be a sort of handbill affair; and the act goes so far as to specify that the first column on the left shall contain the names of Democratic candidates, the next that of Republican, the next Prohibition and thereafter the candidates of any party which shall have cast 1 per cent. of the total vote at the previous election or proved its existence by petition, signed by a prescribed number of names.

The ballots are printed and preserved under most stringent regulations against theft; all the mutilated or doubtful are to be sealed in a bag and preserved by the county clerk, and all the others are to be burned as soon as the counting is complete. All those not used are to be burned. The voter has a booth to retire to while preparing his ballot (by striking out names he does not vote) and if he cannot read a clerk may do it for him under bond of secrecy. The penalties prescribed are severe: anywhere from three months to ten years' imprisonment and fines from $100 upward. And there are over 100 specific regulations as to what "must not be."

J. Lowrie Bell.

J. Lowrie Bell, the newly appointed superintendent of the railway mail service, has been in the railroad business all his life. They say that what he don't know about railroads isn't worth knowing. He was connected with the Philadelphia and Reading railroad for more than thirty years, and for ten years he was general traffic manager of the company. He was born in Reading, Pa., and is over 50 years of age. He was a lieutenant of the famous First regiment of Philadelphia during the war, and accompanied his command to the front in the Gettysburg campaign of 1863. Mr. Bell is a hard worker.

J. LOWRIE BELL.

Mrs. Polk, now 85 years old, wears black kid gloves all day and walks with a gold-headed cane. She never leaves Nashville nor goes anywhere in that town, except to church on Sunday.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never fails to cure. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40mw

The failures in the United States from January 1 number, 3,546, against 3,6[illegible] for the first three months last year.

[illegible]

NONE SUCH BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

Contains only Pure Grape Cream Tartar, Sweet Bicarbonate Soda, and a little Starch. Full weight, always uniform. Incomparable for strength, purity and wholesomeness. The most economical. Contains no Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Phosphate, or other impurity. "Safe for dyspeptics and invalids." Sold in cans only. Geo. [illegible], Mfr., Syracuse, N. Y.

Sacrificed to Education.

Let any candid person look at the classes assembled in our schools, seminaries and colleges, and say whether these girls look as young girls should? Where are the beauties for which we naturally look in dawning womanhood—the rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes, the free movements, the rounded forms? They are conspicuous by their absence! The girls are for the most part pale, dull-eyed and weary looking. They are flat chested and round shouldered. Here and there a blooming, rosy, "sonsy" girl makes the prevailing pallor and languor only more noticeable. How is this state of affairs to be counteracted? It is answered in the following: Give them iron, combined with other strengthening medicines of a harmless nature, which is true only of Austen's 51797, the Ladies' Prescription. Used in Oswego for the past ten years. Price 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

ELY'S CREAM BALM is SURE to CURE Cold in Head QUICKLY. Easy to Use.

CATARRH. ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD, CATARRH, ROSE-COLD, HAY-FEVER, DEAFNESS, HEADACHE. PRICE 50 CENTS. ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N. Y. U.S.A. HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists: by mail, registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

BONANZA to AGENTS SAMPLES FREE both sexes. Write now GEO. A. SCOTT, New York City

P & Q

PARLOA'S COOK BOOK.

Large Quarto. Lithographed Cover.
Over 100,000 Parloa Cook Books have been sold. Mailed on receipt of 30 cts by any bookseller, or ESTES & DATRIAT, Boston, Mass.

ACHING Sides and Back

[illegible] Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

KASKINE

(THE NEW QUININE.)

Good Cheer Instead of Despondency; Energy by Day, Sleep at Night, No Opium.

A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

Mrs. Caroline Austin, Astoria, N. Y., says: "Last winter I ran down so rapidly from malaria that I would faint away sitting in my chair. I heard Kaskine, the new Kaskine, the new quinine. Using it three weeks I was well."

W. F. Holcombe, M. D., late Prof. in New York Opth. Hospital and N. Y. Medical College, writes: "After five months use of Kaskine I cheerfully state that I have found it superior to quinine in its specific power, and entirely free from causing any disturbance to the hearing."

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

KASKINE CO. 168, Duane St., New York.

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,

Wholesale Dealers in

Liquors Wines Lager Beer

AND ALES.

Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE, OSWEGO,
CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO. OF SYRACUSE, and the
HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.
Our Wine List includes
CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet)
PORT, CLARET, MADERIA
AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES.
Sold in Bulk or Bottles.
Oneida Street, - - Fulton, N. Y.

SALESMEN WANTED [illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE.

Jeweler,

WATCHES CLOCKS

W. P. Osborne

—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

THE GLORY OF MAN STRENGTH VITALITY!

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood,

EXHAUSTED VITALITY UNTOLD MISERIES

Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation.

Avoid unskilful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL-COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

FARMS, BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South. J. F. MANCHA, Clairmont, Va.

DR. G. F. WHITNEY'S

New and Successful Method of Diagnosing and Treating Diseases. Patients treated right at their own homes with perfect success. The most difficult and complicated cases quickly and permanently relieved even after all other means have failed. Those desiring trial treatment should send full name, age, sex, weight and a brief history of illness and medicines, carefully prepared for the case, to last ten days will be sent them with the diagnosis. Terms $5 and 6c. postage. Address G. F. WHITNEY, M. D., Cleveland, O.

JAMES COLE,

The Old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

Change of Ownership

Having purchased of P. Cullen
the Market and Fixtures on
Oneida Street I desire to say
that I will keep on hand
the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains
to a
First-Class Market.
I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.
Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

SALESMEN WANTED

to canvass for the sale of Nursery [illegible] SALARY AND EXPENSES OR COM[illegible] [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

JANE BROADWELL,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.

All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.

JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, - Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.

All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

FREE

$85 Solid Gold Watch. Sold for $100, until lately. Best $85 watch in the world. Perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Heavy Solid Gold Hunting Cases. Both ladies' and gents' sizes, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free, together with our large and valuable line of Household Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send Free, and after you have kept them in your home for 2 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine.

I CURE FITS!

When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of

FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,

A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address

H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

INSURE IN THE
TRADERS & TRAVELERS
Accident Company,
287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

BENEFITS.
$5,000 for Death.
$5,000 Loss of Limbs.
$2,500 Loss of Limb.
$2,500 Loss of Sight.
$1,250 Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks.
One Set of Individual Registry Plates Included.

COST.
Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00
Annual Dues, - - - - 1.00
Membership Fee, 5.00. $11.00

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Traders & Travelers Accident Co. of New York desire the services of one responsible representative in each town to act as agent for the general transaction of their business. A liberal and permanent arrangement will be made with parties who can fill the above requirements. Address
C. C. SOMERVILLE, Sec'y.

BEST STEEL WIRE GALVANIZED. Woven Wire Fencing Wire Rope Selvage McMULLEN'S

80c TO $2 PER ROD.

All sizes and widths. Gates to match. Sold by your dealers in this line of goods. FREIGHT PAID. Information free. THE McMULLEN WOVEN WIRE FENCE CO., Nos. 116 & 120 N. Market St., Chicago, Ill.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH

PRICE 50 CTS.

IT IS THE BEST, EASIEST TO USE, & THE CHEAPEST.

Livery Stable.

Nathan Rowlee

At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with

Livery Rigs,

Of Every Description.

[illegible]
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Times' Block, - First Street.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGNER,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. B. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

THE base ball players who returned Sunday from their trip to Australia and Europe are being lionized in New York by enthusiasts. They were given a supper at Delmonico's Monday evening.

PHILO REMINGTON, formerly of the great gun making firm at Ilion, died at Ocala, Fla., on Thursday. This leaves but one survivor of the family that supplied the world with so many fire arms. That one is Eliphalet Remington.

COL. JOEL B. ERHARDT has been appointed collector at the custom house in New York in New York by the President in place of Mr. Magone. This is one of the offices that there is always a great struggle to secure. Col. Erhardt will assume charge next Monday.

ELLISON HATFIELD, now in the Pike county jail in Kentucky, has made a confession to being a participant in the murder of the three McKay brothers in a West Virginia school house. He also confesses implication in several other of the shocking tragedies which have marked the history of the famous Hatfield-McKay feud.

CORNELIUS VANCOTT has been appointed postmaster at New York city by President Harrison. Mr. VanCott was born in New York city in 1883. He was formerly vice-president of the Ætna Insurance Company of New York, is a director of the West Side Savings bank, was appointed Fire Commissioner in 1873 by Mayor Havemeyer, and was reappointed in 1879 by Mayor Cooper. He has always been a Republican politician and is president of the Lincoln club. At present he is the State Senator from the Eighth district.

50 Pieces of New Spring Dress Goods just opened,
J. C. O'BRIEN.

The new puzzle Pigs in Clover for sale at the 5 & 10cts. Store. 48w2

The Assistant Treasurer.

A curious misapprehension seems to exist regarding the Assistant Treasurership at New York to which Ellis H. Roberts has just been appointed. The place is belittled, and because "assistant" is tacked on to the title, people seem to fancy it isn't much of a place. As a matter of fact, the Collector of the Port is the only federal officer in New York who gets more salary than the assistant Treasurer. Mr. Roberts will have an $8,000 salary as Asistant Treasurer, while the Treasurer, of the United States gets only $6,000, and has about one-fourth as much cash under his control, and gives a correspondingly smalller bond. The cash in the sub-treasury at New York always exceeds that in the Treasury at Washington, and whenever an assistant Treasurer is appointed clerks have to be detached from Washington to help in making the count. Yes, Mr. Roberts has a mighty good thing and will have to give a whacking big bond—somelike $400,000.

A CURIOUS CASE.

Resulting From the Hiring of Two Teachers For the Same School.

A jury was drawn in county court this morning in the case of Libbie Ostrander vs. Thomas Carvey, jr., trustee of district 16, town of Volney. Giles S. Piper and Arvin Rice appeared for plaintiff, Avery & Merry for defendant. In his opening Mr. Piper gave a statement of the case and it appeared that a man named Fralick was trustee. When the school election was held in 1888, there was a tie vote beween Mr. Carey and a man named Baker. They agreed to flip a cent to see who should be trustee and Carey won. Mr. Fralick had entered into a contract with Miss Ostrander to teach the school and it is understood Mr. C. also agreed to it verbally. But as it became doubtful whether Carey was properly trustee the superintendent of public instruction was appealed to and he decided that there should be another election, and when it was held Mr. Carey was elected. He then refused to allow Miss Ostrander to teach the school but hired another lady. Miss Ostrander sued the trustee in justice court and got a judgment. The district appealed and the case is now on trial. It is rather a singular contest as it stands.

The witnesses for the people were all sworn at 2:30 o'clock. The evidence seemed very strong that Mr. Carey hired Miss Ostrander and that when she came to take her school she found another teacher there and lost four weeks pay in consequence. Judge Avery, in opening for the defence, admitted that Mr. Carey hired the [illegible]

[illegible]

The following was issued Friday, April 5:

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

A hundred years have passed since the government which our forefathers founded was formally organized. At noon on the 30th day of April, seventeen hundred and eighty-nine, in the city of New York, and in the presence of an assemblage of the heroic men whose patriotic devotion had led the colonies to victory and independence, George Washington took the oath of office as Chief Magistrate of the new born republic. This impressive act was preceded at 9 o'clock in the morning in all the churches of the city by prayer for God's blessing on the government and its first President. The centennial of this illustrious event in our history has been declared a general holiday by act of Congress, to the end that the people of the whole country may join in the commemorative exercise appropriate to the day. In order that the joy of the occasion may be associated with a deep thankfulness in the minds of the people for all our blessings in the past and a devout supplication to God for their gracious continuance in the future, the representatives of the religious creeds, both Christian and Hebrew, have memorialized the government to designate an hour for prayer and thanksgiving on that day.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States of America, in response to this pious and reasonable request do recommend that on Tuesday, April 30th, at the hour of 9 o'clock in the morning the people of the entire country repair to their respective places of divine worship and implore the favor of God that the blessings of liberty, prosperity and peace may abide with us as a people and that his hand may lead us in the paths of righteousness and good deeds.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed. Done in the city of Washington this fourth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirteenth.

[Seal] BENJAMIN HARRISON,
By the President:
JAMES G. BLAINE,
Secretary of State.

50 cents on a dollar saved by buying Household goods at the 5 & 10cts. Store Opera House Block. 48w2

Stanley is all right, so is Master soap. 48tf.

OBITUARY.

John T. Owen died on Monday evening, April 8th, 1889, at his home on Oneida street. He was in his 82d year having been born in the town and county of Onondaga, June 30th, 1807. He had been a much respected resident of this town for over fifty years. He leaves a son, Henry Owen and two daughters, Mrs. Chauncey Baldwin and Miss Flora Owen. Funeral services will be held from the house, on Thursday, at 2 p. m., Rev. D. M. Rankin officiating!

Volney Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

There was a meeting of the patrons of the Volney Centre cheese factory last Saturday, Mr. Gilmour was engaged to make the cheese the coming summer for $1.12 per 100 lb. and pay all expenses. The factory will open April 23.

Mrs. Frank Coe of Scriba is visiting her parents this week.

Mrs. Smith of Syracuse visited relatives here last week.

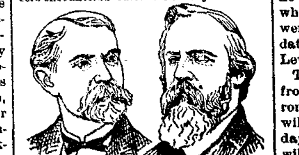
Mrs. Nancy Sackett spent several days in Fulton last week.

Mrs. Ezra Sackett who has been in poor health for some time has an attack of pleurisy.

THE LOYAL LEGION.

It Is About to Hold a Big Meeting in Cincinnati.

When the great civil war ended and the soldiers of the United States returned to their homes it required no prophet to foresee that they would form some permanent organization, and that it would be an object of very great interest to politicians. But in many respects the experience of the last twenty-four years has differed wonderfully from that of the eras following most wars. After the American revolution the society of officers encountered furious hostility from the civilian statesmen, and it required all the popularity of Washington to secure any sort of toleration for it. We see with surprise that nearly all the members of the early congresses were "men of the gown;" the soldiers of the revolution were not one in ten in either cabinet or legislature. Since the civil war, on the contrary, the soldiers have carried all before them; a state or county ticket without a soldier on it is a curiosity, and the Grand Army of the Republic seems to grow more popular every year.



LEW. WALLACE. R. B. HAYES.

The Loyal Legion had from the start a slightly different experience, nor are the objections to it quite silenced yet. It consists entirely of commissioned officers, and consequently encountered at the first much the same opposition as did the "Order of Cincinnati" after the revolution, and some sharp criticism from private soldiers also. But it has persevered and is to-day one of the great institutions of the country, with a commandery in almost every state and territory, ex-President R. B. Hayes being its present commander-in-chief, and Col. John P. Nicholson, of Philadelphia, its recorder-in-chief.

On the 10th of April the sixth quadrennial conference of this legion will meet in Cincinnati. The congresses, as the title indicates, are held but once in four years, and consist of three delegates from each commandery and the general offices. The local commanderies of course meet much oftener, and the Ohio commandery will meet in Cincinnati at the same time, having its annual dinner on the evening of the 10th at the Gibson House. As the local commandery will entertain the congress the occasion will be one of rare interest.

The veterans have done so well in civil life that an assemblage of great soldiers is necessarily an assemblage containing many men eminent in literature, art and government. The talent of the country was in the war, north and south; and in the latter far more completely than in the former, for the very sufficient reason that no one was left out for want of an invitation. The coming congress will include such men as Maj.-Gen. Lew Wallace, Brig.-Gen. John Cochrane, Brig.-Gen. Wm. E. Strong of Illinois, Maj.-Gen. Jacob D. Cox of Ohio, Maj. J. W. Paddock of Nebraska, Col. James R. Hallowell of Kansas, Maj. Hoyt Sherman of Iowa and many others.

We make a specialty of im[illegible]

Wa[illegible]

The Senate having adjourned [illegible] the appointment will be hardly moved in the last two days. There has been a vigorously circulated report that the President will now send Murat Halstead to Germany willy-nilly and depend upon the eight Senators from the new States whose terms will begin next December to secure confirmation. This however is not a very credible rumor, as it is likely that the recent vote did not bring out the full strength of the opposition to Mr. Halstead. Besides Senator Sherman announced that Mr. Halstead would not accept such an appointment.

It is probable now that another nomination to Berlin will be made within a few days. To the average citizen Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, one of the recently appointed Samoan Commissioners, would seem to be the best person to fill the vacancy. He is one of the most polished gentleman in this country, was a long time in the diplomatic service and is not yet too old to do good work. He is particularly experienced in treaty affairs and international law.

The friends of Mr. Halstead have thought of another man for Berlin. Senator Sherman and many other Republican politicians of Ohio look upon Governor Foraker as an undeserved pestilence. If he were out of the State they say that they could unite the party for a good man for Governor and elect a Legislature which would select a Republican Senator. That would mean Senator Halstead, who could not be beaten. So, Mr. Halstead gently smiles through his tears and sees revenge blooming on the tree of defeat.

A great amount of talk was indulged in just after the rejection of Mr Halstead by people who imagined that a great blow had been struck a at the liberty of the press. Some even lashed themselves into an ecstacy of fear and went about the streets talking of censorship, inquisition and bloody bones. Such talk has all died out and the rejection of Mr. Halstead is regarded as a personal matter only.

Take heart heart, oh, Murat. In 1831 President Jackson nominated Martin Van Buren as Minister to Great Britain. The New Yorker was singularly unpopular with the Senators. Daniel Webster, Henry Clay and John C. Calhoun scored and scarred him with the heat of their brilliant oratory. No man ever more bitterly hated. And yet the next thing these gentlemen knew Mr. Van Buren was nominated and elected Vice-President and lived to be President.

In the course of the last day's secret session, a vigorous attempt was made to officially announce to an anxious world the vote on the confirmation of Whitelaw Reid and the rejection of Murat Halstead. The measure failed.

Senator Stewart's resolution expressing regret at the death of John Bright was by the efforts of Senators Sherman and Reagan referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, where of course it expires. The Senators opposing the resolutions of sorrow did so entirely on the ground that its passage would establish a dangerous precedent. To this Senator Hoar replied by forcing upon the attention of the Senate a labored eulogy of Bright. Mr. Reagan replied by avowing his own admiration for the English patriot but still adhered to the belief that it would be unwise to establish a precedent by which the Senate might be called upon to express sorrow at the death of every foreign patriot or revolutionist.

To the astonishment and disgust of both wings of the Republican party in Virginia, Postmaster General Wanamaker proposes to make Stonewall Jackson widow postmistress at Richmond. He had appointed her to a like position at Lexington and when she declined as the salary is only $600 he offered her the Richmond office, which is worth over $3,000. There were a number of Republican candidates, among them being Miss Van Lew, who held the office under Grant.

The most important office unfilled, from the standpoint of available patronage, is the Public Printer. It will doubtless be filled within a few days. Whoever the man may be he will be only the tool of Senators from now until December, for he will have to cater to the men upon whom he will depend for confirmation.

Just now every one is taking an invoice of the patronage distributed and sealed by confirmation. New York and Indiana have fared best. Besides a Cabinet officer New York has the French, Russian and Austrian missions, Commissioner of Pensions, an assistant Secretary of the Treasury and ditto of the interior Department. Indiana, besides a Cabinet officer has secured the Italian mission, the Consul Generalship to London and the Treasurership of the United States.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by The traveling public and residents along the lines of northerly railways will doubtless be grateful to [illegible] F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. 45t4

Stockholders' Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of The Fulton [illegible] Electric Light Co., of Fulton, N. Y., is hereby called to be held at the Law Office of [illegible]

[illegible] appointed the following Standing Committees:

Finance and [illegible]—Trustees Kellogg, Patterson and Rice.

[illegible]—Trustees Wolever, Johnson and Nichols.

[illegible] and Lights.—Trustees Johnson, Kellogg and Rice.

The following bills were reported [illegible] by the Finance committee, and orders drawn for the amounts:

Citizens Electric Co., street lighting....$[illegible]
E. C. Rogers, clerk Charter Election........2 00
Geo. Kellogg highway labor..........[illegible]

The following petition was read, placed on file and the matter referred to the Committee on Lights:

To the Honorable, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton, N. Y.

We, your petitioners, tax-payers, respectfully ask that a electric light be placed on the corner of Harrison and Fourth streets of said village.—Dated, March 29, 1889.

Signed by HUGH FITZPATRICK, and twenty-seven others.

A communication was received and read from Mrs. E. D. Peets regarding the condition of surface drainage on Second street between Rochester and Buffalo streets. The matter was referred to the committee on streets.

On motion of Trustee Patterson, M. C. Highriter was appointed Clerk of the Board for the ensuing year.

The resignation of N. N. Stranahan, as attorney was read and on motion of Trustee Johnson accepted.

On motion of Trustee Kellogg the office of Street Commissioner was declared vacant.

On motion of Trustee Patterson the Board proceeded to ballot for Street Commissioner

Five ballots were cast, four of which were for Chauncey Wolever and one blank.

The President declared Chauncey Wolever elected.

On motion the office of Jailor was declared vacant and the Board proceeded to ballot for Jailor with the following result: John C. Dresser received four votes; J. F. Morris received one vote.

J. C. Dresser was declared elected.

On motion the Board proceeded to ballot for Attorney with the following result: Wm. C. Stephens, four votes; Giles S. Piper one vote.

Mr. Stephens was declared elected.

Joseph LaLonde was appointed a member of the Board of Health in place of J. C. Dresser resigned.

On motion of Trustee Johnson the Fulton Patriot and Gazette was declared the official paper at a compensation of $109, and that the Fulton Times be allowed $75, for printing the proceedings.

On motion of W. D. Patterson, Byron Clark was appointed Policeman No. 2, and Frank Dunn, Policeman, No. 3.

On motion Hugh Ward was appointed a Policeman.

On motion of Trustee Kellogg Oscar O. Hannis, was appointed a policeman.

On motion of Trustee Rice the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Assessors of the village be and they are hereby directed to assess upon the taxable inhabitants and property liable to taxation in this village the following amounts pursuant to section 45 of the village charter:

Lighting Streets,..................	$	1,700 00
Assessors,..........................		125 00
Board of Health,..................		125 00
Cross Wark Stone..................		300 00
Clerk,................................		100 00
Court Room,........................		75 00
Printing,............................		200 00
Fire Department,..................		1,900 00
Water Works,.......................		2,100 00
Incidentals,.........................		600 00
Highway Fund,......................		2,500 00
Water Works note and interest due Aug. 18th, 1889,..................		771 79
Hose note and interest due Sept. 7th, 1889,..............................		846 40
Total	$	10,745 19

On motion of Trustee Johnson, it was resolved that H. H. Kendrick be employed to draft a plan and estimate for a new tower for fire alarm bell.

On motion the President was appointed a committee to rent rooms for use of Board and Police' Court for the ensuing year.

On motion it was resolved that the electric light and gas campanies be asked to submit bids for lighting the streets.

The Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Trustee Nichols came in.

On motion of Trustee Rice that the location of the electric street lights and fire hydrants be published with the proceedings

Trustee Rice presented the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the contract for the construction of sewers in and for the village of Fulton be, and the same is hereby awarded to Machael Sullivan of Little Falls, N. Y. in accordance with his proposal submitted January 25th, 1889, and that upon his presenting to this Board a satisfactoy bond as required by the form of contract and upon the approval of the same by this board, that the president of the village of Fulton be and hereby is directed to execute said contract in behalf of said village.

Trustee Johnson called for the ayes and nays, Trustees Kellogg, Rice and Nichols voting ayes and Trustees Patterson, Wolever and Johnson voting no. The President declared the resolution lost.

On motion of Trustee Rice that the question of putting iron sewer pipe unuer the canal be referred to the Committee on streets.

The Finance Committee were instructed to examine the accounts of, and settle with the late treasurer.

Moved and carried that the matter of placing a sidewalk on the east side of First street from F. A. Gage's south line to Broadway on the grade established by the Board April 19th, 1886, be referred to Committee on Streets to report at the next meeting.

The Board then adjourned to meet April 17th, 1889, at 7½ p. m. M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

LOCATION OF STREET LIGHTS.

1. Merton's Grocery.
2. Pearman's
3. First and Oneida Sts., (Wilson's coal-yard.)
4. " " Cayuga.
5. " " Rochester, (Gage's.)
6. First Street, (opposite Gardner's)
7. " " (opposite W. Nelson's.)
8. " " (and Broadway.)
9. " " " Pratt.
10. " " " Lyon.
11. " " " Fay.
12. Second and Division.
13. " " Broadway.
14. " " Academy.
15. " " Rochester.
16. " " Cayuga.
17. " " Oneida.
18. " " Erie.
19. Third and Seneca.
20. " " Oneida.
21. " " Cayuga.
22. Rochester Street (front of Catholic church.)
23. Third and Highland.
24. " " Buffalo.
25. Park, (Band Stand.)
26. Third and State.
27. " " Fay.
28. Fourth and Division.
29. " " Broadway.
30. " " Academy.
31. " " Utica.
32. " " Oneida.
33. " " Erie.
34. Fifth and Seneca.
35. " " Cayuga.
36. " " Buffalo.
37. " " Highland.
38. " " Pratt.
39. Sixth and Broadway.
40. " " Oneida.
41. " " Erie.
42. " " Seward.
43. Seventh and Ontario.
44. " " Utica, (five points.)
45. " " Academy.
46. Oneida Street, (Gardner Hill.)
47. Utica Street, (near [illegible].)
48. Emery Road, (near Carter's.)
49. Emery Road, (near [illegible].)

[illegible]
Fulton, N. Y., March 28th, 1889.

No. 1. First Street, [illegible]
2. " " [illegible]
3. " " [illegible]
4. " " [illegible]
5. " " [illegible]
6. " " [illegible]
7. " " [illegible]
8. " " [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]. Oneida St. [illegible]
[illegible]. Third St. and [illegible]
[illegible]. " " and [illegible] Street.
[illegible]. " " and Oneida Street.
[illegible]. " " and Cayuga Street.
[illegible]. " " and Rochester Street.
[illegible]. " " and Buffalo Street.
[illegible]. " " and Academy street.
[illegible]. " " and Highland Street.
[illegible]. " " and Broadway.
32. Fourth St. and Erie Street.
33. " " and Oneida Street.
34. " " and Cayuga Street.
35. " " and Rochester Street.
36. " " and Academy Street.
37. " " and Highland Street.
38. " " and Broadway Street.
39. Fifth St. and Erie Street.
40. " " and Oneida Street.
41. " " and Utica Street.
42. " " and Buffalo Street.
43. " " and Broadway.
44. Sixth St. and Ontario Street.
45. " " and Erie Street.
46. " " and Oneida Street.
47. " " and Utica Street.
48. " " and Buffalo Street.
49. " " and Broadway.
50. Seventh St. and Oneida Street.
51. " " and Buffalo Street.
52. Ninth St. and Oneida Street.

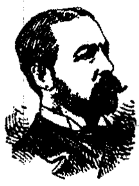
THEIR RECORDS TOLD.

FOUR OF UNCLE SAM'S NEWLY SELECTED MINISTERS.

Allen Thorndike Rice, Patrick Egan, W. W. Thomas, George B. Loring and John Hicks—Where They Were Born and Where They Were Taught.

Mr. Allen Thorndike Rice, who has been made United States minister to Russia, is quite a young man for so important a mission. He was born in Boston in 1853. It is said of his ancestors on the maternal side that the first of the Thorndike family in this country came over at the same time with Governor Winthrop, and that one of his English ancestors, a bishop, was banished and driven to the Cape Colonies for a spirit of toleration which was regarded as heresy. He was subsequently pardoned, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. Two of Mr. Rice's American ancestors took an active part, as officers, in the revolutionary war. His father was a successful merchant in New York, and acquired a considerable property. The Thorndikes were also noted Boston merchants, Mr. Rice's great-grandfather being one of the great shipping merchants of his day. Although the Thorndikes were originally a Massachusetts family, his mother, Miss Thorndike, belonged to Maryland.

When Mr. Rice was 9 years of age he was taken abroad and remained in Europe five years, returning to America in 1867. In 1871 he went to England, and was graduated at Oxford in 1875. He afterwards studied law at the Columbia Law school, in New York. He is known rather as a literary man than a politician; having early showed a taste for literary pursuits by contributions to the New York press and to periodical literature. In 1876 he purchased The North American Review for $3,000. He was then only 23 years old, but assumed the editorship himself. It was then a quarterly. It had so run down that it was no longer a profitable property. The last editor before Mr. Rice was Henry Adams, and his predecessor was James Russell Lowell. Mr. Rice took the periodical to New York, made it first bi-monthly and in the following year a monthly. Under the management of Lowell and Adams it appears that its circulation had reached so low a point that its demise was only a question of a few months. In less than two years Mr. Rice re-established it as a conspicuous and influential organ of public opinion and, it is understood, made it a most profitable property. Mr. Rice first inaugurated the system in it of selecting the leading representatives of great interests, and experts, to state their views on both sides of every great question, irrespective of creed or party. In 1884 he bought a controlling interest in "Le Matin," one of the principal papers in Paris, which he still holds, and is still editor of The Review.



ALLEN THORNDIKE RICE.

Mr. Rice has visited Europe several times, where he has a very large acquaintance among distinguished people. In England he enjoyed the society of Gladstone, the late John Bright, and the leaders of the Irish Parliamentary party. Mr. Rice happened to be in Paris at the time of the French revolution of 1870, and was one of the eighteen—although only a spectator—who entered the Hotel de Ville with Gambetta and heard the republic proclaimed to the surging crowd below.

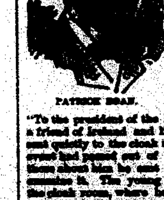
Mr. Rice also devoted nearly two years of his life to organizing and directing the expedition for the exploration of the ruins of Central America, which went out under the joint auspices of the United States and French governments. This enterprise was successful and gave to each nation a valuable museum.

In 1886 he ran for congress on the Republican ticket, but was defeated. He pursued those who were instrumental in his defeat and secured their expulsion from the local organization. His action resulted in his recommending the Australian system of voting. He also succeeded in getting a plank for ballot reform into the platforms of the Republican and United Labor parties in 1887.

His literary work consists in having edited "Reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln" and contributed to "Ancient Cities of the New World."

Patrick Egan, who is to represent the United States in Chili, was born at Shrule, near Ballyhania, Ireland, in 1841. When he reached man's estate he became a corn merchant in Dublin. Taking an interest in Irish politics he joined the Home Rule league and became one of its council. He was also one of the founders of the land league and was at one time its treasurer. In 1880 he was indicted with other prominent leaders for conspiring to incite the Irish tenantry to illegal acts, was tried and the jury disagreed. After the Phoenix park murders in 1882 he came to America and settled in 1883 at Lincoln, Neb., where he entered the grain business. The next year he was elected president of the Irish National league.

In 1885 an attempt was made to assassinate him. On the occasion of the Irish national ball given in Lincoln, at which Mr. Egan was present, an ordinary chip basket was handed to him by a little boy, with the message that it contained a bouquet of flowers from a local conservatory. The weight of the basket made Mr. Egan suspect that it was a joke gotten up by some person, particularly as a card attached to the basket bore the legend: "To the president of the Irish league—From a friend of Ireland and liberty." He had it sent quietly to the cloak room, and when the [illegible] had passed out of the recollection of those about him he sent his son Francis to examine it. The young man proceeded to the cloak room, where he found the man in charge pale with anxiety, and who said he was just about to pitch the basket out of the window.

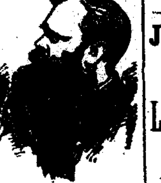


PATRICK EGAN.

During the intervals of silence he heard the [illegible] ticking inside the basket, and he became considerably alarmed. Francis took the paper from the basket and found inside a [illegible]

[illegible] way. He was born in Portland, Me., in 1839, and is a graduate of Bowdoin college, class of 1860. Tom Reed was one of his classmates. After Mr. Thomas left college he began studying law, but he was not admitted to the bar until later. President Lincoln sent him abroad, and he was in turn vice consul at Constantinople, consul at Galatz, Moldavia, and consul at Gothenburg, Sweden. He did so well in his foreign missions that Secretary Seward conveyed to him the thanks of the state department. He learned the Swedish language while in Gothenburg and translated "The Lost Athenian," by Victor Rydberg, into English.

When he returned to the United States he was admitted to the bar and began practicing law. But he became interested in Swedish immigration, and in 1870 he went over to Sweden and brought back a colony of fifty persons. A settlement was founded in Maine called New Sweden. It has grown now to 2,000, and is the most successful colony founded since the revolution. Mr. Thomas has been a member of the Maine house of representatives and for two sessions was speaker. In 1883 President Arthur appointed him minister to Sweden and Norway. In his official speech to the king of Sweden he spoke in the Swedish language, which tickled the king and his subjects greatly. In fact, Mr. Thomas made himself popular with the Swedish people, and they will be glad no doubt to see him back again at his old post.

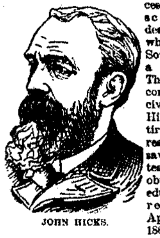


W. W. THOMAS, JR.

When the Swedes in the United States held their grand celebration in Minneapolis, last September, Mr. Thomas was selected as the orator. This shows that the Swedish people on this side of the water like him too.

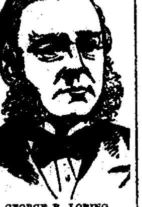
When Mr. Thomas was over in Sweden he fell in love with one of the ladies of the Swedish court, and, what is more to the point, he married her. So the Swedish people will have a double reason for heartily welcoming the new United States minister to their country.

Col. John Hicks, the new minister to Peru, was born at Auburn, N. Y., April 12, 1847, but removed with his parents to Wisconsin in 1851. He grew up in that newly started region at a time when schools and facilities for reading were scarce, but he early developed a taste for study and at the age of 15 had acquired sufficient learning to teach successfully a country school. By the death of his father, who was killed in South Carolina as a member of the Thirty-second Wisconsin during the civil war, young Hicks was left entirely on his own resources, and by sawing wood and teaching school he obtained a college education at Lawrence university, Appleton, Wis. In 1867 he began work as a reporter on The Oshkosh Northwestern; in 1870 he became one of the proprietors and soon after purchased the interest of his partner, Gen. T. S. Allen. His paper is the most important in Wisconsin, outside of Milwaukee, and in the last campaign Col. Hicks was president of the local Harrison and Morton club, and did active service in the campaign by stump speeches and through his paper. Col. Hicks is president of the Wisconsin Press association and vice president of the National Editorial association, and his appointment gives general satisfaction to the newspaper men of his state. He has never held office, but is a man of affairs and stands high in his state. At the time of the visit of the National Editorial association to the city of Mexico, in 1888, Col. Hicks, on behalf of the visitors, delivered an address to President Diaz which was highly spoken of.



JOHN HICKS.

Dr. George B. Loring, who has been made United States minister and consul general of the United States to Portugal, was born at North Andover, Mass., in 1817. He was graduated with the class of '38 at Harvard and studied medicine. From 1843 to 1850 he served as surgeon in charge of the Marine hospital at Chelsea, Mass., and was one of the commissioners to revise the United States Marine hospital system in 1849. From 1853 to 1857 he was postmaster at Salem. Since 1864 he has been president of the New England Agricultural society. He was a delegate to the National Republican conventions of 1868, 1872 and 1876, and from 1869 to 1876 chairman of the Massachusetts Republican committee. commissioner of the United States to the centennial celebration in 1876, he was elected to congress in the same year and served till 1881, when he was made commissioner of agriculture. This position he held for four years. Doctor Loring is the author of numerous addresses.

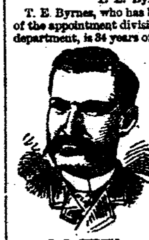


GEORGE B. LORING.

T. E. Byrnes.

T. E. Byrnes, who has been appointed chief of the appointment division of the treasury department, is 34 years of age, and was born in Bellows Falls, Vt. At the age of 7 years his parents removed to Minnesota and settled at Litchfield.

He passed several years there, living on a farm and attending a country school. He entered the State University of Minnesota and graduated therefrom in 1879. He studied law in the Columbia Law school of New York city, and has been enjoying an active practice. He has been a member of the Union league for six years and has acted as its vice president several terms, and was offered its presidency, but declined. He was elected president of the Republican League of Minnesota in February, 1887, at its formation, and has held that position since. He has never been a candidate for, and has never yet held, a public office.



T. E. BYRNES.

The Common Lot.

There is a place no love can reach,
There is a time no voice can teach,
There is a chain no power can break,
There is a sleep no power can wake.

Sooner or later the time will arrive, that place will wait for your coming, that chain must bind you in helpless death, that sleep must fall on your senses. But thousands every year go untimely to their fate, and thousands more lengthen out their days by heedful timely care. For the failing strength, the weakening organs, the wasting blood, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful restorative and a prolonger of strength and life. It purifies the blood and invigorates the system, thereby fortifying it against disease. Of druggists.

Great Little Men

Some of the greatest men that ever lived were of small stature and insignificant appearance. The reader will readily recall many instances. Very small are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, but they are far more effective than the large old-fashioned [illegible]

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economic than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of lowtest, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St. New York

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,
Wholesale Dealers in
Liquors Wines Lager Beer
AND ALES.
Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE,
OSWEGO,
CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO.
OF SYRACUSE, and the
HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.
Our Wine List includes
CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet)
PORT, CLARET, MADERIA
AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES.
Sold in Bulk or Bottles.
Oneida Street, - - Fulton, N. Y.

Took First Prize.

The State board of pharmacy recently analyzed twelve of the most popular medicines in order to see whether they were what they were recommended to be. After two weeks of careful work, they awarded the first prize, a gold medal, to Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., proprietors of Sulphur Bitters, it being in their opinion the best and only strictly pure blood purifying medicine in the market.—Weekly Chemist. 48w

[illegible] OF AL[illegible]
St. Nicholas for 1889.

PEOPLE who have the idea that St. Nicholas is only for little children should look over the prospectus of that magazine for 1889, and they will discover that it is for children of all ages, "from five to eighty-five," as some one recently said of it. Indeed, while St. Nicholas is designed for girls and boys, it might almost be called a "family magazine," for the grown-up members of a household will find much to interest them in every number.

The editor, Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge, calls the next volume an "all-round-the-world year," because it is to contain so many illustrated papers about the world in general—not dry geographical papers, but stories and sketches and tales of travel and adventure by land and sea—and all illustrated by the best artists. The features will include a serial story, "How We Made the Farthest North," by Gen. A. W. Greely, the well-known commander of the Greely Expedition; a serial about Canada, by Mrs. Catherwood, who is writing a seria. story for The Century this year; "Indians of the Amazon," by Mrs. Frank R. Stockton. There are many papers about Europe, including a Christmas story of life in Norway, by H. H. Boyesen; articles on Holland and the Dutch, by Mrs. Mary Mapes Dodge; "The Queen's Navy," by Lieut. F. Harrison Smith, R. N., with illustrations of many of England's finest war ships; "The Winchester School," illustrated by Joseph Pennell; "English Railway Trains," by Wm. H. Rideing, etc., etc. The French papers include "Ferdinand de Lesseps and his two Ship Canals," and there are several interesting contributions on German, Italian and Russian subjects.

Under "Asia," comes "Boys and Girls in China," by Yan Phou Lee (a recent graduate of Yale); "Home Life in the East," by Mrs. Holman Hunt, and a number of papers about Japan. Under "Africa" there is a sketch of Henry M. Stanley, by Noah Brooks, and several stories about Egypt. Australia is not forgotten, nor the islands of the sea, and there are even to be stories of under the sea.

Of course the bulk of the contents will relate to American subjects, as usual. Mrs. Burnett, the author of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," contributes a story of New York called "Little Saint Elizabeth;" there will be papers describing how the government offices are conducted, papers about athletics, amateur photography, etc. The full prospectus will be sent to any one who wishes to see it by the publishers, The Century Co., of New York.

The Graphic recently said of St. Nicholas, "the family without it is only half-blessed."

Spring Season '89.

With the coming of Spring comes the idea of refurnishing your homes. To those in search of

Substantial and Reliable
CARPETS and FURNITURE

We suggest a visit to our Large Warerooms, comprising
12 Spacious Rooms, 12
Loaded down with bran new goods, for Spring Trade.
For this week we make a Special of
15,000 Yards TAPESTRY CARPET at 50 Cents.
In beautiful effects and elegant designs.
250 CHAMBER SUITES at $13.00.
In Cherry, Imitation Mahogany and Antique Oak, with French Bevel Glass.
A. A. Graff & Co.,
61 and 63 South Salina St., Syracuse.

Go To Johnston's
THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN
STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE
ALSO
FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware
Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.
Tin Roofing a Specialty.
GEO. JOHNSTON,
Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y.

SNOW & LOOMIS
Have a New OLIVER
STEEL
PLOW.
As well as the
OLIVER & WIARD
Chilled Plows.

Oh How Delightful!
[illegible] LADIES [illegible]
Pronounce this shoe the Acme of STYLE, COMFORT AND DURABILITY.
"Corns and Bunions have had their day,
The TAYLOR SHOE drives them all away."
One Size Narrower Can Be Worn.
No tacks, wax or nails to discomfit the wearer.
Never crack or break away from the sole.
Retain their original shape.
Require no breaking in.
Do you Dance. Are you hard to fit.
Have you corns or tender feet.
Wear the Taylor Adjustable Shoe and Be Happy.
$3 [illegible] Kid. French Process $3.50.
A Marvel of Cheapness and Economy.
[illegible]

CAUTION No other local dealer has the Taylor Shoe. We Guarantee his Sales only.
Consolidated Shoe Co. Lynn, Mass. [illegible]

E. E. HART SELLS [illegible] COAL, AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Up town Office [illegible] in Fulton and Oswego Falls.

To Our Patrons.

Owing to largely increased business we are obliged to occupy the

Whole Store

Which will give us plenty of room to show goods and also give us one of the

Pleasantest and best Lighted

Stores in town. We shall continue our old plan of doing business,

One Price To All

And Satisfaction Guaranteed. We have just received a large line of PANTS, some of which will be sold at less than they cost the manufacturer.

See Our Spring Overcoats.

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliabe One Price

-CLOTHIERS!-

Gardner Block, - Oneida Street, - Fulton, N Y.

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday April 10, 1889.

DEL. L'KW NA & WESTERN R R

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.
Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:08 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:14 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:47 p. m
Syracuse Express	5:24 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:05 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:08 a. m.
Day Express	11:14 a. m
Day Express	2:48 p. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:02 p. m
Evening Express	9:48 p. m

The 8:08 a. m., and 8:05 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N Y ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:22 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:10 a. m
Norwich Express	3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:33 a. m
Oswego Express	11:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	6:01 p.m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse.	6:37	11:22	3:42	5:37	7:32
For Oswego.	8:43	11:58	2:33	6:13	8:48

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Mattie Elder is at Fairport visiting her sister.

Abe Rosenbloom is in New York this week making spring purchases for his stores.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Foward of Baldwinsville, were in town over Sunday, the guests of G J. Emeny.

Miss Pauline Jennings has been home on a week's vacation from Syracuse University. She returns to-day.

J. G. Hubbard and wife of Kingston, N. Y. have been visiting Mr. Hubbard's parents in this village during the past week.

Rev. W. D. Chase is in attendance at the annual session of the Northern New York conference in Lowville. Bishop William X. Ninde has charge.

Frank Waterman is home on a week's vacation from Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, where he holds a position as teacher in Prof. Stone's private school.

Supt. W. P. Kennard of the R. & O. Mills is in Illinois on a ten days vacation. During his absence Mr. Ward of the Riverside Mills, of Providence, R. I , is here.

Mrs. Baker of Seneca Hill is at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Mark Knapp who is dangerously ill at her home on Utica street. John Edwards of Oswego, her uncle was also here one day last week.

Rev. Charles Olmstead was called to Walton, Saturday, by the dangerous condition of his brother who had been injured by the explosion of a gun. Rev. J. N. Fulford occupied his pulpit in the morning and Rev. Wm. Young in the evening.

You can get handsome Cromos and picture cards for Master wrappers. 48tf.

Dust Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S

Removal.

The undersigned having moved his stock of Groceries and Provisions into the store (lately occupied by Mrs. Robinson) in the opera house block. Will be glad to welcome his old customers, and as many new ones as choose to call. My motto, best goods and low prices to cash buyers. I can and will save you money. Call and be convinced. FRANK S. RUSSELL.

☞ Will call and take orders when requested. Goods delivered promptly.
FULTON, April 1, 1889.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Duffy's Malt and India Pale Ale for sale at Miller's Opera House Restaurant tf.

--ORDERS FOR--

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf

Milton S. Price.

Milton S. Price is a name that will be long remembered in Syracuse as that of a man who saw in an unimportant city of nearly 40 years ago a community destined for opportunities large enough to engage the attention of the best merchantile talent. Of the possession of sagacity and foresight, enterprise and thrift, calculated to share the undeveloped advantages of the city, Mr. Price soon gave ample evidence, and by the establishment of a house which never lost its fame for honest dealing, did his fair part in giving Syracuse its high standing as a good market to buy in. Mr. Price had his eccentricities, but as they were due to weaknesses of the flesh and not to twists of the conscience, they may be here overlooked; and of him it may be said, in all candor, that his life left its imprint on the community which knew him so well, and whose citizens will to-day feel that, everything considered, his death is a public bereavement.—Syracuse Standard.

On Trial for His Life.

In the court of oyer and terminer Monday at Syracuse, Norman Stoutenger who fatally stabbed Jonn Grieb at Van Alstine's hotel in Little Utica on January last. The first day was consumed in selecting a jury. Dr. F. P. Sinclair, Dr. J. W. Knapp, Criminal Deputy Chas. Ryan and others were on the witness stand.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Apr. 10, 1889.

Jas. K. Nichols, Lyman Slawson, Mrs. Hattie N. Robinson, Mrs. Minnie Phillips, Henry Wilcox, Miss Emma Easton, E. B. Jones, Peter E. Howes (2), Mrs. R. A. Ward, G. S. Perry.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

Our Combination Rates.

We make the following combination rates to every-one, 10 cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county. All of the papers have a world wide reputation in the fields which they cover and we commend them to our readers:

THE TIMES 1 year and Farm Journal 1 year $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and N. Y. Weekly World 3 mos., $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and Detroit Free Press 3 mos. $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Rural New Yorker 1 year $2.50.

THE TIMES 1 year and the N. Y. Weekly World 1 year $1.85.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Detroit Free Press 1 year $1.85. tf

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

TALLY HO Baking Powder 12 cents per lb at SYLVESTER'S

We have just received new Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets which we will sell at rock bottom prices. Call and see them if you want bargains,
46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

The largest line of Wall Paper and Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. WILLIAMS'. 46tf

Leave orders for Green, the paper hanger, at C. S. Eggleston's. 47tf

Positively Given Away,

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

Just received a fresh stock of Confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store 29tf

D. C. Draper sells Groceries Crockery and Jewelry at the lowest living rates. It will do you no harm to price them, before buying.

Chocolate creams at 25cts.per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

The awnings are up in front of most of the stores.

The man of genius pronounces None Such Baking Powder Pure.

Yesterday was the anniversary of of Lee's surrender to Grant at Appomatox.

Milton S. Price, the Syracuse merchant died shortly before midnight last night.

Appointments by the new Board of Trustees will be found in the proceedings in another column.

Billy Coleman and Will O'Hare are now at work for Wilcox & Co. in the Cayuga street meat market.

Everything indicates that the next Collector of the Port of Oswego will be Hon. H. C. Howe of this village.

J. R. Loomis recently of the firm of Snow & Loomis has taken an interest in the Wilson Brothers new hardware store.

A pleasant reception was given by the Universalist society last evening to their new pastor, Rev. B. Brunning.

The Pathfinder Boat Club will have a meeting next week and probably decide to build a club house on their island at once.

The Oswego Falls Observar has commenced its eighth year and celebrates the event by moving around the corner into new quarters.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church will hold a social in the church parlors this evening from 7 to 10 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Thomas Hunter, one of the proprietors of the gun works has moved with his family from Syracuse to the Lathrop house, corner of First and Rochester streets.

Rev. B. Brunning, pastor of the Universalist church, and wife have rooms at Mrs. Babcock's, corner of Utica and Fourth streets, and board at Mrs. Isaac Ketcham's.

Some miscreants hurled a stone through a window in J. Lalonde's house on Seneca street last Thursday evening. Such acts as this are liable to result in a sojourn in jail, if the guilty ones are found.

The territory of of Herb Rose who has been for some time general agent for the Singer sewing machine Co. has been enlarged so as to include about double the territory which he formerly held. It has not yet been decided but his headquarters will probably be at Watertown.

Baldwinsville lost many thousand dollars worth of property by fire Sunday night and narrowly escaped a much more serious one. The large Bisdee block on the Main street was destroyed and the Upon block damaged. The loss is estimated at $45,000, only partially covered by insurance.

Moses Lyman of Waverly, N. Y., writes to say that he is not the inventor of "Pigs in Clover," that he is not a farmer having a large family of children, that he has not sold the patent on the puzzle and that he has not made a fortune from it. The inventor is Charles M. Crandall of Waverly, N. Y., manager of Mr. Lyman's toy works. Mr. Crandall has invented a vast number of toys.—New York World.

A. GIRL.—13 to 16 years old. Quick to learn and not afraid of hard work can have steady employment feeding presses at fair wages at MORRILL BROS.
Call after 6.

An exchange says it will pay you for the trouble it costs you to file your home paper. No volume in your home library will afford more pleasure, more profit, more lasting benefit. It leaves dates of local events which you cannot obtain elsewhere, marriages, obituaries, notices, etc. In short, your paper is a history of the world in which you and your friends live, and also occasionally reminds you that you are a year or two behind in your subscription.

Bass and Trout Flies 36cts. a Doz., Winged or Hackles 200 varieties,
48tf W. C. TUCKER.

Don't fail to see all of the nobby styles of Wall Paper at 46tf M. M. WILLIAMS'.

Leave your Laundry with D. C. MORE & Co. Tuesday morning and get it Friday night. All work satisfactory. 48w2

Get prices on Jersey Walking Jackets and Wraps at J. C. O'BRIEN'S,

HART keeps every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. TRY IT and you will be well pleased. 44tf

[illegible]

While on our way down First street a few days since we were accosted in front of the Clark House by a cadaverous individual with Auburn locks and Skaneateles (near Auburn) whiskers. He was nervously whittling a stick which doubtless he had hacked from a Thomson-Houston electric light pole. "Well, I gave your paper $75 this year for printing the Trustees' proceedings." We ventured to assert that we were fully cognizant of the fact and also that we considered it worth that amount.

"I need not have given you a cent" continued the ante-diluvian politician with the Skaneateles whiskers. We demurred at this and rather questioned his ability to cut us off without a farthing, when he informed us in substance that he had the Board completely under his thumb. That the members were unable to sleep nights thinking how they could serve him. "I nominated and elected both of the new trustees" quote he. In a way he recalled to our mind the alacrity with which his motion to make the Patriot the official paper was seconded.

"Young man," said he, "You have a great deal to learn yet, one thing is that I stand by my friends." As a parting shot, he informed us that it was in his power to make the Board reconsider the vote to give THE TIMES $75 for publishing the proceedings and cut it off with nothing. To show his power over the Board still further, he offered to bet $1,000 to 50 cents that he could do it. As we did not have the 50 cents and knew that he never carried less than a $1,000 in his pocket, we had to stand the bluff and continued on our way to the post office for the afternoon mail.

200 pairs Lace Curtains just opened, they are beauties,
J. C. O'BRIEN.

Rooney Comedy Co.

On to-morrow, Thursday evening at the opera house Pat. Rooney's company will appear in the play entitled "Pat's Wardrobe." In speaking of the company and play, The Buffalo Times says:

> A genuine audience filled every available inch of room last evening to see Mr. Patrick Rooney exhibit his pet collection of Hibernianisms. The orchestra was crowded, the first circle was crowded, the galleries were crowded, every chair was taken and every bit of flooring sustained its standing man or woman.
>
> Very early in the evening the old sign "standing room only" was hung on the outer wall.
>
> Strange to say "Pat Rooney" is not the name of the play but the name of the star, the piece being "Pat's Wardrobe" a most amusing comedy. Mr. Rooney seems to have improved every time he appears and yet every time he appears it would seem there is no room for improvement. His Irishisms are funnier than ever, and his "wardrobe" simply immense.

Installation.

At a regular meeting of Fulton Division No. 17 S. of T. held April 5, 1889. The following officers were installed by D. G. W. P., Jas. L. Parker assisted by P. G. W. P., F. Dilts:

W. P., R. H. Buck; W. A., George Campbell; R. S., G. C. Bartley; A. R. S., Mrs. A. E. Worden; F. S., Jas. L. Parker; Treas., Mrs. Wm. Hill; Chap., Mrs. Wm. Henderson; Con., John C. Buck; A. C., Wm. M. Wedelle; I. S., Miss Fannie E. French; O. S., Allen E. Worden.

Look over our new line of Spring Goods, everything cheaper than ever at J. C. O'BRIEN'S.

Is Marriage a Failure?—Not if you buy your coal of Hart. 44tf

New Goods. The latest ideas in Glassware at 46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co's.

Rye Feed is being sold very cheap to make room at Fulton Mills, GILBERT & NICHOLS. 48w4

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

Canned Corn 4c. per can
46tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Immense stock of Wagons and Carriages just received at Bristol's; prices low, quality of goods high; Terms easy. 45tf.

Just arrived from the MINES, a car load of each, No. 4 and Pea coal, very nice, clean and bright, for Hart. 44tf

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6. First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cent less than ever before.

Fischer Pianos.

Bristol has a large stock of Fischer and other makes of pianos, also Estey and Chase organs. Elegant goods, prices reasonable and terms easy.

The dust is flying.

April 21, is Easter Sunday.

The cheese factories will soon open.

There is considerable building going on in Oswego Falls.

Navigation on the state canals will probably open on May 1st.

Miss Edith Emens teaches school the coming term in Minetto.

Monday, May 6th, is the day fixed by the Board of Excise for granting licenses.

Commodore John Foster of the Pathfinder Boat Club has a young son not yet a week old.

Confirmation services were held in Zion church yesterday. Bishop Huntington was present.

C. W. Streeter has purchased the Blossom house, on Buffalo street and is making it nearly for his own occupancy.

The "Sunbeam Mora Comedy Co." played to good houses all last week in the opera house, and gave excellent satisfaction.

B. C. Briggs has leased for five years the new store and dwelling at the corner of Cayuga and Sixth Sts., until recently run by Messrs. Goff & Foster.

Prof. B. G. Clapp by request went to Pulaski Friday evening to confer with the Board of Education there concerning the advisability of uniting their public schools and Academy into a Union Free School.

On Thursday night of last week Frank Baker and Frank McCann both of Oswego Falls engaged in a fight in which McCann was seriously, and it was thought fatally injured. Both were under the influence of liquor.

John Morton and Editor Bennett have been hustling around with petitions during the past week for the appointment of postmaster. There are at least two other candidates in the field that still have hopes of receiving the appointment.

The Till Family Concert Co., Rock, Bell and Glass players and vocalists from Crystal Palace, London are to appear at the opera house in this village on Wednesday, May 1st. under the auspices of J. L. Dixon's Sunday school class of the Congregational church Oswego Falls. The receipts from the concert are to go to the bell fund for the church.

Mrs. James Clark of the Clark House gave a party to the guests of the house last Wednesday evening which was an enjoyable affair in every particular. A splendid supper was served and dancing was indulged in by all, being kept up until the small hours. A fine silk umbrella was presented to the hostess, Mrs. Clark, by the regular boarders. The presentation being made by Mr. Parker, cutter for Peebles & Co.

Schuyler Schenck of Toledo, O., on last week sold his water power and the adjoining real estate in Lower Oswego Falls. The property comprises between five and six acres. J. A. Foster was the purchaser, and he has already sold the portion of the land from Waugh's paper mill to the straw stacks below the bridge, and two-elevenths of the water power to William and Edward Waugh for $10,000. The Fulton Paper Company have contracted for the purchase of the land adjoining the dam and seven-elevenths of the water power for $25,000. Mr. Foster will retain the rest of the land and water power.—Cor. Syracuse Standard.

A meeting of the Subscribers to Stock in the Citizens Electric Company will be held at the Law Office of Giles S. Piper, Saturday, April 13 1889, at 3:30 p. m. to complete the organization of the company.

GEO. G. CHAUNCEY, Treas.
Fulton, N. Y., April 8. 1889.

When you need a spring Overcoat call on D. C. MORE & Co. 48w2

The counters at the 5 and 10cts. Store are now loaded down with spring goods consisting of Tinware, Glassware, Silverware, Jewelery, Hardware, Woodenware, Fancy Goods, Toys and Thousands of other articles useful in the household. It will pay you to inspect this mammoth stock before purchasing elsewhere.

If you want your clothes clean and sweet, use Master soap. 48tf

We have some of the biggests bargains in Pants ever shown in Fulton.
48w2 D. C. MORE & Co.

You can get a Rod, Reel, Line, Float, Sinker and Hook all for 25ct. at 48tf W. C. TUCKER'S.

Piso's Remedy for catarrh. The best and easiest to use. Sold exclusively, in Fulton, by H. C. Giesler. tf

Fire Department News.

At the meeting of delegates held in the engine house last Thursday afternoon Walter Bradley was made Chief, M. M. Williams 1st assistant and Marcus Crahan 2d assistant of the Fire Department for the coming year. The following is a list of officers of companies which we were unable to secure for THE TIMES last week:

OSGOOD HOSE CO.

Frank Vanlinder, President; Chas. Victory, Vice-President; C. F. More, Secretary; O. H. Halstead, Treasurer; H. VanAlstyne, Foreman; John Victory, 1st assistant; Frank Allen; 2d assistant, E. K. Taylor, Property Clerk; Warden, C. F. More; Delegates, C. F. More, H. VanAlstyne.

BAKER HOSE CO. NO. 1, OSWEGO FALLS.

President, E. M. Baker; Vice President, Lee Edgarton; Secretary, Thomas Sullivan; Treasurer, Thomas Sullivan, Jr.; Foreman, Geo. Fisher; 1st Asst Foreman, Wallace Brown; 2d Asst. Foreman, John Shackleton; Propyrty Clerk, Joseph Shackleton; Fire Wardens, John Murphy, Geo. Fisher.

CRONYN HOSE CO. NO. 2.

President Chas. Mangeot; Vice President, L. D. Eastman; Secretary, H. W. Andrews; Treasurer, M. A. Thomson; Property Clerk, G. F. Schenck; Foreman, M. F. Kibbe, 1st Asst. G. Cook, 2d Asst, R. Martin. G. F. Schenck and E. A. Williams were chosen as wardens.

Superintendent's Report of Mount Adnah Cemetery Association for the Year Ending March 31, 1889.

Income from all sources		$1,132.04
Disbursements,	$778.98
Balance to Treasurer,	353.06	$1,132 04
Due Association by Notes,	$133.10
" By Book Account,	437.39
Total due Association,		$570.49

Number of Interments 102.

Causes of Death.

Diphtheria,	3	Pneumonia,	6
Phthisis,	7	Inflammat'n of bowels,	1
Heart disease,	8	Rheumatism,	2
Entritisis,	1	Chronic Gastritis,	1
Albumniuce,	1	Drowned,	2
Perforation of bowels,	1	Cerebrial Minigitis,	1
Still born,	1	Typhoid fever,	4
Inanition,	2	Cancer,	3
Larynigitis,	1	Killed by cars,	1
Pyalmia,	2	Tuberculasis,	1
Epiliptic fits,	1	Exhaustion,	1
Pulm'ry Tuberculosis,	1	Appoplexy,	3
Perotinitis,	1	Diabetes,	1
Nephonitis,	1	Capillary Bronchitis,	1
Dropsy,	2	Paralysis,	4
Consumption,	7	Congestion of Lungs,	3
Chronic Nephritis,	1	A mania,	1
Old Age,	5	Cholera Infantum,	3
Intestial Nephritis,	1	Entera fever,	1
Neuralgia of heart,	1	Congestion of brain,	1
Convulsions,	1	Hemorhage,	1
Mirasmus,	1	Angina Pectoris,	1
Minigitis,	1	Brain disease,	1
Unknown,	2

All of which is Respectfully Submitted,
WM PARKHOUSE, Supt.

Bids for New School Building.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 1, in the town of Volney at the rooms of the First National Bank of Fulton, N. Y. at 12 o'clock noon on the 19th. day of April 1889, for furnishing materials and building a brick addition to the Fourth street school house in said district.

Plans and specifications showing dimensions and materials of the said addition may be seen at the First National Bank and examined by parties desiring to bid thereon.

The Board reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

AMOS YOUMANS,
Clerk of Board of Education.

Stephens Opera House.

ONE NIGHT SURE

Thursday, Apr., 11th '89,

10th Regular Season of the

ROONEY

COMEDY COMPANY

"ASANA BANAD,"

—IN—

PAT'S NEW WARDROBE

Neatly arranged and Newly Costumed.
A Most Laughable and Refined Comedy,
INTRODUCING
MR. PAT ROONEY. MISS KATIE ROONEY
AND A STRONG COMPANY.
A Whirlwind of Sparkling Fun!
A Cyclone of Merriment!
A Typhoon of Incessant Laughter!
COME AND SEE IT

Agent - - C. L. GRAVES

SCALE OF PRICES.

35 - 50 - 75c.

Seats now on Sale at W. J. Watson's.

EASTER!

We mention it because at about this period the weather is supposed to permit of putting on the New Spring Suit and substituting a New Spring Over-garment for the ulster. In view of this fact wouldn't it be a good idea to look over our offerings for the season.

Mothers bear in mind that you will find Special Styles in new Children's Clothing not obtainable elsewhere.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Furniture & Undertaking.

We offer the Largest Stock of

FURNITURE

ever shown in Fulton and at prices

Below all Competition

A Full Line of

Window Shades, Cheap

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholstering.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN.

Times Block.

FOR SALE—A second-hand, one horse lumber wagon. Inquire of A. Bristol or Hart the coal dealer. 48w2

FOR SALE.—Three show cases and one counter for sale. C. R. NICHOLS. 46t2

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE OR RENT—Five acres of land and new barn, at corner of Phillips and Fifth Streets Oswego Falls. For particulars inquire of H. HOWARD, 48w2 Baldwinsville, N. Y.

TO RENT—One Double House on Third Street. Also office over No. 6, First Street. Enquire of
D. C. DRAPER.

HOUSES FOR SALE OR RENT—Situate on 1st, 2d and 7th streets. Also for sale Choice Building Lots on 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th and other streets. Payments on instalment plan or cash as purchaser may desire.
47w4 W. S. NELSON, Agt.

FOR SALE—A row boat in first class condition. For particulars inquire of Morris Whitaker at News Room. tf

FOR SALE.—Five and one-half acres of good land inside of No. 2 school district on Sixth street. Easy terms. Enquire of MORGAN ROBERTS. 45tf

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A. Bristol is constantly receiving Pianos and Organs of many of the leading makes which he is offering at great bargains. 44tf

Do you wish to save money on your purchases. If so, Draper, at No. 6 First street, thinks he is now offering all grades of Crockery, Lamps, Silver and Plated Ware, also a new and elegant line of Watches and Jewelry, at lower prices than any other house in Oswego County. Price goods and prove this.

1889. 1889.

IN EARNEST

MILTON S. PRICE,

SALINA AND CLINTON STS.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

DRY GOODS,

CARPETS,

Furniture and Curtain Draperies.

For years I have been in the habit of making my Spring and Fall Announcement in the columns of this paper. No doubt my great establishment has been visited by many of its readers, so that it will be of no use to give a description of my great stores.

I will emphatically say that this is to be the banner year.

I am proud of the selections made by my corps of buyers for the Spring Season of 1889.

THE STOCK OF
DRY GOODS AND FANCY GOODS
Is the Largest in the City.
CARPETS!
The Acknowledged Headquarters for Carpets.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies

From the best makers in the Eastern and Western markets. The stock of Curtain Draperies is perfectly grand.

Those wishing to purchase Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture and Curtain Draperies will be well repaid by coming to Syracuse and making a thorough inspection of my stock. I feel confident that there will be no trouble in making selections, and the prices at which I am offering goods this season cannot but meet with public favor.

MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

LOOK OUT FOR BARGAINS

—ON OUR—

OPENING DAYS.

THEY WILL BE

Next Week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Special Bargains all through the Store. Don't fail to see what we will do for you.

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

(Successors to F. E. Bacon.)

If you have never used - - [illegible] - Try it, - - SCHENCK & FOSTER.

HORSE KNOWING.

Never wash a horse with cold water when he is heated.

Feed your horse three times daily, but never overfeed.

Perseverance is not a bad substitute for a teacher in acquiring skill.

The wise creditor is slow to lend to the man who has scrubby cattle.

The best, which is not always the highest priced, is the cheapest.

Success depends even more upon correct methods than upon hard work.

Some positively lazy men honestly believe they are only economical.

By keeping the cattle off the pasture one day longer in the spring you may keep them upon it two day longer in the fall.

A mixture of kerosene and lamp-black is a good application to keep steel surfaces bright.

If the whiffletree breaks, don't throw it into a corner. Remove the irons. They can be fitted to new wood.

The opinions expressed at a recent meeting of the Ohio State Horticultural Society were almost unanimous in favor of four-foot drainage.

Neither social obligations nor good morals require you to lend to him who does not take good care of tools, or who does not return them promptly.

A plan is on foot to organize a company with sufficient capital to buy the entire Florida crop of oranges, which is to be delivered by the growers to a large packing-house that will be built at Sanford, Conn. Thence the Company propose to distribute the fruit throughout the country.

Trees about the house make it more homelike and attractive and shield it from the cold winds of winter and the hot sun of summer.

When the garden gets as much attention as the swine lot and the fruit trees as much feed and care as the cattle, there will be more health and good humor on the farm and just as much money.

Rules For Ensilage.

As many farmers are now preparing to build siloes, the following suggestions are offered by the Country Gentlemen:

1. Silos should be made deep or high when practicable, so that the ensilage itself may exert a greater pressure on all below.

2. The bottom should be on a level with the stable floor, so as to admit of easier feeding.

3. It may be filled in at the top, either by means of a carrier driven by the machine in cutting; or on an elevated bridge or causeway.

4. If the silo stands on a steep hillside, an earth road may be made to carry up the loads of stalks to the cutter and silo.

5. The silo may be constructed of timber and plank, and while it lasts will be as good as when built of costly masonry.

6. Good walls may be made of boards or plank, nailed on the two sides of a stiff timber frame forming an air-space lined with tarred building paper, to make it air tight and prevent freezing much.

7. If the planks are well soaked with petroleum, they will last many years. The portion next to earth may be treated with gas-tar; or it may be of masonry.

8. A plank door, capable of being strongly barred should open next to the passage towards the stable.

9. If the walls are fairly even, it will make no difference in the setting of the ensilage whether the planks are set upright or horizontal.

10. The bottom or floor should have perfect drainage.

11. Silos of moderate size, or larger ones with divisions are more convenient for filling and emptying, provided the cutter can be easily placed to feed all.

12. After filling the silo, during successive days, the contents will settle in the course of a week or two, to about 45 pounds to the cubic foot, if cut short and weighted heavily; but will be considerably less in weight at top if cut longer and not weighted.

"Money in Small Fruits."

This was the subject of an address recently delivered by State Grange Master Hale at Glastonbury, Conn., in which he laid down these general principals: Thorough cultivation: the best shipping packages; honest packing of fruit from top to bottom, yet making as fine appearence as possible. The producer can't afford to educate the consumer as to quality. To get at the bottom facts in money in small fruits, said Mr. Hale, the family garden is the place to begin and end at, if we are looking for great results. Every farmer should and will, when he fully awakens to a sense of the duty he owes to his wife and loved ones, have a small garden of half an acre or more, according to the size of his family and his real interest in their welfare. One dollar expended in the fruit garden will save $2 in butcher's and doctor's bills. Among the requisites to success in small fruit culture are a love of fruits for their own sakes, a soil fairly adapted to them, good local markets or convenient access to railway lines and extra laborers near enough at hand to be called in case of emergency. Mr. Hale commended the cultivation of strawberries, red varieties of raspberries and currants.

For Diseases of Horses

There is nothing that compares with Cole's Veterinary Carbolisalve. It cures Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Collar and Saddle Galls, Sores, Mange, Scratches, Thrush, Inflammations and all skin and hoof diseases quicker than any other remedy. It is the only preparation that will invariably renew the hair its original color. Edwin D. Bither, driver of Jay Eye See, says: "Having given Veterinary Carbolisalve a thorough trial, I can fully endorse it, and take pleasure in recommending it to all owners of horses as the best remedy that I ever [illegible] for general stable use." Large [illegible] small [illegible] 50 cents. Sold by H. [illegible]

It costs more to keep a poor horse than it does to keep a good one.

Change the feed for your horses often enough to make them relish it.

Improper feeding is the cause of nine out of ten cases of sickness among horses.

Every time you worry your horses you shorten their lives and days of usefulness.

Sweat and dust cause the horse's shoulders to gall. So do poor, ill-fitting collars.

The temperature of water for horses is not so much an object as the purity of it. While it is best to have the water cool, it is more important to have it free from all impurities.

Mares in foal should have exercise and moderate work, and under no circumstances should they be subjected to harsh treatment, nor should they ever be allowed to go where they would be in danger of being frightened.

The horse which can plough an acre while another horse is ploughing half an acre, or that which can carry a load of passengers ten miles while another is going five, independent of all considerations of amusements, taste, or what is called fancy, is absolutely worth twice as much to the owner as the other.

Affection cannot be pounded in. Kind treatment ensures the affection of an animal, while rough treatment is sure to cause its hatred.

It is alike dangerous to other horses and men to spare the life of a glandered horse. Glanders is a highly contageous, incurable disease, and as a rule fatal in the human subject.

When horses are suffering from the bites of flies or stings of other insects, sponge the parts that cannot be protected by nets with water in which insect powder has been mixed—a table-spoonful to two gallons of water.

Of two colts similar in disposition and sense, one may develop into a steady and valuable family horse, while the other may be vicious, treacherous and unsafe—all because of a difference in the men handling them.—Medical Classics.

In Guy's (London) Hospital Reports vol. 1. page 396, is found the statement: "Simple hypertrophy (enlargement) of the heart, especially of the left ventricle, is found without valvular incompetency. In this numerous class the cardiac is secondary (a symptom) to the renal affection." This explains why Warner's Safe Cure is effectual in cases of heart disease. It removes from the blood the kidney acid which causes the heart disease.

How to Feed Stock.

At the Farmers' Institute at Jamaica, N. Y., Mr. F. D. Curtis gave an interesting account of how to feed stock. He gave the following as the best rations per day for a cow for the best results in producing milk; 20 pounds clover hay, 4 quarts wheat bran, 1 quart cotton-seed meal, 1 qt. cornmeal. To fatten an animal: 16 pounds clover hay, 8 quarts wheat bran, 2 quarts linseed meal, 6 quarts cornmeal. For young stock: 25 lbs. corn stalks, 4 quarts of wheat bran, 2 quarts cotton-seed meal. Col. Curtis recommended keeping stock warm in Winter, and favored ensilage as a milk-producing food.—Jamaica Journal.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, etc., should try them.

Miss Belle (warningly)—"Sally, they used to tell me when I was a little girl that if I did not let coffee alone it would make me foolish." Sally (who owes her one)—"Well, why didn't you?"—Life.

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Try one and be free from pain. Price 25 cents.

A poet is born, not made. This is lucky for the poet. If the populace caught him in the act of making himself, there would be an injunction served on him so quick that it would make his head swim.—Puck.

For any case of nervousness, sleeplessness, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Relief is sure. The only nerve medicine for the price in market.

All the same a hundred years hence, "Kin I git a marriage certificate, mister, with a gal's name left blank?" inquired a young man. "I guess so," was the reply. "What's the trouble?" "None yit: but gals is like everythin' but death an' taxes, mighty onsartain. There's going to be a weddin' though, mister, an don't you forgit it."—Echo.

Boils, pimples, hives, ringworm, tetter, and all other manifestations of impure blood are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Worse by half than the hen and a half problem is this: A certain family consists of one grandfather, two grandmothers, one father-in-law, two mothers-in-law, three mothers, two fathers, two daugthers, one son, one daughter-in-law, one son-in-law, one grand daughter, and there are only six persons in the family.—Farm Journal.

ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK
REMEDY FOR PAIN
For Horses and Cattle.
Recent, Prompt, Good Results.
[illegible]

[illegible] in the [illegible] cures which it is put up, Hood's Sarsaparilla [illegible] where other preparations [illegible] at home, which is a "tower of strength abroad," peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

is the most popular and successful medicine before the public today for purifying the blood, giving strength, creating an appetite.

"I suffered from wakefulness and low spirits, and also had eczema on the back of my head and neck, which was very annoying. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I have received so much benefit that I am very grateful, and I am always glad to speak a good word for this medicine." Mrs. J. S. Snyder, Pottsville, Penn.

Purifies the Blood

Henry Bigg, Campbell Street, Kansas City, had scrofulous [illegible] all over his body for fifteen years. [illegible] Sarsaparilla completely cured him.

Wallace [illegible] of North Bloomfield, N. Y., suffered eleven [illegible] with a terrible varicose ulcer on his [illegible] that he had to give up business. [illegible] cured of the ulcer, and also of catarrh, by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1, six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on Sulphur Bitters, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all rundown, should use Sulphur Bitters.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using Sulphur Bitters.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where Sulphur Bitters will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use Sulphur Bitters. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on Sulphur Bitters, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use Sulphur Bitters, and you will not be troubled.	Sulphur Bitters will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	Sulphur Bitters will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

BEST IN THE WORLD
ASK YOUR DEALER FOR ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS
WORCESTER CORSET CO.
WORCESTER MASS. CHICAGO, ILL.

Shoemaker—Is not this the 8th time I have half-soled these boots?
Customer—Yes! Since I have used WOLFF'S ACME BLACKING my boots wear longer than before and are always bright and clean.

Wolff's ACME Blacking

Is the Blacking for Men, Women and Children.
The RICHEST BLACK POLISH.
Making Leather Waterproof and Durable.
No Brush. A Shine Lasts a Week.
Can be washed with water, same as Oil cloth.
The Finest Dressing for Harness.

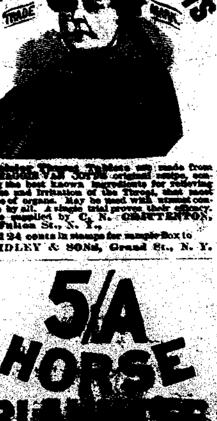
Sold by Shoe Stores, Grocers, Druggists, and retailers generally.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

HINDERCORNS.
The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. 15c. at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE
Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ills arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c. and $1.00.

MRS MAGGIE VAN COTT'S
EXCELSIOR



[illegible] Tablets are made from MRS. MAGGIE VAN COTT'S original recipe, containing the best known ingredients for relieving Soreness and Irritation of the Throat, that most delicate of organs. May be used with utmost confidence by all. A single trial proves their efficacy. Trade supplied by C. N. CRITTENTON, 115 Fulton St., N. Y.,
Or send 24 cents in stamps for sample Box to E. RIDLEY & SONS, Grand St., N. Y.

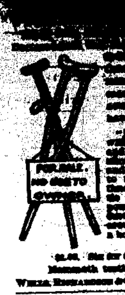
5/A HORSE BLANKETS
ARE THE [illegible]
[illegible]

Stockholders' Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of The Fulton [illegible] [illegible]



FOR SALE. NO USE TO OVERDO

[illegible] a boy." [illegible] Nevada.

$1.00. Six for $5.00. Druggists. Mammoth testimonial paper free. WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co., Props., Burlington, Vt.

DIAMOND DYES Give Faster and Brighter Colors than any other Dyes.

[illegible] Celery Compound [illegible] Lactated Food [illegible] Healthy, Happy, Hearty. It is Unequaled.

Eases Pain Instantly.
Strengthens Weak Parts.
Quiets Nervousness.
[illegible]
Best Plaster Ever Made.

HOP PLASTER

[illegible] CURES [illegible]

Sold by Druggists and country stores. 25 Cts. 5 for $1. Mailed for price.

Look for the proprietor's signature HOP PLASTER CO., BOSTON, on all genuine goods.

MELLIN'S FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS. TRADE MARK. FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. Our book, "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address. Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Herr Krupp, the cannonmaker, Baron Rothchild, of Frankfort and Herr von Bleischweber, the blind banker of Berlin, are the three richest men in Germany, according to the Berlin income tax list, recently published.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pill. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of the bile, when the bowels will perform their costomary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

About 8000 brakes have been invented and patented. One of the latest is described as beautifully simple in its working. Push a button and the brakes are set on the entire train.

Are You Going

to travel? If so you must be very careful of your health, or your doctor's bills will cost you more than your travelling expenses. A bottle of Sulphur Bitters will protect you from all sickness incident to a change of climate.—Evening Telegram. 48w2

New York has a prodigy in the form of a five-year old boy who speaks Greek and Latin with the precision of a gray-haired professor of languages.

Took First Prize.

The State board of pharmacy recently analyzed twelve of the most popular medicines in order to see whether they were what they were recommended to be. After two weeks of careful work, they awarded the first prize, a gold medal, to Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., proprietors of Sulphur Bitters, it being in their opinion the best and only strictly pure blood purifying medicine in the market.—Weekly Chemist. 48w2

A 40-Pound lake trout was caught at St. Ignace a few days ago. It was embalmed in ice and sent to New York.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To the Editor—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St. New York. 28.1 y

The largest ruby in the world is said to be a stone weighing 24 carats and measuring an inch in length and three-quarters of an inch in width. It is owned in London.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery of Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large bottles $1.

A curious old custom is still in vogue in the old Yorkshire town of Ripon. At that place the horn is blown every night at 9 o'clock by a man in uniform.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians [illegible] in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

Col. Fred Grant will sail for Austria in about four weeks. His mother may accompany the family.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, [illegible]

Mr. Cleveland will become a Tammany brave soon after his return from Cuba. He probably wants to get into good position to tomahawk and scalp David B. Hill when the fight opens.

Great Little Men.

Some of the greatest men that ever lived were of small stature and insignificance appearance. The reader will readily recall many instances. Very small are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, but they are far more effective than the huge, old-fashioned pills which were so difficult to swallow and so harsh in their action. The "Pellets" are gentle and never cause constipation. For liver, stomach and bowel derangment they have no equal.

There is a superstition among miners that every ten years rich diggings will be discovered somewhere. The record so far is California, 1849; Pike's Peak, 1859; Nevada, 1869; Leadville, 1879.

Famous Women.

It is a significant fact that most of the women who have achieved fame in art, literature, or "affairs," have enjoyed vigorous health. This shows that the mind is never capable of the severe and continued application necessary to creative work, and unless the body is at its best, the woman who aspires to fill an exalted place among her associates, must be free from nervous debility and female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will banish these, and it is warranted to restore those functional harmonies which are indispensable to health. As a specific for all those chronic weaknesses and ailments peculiar to women, it is unequaled.

A Montreal man has patented a device by which he claims, he can make a year's supply of ice for 75 cents.

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

For six months ending with December 18,407,697 pounds of oleomargarine were produced in the United States.

CATARRH CURED, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

James Romar, a bachelor planter of Middletown, Ky., has died, leaving his estate of $30,000 to thirteen negroes, his former slaves.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you need for Constipation. Loss of Appetite, Dizziness, and all symptoms of Dyspepsia. Price 10 and 75 cents per bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

A suit for four calves in Jones county, Iowa, will cost the litigants about $20,000 before a final decision can be reached.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

The Turkish naval force is composed of 30,000 seamen and 10,000 marines.

There are 5530 lawyers in New York.

He who gives a trifle meanly, is meaner then the trifle.

Some people only understand enough of truth to reject it.

All is not lost when anything goes contrary to you.

Bright's Disease.

A [illegible] Case Saved After the [illegible] of Four Physicians.

[illegible]

Her Life was Despaired of.

[illegible]

[illegible] Taken as a whole, the Indians although illiterate, are the best red race in the world.—Harper's Bazar.

The daughter of the Chief Justice merely wired to her papa, "I am married." She did not consider it necessary to send Fuller particulars.—Boston Transcript.

No objection—Tenaweek—"Sir, I wish to marry your daughter." Gruff father—"My daughter, young man, will continue under the parental roof." Tenaweek — "No objection will be raised to that, sir."—Harper's Bazar.

A Boston woman, when writing to invite a friend to dine with her, does not dare to affix "N. B." to her letter, lest it be interpreted "No beans."—Field and Farm.

Old Lady—I hope, my boy, you don't sell papers on Sunday?

Small Newsboy (sadly)—No, mum; I ain't big enough to carry a Sunday edition yet.—Harper's Bazar.

Guest (in restaurant): Waiter, where's that cheese I ordered!" Waiter: "It's coming sir. Guest.—"Well, I wish you'd ask it to hurry."—Texas Siftings.

Amateur (showing his wife about the studio)—This is my last picture. Fond Wife—Ah! if I was only sure of it!—Harper's Bazar.

Miss Mixer—Your church does not countenance waltzing, I believe.

Miss Blixer—No, indeed!

Miss Mixer—"I wish ours didn't. It would be so much more fun.—Terre Haute Express.

There is nothing in the world that succeeds like energy. For instance, a Boston man sneezed so hard the other day that he dislocated his shoulder, and he is now drawing $25 per week accident insurance.—Burlington Free Press.

"The only reason why I got my ears boxed," said Johnny, "was because when mother said a neighbor had borrowed a hen of her, I said the lent-hen season had arrived."—Baltimore County Democrat.

What She Asked For—O'Flaherty "Have yez any tin quart pails, Misther Doogan?"—"No, Mrs. O'Flagherty, but Oi have plenty av tin wan quart pails." Mrs. O'Flagherty—an' that's what I axed yez for, Mr. Doogan.—Judge.

Things that one would rather not have said—Mahlstick! "Do you know Miss Mannerby, that some of my friends tell me that I am deteriorating in my painting?" Miss Mannerby—Oh, Mr. Mahlstick! That is quite impossible."—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Faddleby—What a rude woman Mrs. Hiflier is. She always looks back at people who pass her.

Mr. Faddleby—How do you know?

Mr. Faddleby—Why, I've caught her at it several times myself.—Munsey's Weekly.

Lord Mountjoy—Did you find married life sufficiently charming to try again, Mrs. Weatherby?

Mrs. Weatherby—Oh, married life is all right my lord. The only part I object to is the the husband!—Once a Week.

Good Minister (making a pastoral call at Mrs. De Fashion's)—Come here my little dear. Can you tell me why all social festivities stop during the forty days of Lent?

Little Girl—Cause the winter clothes is worn out and the spring clothes isn't ready yet.—Philadelphia Record.

Remorse for two.—Clementine—"If I had known you married me only for my money I never would have accepted you." Montague—"And if I'd known you were going to be so close with it I would have never proposed."—Life.

Clark—I understand, doctor, that two dentists in your neighborhood have arranged a match in their art.

Doctor—Yes, I have heard so.

Clark—What do you think the result will be?

Doctor—A draw.—The Sun.

Only a Newspaper Phrase.—Husband—"What does the paper say about the big fire of last night?" Wife—(reading the morning paper) "It says the boiler burst, and then the scene that followed, baffled description." H.—"Is that all?" W.—"No; two columns of description follow that."—Yonkers Blade.

Elderly Lady (to guard at railway station)—Which train do I want to take?

Polite Railway Man—You will pardon me, madam, for answering your question with another, but the solution of the proposition depends, to a somewhat broad extent, on where you want to go.—Tid-Bits.

Fond mamma (who knows him at home)—"Frankie, I hope you have been a nice, quiet boy at school this afternoon." Frankie—"Yes, indeed, mamma! I went to sleep in my seat right after recess, and the teacher said she would keep in the first boy or girl that waked me up."—Puck.

Magistrate (to prisoner)—"Were you born in Pennsylvania?" Prisoner—"Yes, sir." Magistrate—"Brought up in the state?" Prisoner—"Yes; I have been brought up in Pennsylvany and every other state in the union, too."—Life.

Nothing new: Mrs. Fangle—"Well, this is strange!" Mr. Fangle—"What is it, my dear?" "A man in Paris has taught an ape to black his shoe." "Oh, there's nothing remarkable about that, my dear. I've often heard of monkey-shines."—Harper's Bazar.

The Careful Father.—"What man, are you going to let your son serve his year in the infantry and not in the cavalry?" "I have only one son, my Isaac. Do you think I can trust his life to an unreasonable animal?"—Fliegende Blatter.

A thief enters a bed room in the middle of the night, raises the sleeping occupant by the arm and brandishes a knife, saying: "If you move, you are a dead man! I am looking for money."

"[illegible]"

[illegible] Brown's Sarsaparilla [illegible] blood [illegible] Dr. Brown's Sarsaparilla does this work quickly and surely through its direct and positive action upon the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver and skin. For all waste and corrupt elements must be cast off by means of these channels. Rheumatism, scrofula, bronchitis, gout, consumption, malaria, catarrh, hay fever, all skin affections and eruptions are diseases of the blood.

George H. Wish of the firm of Truxton & Wish Bangor, Me., was afflicted with a scrofulous humor which caused troublesome sores upon both his legs. Many remedies were used and several physicians consulted without result. After taking Brown's Sarsaparilla a short time he was better, and soon the eruption disappeared and he is now all right. This is only one of a thousand victories gained by

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co Bangor, Me. 4414

Dr. C. McLane's Celebrated LIVER PILLS WILL CURE SICK HEADACHE.

A few doses taken at the right time will often save a severe spell of sickness. Price only 25 cents at any drug store. Be sure and see that Dr. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., is on the box. None other is Genuine.

Use IVORY POLISH for the Teeth, PERFUMES THE BREATH.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 17 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c.; mail, 50c.; mail, registered, 60c. PAYNE & CO., ATHENS, PA.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair.
Promotes a luxuriant growth.
Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color.
Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

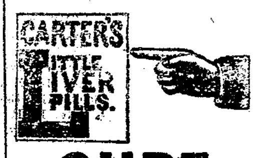
OVER WORKED Women

For "run-down," debilitated and overworked women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is a potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to Women; a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, it imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, nausea, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. It is carefully compounded by an experienced physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

WARRANTED. "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee of satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, with full directions for home-treatment), send ten cents in stamps.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.



CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

COUGH KILLER

As a Family Remedy Dr. Seth Arnold's COUGH KILLER has no equal.

We have used it for the past ten years, and can truly recommend it.

Mrs. C. Filkin, Montezuma, N. Y.

Druggists, 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

DR. HOXSIE'S CERTAIN CROUP CURE

for all dangerous inflammatory colds and tight barking cough. 50 cents

VIENNA BAKERY
—AND—
ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.

I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries

Bread, Cakes Crackers

And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of

Confectionery

Crackers 7 cents per pound [illegible]

SURROGATE'S COURT.

Oswego [illegible] County.—[illegible] Surrogate's Court in Oswego County will be held as follows:

Phoenix.—At Surrogate's office in Phoenix, on Monday of each week except in the month of August.

Oswego.—At the court house in Oswego on the first and third Tuesday of each month except August.

Pulaski.—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski on the Friday succeeding the third Tuesday in January, March, May, June, September, November and December.

Fulton.—At office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the Second Thursday in January, April July and October.

Mexico.—At office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October

Central Square.—At the Johnson House, Central Square on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

Parish—J. S. Luddington's law office in Parish on the Friday succeeding the last Tuesday in April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court except at Phoenix, will be held on the day previous thereto.

OSWEGO COUNTY, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Albert Smith, late of the town of Granby, in said county, deceased. Notice is hereby given that the Surrogate of said county will proceed to distribute the proceeds of the real estate of the above named deceased sold for the payment of his debts, at his office at the Court House, in the City of Oswego, on the 6th day of May, 1889 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Dated Phoenix, N. Y.
March 2 1889 F. DAVID, Surrogate.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of Catharine Sainsbury, deceased, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at his office in the Village of Fulton N. Y., on or before the 5th day of October, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, Wednesday, April 3d, 1889
C. H. DAVID, Executor.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego in said county deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.
THOMAS B. REYNOLDS,
Administrator, with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or the will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 7th, 1888.
DUDLEY K. HARRIS, C. H. DAVID } Executors

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan 30th 1889.
CATHARINE FARLEY.
Administratrix

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLEN FALLS,	Glens Falls, N.Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHOENIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

HEMLOCK LUMBER
—AND—
Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,
SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

COAL WAY DOWN!
COAL!
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

TWENTY-FIRST YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 21—NUMBER [illegible]

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 17, 1889.

Single Copies Three Cents.

A Sleepy Little School.

MALCOLM DOUGLAS.

A funny old professor kept a school for little boys,
And he'd romp with them in playtime, and he wouldn't mind their noise;
While in his little school-room, with its head against the wall,
Was a bed of such pretentions it was big enough for all

"It's for tired little pupils" he explained, "for you will find
How very wrong indeed it is to force a budding mind;
Whenever one grows sleepy and he can't hold up his head,
I make him lay his primer down and send him off to bed!

"And sometimes it will happen on a warm and pleasant day,
When little birds upon the trees go tooral-looral-lay,
When wide-awake and studious it's difficult to keep,
One by one they'll get a-nodding till the whole class is asleep!

"Then before they're all in dreamland and their funny snores begin;
I close the shutters softly so the sunlight can't come in;
After which I put the school books in their order on the shelf
And with nothing else to do, I take a little nap myself."

—St. Nicholas for March

A FEW LETTERS.

BY LUKE SHARP.

[From Herman Dorman, of Detroit to Miss Sadie Menton, of Cleveland.]

MY DEAR MISS MENTON—I thought of saying to you what I now intend to write. I meant to say it the night before you left for your visit to Cleveland, but somehow my courage failed me. A friend of yours told me that you had rejected many suitors because you believed their motives to be mercenary. I could not bear to have the deep love I feel for you tinged with such a suspicion and I had resolved to be silent forever. But since you have been away this city seems to me so utterly dreary and desolate that I have made up my mind to at least learn the worst. I may say and my only excuse for saying it is the remark I referred to—that I believe my own fortune is nearly if not quite equal to yours. I do not say this boastfully, but merely to show you that in offering you my hand and heart I am not actuated by other desire than yours in return. In case you should look favorably upon my suit I shall be only too glad if your wealth be so arranged as to be entirely beyond the control of anyone but yourself.

My dear Miss Menton, I love you truly devotedly and unselfishly, and I love you for yourself alone. What is your answer?

With deepest affection, yours,
HERMAN DORMAN.

[From Miss Sadie Menton, at Cleveland to Mr. Herman Dorman of Detroit.]

MY DEAR MR. DORMAN—I can assure you that no such thought ever entered my mind regarding you. I think I am somewhat of a judge of character and can tell the false from the true. I shall be here some weeks longer, and if you happen to be in Cleveland before I return, I shall be very glad to welcome you.

Yours,
SADIE MENTON.

[From Mr. John Menton in Detroit, to his sister Sadie, in Cleveland.]

MY DEAR SAD—Might I respectfully ask if you have gone crazy? Herman Dorman! of all men in the world! Now, I did think once that you had some sense, but I see you are just like the rest of them. Trust a girl for picking out the very worst man in her set every time. Dorman wants your cash, that is the brutal long and short of it Now, Harry Raymond is worth 10,000 of such as that shyster Dorman. If you were poor you would have married Harry, you know you would. You liked him and he has been in love with you ever since you were in the high school. Now you have driven him out to a Texas ranch and have actually engaged yourself to that rascal! My dear Sadie I have no patience with you. Why is it that an honest man has no chance with a plausable scoundrel in the favor of a good, and high-minded woman?

Anyhow don't let the engagement be announced for a while yet. You will do that much at least for me.

Your brother,
JOHN.

[From Miss Sadie Menton, Cleveland, to John Menton, Detroit.]

MY DEAR BROTHER—You must not write again in the strain of your last letter. You know that I mean what I say. I will overlook it this time, because doubless what I wrote took you by surprise. You are entirely mistaken in your estimate of Mr. Dorman's character. He has admitted to me with sorrow that men rarely undersand and sympathize with him. His has been a life of earnest work and unselfish devotion to duty. There is nothing of the boon companion about him, as there was about Mr. Raymond. If Herman had received the answer I gave Mr. Raymond, he would merely have locked his sorrow in his heart and devoted himself to his duty instead of [illegible]

"Carpet-bag Baggage" is an estimable and valuable, if somewhat uninteresting volume named "Bradstreet's Look up the standing of Mr. Herman Dorman. "Fortune equal to your own." Bosh! Distrust a man whom women like and with whom his fellow men don't sympathise." JOHN.

[From Harry Raymond, Slaughter Ranch, Texas, to John Menton, Detroit.]

MY DEAR JOHN—I'm a wild and woolly cowboy and don't you forget it. There is more buckskin than culture about me now. My chief recreation is shooting holes in the air around a tenderfoot, when he comes to visit the ranch. He generally thinks I was born that way and that I have an unquenchable thirst for innocent blood John, I'm afraid I haven't gone far enough west, or am too far south or something. I don't forget as easily as I thought I would. I've evidently struck the wrong latitude. If you notice the slightest trace of lingering regret at absence don't stop to write but telegraph. There is a telegraph line to the fort near here, and some of the boys are in every night to fill with forty rod and they will bring a message out. The moment I get a dispatch I'll take a vestibuled mule train to the nearest railway station so quick that the mules won't know what struck them.

I'd about as soon ride a Woodward avenue car as a bronco anyhow.

Yours,
HARRY.

[From Herman Dorman, Palace Hotel, Cleveland, to Isaac Van Brunstein, pawnbroker, Detroit.]

MY DEAR VAN B.: Send me $500 as soon as possible to the Palace Hotel here. I'll pay you within three months at any rate of interest you like to put on.

HERMAN DORMAN.

[From I. Van B., Detroit, to H. Dorman, Cleveland.]

DEAR SIR:—I would rather see the $400 I have have already lent, than lend any more on such poor security as your word for payment.

VAN BRUNSTEIN.

[From H. Dorman, Cleveland, to I. VanB., Detroit.]

Look here, Ikey, if you ever want to see your $400 you'll lend me what I want P. D. Q. Here's the situation: I'm here at an expensive hotel and must keep up style. Everything depends on it. I'm engaged to Miss Menton, of Detroit, and that's worth half a million, as you know. You can easily find out the truth of what I say by asking —— or —— to both of whom she has written about our approaching marriage. Now don't fail to send the cash, and the moment we are married I'll make her fork over the amount.

Yours,
H. DORMAN.

[From I. Van B., to H. Dorman, Cleveland.]

DEAR SIR—I inclose you N. Y. draft for $500. I also inclose a three months' note for $2,000, which please sign and return. Engagements are uncertain and I cannot take the risk for less.

Yours,
VAN BRUNSTEIN.

[From H. Dorman, to I. Van B.]

MY DEAR ISAAC—You are not half so sharp as I thought you were. I cashed the draft. Thanks, but I have torn up the note. I will pay you all right enough if you don't press me too much, but not such rascally usury as that. You know you have no legal remedy—such extortion is illegal, anyhow—so you'll have to trust to

Yours, truly,
H. D.

[From Isaac Van Brunstein, Detroit, to John Menton.]

DEAR SIR—I called at your office to-day, but you were out. I therefore leave this note for you. I understand that Herman Dorman is to marry your sister. He owes me $2,000 which he refuses to pay. I have a letter written by him in which he admits that he marries her for her money. If this letter is worth $2,000 to you, you are welcome to it.

I. VAN BRUNSTEIN.

[Message by messenger boy from John Menton to Isaac Van Brustein.]

Bring letter or send it by bearer. If it is what you say it is I will pay the sum you ask.

JOHN MENTON.

[From John Menton, Detroit, to Miss Sadie Mention, Cleveland.]

MY DEAR SADIE—I inclose you a letter which came into my hands. It speaks for itself and besides relates to a most dishonorable action on the part of the man who wrote it. It is from a scoundrel of one class to a scoundrel of another, but there [illegible] of the thieves in [illegible]

Yours,
JOHN.

[Telegram.]

Harry Raymond, [illegible], Tex.: Come home, [illegible]

JOHN MENTON.

[illegible]

Poor People's Chances.

Some years ago a city missionary was crossing one of the parks in New York on the Sabbath day and said to a lad, "What are you doing here, breaking the Lord's day? You ought to be at Church and worshipping God instead of breaking the Sabbath in this way." The poor lad in his rage looked up at the city missionary and said: "Oh, sir, it's very easy for you to talk that way, but God knows that we poor chaps ain't got no chance."

The sentiment seems to be growing that in the United States the time has arrived when "the poor chaps don't have no chance."

There is some truth in it. The poor are not shut out from making a livelihood, but the gulf between riches and poverty continually grows more difficult to cross. As the country becomes densely populated keen business competition decreases the chances for accumulating wealth by ordinary business methods.

But the same conditions vastly improve the chances for great success to those who can strike out in new paths, can furnish something to the world that others cannot.

True merit, in commodity or ability will win easily and with grand results in this country, if the masses can be induced to recognize it. This recognition can only be accomplished by what are sometimes sneeringly alluded to as advertising methods.

What a marvelous success has attended the thorough introduction to the world of the merits of that wonderful remedy for kidney disease—Warner's Safe Cure. Hon. H. H. Warner first came to know of its curative power by being restored to health from what the doctors pronounced a fatal kidney trouble. He concluded the world ought to know of it and in the ten years since he began it's manufacture he has spent millions of dollars in advertising the Safe Cure.

His methods have been ingenious—sometimes, perhaps, open to criticism, but they had a purpose, which has been accomplished.

But mark! he never would have secured a four fold return of the vast sums thus expended if the real merit of the remedy had not been fully proven to the millions of people reached by his advertisements.

Ten years of increasing success of Warner's Safe Cure is due, first, to intelligent and pleasing advertising, by which the people were made acquainted with the remedy. Second, to the true worth of the remedy, proved by actual experience, showing it to be the only specific for kidney disease, and all diseases growing out of kidney derangements.

Mr. Warner has something the people want, tells them so, then proves it to their satisfaction—success follows as a matter of course.

THE PROPER THING.

Gloves for general wear are of dressed kid corded on the back.

Short capes for driving or for the theater are made of shot velvet.

The finest trimming that can be applied to a pelisse is hand braiding.

The Connemara lace cloak, unlined will be the novelty of the coming summer.

Open worked stockings have reappeared, and summer will bring the sandals.

A great deal of ribbon will be used the coming season in dressing up light summer material.

Round French waists, showing no darts or side bodies are used for all kinds of summer fabrics.

Among odd new combinations of fabrics is that of ladies' cloth with India silk for spring gowns.

A great many spring costumes are made in two shades of gray, heliotrope, fawn, copper or green.

Black hosiery will remain in favor for general use, but colored stocking are again chosen to match toilets.

White mull plastrons or vests to be put on outside the dress waist are very thickly gathered below a pointed standing collar of colored moire ribbon, or velvet, or of the mull striped with colored braid.

Fichus of silk muslin with embroidered ruffles on the edges are made in all the stylish colors for gowns—Suede, copper, old rose, turquois, reseda, etc.—as well as in black and white.

For the neck are finely pleated collarettes of crape or silk muslin, lisse, India silk, or lace, in colors or white, turned down around the low-throated bodice and falling in a jabot almost down to the waist line.

Leave hope behind,
All ye who enter here!

So ran the dire warning which Dante read on the portals of the inferno. So runs the cruel verdict of your friends if you are overtaken by the first symptoms of that terrible disease, consumption. "Leave hope behind your days are numbered!" And the [illegible] death is given up in despair. But while there [illegible] Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured thousands of cases worse than yours; [illegible] in time. But delay is dangerous. No power can [illegible] the "Golden [illegible]" [illegible]

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economic than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of lowtest, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St. New York.

One Hundred Years From Now.

What will our population be? Who shall say? The United States to-day contains over 60,000,000 people, who increase at the rate of 25 per cent in every decade, so that at the close of the next century the increment would have run up to a total of not less than 400,000,000 souls. Take the population of all the other states and countries as likely to come under our sway and another 400,000,000 will be easily added. In the year of our Lord 2,000, and the year of the Independence of the United States the 224th, it will be no longer the United States of North America, but the United States of North, Central and South America, and the then President will then issue his Thanksgiving day proclamation to nearly a thousand million people. The mind fails to grasp our industrial and commercial expansion at that day; the wonderful progress in the arts and sciences; the tremendous energy with which enterprise after enterprise will be conceived and made a reality. And then Congress. Just think what Congress will be then! But, stop! Better not think. When we contemplate what it is now, with 400 members, the idea of what it will be with 4,000 is simply appalling.—Petersburg (Va.) Innex-Appeal.

Offensive breath vanishes with the use of the Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Early Tomatoes.

Here is a point for tomatoe-raisers. At the New York Agricultural Station experiments made in growing tomatoes without transplanting proved very successful. Plants grown entirely in the open ground matured fruit in twenty-five days' shorter time than those which were cared for in the hot-bed the first two or three months of their existence. The result, according to the report, is certainly striking, and suggests that the check given to plants at the time of transplanting may have been nearly sufficient to overbalance all the time gained by forcing. Expert cultivators say that their earliest tomatoes come from self grown plants where tomatoes were raised the previous year and some of the first rotted on the ground.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband but if she is weak and nervous and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so the all say and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

A Printer's Joke.

The British Printer perpetuates the following story on a member of the fraternity: "A young man, at the risk of his life, saved a beautiful young girl from drowning. Her grateful father, in a voice tremulous with emotion, said: 'Noble youth, to you I am indebted for everything that makes life dear to me. Which reward will you take £50,000 or the hand of my daughter?' 'I'll take the daughter,' replied the hero, thinking thereby to get both the girl and the money. 'Now, you have well chosen,' replied the grateful father. 'I could not have given you the £50,000, just now anyway, as I have not yet laid up that amount, being only an editor, but my daughter is yours for life. Bless you, my children!'"

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25cts. Try them.

Kansas City has sixty miles of cable road, representing an investment of $21,600,000.

He Was Justified.

Judge—You assaulted this man, seemingly, without any provocation.

Prisoner—Without any provocation! Why your Honor, we were talking about the acquittal of Mr. Kerr and he said it was as said as [illegible] ever remembered.

"He said that? Mr. Sheriff, take into custody the policeman who arrested this worthy gentleman. You can go, sir."—Texas Siftings.

[illegible]

The Story of Two Teachers.

A gentleman whose childhood was twenty-five years before the war, tells of two school teachers, and his stories are fine arguments against physical punishment. He says: "When I was about nine or ten years old I was a poor, sickly little freckled-face boy, stubborn, curious and sensitive to a sad degree. My mother used to whip me frequently to no purpose, so she concluded to send me to a very severe school teacher that my spirit might be conquered. I was sent away from home to board in the house with and go to school to as hard and terrible a master as Dickens ever depicted. Well, I was conquered in a way—at least I was cowed and terrified so that I wondered my very heart's blood didn't turn white and freeze. The man never struck me a lick, but I hated him with all my soul. My life was one of abject terror, and the good that was in me was as silent as a tomb. I seemed to have no emotions, to be a mere machine working through the fear of the terrible beatings I had seen administered to the other boys. Lieing was nothing to me. We all lied. If we talked and were accused of it we lied, if we disobeyed we'd swear ourselves black before we'd own it. I was taken home from this horrible school after many months of what I now know was a hell on earth. A new teacher from the north had come to our town. I was sent to him. The first day I was whispering, and he looked at me and said, 'John, are you talking?' 'No; sir;' I promptly replied, lying, as was my wont.

"He smiled pleasantly.

"'That's all right,' he said, 'I hope you'll excuse me, I thought you was talking and am sorry to find that I suspected you unjustly.'

"Mean, why, I felt as mean as any poor, guilty wretch could feel. I said to myself: 'This is the first and it shall be the last lie you ever tell that man.' And it was. He never touced me and I studied well, and grew to love my teacher, a thing I had hitherto thought impossible. He never used a whip. He treated his scholars like gentlemen, and they were proud of it, and proved they deserved his regard. There's nothing like treating boys and girls like gentlemen and ladies from the time they are born."—Atlanta Constitution.

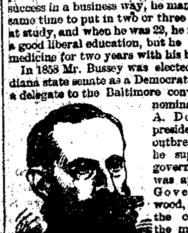
WEAK will power deranges a man's life in every direction. His will must be weak when his body is wasting away with racking coughs and nightly sweats. Warner's Log Cabin COUGH AND CONSUMPTION REMEDY is a conqueror of the malady we all dread and restores the victim to health and power.

GEN. CYRUS BUSSEY.

The Assistant Secretary of the Interior. His Rise in Life.

Gen. Cyrus Bussey, who has been appointed assistant secretary of the department of the interior, is a good type of the self made man. Gen. Bussey started out on his career when he was 14 years of age. He was born, by the way, in Hubbard county, O., in 1833, and his father was a Methodist minister; consequently he was obliged to "hustle for himself." At 14, he was clerk in a dry goods store in Dupont, Ind., and at 16, he was a prosperous merchant. While he was getting success in a business way, he managed at the same time to put in two or three hours a day at study, and when he was 22, he not only had a good liberal education, but he had studied medicine for two years with his brother.

In 1858 Mr. Bussey was elected to the Indiana state senate as a Democrat, and he was a delegate to the Baltimore convention that nominated Stephen A. Douglas for president. At the outbreak of the war he supported the government, and was appointed by Governor Kirkwood, of Iowa, to the command of the militia in the southeastern part of that state, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. In August, 1861, he became colonel of the Third Iowa volunteer cavalry, which he had raised, and joined the Army of the Southwest. He commanded a brigade in the battle of Pea Ridge, took part in the Arkansas campaign of 1862, and on July 10 led the Third brigade of Steele's division. From Jan. 11, 1863, until April he commanded the district of eastern Arkansas. Then he took charge of the Second cavalry division of the Army of the Tennessee. He was chief of cavalry at the siege of Vicksburg, led the advance in Sherman's movements against Johnston and defeated Jackson at Canton July 17, 1863.



GEN. CYRUS BUSSEY.

On Jan. 5, 1864, he was made brigadier general for "special gallantry," and shortly afterward was given command of western Arkansas and the Indian territory with the Third division of the Seventh corps. Fort Smith, its headquarters, was the resort of adventurers, and drunkenness and theft prevailed among the troops to an alarming extent. Gen. Bussey succeeded in breaking up corruption and restoring discipline in a short time. In March, 1865, he was breveted major general. After the war he resumed business as a commission merchant, first in St. Louis and then in New Orleans. He was a delegate to the Republican convention of 1868 which nominated Gen. Grant for president, was for six years president of the New Orleans chamber of commerce and chairman of a committee of that body that obtained from congress the appropriation for Capt. Eads' jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi. In 1881 he went to New York and engaged in business there.

The Speed of Trains.

[illegible] Professor Hadley: "The speed of railroad trains is restricted within three theoretical limits. First, a physical limit of eighty miles an hour, beyond which it is found impossible [illegible] a track to hold the [illegible]; second, [illegible] limit of sixty miles an hour, [illegible] practical experience has found trains [illegible] without much damage to [illegible] a commercial limit of thirty miles per hour, at which, all things considered, it is found most economical to run a train."—New York Tribune.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try [illegible]

NONE SUCH BAKING POWDER
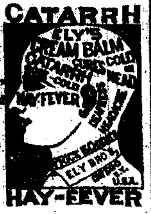
Absolutely Pure.
Contains only Pure Grape Cream Tartar, Sweet Bicarbonate Soda, and a little Starch. Full weight, always uniform. Incomparable for strength, purity and wholesomeness. The most economical. Contains no Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Phosphate, or other impurity. "Safe for dyspeptics and invalids." Sold in cans only. GEO. C. HANFORD, Mfr., Syracuse, N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.



ELY'S CREAM BALM
Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflamation, Heals the Sores Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell.
TRY THE CURE
A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists: by mail registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York.

BONANZA to AGENTS SAMPLES FREE [illegible] GEO. A. SCOTT, New York City

Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE
(THE NEW QUININE.)
Stimulates the Digestion
Calms the Nerves,
Clears the Mind,
Yet Contains No Narcotic.
A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.
"After five years suffering from malaria, which nearly destroyed my constitution, having used quinine without permament benefit I tried Kaskine and got better right away. The malarial symptoms all left me and health, sleep and strength returned. Henry Knarke, 583 Washington St., New York.
"I had all the symptoms of malarial poisoning headache, rheumatic pains, great nervous depression, loss of sleep, indigestion, &c. The old quinine proving useless I tried "the new quinine" and soon got better. W. Goldburg, Bellefontaine, Ohio.
Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice, $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.
KASKINE CO. 168, Duane St., New York.

RHEUMATIC Sciatic Pains
Rheumatic, Sciatic, Shooting, Sharp and Muscular Pains, Weaknesses, Back Ache, Uterine and Chest Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

P. & O.
PARLOA'S COOK BOOK.
Large Quarto. Lithographed Cover.
Over 100,000 Parloa Cook Books have been sold. Mailed on receipt of 30 cts by any bookseller, or ESTES & DATRIAT, Boston, Mass.

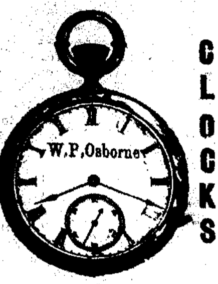
SALESMEN WANTED Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid. Special inducements to beginners. Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. Hooker Nurseries, (established 1835. ROCHESTER, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

PARDEE'S
RHEUMATIC REMEDY
Is guaranteed to cure Rheumatism, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Neuralgia and all other blood and skin diseases.
Price $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. For sale by all druggists. THE PARDEE MEDICINE CO., Rochester, New York.

VIENNA BAKERY
—AND—
ONEIDA STREET BAKERY.
I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries
Bread, Cakes Crackers
And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of
Confectionery
Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents.
JOHN BARKER,
37tf Proprietor.

The counters at the 5 and 10cts. Store are now loaded down with spring goods consisting of Tinware, Glassware, Silverware, Jewelery, Hardware, Woodenware, Fancy Goods, Toys and Thousands of other articles useful in the household. It will pay you to inspect this mammoth stock before purchasing elsewhere.

The largest stock of new jewelry, [illegible] ware (now on sale [illegible]) ever offered [illegible] per cent [illegible]



W. P. OSBORNE,
Jeweler,
WATCHES CLOCKS
—AND—
A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND.
No. 4, First Street.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

THE GLORY OF MAN
STRENGTH VITALITY!
KNOW THYSELF.
THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
A Scientific and Standard Popular Medical Treatise on the Errors of Youth, Premature Decline, Nervous and Physical Debility, Impurities of the Blood,
EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES
Resulting from Folly, Vice, Ignorance, Excesses or Overtaxation, Enervating and unfitting the victim for Work, Business, the Married or Social Relation. Avoid unskilful pretenders. Possess this great work. It contains 300 pages, royal 8vo. Beautiful binding, embossed, full gilt. Price, only $1.00 by mail, post-paid, concealed in plain wrapper. Illustrative Prospectus Free, if you apply now. The distinguished author, Wm. H. Parker, M. D., received the GOLD AND JEWELLED MEDAL from the National Medical Association, for the PRIZE ESSAY on NERVOUS and PHYSICAL DEBILITY. Dr. Parker and a corps of Assistant Physicians may be consulted, confidentially, by mail or in person, at the office of THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., to whom all orders for books or letters for advice should be directed as above.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S
GRATEFUL-COMFORTING.
COCOA
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

FARMS BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South J. F. MANCHA, Clairmont, Vt.

DR. G. F. WHITNEY'S
New and Successful Method of Diagnosing and Treating Diseases. Patients treated right at their own homes with perfect success. The most difficult and complicated cases quickly and permanently relieved even after all other means have failed. Those desiring trial treatment should send full name, age, sex, weight and a brief history of illnes and medicines, carefully prepared for the case, to last ten days will be sent them with the diagnosis. Terms $5 and 6c. postage. Address G. F. WHITNEY, M. D., Cleveland, O.

JAMES COLE,
The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First S the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

Change of Ownership
Having purchased of P. Cullen the Market and Fixtures on Oneida Street I desire to say that I will keep on hand the best Western and Native Beef and everything that pertains to a
First-Class Market.
I hope for a continuance of the trade of the past patrons and invite all my friends to call.
Very Respectfully,
JAMES SMITH,
Oneida Street

PATENTS
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington D. C.

SALESMEN WANTED
to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock [illegible] SALARY AND EXPENSES OR COMMISSION. Steady employment. Apply at once [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printing, [illegible] Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

JANE BROADWELL,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
OFFICE AT RESIDENCE,
Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls.
Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Paper Hanging!
Plain and Ornamental.
All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be leftat J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store, Fulton.
JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, - Fulton, N. Y.

Thos. G. Poole,
Deputy Sheriff and Detective.
All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

FREE
$85 Solid Gold Watch. Sold for $100, until lately. Best $85 watch in the world. Perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Heavy Solid Gold Hunting Cases. Both ladies' and gents' sizes, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free, together with our large and valuable line of Household Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send Free, and after you have kept them in your home for 2 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine.

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of
FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

INSURE IN THE
TRADERS & TRAVELERS
Accident Company,
287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
BENEFITS.
$5,000 for Death.
$5,000 Loss of Limbs.
$2,500 Loss of Limb.
$2,500 Loss of Sight.
$1,250 Total Disability.
$650 Loss of One Eye.
$25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks.
One Set of Individual Registry Plates Included.
COST.
Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00
Annual Dues, - - - 1.00
Membership Fee, 5.00. $11.00
IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Traders & Travelers Accident Co. of New York desire the services of one responsible representative in each town to act as agent for the general transaction of their business. A liberal and permanent arrangement will be made with parties who can fill the above requirements. Address
C. S. SOMERVLLE, Sec'y.

McMULLEN'S
GALVANIZED.

BEST STEEL WIRE
Woven Wire Fencing
Wire Rope Selvage
80c TO $2 PER ROD.
All sizes and widths. Gates to match. Sold by [illegible] in this line of goods. FREIGHT PAID. [illegible] THE McMULLEN WOVEN WIRE FENCE CO., Nos. 116 & 120 N. Market St., Chicago, Ill.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH
PRICE 50 C
IT IS THE BEST, EASIEST TO USE, & THE CHEAPEST.

Livery Stable.
Nathan Rowlee
At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with
Livery Rigs
Of Every Description

THE FULTON TIMES

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Times' Block, - First Street.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of 10 cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

SEVERAL papers in the county have taken up a question that is of no small interest and importance to every newspaper editor and publisher in the county—it is concerning the price charged by printers for work which they do. We would speak in particular of legal work where the law fixes a price that shall be charged. In many other counties no one expects to pay less than legal rates and lawyers figure up the printer's bill on that basis and never thinks of paying anything less. In Oswego county anxiety on the part of publishers to secure such work from competitors or some other reason has brought matters to such a state that a person considers that he is doing a clever thing for a publisher if he allows him full legal rates for work done and we think it is safe to say that one-half of such work to-day in Oswego county is done at one-half the rates allowed by law. This is a case where the newspaper men of the county are doing an injury to themselves and they should not let the grass grow under their feet before they get together and come to an understanding on this and other matters of common interest. The Oswego Palladium, Fulton Patriot, Oswego Falls Observer, Hannibal News and other papers have expressed their views on this matter. Let others do likewise. We hope that within a few weeks a representatives of every paper in the county will meet together at some central point, discuss these matters and take action that will prove beneficial to all.

THE latest venture in Oswego county journalism, the Mexican, has enlarged to an eight column paper and changed its name to the Mexico Republican.

BISHOP HUNTINGTON has directed that all churches and mission chapels in the diocese of Central New York shall be opened for public worship on the Centennial celebration of the 30th, and has issued a form of service for use.

THE will of the late Milton S. Price of Syracuse makes bequests amounting to $153,000 of which $10,000 goes to Syracuse University; $10,000 to Syracuse Home Association; $10,000 to House and Hospital of the Good Shephard; $10,000 St Joseph Hospital; $10,000 Onondaga County Orphan Asylum. Many employes are well remembered. His estate was worth nearly $800,000. The only brother of the deceased, with whom he has not been on friendly terms for several years and who is the residuary legatee, will contest the will.

Oklahoma.

The new territory under the above name which on April 22d. is to be opened to actual settlers, embraces that "neutral strip," know as "No Man's Land," which was overlooked in laying out surrounding states and territories; also a large portion of the Indian Territory. It lies south of Kansas, and has a rich soil, a mild climate, is well adapted to stock and grain raising, and is about as large as the State of Ohio. It is a most inviting field for settlement, and will receive a rushing tide of immigration this Spring. All Southern Kansas is ablaze with intense excitement.

On Monday, April 22nd, precisely at 12 o'clock noon, is the moment fixed upon by President Harrison for the "opening."

Probably never before in the history of this country was a whole army of eager settlers seen hovering on the borders of a great and fertile tract, waiting the moment for the word to be given when they might pour in and take possession. There are cities of tents and shanties camped on the borders, which number their inhabitants by thousands, and the scenes daily enacted recall the times of mining excitements. When the clock strikes 12 the rush into the land of promise will be something frightful. It is predicted that Oklahoma will be a State within two years.

Fulton's Laughing Festival.

Fowler & Warmington's company of comedians are to appear at the opera house in Fulton on next Monday evening, the 22nd. in that most laughable of comedies, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon;" and those of our readers who enjoy a good laugh will not miss the opportunity of seeing this funniest of plays, of which the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

"The general desire of amusement [illegible] throughout the country to be [illegible] by the extraordinary [illegible] of 'Skipped by the Light of [illegible]' People at the present [illegible] laugh, and 'Skipped' is [illegible] up. The [illegible] in its [illegible] enjoyable, [illegible]

[illegible] Concerning Fulton [illegible]

ST. LOUIS, April 15, 1889.

Great towns, like great minds, frequently are found drifting along in nearly the same channel and the currents of both are sometimes turned away by seemingly slight incidents. The time was once when I thought Fulton about the largest town on the continent—as it certainly was the most important one to me; and every little while something transpires which renews and confirms my earlier confidence that her people are as reliable and level-headed—if not quite as numerous—as those of any other municipalty. This can seldom be made to appear as plain to the candidate who is defeated at a municipal election as to the one who is elected; but even the former, unless he is more stupid than candidates usually are, will finally settle down into the conviction that he made a mistake when he concluded that the electors unintentionally made a mistake when they vote for the other fellow.

About the time that the free and intelligent people of Fulton were struggling in the throes of their annual election, the people of St. Louis were pulling off their coats and preparing to elect a Mayor for the longer term of four years. In neither Fulton nor St. Louis does any issue in the slightest sense political become a factor in the contest and yet so accustomed are the parties to placing politics uppermost and so lost are the leaders when politics is left out, that they assume a political significence for every public excercise of the right of suffrage.

So the conventions which met in this city to nominate candidates for city offices were labeled "Republican" and "Democratic;" but the real issue in this case was social and moral a great deal more than political. In fact, the only politics about it was the name. It was anti-machine and anti-aristocratic against bossism and aristocracy. The successful candidate for Mayor before the Democratic convention made his canvass for the nomination squarely on the basis of popular right and free choice. He was honest and competent but so far as preparation for the ordinarily expensive conduct of a campaign was concerned he was practically penniless. His only competitor was a man of millions, had the aid of the machine as a natural consequence and the cooperation of the wealthy and aristocratic element in his behalf. There was a brisk and prolonged canvass, like the canvass for an election, which lacted a month or more. Public meetings were held in all parts of the city and largely attended, in which the merits of the respective positions of the candidates, instead of the individuals themselves were earnestly and good-naturedly discussed. The former outran the latter so far that when the convention assemhled his nomination by acclamation was moved and carried unanimously.

In the Republican convention the machine program was partially upset but the aristocratic element was indisputably successful. The wealth, standing and respectability of the successful aspirant were beyond question. This circumstance opened an avenue whereby the "silk-stocking" attachment of the Democratic party could be comforted and it ostentatiously organized a bolt for revenge and the benefit of the Republican candidate. It put forth a "People's Combined Ticket" and pushed it with prodigal expenditure of funds and the sagacity of men accustomed to do their work mostly by proxy. The enterprise wrought a perceptible change in what is called public sentiment, as indicated in the sporting resorts but the result of the election proved thet it was powerless to turn the strong tide that was rising in favor of the candidate of the common people.

The Republican candidate was James G. Butler, prominent and highly esteemed in Grand Army circles, a prominent and wealthy tobacco manufacturer and popular with society people and the wealthy classes. He is a native, I think, of Wisconsin. He was entirely unexceptionable as an individual; his misfortune is attributable to the principle he was selected to represent—that wealth, with whatever that implies, entitles the possessor to privileges and immunities which poverty does not.

The Democratic—and successful—candidate was Edward A. Noonan, about 40 years old, a native of Pennsylvania. He served two or three years as an apprentice in an iron foundry at Reading but subsequently made up his mind to adopt the law and later graduated at the University in Albany, in your State. Soon after that he came to this city where, after practicing a few years, he was elected Prosecuting Attorney and at the expiration of his term re-elected. Then he was elected and re-elected Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction, which he resigned in the middle of his second term to accept the office of Mayor. I account for his popularity by the fact that he is unaffected, affable, aggressive, able and honest. His career as Judge was full of surprises but his decisions—frequently as they jostled against popular judgment—were always sustained on appeal. He won public sentiment by seeming to disregard it.

Mr. Charles E. Meade, whom some of the good and generous people of Fulton will remember pleasantly, albeit he was never a permanent resident of the place, has been selected by the new Mayor as his Private Secretary. It is a position so closely related to the Chief Executive that much honor is attached to the incumbency and the emoluments also have not been entirely overlooked. For almost his entire residence in St. Louis, Charlie has been an intimate and trusted friend of Mr. Noonan and the appointment is a natural expression of the esteem and confidence in which he was held.

One or two items recently published in THE TIMES have fastened themselves upon my attention with a [illegible]

[illegible] a little sign, containing altogether but four plainly painted letters, was nailed over the corner door of the "Johnson block" basement, Oneida and Wall streets. It read "W. HEY." Willis was a bachelor then, though old enough to have married—if he had been so inclined—some years before; and was struggling honestly to make a living in the grocery business. Since then several good Fulton men have got rich at it; but Willis is not one of them, for he abandoned it before making big money at it became fashionable. One day not long after—less than a year, I think, though it may have been after he gave up the grocery trade—Willis was missed from his usual haunts for a brief interval, and when he returned he brought "Aggie" with him from some place in Massachusetts. She has stuck faithfully by him ever since and shared with such cheerfuldess as it is in human nature to exhibit, the fortunes, misfortunes and bereavements of a man who has never yet received adequate reward for a life of toil, trouble and fidelity to his friends. I don't know as I can wish Willis a hundred returns of the wedding anniversary; for as things go it would be neither agreeable nor desirable to the parties chiefly concerned to have them; but I can cheerfully wish him in one lump the endowment he has earned.

Another incident was the unexpected departure of H. N. Sabin. I will not say "death," for that would, in the sense commonly used, long since passed out of my vocabulary. Thirty-six years ago he was doing a prosperous business on the corner where the Dexter block now stands; and for some years subsequently was the partner of George D. Foster in the construction and repair of canal boats. If unlimited esteem and confidence are any criterion of a man's position in a community, then H. N. Sabin stood high, for he enjoyed them both to a wonderful extent. He was frequently entrusted with offices of responsibility, and in these, as well as in all matters of business, his honor was so exacting and unrelenting that among his extensive acquaintance his word was considered as good as his bond, and was universally accepted without misgiving. At last, one of the numerous fires by which, it now seems to me, every part of the business territory of Fulton has been swept at one time or another since 1850, drove him from the corner of Second and Oneida. Just how seriously this calamity affected him financially I never took the pains to inquire; but it marked with more or less distinctness the commencement of his decline. Finally, the culmination came; the long list of creditors who had been only too willing to confide in him suffered; and every one of them, and every friend of every one of them, became an accuser and impeacher. Commerce has no mercy and no pity. She smiles seductively on those votaries who are strong enough to defy her treacherous fluctuations, and heartlessly destroys those whom kindness might save. In a moment, as it were, and as with the breath of a simoon, the results of a long career of unswerving integrity were withered. Hope, courage, substance, spirit—all except H. N. Sabin's unflinching devotion to his family were gone. With sad countenance and bowed form he faced the disaster, and sank at last amid the debris which its fury had left in his path.

I want to leave here the testimony of my conviction that Mr. Sabin was unjustly accused, and the victim of a cruel and pitiless destiny. His previous life of unquestioned probity; the absence of every species of evidence that he or his in any way profited by the collapse; and, above all, his patient, sorrowful, but uncomplaining submission to a decree that he could neither nullify nor modify, will stand forever as mute yet eloquent monuments to his innate integrity of character, pointing to a time when Supreme Justice shall strike a balance that will vindicate him fully.

It is wise that eternity was made so long; for no other than a period absolutely without limit will ever suffice in which to right the wrongs, repair the injuries and make amends for the injustices—intentional or unintentional—which tattoo every hour and every inch of the surface of our human relations, and also afford the time necessary for unlearning the errors and learning the truths requisite to a healthy and unimpeded progress in the march of countless coming centuries. It will take pretty nearly all of eternity, too, for some people to become willing to concede that the Almighty exhibited commendable discretion in declining to set them up as Creators as they had already set themselves up as unerring interpreters—while He should take a back seat and look on approvingly; but there can at this writing be seen no good ground for anxiety that eternity will not be sufficient for even this.

G. E. W.

The largest stock of new jewelry, watches and plated ware (now on sale at Draper's No. 6 First St.) ever offered in town and at prices 20 per cen less than ever before.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

TALLY HO Baking Powder 12 cents per lb at SYLVESTER'S

We have just received new Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets which we will sell at rock bottom prices. Call and see them if you want bargains.
46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

The largest line of Wall Paper and Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. WILLIAMS'. 46tf

Canned Corn 4c. per can
46tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Immense stock of Wagons and Carriages just received at Brisco's; prices low, quality of goods high; Terms easy. 46tf.

Just arrived from the Mines, a car load of each, No. 6 and Pea coal, very nice, clean and bright, for Hart. 46tf

[illegible]

[illegible] Syracuse is to [illegible] Inauguration Day, Tuesday, the 30th of this month in a becoming manner. Committees were appointed some time ago, and at a recent public meeting the proposed program was enthusiastically ratified. All classes of citizens have taken a lively interest in making the celebration one worthy of the city and of the occasion. The program is a large one, but from the business and professional standing of the men who have it in charge, there is no question of its success.

This is the program for Tuesday, April 30th:

Salute of one hundred guns at sunrise.

At 9 a. m. religious services in the churches in accordance with the proclamation of President Harrison.

At 1:30 p. m. will be held the parade, that gives promise of being a large and successful affair. A general invitation is extended to every organization in Onondaga county to join in the parade, and it is expected that there will be a response all along the line throughout Onondaga county. Col. J. W. Yale is chairman of the Parade Committee and Marshal of the Day. Organizations desiring to take part in the parade are asked to communicate with Col. J. W. Yale, Syracuse, N. Y.

At 4 p. m. public exercises will be held in the Armory. The Rev. George B. Spaulding, D. D., has been chosen as orator of the day. The music at the Armory exercises will be one of the great features of the day, and a chorus of five hundred voices, with orchestral accompaniment, will sing the well-known patriotic and national airs. The Committee on on Decorations will have the great Armory suitably, and patriotically decorated. It is also expected that private and public buildings will be decorated for the occasion, especially along the line of march. The exact line of march has not yet been determined.

The public celebration will be brought to a close in the evening by a public display of fireworks which will be far and away the finest ever given in this part of the State.

The hope is to make the celebration not merely a Syracuse, but a Central New York affair, in which every good American citizen will take an interest. A railroad Committee has been appointed, and they hope to make reduced rates with the railroad companies for those who wish to attend the Inauguration Day celebration in Syracuse. Details as to the railroad rates will be published later.

The Syracuse celebration is going to be a good one, and will afford a chance to our citizens to help keep the centennial anniversary of Washington's inauguration.

Leave your Laundry with D. C. MORE & Co. Tuesday morning and get it Friday night. All work satisfactory. 48w2

AN OPEN LETTER.

To All Universalists, Other Liberal Minds, and Inquirers after Truth.

DEAR FRIENDS:—It is in all earnestness that I ask you to come to church; not so much on my account as on yours, and for the good of the community. The human mind has been so constituted by its great Author, that diversity of thought and opinion pervade different minds, and it has been well said that "it would be as easy to constitute all men of one height as to make them all of one mind." As we cannot have the world at our bidding, as we wish it might be, we must take it as it is, and strive to mould it for the better, if we desire to do all the good we can. There ought to be, is to be, must be one liberal church of broad theological thought, in the growing village of Fulton, that is active, permanent and efficient.

The Universalist church has taken on new life, and promises itself not to hereafter become semi-dormant, but to be an active element in Christian work in this community. The debt on the church, that has been a serious drawback to success, has been provided for and is now out of the way. The various lines of work are and are to be pressed forward. The pulpit is to be permanently filled every Sunday morning and evening. The writer invites all classes of minds to come and they shall be welcome. It is hard to convince the doubting, turn the current of moral dejection into the stream of righteousness and instruct the uninstructed in divine light and life at arm's length. Faith in the divine word and works; faith in the universal fatherhood of God, universal brotherhood of man; destined, finally, to one universal home; freed from sin thro' one Redeemer; is, when properly understood and thorougly appreciated, fully sufficient, by God's help, to bring forth from the human soul a deep and profound devotion, a prayerful and an upright life. At the present time, there is a vast amount of inquiry respecting the standards of credal opinions of former times. Agnosticism, doubt and denial are prevalent nearly everywhere, and while determined to help to do our share of the christian work in this community, and without feeling the least antagonism towards other branches of the christian church in their christian work, a full and free treatment of errors of opinion and errors of practice we shall feel in duty bound to discuss. Seeking for truth, in its broadest sense, in harmony with the gospel of Christ and the gospel of nature, for the purpose of the improvement and elevation of the great humanity, is the sole object of the writer. A pleasant greeting will be given to all at our church, whether rich or poor, saint or sinner, so that all may either do good or get good by the cultivation of the intellectual, moral and spiritual powers, and we trust be inspired to feel and to say with the Psalmist, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord.'" May many come and come often.

B. BRUNNING, Pastor.

We have some of the biggest bargains in Pants ever shown in Fulton. [illegible] D. C. MORE & Co.

[illegible] Washington, April 15, 1889.

Some of the applications for postmasterships display a fair idea of the appointing power. If the application is addressed to the President, the applicant dwells upon his war record and rakes his list of acquaintances with a fine tooth comb to find some one who knows the President personally. Like as not the person found is a minister who used to know General Harrison in Indianapolis. The number of this particular brand of ministers is wonderful to contemplate. A few days since I saw a specimen indorsement written by one of them for a man who wants to be counsul to Melbourne. The letter was six pages long, and looked like a confidential offer of general advice combined with a history of Indiana.

If the applicant has in his mind's eye the rotund Christianity of the Postmaster-General, he dwells strongly on his connection with some Sunday school, and if possible shows that he is during week days a conscientious business man doing a large trade which it will really be a sacrifice for him to even partially abandon for the purpose of accepting a post-office. And yet after due consideration and prayer, he has concluded that his wife will be able to attend to the busines while he sits in the post office and occasionally shuffles letters and puts fresh gun on the second hand stamps. He never forgets to state that he has given the matter "prayerful consideration" though whether his prayors are for Divine direction or merely for good luck is not stated.

But it is when he strikes First Assistant Postmaster Clarkson that the candidate comes out strong. Here he can show his sores and wounds received in the cause of the Republican party and pour into eager ears the story of his trials, his energy and his wrongs. Here is a man who does not feel bitterly toward him merely because he lost his ears or nose in a joint debate at a caucus. Verily the alert office-seeker is all things to all men.

The Postoffice Department grinds out the appointments as rapidly as possibly, which of course is too slow to suit the applicants and their friends. There are more than 40,000 to be decapitated and replaced, and progress appears slow. In the fourth-class appointments the greatest speed is attained. The recommendation of of the Republican Congressman representing the district in which the office is situated is followed unquestionably. Where there is no Republican member the recommendation of the recognized party leaders is taken. Of course a fierce struggle commences right there as to who are entitled to be called leaders, but the Department solves the problem with as little bloodshed as possible, oils up the machine and goes ahead.

President Harrison's mail is gradually falling off in extent until it now averages only about seven hundred letters a day. This should not be taken as encouragement to John Jones of Jones' Switch to write oftener, for only the most important of these letters ever see the eye of an important clerk.

The number of photographs filed with applications rather increase than lessens. Every day a hundred or so are filed. The applicants in remote districts seem to have abiding faith in the power of beauty to seize and hold the appointing power. Still a photograph of a pair of staring eyes, an assorted lot of whiskers and a hand-me-down suit of clothes, set off by a green necktie, is not calculated to secure for the subject the English mission. One Georgia man who desires to be in the Internal Revenue service, sends a picture of himself and horse in a sort of dime novel make up. His boots and spurs are something terrible to contemplate in their ferocious grandeur, and the calibre of his Winchester and revolvers stamp him as a man capable of seizing a dozen mountain stills. In his letter on the subject he states that, although he rode twenty miles to have the pictures made, his friends tell him that the eyes are not exactly like his, whereupon he adds that his sight is, if anything more than another can be said to be, his strong point.

A scheme is talked of which has for its object the pensioning of government clerks. No appropriation is sought, it being merely proposed to ask Congress for legislation which will legalize such a plan. The proposition is to create the fund by subscription from employes, for that purpose the sum of $1 per month be deducted from each clerk's salary. In the event of retirement after thirty years service, the clerk retiring receives a pension of $40 per month.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires costitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by The traveling public and residents along the lines of northerly railways will doubtless be grateful to eeeehhrhhe F. J. Cheeney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHEENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggist, 75c. 45.4

Piso's Remedy for catarrh. The best and easiest to use. Sold exclusively, in Fulton, by H. C. Giesler. tf

The counters at the 5 and 10cts. Store are now loaded down with spring goods consisting of Tinware, Glassware, [illegible], Jewelery, [illegible] Fancy [illegible]

[illegible] held at this place last Tuesday and Wednesday was a success. Eminent farmers from abroad gave us much desired information. Secretary Woodward of the state agricultural society; J. F. Converse of Jefferson County; John Gardinier and A. S. Tubbs, of this county delivered excellent addresses. One of the best addresses delivered on the occassion was by Dr. J. B. Todd of this place. The subject was milk, showing its component parts, its adaptation for humanity and the necessity of furnishing cows with June food, pure air and pure water. There were a variety of questions discussed all pertinent to the farmer. There was a large number of our young people present. These meetings have given the farmers of this town a great impetus. There will be several silos built and our cows and other farming stock will be better cared for.

The last day of the session we were greeted by Hon. John A. Place of the Oswego Times. It is a good place for him to be among the farmers. There he obtains wisdom and strength to speak a word for the best people who inhabit the earth, the farmers. The farmers indicate by their talk and acts that they will take a greater interest in legislative matters in the future.

C. H. Heller is now mine host of the Kirch house.

The barn of Sherlon Burgdorf in the eastern part of this town burned a few nights since, caused by some one falling through the scaffold with a lantern. Some cows, an ox, ten tons of hay and other articles were burned. There was a slight insurance.

A. C. Sidman (Uncle Rube) with some good home talent are holding entertainments in this place for the benefit of the Parish Brass Band. "Uncle Rube" is a great comedian.

Paints, Oils, Varnishes, &c. at very low Prices at 49tf WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

Palermo.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

D. H. Trimble's cheese and butter factories are to open this week; that of Bowens Corners and South Granby on the 15th and Palermo Centre on the 18th.

Miss Olla Jennings of the Palermo Centre House is on the sick list and is attended by Dr. Green.

Mrs. Fred Rowe of Camillus has been in town the past week at the residence of O. P. Jennings on a visit.

Our summer school is to commence to-day and is to be taught by Miss Grace Bennett of Mexico.

Farmers in town are preparing their ground to sow their Bohemian oats; while some are expecting a large benefit from them othess think they are badly sold.

Volney Centre.

(Special Correspondence to THE TIMES.)

Mr. Gilmour decided to commence making cheese Monday to meet the wishes of some of his patrons.

There will be a Demorest prize contest in the Bristol Hill church Friday evenine, April 19. After the contest there will be maple sugar for those inclined to indulge their "sweet teeth." An attractive musical and literary program has been prepared and all are cordially invited. Admission to church 10cts.

There will be a Farmer's Institute in the grange hall on the farm of L. B. Babcock in the 16th. district. Able speakers will be present, and things of especial value to farmers discussed. Farmers are invited to bring any question they wish answered and put in the query box.

Orville Hart has gone to Syracuse a few days.

The sick are all improving and we hope to see them out soon.

School commenced this morning with Miss Minnie Parsons of Palermo, teacher.

Miss Edith Snell has gone to "Sony Robie." to teach the coming Summer.

The new puzzle Pigs in Clover for sale at the 5 & 10cts. Store. 48w2

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' Electric Co. of Fulton, N. Y., will be held at the law office of H. E. Nichols in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 9th day of May A. D., 1889, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The object of such meeting is to consider and act upon a proposition to increase the capital stock of said corporation from $30,000 to $54,000. A full attendance is requested in person or by proxy.

Dated, Fulton, N. Y., April 17, 1889.

T. D. LEWIS,
F. A. EMERICK,
A. J. SNOW,
G. G. CHAUNCEY,
FRANK DILTS.
Directors of the Above Named Corporation.
49t4

You can get handsome Cromos and picture cards for Master wrappers. 48tf.

Dust Tea 8 to 15c per lb. at SYLVESTER'S.

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Stephens Opera House.

The Loudest Laugh of the Season.

Monday, April 22d 1889.

Fowler & Warmington's

Company, In their New and Revised Version of the play that has made all America laugh,

SKIPPED

By the Light of the Moon!

—INTRODUCING—

NEW FEATURES, NEW SPECIALTIES AND ALL NEW MUSIC.

—WITH—

Wm. Blaisdell, Jr., Gus. Frankel, Chas J. Hagan, Sally Cohen

—AND A—

BRILLIANT COTERIE of COMMEDIANS.

Funnier than Ever Before.

[illegible]

GRAFF'S CARPET FURNITURE HOUSE.

Twelve Floors - Passenger Elevator.

We desire to call your attention to our large and representative Stock of Carpets, Furnit re, Draperies, BEDDING, &c.

The Largest and Grandest Assortment of fine and inexpensive FURNITURE and at prices correspondingly low.

OUR CARPET HALL

Contains all kinds and grades of corpeling. The largest stock ever shown under one roof. It will pay you when in the city to give us a call and verify our statements.

A. A. Graff & Co.,

61 and 63 South Salina St., Syracuse.

Go to Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Blinds.

☞Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y

A PRESSING

Invitation is extended to gentlemen who like to be faultlessly dressed to examine our new Spring Goods. We are daily in receipt of numbers of immense cases filled with the choicest and finest CLOTHING for MEN, YOUTHS, BOYS and CHILDREN, made for this season's wear. Our aim is to provide the Finest made Garments at the lowest prices, together with the Choicest stock of our Merchant Tailoring department.

I. H. BROUNSTEIN'S

Clothing and Merchant Tailoring House,

13 and 15 No. Salina St.,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

SNOW

Has a New

OLIVER
STEEL
PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

Chilled Plows.

SPRING

It is an acknowledged fact that during the months of spring, the body is more susceptible to the beneficial effects of medicine than at any other period during the entire year. Therefore any lady suffering from weakness, loss of appetite, blood disorders or nervous prostration is wise in now commencing to use Austen's 51797 Ladies Prescription, a tonic, blood purifying and strengthening medicine excelled by none. This remedy is particularly useful in aiding the convalescent's return to health and strength. It is guaranteed to be harmless and free from any injurious drugs.

Sold by all druggists [illegible]

The TORTURES OF DESPAIR

Can be no worse than the agony of a man or woman troubled with Sick Headache. The terrible pain; the nausea; the lack of all interest in life; the disgust with everything and everybody; the world can afford no pleasure to any one when suffering from Sick Headache.

Why have Doctors never been able to cure this fearful trouble?

Because they have never discovered the right thing!

Have they tried?

Yes, for hundreds of years.

But a Chemist of Troy, N. Y., discovered the remedy, and the remedy that will cure in EVERY CASE arising from a deranged stomach.

Sawyer's Sick Headache Powders

Go right to the Seat of the trouble—the Stomach. They are purely vegetable, and contain no narcotics. They act with wonderful promptness and never leave any bad after-effect.

Phillip Phillips, the "Singing Pilgrim," says of them:—"I cannot tell you how glad I am to get something that relieves my wife of her headaches."

Rev. George F. Pentecost, D. D., says:—"I have received many benedictions from those to whom I have given these powders."

The late Rev. C. P. Sheldon, says:—"They are a wonderful remedy, and all they claim to be."

A sample of these wonderful Powders will be sent FREE to any sufferer from this terrible affliction, or they can be procured of all reputable druggists.

SAWYER MEDICINE CO.
49m6 Troy, N. Y.

Oh! How Delightful!
TAYLOR
PATENT [illegible]
ADJUSTABLE
LADIES
SHOE
[illegible]
FOOT DRESS

DELIGHTED LADIES EVERYWHERE

Pronounce this shoe the Acme of STYLE, COMFORT AND DURABILITY.

"Corns and Bunions have had their day,
The TAYLOR SHOE drives them all away."

☞One Size Narrower Can Be Worn.☜

No tacks, wax or nails to discomfit the wearer

Never crack or break away from the sole.

Retain their original shape.

Require no breaking in.

Do you Dance. Are you hard to fit.

Have you corns or tender feet.

Wear the Taylor Adjustable Shoe and Be Happy.

$2.50 Brazilian Kid. French Process, $3.50.

A Marvel of Cheapness and Economy.

Every pair of Taylor Shoes Guaranteed.

For Sale in Fulton and Oswego Falls only by

COLLINS & BILLINGS.

CAUTION No other local dealer has the Taylor Shoe, We Guarantee his Sales only.
Consolidated Shoe Co. Lynn, Mass. Man'f.

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,

Wholesale Dealers in

Liquors Wines Lager Beer

AND ALES.

Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE,

OSWEGO,

CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO OF SYRACUSE, and the

HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.

Our Wine List includes

CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet)

PORT, CLARET, MADERIA

AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES.

Sold in Bulk or Bottles.

Oneida Street, - - Fulton, N. Y.

Paper Hanging! Plain and Ornamental.

All Work Guaranteed. Good References Given. Orders can be be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at [illegible]'s Store, Fulton.

JAMES STEVENS,
Post Office Address, Fulton, N. Y.

If you want your clothes clean and [illegible]

E. E. HART SELLS THE BEST LEHIGH VALLEY COAL, AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Up town Office Opposite Bee Hive, First Street. Coal Delivered in Fulton and Oswego Falls.

To Our Patrons.

Owing to largely increased business we are obliged to occupy the

Whole Store

Which will give us plenty of room to show goods and also give us one of the

Pleasantest and best Lighted

Stores in town. We shall continue our old plan of doing business,

One Price To All

And Satisfaction Guaranteed. We have just received a large line of PANTS, some of which will be sold at less than they cost the manufacturer.

See Our Spring Overcoats.

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliabe One Price

-CLOTHIERS!-

Gardner Block, - Oneida Street, - Fulton, N. Y.

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday April 17, 1889.

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:06 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:14 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:47 p. m
Syracuse Express	5:24 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	9:05 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:06 a. m
Day Express	11:14 a. m
Day Express	2:48 p. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:02 p. m
Evening Express	9:48 p. m

The 8:06 a. m., and 9:05 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N Y ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:22 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:10 a. m
Norwich Express	3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:33 a. m
Oswego Express	11:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	5:20 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:37	11:22	3:32	5:37	7:32
For Oswego.	8:48	11:56	2:38	6:13	8:43

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

Rev. A. M. Roe is seriously ill with pneumonia.

M. S. Crombie and family of Cortland, are in town.

Mrs. Samuel Andrews is visiting at her home in Troy.

Rev. B. Brunning went to Sherburne Monday. He returns to-morrow.

Ernest George of Mexico spent Sunday at his mother's home on Fourth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sheridan of Toronto, Ont. are visiting at Dr. C. M. Lee's.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead attended the M. E. conference at Lowville, over Sunday.

Dr W. H. Loomis has been home from New York during the past week. He returned to-day.

Maud Barnes is home from Houghton seminary, Clinton, on a vacation. She returns Monday.

Miss Genevieve Kenyon and Miss Martha Chesebro of New York are in town visiting friends.

H. C. Burdick of New York formerly secretary of the Howe Ventilating Stove Co., of this village is in town.

Mrs. F. D. VanWagenen is home from Saratoga, where she has been some time for the benefit of her health.

Mrs. C. C. Benedict has been visiting friends in Rochester. She was called home by the sudden death of her brother.

J. G. Rappole and wife of Theresa, Jefferson county, who have been the guests of G. A. Rappole for three or four weeks past returned home yesterday.

Bradford Willard of New York city, well known to many Fultonians, who has been in Florida for his health for several months has returned home and is in a critical condition.

Grove Dutton and Thomas Coles are the delegates of Post Schenck, G. A. R., to attend the Centennial of the inauguration at Washington in New York on April 30th. Both are one armed veterans.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook have been in town during the week. They are to go to Cleveland, O. where they expext to take up their permanent residence, the clothing store of Cook & Westcott at Cortland having been sold.

S. Parmalee, Dr. G. V. Emens, A. E. Keller and F. E. Rice went to Binghamton last Friday and in the evening the last two gentlemen with 60 from other parts of the state took the degree of the Mystic Shrine. A degree high up in masonry.

—ORDERS FOR—

Q. RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan, ef.

Now often the husband
To himself says: 'Doggone it,
The cash must be raised
For that new Easter bonnet!"
—Elmira Advertiser.

The Largest line of Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. Williams'. Call and get prices. 49tf

The Washington Celebration.

The New York, Ontario & Western R'y. announce that on April 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th., they will place on sale excursion tickets at low rates, for all trains on the above dates, good for return May 6th.

They also announce a special low rate ticket to be good to return up to May 2nd.

Those of our readers who anticipate attending the great Centennial would do well to secure a copy of the Ontario & Western advertising circular, giving full particulars as to special rates, tickets, as well as full program of all the attractions of the Celebration, which will be found of great value to excursionists.

Washington's Inauguration Celebration.

On night trains April 28 and 29th. the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co. will sell excursion tickets to New York good for return until May 2nd, at $6.50.

On all trains of 27, 28, 29 and 30th. the rate will be $8.40 for round trip good until May 6th.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon," will set Fulton laughing next Monday night.

A large and fine line of Imported and Domestic cigars can be found at Darrow's News room.

Rev. Father Kearney was the special preacher at St. Patricks church Geddes last evening.

H. J. Peebles was called to Utica Sunday by a telegram announcing the dangerous illness of his child who is with Mrs. Peebles visiting there. Mr. Peebles returned yesterday, the child having recovered.

The N. Y. O. & W. Railroad Co. has purchased Mrs. Lawrence's house and lot on Second street near Broadway and are trying to purchase other property in that locality. It is reported that they intend to put in a switch there.

The Following fourth class postmasters were appointed for Oswego county by Presidaent Harrison yesterday: O. E. West Caugdenoy; Frank Young, Clifford; J. A. Ba.rus, Fairdale and Mrs. L. W. Fraley, Hinmansville.

Dr. T. C. Iliff of Salt Lake City who has charge of the Educational Department of Methodist Missions in Utah gave on exceedingly interesting address on Missionary work there at the M. E. church Monday evening. While here he was the guest of C. S. Eggleston.

The success of Lister's Phosphate for which H. McKiernan is sole agent has been so great that two car loads have already been disposed of and another car load will arrive in a few days. Mr. McKiernan also has it to retail in small quantities for lawns, gardens &c. at his place on First street.

Don't fail to see all of the nobby styles of Wall Paper at 46tf M. M. WILLIAMS'.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Apr. 17, 1889.

Frank Holton, Miss Norah Houlihan, Ellen Howe, Capt. Hutchinson, Mrs. Cora Hill, Chas. Hart, Sarah Fulton, Mrs. Ann Collins, Jas. Catskill, Mrs. Annie Flett, Albert Felton, Dell Bailey, Phil. Branden, John Blakeman, Ferley M. Brown, A. S. Brown, Kate Crowe.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M.

Capt. O. J. Jennings will be general manager of the Granby Brownstone Co. this season.

Sir Humfrey Davy discovered the safety lamp but Hanford discovered the None-Such.

New spring bonnets will be out next Sunday if pleasant, and it generally is pleasant on Easter.

Sunday evening services are now held at 7:30 instead of 7 as they were during the winter months.

B. C. Brown in THE TIMES block has this spring the largest and finest display of furniture that was ever shown in Fulton.

Miss Mamie Collins of Oswego Falls lost a gold watch last week, between Nelson's mill and McDonough's farm north of the village.

John Morway fell on a defective sidewalk on Rochester near Fourth street, and has since been suffering from a sprained ankle.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon," the funniest of all funny plays, will be at the Stephen's Opera House on next Monday evening. Don't miss it.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase of this village was elected official reporter to the Northern Christian Advocate at the Northern N. Y. conference Friday.

An exceedingly fine piece of work in papering has just been completed by James Stevens for the A. O. U. W. in their hall in the new Emeny block, Oswego Falls.

Services will be held this week at Zion church Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings; Friday morning at half past ten and Saturday afternoon.

Country roads are getting in good condition and everything begins to look encouraging for farmers. A warm rain is now needed to help grass and winter wheat along.

The first re-union of the 24th Regiment, N. Y. Vols. will be hold at the rooms of Post O'Brien, Oswego, May 17. The friends in Oswego will furnish a banquet free to the survivors who are in attendance.

The marriage of Miss Rebecca Stewart, sister of M. A. Stewart of the "Bee Hive" to Mr. Walter L. Baldwin of Syracuse, occurs on Wednesday, April 24th, at four o'clock p. m., at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, in this village.

Constant dropping will wear away a stone and high prices will wear out any sized pocket-book, but this need not hinder you from dropping in the Dry Goods and Clothing stores of H. & A. Rosenbloom. Their prices are too low to wear out anything.

The first district meeting of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society of Onondaga and Oswego counties was held in the First Methodist church Syracuse yesterday. About twenty attended from Fulton. The meeting next year will be held in Oswego.

H. H. Porter and family have returned from Mexico and taken possession of the farm two miles east of Fulton, recently occupied by M. A. Eno. They have re-established a milk route for Fulton and vicinity and are supplying the best of milk from a first class dairy.

F. A. Emerick has purchased a part of the double lot at the corner of Buffalo and Fourth streets facing the park of Mrs. Julia Townsend. He will erect a nice dwelling house on the same at once. The corner lot still remains and is on the market, we venture to state that it will not be long as it is, in our opinion, the most desirable lot in the village.

The Oswego Driving Park association was organized last Friday night with a capital stock of $1,000. The subscribers to the stock are all stockholders of the Oswego County Fair association, and the object of the new organization is to hold intermediate races aside from those at the regular fair. The first meeting will be held on July 9th, 10th and 11th.

A telegram was received by C. C. Benedict yesterday announcing that his wife's brother, William H. Weed of Mexico had died at Albany at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Weed was taken sick on Saturday in Albany on his way from New York with inflamation of the bowels and the skill of the best physicians in Albany was unable to overcome the disease. His wife was there when he died. Mr. Weed was an active business man and for several years past had been engaged quite extensively in telephone constructions. The remains were taken to Mexico to-day and funeral will be held Friday.

Is Marriage a Failure?—Not if you buy your coal of Hart. 44tf

Electric Light Co's. Meetings.

A meeting of the Fulton-Schuyler Electric Co. was held in the law office of H. E. Nichols on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Thirteen directors were elected six of whom resigned at the close of the meeting the following officers were selected: Pres., R. Bradshaw; Vice Pres., F. Dilts; Sec'y and Treas., G. G. Chauncey. The above officers and F. E. Bacon, C. Belknap, T. D. Lewis and A. J. Snow were made directors.

At 3:30 p. m. on the same day the Citizens Electric Co. met in the law office of G. S. Piper and elected the following trustees of their organization: C. Belknap, F. Dilts, G. G. Chauncey, F. A. Emerick, T. D. Lewis, A. J. Snow and F. E. Bacon.

At a meeting of the directors of the Citizens Electric Co. held in the law office of H. E. Nichols Monday evening C. Belknap was elected president, Frank Dilts, Vice President; G. G. Chauncey Sec'y and Treas.

The secretary was instructed to prepare bids for street lighting and present the same to the Board of village trustees. A call for 20 per cent. of cash from subscribers was authorized to be collected by secretary. There are seventy-four local subscribers to stock in the company.

The First One Finished.

George J. Emeny completed last week the first Kendrick Straw and Fodder cutter and it works perfectly in all its parts. The increasing demand for such cutters and the fact that experts—men who know what they are taking about—pronounce it superior to any in the market, leads us to predict that the manufacture of this article will result in the springing up of a large and prosperous enterprise for Fulton and bring due compensation to both inventor and manufacturer.

Samuel Lincoln, agent for E. W. Ross & Co. examined the machine Saturday and predicted a large sale for it.

Mr. Emeny has commenced to manufacture one hundred of these cutters and has given his order for 400 knives for them to Taylor Bros. & Co.

A CARD

From H. & A. Rosenbloom.

During the time we were receiving our Spring and Summer dry goods and clothing (a few days since) we were threatened with legal proceedings for obstructing the side-walks with our cases of goods, but, fortunately, escaped.

As we are now receiving an immense stock of summer goods, we are compelled, for a few hours each day to slightly obstruct the thoroughfare in front of our stores, and we think it advisable to ask the general public to bear with us as much as possible and not to lay complaints against us. In return for their consideration we will promise to use every effort to clear away the cases as fast as they arrive and will show our appreciation to the general public by working these goods down to prices which will amply repay any slight inconvenience we may have caused them.

Thanksgiving Exercises.

Under the auspices of Hiram Lodge No. 144, F. & A. M. Thanksgiving exercises for the liquidation of the Asylum debt will be held in the opera house, Wednesday evening, April 24, An address of the Grand Master, Frank R. Lawrence will be read by N. N. Stranahan. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. J. C. Breaker and Rev. B. Brunning. There will also be music by the Glee Club under charge of N. H. Gilbert. Everyone is cordialy invited to be present.

On that evening members of Hiram Lodge are requested to meet in Masonic hall at 7:15; also members of sister lodges visiting or sojuourning with us.

Owing to peculiar circumstances unnecessary for us to explain we have come into possession of 6,500 YARDS
of the
BEST CALICOES
Manufactured in America,
to be sold from 2 to 3cts a Yard
Lower than ever Sold before.
Call and take advantage of these exceedingly Low Prices.
They will Astonish You.
We shall also make Special Prices on
Dress Goods, Spring Jackets and Beaded Wraps
for this week, at the
"BEE HIVE."
Bennett & Stewart.

Positively Given Away,

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co.

Beautiful spring weather.

Rev. J. C. Breaker had a young son born Monday.

L. T. Miller is again able to be at his store after a month's illness.

S. J. Palmiter will preach next Sunday in the Free Baptist church at Syracuse.

The foundation walls for the new gun works are up several feet above the surface on three sides.

G. E. Osborn has rented the Broadway house, Oswego Falls and will conduct it as a temperance hotel.

The relatives of the late J. T. Owen wish to thank the kind friends who assisted them in their bereavement.

WANTED—A girl to take care of two children during day and sleep at own home nights. Inqure at the seminary.

Anniversary exercises of the W. R. C. are to be held in the G. A. R. rooms on Monday evening April 22, at 7:45 o'clock.

The ladies of the Church of the Restoration will hold an ice cream social in the church parlors Tuesday evening, April 23.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon" at the opera house Monday evening next. This is a great play and is presented by a great company.

The newly established post office at Three River Point will be open for business very shortly. Royal J. Houghton has been appointed postmaster.

Easter services and communion at Universalist church, Sunday morning. Subject in the evening—Answer to the question "Did the Sun Stand Still for Joshua?"

The jury in the case of the people of the Onondaga county against Norman Stoughtenger brought in a veron Friday of manslaughter in the second degree. On Saturday he was sentenced by Judge Kennedy to six years in Auburn prison.

Rev. Mr. Bradford, brother of A. Bradford of this village, occupied the pulpit in the M. E. church last Sunday morning, he spoke in the Christian Association rooms in the afternoon and preached the sermon in the Presbyterian church in the evening.

At the Syracuse Drug store in one of the show windows can be seen, when they come out of the coop where the "old lady" is, nine chicks painted in about all the colors of the rainbow. These little Easter chicks are a novel sight and attract much attention.

A meeting of the Pathfinder Boat Club will be held in Trustees Room, on [illegible] evening at 7:30 p. m. Plans Frida[illegible] a club house will be suband bids [illegible] at this meeting and mitted to the c[illegible] taken thereon. A action on building [illegible] requested. full attendance is earnes[illegible] By order of the executive Com.

It is announced that to-morrow evening the farmers of Volney will meet at Grange Hall in the "Sixteenth" district for the purpose of organizing a Farmer's Town Club of Volney. A. S. Tubbs of Mexico, John Gardenier of Oswego and J. J. Converse of Jefferson county are expected to be present.

The Eastor festival, in preparation by the ladies of Zion church promises to be a great success. For two afternoons and evenings Church's hall will be open. Refreshments served and aprons and fancy work sold. The most attractive feature will be the Martha Washington tea party which will be given on Tuesday, April 30, the great centennial day.

The case of Miss Libbie Ostrander against Thomas Cary, trustee of the Hinmansville school to secure $28 alleged to be due her was tried again in Oswego last week. The jury was out several hours but failed to agree. Eleven were for Miss Ostrander and one for the district. The first trial was before Justice David in this village and Miss Ostrander won. Another copper will probably have to be "flipped" to settle the case.

The Pierce Quartet of this city went to Fulton last Thursday evening on the invitation of the Quaker City Quartet of the Rooney company and were finely entertained there by that organization. The members of both quartet have long been friends and the reunion was a pleasant one to all. The Quaker City Quartet is one of the finest now on the road and gave the best of satisfaction at their Fulton engagement. —Palladium.

Rye Feed is being sold very cheap to make room at Fulton Mills, GILBERT & NICHOLS. 48w4

The Next Member of Assembly.

The close future holds political honors of which Fulton may well look to with pride. The sun shines fair upon H. C. Howe's aspiration for the Oswego Collectorship, and now a breeze has sprung up from the city of the lake which wafts before it the next Republican Assembly nomination. The Herald is afforded genuine pleasure in being permitted to make the first local announcement that the appropriate recipient of this honor will be N. N. Stranahan, one of the most talented members of the Oswego county bar. The gentleman is too well and favorably known to HERALD readers to require an introduction. Born and brought up near Fulton, his education was begun at Falley seminary and concluded at Columbia college, He entered into partnership with S. B. Mead, and during his association with that gentleman while District Attorney and ever since, obtained an intimate knowledge of civil and criminal law which has gained him an enviable professional reputation. In politics he has always stood staunchly Republican, and the esteem and respect in which he is held by his party are attested by the fact that he has no opponent, but rather a unanimous sentiment, whose expression is the sweetest flattery a man can receive. He has served his party faithfully and well and this token of appreciation is but just and deserved.—Syracuse Sunday Herald.

OBITUARY.

Samuel G. Merriam, a well-known citizen of Oswego County and a resident of New Haven village where he had lived since 1831, died on Saturday, April 13th, at the age of 89 years. Mr. Merriam, was engaged in mercantile business and had been postmaster at New Haven for thirty-two years.

He was one of the active founders of the Oswego Falls Agricultural Society and its first treasurer.

When the split came in the Oswego County Agricultural society because of the permanent location at Mexico. Merriam took the Oswego and Fulton side of the question, and when the suit came to decide which organization was the legitimate county agricultural society, suit was brough in the name of Mr. Merriam as treasurer of the Oswego-Fulton society, in the way of a demand for the funds and property. When the court of appeals decided the suit in favor of the Mexico organization the other became the Oswego Falls Society under a special charter. He was the uncle of H. H. Merriam of Granby.

When you need a Spring Overcoat call on D. C. MORE & Co. 48w2

The Women's Home Missionary society of the Northern New York Conference met Saturday and elected officers. Mrs. T. B. Shepard of Oswego was elected president. The following were elected managers: Adams district, Mrs. I. L. Hunt, Jr., Adams; Mrs. Dr. F. B. Hough, Lowville. Oswego district, Mrs. L. A. Clark, Oswego; Mrs. E. R. Redhead, Fulton. [illegible]tes to annual meeting at In- Dele[illegible]s, Mrs. Rev. T. B. Shepard, dianapolis. Helen D. Ferguson, St. Oswego; Mrs. [illegible]nates, Miss Minnie Johnsville. Alter[illegible] L. A. Clark, Hough, Lowville; Mrs. Oswego.

Nearly a Centenarian.

Mrs. Betsey VanDelinder died at her home near Granby Centre, Tuesday April 16, 1889 at the extreme age of 97 years. She was born in Washington county and came to Granby 58 years ago where she lived until her death yesterday. She was the widow of Abram VanDelinder who died 25 years ago.

Funeral will be held from her old home on Thursday at 2 p. m.

Owing to Peculiar Circumstances unnecessary for us to explain
We have come into possession of 6,500 Yards
—OF THE—
BEST CALICOES
Manufactured in America
to be sold from 2 to 3cts a Yard
LOWER THAN EVER SOLD BEFORE.
Call and take advantage of these Exceedingly Low Prices.
They will astonish you.
We shall also make Special Prices on
DRESS GOODS, SPRING JACKETS, and BEADED WRAPS
for this week, at the
"BEE HIVE."
BENNETT & Stewart.

Good Baby Carriages at M. M. Williams' for $5.00 and up. 49tf

Just received a fresh stock of Confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

New Goods. The latest ideas in Glassware at 46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & Co's.

EASTER!

We mention it because at about this period the weather is supposed to permit of putting on the New Spring Suit and substituting a New Spring Overgarment for the ulster. In view of this fact wouldn't it be a good idea to look over our offerings for the season.

Mothers bear in mind that you will find Special Styles in new Children's Clothing not obtainable elsewhere.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Furniture & Undertaking.

We offer the Largest Stock of

FURNITURE

ever shown in Fulton and at prices

Below all Competition.

A Full Line of

Window Shades, Cheap

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholstering.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN.

Times Block.

FOR SALE.—A second-hand, one horse lumber wagon. Inquire of A. Bristol or Hart the coal dealer. 48w2

FOR SALE, EXCHANGE OR RENT—Five acres of land and new barn, at corner of Phillips and Fifth Streets Oswego Falls. For particulars inquire of H. HOWARD, 48w2 Baldwinsville, N. Y.

HOUSES FOR SALE OR RENT—Situate on Choice Building Lots on 1st, 2d and 7th streets. Also for sale [illegible] and other streets. Pay- 2d, 3d, 4th [illegible]ment plan or cash as ments on inst. [illegible] desire. purchaser may [illegible] S. NELSON, Ag't. 47w4

FOR SALE.—Five acres of good land in [illegible] side of No. 3 school district on Sixth st. [illegible] Easy terms. Enquire of MORGA[illegible] BERTS. 45tf

Wort's famous bread at Berzee's.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A. Bristol is constantly receiving Pianos and Organs of many of the leading makes which he is offering at great bargains. 44tf

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

Bass and Trout Flies 30cts. a Doz., Winged or Hackles 200 varieties,
48tf W. C. TUCKER.

Leave orders for Green, the paper hanger, at C. S. Eggleston's. 47tf

H[illegible] every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. TRY IT and you will be well pleased. 44tf

Chocolate creams at 25cts. per pound worth 40c at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf 1889. 1889.

IN EARNEST

MILTON S. PRICE,

SALINA AND CLINTON STS., SYRACUSE, N. Y.

THE STOCK OF

DRY GOODS,

CARPETS,

Furniture and Curtain Draperies.

For years I have been in the habit of making my Spring and Fall Announcement in the columns of this paper. No doubt my great establishment has been visited by many of its readers, so that it will be of no use to give a description of my great stores.

I will emphatically say, that this is to be the banner year. I am proud of the selections made by my corps of buyers for the Spring Season of 1889.

THE STOCK OF DRY GOODS AND FANCY GOODS is the Largest in the City.

CARPETS!

The Acknowledged Headquarters for Carpets.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies

From the best makers in the Eastern and Western markets. The stock of Curtain Draperies is perfectly grand.

Those wishing to purchase Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture and Curtain Draperies will be well repaid by coming to Syracuse and making a thorough inspection of my stock. I feel confident that there will be no trouble in making selections, and the prices at which I am offering goods this season cannot but meet with public favor.

MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

LOOK OUT FOR BARGAINS

—ON OUR—

OPENING DAY.

-T-H-U-R-S-D-A-Y.-

Friday and Saturday Special Days Also.

Special Bargains all through the Store. Don't fail to see what we will do for you.

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

(Successors to F. E. Bacon.)

If you have [illegible] - [illegible] - Try it. - - SCHENCK & FOSTER.

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday April 17, 1889.

WORTH KNOWING.

English farmers assert that there is no question about sheep taking readily to good sweet silage and doing well on it.

Don't forget that it is much easier to let cows shrink in their milk, than to persuade them to swell the milk flow.

A Florida fruit grower reports himself much pleased with the use of oiled or waxed tissue paper as wrappers for oranges shipped North.

Mulching with anything is regarded as favorable to plant growth by many people, and the benefit is of course increased when the mulch itself has fertilizing properties.

California is by far the largest wool producing state with Texas and Ohio following neck and neck, and New Mexico a good third.

According to one estimate, the city of New York consumed last year about 800,000 barrels of poultry and 200,000 dozen eggs. The city of Philadelphia used about half that quantity.

It is claimed that wheat bran as food for cows does not provide the essentials for butter making; that, while the yield of milk is large, the cream from it rises slowly and churns with difficulty.

Don't forget that the flavor of the milk that you sometimes attribute to some kind of weed in the hay, is due to lack of cleanliness on your part in the care of the cows.

A poultry-keeper states that all the bone and oyster-shells in the world will not prevent fowls from laying soft shelled eggs. The remedy is to give less grain and more bulky food and compel them to work and take exercise.

On the famous Ox Bow Farm at Newbury, Vt., dairying is the main business, and the cows are mostly grade Durhams, it having been found by long experience that they are peculiarly well adapted for large dairies for the reason that undesirable ones can be disposed of for beef to better advantage than any other breed.

Few farmers appreciate the great difference between poorly feeding poor stock and at a loss, and the liberal feeding that can be afforded to stock of better character. Keeping unprofitable stock ruins more farmers than any other one cause. They work hard and live economically, but the losses from stock that does not pay for its keeping consume all and more than they can make.

Plan well now, and carefully, for every part of the spring and summer's work, not in a general way, but in detail, so that when the time for action comes there will be no hesitency, no uncertain hap-hazard performance. Turn each proposed operation over and over in your own mind now, and see if there is not some defect, if there is not some better way. Talk with others. Read every thing that will throw a ray of light upon the subject. Have you the best and most profitable implements? Is there not something which will prepare the soil better or more perfectly?

"BRIGHT'S DISEASE has no symptom's of its own," says Dr. Frederick Roberts of University College, London. First get rid of the kidney disease by using Warner's Safe Cure, then the effects of symptoms will be removed.

He was too Young.

"Will you be my wife?" he passionately asked Miss Passe, worth $500,000.

No, I cannot; but I will always be a sist——"

"Alas that can never be," he murmured sadly.

"Because I am too young to be your brother, perhaps, however, I might be your stepbrother by our father's second wife," and a diabolical smile lighted up his features as he bowed and left her presence.—Minneapolis Tribune.

A Dream of Fair Women.

Tennyson in his exquisite poem, dreams of a long procession of lovely women of ages past. This is all very well, but the laurate would have done the world a greater service if he had only told the women of the present how they could improve their health and enhance their charms. This he might easily have done by recommending the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Health is the best friend of beauty, and the innumerable ills to which women are peculiarly subject, its worst enemies. Long experience has proven that the health of woman kind and the "Favorite Prescription" walk hand in hand, and are in separable. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Philadelphia is now the only city in the country which gives profitable patronage to a permanent company of Minstrels.

Comparisons, were they uttered by a poet, would probably be none the more ode-ious.

Our Combination Rates.

We make the following combination rates to every-one, 10 cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county. All of the papers have a world wide reputation in the fields which they cover and we commend them to our readers:

THE TIMES 1 year and Farm Journal 1 year $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and N. Y. Weekly World 3 mos., $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and Detroit Free Press 3 mos. $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Rural New Yorker 1 year $2.50.

THE TIMES 1 year and the N. Y. Weekly World 1 year $1.85.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Detroit Free Press 1 year $1.85. tf

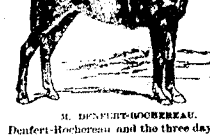
THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind., says: "Both myself and Wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

HACKMETACK, a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and 50 cents. [illegible]

M. DENFERT-ROCHEREAU.

He Was the Manager of the Comptoir D'Escompte and He Killed Himself.

The sudden collapse of the great French "copper trust," the consequent failure of the banking concern known as the Comptoir d'Escompte, the suicide of its manager M.



M. DENFERT-ROCHEREAU.

Denfert-Rochereau and the three days' panic and run on the banks are the latest sensations in Paris. The public were so interested that for two days they stopped talking about Boulanger, which shows how deeply France was stirred. There was a meeting of directors at which some harsh things were said to the manager, and he at once went home and committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

M. Denfert-Rochereau was most favorably known for probity and business ability, and in thirty years' business as a banker had uniformly been prudent; he consented with the other directors to advance money to the copper syndicate, and the consequent imputation on his honesty was more than he could bear. He was a widower with two children. The directors assert that his suicide was not due to criticism, but to the receipt of a telegram from the Russian government ordering the Comptoir d' Escompte to hand over the balance of the Russian loan, 30,000,000 francs, to another bank. This completed the ruin.

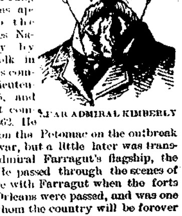
Examination showed that the bank had 81,000,000 francs' worth of copper in its warehouse. It had also advanced 73,000,000 francs on second mortgage on copper, and had guaranteed for two years the contracts of three great mines and agreed to take 80,000 tons more. In short, its whole capital and reserve were embarked in copper when that metal fell over one-third in price, "with a further downward tendency." The syndicate holds 150,000 tons of copper, which cost it over 250,000,000, and its losses cannot be much less than 85,000,000. The shares of the Comptoir d' Escompte fell from 1,000 francs to 350, and its affairs will be wound up, its assets having been passed over to the Bank of France.

REAR ADMIRAL KIMBERLY.

He Commanded the American Ships Reported to Be Lost.

The three United States war ships composing the Pacific squadron which were a few days ago reported lost in a cyclone off Samoa —the Trenton, Vandalia and Nipsic—were under command of Rear Admiral Kimberly.

Louis Ashfield Kimberly was born in Troy, N. Y., in 1830, and with his father, who was a practicing physician, removed very early in life to Chicago, then but a handful of houses clustered about Fort Dearborn. Dr. Kimberly grew up with the infant town, and occupied many prominent positions there during his life. Young Kimberly was appointed to the United States Naval academy by President Polk in 1846. He was commissioned lieutenant in 1855, and lieutenant commander in 1862. He was serving on the Potomac on the outbreak of the civil war, but a little later was transferred to Admiral Farragut's flagship, the Hartford. He passed through the scenes of blood and fire with Farragut when the forts below New Orleans were passed, and was one of those to whom the country will be forever indebted for brave deeds during the operations against Vicksburg. In fact he remained with the Hartford during all her noble conflicts and rose to the honored position of rear admiral after the war.



REAR ADMIRAL KIMBERLY

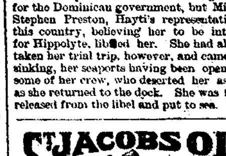
In 1874 he was married, at Frankfort, Germany, to a daughter of Capt. Cushman, of the navy.

THE STORY OF A STEAMSHIP.

The Conserva and Her Eventful Career as the Madrid.

Here is a picture of the steamer Conserva—once the Madrid—as she lay in the Brooklyn dry dock before she started for Hayti to help out Gen. Hippolyte. Months were spent in fitting up the Conserva for the voyage. She was covered all over with iron plate and her bow was weighted. After all the preparations were made she sailed, and a few days afterward a mass of wreckage supposed to be her remains was found floating along the Atlantic coast.

The Conserva as the Madrid had an eventful history. She was built in 1857 at Dumbarton, Scotland, for a Spanish nobleman of Havana, Cuba, who named her the Madrid, and put her in the trade between that port and Spain. A little more than three years ago she was bought by a transportation company in New Orleans, having been sold at Havana for old iron. They sent her north and had her entirely rebuilt at the ship yards of John Dialogue, at Camden, N. J. At the same time she was fitted with a new set of engines by a Philadelphia firm. She was then taken to New Orleans, where she was put on a line between there and Aspinwall. The venture not proving profitable she was seized by the United States marshal and sold, being bought in by her mortgagees for $8,100. On Wednesday, Jan. 2, 1889, she was sold by the Wistars, through Samuel Holmes, a broker of 124 Front street, to Kunhardt & Co., New York. She was then taken to Brooklyn and remodeled. It was then reported that she was being rebuilt for the Dominican government, but Minister Stephen Preston, Hayti's representative to this country, believing her to be intended for Hippolyte, libelled her. She had already taken her trial trip, however, and came near sinking, her seaports having been opened by some of her crew, who deserted her as soon as she returned to the dock. She was finally released from the libel and put to sea.



THE CONSERVA IN DRY DOCK.

ST. JACOBS OIL
TRADE MARK
THE GREAT REMEDY FOR PAIN
For Horses and Cattle.

Recent, Prompt, Good Results.

Swellings. [illegible], May 21, 1888. My mare caught cold; [illegible] swollen limbs; lump between fore-legs and inflammation. Cured her with St. Jacobs Oil. [illegible]

The Best. The Arms Palace and Stock Car Co., [illegible], June, '88. We cheerfully [illegible] St. Jacobs Oil as the best for general [illegible]

For 10 Months. [illegible] June [illegible] My horse [illegible] leg; unable to [illegible]; was cured by St. Jacobs Oil; has remained permanent. W. J. [illegible]

Lame-kneed Calf. New Haven, C., June 22, '88. Had a calf afflicted with weak knees; could not walk; experimented with St. Jacobs Oil. A few good rubbings cured [illegible] strong. [illegible]

For Stable Use. [illegible], July 1, '88. [illegible]

Salt Rheum

The agonies of those who suffer from severe salt rheum are indescribable. The cleansing, healing, purifying influences of Hood's Sarsaparilla are unequalled by any other medicine.

"I take pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it has done wonders for me. I had salt rheum very severely, affecting me over nearly my entire body. Only those who have suffered from this disease in its worst form can imagine the extent of my affliction. I tried many medicines, but failed to receive benefit until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. Then the disease began to subside, the disappeared, and now I am entirely free from the disease. My blood seems to be thoroughly purified, and my general health is greatly benefited." LYMAN ALLEN, Sexton N. E. Church, North Chicago, Ill.

Agonizing Itch and Pain

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and the calves of his legs, so bad that they would crack open and bleed. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

From 108 to 135

"I was seriously troubled with salt rheum for three years, [illegible] receiving no benefit from medical treatment, [illegible] decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. [illegible] entirely cured of salt rheum; my [illegible] increased from 108 lbs. to 135." Mrs. [illegible], Stamford, Conn.

If you suffer from salt rheum, or any blood disease, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has cured many others, and will cure you.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier KNOWN.

This Great German Medicine is the cheapest and best. 128 doses of SULPHUR BITTERS for $1.00, less than one cent a dose. It will cure the worst cases of skin disease, from a common pimple on the face to that awful disease Scrofula. SULPHUR BITTERS is the best medicine to use in all cases of such stubborn and deep seated diseases. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or mercury, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or High-colored

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow.

Try a Bottle To-day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for best medical work published?

Poor, Foolish Men

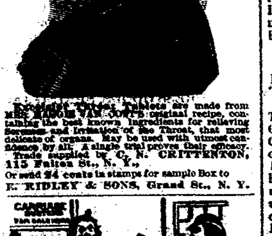
TAKE A WOMAN'S ADVICE.

This is only the second time in eight weeks that I have had to polish my boots, and yet I had hard work getting my husband to give up his old blacking brush, and the annoyance of having the paste blacking rub off on his pants, and adopt

Wolff's ACME Blacking

A magnificent Deep Black Polish, which lasts on Men's boots a week, and on Women's a month.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

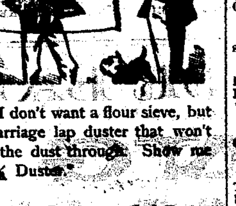


MRS MAGGIE VAN COTT'S EXCELSIOR THROAT TABLETS

TRADE MARK.

Excelsior Throat Tablets are made from MRS. MAGGIE VAN COTT'S original recipe, containing the best known ingredients for relieving Soreness and Irritation of the Throat, that most delicate of organs. May be used with utmost confidence by all. A single trial proves their efficacy. Trade supplied by C. N. CRITTENTON, 115 Fulton St., N. Y.,

Or send 24 cents in stamps for sample Box to E. RIDLEY & SONS, Grand St., N. Y.



CARRIAGE [illegible]

"I don't want a flour sieve, but a carriage lap duster that won't let the dust through. Show me a 5/A Duster."

5/A Lap Dusters [illegible]

5/A Ironsides Sheets [illegible]

5/A Clipper Fly Nets For Farmers and Teamsters.

[illegible] 100 other styles of 5/A Horse Sheets and Fly Nets, at prices to suit everybody. For sale by all dealers. If you can't get them, write us.

5/A HORSE BLANKETS [illegible]

It Makes You Hun[illegible]

"I have used Paine's Celery Compound and it has had a salutary effect. It invigorated the system and I feel like a new man. It improves the appetite and facilitates digestion." J. T. COPELAND, Primus, S. C.

Paine's Celery Compound

is a unique tonic and appetizer. Pleasant to the taste, quick in its action, and without any injurious effect, it gives that rugged health which makes everything taste good. It cures dyspepsia and kindred disorders. Physicians prescribe it. $1.00. Six for $5.00. Druggists.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & CO., Burlington, Vt.

[illegible] did ten years ago. The winter of [illegible] the nerves all fagged out. The nerves must be strengthened, the blood purified, liver and bowels regulated. Paine's Celery Compound—the Spring medicine of to-day—does all [illegible], as nothing else can. Prescribed by Physicians, Recommended by Druggists, Endorsed by Ministers, Guaranteed by the Manufacturers to be

The Best Spring Medicine.

"In the spring of 1887 I was all run down. I would get up in the morning with so tired a feeling, and was so weak that I could hardly get around. I bought a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and before I had taken it a week I felt very much better. I can cheerfully recommend it to all who need a building up and strengthening medicine." MRS. B. A. DOW, Burlington, Vt.

DIAMOND DYES Color anything any color. Never Fail! Always sure!

LACTATED FOOD Nourishes babies perfectly. The Physician's favorite.

HOP PLASTER

QUICKEST REMEDY KNOWN

For backache, and all sudden, sharp, or long-standing pains or weaknesses of every kind. Virtues of fresh hops, hemlock and pine balsam combined. It is wonderfully SOOTHING, PAIN-KILLING, CURATIVE and STRENGTHENING.

It satisfies every time. TRY ONE NOW, 25 Cts. 5 for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or mailed for price.

MY BACK! OH! for one of those HOP PLASTERS.

Look for signature of the proprietors, HOP PLASTER CO., BOSTON, on the genuine goods.

MELLIN'S FOOD FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

TRADE MARK.

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk. INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING. A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS. A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES. REQUIRES NO COOKING. KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES. Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address.

Doliber-Goodale Co., BOSTON, MASS.

Anatomy was taught by Mondino, in 1315, and Harvey inferred the general circulation of the blood in 1616.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St. New York. 23 1 v

The first Colonial post-office was established at New York in the year 1710.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems at first only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery of Coughs and Colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived but insist on getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all Throat, Lung and Chest affections. Trial bottles free at R. E. Phillips' drug store. Large bottles $1.

Edinburgh was made the metropolis of Scotland in 1492, by James III.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

Every French bank has a photograph of every employe.

ARE YOU MADE miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitilizer is a positive cure. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Carpets like vegetation, come up in the spring.

Bucklon's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

To get the lay of the land one must procure a copy of the national air.

For Diseases of Horses

There is nothing that compares with Cole's Veterinary Carbolisalve. It cures Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Collar and Saddle Galls, Sores, Mange, Scratches, Thrush, Inflammations and all skin and hoof diseases quicker than any other remedy. It is the only preparation that will invariably renew the hair its original color. Edwin D. Bither, driver of Jay Eye See, says: "Having given Veterinary Carbolisalve a thorough trial, I can fully endorse it, and take pleasure in recommending it to all owners of horses as the best remedy that I ever saw for general stable use." Large cans $1.00; Small cans 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Sportsmen in Florida complain of a scarcity of alligators.

WHY WILL YOU cough when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief. Price 10c., 50 cts., and $1.00. Sold by Watson 41eow

There are 66 Grand Army posts in Colorado.

Bludbilder,

The new vegetable tonic-alterative and blood-purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts directly upon the blood, through it imparting tone and vigor to the entire system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female [illegible] r and [illegible] $1.00. Sold by [illegible]

California has eleven circles of the ladies of the Grand Army.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never fails to cure. Sold by W. J. Watson.

Duffy's Malt [illegible]

Half a million dollars' worth of canned good were shipped from this country to tropical regions last year.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing airs of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

Plans have been completed for an addition to the soldiers' home at Chelsea, Mass., to accommodate 125 men.

Are You Going

to travel? If so you must be very careful of your health, or your doctor's bills will cost you more than your travelling expenses. A bottle of Sulphur Bitters will protect you from all sickness incident to a change of climate.—Evening Telegram. 48w2

Thirteen bridges were washed away or badly damaged by the recent heavy rains in Abbeville County, S. C.

Palpitation of the heart, nervousness, tremblings, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back, and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills, made specially for the blood, nerves and complexion.

A Soldiers' Memorial Hall, to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 is being erected at Rutland, Vt.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—A positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow.

Col. Fred. Grant, minister to Austria, expects to sail for his post on the 17th inst.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood —Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers.—For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price 50c and $1 per bottle at R. E. Phillips drug store.

The national convention of the ladies of the Grand Army will be held at Milwaukee, Wis., the last week of August, 1889.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Questions of the hour inveriably pertain to matters of some moment.

A brilliant essay would hardly be considered light reading.

Bright's Disease.

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 188[illegible], with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen; she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. [illegible]

A MARVELOUS RECOVERY.

[illegible]

A [illegible] Thought.

My umbrella's lost. I look
In every corner, every nook
On its recovery intent;
Then I bethink me—it is Lent!

A Sad Glimpse of Human Nature.

Of all the dirty families
In this big world of s n,
The dirtiest has just moved out
Of the house you've just moved in.
—Dansville Breeze.

Woods Are Full of Them.

Still some the yarns by wire and mail,
Of men a century old,
Whose sight has not begun to fail,
Whose step is light and bold;
Who take their ten mile morning walks,
Then nimbly dance a jig,
And split a cord of hickory blocks
While the wind blows through their wig.
—Oil City Blizzard.

The artistic name for hash is stewed bric-a-brac.—Atchison Globe.

Some people are born fools, some marry fools, and some have fools thrust upon them.—Puck.

One of the quickest ways to get wisdom is to watch a fat man trying to learn to ride the bicycle.—Somerville Journal.

As long as a man can assign the property of his creditors over to his wife, marriage is not wholly a failure. —Detroit Free Press.

Young Lady (to music dealer)—"I want 'Your Love'" Young Clerk— "Hem! Would like to accommodate you, but the fact is I promised it to another girl at a leap year party."— Arcola Record.

Barkeeper—"Look here, you, I say, stop working that lunch counter." Tramp (reproachfully)—"I ain't working; it's a pleasure."—New York Sun.

The prayer of the office seeker: "O Lord, make me good enough to get a fat position, but not too good to work it for all it is worth."—New York Herald.

She—You must never let father see you put your arm around my waist.

He—Why, would he be so angry?

"No, dear, but he would try to borrow some money from you."—Life.

The two fathers: School teacher of the future—"Who was the first President!" Scholar—"George Washington." Teacher—"And who was the first secretary?" Scholar—"Daniel Lamont."—Epoch.

Ticket Agent—Will you have a round ticket, sir?

Passenger—Oh! I ain't caring nothing 'bout the shape o' the ticket! Just gimme one what'll take me down ter Pordunk an' back ergin.—New York World.

A Boston man drank 24 glasses of sherry and egg in seven hours and got $100. We know a man who drank 12 whiskys in two hours and got $10 and 30 days. This happened right here in Minneapolis and can be proved.— Minneapolis Tribune.

Kirby Stone—"I've just witnessed a very effecting street incident, Lott." Job Lott—"What was it?" Kirby Stone—"Two truck rivers got their wheels locked on West street, and both had such sever colds they could not speak a loud word."—Puck.

The Professor—You have the most strongly developed bump of veneration I ever saw. Clinchy—Tek yure hand aff'r thot! The ould woman aised me out o' bed this mornin' and' I shtruck me hid agin th' flure.— Judge.

Fond father—What are you going to be when you grow up? Son—A man, sir. Fond father—What will you do when you are a man? Son— Do the same as you do, and kiss the servant girls.—Judge.

When it is only one minute after eight o'clock it is past eight. When it is thirty minutes past eight it is only half-past eight.—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. A.—My husband is beginning to reform. Mrs. B.—Indeed? I saw him going in a bar room to-day. Mrs. A.—Yes, I know. He went in for a glass of whisky, but he takes water with it now.—Epoch.

Boarder Jones: "Mrs. Flapjack, can't you put a stop to your two daughters playing four-handed at the piano?" Mrs. Flapjack: "Why don't you marry one of them? That will put a stop to it right off."—Texas Siftings.

Edward (who has taken his girl to Del's and given her a $30 dinner)— "Well, darling, what do you think of Delmonico's?" Girl—"I think that French waiter has the loveliest eyes I ever saw."—Epoch.

Wife—"Isn't it a fact, dear, that handsome men aee proverbially disagreeable?" Husband—"Well, I don't dnow. I always try to be pleasant." —Epoch.

"There are two moons this month," said Mrs. Waddle, who had been reading the papers while waiting for her husband, who had just come home. "Zash right," said he; "zackly right. I saw 'em both 'zi come along the street."—Terre Haute Express.

Ticket-Agent (at railroad station)— "I wish some way could be invented to keep men away from the ladies' window." Bystander—"Easy enough. Put the sign, 'For Ladies Only' on the other window."—New York Weekly.

Moses—Cindy, whar's my razzer? Cindy—"Which one, Moses?" Moses —"De fightin' one. De Sons ob Harmony and Fraternal Affection is gwine to 'lect ossifers fer de ensuin' yeah, an' I may hab to do a little 'lectioneerin'."—Terre Haute Express.

Where He Was.

Artist—Here is a very suitable picture. Mr. Gibbs. It represents Rev. Mr. Goss, the missionary, in the centre of a group of cannibals.

Deacon Gibbs—I see the cannibals, Mr. Trupe, but where is the missionary?

Artist—Didn't I just tell you that he was in the centre of the cannibals? —Terre Haute Express.

CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH and Bronchitis immediately relieved by Shiloh's Cure. Sold by W. J. Watson.

The name relief corps was first given to a society of noble women at Portland, Me., in 1859.

A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's catarrh remedy. Price 50 cents. Sold by W. J. Watson. 41eow

Fully 8,000 Chinamen have already [illegible] in New York city.

[illegible] AND CLEAN [illegible]

Abhor the idea of an attack of catarrh as they do the bite of a snake. Yet this foul and most disgusting disease is very common. In its first stage it occasions very little discomfort and is therefore liable to be neglected. The glands and membranes secrete a fluid to keep the mouth, nose and eyes moist. From cold, debility and other causes this fluid is apt to be too copious; that is catarrh. Flowing from the nostrils it causes weak and watery eyes, irritates the nose, causes sneezing, and finally the coughing up and expectoration of offensive matter. These droppings will sometimes collect so rapidly as nearly to choke the person. Unless promptly treated catarrh lasts for years, producing dreadful results. The ordinary symptoms are pain in the eyes; a dull, heavy headache; obstruction of the nasal passages; discharges falling into the throat, and a moist, offensive breath. On the first sign of its appearance Dr. Brown's Sarsaparilla should be taken to purify the blood, for catarrh is a blood disease. In chronic cases an immediate cure must not be expected but this great regulator of the blood will, if its use be continued, afford speedy relief and final cure. Hay fever or cold in the head, a disease of summer chiefly, has similar symptoms and is cured by this remedy in the same way. It is important to remember that catarrh being neglected, or not arrested, gradually creeps down into the windpipe and lungs and may end in incurable consumption. You may easily and cheaply prevent this terrible calamity by the use of

Brown's Sarsaparilla

Not genuine unless made by Ara Warren & Co., Bangor, Me. 44t

G·M·D

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, and bodily health and vigor will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Eating Sores or Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties, if taken in time. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Catarrh in the Head, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD.

Its wearing qualities are unsurpassed, actually outlasting two boxes of any other brand. Not effected by heat. GET THE GENUINE. FOR SALE BY Merchants and Dealers Generally.

PAYNE'S MONARCH CATARRH CURE

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 17 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c.; mail, 50c.; registered, 60c. PAYNE & CO., ATHENS, PA.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

WHY! YOUR LIVER IS OUT OF ORDER

You will have SICK HEADACHES, PAINS IN THE SIDE, DYSPEPSIA, POOR APPETITE, feel listless and unable to get through your daily work or social enjoyments. Life will be a burden to you.

DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS

Will cure you, drive the POISON out of your system, and make you strong and well. They cost only 25 cents a box and may save your life. Can be had at any Drug Store. Beware of COUNTERFEITS made in St. Louis.

IVORY POLISH For the TEETH, PERFUMES THE BREATH. ASK FOR IT. FLEMING BROS., - Pittsburgh, Pa.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

COUGH KILLER

I have used Dr. Seth Arnold's COUGH KILLER 14 years; never knew it to fail. Have never heard anything but praise for it. O. B. Cunningham, Entriken, Penn. Druggists, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

A MOTHER'S DELIGHT

Dr. Hoxsie's Certain Croup Cure, Positive, Swift and Sure. 50 cents

BEST IN THE WORLD FOR THE MONEY ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS [illegible]

HINDERCORNS. [illegible]

TO CONSUMPTIVE [illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

SURROGATE'S COURT:—During the year 1889 terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At Surrogate's office in Phoenix, each Monday of each week except in the month of August.

OSWEGO.—At the court house in Oswego on the first and third Thursday of each month except August.

PULASKI.—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON.—At office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the Second Thursday in January, April July and October.

MEXICO—At office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE.—At the Johnson House, Central Square on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—J. S. Luddington's law office in Parish on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court except at Phoenix, will be held on the day previous thereto.

OSWEGO COUNTY, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Albert Smith, late of the town of Granby, in said county, deceased. Notice is hereby given that the Surrogate of said county will proceed to distribute the proceeds of the real estate of the above named deceased and for the payment of his debts, at his office at the Court House, in the City of Oswego, on the 6th day of May, 1889 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Dated Phoenix, N. Y., March 2[illegible] 1889. F. DAVID, Surrogate

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of Catharine [illegible] deceased, late of the Village of Fulton in said county, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at his office, in the Village of Fulton, N. Y., on or before the 5th day of October, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, Wednesday, April 3d, 1889

C. H. DAVID, Executor.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the eleventh day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. REYNOLDS,
Administrator with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or the will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov. 5th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS, } Executors
C. H. DAVID }

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan. 30th, 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix

INSURANCE
—WRITTEN IN—
The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA, Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL, Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION, London, Eng
CONNECTICUT, Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION, Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS, Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN, Germany
IMPERIAL, London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE, " "
MERCHANTS', Providence, R. I
NIAGARA, N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX, Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

HEMLOCK LUMBER
—AND—
Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,
SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

COAL WAY DOWN!
COAL!
Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest, Cleanest, Best.
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

TWENTY-FIRST YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 21—NUMBER 50

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1889.

Single Copies Three Cents

Our Two Opinions.

Us two wuz boys when we fell out—
 Nigh to the age uv my youngest now;
Don't rec'lect what 'twuz about,
 Some small diff'rence, I'll allow.
Lived next neighbors twenty years,
 A hatin' each other, me 'nd Jim—
He havin' his opinyin uv me
 'Nd I havin' my opinyin uv him

Grew up together 'nd wouldn't speak,
 Courted sisters, 'nd marr'd 'em, too;
'Tended same meetin' house oncet a week,
 A-hatin' each other, through 'nd through!
But when Abe Linkern asked the West
 For soldiers we answered—me 'nd Jim—
He havin' his opinyin uv me
 'Nd I havin' my opinyin uv him!

But down in Tennessee one night
 Ther wuz sound uv firin' far away,
'Nd the sergeant allowed ther'd be a fight
 With the Johnnie Rebs some time nex' day;
'Nd as I wuz thinkin' uv Lizzie 'nd home
 Jim stood afore me, long 'nd slim—
He havin' his opinyin uv me
 'Nd I havin' my opinyin uv him!

Seemed like we knew there wuz goin' to be Serious trouble f'r me 'nd him—
Us two shuck hands, did Jim 'nd me,
 But never a word from me or Jim!
He went his way 'nd I went mine,
 'Nd into the battle's roar went we—
I havin' my opinyin uv Jim
 'Nd he havin' his opinyin uv me!

Jim never come back from the war again,
 But I hain't forgot that last, last night
When, waitin' f'r orders, us two men
 Made up 'nd shook hands, afore the fight;
'Nd, after all, it's soothin' to know
 That here I be 'nd yonder's Jim—
He havin' his opinyin uv me
 'Nd I havin' my opinyin uv him!

—Chicago News.

MEN WITH MILLIONS.

PRINCIPAL NABOBS OF AMERICA AND HOW THEY MADE THEIR MONEY.

An Interesting Compilation Showing the Personal Fortunes in the United States—A Little List of Men Worth Over $5,000,000 Per Man.

An extraordinary coterie of rich men, says the Chicago Tribune, were those who a few days ago acted as pall bearers at the funeral of Weston Dobson, of Bethlehem, Pa., himself worth $6,000,000. Dobson's pall-bearers were thirteen in number, and the average wealth each man represented was nearly $8,000,000. The total wealth of the thirteen was $100,000,000. They were E. P. Wilbur, president of the Lehigh Valley railroad; General W. E. Doster, Robert Packer Linderman, grandson of the late Asa Packer; William Chapman, the millionaire slate manufacturer; Robert H. Sayre, Samuel B. Price, E. B. Leisenring, Stanley H. Goodwin, George H. Meyers, Robert Lockhart, ex-Senator Eckley B. Coxe, whose fortune is estimated at $20,000,000, John Thomas, and Daniel Bertsh, the two latter the chief railroad and coal barons of the Lehigh Valley.

L. Z. Leiter, Washington, D. C., began life poor, and is now worth $10,000,000, made mostly in dry goods in Chicago.

Vice-President Morton is worth $10,000,000 and did not have a large nest-egg to start with.

Caldwell Cole, owner of the yacht Dauntless, is a bachelor, thirty-five and worth $6,000,000. Mr. Cole is one of the few rich men who have inherited most of their fortune.

A. M. [illegible] was a [illegible] Territory, peddled sewing machines through Oregon, and is now rated at $5,000,000.

Ex-Senator Palmer, Michigan, married a fortune and is worth $6,000,000.

A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia, is worth $20,000,000. He is the son of Francis Martin Drexel, who was born in Austrian Tyrol, 1792, a portrait painter of merit, who came to this country to avoid one of Napoleon's conscriptions. He engaged in the banking business and his sons inherited a considerable fortune.

Claus Spreckles is rated as high as $20,000,000.

Phillip Armour, Chicago, began life as a butcher boy, and now has $25,000,000.

James J. Hill, president of the Manitoba railroad, who not many years ago paid Norman W. Kittson $3,500,000 cash for one-fifth interest in the road, began earning money by working on the St. Paul levee for $50 a month. He was afterwards agent at St. Paul for a line of river steamers. Mr. Hill is now worth $15,000,000.

John I. Blair, Blairstown, N. J., is worth $40,000,000, and began business by selling plug tobacco and notions.

Robert Bonner, New York, began poor and has $6,000,000.

James McMillan, Detroit, has made $10,000,000.

The Astor heirs will inherit $200,000,000—mostly in gilt edged real estate.

Callis P. Huntington, the railroad magnate, was once a poor man, and is worth $40,000,000.

Montgomery Sears, Boston, inherited $9,000,000 from his father, but had to contest the will to get it. He is believed to be worth $12,000,000. His father began life poor.

George M. Pullman, the palace-car man, began life in a small furniture business in Albion, N. Y. He began with $50 and now has $5,000,000.

B. P. Hutchinson, "Old Hutch," started life at the shoemaker's bench at Lynn, Mass. He is worth $8,000,000.

George Ehret, a New York beer king, is but forty years old and worth $5,000,000. "He was so poor a few years ago when he reached this country that he could not speak the English language," is the way his financial condition was expressed to the writer.

General Russel A. Alger, of Detroit, is worth $5,000,000 and more.

Senator John P. Jones came to this country from Wales and went gold-hunting in '49. He is worth $15,000,000.

Marshal Field, Chicago, began as [illegible] Potter Palmer's store, and [illegible]

John D. Rockefeller, New York, began life as a bookkeeper in Cleveland, and is reported to be worth $60,000,000. He is still a young man, and one of the brainiest and most unassuming of America's great financiers.

His brother, William A. Rockefeller is worth $20,000,000.

Henry A. Flagler, who built the Ponce de Leon Hotel at St. Augustine Fla., said to be the finest hotel in the world, is worth $15,000,000.

John J. Jennings, one of Chicago's oldest residents, has made $5,000,000 in real estate.

The four male members of the Vanderbilt family are rated: Cornelius, $110,000,000; William K., $85,000,000; Frederick W., $16,000,000; George W., $15,000,000.

Jay Gould cannot be worth less than $75,000,000.

P. T. Barnum began poor, and has $5,000,000.

John T. Davis, St. Louis, has made $15,000,000, mostly in dry goods.

Charles McLure, St. Louis, made $5,000,000 in Granite Mountain.

Ex-Governor English of Connecticut, has an estate valued at $5,000,000.

Andrew Carnegie, the iron king, is worth $40,000,000, and came to this country from Scotland a poor man.

Ten cottagers at Lenox last summer were rated as follows: D. W. Bishop, $15,000,000; George W. Westinghouse, $20,000,000; W. D. Sloane, $18,000,000; Charles Lanier, $15,000,000; G. G. Haven, $12,000,000; George S. Crocker, $12,000,000; W. H. Bradford, $10,000,000; Anson P. Stokes, $8,000,000; Brayton Ives, $6,000,000; Colonel Auchmutty, $5,000,000.

Charles F. A. Henrichs began as a clerk and now has $5,000,000

J. W. Mackay, $30,000,000, was a shipbuilder at days' wages before he was a gold-hunter.

Senator James G. Fair kept a saloon for miners, and is worth $20,000,000.

Leland Sanford is worth $40,000,000.

Charles Pratt, the Brooklyn oil man, is worth $6,000,000.

Russell Sage is 70 years old and worth $40,000,000.

Samuel A. Scott, Kansas City, has $10,000,000.

George W. Childs, of Philadelphia, was an errand boy in a book-store, became clerk, then partner with J. P. Lippincott in the publishing business. Among the famous books issued by the firm was Parson Brownlow's "Reminiscences," for which they paid the author $15,000, in royalties. Mr. Childs is worth not less that $15,000,000.

John Wanamaker, the new Postmaster-General, is worth $10,000,000.

Warner Miller is worth $5,000,000.

Secretary Windom is worth $5,000,000.

Sidney Dillon was at one time a brakeman, and had no regular education. His fortune is estimated at $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

David Sinton is the richest man in Cincinnati, born in a cabin in Ireland, and worth now $5,000,000.

Here are seventy-two men, all American citizens, whose fortunes aggregate the total of $1,433,000,000.

THE PROPER THING.

Simple wedding gowns are made of China silks and crapes.

Pale tan-colored cloth is fashionable for spring jackets.

House waists of silk or wool give variety to the wardrobe.

Very graceful neck scarfs in empire fashion are worn with stylish home dresses.

The charming printed China silks are combined with lace in many pretty ways for handsome in-door dresses.

Round and belted waists remain in fashionable favor.

Silk crepaline is a very beautiful fabric for evening dresses.

The new French and Venetian challis make fresh and attractive toilets.

The India and French silk warped goods make handsome and elegant costumes.

All shades of cloth are reproduced in kid gloves for spring wear.

Considerate Mrs. Cleveland.

The consideration shown by both Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Folsom to servants is a constant subject of grateful remark among them. Neither lady ever gives an order. She asks to have her commission done. Nothing a servent ever does escapes the reward of a smile and a thank you. At the hotel where Mrs. Cleveland lives the servants are put to much work carrying cards and packages to her rooms, but never makes complaint. It is related that, rather than call the colored doorman to her when she wishes some extra commission executed, she sometimes saves him steps by going part way down the stairs to speak to him. On one occasion the doorman was almost dozing in his chair when a draft of air aroused him. He started up to find Mrs. Cleveland pushing the heavy door open softly. "Oh," she said smiling at his apologies, I'm so sorry you waked. I saw you were asleep, and didn't want to spoil your nap just to let me in.—New York Sun.

Do Not Think for a Moment that catarrh will in time wear out. The theory is false. Men try to believe it because it would be pleasant if true, but it is not, as all know. Do not let an acute attack of cold in the head remain unsubdued. It is liable to develop into catarrh. You rid yourself of the cold and avoid all chances of catarrh by using Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. If you are already [illegible]

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economic than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of lowtest, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., New York.

The Causes of Death.

Our readers are doubtless all familiar with the Robinson poisoning cases, which have recently come to light in Somerville, Mass., a suburb of Boston.

It seems that eight deaths have occurred from arsenical poisoning, seven in one family, and within five years. It is doubtful if the murderers would have been brought to justice had not an organization in which the victims were insured began and investigation as to why so many persons had suddenly died in one family.

But the sensation from a medical point of view connected with the case, took place in Boston at a recent meeting of the Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, when it was stated by Dr. Holt that there was general ignorance of the symptoms of arsenical poisoning and because of such ignorance the Robinson poisoning cases had gone on without arousing the suspicion of medical men. The Robinson cases were all treated by regular physicians, with correct diplomas, men supposed to know what they were doctoring for, and to know the effect of drugs on certain diseases. Yet in five deaths from arsenical poisoning of which we speak, certificates of death were given for pneumonia, typhoid fever, meningitis, bowel disease, and Bright's Disease.

Such a commentary on the general ignorancee of the medical profession, made by one of it own number, we believe to be without a parallel.

Is it any wonder that patients are losing faith in their doctors? Here were five able bodied people slowly poisoned with arsenic before their very eyes, and yet these very wise medical men were doctoring them for pneumonia, typhoid fever, meningitis, bowel disease and Bright's disease.

In the very same manner thousands of patients are being treated this day for pneumonia, heart trouble, dropsy, incipient consumption, etc., when these are but symptoms of advanced kidney disease, which is but another name for Bright's disease. The doctors do not strike at the seat of the disease—the kidneys, and if they did nine times out of ten they would fail—as they are on record as saying they can not cure Bright's disease of the kidneys. Rather than use Warner's Safe Cure, a well-known specific for this and all other forms of kidney disease they would let their patients die, and then give a death certificate that death was caused by pericarditis, apoplexy, phthisis or cardiac affection.

Is this not the honest truth? Do you not know in your own personal history very many instances where physicians doctored the wrong disease, and caused untold suffering, and many times, death? Which leads us to remark that very much can be learned by one's-self by careful observation, and that the doctors are very far from having a monopoly of the knowledge of medicine or disease.

Stanley and Emin.

If the latest news from Africa can be relied upon Stanley has gloriously accomplished the object of the heroic expedition which he led to the Albert Nyanza, and is returning to the coast accompanied by Emin Pasha and his people. This, of course, means the evacuation of the garden spot which has been defended against the savage tribes by Egyptian soldiery for ten years. When Emin reaches civilization again the story of his work in the dark Continent will do much to enlighten the world as to what are the real difficulties in the way of opening up the interior of the country to peaceful commerce. The Egyptian governor has stuck to his post with marvelous courage and patience. He has given the experiment of provincial government in the African wilderness a fair trial What will be the result? Will another and more powerful expedition be sent to resume the work carried on by Emin or will the fatness of the forsaken equatorial province be abandoned to the natural lords of the soil? Whatever the result may be, one thing is certain—Stanley has won imperishable renown. He will emerge from his perilous task to be acknowledged the most radient, the most romantic and the greatest figure in the history of modern exploration, despite the buzzing of envious gadflies.—Herald.

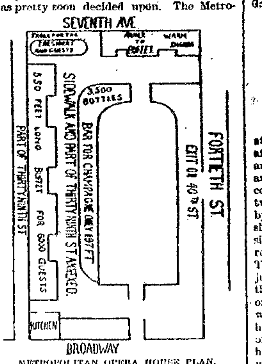
A house filled with guests is eaten up and ill spoken of. [illegible]

A GREAT BANQUET HALL.

ALL ABOUT THE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE CENTENNIAL BALL.

A Scene at the Metropolitan Opera House That Will Live Long in the Memory of Its Witnesses—How the Six Thousand Guests Will Be Served.

One of the biggest problems that confronted the managers of the great centennial in New York city was how to provide for the entertainment of 6,000 persons at the reception and ball on April 29, and for that of the president and the 800 other guests at the banquet on April 30, says the New York Sun. The place for the two colossal entertainments was pretty soon decided upon. The Metropolitan Opera house was wisely chosen as answering all the requirements of so rare an occasion as a national centennial celebration. But what would a monster buffet be without competent caterers, and the most princely banquet hall without a princely menu, a contemporaneous Vatel to execute it, and a chief steward with a genius and a will to effect its conveyance to its proper place?



SEVENTH AVE
TABLE FOR THE PRESIDENT AND GUESTS
ANNEX TO BUFFET
WARM DISHES
3,500 BOTTLES
550 FEET LONG BUFFET FOR 6000 GUESTS
PART OF THIRTY NINTH ST
SIDEWALK AND PART OF THIRTY NINTH ST ANNEXED
BAR FOR CHAMPAGNE ONLY 197 FT
FORTIETH ST
EXIT ON 40TH ST
KITCHEN
BROADWAY

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE PLAN.
Diagram showing portions of streets to be annexed.

"What could you do with $55,000 for a dinner and a reception?" was the question put to Edward S. Stokes of the Hoffman house.

"Marvels!" laconically answered Mr. Stokes. "I am used to marvels any way, and one more or less won't disturb me in the least. My chef, Eugene Laperruque, commands twenty-nine cooks, pastry cooks and ice makers; he reigns supreme in a 100 by 50 kitchen, when ten kinds of soups, innumerable hors d'oeuvre, releves, entrees, roasts, sorbets, ices and desserts, coffee and tea, and pies and Vienna rolls are daily manufactured and made ready to suit the most fastidious palates in the land, while my grand steward, Rudolph Busse, is the most efficient marshal that ever led an army of skilled and good looking waiters."

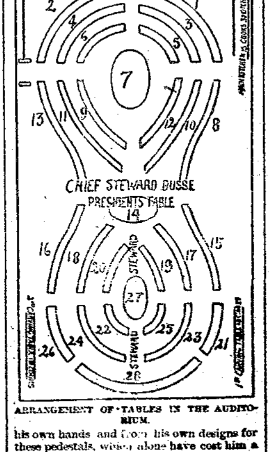
The big task was at once intrusted to Mr. Stokes, and the committee went away glad to have got it all settled so easily. Mr. Stokes summoned his chef and grand steward immediately, and gave them carte blanche to make the ball and banquet magnificent features of the centennial.

The legislature authorized the committee to use such streets or parts of streets as might be deemed by them necessary to carry out their several programmes. In order therefore that those who are intrusted with the mission of supplying with refreshments the 6,000 people who are to take part in the ball on Monday, April 29, the committee have decided to annex temporarily to the Metropolitan Opera house, by means of appropriate wooden structures, the northern sidewalk and part of West Thirty-ninth street and the eastern sidewalk of Seventh avenue. In these annexes—as shown by the accompanying diagram—will be the buffet and the bar.

There will undoubtedly be some modification in the plans shown above, as the municipal authorities have decided that they would render the building extremely dangerous in case of fire.

At the latter, which will extend 122 feet on Thirty-ninth street and 75 feet on Seventh avenue, the four champagnes which appear on the menu of the banquet will be dispensed. It is expected that from 3,500 to 5,000 corks will be exploded that night, no other wine nor any liquor being served by the caterers. In order to avoid confusion there will be one entrance only to the buffet room and one exit. The buffet proper will be 550 feet long, and will occupy the whole space along Thirty-ninth street and Seventh avenue with the exception of a 78.10x45 kitchen and the space reserved for a private table of twelve covers, at which the president, his party, and Mayor Grant will be seated. All the other guests must stand.

In this buffet Chef Laperruque will exhibit his best work. Here, among 150 baskets of the choicest flowers, he will spread, besides warm dishes of the most varied descriptions, 112 "froids" ornamented with 150 brochettes historiees, all of his own make and mounted upon 112 socles, worked up in every detail by himself with wonderful artistic skill and patience. Six barrels of plaster were used by him in conjunction with wood prepared by his own hands and from his own designs for these pedestals, which alone have cost him a full month of labor, decorated as they are with delicate wreaths of carved foliage and beautiful roses and other flowers, imitating old Faenza earthenware.



ARRANGEMENT OF TABLES IN THE AUDITORIUM.

The confectioner's art will be represented by fifty-eight sugar pyramids elaborately worked up by the chef; busts of Washington, cupids, eagles and lions, covered with American flags and solidly planted on socles of various forms, dressed up in bronze, old gold or silver; and 132 high pieces, nougats and candied fruits, not to mention innumerable tymbals, which will be filled on April 29 with delicious things, and are already packed away in huge boxes piled up in the cellars of the Hoffman house.

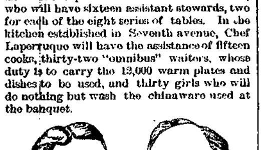
Here is a list of the delicacies that will be found in the buffet:

[illegible]

Croquettes de Volaille.
Terrapin Maryland.
Filet de bœuf pique, sauce poivrade.
Thimbales Venitiennes.
Chapon en jus.
FROIDS.
Saumon au Beurre de Montpellier.
Basse rayee a la Borgia.
Truite saumonee a la Bayadere.
Filet de bœuf a la Russe.
Aspics de foies-gras en belle vue.
Jambon historie.
Buissons de truffes du Perigord.
Pate des canards.
Aspics de langues a l'Imperiale.
Noix de veau a la Ravigotte.
Galantine truffee a la gelee.
Chaufroid d'ortolans.
Agneau de printemps roti.
Becassines et pluviers a la gelee.
Sandwiches de foies gras.
Salade de Volaille.
Salade de Homard.
SUCRERIES.
Gelee aux fruits.
Gelee Rubanna.
Charlotte Russe.
Charlotte douce.
Meringues a la creme.
Gaufres Chantilly.
Biscuits des Princes.
Brioches.
Savarins.
Gateaux.
Petits-fours.
GLACES.
Vanille.
Pistache.
Framboise.
Cafe.
Ananas.
PIECES MONTEES.

The banquet on April 30 will begin exactly at 8 o'clock p. m., and will be a magnificent affair, both in point of decorative splendor and display of culinary skill. The stage and auditorium will be connected to make one continuous floor, over which will be disposed twenty-six tables, simulating, as may be seen by the second diagram, six immense horseshoes. Two central tables, one for twenty-six covers and the other for twelve, will be reserved for the most distinguished guests. The president's table will be No. 14, at the junction of the stage with the orchestra, so that Gen. Harrison will be in full view, not only of the banqueters, but also of the ladies who will occupy the boxes, although they will have to look on at the banquet with the eyes of a Tantalus. Their ears will be delighted, however, with excellent music, and, later on, with the eloquence of the centennial orators.

Each table will be dressed with the utmost care and skill from the plan drawn by Messrs. Laperruque and Busse, and under their immediate supervision. The hall, brilliantly decorated and lighted, its atmosphere loaded with the perfume of flowers, its tables arrayed in fine linen, burdened with dazzling silverware, multi-colored flags and fine specimens of culinary architecture, and bright with the luster of the 7,000 crystal wine glasses, will present a never to be forgotten ensemble. There will be 200 waiters well drilled as so many soldiers. They will be under the supreme command of Mr. Busse, who will have sixteen assistant stewards, two for each of the eight series of tables. In the kitchen established in Seventh avenue, Chef Laperruque will have the assistance of fifteen cooks, thirty-two "omnibus" waiters, whose duty is to carry the 12,000 warm plates and dishes to be used, and thirty girls who will do nothing but wash the chinaware used at the banquet.



BUSSE. LAPERRUQUE.

At the carving tables at the end of the auditorium, thirty-six cooks with as many assistants will carve the meat. So perfect will be the entente between the chief cook in Seventh avenue and the chief steward in the middle of the hall, that on a signal given by the latter, by means of an electric bell, every meat will be carved simultaneously, and every course served at the same time at each of the twenty-eight tables without confusion or delay, thus avoiding the awkward predicament of guests beginning only to dine while others are already enjoying their roast. Each section of the six horseshoes and each central table will be provided with huge silver coffee pots, from which delicious coffee will be drawn and placed nearly at the same minute before every diner. There will be fine champagne, kimmel or chartreuse to go with the speech making and a special brand of Havana cigars imported for the occasion.

This is the menu of the banquet:

Hors-d'œuvre varies.
POTAGE.
Tortue verte.
Hors-d'œuvre chauds.
Petites timbales a la ministerielle.
POISSON.
8 Saumons du Kanebec, sauce Hollandaise
(each being presented on an oval socle four feet long and admirably decorated).
Salade de concombres a la Mayonnaise.
Pommes a l'Anglaise.
RELEVES.
Filet de bœuf pique, sauce Madere.
Champignons sautes. Haricots verts.
ENTREES.
Ris de veau, a la Toulouse.
Petits pois, a la Francaise.
Caisses de Becassines, a l'Americaine.
Flageolets au Veloute.
Aspics de foies gras. Parcelles.
Sorbets a la Presidence.
ROT.
Poulet de printemps au creason.
Salade Russe.
Glace fantaisie.
DESSERTS.
Petits fours. Mottoes. Gateaux.
Fruits.
Pieces montees.
CAFE.
Petits palus Viennois.

VINS.—Haut Sauterne; Thompson Sherry; Chateau-Leoville, B. and G.; Moet et Chandon, Imperial Brut; Moet et Chandon, White Seal; G. H. Mumm, Extra Dry; Griesler, Green Seal; Bourgogne, Romanee-Conti.

LIQUEURS.—Fine Champagne, Kimmel, Chartreuse jaune.

Apollinaris water for all.

Laperruque is a blonde, good looking Frenchman of 5l. Busse is a six foot, well proportioned Prussian. But on the serene field on which these two generals are to maneuver there will be no antagonism of race or politics. Both have worked as one man, with indomitable will, clear foresight, and calm, business like decision, for the success of the two big culinary features of the Washington centennial.

The TORTURES OF DESPAIR

Can be no worse than the agony of a man or woman troubled with Sick Headache. The terrible pain; the nausea; the lack of all interest in life; the disgust with everything and everybody; the world can afford no pleasure to any one when suffering from Sick Headache.

Why have Doctors never been able to cure this fearful trouble?

Because they have never discovered the right thing.

Have they tried?

Yes, for hundreds of years.

But a Chemist of Troy, N. Y., discovered the remedy, and the remedy that will cure in EVERY CASE arising from a deranged stomach.

Sawyer's Sick Headache Powders

Go right to the Seat of the trouble—the Stomach. They are purely vegetable, and contain no narcotics. They act with wonderful promptness and never leave any bad after-effect.

Phillip Phillips, the "Singing Pilgrim," says of them:—"I cannot tell you how glad I am to get something that relieves my wife of her headaches."

Rev. George F. Pentecost, D. D., says:—"I have received many benedictions from those to whom I have given these powders."

The late Rev. C. P. Sheldon, says:—"They are a wonderful remedy, and all they claim to be."

A sample of these wonderful Powders will be sent Free to any sufferer from this terrible affliction, or they can be procured of all reputable druggists.

SAWYER MEDICINE CO.
Troy, N. Y.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. Sold by W. J. Wa[illegible]

NONE SUCH BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

Contains only Pure Grape Cream Tartar, finest Bicarbonate Soda, and a little Starch. Full weight, always uniform. Incomparable for strength, purity and wholesomeness. The most economical. Contains no Ammonia, Alum, Lime, Phosphate, or other impurity. "Safe for dyspeptics and invalids." Sold in cans only. GEO. C. HANFORD, Mfr., Syracuse, N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

ELY'S CREAM BALM Cleanses the Nasal Passages, Allays Pain and Inflamation, Heals the Sores Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. TRY THE CURE

CATARRH HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail registered, 60 cts. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St. New York.

BONANZA to AGENTS SAMPLES FREE Both sexes. Write now GEO. A. SCOTT, New York City

KASKINE (THE NEW QUININE.)

Stimulates the Digestion Calms the Nerves, Clears the Mind, Yet Contains No Narcotic.

Science emerging from Darkness.

A POWERFUL TONIC. A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM NERVOUS PROSTRATION. THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

"After five years suffering from malaria, which nearly destroyed my constitution, having used quinine without permanent benefit I tried Kaskine and got better right away. The marlarial symptoms all left me and health, sleep and strength returned. Henry Knarke, 583 Washington St., New York.

"I had all the symptoms of malarial poisoning headache, rheumatic pains, great nervous depression, loss of sleep, indigestion, &c. The old quinine proving useless I tried "the new quinine" and soon got better. W. Goldburg, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., New York.

THE MOST RHEUMATIC Sciatic Pains

Rheumatic, Sciatic, Shooting, Sharp and Muscular Pains, Weaknesses, Back Ache, Uterine and Chest Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; five for $1.00. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

PIMPLES Pimples, blackheads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP

SALESMEN WANTED Permanent Situations guaranteed. Salary and Expenses paid. Special inducements to beginners. Any man can succeed with our advantages and quick-selling specialties. Outfit free. Write at once giving age. Hooker Nurseries (established 1835), ROCHESTER, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

PARDEE'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY

Is guaranteed to cure Rheumatism, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Neuralgia and all other blood and skin diseases. Price $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5. For sale by all druggists. THE PARDEE MEDICINE CO., Rochester, New York.

SALESMEN WANTED to canvass for the sale of Nursery Stock! ON SALARY AND EXPENSES OR COMMISSION. Steady employment. Apply at once, stating age. J. B. Mallis & Co., (Refer to this paper.) ROCHESTER, N.Y.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND. [illegible] Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Sq., Phila., Pa.

PATENTS

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES. Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON. Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT. We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to C. A. SNOW & CO. Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER. EPPS'S GRATEFUL—COMFORTING. COCOA [illegible]

W. P. OSBORNE. Jeweler, WATCHES CLOCKS —AND— A FINE LINE OF SPECTACLES ALWAYS ON HAND. No. 4, First Street.

JAMES COLE, The Old Reliable UNDERTAKER AND FURNITURE DEALER Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First S the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line. Caskets and Coffins Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best EMBALMING MATERIALS And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead. Hearse and Carriages FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE. Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing.

VIENNA BAKERY —AND— ONEIDA STREET BAKERY. I am prepared to supply to the people of Fulton and vicinity from either of the above mentioned Bakeries Bread, Cakes Crackers And all kinds of Bakers' Goods of the Best Quality. The choicest stock of Confectionery Crackers 7 cents per pound or 4 pounds for 25 cents. JOHN BARKER, Proprietor. 37tf

Oh! How Delightful! THE TAYLOR PATENT ADJUSTABLE LADIES SHOE The Incomparable Pinnacle of High Art FOOT DRESS "DELIGHTED LADIES EVERYWHERE" Pronounce this shoe the Acme of STYLE, COMFORT AND DURABILITY. "Corns and Bunions have had their day, The TAYLOR SHOE drives them all away." One Size Narrower Can Be Worn. No tacks, wax or nails to discomfit the wearer. Never crack or break away from the sole. Retain their original shape. Require no breaking in. Do you Dance. Are you hard to fit. Have you corns or tender feet. Wear the Taylor Adjustable Shoe and Be Happy. $3.50 Brazilian Kid. French Process, $3.50. A Marvel of Cheapness and Economy. Every pair of Taylor Shoes Guaranteed. For Sale in Fulton and Oswego Falls only by COLLINS & BILLINGS. CAUTION No other local dealer has the Taylor Shoe. We Guarantee his Sales only. Consolidated Shoe Co. Lynn, Mass. Man'f.

SPRING It is an acknowledged fact that during the months of spring, the body is more susceptible to the beneficial effects of medicine than at any other period during the entire year. Therefore any lady suffering from weakness, loss of appetite, blood disorders or nervous prostration is wise in now commencing to use Austen's 51797 Ladies Prescription, a tonic, blood purifying and strengthening medicine excelled by none. This remedy is particularly useful in aiding the convalescent's return to health and strength. It is guaranteed to be harmless and free from any injurious drugs. Sold by all druggists at 50c. per bottle. Manufactured by E. W. Austin, Chemist, Oswego, N. Y.

DEAFNESS CURED by Peck's Pat. Invisible TUBULAR EAR CUSHIONS. Whispers heard distinctly. Comfortable. Successful where all remedies fail. Ills. book & proofs free. Address or call on F. HISCOX, 853 Broadway, N. Y.

DIXON'S "CARBURET OF IRON." STOVE POLISH IS THE BEST.

FARMS, BEST Soil, Climate and Location in the South. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Va.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

JANE BROADWELL, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST, OFFICE AT RESIDENCE, Cor. 3d and Beech Sts., Oswego Falls. Office Hours from 8 to 10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m.

Thos. G. Poole, Deputy Sheriff and Detective. All kinds of Criminal and Civil cases thoroughly investigated. Criminal and Civil papers served in all parts of the Union. All communications and business strictly confidential.

C. S. EGGLESTON, —DEALER IN— BOOKS, STATIONERY, WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES, CURTAIN FIXTURES, PICTURE FRAMES, MOULDINGS &c. Fulton N. Y.

FREE $85 Solid Gold Watch. Sold for $100, until lately. Best $85 watch in the world. Perfect timekeeper. Warranted. Heavy Solid Gold Hunting Cases. Both ladies' and gents' sizes, with works and cases of equal value. One Person in each locality can secure one free, together with our large and valuable line of Household Samples. These samples, as well as the watch, we send Free, and after you have kept them in your home for 2 months and shown them to those who may have called, they become your own property. Those who write at once can be sure of receiving the Watch and Samples. We pay all express, freight, etc. Address Stinson & Co., Box 812, Portland, Maine.

I CURE FITS! When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS, A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

INSURE IN THE TRADERS & TRAVELERS Accident Company, 287 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. BENEFITS. $5,000 for Death. $5,000 Loss of Limbs. $2,500 Loss of Limb. $2,500 Loss of Sight. $1,250 Total Disability. $650 Loss of One Eye. $25 Weekly Indemnity for 26 Weeks. One Set of Individual Registry Plates Included. COST. Four Quarterly Payments, $10.00 Annual Dues, 1.00 Membership Fee, 5.00. $11.00 IMPORTANT NOTICE.—The Traders & Travelers Accident Co. of New York desire the services of one responsible representative in each town to act as agent for the general transaction of their business. A liberal and permanent arrangement will be made with parties who can fill the above requirements. Address C. S. SOMERVLLE, Sec'y.

BEST STEEL WIRE Woven Wire Fencing Wire Rope Selvage GALVANIZED. McMULLEN'S 80c TO $2 PER ROD. All sizes and widths. Gates to match. Sold by us or dealers in this line of goods. FREIGHT PAID. Information free. THE McMULLEN WOVEN WIRE FENCE CO., Nos. 118 & 120 N. Market St., Chicago, Ill.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH PRICE 50 CTS. IT IS THE BEST. EASIEST TO USE. & THE CHEAPEST. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Livery Stabe. Nathan Rowlee At his old stand on Cayuga Street, is prepared to furnish his old customers and transients with Livery Rigs, Of Every Description.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC without delay. [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES
INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
The first anniversary of the [illegible] auxiliary to the G. A. R. organ-
[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES

INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Times' Block, - First Street.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of 10 cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office for moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

THE Syracuse water bill passed the State Senate yesterday by a vote of 25 to 3. This certainly looks like Skaneateles lake for Syracuse.

A NEW city of over 15,000 population sprung up within a few hours Monday. It was Guthrie, Oklahoma. The territory was opened for settlement at noon Monday.

ON Friday last one of the largest fires that has visited New York in years occurred. The fire swept the east bank of the North river from Fifty-ninth to Sixty-fifth street. The total loss was about $2,250,000

THE steamer Missouri with 305 of the passengers and eight of the crew of the ill-fated Denmark, wrecked in mid-ocean arrived in Philadelphia yesterday. All of the 730 people on the Demark were saved, except one.

IT seems that Massachusetts does not propose to go dry. After a long and bitter fight over an amendment to the constitution forbidding the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors the amendment was lost by over 45,000 majority.

HENRY G. PIERSON, the New York postmaster died at the home of his father-in-law ex Postmaster General James, at Highwood, N. J., Saturday, of hemhorrage caused by cancer of the stomach. He was 47 years of age and had been postmaster at New York for eight years. President Harrison appointed State Senator Vancott postmaster on the expiration of Mr. Pearson's term recently but Vancott has not yet taken charge of the office.

Parasols for blondes, Parasols for brunettes, Parasols for tall persons and Parasols for short persons, of every color of the rainbow and of beautiful designs. Call and look them over at Rosenbloom's.

Peter Miner, the harness maker, was arrested on complaint of his wife, charged with being an habitual drunkard and using abusive language toward his family. Before Police Justice Cronyn of Oswego Falls, on Thursday, he was fined $6.80 and was sentenced to 60 days in the County jail. The sentence was suspended during good behavior. It is a good plan to drop liquor, brace up and be a man.

"Have you seen them?" "What" "Why Rosenbloom's stock of spring overcoats. They are by far the nobbiest that can be found in this vicinity."

That is what has been said and what will be said again if one goes and looks over the goods.

In his report of the W. R. C. anniversary exercises the correspondent of the Oswego Times is made to say in reporting Mrs. Spencer's speech:

"We were then twenty years later taken by her graphic words back to the same ground where all is still and the green grass now grown over the graves of thousand horses."

The manner in which the climax is approached is first-class but when reached—spare us, "graves of a thousand horses." But the doctor did not mean it that way. He doubtless wrote it "a thousand heroes."

Excursion Tickets to the Great Washington Centennial Celebration at New York.

The D. L. & W. R. R. Co. announces the following arrangement. Tickets will be on sale April 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th at $8.40 for the round trip good on all trains. Good to return on or before May 6th. On the 28th and 29th a special ticket at $6.50 will be placed on sale good only on the 7:40 p. m. trains. Tickets will be good to return on or before May 2d.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR.

It wont cost you one-half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its cause and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. 50t3

People Pay Heavy Bills

For medical attendance and medicine. Sickness is expensive, and those with small incomes feel this burden keenly. The physician must sometimes be called but he is not needed one tenth as often as many think. What is required is a family medicine; one that will relieve and cure those ailments which are liable to come at any season and to attack both sexes and all ages. Amid the host of articles that are offered to the public for this purpose, nearly all are useless or worse than useless. It is no vain boast to say that the medicine herein mentioned is of a very different character. What it has done is known to multitudes of persons whom it has cured of weary and painful diseases. It has saved time, money and many dear and precious lives. Now please understand as the life is in the blood so disease and death are in the blood. Get the poison out of the blood and life and health will at once return to every part of the body. Dr. Brown's Sarsaparilla does this work quickly and surely through its direct and positive action upon the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver and skin. For all waste and corrupt elements must be cast off by means of these channels. Rheumatism, scrofula, bronchitis, gout, consumption, malaria, catarrh, hay fever, all skin affections and eruptions and diseases of the blood. George H. Wise, of the firm of Truxton & Wise, [illegible]

[illegible]

The first anniversary of this eminent auxiliary to the G. A. R. organization was held in the hall of the latter, on Monday evening last. The meeting was public and admirably presided over by Mrs. E. Hancock, the regular President of the corps. The exercises were varied and interesting. The address of the President to the G. A. R. with a concise history of the W. R. C. of Fulton was responded to by the Post Commander, J. S. Palmer, Music and recitations by "The Daughters of the Regiment" and also a recitation, each by Miss Snow and Mrs. Murphy—finely rendered and heartily applauded—There were present the Revs. Rankin, Chase and Brunning of Fulton and Olmstead of Oswego Falls. These gentlemen were called on and responded in the various moods from pathos to humorous genality and the whole affair was not only enjoyable to all but especially creditable to the Woman's Releif Corps.

Centennial of Washington's Inauguration.

At the call of Dr. D. M. Rankin there were present in his study at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Revs. Charles Olmstead, John C. Breaker, B. Brunning, W. Dempster Chase and Messrs. F. E. Goodjon, Arvin Rice, S. F. Merry, E. R. Redhead, F. E. Bacon and Levi Collins. Dr. Rankin was made chairman and F. E. Bacon Secretary. In harmony with the President's proclamation it was decided to have a meeting next Tuesday morning at 9 a. m. in the Presbyterian church. It will be in charge of Rev. W. Dempster Chase. Arvin Rice and F. E. Goodjon were appointed a committee on music. In addition to appropriate devotional services, Henry E. Nichols was invited to deliver the address. The church bells will be rang at eight o'clock and the citizens of Fulton will surely respond to the purpose of this meeting and be present for an hour of rare interest.

Are You Going?

Why, of course, everyone is. It won't cost anything to go and you can spend what you choose when you get there. The tea booth in charge of "Martha Washington" and her attendants will be most attractive of all, tea will be served there afternoon and evening. The Gipsy booth will have beautiful baskets for sale from Alexandria Bay. The Martha Washington supper Tuesday night from 5 to 8 o'clock will be a feast, chicken pie, pumpkin pie, doughnuts, tea, coffee, &c. all for twenty-five cents, and the ladies who serve will wear costumes of 1779. The ice cream booth in charge of thirteen young ladies will be open all the time. This is the program for Tuesday. Wednesday afternoon all the booths will be open, but Wednesday evening an admision of ten cents will be charged to the hall, and the entertainment will consist of music and tableaux and a chocolate tea, in charge of the young ladies. Church's Hall, April 30th, and May 1st.

We Mean It!

POSITIVE SALE! C. R. Nichols will commence the sale of his entire stock of Silverware, Clocks, Watches and Jewelry, on Saturday of this week. Everything of every kind will be sold without reserve at from one half to two-thirds their value. No one will say "this is no cheaper." The stock is to be sold without a profit, and must go even at a loss.

SPECIAL SALE FOR SATURDAY.

Continuing through until Thursday morning will be made on Forks and Spoons. $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00 per set or nearly half price. C. R. NICHOLS.
in A. Bristol's First st.
April 24, 1889.

Many a man has paid more to repair his old watch, than Draper now asks for a good new watch, look over his stock, and see the bargains. 50tf

Gilberts Mills.

(Special correspondence to THE TIMES.)

The cheese factory opened Monday.

Miss Clara Sears has a sister and friend visiting her from Clay.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart of Phœnix spent Easter with Elder Ward.

Miss Satie Tyler has reurned from Albany and is teaching at the White school house.

Mrs. Ruth Sanford has moved into part of Mr. Chapin's house.

Dr. B. T. Mason and family of Phœnix and other friends spent the Sabbath with the doctor's father.

Quite a number are suffering from the mumps.

Dr. Carroll's people are preparing to move to Meridian.

There was an Easter concert at the Baptist church Sunday evening. The program consisted of singing, recitations, dialogues, etc., the church was appropriately decorated with flowers and a large number were present.

Just received at Draper's the largest and finest stock of Fancy Crockery, Table and Hanging Lamps, Plated ware and Jewelry ever in town. See these bargains and price them. tf

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Ellen Beardsley died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Ruggles in Whitehall, Mich. on Wednesday April 17 at the age of 70 years. She formerly resided in Fulton.

Miss Louisa Abbott died Saturday, April 20th, at the house of her niece Mrs. N. Stewart on Fourth street, at the age of 83 years. Funeral was held Monday from the house and burial at Jacksonville, the deceased's former home.

H. Albert Althouse died at his home on Academy near Seventh street in this village on Monday, April 22, 1889, at the age of 27 years. He leaves a wife and two children. Funeral will be held this afternoon, at 2:30 from the Methodist church.

Word has reached here of the death in Montana on Friday April 19 of Henry M. Hubbard, age 58 years, son of the late Richard D. Hubbard, and brother of Mrs. C. H. David of this village.

Robert Atkinson a well known resident of North Scriba and a former merchant of Oswego dropped dead of heart disease yesterday.

Chocolate creams at 15cts. per pound worth 40c at the [illegible] Drug Store. [illegible]

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1889.

The Capitol during the interim is the loneliest place in town. It is given over to watchmen, guides and stray tourists. In the rotunda there are perhaps half a dozen tourists, listening with twisted necks to the narratives of the guides who now that Congress has adjourned and they cannot point out notable people at the rate of 50 cents per hour, have greatly lengthened their descriptions of the frescoes and painting in the dome.

Aunt Clara, who is said to have had a romance with Henry Clay, and who has for years sold more or less inoffensive pies and cakes from a stand near the rotunda, is still there. "I must verra soon go to the poor house if tese tull days keep on," she complains, and the oldest guide in the building, who has seen her weekly coming out of a certain bank, for twenty years, utters a sort of defiant challenge to her complaint.

At the door of the House of Representatives the [illegible] man sits at his table, ready to write you cards at the rate of 75 cents per pack, but jobs are few and the writer has read twenty-two of Zola's novels since the Senate adjourned. Here and there a solitary clerk goes fast asleep in the library, or wakes up disgusted with living at any price. The watchman, oppressed with the silence over the three acres of marble, solemnly gather by twos and "refresh themselves" as Charles Dickens says, at the immense spittoons.

The President has been regularly installed in his office a little over six weeks, and with the exception of a day's ride down the Potomac, has had no respite from official duties. It is expected that he will take a long vacation as early as possible this year. The New York Times has just published a bitter attack upon General Harrison, based upon the fact that he took his run down the river upon a government vessel. One would think the Times had discovered proof of the corruption of the administration. The vessels of the Navy station here have always been at the disposal of the President for such trips. Mr. Cleveland very properly availed himself of their use on several occasions, once for four days, and yet to the jaundiced mind of the Times what was all right then is all wrong now.

Joe Rickey, of Missouri, who lost $35,000 on last November's election, was in town last week. In an interview he said: "Outside of the state of New York Democrats would like to see Grover Cleveland nominated in '92. But he is handicapped in his own state. The party machine is against him and will never permit his candidacy. That removes him forever. Yet New York will again name the man. The West has no candidate; no man available who is sufficiently prominent. Carlisle and Morrison cannot be considered, as free trade is a dangerous cry against either. We dare not while the echoes of war still linger go South for a standard bearer. Sam Randall is out of the race on account of his tariff ideas. Governor Hill's term of office will expire before the convention meets, and his successor will be in the chair. So far as can be predicted he will leave the position a poor man. As he is poor, his hold will give out when he loses the position which gives him the distribution of vast patronage. In other words the liveliest present supports of Hill are a class of patriots who are not in politics for their health. The political prince of to-day is the pauper of to-morrow, and, once out of the Governor's chair, Hill becomes unavailable.

"All this," continues the sage Rickey "points to the selection of William C. Whitney as the next Presidential Democratic candidate. Who was the most energetic, intelligent and logical member of Cleveland's Cabinet? Not Bayard or Fairchild or Endicott, or Garland or Dickinson, or Vilas; oh, no. Whitney's administration was pure and his popularity with everyone with whom he came in contact was lasting.

"Of course the question of wealth is an important one, when the expensive style of American politics is considered. Mr. Whitney is not an enormously wealthy man, but his bachelor brother-in-law is worth $25,000,000. He testified to his devotion to his sister by giving her a home in New York worth $600,000 and adding $2,000,000 as a sinking fund. How much would he give to see his sister installed as mistress of the White House? Don't you remember how she loved her Washington society triumphs? In New York city she was only one of 400 society leaders. In Washington she had only to share the leadership with Mrs. Cleveland. Every muscle and nerve is being strained by a vast combination to secure Whitney's candidacy, premature as it may seem."

$100 REWARD. $100.

The readers of THE TIMES will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c. 50w4

DON'T GIVE UP

because you feel blue and are troubled with that tired and all-gone feeling. Do as I did, use a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, it will make you feel like a new person. [illegible] Tremont street, Boston. [illegible]

[illegible]

Why come one at the door [illegible],
Good morning friend, I pray you [illegible]
And tell us the news at Volney Centre."

"The news? well then the greatest of notes
Is that bubble has burst "The Bohemian Oats."
The farmers are watering their furrows with tears,
And a shadow of care on each visage appears.

"A 'contest' was held on the hill last night,
The prize was a silver medal so bright,
The struggle was hard, but when it was done
Jay Piper's girl, Millie, the medal had won.

The singing was good the speaking also,
The judges three gentlemen whom we all know,
Bradt, Bennett and Keller from Fulton they came!
A farmer once was Keller and editors twain.

What! more news yet are you asking?
Dear me! how my memory you're tasking,
Orville Hart to Syracuse has gone.
Edith Snell over Sunday is at home.

Well now I really must be going,
Or all I know you too will be knowing,
You correspondents are so rude,
In everyone's business you intrude.

You mis-spell words and make mistakes,
For impudence correspondents take the cakes,
And by convulsions strong the place is rent,
Because of the 'slack' of the correspondent.

The people all hate you and a wicked word
Is uttered whenever your name is heard.
If never again the place you'd enter,
'Twould be a good thing for Volney Centre.

THE CORRESPONDENT.

Over 100 varieties of new loose Seeds now on sale at Draper's by the pound, quart or bushel. 50tf

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., April 17th, 1889.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, President and full Board.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The street Commissioner presented his report showing an expenditure of $58.56 on streets which was accepted, and the Clerk directed to draw an order in favor of Trustee Kellogg for the amount.

The following bills were reported correct by the finance committee and Clerk directed to draw orders for the same on proper funds.

B. J. Kimball, making map	$ 10 00
J. Leland Fitzgerald, preparing and printing contracts and specifications for sewers	129.25
John Miller, burying dog	1.00

The petition of W. E. Terry and others asking the extension of water main on Sixth street was read and referred to Street Committee.

Petition of G. H. Fassell for removing obstructions in Sixth street was referred to Street Committee.

The claim of Frank Sweet for alleged injury to person in falling upon the sidewalk at south corner of Cayuga and First streets was received and referred to Finance Committee.

The Finance Committee reported they had examined the account of the late Treasurer and found as follows:

Amount on hand at annual report March 1888	$ 2,046 05
Received since	10,222.70
	$12,268.75
Paid orders	11,515.69
Balance paid A. Youmans	$ 753.06

On motion the report was accepted and adopted.

The matter of sidewalk on east side of First street from south line of F. A. Gage to Broadway was referred to the full board.

A communication from the Fire Department recommending the officers for the ensuing year was read and the appointment confirmed.

The complaint of H. P. Wilson, regarding side walk on Utica street was referred to committee on sidewalks.

Complaint of Alex Bradford as to tile drainage at corner of 4th, and Cayuga streets was referred to committee on streets.

The matter of renting house for Sharp Hose Co, was referred to committee on finance.

The following resolution was offered by Trustee Kellogg and adopted.

RESOLVED,—That when the Board adjourns it be for one week, and at that time the propositions of the Electric Light and Gas companies for lighting the streets be received.

Trustee Rice, offered the following:

RESOLVED—That this Board does not deem it expedient to construct a system of sewerage this year.

H. H. Kendrick, presented a plan and estimate for bell tower as follows:

TO THE HONORABLE, THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF FULTON, N. Y.

I submit the following in connection with plan for fire alarm bell tower, for your consideration.

Total estimated weight or wooden tower now in use exclusive of bell, 9,600, lbs,

Total estimated weight of iron tower to be erected in place of wooden one, exclusive of bell 8,000, lbs.

Amount of money necessary to erect iron tower and re-hang bell and complete the job, $457.91,

The wooden tower now in use is 13x17, feet spread at base and tapers to six feet and three inches at top. Would recommend the construction of iron tower of equal sides; viz: 13x13 at base and six feet and six inches at top. Should you conclude to erect the tower 13x17 feet add $20 more to the amount to be raised

The bell will have to be lowered and the roof to the old tower taken to pieces and whatever of it that can be, used in the new one.

H. H. KENDRICK.

All of which is respectfully, submitted.

On motion the report and plan was accepted.

The Board then adjourned to meet April 24 th, 1889, at 7½ p. m. M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Instructions of the Fulton Board of Health for 1889.

The duty and the purpose of Sanitary Authorities is to make such regulations as will secure the prevention of disease. With that intention the Board of Health of this Village, in order to prevent and get rid of conditions favorable to the development of disease, insist upon cleanliness of houses, streets and yards and urge upon everyone—both tenants and landlords that strict attention be paid to the cleaning and proper disinfection of premises.

WATER CLOSETS.—All vaults at this date should have been cleaned out. Should any have been uncleaned the work must be attended to and all owners are liable to penalties for such neglect. Foul odors must be gotten rid of by a plentiful use of copperas solutions.

A CESS-POOL is a nuisance and must be constantly and thoroughly disinfected. No scavenger shall be allowed to commence to clean any privy or cess-pool before 10 p. m. or after 5 a. m.

PRIVY, SLOP AND SINK DRAINS must not be drained on the public highway. Hotel, saloon and store-keepers are hereby notified that hereafter the contents of spittoons must not be emptied on highways.

YARDS—The owners or occupants of yards must avoid having garbage heaps or the accumulation of garbage. When horses or chickens are kept special care must be taken to avoid maintaining a nuisance.

CATTLE—All owners of cows are directed to see that their cows or cattle are kept in the pasture from May 1st to September 20th.

Complaints concerning matters affecting public health may be made to Joseph LaLonde, the President of Board the of Health, at his shop on First street, to G. H. Fassell, at his shop on Second street, or to O. H. Hannis at Gage's flour mill.

Every person who violates, resists or refuses to comply with any of the foregoing provisions of this code of Sanitary Ordinances or any of the rules or orders of this Board of Health will be liable to arrest, suit, penalty or imprisonment therefor.

JOSEPH LALONDE, President,
G. H. FASSELL, Secretary,
O. H. HANNIS,
50w4 DR. D. PARDEE, Health Officer.

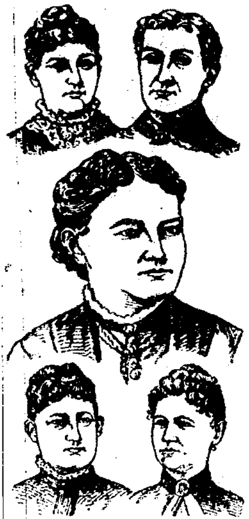
—IMPROVED—

GRANITE ROOFING

Ready to Lay on the Building.
More Durable than Tin and Less in Cost.
FIRE AND WATER PROOF.
Best Covering for old Slate and Shingle Roofs in the Market.
CANNOT BE SURPASSED FOR STEEP ROOFS.
WILL NOT RUN OR CRACK.
[illegible]

[illegible] at Cottonwood Falls, Kan.

At Cottonwood Falls, Kan., the municipal election of a "woman's ticket" was planned originally as a huge joke. The day before election a "citizens' ticket," composed of the names of reputable citizens, was brought out, and no one supposed there would be any opposition; but some persons who were fond of joking made up a ticket of ladies' names, and, not daring to circulate them openly, sent a few through the mails on election morning.



Mrs. Groundwater, Police Judge. Mrs. Gillett, Councilman. Mrs. Morgan, Mayor. Mrs. Johnson, Councilman. Mrs. Grisham, Councilman.

COTTONWOOD FALLS WOMEN.

The bringing forth of ladies' names in this public fashion was at first regarded as entirely unwarranted; in fact, as the ladies had not been nominated seriously, it was regarded as an insult. It occurred to their friends that it would be a far better joke to elect them. Consequently they all went to work with a will, and when the election was over it was found that the jokers' ticket was elected by a large majority.

The mayor-elect, Mrs. Minnie D. Morgan, is the wife of the editor of The Chase County Leader. She is an officer of the Women's Relief corps and an officer in the department of Kansas. Mrs. Morgan was born and educated in Cincinnati, and was at one time a teacher in the public schools.

Mrs. M. E. Johnson, council woman, is the wife of Jabin Johnson, twice sheriff of Chase county. Mrs. Johnson has artistic tastes.

Mrs. Barbara Gillett, council woman, is a widow and the mother of Frank E. Gillett, state senator, besides being the mother of a number of grown up sons and daughters.

Mrs. Sarah Grisham is the wife of the attorney for the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, who is a prominent politician and a member of the G. A. R. She was graduated at the state normal school and became a teacher. At the time of her election she was in charge of the primary department of the Cottonwood Falls school.

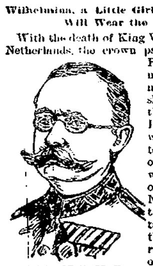
Mrs. Mary F. Groundwater, police judge, is the wife of a farmer. She went from Massachusetts to Kansas. She also has been a teacher. For years she has been very prominent in Sunday school work. She will be just the person to pass wholesome sentences on any of the jokers who may be brought up before her for disturbing the peace after 12 o'clock midnight between Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Porter is a widow, a Presbyterian and highly respected.

Miss Alice Hunt is a teacher in the city schools. She is quite young, and an accomplished lady.

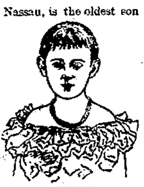
NASSAU RULES LUXEMBOURG.

Wilhelmina, a Little Girl of Nine Years, Will Wear the Crown.



DUKE OF NASSAU.

With the death of King William III, of the Netherlands, the crown passes upon Crown Princess Wilhelmina, a little girl of nearly 9 years; but she does not inherit the grand duchy of Luxembourg, which, according to the constitution of the Netherlands, will fall back to the older ducal house of Nassau. In fact this has already taken place, as since the installation of regents in the place of the sick king of Holland, Duke Adolph of Nassau has already entered, with the sanction of the chamber of Luxembourg, upon the duties of government in said country. Thus Luxembourg becomes German again, and it is even said by some who claim to know of what they speak that Bismarck intends to unite it with Alsace-Lorraine, making of the three a kingdom, and proclaiming Duke Adolph king. It might be explained here that the grand duchy of Luxembourg is originally a German state, having from 1815 to 1866 belonged to the German confederation. In 1815 it was ceded by the Vienna congress to the king of the Netherlands in place of Nassau, which had been taken from him.



WILHELMINA.

Duke Adolph, of Nassau, is the oldest son of Duke William I, and was born on the 24th of July, 1817. In 1839 he succeeded his father, and in the war between Austria and Prussia in 1866 he fought on the side of Austria, and as a consequence of this war had to cede his country to Prussia and retire into privacy. He then lived for a time in Paris and in Switzerland, and afterwards returned to Germany, making Vienna his permanent home, from where he has recently gone to Luxembourg, as stated above.

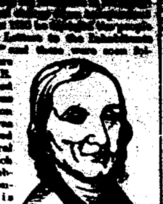
As the duke is rather an old man, it is thought that he will probably soon reign in favor of his son William, who was born in 1852, and has hitherto been colonel in the Austrian army.

TO PRIESTLY'S MEMORY.

The Memorial Recently Erected in Philadelphia by the Unitarians.

There was recently erected in the First Unitarian church, Philadelphia, a monument to the memory of the eminent theologian and scientist, Dr. Joseph Priestly. The day of the unveiling was the 156th anniversary of the birth of Dr. Priestly, and the celebration was attended by many prominent Unitarian preachers.

Dr. Joseph Priestly was the son of a cloth dresser, and was born in Fieldhead, England, in 1733. His mother died when he was 6 years old, and he was placed in charge of an aunt. At 16 he had made progress in most of the ancient languages. At 19 he entered a dissenting academy, having determined to become a clergyman, but when later he attempted to enter the ministry he was rejected because of his liberal views. His first book, "Rudiments of English Grammar," was published in 1761, and about six years later his acquaintance with Benjamin Franklin, who was then in England, stimulated him to write his "History and Present State of Electricity, with Original Experiments." [illegible]



JOSEPH PRIESTLY.

[illegible] "Letters to Right Hon. E. Burke, Occasioned by His Reflections on the Revolution in France." He was now the recognized champion of liberal thought, which made him the subject of severe condemnation. This feeling culminated on July 14, 1791, the anniversary of the French revolution, in a riot in Birmingham, during which his meeting house and dwelling house were burned and his library and apparatus destroyed, and many manuscripts, the fruits of years of industry, perished in the flames. Priestly escaped to London, and in 1794 sailed for New York.

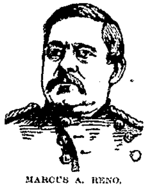
He went to Northumberland, Pa., where his sons had preceded him. In 1796 he visited Philadelphia and delivered a series of lectures on Unitarianism in the old Universalist church at Fourth and Lombard streets. In declining to found a congregation, he suggested that a church should be started and conducted by laymen. His suggestion was acted upon. A society was formed in 1796, and in 1813 the congregation erected the first Unitarian church edifice in Philadelphia. In 1828 the building was replaced by a better building. About four years ago this second building was replaced by a new and commodious church on Chestnut street.

The monument at Philadelphia is not the first one erected to the memory of Priestly. His old congregation at Birmingham, England, erected a monument to his memory in their place of worship after his death, and in 1860 a marble statue was placed in the corridor of the museum at Oxford. The centennial of the discovery of oxygen was celebrated on Aug. 1, 1874, by the unveiling of a statue to his memory in Birmingham, an address in Paris and in the United States by a gathering of chemists at his grave in Northumberland, Pa.

The memorial at Philadelphia is over eight feet high and four feet deep, and it is set in the west wall of the church, slightly below the pulpit line, where it can be plainly seen from all parts of the auditorium. It consists of three tablets, a long one in the center and the smaller ones on each side, cut from solid blocks of Sienna marble, framed in a heavy cornice of Algerian marble. The tablets are separated by Grecian columns three feet in height; also in Algerian marble. Over the end tablets are projecting cornices like the roof of a Greek temple and ornamented at either end with cherubs. The entire length of the main cornice, which is Algerian marble, is carved on superb fretwork.

Marcus A. Reno.

Marcus A. Reno, at one time major in the United States army, who died in Washington lately from excessive smoking, was born in Illinois, graduated at West Point in 1857 and was assigned to the dragoons. After serving on the frontier he was commissioned captain in the First cavalry, Nov. 12, 1861. Subsequently he took part, among other engagements, in the battles of Williamsburg, Gaines' Mills, Malvern Hill, Antietam and the action at Kelly's Ford, Va., March 17, 1863, where he was wounded, and was brevetted major for gallant and meritorious conduct. He was also present at Cold Harbor and Trevillian Station, and at Cedar Creek on Oct. 19, 1864, when he was brevetted lieutenant colonel.



MARCUS A. RENO.

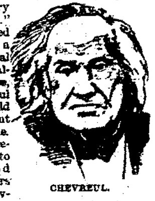
From January to July, 1865, as colonel of the Twelfth Pennsylvania cavalry he was in command of a brigade and encountered Mosby's guerrillas at Harmony, Va. On March 13, 1865, he was brevetted colonel in the regular army and brigadier general of volunteers. After serving as assistant instructor of infantry tactics in the United States Military academy and in the freedmen's bureau in New Orleans, he was assigned to duty in the west. On Dec. 26, 1868, he was promoted major of the Seventh cavalry, and in 1876 he was engaged with Gen. George A. Custer in the expedition against the Sioux under Sitting Bull. He was in the action of the Little Big Horn when his brave commander, Custer, with nearly his entire regiment, were slaughtered by the savages, and it was charged that only by great cowardice Reno saved his own life. He failed to bring his portion of the command up to support Custer when the latter was surprised by the wily Sioux. Subsequently, in 1880, Major Reno was dismissed the service, on the finding of a court martial, for conduct unbecoming an officer. More lately he figured in the newspapers in connection with a divorce suit. Since his expulsion from the army he had resided at Harrisburg, Pa., and at Washington.

DEATH OF A GREAT CENTENARIAN.

Michael Eugene Chevreul, One of France's Greatest Scientists.

The father of chemistry as a science is dead. Michael Eugene Chevreul, after outliving all his early contemporaries, nearly all his early pupils and even a majority of his later coadjutors, has lately died at the age of 103, lacking four months. One might say that a special providence granted such a life that the man who laid the foundation of the present system of chemistry should live to aid at each step of its development and see it completed. Chemistry is indeed a very new science. Chevreul was born Aug. 31, 1786, and when he began his studies so little was known that alchemy was still in some repute and chemists did not know the composition of air. In fact, Chevreul himself was the first to demonstrate the presence of carbonic acid gas, though Black had suggested it many years before.

There is an odd mixture of the tragic and comic in the history of those early chemists. In 1774 Priestley discovered what he called "diphlogisticated air," that is, air freed from phlogiston, which they supposed to be the element of combustion, and Priestley was considered a "very dangerous man." Lavoisier followed by establishing a system of chemical names, substantially that now in use, and when Chevreul was but 8 years old Lavoisier was sent to the guillotine. Chevreul was barely young enough to pass unnoticed through the terrors of the French Revolution, and did not leave his native Angers till 1803, when he was 17 years old. He gained recognition very soon in the laboratory of a manufacturing chemist, and at the age of 20 wrote a valuable treatise on the chemistry of colors.



CHEVREUL.

In 1817 he was made chemical director of the famous Gobelin dye works, and retained that place for the rest of his life. One by one he received all the honors of the government and the universities and became the recognized authority for the world on the chemistry of colors. He lived through the most awful period of modern history and the most eventful of all the centuries. He was born in the reign of Louis XVI, whom he remembered well, pursued his childish studies during the Reign of Terror, lived under the Directory, the Consulate, the empire, the first and second Restoration, the Hundred Days, the reign of Louis Philippe, the second republic and the second empire and into the ninth year of the third republic.

At 90 he confessed that his faculties were failing, but his friends found him a clear thinker for ten years longer. He came of a remarkably long lived race, his father dying at 91 and his mother at 93; he was very regular in his habits and a life long abstainer from tobacco and intoxicants. [illegible]

GRAFF'S CARPET FURNITURE HOUSE.

Twelve Floors - Passenger Elevator.

We desire to call your attention to our large and representative Stock of Carpets, Furniture, Draperies,

BEDDING, &c.

The Largest and Grandest Assortment of fine and inexpensive FURNITURE and at prices correspondingly low.

UR CARPET HALL

Contains all kinds and grades of corpeting. The largest stock ever shown under one roof. It will pay you when in the city to give us a call and verify our statements.

A. A. Graff & Co.,

61 and 63 South Salina St., Syracuse.

Go To Johnston's

THE ONLY RELIABLE DEALER IN

STOVES RANGES and BUILDERS' HARDWARE

ALSO

FARMERS' IMPLEMENTS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Iron and Tinware, Cutlery and Silverware

Paints and Oils, Doors, Sashes and Binds.

Tin Roofing a Specialty.

GEO. JOHNSTON,

Oneida Street, Fulton, and Broadway, Oswego Falls, N. Y

A PRESSING

Invitation is extended to gentlemen who like to be faultlessly dressed to examine our new Spring Goods. We are daily in receipt of numbers of immense cases filled with the choicest and finest CLOTHING for MEN, YOUTHS, BOYS and CHILDREN, made for this season's wear. Our aim is to provide the Finest made Garments at the lowest prices, together with the Choicest stock of our Merchant Tailoring department.

I. H. BROUNSTEIN'S

Clothing and Merchant Tailoring House,

13 and 15 No. Salina St.,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

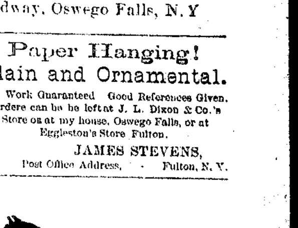
Paper Hanging!

Plain and Ornamental.

All Work Guaranteed Good References Given. Orders can be left at J. L. Dixon & Co.'s Store or at my house, Oswego Falls, or at Eggleston's Store Fulton.

JAMES STEVENS,

Post Office Address, - Fulton, N. Y.



The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read proof below.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

OFFICE OF CHARLES A. SNYDER, BREEDER OF CLEVELAND BAY AND TROTTING BRED HORSES. ELMWOOD, ILL., Nov. 20, 1888.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.

Dear Sirs: I have always purchased your Kendall's Spavin Cure by the half dozen bottles, I would like prices in larger quantity. I think it is one of the best liniments on earth. I have used it on my stables for three years.

Yours truly, CHAS. A. SNYDER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., November 3, 1888.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.

Dear Sirs: I desire to give you testimonial of my good opinion of your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I have used it for Lameness, Stiff Joints and Spavins, and I have found it a sure cure. I cordially recommend it to all horsemen.

Yours truly, A. H. GILBERT, Manager Troy Laundry Stables.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

SANT, WINTON COUNTY, OHIO, Dec. 19, 1888.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.

Gents: I feel it my duty to say what I have done with your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I have cured twenty-five horses that had Spavins, ten of Ring Bone, nine afflicted with Big Head and seven of Big Jaw. Since I have had one of your books and followed the directions, I have never lost a case of any kind.

Yours truly, ANDREW TURNER, Horse Doctor.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All Druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. J. SNOW

Has a New

OLIVER

STEEL

PLOW.

As well as the

OLIVER & WIARD

Chilled Plows.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

We make a specialty of imported and Key West Cigars at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' Electric Co. of Fulton, N. Y., will be held at the law office of H. E. Nichols in the village of Fulton, N. Y., on the 9th day of May A. D., 1889, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The object of such meeting is to consider and act upon a proposition to increase the capital stock of said corporation from $20,000 to $24,000. A full attendance is requested in person or by proxy.

Dated, Fulton, N. Y., April 17, 1889.

T. D. LEWIS,
F. A. EMERICK,
A. J. SNOW,
G. G. CHAUNCEY,
FRANK DILTS.
Directors of the Above Named Corporation.

50t4

HEMLOCK LUMBER

—AND—

Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good. Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,

SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

[illegible]

You can get handsome Cromos and picture cards for Master wrappers. 48tf

Have your Prescriptions compounded at the Syracuse Drug Store. [illegible]

E. E. HART SELLS THE BEST LEHIGH VALLEY COAL AT REASONABLE PRICES.

E. E. HART SELLS THE BEST LEHIGH VALLEY COAL, AT REASONABLE PRICES.

Up town Office Opposite Bee Hive, First Street. Coal Delivered in Fulton and Oswego Falls.

All the Latest Styles in

MEN'S AND BOYS'

HATS

just received by

D. C. MORE & CO.

The Reliabe One Price

-CLOTHIERS!-

Gardner Block, -- Oneida Street, -- Fulton, N. Y.

THE FULTON TIMES

DEL. L'KW'NA & WESTERN R R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.
Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:08 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:14 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:47 p. m
Syracuse Express	5:24 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:05 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:08 a. m
Day Express	11:14 a. m
Day Express	2:48 p. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	7:02 p. m
Evening Express	9:48 p. m

The 8:08 a. m., and 8:05 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. P. SCHWARTZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:22 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:10 a. m
Norwich Express	3:21 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	10:17 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:33 a. m
Oswego Express	11:28 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	5:29 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	8:01 p. m.

"PHOENIX LINE."

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.	p. m
For Syracuse,	8:37	11:22	3:37	5:37	7:32
For Oswego,	8:43	11:58	2:33	6:13	8:43

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONAL.

P. Cullen of Syracuse was in town yesterday.

Richard Carr of Skaneateles Falls is home on a week's vacation.

M. H. Brando of Providence, R. I., was in town one day last week.

Mrs. C. K. Howe is in Watertown for a few days, the guest of her brother, John E. Harroun.

Isaac Darrow has sold his house and lot on Oneida street to Charles True. Consideration $1,800.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burdick returned last week from Denver, Col., where they have been spending the winter.

Miss Grace Briggs of Fort Dodge, Iowa is in town visiting her aunt, Mrs. D. E. Spencer and May and Ida Briggs.

Mrs. E. W. Spooner of this village and her sister, Mrs. Wm. Barnes of Chicago are visiting Mrs. C. R. Jones at Pulaski.

Mrs. T. D. McKnight of New York, with her two children are here to attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Rebecca Stewart.

Mrs. Parsons, formerly of Fulton is dangerously ill at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. Mohan in Brockville, Canada.

Miss Lizzie Spicer, teacher in Miss Master's school at Dobbs' Ferry on the Hudson has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. K. F. Salmon. She returned yesterday.

Will Hoff who has been for the past year in Sharon, Pa., is in town visiting his parents. He goes to-morrow to accept a position at Camden, Oneida county, in a jewelry store.

Dr. D. J. Chaffee, wife and daughter of Rochester, N. Y., and Miss Josephine Broadwell, of Oswego Falls, N. Y., sail from New York city, on the "City of Chicago," to-day for a three or four months absence in Europe.

O. E. Lasher, Sen. Lieutenant in the United States Navy is in Fulton on a week's furlough visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lasher. Mr. Lasher graduated from the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., about twenty years ago and has since been in the U. S. Navy. He for some time past has been in command of the U. S. Steamship Fortune, but has been called to the Jamestown, which ship takes part in the Washington centennial celebration at New York, April 30th.

MARION, Va., April 5, '89.

Mr. K. F. Salmon,

Dear Sir—The shoes arrived yesterday, I am delighted with them. They are a perfect fit. Please accept my thanks for your promptness in sending them. MRS. E. G. C.

Charlie Nichols is going to commence Saturday to sell off all his Jewelry Stock. He means business this time. He is going to cut prices right through the middle.

Immense stock of Wagons and Carriages just received at Bristol's; prices low, quality of goods high; Terms easy. [illegible]

—ORDERS FOR—

Q RUST'S

SUPERIOR COAL

or Oswego Falls can be left at the Dry Goods store of J. R. Sullivan. tf

A Handsome Monument.

Mrs. Lyman H. Patterson has had built in Mt. Adnah cemetery two catacombs. In one of these now rests the remains of her late husband, Lyman H. Patterson, who was formerly a well-known resident of Fulton and died at Quincy, Branch county, Mich. on March 19, 1888. Mrs. Patterson has also just erected in memory of her husband a red, Bay of Funda, granite monument. It is 4 by 6 feet at the base and seven feet high. On the face of the cap is a Maltese cross in bass-relief. Masonic emblems adorn the face of the cross, all highly polished.

Five red granite, highly polished, headstones have also been placed in the lot made of the same material as the monument and four corner posts.

Mrs. Patterson has spared no pains or expense in doing this, planning the whole and giving it her personal supervision. The work was done by George H. Fassell of this village and situated in a conspicuous part of Mt. Adnah it is an adornment to the cemetery and credit to the planner and executor.

H. McKiernan desires to notify his patrons that his fourth carload of "Success Phosphate" will arrive Thursday or Friday of this week. Those that have placed their orders can get it directly from the car and save cartage.

TALLY HO Baking Powder 12 cents per lb at SYLVESTER'S

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain uncalled for in Fulton P. O. Apr. 24, 1889.

John Nolen, Geo. A. Meier, B. E. Wright, Elizabeth Becker, Mrs. Eliza Davis, Chas. F. Barnasky, Anna Neville, Mrs. Reynolds, Jas. Remington, Chas. Sutton, Jno. B. Wilson, Kate Crow.

Persons calling for the above please say "advertised."

S. B. WHITAKER, P. M

To All Whom It May Concern.

All accounts due me must be paid this week. If not so paid they will be sued. C. S. Murphy will be at Smith's meat market on Oneida street after 7 o'clock p. m. Saturday to receive payment of same.

P. CULLEN.

The Largest line of Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. Williams'. Call and get prices. 49tf

Paints, Oils, Varnishes, &c. at very low Prices at 49tf WILLIAMS' Drug Store.

Good Baby Carriages at M. M. Williams' for $5.00 and up. 49tf

Don't fail to see all of the nobby styles of Wall Paper at 46tf M. M. WILLIAMS'.

Rye Feed is being sold very cheap to make room at Fulton Mills, GILBERT & NICHOLS. 48w4

The largest line of Wall Paper and Window Shades ever shown in Fulton at M. M. WILLIAMS'. 46tf

Stephens Opera House.

Monday, April 25th 1889.

One Night Only

Reappearance of the Jolly Favorites

HOWORTH'S

Original Double Show

GRAND HIBERNICA

AND

Dublin Dan Comedy Co.

In their latest laughing success

BLUNDERS,

Positively exhibiting the finest Scenery ever before shown in a GRAND TOUR THROUGH IRELAND. NEW MUSIC, SONGS AND DANCES REFINED SPECIATY AND NOVELTY.

Prices 50, 35 and 25 cents.

Seats now on Sale at W. J. Watson's.

JOHN HOWORTH,
Sole Proprietor.

Wm. Patrick has practically completed work on the locks in this vicinity.

Large and fine poles are being put up for the electric light wires in Oswego Falls.

The Northern N. Y. Methodist conference selected Oswego as its next place of meeting.

Street Commissioner Wolever with a large gang of men is busily engaged in cleaning the streets.

Pompeii was destroyed by the burning lava, but None-Such Baking Powder never destroyed a baking.

Five members of the Sill family of Hastings this county have died within twenty days of pneumonia.

The steamer Ontario will run daily as last season between Oswego and Alexandria Bay, beginning June 29.

The Free Baptist chapel on Broadway between Third and Fourth street is nearly enclosed. It is 22 by 32 feet.

H. E. Nichols will deliver the Washington Centennial oration at the Presbyterian church in this village next Tuesday forenoon.

Ten car loads of immigrants from Castle Garden, bound west passed through here on the Ontario & Western road yesterday morning.

"I hardly see the necessity of again putting down that old carpet when they are offering such rare bargains in that line at Rosenbloom's.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon" made a good sized audience laugh long and hearty at the opera house Monday evening. "It was funny very, very funny."

C. E. Chappell & Co's. opening days last week were a grand success. It is quite evident that the enterprising firm is more than keeping up the excellent reputation established by their predecessor.

Theodore W. Klock of Syracuse, employed as a brakeman on the Phœnix railroad fell from the cars near Phœnix last Thursday afternoon and was killed. He leaves a wife and two children.

Among the recent appointments in this county is that of A. B. Sherwood of Pennellville, who succeeds Ambrose Gregg as postmaster, who has held the office continuously since the commencement of Franklin Pierce's administration in 1852.

Rev. Brunning of the Universalist church gave notice of a sermon to be for the encouragement of young men, to be preached next Sunday evening, entitled "The Importance of the Young in the World and the Reason why they Ought to Know It."

On Saturday morning one of the largest mortgages ever deposited in the Oswego county clerk's office was filed for record. It was between the N. Y. O. & W. Railroad Co. and the Mercantile Trust Co. of New York city for the sum of $10,000,000.

The postmaster general appointed the following postmasters in Oswego county on Saturday: Lycoming, John E. Coe; Palermo, D. H. Trimble; Parish, W. B. Harter; South Richland, I. J. Rich; Williamstown, Albert Warren; Cleveland, F. F. Polter.

The Pennellville cheese factory commenced receiving milk on Monday. The price that will be paid for making this season is $1.15 per hundred. Reuben Sutton is secretary and C. F. Barnasky salesman and treasurer for the ensuing year.

Hon. P. W. Cullinan representing the N. Y. O. & W. Railroad Co. purchased the property on Second street of Mrs. Milo Lawrence, for $2,000, William Sheldon $1,250 and the Case grocery with stock $3,600. What is the railroad company going to do anyhow?

On the night train April 28th and 29th the N. Y. O. & W. R. R. will sell round trip tickets from this station to New York and return, for $6.50. Good to return until May 2d. On any other trains April 27, 28 and 30 round trip tickets will be sold for $8.40 from Fulton good until May 6th.

The Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg R. R. will sell excursion tickets to New York and return, to the great Washington Centennial Celebration, April 27th, 29th, and 30th, good only on all regular trains and to return on or before May 6th, inclusive. At round trip rate from Fulton, $8.40.

The bakery of H. P. Wilson recently burned has been rebuilt and refitted and is now ready for his occupancy. About Saturday he will open with an entirely new stock of confectionery, while the bakery department will be up to the high standard which he always kept previous to his being burnt out. In addition the bakery and confectionery store, Mr. Wilson has had fitted up fine ice cream parlors, where this delicacy can always be obtained in its season.

McCully keeps a full assortment of Trunks and Satchels at low prices opposite the postoffice. 41tf.

A Vegetarian Barber.

"Hick" said barber Hewes to policeman No. - to whom he had just given a finishing touch as far as the razor manipulation was concerned, "the next time that boy comes around to the Clark house with 'greens' send him to me, will you? If there is anything I like better than another, it is 'greens.'" Hick promised to attend to the matter and the tonsorial artist in anticipation of enjoying, in the near future, a repast on his favorite article of diet did considerable extra work on the copious locks of the "billy" wielder (joke, see the point.)

Very few hours elapsed before a boy appeared at the barber shop with greens. Without hesitancy Hewes purchased all the boy had and ordered him to take them to his house. Minutes seemed almost hours to the vegetarian as he waited for supper time but finally it came and he hastened home to enjoy the feast that he knew was waiting for him. He seated himself at the table with a smile of satisfaction that is reported as being enchanting. Everything was placed on the table and his better half and his children set down to enjoy the meal with him. With a grin at his wife's absent-mindedness, he said "Where are the greens?" His wife knew it was past April 1st. and was unable to see the point to the remark until she perceived that he was in dead earnest. Then she informed him that she had not seen any 'greens.' On hearing this you could have knocked him down with a feather. He was unable to eat and could do no satisfactory work in the shop that evening.

The following note explains itself:

MR. HEWES:—You are a very kind neighbor. The boy brought the 'greens' to us with the remark that Mr. Hewes sent them. We all considered them the best we ever had and enjoyed them very much at supper last evening,

Yours with many thanks,

Too Many Wives

Abram Henry Youngs is wanted by the authorities for bigamy. Youngs was born on the "flats" and lived here until he was twenty-five years old, when he left for the West, locating in Colorado, where he married an Indian half-breed woman, who bore him four children. Seven years ago he returned to Fulton, but soon deserted his wife and family, eloping to Rochester with a woman named "Lot" Fuller, with whom he lived two years and then left. In the winter of 1887 he met Miria Smith, a bright, good-looking woman of thirty-five, to whom he represented himself as a resident of North Carolina, and who, after a short courtship, he married at Christ's church Rochester, on the 22d of April, 1888. After a few months he left this wife came to Fulton and married, at the Howard House, Phœnix, in Sept. 1888 a woman named Julia Plumley. Youngs who has been at work in the Oswego Falls factory has disappeared and up to the present time has not been discovered by the authorities.

Thanksgiving Services

Masonic thanksgiving service this evening in Stephens Opera House commencing at 8 o'clock. The order of exercises will be as follows:

PRAYER.

SINGING.—Old Hundred.
"Be thou O, God exalted high."
BY QUARTET AND AUDIENCE

Reading of Grand Master's Address.
N. N. STRANAHAN.

SINGING.—Cantata Domino.
QUARTET.

ADDRESS.—
REV. J. C. BREAKER.

SINGING.—Kellar's American Hymn.
QUARTET.

ADDRESS —
REV. B. BRUNNING.

SINGING.—"My Country 'Tis of Thee."
QUARTET AND AUDIENCE.

BENEDICTION.

If you want anything in Forks, Spoons, Berry Dishes, Vases, Clocks, Watches or any large or small aricle in Jewelry Charlie Nichols will sell it way off price.

Wardens and Vestrymen.

At the annual meeting held in Zion Episcopal church on Monday, the following officers were elected:

Wardens—S. B. Whitaker, W. S. Nelson.

Vestrymen—G. S. Piper, W. P. Kennard, R. Bradshaw, H. McKiernau, W. R. Hamilton, Dr. N. F. Hall, J. R. Fairgrieve, J. C. Wells, W. J. Watson.

AT O'BRIEN'S.

20 pieces Indigo Blue Prints, 6c per yard.

100 yards heavy all Linen Crash, 5c per yard.

1 case of Best Dress Ginghams to be sold very cheap.

1 case Wide Century Print to be sold very, very cheap.

50 pair Lace Curtains, 98c per pair.

20 pieces Wide Henrietta 48c per yard would be cheap at 69c.

25 Doz. Ladies Ribbed Vests, 15 each.

If you want to buy everything in Dry Goods cheap, call at

J. C. O'BRIEN'S:

Canned Corn 4c. per can
6tf at SYLVESTER'S.

Masonic Thanksgiving exercises at the opera house, this evening.

The new Grace Chapel will be dedicated on Sunday, May 5th.

F. D. Hill has opened and is running a pool room next to Summerville's livery.

Busses are now running while repairs are being made on the street car tracks.

The first meeting of the Fulton Board of Trade will probably be held at the Lewis House, May 13th.

Harry Comstock has purchased of John Bogue the house and three lots adjoining his premises at corner of Sixth and Erie streets.

All the Fulton and Oswego Falls churches were handsomely decorated on Easter Sunday and appropriate sermons delivered by the several pastors.

Read the advertisements of local merchants in THE TIMES. Our merchants are doing a lively spring trade. Help the village by doing your trading at home.

Spring has come and you must get some dress goods. Have you noticed the elegant designs at Rosenbloom's. If not you should not purchase elsewhere until you have.

"Did you say curtains." "Yes I did and I mean it too when I say that the display of both Cheneille and Lace at Rosenbloom's is the best I ever saw. Go in and look them over.

We are glad to note that citizens generally rake up the leaves and beautify their premises. It is the way to maintain the excellent reputation we have of possessing a beautiful village.

J. T. Butler brother of Mrs Frank Dilts of this village and editor of the Elmira Gazette was married this forenoon to Miss Carrie Brockway, a daughter of the Superintendent of the Elmira Reformatory.

Where do you find the largest and best stock of clothing? Why, at Rosenbloom's. Where do you find the finest line of dress goods? At Rosenbloom's of course, anyone could answer both those questions.

The marriage of Miss Rebecca Stewart to Mr. Walter L. Balnwin of Syracuse occurs this afternoon at the church of the Immaculate Conception. Another of our popular young ladies goes to a home away from Fulton.

W. P. Kennard, superintendent of the R. & O. Mills, Oswego Falls, was married on Thursday, April 4th, to a young lady of Sterling, Ill. He is expected back soon and will reside in the Howe house on Third street, which he had leased.

The reference suit of Miss Martha Chesbro against the Kenyon estate was argued for several days last week and a compromise was finally agreed upon. The suit was for services to the amount of $2,550. The estate paid half of the amount claimed.

Jay VanBuren of Fulton, employed as a brakeman on the R. W. & O. railroad, was knocked under moving freight cars at Norwood Friday after noon and both legs were badly bruised. It is thought that amputation will not be necessary.—Palladium.

The order of service authorized by the Right Rev. F. D. Huntington, Bishop of Central New York, for use in the Inauguration Anniversary, April 30, next Tuesday, will be used in Zion Church at 9 a. m. The special form of service printed in full will be furnished all who attend.

The competitive examination of candidates for the State scholarships at Cornell University, for Oswego county, will be held at the rooms of the Board of Education, Oswego, Saturday, June 1st. The examinations will be in charge of Secretary Hamilton and School Commissioners Griffin, Bly and Baldwin of the county, from whom full particulars can be obtained.

The Congregational choir in connection with the Temperance Band of Oswego Falls will hold a concert in the Congregational church, Friday evening April 26 which promises to be of the highest order. Much effort has been put forth to make this Concert one which everyone may enjoy. Go and take friends. Doors open at 7 o'clock, exercises to commence at 7:45. Price of admission, 20c. Tickets at the door.

If you want your harness repaired or anything in the harness line go to Carner's under Eggleston's, First street. 50t2

Chamber Suits.

I have just received a new lot of nice ash Chamber Suits which I am offering at $18. Call and see them.
50t2 J. C. LANG, First st.

You can for once Saturday or Monday get a set of Forks or Spoons at about half price. Special Sale. C. R. Nichols.

A Brilliant Silver Wedding.

On Monday April 22d occurred the 25th anniversary of the wedding of Mr and Mrs. Alfred LaPorte.

The respected couple with their four children attended solemn High Mass in the morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The Rev. Father Earley officiated and imparted the nuptial blessing, when parents and children had received Holy Communion.

A grand reception was held at the house in the evening. One hundred persons from Syracuse, Oswego and our own little cities were present. The numerous and costly silver gifts, of which the happy couple were the grateful recipients, testified to the esteem in which they were held.

Instrumental music, vocal selections, congratulations and banquet were in order. The tables were literally covered with viands and delicacies and all did justice and honor to the same.

Mr. LaPorte and his estimable consort were all in all to their guests and a pleasant evening was spent under ever hospitable roof. The event is to be long remembered by the family. May their next quarter of a century be as bright and successful as the past and their golden wedding find the circle of their friends increased an hundred fold.

En Route to New York.

On Sunday April 28th, the 29th and 38th Seperate Companies of Oswego will pass through Fulton on the Phœnix road on their way to the Centennial Celebration in New York.

These companies will be joined at Syracuse by the 2nd Separate of Binghamton, 45th Separate of Cortland, 26th and 30th Separate of Elmira, the 8th of Rochester, and the 40th and 41st of Syracuse. These companies comprise the First Provisional Batallion, and will be commanded by Col. Welch of Buffalo.

During the afternoon a dress parade, guard mount and battalion drill will be held at Star Park.

The companies will be attended by the celebrated Kingsford Band of Oswego.

In the evening the 65th and 74th Regiments of Buffalo will join the first Provisional Regiment, and all will proceed by special trains via. the West Shore to New York.

To enable Fultonians to witness the largest military display which has taken place in this part of the state for a number of years, the military train will stop at Fulton, going and returning. Train leaves Fulton, 12.50 p. m.; returning leaves Syracuse at 9:00 p. m. Tickets $1.00.

Thursday Evening April 25th.

At the Opera House Thursday evening will appear the well known and famous Howorth's Hibernica Comedy Company. They have introduced this season new specialties and novelties. The following is from the Gazette, Galena, Ill:

"With Howorth's Hibernica business is booming and the people "out West" are evidently pleased with the show. To say that the audience were pleased with the entertainment given in Turner Hall by Howorth's Hibernica and Comedy Company, is certainly a mild way of expressing the sentiment of those present, at the conclusion of the performance. Delighted is a better word, and even this does not convey the feeling which prevailed among the crowd in attendance, judging from the enthusiastic remarks of approbation which were heard on every hand as we left the hall. The entertainment was the best of the kind that has ever been given in this city and was in every way worthy of the large audience in attendance. The program, embracing entirely new features, was refined and pleasing throughout, and those who took part therein are actors and musicians possessing a high order of talent deserving of most generous encouragement whenever they appear. The views exhibited are magnificent specimens of art, and were in striking contrast to the disgusting daubs which have been palmed off as "views of Ireland." Should Mr. Howorth and his excellent company ever again favor our city with a visit, their reception will be a hearty one, as it should be wherever they go.

Tickets are on sale at Watson's at usual prices 25c. 35c. and 50c.

Bock Band Concert Co.

The Till family, the musical wonders of the age, will be at the opera house on Wednesday evening, May 1st. in the interest of the Bell Fund for the Congregational church, Oswego Falls. Since their arrival in this country they have played in most of the celebrated churchs and institutions. They come most highly recommended and an enjoyable entertainment is assurred.

Masonic Notice.

There will be a special communication of Hiram Lodge No. 144 F. A. M. next Monday evening, (April 29) to confer the third degree on four candidates.

By Order of W. M.

J. G. Carner has leased the harness shop under Eggleston's store on First street and put in an entirely new line of harness, horse collars and fixtures pertaining to the trade. He is also prepared to do repairing of every description in a first class manner. 50t2

It s Our Treat!

So come right along for we are bound to do the liberial thing by you. When you come to us, you will find we don't work off old stock but give you

The Straight Goods

every time, We invite you to examine

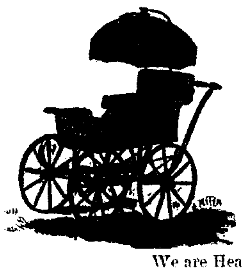
The Raw Material

and prove it, all wool, try the seams of our clothing any if you don't go on a tear before they go, you may expect to last to a good old age.

PEEBLES & CO.

Clothiers and Merchant Tailors.

Furniture & Undertaking.



We offer the Largest Stock of

FURNITURE

ever shown in Fulton and at prices

Below all Competition.

A Full Line of

Window Shades, Cheap

We are Headquarters for

BABY CARRIAGES,

and our prices are the Lowest in town.

Repairing & Upholsterin g.

We are prepared at all times, day or night to attend Funeral calls and carry in stock a full line of goods in this department. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

B. C. BROWN.

Times Block.

House on 3nd. street and office over No. 6 First street to rent. Enquire at D. C. DRAPER'S. 50tf

HOUSES FOR SALE OR RENT—Situate on 1st, 2d and 7th streets. Also for sale Choice Building Lots on 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th and other streets. Payments on instalment plan or cash as purchaser may desire.
47w4 W. S. NELSON, Agt.

Wort's famous bread at Berzoe's.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

A. Bristol is constantly receiving Pianos and Organs of many of the leading makes which he is offering at great bargains. 44tf

Have you used any of the Loyal Sock Coal that Hart is selling for $4.50 per ton, it is giving tip top satisfaction. Office opposite the Bee Hive. 44tf

Bass and Trout Flies 30cts. a Doz., Winged or Hackles 200 varieties,
48tf W. C. TUCKER.

HART keeps every size of Lehigh Valley Coal. TRY IT and you will be well pleased. 44tf

We have just received new Dinner, Tea and Chamber Sets which we will sell at rock bottom prices. Call and see them if you want bargains,
46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & CO.

Fischer Pianos

Bristol has a large stock of Fischer and other makes of pianos, also Estey and Chase organs. Elegant goods, prices reasonable and terms easy.

Piso's Remedy for catarrh. The best and easiest to use. Sold exclusively, in Fulton, by H. C. Giesler. tf

You can get a Rod, Reel, Line, Float, Sinker and Hook all for 25ct. at 48tf W. C. TUCKER'S.

Just received a fresh stock of Confectionery at the Syracuse Drug Store. 29tf

New Goods. The latest ideas in Glassware at 46tf MRS. J. C. TUCKER & CO'S.

Positively Given Away,

A Japanese Tea Pot with every pound of our package teas, Formosa Oolong, Choice Green Jap and Basket Fired Jap. Teas. MRS. J. C. TUCKER & CO.

Leave orders for Green, the paper hanger, at C. S. Eggleston's. 47tf

1889. 1889.

IN EARNEST

MILTON S. PRICE,

SALINA AND CLINTON STS.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

DRY GOODS,

CARPETS,

Furniture and Curtain Draperies.

For years I have been in the habit of making my Spring and Fall Announcement in the columns of this paper. No doubt my great establishment has been visited by many of its readers, so that it will be of no use to give a description of my great stores.

I will emphatically say, that this is to be the banner year.

I am proud of the selections made by my corps of buyers for the Spring Season of 1889.

THE STOCK OF

DRY GOODS AND FANCY GOODS

Is the Largest in the City.

CARPETS!

The Acknowledged Headquarters for Carpets.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies

From the best makers in the Eastern and Western markets. The stock of Curtain Draperies is perfectly grand.

Those wishing to purchase Dry Goods, Carpets, Furniture and Curtain Draperies will be well repaid by coming to Syracuse and making a thorough inspection of my stock. I feel confident that there will be no trouble in making selections, and the prices at which I am offering goods this season cannot but meet with public favor.

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

SPECIAL SALE OF LACES.

Laces are popular again this spring and we have secured thirty pieces in both Black & White, which we shall offer at

JUST HALF PRICE.

They will not last long at the prices, come in before the assortment is broken.

We have the largest and finest display of pattern Dresses, (imported) ever shown in Fulton. Our stock is complete all through the store and we allow no one to undersell us.

Remember that we are also headquarters for Carpets, Curtains & Curtain Poles. We sell Curtain Poles complete from 23c. up.

C. E. CHAPPELL & CO.

(Successors to F. E. Bacon.)

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday April 24, 1889.

WORTH KNOWING.

Farm mortgages in Nebraska aggregate $150,000,000.

According to a recent estimate the annual production of maple sugar in Vermont is between 10,000,000 and 12,000,000 pounds.

The belief is expressed by Vick that, all things considered, the Diamond grape is superior to all the varieties of white grapes now before the public.

A large commission dealer, of Philadelphia, in reply to the question. "If you were going to set a vineyard, what would you plant?" names the Concord.

The 40,000,000 hogs raised in the country are valued at $200,000,000. The Mississippi Valley claims to have raised three fifths of the number.

Remove every alternate bunch of grapes when these are thickly set on a branch or one vine and see the difference in the size of the bunches that are left next Autumn, when they ripen, over those on vines and branches not trimmed.

The demand for sycamore lumber, it is said, is increasing wherever tobacco is packed. This wood is employed for tobacco boxes and large quantities are shipped to Richmond, St. Louis and other tobacco-packing centers.

Never feed animals or poultry for thirty-six hours before killing nor give water for twelve hours. By so doing it will be easier to dress them, and a saving of food will be the result if a large herd of flock is to be slaughtered.

There is no doubt in my mind says Spreckles, that this country can raise not only the material and manufacture all the sugar it can consume, but will in a few years be able to export 1,000,000 or more tons a year.

I have never been in a hurry. I have always taken a plenty of exercise; I have always tried to be cheerful, and I have taken all the sleep that I needed. These were the rules followed by the late Rev. James Freeman Clarke, and he outlived and outworked most of those who began life with him.

Among the points of a good dairy cow mentioned by Dr. Law in a recent paper were development of abdomen, depth and breath of the body posteriorly, evidences of large blood vessels, fineness of the bony structure, looseness, pliancy and elasticity of the skin, abundance of sebaceous secretions.

Grapes are so easy of culture that every one owning a foot of land should plant them. They require a warm dry soil, not too rich to grow in perfection but will grow almost anywhere. The south side of a building where the vine may be trained on the wall is an excellent place.

Potatoes for Pigs.

The numerous experiments as the feeding value of potatoes for pigs tend to show that the best results are obtained when the potatoes are cooked. A litter divided into two lots and fed four weeks, the one on raw and the other on boiled potatoes with barley meal, showed a difference of 58 pounds in favor of the boiled potatoes, and other experiments show even more morked results from cooking.—N. Y. World.

AMONG the blind the one eyed is kink. The one idea of Warner's Log Cabin Plasters. is to strengthen the foundation of health, and thus ensure health. Best and cheapest in the market. All druggists keep them.

Aphorisms

It is hard to personate and act a part long; for where truth is not at the bottom, nature will always be endeavoring to return and will peep out and betray herself one time or another.—Tillotson.

The covetous person lives as if the world was made altogether for him, and not he for the world; to take in everything and part with nothing. —South.

Some desire is necessary to keep life in motion, and he whose real wants are supplied must admit those of fancy.—Johnson.

Never live in hope or expectation while your arms are folded. God helps those who help themselves. Providence smiles on those who put their shoulders to to the wheel that propels to wealth and happiness.—Tillotson.

Rather wink at small injuries than to be too forward in avenging them. He that to destory a bee should throw down a hive, instead of one enmy would make a thousand.—Colton.

Defects in manners is usually the defect of fine perceptions. Elegance comes of no breeding but of birth.—Emerson.

The roses of pleasure seldom last long enough to adorn the brow of him who plucks them, and they are the only roses that do not retain their sweetness after they have lost their beauty.—Blair.

I know of no manner of speaking so offensive as that of giving praise and closing it with an exception.—Steele.

By taking revenge a man is but even with his enemy; but in passing over it he is superior.—Bacon.

The peculiar purifying and building up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla make it the best medicine to take at this season.

Two Strings To His Bow.

"No, William," she said coldly, with a sidelong glance to note the effect of her words "I cannot be your wife. You smoke and you sometimes drink. I have registered a vow not to marry a man who has either of these vices."

"All right, Maria," was the humble reply. "And now will you please ask your younger sister Lulu to come down-stairs a moment? She said when she kissed me good-by last night that she would gladly have me if you refused."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is easier to lay plans than to hatch them.

A President's Office.

Nobody can blame President Harrison for feeling that he ought to have an office remote from his dwelling. The humblest laborer in the country goes home from his workshop and gains rest and recreation by the very change. But the President of the United States practically lives in his office. He is never able to maintain that domestic seclusion which the prerogative of men in a less exalted place. It is rumored that Mr. Harrison intends to fit up an office in the War Department and to receive at the White house none but social callers. This will be a wise step on his part and technically in keeping with his office. As Commander-in-Chief of the Army of the United States he is entitled to an office in the building he has chosen.—World.

WM. Roberts, M. D., Physician to the Manchester, Eng., Infirmary and Lunatic Hospital, Professor of Medicine in Owen's College, in speaking of kidney disease says: "One-third die of urenic (uric acid) poisoning. A considerable number of dropsy. One-fifth from secondary pneumonia, pericarditis (inflammation of the heart sac), or pleurisy, exhaustion, indigestion, or the complications of apoplexy, hardening of the liver, bowel ulcers, etc. The foregoing are only a few of the common symptoms of advanced kidney disease, and this explains why Warner's Safe Cure cures so many different symptoms, called diseases, and why it has such popularity. Ask your friends and neighbors about it.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are, Carter's Little Liver Pills. The give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Ages of Cabinet Officers.

President Harrison's Grandfather was the oldest of all our Presidents, but it is doubtful if any Cabinet ever contained so many mature men as the new one. Its average age is fifty-seven years and five months. The President himself is fifty-five, four years older than his predecessor. Mr. Windom is sixty two, Mr. Blaine, Governor Rusk and Mr. Tracy, fifty-nine; Governor Proctor, fifty-eight, and Mr. Noble fifty-seven; Mr. Wanamaker, is fifty two and Mr. Miller forty-eight. Mr. Cleveland sought youngish men for his advisers. Gen. Grant, youngest of all the Presidents, followed the same rule. Washington Star.

Stamping and Embroidery.

"Yes, Lizzie, I like to do fancy work, but I haven't felt like trying that pattern—or anything else—for a week. These awful 'dragging down' pains are just killing me!" "I know how you feel and I can tell you where to look for relief. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a certain cure for all these weaknesses and distressing ailments. Why! it even cured me of prolapsus, and many of my lady friends have been cured of various grave maladies peculiar to our sex by this wonderful medicine." It is the only medicine sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money refunded. Read guarantee on bottle wrapper.

Good Baby Carriages at M. M. Williams' for $5.00 and up. 49tf

Our Combination Rates.

We make the following combination rates to every-one, 10 cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county. All of the papers have a world wide reputation in the fields which they cover and we commend them to our readers:

THE TIMES 1 year and Farm Journal 1 year $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and N. Y. Weekly World 3 mos., $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and Detroit Free Press 3 mos. $1.25.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Rural New Yorker 1 year $2.50.

THE TIMES 1 year and the N. Y. Weekly World 1 year $1.85.

THE TIMES 1 year and the Detroit Free Press 1 year $1.85. tf

He who takes the child by the hand takes the mother by the heart.

Bright's Disease.

A Ten-Year-Old Child Saved After the Failure of Four Physicians.

My little girl, ten years of age, was taken sick in March, 1886, with scarlet fever. When recovering she took a severe cold, which developed Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Her ankles, feet and eyes were terribly swollen; she had a burning fever, and all the symptoms of an aggravated case of Bright's Disease. Four of our best physicians attended her, but without success, and

Her Life was Despaired of.

But a mother's love and prayers surmount all difficulties, and I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y. This was a last resort, and I hoped, although my little daughter's case was a very severe one, that the Favorite Remedy would do for her what it had done for others whose condition had not been, seemingly, as hopeless. How happy I am that I determined upon this course—for an improvement was at once perceptible. The fever left her—her appetite improved—she gained six pounds in a short time, and one by one the well known and dreaded symptoms of the disease left her. Words fail to express my gratitude, and I cannot too earnestly recommend the Favorite Remedy. It was and is due entirely to the Favorite Remedy, which was the only medicine taken after her case was abandoned by the physicians.

A MARVELOUS RECOVERY.

Mrs. Laura A. Kampton, West Rutland, Vermont.

The diseases that follow Scarlet Fever, Measles, Diphtheria and various other complaints often leave behind them sequelae of the most dangerous character. To expel all traces of such diseases, tone up the various organs, and fill the veins with pure and nutritious blood, use Dr. David Kennedy's

Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Prepared by DR. DAVID KENNEDY, RONDOUT, N. Y.

$1 per bottle. Six for $5. By all druggists.

HIRES

25c. HIRES' IMPROVED 25c.

ROOT BEER!

IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE

THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS

ROOT BEER.

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is a peculiar medicine, and is carefully prepared by competent pharmacists. The combination and proportion of Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Yellow Dock, and other remedial agents is exclusively peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, giving it strength and curative power superior to other preparations. A trial will convince you of its great medicinal value. Hood's Sarsaparilla creates and sharpens the appetite, stimulates the digestion, and gives strength to every organ of the body. It cures the most severe cases of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, and all other affections caused by impure blood, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headache, Kidney and Liver Complaints, Catarrh, Rheumatism, and that extreme tired feeling.

Purifies the Blood

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for catarrh and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A. BALL, Syracuse, N. Y.

Creates an Appetite

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla to cleanse my blood and tone up my system. It gave me a good appetite and seemed to build me over." E. M. HALE, Lima, Ohio.

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for cancerous humor, and it began to act unlike anything else. It cured the humor, and seemed to tone up the whole body and give me new life." J. F. NIXON, Cambridgeport, Mass.

Send for book giving statements of cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

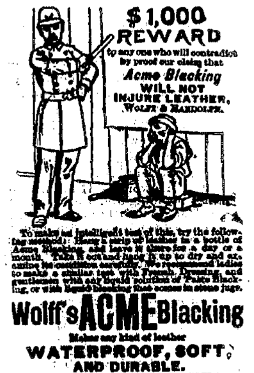
SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 2c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.



$1,000 REWARD

to any one who will contradict by proof our claim that

Acme Blacking

WILL NOT INJURE LEATHER.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH.

To make an intelligent test of this, try the following: [illegible]

Wolff's ACME Blacking

Makes any kind of leather

WATERPROOF, SOFT, AND DURABLE.

Its beautiful, rich, GLOSSY POLISH is unequaled. Saves labor and annoyance.

A Polish Lasts a Month for Women, and A Week for Men, and on Harness Leather once Four Months without renewing.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, PHILADELPHIA.

Sold by Shoe Stores, Grocers, and dealers generally.

5/A HORSE BLANKETS

ARE THE STRONGEST.

NONE GENUINE WITHOUT THE 5/A LABEL

Manuf'd by WM. AYRES & SONS, Philada., who make the famous Horse Brand Baker Blankets.

JONES & LaPRAIRIE,

Wholesale Dealers in

Liquors Wines Lager Beer

AND ALES.

Agents for T. E. O'KEEFE.

OSWEGO,

CRYSTAL SPRINGS BREWERY CO

OF SYRACUSE, and the

HAMMONDSPORT WINE CO.

Our Wine List includes

CATAWBA (Dry and Sweet)

PORT, CLARET, MADERIA

AND ALL OTHER SWEET WINES.

Sold in Bulk or Bottles.

Oneida Street. - - Fulton, N. Y.

A Case of Over-Indulgence.

Once again the danger of over-indulgence in tobacco is brought vividly before the public. Edwin Booth has been in the habit of smoking twenty strong cigars a day. It may be that to some men a small amount of tobacco every day is beneficial, but a man who lights a fresh cigar every half-hour is flirting with physical collapse.—World.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

It is wise not to seek a secret and honest not to reveal it.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, [illegible]

THE SPRING MEDICINE YOU WANT

Paine's Celery Compound

Purifies the Blood,
Strengthens the Nerves,
Stimulates the Liver,
Regulates the Kidneys and Bowels,
Gives Life and Vigor to every organ.

There's nothing like it.

"Last spring, being very much run down and debilitated, I procured some of Paine's Celery Compound. The use of two bottles made me feel like a new man. As a general tonic and spring medicine, I do not know its equal." W. L. GREENLEAF, Brigadier General V. N. G., Burlington, Vt.

$1.00. Six for $5.00. At Druggists.

Use It Now!

"Having used your Paine's Celery Compound this spring, I can safely recommend it as the most powerful and at the same time most gentle regulator. It is a splendid nerve tonic, and since taking it I have felt like a new man." R. E. KNORR, Watertown, Dakota.

WELLS, RICHARDSON & Co. Props. Burlington, Vt.

DIAMOND DYES Color Feathers and Ribbons, [illegible] | LACTATED FOOD Babies using it sleep well nights. Wake Laughing

FRESH HOPS, HEMLOCK GUM AND PINE BALSAM COMBINED

Spread on white muslin.

THE POPULAR AND RELIABLE PLASTER.

HOP PLASTER

Apply one now for Backache, Sideache, Rheumatism, Kidney Weakness, Tender Lungs, Sore Chest, Stiff Muscles, Female Pains, Crick, Sprains, etc.

It cures every sort of Pain, Ache, or Weakness, and quickly, too.

SOLD EVERYWHERE, 25 CTS. 5 FOR $1.00 or mailed for price.

Look for signature of PROPRIETORS, BOSTON, on the genuine goods. HOP PLASTER CO.,

MELLIN'S

FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

TRADE MARK.

FOOD

THE ONLY Perfect Substitute for Mother's Milk.

INVALUABLE IN CHOLERA INFANTUM AND TEETHING.

A PRE-DIGESTED FOOD FOR DYSPEPTICS, CONSUMPTIVES, CONVALESCENTS.

A PERFECT NUTRIENT IN ALL WASTING DISEASES.

REQUIRES NO COOKING.

KEEPS IN ALL CLIMATES.

Our book "THE CARE AND FEEDING OF INFANTS," giving also valuable ADVICE TO INVALIDS, mailed free to any address.

Doliber-Goodale Co.,

BOSTON, MASS.

There is no fit search after truth which does not, first of all, begin to live the truth which it knows.

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully. T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St. New York. 23 1 v

There are none that fall so unpitied as those that have raised themselves upon the spoils of the public.

RENEWS HER YOUTH.

Mrs. Phœbe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town. "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I'm free from all pain and soreness and can do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle, 50c and $1, at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

A child is the most winsome teacher in the world. That man is past hope who cannot learn a lesson from a child.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. 51y1

Mail is now carried between New York and San Francisco in one hundred hours.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

There is no charitableness in being uncharitable toward the uncharitable.

For Diseases of Horses

There is nothing that compares with Cole's Veterinary Carbolisalve. It cures Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Collar and Saddle Galls, Sores, Mange, Scratches, Thrush, Inflammations and all skin and hoof diseases quicker than any other remedy. It is the only preparation that will invariably renew the hair its original color. Edwin D. Bither, driver of Jay Eye See, says: "Having given Veterinary Carbolisalve a thorough trial, I can fully endorse it, and take pleasure in recommending it to all owners of horses as the best remedy that I ever saw for general stable use." Large cans $1.00; Small cans 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

A one cent letter rate is among the near possibilities.

Bludbilder,

The new vegetable tonic-alterative and blood purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts direcly upon the blood, through it imparting tone and vigor to the entire system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female weakness, and all blood, liver and kidney diseases. Price $1.00. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

A fine portrait of Mrs. Grover Cleveland has lately been placed in the Corcoran Gallery at Washington.

SHILOH'S COUGH and Consumption Cure is sold by us on a guarantee. It cures Consumption. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

In Spain a law has been passed compelling the employment of electric lighting in all theatres.

CATARRH CURED, health and sweet breath secured, by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents. Nasal Injector free. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

He who is of no use to himself is of no use to any one.

SHILOH'S VITALIZER is what you [illegible]

We have great respect for the penetration of the man who discovers good qualities in us.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR.

It wont cost you one-half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufmann's great work, fine colored plates from life, on disease, its cause and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. 50t2

He who fears to undertake is already defeated.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

Be kind to the little ones. You can't develope children as you do corns—with a boot.

Very Sensible "Japs"

In Japan the old-school physicians are permitted to wear only wooden swords. This is a gently sarcastic way of expressing the opinion that they kill enough people without using weapons. But the druggist who introduced Dr. Pierce's golden Medical Discovery into the Empire, carries a fine steel blade. It was found that all who tried this wonderful remedy for coughs colds, consumptive tendencies, blood skin and liver troubles, were, without exception, greatly benefited. The Mikado himself is said to have "toned up" his system by its use, and the importer was therefore permitted the exceptional honor of wearing the sword of the nobility.

Many a man has ruined his eyesight by sitting in the bar-room looking for work.

DON'T GIVE UP

because you feel blue and are troubled with that tired and all-gone feeling. Do as I did, use a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, it will make you feel like a new person; it did me. JENNIE HOLMES 354 Tremont street, Boston. 5012

What is called independence of principle very often consists in having no principle to depend on.

WORTH KNOWING.

Mr. W. H. Morgan merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe Cold attended with a distressing Cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

It is better to eat honest bread without butter than cake for which you cannot pay.

WILL YOU SUFFER with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

If your wife is an expert marksman avoid sarcasm at the breakfast table.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee it. Sold by W J Watson.

Electricity snow plows are to be used for the electric railway in Boston.

For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

An iron drawbridge at Bridgeport, Conn., will be turned by electricity, and is believed to be the first of its kind in the country.

FOR DYSPEPSIA and Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shiloh's Vitalizer. It never fails to cure. Sold by W. J. Watson. 40eow

If you want a new furnace do not invite your landlord to dinner during a mild snap.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

[illegible] weather
Fair days together
Throughout the fields, as sages say,
And to keep from coughing,
We won't be doffing
Our heavy flannels, at least till May.
—Boston Courier.

It is not by skimming the newspaper that a man can get the cream of its contents.—Binghamton Republican.

Spring is with us at last; but there are many cold days ahead for the government office-holder.—Puck.

Ordinarily the ministers create the Benedicts, but at the White House the Ben-edicts create the Ministers.—Hotel Mail.

The man who smokes a vile cigar probably goes on the principle that if he can stand it his friends ought to.—Merchant Traveler.

Charged with electricity—The subscribers to the Bell telephone.—Boston Courier.

Dude—"Wemember, I'm wery particular about me trousers, you know—want them to fit neatly over the calf, donchernof" Tailor (with malicious intent)—"If they don't fit the calf you need'nt take them."—New York World.

Cook—"Shure, mum, Zulu's just afther bitin' the lig off av the butcher bye!" Mistress—"Dear, dear! How dreadfully annoying! I do hope he was a clean boy, Mary?"—Life.

He (tenderly)—"It is a mistake for a man to travel through life alone." She—"Yes, indeed. Why don't you get your mother to chaperon you?"—Philadelphia Call.

She (reading) "Fashion novelties. Large checks will be much in demand for spring costumes." He—"Large cheques! My goodness, Ethel, there's not much novelty in that!"—Pick Me Up.

Miss Sweetlips:—Ever since I was a little girl my papa has sent me a valentine, and I've saved them all." Mr. Blunderby—"By Jove! what a lot you must have." Then he was sorry for what he said.—Boston Gazette.

Mrs. Soak—"Drunk again?" Old Soak—"No, d-dear, I only see double; I see two of you, two wives—wow!—both charming. Gad! I'm a bigamist."—Town Topics.

Housekeeper—"I regret to say, sir, that your son and the cook have eloped." Rich old Party—"Then we shan't have any dinner."—Lowell Citizen.

Mrs. Caller—"Have you taught your baby to say mamma, yet?" Mrs. Southend—"No; I've been very busy teaching Fido some lovely new tricks. Fido, stand up for the lady"—Epoch.

The dying Statesman raised himself in bed and looked appealingly around him. "I have only one request to make," he said, feebly. "See that no New York paper proposes a monument for me!"—Chicago Tribune.

Affectionate Husband—"Good-by, dear. Should I be detained at the office this evening I'll send you a note by messenger."

Prudent Wife—"Don't go to the expense. I've already taken it out of your breast pocket."—Fliegend Blaeter.

This is the very day to ask papa's consent, Arthur." Arthur—"Why? Is he in good humor?" Bertha—"No; he's frantic over my dressmaker's bill, and will let you take me off his hands at once."—Roseleaf.

"Who was that young fellow here last night, Maria? It was after 2 when he left."

"He is one of the clerks at Field's, papa."

He must have charge of the corset department—he's such a stayer."—Chicago Herald.

New York's patriotism—Philadelphia child (in Gotham)—"Can you show me the Grant Monument?" New York child—"No, there isn't any; but I can show you the Irish flag that waived over the City Hall on St. Patrick's day."—Philadelphia Record.

Great lawyer—I cannot manage a case unless I know all the facts. You must tell me truly whether you are guilty or not. Accused party (scornfully)—D'ye s'pose I'd be consarned fool enough ter want ter hire a high-priced lawyer like you if I was innocent!—Philadelphia Record.

Angelina—Will you always love me as much as you do now? Edwin—Always my darling. Why, what are you crying for? Angelina—Either you are not telling the truth or you never intend to marry me.—Terra Haute Express.

Mrs. Henpeck—"The paper says Gen. Boulanger was in love with an American girl while he was in this country, and that he publicly said the other day that the only true liberty in the world was to be found in America." Mr. Henpeck—"Yes; but he didn't marry the girl."—New York Weekly.

Mr. Fairbanks—How is your father's health these days? He must be getting old? Guest—Yes, father is aged almost 90. He has failed in the last year. Bobby—Is that so? My father has failed twice in the last year and is only 40 at that.—New York Graphic.

"Do you like Florida?" "No." Have you ever been there? "No." "Then how do you know whether you like it or not?" "O, my wife has some perfume she calls 'Florida Water,' and I havn't any use for any place that smells all the time like that blame stuff does."—Epoch.

Conductor—Excuse me, madam, but I shall have to ask you for a ticket for that boy. I think he's over 5 years old.

Gen. Atom (with dignity)—Sir, can't you tell a man when you see him? Here are the tickets for myself and wife, sir.

(Conductor totters feebly on into the next car).—N. Y. Sun.

Friend (to actor)—"I am glad to see, Jim, that you are getting along so well." Actor (proudly)—"Yes, I've risen somewhat in my profession, and I think that I can draw pretty well now anywhere." Friend—"That's good, Jim. Let's go down to the bank and see if you can draw the $10 bill you owe me."—Harper's Bazar.

ST. JACOBS OIL TRADE MARK

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR PAIN

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM.

UTTERLY HELPLESS AND CURED.

PROMPTLY. The "St. Louis Post-Dispatch" says: "Mrs. Phebe Moe, 1200 Madison Street, states that for the past seven years she had been a sufferer from acute inflammatory rheumatism, which had affected the muscles of the hands, contracting them so badly she could not comb her hair, hold a needle or pick up a pin, and rendered the lower limbs so helpless she required crutches to move about. During ten months she was obliged to carry the right hand in a sling."

PERMANENTLY. "A single application of St. Jacobs Oil, she said, made her a firm believer in its virtues, as the effect was instantaneous and she was greatly benefited. The continued use of it brought her to the happy condition in which the reporter saw her, with the free use of her limbs and in perfect health—cured. She can now run up and down stairs, she said, and her habits were as usual in every respect as they had been before she began to suffer, seven years ago."

THE PRICE.—The best always first and cheapest. The best is the promptest, safest, surest, most permanent. The benefits are beyond price. St. Jacobs Oil is the best.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers Everywhere.

THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

$500 OFFERED

for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head by the proprietors of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

Symptoms of Catarrh.—Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. [illegible] result in consumption [illegible]

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's [illegible] worst cases. 50c.

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely Vegetable & Harmless.

Unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach and bowels. 25 cts. by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE

BEST IN THE WORLD.

Its wearing qualities are unsurpassed, actually outlasting two boxes of any other brand. Not effected by heat. GET THE GENUINE.

FOR SALE BY Merchants and Dealers Generally.

CATARRH of Nose or Throat in any stage, acute or chronic, also Hay Fever or Cold in Head, rapidly cured. High medical endorsement. A lawyer who had Catarrh 17 yrs. discovers a cure which is now given to the world. No cocaine or harmful substance. No snuff or douche. Easy, safe, agreeable. Send for circular with home testimonials. Scores cured. Druggists, 50c.; mail, 60c.; mail, registered, 60c. PAYNE & CO., ATHENS, PA.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

WHY YOUR LIVER

IS OUT OF ORDER

You will have SICK HEADACHES, PAINS IN THE SIDE, DYSPEPSIA, POOR APPETITE, feel listless and unable to get through your daily work or social enjoyments. Life will be a burden to you.

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

LIVER PILLS

Will cure you, drive the POISON out of your system, and make you strong and well. They cost only 25 cents a box and may save your life. Can be had at any Drug Store.

Beware of COUNTERFEITS made in St. Louis.

IVORY POLISH For the TEETH,

PERFUMES THE BREATH. ASK FOR IT.

FLEMING BROS., - Pittsburgh, Pa.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

COUGH KILLER

I have used Dr. Seth Arnold's COUGH KILLER 14 years; never knew it to fail. Have never heard anything but praise for it. O. B. Cunningham, Entriken, Penn.

Druggists, 25c., 50c., and $1.00.

A MOTHER'S DELIGHT

Dr. Hexsie's Certain Croup Cure, Positive, Swift and Sure. 50 cents.

ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT

SURROGATE'S COURT;—During the year 1889 terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHŒNIX—At Surrogate's office in Phœnix, on Monday of each week except in the month of August.

OSWEGO.—At the court house in Oswego on the first and Third Thursday of each month except August.

PULASKI.—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in January March, May, June, September, November and December.

FULTON.—At office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the Second Thursday in January, April July and October.

MEXICO—At office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico on the Friday succeeding the third Thursday in April, July and October.

CENTRAL SQUARE.—At the Johnson House, Central Square on the last Thursday of April, July and September.

PARISH—J. S. Luddington's law office in Parish on the Friday succeeding the last Thursday in April, July and September.

When one of the days fall on a legal holiday the court except at Phœnix will be held on the day previous thereto.

OSWEGO COUNTY, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Albert Smith, late of the town of Granby, in said county, deceased. Notice is hereby given that the Surrogate of said county will proceed to distribute the proceeds of the real estate of the above named deceased sold for the payment of his debts at his office at the Court House, in the City of Oswego, on the 6th day of May, 1889 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Dated Phœnix, N. Y., [illegible]

[illegible] DAVID, Surrogate

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against the estate of Catharine Sainsbury, deceased, late of the Village of Fulton, in said county, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at his office, in the Village of Fulton, N. Y., on or before the 5th day of October, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, Wednesday, April 3d, 1889.

C. H. DAVID, Executor.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Maria Crossman, late of the City of Oswego in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at Fulton in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Fulton, October 31st, 1888.

THOMAS B. REYNOLDS,
Administrator with will annexed.

Notice to Creditors.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, N. Y. Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Henry A. Harris, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at the office of C. H. David, Esq., in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 11th day of May, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated, Nov 7th, 1888.

DUDLEY K. HARRIS } Executors
C. H. DAVID }

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Patrick Farley, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at the law office of Giles S. Piper, in the Village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 31st day of July, 1889, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Volney, N. Y., Jan 29th 1889.

CATHARINE FARLEY,
Administratrix

INSURANCE

—WRITTEN IN—

The Following Well-Known Companies:

ÆTNA	Hartford, Conn
AGRICULTURAL,	Watertown, N. Y
COMMERCIAL UNION,	London, Eng
CONNECTICUT,	Hartford, Conn
FIRE ASSOCIATION,	Philadelphia, Pa
GLENS FALLS,	Glens Falls, N. Y
HAMBURG BREMEN,	Germany
IMPERIAL,	London, Eng
LIVERPOOL, LONDON & GLOBE,	" "
MERCHANTS',	Providence, R. I
NIAGARA,	N. Y. City, N. Y
PHŒNIX,	Hartford, Conn

LOSSES PROMPTLY AND HONESTLY ADJUSTED.

C. W. STREETER,
Insurance and Real Estate Agt.,
FULTON, N. Y.

HEMLOCK LUMBER

—AND—

Hemlock Bill Timber.

I am now prepared to fill orders for Hemlock Bill Timber from the best Pennsylvania Hemlock.

Prices low and quality extra good.

Those contemplating building will find it to their advantage to give me a call before buying. Also a complete stock of

DRY PINE LUMBER,

SHINGLES, LATH, MOULDINGS, LADDERS, EAVE SPOUTS, &c.

Q. RUST.

COAL WAY DOWN!

COAL!

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

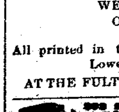
Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices.

AT THE FULTON TIMES OFFICE.



$93 Sewing-Machine FREE

To at once establish trade in all parts, by placing our machines and goods where the people can see them, we will send free to one person in each locality the very best sewing-machine made in the world, with all the attachments. We will also send free a complete line of our costly and valuable art samples. In return we ask that you show what we send, to those who may call at your home, and after 2 months all shall become your own property. This grand machine is made after the Singer patents, which have run out; [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

THE FULTON TIMES.

TWENTY-FIRST YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 21—NUMBER 51

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, MAY 1 1889. Single Copies Three Cents

Her Laugh—In Four Fits.

At 10 a blithesome little maid,
Restrained by naught but nature's law,
Went romping o'er the glassy glade
And laughed a merry
Haw
Haw
Haw.

At 20 she was bright and fair;
But now, restrained by fond mamma,
She only tossed her golden hair
And laughed a rippling
Ha
Ha
Ha.

At 30 she was more sedate,
And, still from wedded bondage free,
She said her time was growing late,
And laughed a yearning
He
He
He.

At 40 she despaired of joy,
For none had come her heart to woo,
She sighed for either man or boy,
And laughed a doleful
Who
Who
Who.

—Washington Post.

Long Drawn Out.

"Good-night sweet heart!" he softly said.
And held her tight.
Upon his breast she bowed her head,
And sighed; "Good-night!"

He clasped her close. "Good-night I said he
In tender tones.
"Good-night!" once more responded she,
"My love! my own!"

"And then: "Good night, my own dear love!"
Again said he.
More softly than a cooing dove;
"Good-night!" said she

But whether he said so again
I cannot say,
For I got tired of listening then,
And came away.

—Somerville Journal

THE PROPER THING.

Jerseys retain their popularity.

Turkish batiste is the name of a new fine cotton material.

Bishop sleeves will be seen upon many of the airy summer gowns.

Ribbons of every description will be used on every style of dress.

Pompadour foulards are safe and pretty purchases for the coming season.

Next to braided and bordered gowns large plaids and stripes are popular.

There is a fancy for India silks with black designs on light tinted grounds.

French cashmere is a fabric that holds its place in fashionable favor year after year.

Figured Chantilly net lace is used for dresses. Moire ribbon remains fashionable as a trimming.

For sheer woolens for mid-summer those of slightly creped surface are preferred to the smoother nuns' veiling.

Black silk fish net with meshes large enough to put the tip of the finger through are made up over moire skirts and waists.

The new directorie long coats have continuous back breadths perfectly flat on the tournure, yet gored below to form four large fluted pleats that slope and widen to the foot.

Ginghams in beautifully fine qualities, and showing immensely large plaids, or blocks, or stripes, in broken lines of delicious tintings, are among the host of charming summer textiles designed for morning dresses.

THE Brompton Hospital for Consumptives, London, England, published a statement that fifty-two (52) per cent. of the patients of that institution have unsuspected kidney disorder. Prof. William H. Tompson of the University of the City of New York, says: "More adults are carried off in this country by chronic kidney disease than by any other one malady except consumption." The late Dr. Dio Lewis, in speaking of Warner's Safe Cure, says over his own signature: "If I found myself the victim of a serious kidney trouble, I should use Warner's Safe Cure."

APHORISMS.

Ignorance is the mother of all evil. —Montaigne.

Twenty years in the life of a man is sometimes a severe lesson.—Mme. de Stael.

The prejudices of men emanate from the mind and may be overcome; the prejudices of women emanate from the heart, and are impregnable. —D'Argens.

No gift can make rich those who are poor in wisdom—Julia Ward Howe.

We attract hearts by the qualities we display; we retain them by the qualities we possess.—Suard.

The surest way to please is to forget one's self and to think only of others.—Moncrif.

Beauty is often but a splendid cloak which conceals the imperfections of the soul.—T. Gautier.

There are three things which women throw away: their time, their money and their health.—Mme. Geoffrin.

It does not depend upon us to avoid poverty, but it does depend upon us to make that poverty respected.—Voltaire.

It is never the opinions of others that displease us, but the pertinacity they display in obtruding them upon us.—Foubert.

There are several ways to speak: to speak well, to speak easily, to speak justly, and to speak at the right moment.—La Bruyere.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache Carter's Little Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

In New Zealand, no married women can legally keep a saloon.

The natives of Damascus call drunken men, thinking of "The English Dis-

SOME OLD FASHIONS REVIVED.

There is at present a revival of old fashions steadily going on. Popular favor has returned to many of the customs of early times and our homes are rapidly assuming an air of the past.

The old spinning wheel has returned from exile and forms a conspicuous and interesting ornament in our homes.

Quaint old tapestries, rugs and articles of furniture have been restored to deserved popularity.

There is a reason for this revival.

Our ancestors were of the substantial kind and their tastes were accordingly marked.

They looked to their personal comfort and when it was attained they stopped.

Fashion's foibles had no charm for them and in mind and person they were the equal of any people the world has yet seen.

Quick in perception and accurate in judgment, they soon detected the cause of any physical discomfort and as quickly applied the proper means for the removal of it.

Conspicuous among some of the old fashions recently revived has been the reproduction of some of our grandmother's early time home cures, which are now holding a deserved position in popular favor, under the name of Warner's Log Cabin remedies and includes a Sarsaparilla for the blood, Hops and Buchu for the stomach and system, Cough Remedy for colds, Extract for internal or external pain, Hair Tonic, Rose Cream for catarrh, Plasters and Pills.

For purity, simplicity and for their genuine beneficial properties they are unequaled and are worthy of our good old grandmothers, who first produced them.

May there be a revival, by their use, of the good health and long lives of early times!

Marriage a Success.

These are the Boston Globe's rules for making marriage a success:

Let each allow the other to know something.

Let each consult the other's feelings.

Let each realize the fact that they are one.

Let the husband frequent his home, not the club.

Let his having "to see a man" wait till next day.

Let his latch-key gather unto itself rust from disuse.

Let him speak to his wife, not yell "say!" at her.

